Which Bank Can I Bank On?

by MARGARET McNIFF
Managing Editor

There are five banks within walking distance from the university in which to open savings and/or checking accounts. Whichever bank you choose, remember to bring two forms of identification bearing your signature, preferably a driver's license and your student ID.

At the Barnett Bank located on North Ashley, $50 deposited into the bank will enable you to open a savings account, while one hundred dollars is needed to open a checking account. Barnett will pay 5 1/4% interest quarterly, compounded daily.

The Flagship Bank on East Kennedy requires a $25 deposit to open a savings account, and to earn interest on the account you must keep $80 in it. If you go to the lobby on the second floor and see one of the open-account people, they will be glad to answer any questions you may have.

A $30 minimum is necessary to open a savings account at the First National Bank in the First National Tower on North Florida, and a $50 minimum is needed to open a checking account. The new account area in the lobby of the First National Bank is where to go for further information.

If you keep a minimum of $300 and an average of $500 in your checking account at the Exchange Bank on North Florida, there is no service charge and 12c is charged for processing each check written. A minimum of $50 is required for a checking account. At the Exchange Bank, two forms of identification with your picture on them—are necessary.

The Atlantic Bank on Madison Street has two types of accounts to choose from. The first, the regular account, is designed on a 4-3-2 pattern. If you keep $400 or more in your checking account, there is no service charge. If

by MICHAEL MENDELSON
Provost

Once again I appreciate this opportunity to welcome new students and returning students. As is the case every summer, we have made a number of changes and additions to campus programs for the fall. Physically, you won't see anything quite as dramatic as the Computer Center which was added last year, but planning has been going on for an even more fundamental change in the university. This fall you will hear a great deal more about the President's ideas on partnership learning. Some of these were discussed last year during the first year of the Collegium, and the planning for potential new calendar and potential new curriculum has been intense all summer.

Last year was, of course, transitional

President Welcomes UT Students

Dr. Richard Cheshire

To all members of the University community, a warm welcome to campus and the start of the 1979-80 academic year. UT continues to pursue its fast track, and summer '79 has been very busy.

Educational Policy

Our future direction as an institution has, of course, been and continues to be, the principal concern of the administration and all of us concerned with the University welfare. On May 17, after a year's work and much discussion, the Board of Trustees adopted a new statement of University mission which firmly commits us to helping students pursue "a personal integration of intellectual, moral, and practical knowledge which will assist them in becoming productive, responsible, self-reliant and free persons," in order to serve this central purpose.

Also received at the May board meeting was a report from the special committee on Freedom and Responsibilities which spent two intensive months looking into various concerns. This committee received many specific ideas about censorship, academic freedom, reinstitution of a University Lecture Series, and increasing recognition of and insistence on good taste and respect for others throughout the University. A copy of the report and recommended policy is available in the Provost's office for perusal for any who wish. Our thanks go to James M. Talley, Editorial Editor of The Tampa Times and the committee's chairman and to members of the committee: Brad Black, student; Lois Benjamin, Assistant Professor of Sociology; W. Scott Christopher, Director of Community and Public Relations; Louis de la Parte, Trustee; James Gray, Jr., Trustee; Michael J. Mendelsohn, Provost; Marlyn Pethe, Public Services Librarian; Charles Walker, Professor of Biology; and Father Bob Wiesenbaugh, University Chaplain.

In early May a Special Committee on Calendar began a comparative examination of semester-based and modular-based academic calendars, and has decided to propose a new "flexible calendar plan" for adoption in September, 1980. Its report is scheduled for publication on August 15 and will be distributed widely throughout the University community. It will be discussed fully in meetings of the Faculty and the Collegium through September and at the October meeting of the Board of Trustees. Our thanks go to all members of a very hard working committee: Robert Harder, Professor of Philosophy and chairman of the committee; David Ford, Dean of the Faculty, Professor of Chemistry and secretary of the committee; George Botjer, Associate Professor of History; Lewi Harris, Assistant Professor of Art; George Jackson, Associate Professor of Chemistry; Everett Richards, Assistant Professor of Economics;

Student Council President Bids Welcome

By GUY EULIANO
President

The Student Council is the programming and governing apparatus for the student body. The budget of the Student Council (which is based on a set fee paid by all full-time students) is used for the programming of student activities and social functions.

