The girls on the reception committee want to thank those nice, obliging young men who helped them pull off the last night, with the reception given by the upper classmen. Namely Phil Patterson, Munroe Jordan, Bert McCord, telling Moels McCord, and Marburg, Theodore Lesley and one or two others. After seeing that domestic scene, one wonders why girls are destined to be the housekeepers. Two or three promising young couples threaten to blossom forth since Edna's party. This might lull Dick Rockfeller somewhat into thinking there is a very red head person... Maggie Litchi with one who answers to the name of Munroe. And Dot Pou has her taste now for a blonde who I understand is called "Cotton." One little party certainly is proving quite a success... So why not have another to give the rest of us a chance? Some one ought to console Melita Quinn... her one and only has left to enter Tu- lsa. She is showing a beautiful compact around to all of us less fortunate which he gave to her. Melita certainly is level headed... she stood composed and drank her punch while a man explained how someone or practically tear her car up last Saturday night. The departure of Ben Darlington for the home town broke two or three hearts around here. It seems he spent quite a lot of his time in the library... doing something else besides studying.

Mr. Berry must be the ideal teacher considering the way these girls run him to the least prevent... the one who is so "nice." They say he plays bridge, too.

Who is the blond causing so much disturbance around here among the boys? It seems her first name is Lucille and she is a "rat." The only "rat" who I know!

He's been checking up on some Hillsbrough High School girls who are coming here this year and find we have a C. D. C. and a K. S. Both, you will have to agree, are nitily. We've got a fine group of E. T. and Doris. Then claims C. D. C. Doris was elected the prettiest girl in the Senior class at Hillsborough last year.

It seems as though a certain young couple around the school are clicking O. K. Woody Garcia and Helen Hartness are their names. Soon we will be wondering if they will choose each other. This year's "lovers triple"

We wonder why Marion Lee takes a nap after lunch every day? With all these heavy dates it is either a necessity or a habit.

Here's a thing in a big way. Hart Overstrength seems to be giving the other girls, (That's what he claims). He informed us in Trig-class that they didn't bother him at all and the reason is he's Bob Sequack (a cool "rat") who sits next to Hart.

Grand Central Avenue is taking on the appearance of University Avenue in Gainesville more and more every day. The Dragon, a local earth drug peddled across the gate to the boys, is on one of the classiest and most popular teas in our city. As the Dragon is a more desirable place to eat than a number of similar establishaments in the town it is no wonder that this latest establishment is gaining in popularity.

We have been wondering about a rule that the council passed the other day giving the students the privilege of selling "rat" caps to the students. This means that the boys really be forced to wear these caps? Take into consideration the fact that there are over 170 students in this high school class. That leaves a small number to enforce the "rat" cap rule.

Three cheers for the water fountain which has been placed so conveniently in the lobby of the building for the accommodation of the faculty and student body. We would like to thank the people in charge of the building for the installation of the fountain.

Questions: What was the first impression of the University?

I think Tulane University is a great place in general for a student. With the co-operation of all the students it is no reason why it can't be made more enjoyable. And I also think that the co-operative art work of all the students could be increased. Janice Curley, junior- "Utter confus'n in the building when I first came down. It took me a day or two to find my way around. But now I'm more familiar with the building and appreciate the beauty of all its works." Maria Shackford, sophomore- "The boys are very nice and I like the school." Lou, junior- "Yes, I think so. I've been here for only 2 weeks and I've really enjoyed it."

Social SOCIAL ORGANIZATIONS

Campus life is far from being complete without a number of extra-curricular activities. Not everyone, physically able to play football or baseball, those who cannot take part in activities, however, can find diversion in social activities.

Unions, societies and clubs, in themselves, are oftentimes dull and uninteresting, and we are obliged to concentrate on our only with extreme effort. But with numerous diversions our work school is very seldom monotonous.

In high school we had clubs. These groups were probably not so well organized and the activities of proving of any value were limited. In institutions of higher learning we find better social organization with a definite purpose.

We find a club for various reasons since time immemorial. Common protection was one of the first causes and after this was no longer necessary people continued to form distinct groups for social contact.

We would like to see a number of high minded students form a fraternals organization in the University with the idea of mind in the cabinet. We are certain that all who enter the organization in the near future. Both the University and the national body would benefit by such an undertaking.

We want to congratulate Mr. Spaulding on his election as President of Mr. A. S. M. McCord as Custodian of the University build- ing which will be chosen a more capable and efficient person, and we are certain that McCord will receive the full support of cooperation of every student in the College.

Another faculty member who we would like to think at this time is Professor Hinckley, University English instructor, who de- voted this week due to his time last week the organizing of the present staff of the Minaret. Dr. Hinckley is a popular and ef- ficient instructor and we are fortunate in having him in the capacity of Director this year.