Some of the activities sponsored by Student Council last year include and Oktoberfest Celebration, Harold's Club (Casino '78), trips to Disney World, "The Ritz", Sea Level concert, afternoon jams, weekly movies, games and activities in the Rathskellar, and entertainers and lectures.

Student Council has been the main source of funding for various club events and activities. By funding these organizations, students have a wider base of services and interests available to them. Such examples here include the Karate Club, Bowling Club, Sailing Club, Girl's Soccer Team, and "Quilt" Magazine.

Student Council operations include the funding of the student newspaper, "The Minaret" and the student yearbook, "The Moroccan". These vitally needed services inform students of what is going on and what went on in the aspect of student life.

Student Council is also the governing body for students on campus and takes an active role in revising the rules and regulations that apply campus wide.

This upcoming '79-'80 year, Student Council, along with the usual events and activities, is going to stress greater participation by the students. We are always looking for more student involvement not only within Student Council, but with major collegium and calendar issues outside of Student Council. We want to hear

Don't Be Alarmed!

By HOWARD IBACH
Editor

With a slight turn of his safety key and a gentle tug on the box, Tampa Fire Department Senior Fire Inspector, Thomas Kasper, tripped one of the many fire alarms in Plant Hall. "This one's hot," he said, as the alarm sounded, meaning it was in operation.

Aided by UT Police Lt. Dick Ridlen, Kasper spent two hours in Plant Hall on Friday, Aug. 24th, inspecting all of the fire alarm boxes, a procedure done every year. All but one alarm box was in working order. This malfunctioning alarm was immediately repaired.

While he toured Plant Hall, Kasper noted that the alarms were somewhat hidden from view and suggested that adjacent walls be painted to clearly inand Eric Vlahov, Assistant Professor of Physical Education.

Also in early May a Special Committee on Curriculum undertook a study of academic program options dealing with such questions as general education requirements, majors, and advising. It issued an interim report in June and expects to issue a full report in October. This, too, will be distributed widely throughout our campus community and should form the basis of discussion in the Faculty and the Collegium during the remainder of the academic year in preparation for Trustee action next May. We are indebted to each member of a dedicated committee: Mary Jane Schenck, Assistant Professor of English and chairman of the committee; Connie Rynder, Professor of History and vice-chairman of the committee; July Bohren, Assistant Professor of Physical Education; Robert Dougherty, Assistant Professor of Accounting; Judy Edberg, Associate Professor of Music, Raymond Schleuter, Assistant Professor of Biology and Andy Solomon, Assistant Professor of English.

there is $300 to $400 in your account, there is a service charge of $1.00 per month. With $200 to $300 in the account, the service charge is $2.00; with $100 to $200, the service charge is $3.00.

The second type—the special account—is designed for the banker who doesn't write many checks and doesn't keep a large balance. There is a charge of $1.00 a month with a 10c charge for each check written. A $50 minimum is required to open a special checking account, and $5.00 is necessary for a savings account.

These are the basics you will need for your decision. For further information, walk to any or all of the banks' new account areas and see which best satisfies your needs.

as the first year of governance with the university Collegium. With most of the bugs out of the system, I would expect that this year will be one of further consolidation of progress and the positive changes which were begun last year.

I'd now like to reiterate a few of the comments that I made to incoming and returning students last year at this time. My responsibility to the President and the Board covers all areas of the student's educational experiences. At the University of Tampa, we interpret this to include not simply classroom work but additionally the student life and athletic programs. Clearly, what happens to a student in his college years is a product of considerably more than his hours in the classroom. How much you take out of your college education depends in large measure on how much you are willing to put into it.

I am here to assist every student in reaching his or her educational goals. While I cannot solve every problem, and I have never been magician enough to say yes to every request, I do enjoy talking with our students, working with them, teaching them, and meeting with them informally. With two daughters and a boss who constantly stress the importance of open channels of communication, it isn't likely that I will be caught failing to meet my responsibilities in this area. Therefore, I hope you will not be put off by the mysterious title on my door and that I will come to know even more of you during the fall semester.

From

HELPING OTHERS!

For interested upperclasspersons, applications are available in the Counseling Center, 305 Plant Hall. Submit before September 10.

On August 9, at an all-day open meeting of the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees, trustees, faculty, and administrators discussed the major planning assumptions likely to affect the University's future. No decisions were intended or made, but important areas of agreement and questions at issue were identified. A full report on the meeting will be published soon. One of the discussion topics was a special survey of opinions on a series of UT planning issues conducted in June that was circulated to some 200 faculty, staff, trustees, and student leaders. The results are being sent to all respondents who signed their names and are available in the Office of the University Secretary to anyone else who wishes to see them.

Administrative Leadership

Much of the summer months has been devoted to administrative changes. In May we announced the appointments of Rudolph Koletic as vice president for business affairs, for eleven years the financial vice president of St. John Fisher College in Rochester, New York, and J. Mark Lono, recent University Secretary at UT, as Vice President for Public Affairs. Fred D. Learey became acting University Secretary after his term as UT's acting Vice President for Public Affairs; in September he will complete his work in that post and will be succeeded by John D. Telfer, formerly vice president for facilities planning at the State University of New York at Buffalo. In July, James Drake from Ithaca College began work as Dean of Continuing Education.

In early June Dr. Michael Mendelsohn resigned his post as provost effective January 1 in order to return to full-time teaching as Professor of English. After consulting with faculty, administrative, and trustee leaders, the positions of provost and dean of faculty were combined effective January 1, in order better to facilitate communication between faculty, president, and trustees. (It was also agreed to establish at that time a staff position to assist the provost and dean with the expanded administrative duties of the office.) The provost is the University's second officer and has administrative responsibility for academic and student affairs as well as athletics and the library. A search committee is being formed and nominations for the position of provost and dean of faculty are welcome. We hope to complete preliminary screening in September and the interviewing of finalists in October.

In early August Thomas M. Boyle, radio and television coordinator in the Information Services Office of the University of South Florida for the past seven years, was appointed as Director of Communications; and Wm. Karl Funds, a 1975 alumnus of the University of Tampa where he was editor of the Minaret for two years, was named as Tom's assistant.

New tuition grants

Governor Graham in late June signed the Omnibus Education bill which provided annual $750 tuition voucher grants to each incoming Florida high school graduate who attends a private college or university in-state. The tuition voucher plan will provide $1,000 in subsequent years. This year the grants will go to freshman and in following years to sophomores, juniors, and seniors until Florida residents in all classes are covered. This is a major new incentive for Floridians who make college decisions partly on financial grounds. Usually between 20% and 25% of UT undergraduates are Florida residents. Details are available through the Office of Financial Aid.

Priorities

During the year ahead we will be devoting major attention to educational policy and the future role and scope of the University. We will be selecting a new provost. As part of the regular sequence of Board of Trustees-sponsored evaluations that began last year with the business affairs area study, we will be undertaking a self-study of the public affairs operations of the University. This will be an important step toward preparing for a major mid-century fund-raising campaign aimed at new endowment, campus and building improvements, and higher levels of current gift support.

Those who have given special attention this summer to our plans for the future have done so in a genuinely cooperative manner and hope that the new spirit will spread throughout the University community as we move forward with our work together. Every member of the University—students, faculty, and staff—is invited to participate with ideas and suggestions at anytime.

Where To Go For INFO

The University provides several methods of communication so that students are aware at all times of athletic and intramural programs.