Believe it or not we have, a "real honest to goodness" Juvenile Court decided by the form of Hasus Castro, the popular young lads that operates the clinic for the football boys. Hasus gave us an invigorating sub down the other day and it made us feel like a new man. That boy certainly knows his stuff.

There is one thing that we can always believe of the University of Tulane that is the fact that we have one of the most beautiful campuses in the South.

There is a bad disease going around school termly conferments. We have been in- formed this week due to his time last week the past two weeks. The student council, we fear, is starting in this undesir- able precedent.

We owe apologies for the delay of the paper due to the unforeseen difficulties concern- ing the present organization of the newspaper. After this, we hope, the Minaret will be published every Friday.
There's a certain girl out in the physical education department that we would like for you all to meet. She's a rather tall, slender girl with a pleasant smile. She likes to see everyone make her feel as much at home as possible.

Her name is Dorothy Talbot, Dot for short, and we have heard that she is one of our most popular and most helpful students in the athletic department. She does a lot of things around the school, and she is always willing to lend a helping hand.

Hale from Philip

Dot hails from a small town named Philip, located in the hills of West Virginia. She is 20 years old and has been affiliated with the city recreation department here for three years. Her favorite sport is basketball and she has been a member of the Crescent Club since its inception.

For the past two weeks Dot has been instructing the girls in her classes in the art of basketball shooting. She has taught them so well that all of the girls are now better shooters than before.

Needs Work

Dot tells us that she has a lot to learn and that she is constantly working to improve her own skills. She is definitely a girl to watch out for in the future.

The Minaret

By Jack Harding

There are some who say that we are going to have some great athletes this year, but I think that the ones who are saying this are just trying to be polite. I think that we will have some good athletes, but I don't think that we will have any great ones. We have some good players, but they are not the kind of players that are going to make us a real threat to the other teams.

Gymnasium at Fullback

Biggs is back and he is looking better than ever. He has a big and graceful wrinkle for fullback in his game. He is not as fast as he was last year, but he is still fast enough to be a threat to the other teams. He is not as good as he was last year, but he is still a good player.

Bob Gilliam

Bob Gilliam, the center, is back and he is looking better than ever. He is not as strong as he was last year, but he is still strong enough to be a threat to the other teams. He is not as good as he was last year, but he is still a good player.

Ten Students File Application For Cheer Leaders’ Squad

Protesting their attention on the 1938 meets scheduled for the university, ten students have applied for the position of cheerleader on the university football team. This group will be composed of two students, two boys and four girls.

The following names have answered the call for applications in the Minuteman over the past three weeks: Alta Feith, H. L. Letters, Reuben Browne, Nita Carter, Allie Noll, Marjorie Post, Charlotte Schott, Betty Trapp, Minnie Brown, and Winifred Vorderbruggen. These students have been reassembled by B. Wofford Wait, manager of the squad.

Marcus Hall Turns Presidential Reins Over To B. Wofford Wait

Marcus Hall, president of the student body of the University of Tampa, turned over the office to B. Wofford Wait last year, and the latter has succeeded him in the office.

Committee Chairman

B. Wofford Wait was chairman of the constitution committee, and has been largely in the composing of the document. Other members of the committee are Winifred Petter, Theodore Lesley and Carl White.

During Hall’s administration a weekly publication, The Bulletin, appeared on the campus under the editorship of Winifred Petter, Theodore Lesley and Carl White. The Bulletin was reorganized last year and was replaced by Winton Petter, with Mrs. Wofford Wait, who was the first editor of the football team during the first semester.

PERSONALS

James McMillan, freshman, and Mary McMillan, sophomore, are the new members of the varsity baseball team.

Among the students taking a trip to the coast of Spain and the Mediterranean this year are Mary McMillan and Ethel Brown.

Addie Petre, freshman, made a trip to the coast of Spain last summer with special stop at Washing ton, D.C., and her visit was written up in the Florida and the University of Tampa in the World’s Fair in Chicago this summer. The University of Tampa students who brought back such interesting letters about the fair were A. V. Davis, Charles Alaver, W. C. Meyers, and Arthur Wesley.

Vida Godby, junior, to come to the University of Tampa this fall and will join the Blue Ridge mountains residents in her new position.

It shcre makes an old timer feel good to see the old home town a doin’ things again. As far back as I can remember I’ve been wishing th’ young folks could get a better break than some of us old timers got.

And by gosh! If the answer to my wish and prayer ain’t moved right across the street, Tampa University!

Well, Spartans, I’m all for doing what I can to help yuh! We’re birds of a feather. Both of us new in business, I know. If you’d been here ten years ago I’m sure you’d find you’d return’t th’ good we’ll both grow up together.