1. REC-CHECK (Ext. 444) — Information concerning the intramural program and other recreational programs can be obtained 24 hours a day by dialing extension 444. Intramural team schedules (opponent, contest site, and time), meetings, upcoming events, entry deadlines and postponements are recorded daily by 9:30 a.m. Times that facilities are available for student use are also recorded on Rec-Check.
2. POSTERS — Information concerning all aspects of the I.M. program and recreational programs will be posted throughout campus.

Inspector Kasper also warned against students who might pull a fire alarm as a prank. Such an occurrence, said Kasper, could cause panic and unnecessary disruption of classes. "At other

The Minaret joins Inspector Kasper in advising students not to pull any fire alarm for any reason other than a fire.

WELCOME TO UT!

EDITORIAL OF THE MINARET

The Minaret believes that the board of trustees deserves high praise for the statement approved at its May 17, 1979 meeting as the mission of the University of Tampa. The mission statement's full text reads:

Inspired by belief in God, respect for human dignity, and love of freedom, and desiring that this university be a distinguished independent institution of higher learning, the Board of Trustees hereby establishes the mission of the University of Tampa to be the education of students by helping them develop a personal integration of intellectual, moral and practical knowledge which will assist them in becoming productive, responsible, self-reliant and free persons.

To this end, the university will endeavor to provide excellence in all its programs, with the aim of developing students who possess an appreciation for rational and disciplined thought as well as a sense of obligation to participate and to lead in providing service to humanity.

We feel that, except for some infelicitous constructions which could be placed on the statement's initial five words, to which we will return in a moment, the board's choice of language leaves no doubt of its commitment to an outstanding quality of undergraduate liberal education.

We concur completely with the value the board attaches to human dignity and love of freedom, i.e., the freedom of each student to become the most capable and fulfilled person he or she is capable of becoming. We are pleased, too, with the board's desire that the University of Tampa become distinguished and remain independent, as well as that excellence shall be the continual goal of all of UT's programs.

Most especially, we commend the phrase "personal integration of intellectual, moral and practical knowledge," for this clearly acknowledges the desirability of an education that is attuned to the real world and to the centrality of human values; moreover, it stresses the need that this knowledge be integrated into a harmonized whole.

Because of the exceptional strength and merit of the statement, we are disappointed that it should begin with an allusion to God, even if the allusion serves only to state that the board has been inspired by its belief in God, and even though the words will prove comforting to many members of the UT community.

Before we state the sources of our unease with the mission statement's initial words, we wish to make very clear that we in no way repudiate the faith, sincerity, or wisdom of those who drafted the statement. On the contrary, we admire the kindness and dignity of a life guided by religious principles, and we admire too the peace of spirit which such faith brings. Such faith, according to Jesus and Paul, places people among the blessed (John 20:29; Galatians 3:1-11).

We do, however, question the advisability of the wording for two reasons. First, the words "inspired by belief in God" run counter to UT's status as a private, independent, nonsectarian school. Such wording would be appropriate at a church-related school—perhaps a Notre Dame, Yeshiva, or Brigham Young—where there is a large measure of homogeneity within the student body and there is a religious cast to the campus atmosphere.

We apprehend, in fact, that the average high school senior reading the mission statement would conclude that UT is a church affiliated institution. This would be unfortunate both in terms of those who would not come here and those who would come here misled by this erroneous assumption. UT derives its strength rather from its heterogeneity, the widely diverse backgrounds of its students and faculty.

Secondly, we find the present opening sentence intellectually discordant. "Belief in God" does not belong on equivalent footing with "respect for human dignity" and "love of freedom." The two latter terms are qualities which virtually all of the modern civilized world espouses as being of unchallengeable merit, however much or little any particular nation of people actually fosters those qualities.

Belief in God is a quality of another order; it is an article of faith and, we believe, inaccessible to human reason. While many great minds, including Spinoza, Hegel, Kierkegaard, Descartes, and William James, have professed such faith, equally great thinkers, such as Hume, Schopenhauer, Santayana, Freud, and Sartre, have expressed certainty that God does not exist, while such men as Voltaire, Kant, Thomas Huxley, Clarence Darrow, and Bertrand Russell were all resolved to a complete inability to know on this side of the grave whether God exists or not.

Spinoza, who believed not only that God exists but that all that exists is God, tells us in his Theologico-Political Treatise that "the Bible leaves reason absolutely free, that it has nothing in common with philosophy, in fact, that Revelation and Philosophy stand on totally different footings" (Preface).

Thus, the source of the mission statement's intellectual discordance; an article of faith is asked to stand equivalent with the products of reason and empirical observation. We believe neither faith nor reason superior to the other, but we do believe them, as Spinoza does, relegated to different spheres of human activity.

We believe only reason can be properly addressed by an independent institution of higher learning. "God" may prove too elusive a concept to inspire a consensus from a heterogeneous population which defines Him variously as Christ, Jahwe, Allah, or possibly not there at all.

Therefore, we urge the board of trustees to revise the mission statement's opening sentence to read, "Inspired by a respect for human dignity, love of freedom, and the quest for truth..." We believe that those trustees whose religious faith is of great strength will be persuaded that "the quest for truth" will lead young scholars toward the very light they have wished to provide for them.

FROM THE EDITOR

by HOWARD F. IBACH
Editor

1979 marks the end of a decade. 1980 is a Presidential election year as well as the year of my graduation. What better setting could I ask for as I begin my tenure?

Suffice it to say that optimal setting or not, the name of the game is to set my standards high and to play by the rules. And that's exactly what it is: a game. I'm given a budget, a staff and a campus full of excitement, controversy, change. If I spend more than I'm given, I lose. If I fail to lead my staff, I lose. If I stick my head in the ground and play ostrich, I lose again.

Like most of you, I don't like to lose. Like most of you, I enjoy a good challenge. So just to make the game a little more interesting, here are some specific goals:

By the fiscal year's end, the Minaret will be in the black.

By the year's end, the Minaret will firmly establish itself as an instrument of constructive, healthy change on this campus.

By the year's end, the standards set by the Minaret will serve as goals for future editors and their staffs.

I cannot guarantee that these goals will be met. Guarantees are for new car mufflers. But I do promise to do my best, to try as hard as I can. I am a willing participant. Most of the rules I've made myself; I especially hate to lose at my own game.

With this issue of the Minaret, my first as editor, the game begins.

A Dissenting View

by MARGARET McNIFF
Managing Editor

When I consider the reasons our Country was founded, I cannot agree with the Minaret's editorial concerning the first five words used in the Board of Trustees' mission statement for the University of Tampa, "Inspired by belief in God."

During the formative years of our Country, thousands of people fled European soil to come to America for freedom. Freedom of speech, freedom of the press, and most especially, freedom of religion, convinced these people to cross the Atlantic Ocean to start a new non-persecuted life. Later, when the founding fathers were creating the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution for this Country, freedom, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness were all mentioned. Nowhere in these two documents do the Founding Fathers establish one religion dominant over another. The separation of Church and State is made quite evident in these two works. However, the Founding Fathers do mention God. They were wise in not regarding God as Allah, the Savior, or the Messiah because in doing so they would, in effect, be favoring one Church over another, which is the exact thing they did not want to do.

In the same manner, the Board of Trustees uses the word "God" in a nonsectarian fashion because the University of Tampa is a private nonsectarian institution. No sect, church, or belief holds prevalence over another. By abolishing the word God from the mission of the university, we would actually be allowing one belief, atheism, to dominate over all the other beliefs in this university. The issue of abolishing the first five words of the mission of the university has nothing to do with the clarification of the separation of church and state because the Board of Trustees used the word "God" instead of another word favored by a specific church. However, this does involve the dominance of one sect over another, which is also unconstitutional and an act of censorship.

Just as the words "In God We Trust," do not force us to believe in a religion, but serve as a reminder of the way this country was founded, the words, "Inspired by belief in God," help to remind us that this university is an institution within the U.S., and should follow the doctrines in which our founding fathers strongly believed.

The United States of America is a great and unique nation. Freedom, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness are what makes us the most powerful nation in the world. If we want our nation to continue to fulfill our

A Soph Touch

by TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Staff Writer

It's been a long summer, and I'm sure you're all just dying to start hitting the books again. Maybe not.

For those of you not familiar with my column, this is my second year as a writer for the Minaret. Last year I wrote a column called "A Frosh Approach" (not too original and kind of corny) that was a kind of talk of the campus/editorial column. I wrote reviews of concerts, books, new albums, and movies, or wrote editorials of events on or off campus. This year my column will be no different. I'll be covering similar material. The only real difference will be the title: A Soph Touch (even less original and just as corny).

For those of you who are familiar with my column, welcome back!

This has the potential of being an founding fathers' dream we can not break the framework of the Constitution or of the Declaration of Independence. By abolishing the first five words of the mission of the university we would be weakening the power of these two documents and destroying our country from within. If all universities and institutions allowed one specific sect, church, or belief to dominate over all others, our unique nation and its beliefs on freedom would no longer exist.

interesting year. The university has added a new varsity sport: cross country for men and women. The soccer, baseball, volleyball, and women's basketball all had outstanding years in the recruiting area. This new influx of talent gives UT athletics the brightest potential that it's seen in years.

There have been some changes around campus, both in the academic and athletic areas. Some people have resigned, others are limiting their duties, and others found themselves on the outside looking in.

Whatever the reasons for these changes in personnel, we can not, as yet, foresee what kind of effect they will have on the university as a whole. But one thing is certain: this year—like our athletic teams—holds a lot of potential.

SPOT CHECKS

The first UT soccer game will be on September 7, against Miami-Dade/New World. The Lady Spartans open up their volleyball season in a tri-meet at home on September 18 against Florida Southern College and Manatee Junior College. The new cross country team will start its season under Dr. Marco DiBernardo when they run in a tri-meet against cross-town rival USF and Georgia State University, at USF.

STUDENT COUNCIL NEWS

Movie Committee

By JERRY THOMSEN

Movies provide an excellent source of pure relaxation and are an important part of UT Student Government presentations. We want to provide excellent, entertaining movies and video programs — that, in a nutshell, is the purpose of the movie committee. For both the new and continuing student this committee provides a creative chance to express and implement your ideas concerning the movie and video productions shown for all UT students.

There's a whole crop of new ideas and suggestions for enhancing the way our movies are presented. Many of the movies selected this year will often augment another Student Government activity, such as showing a movie like "Halloween" before a Halloween dance, or presenting movies which will complement curricular or special events programs. Ideas such as a possible dinner theater have been suggested. We're kicking around ideas and want the input of any interested student.

Another exciting and new facet of the movie committee concerns the use of television presentations on a regular basis. This is an entire "can of worms", you might say, where we're only limited by personal input and not ideas. Feature movies, recorded or live sports events, featured speaker recordings, UT Players productions, a Student Council news program, comedy productions (either classics or student performances), a separate TV viewing area in the cafeteria, special recorded addresses by UT faculty or even our own version of Channel 13's "Speak Out". These ideas, and your ideas, are going to determine the size of our video programming, and again only our staff size determines our limitations.

Interested in providing quality entertainment for the entire student body? Perhaps the movie committee is where you want to concentrate some of your extra-curricular energies. Jerry Thomsen, the Senior Class Representative, is the chairman of the Movie Committee and any inquiries, should be directed to him during his Student Council office hours or through his S.C. mailbox. The mailbox and office are located in room 4 of the Union. As of this printing the meeting times have not been established, but watch for information concerning all Student Government committees and their meeting times. Let's do it!

Recreation and Activities

by MIKE LAUDER
Chairman Rec. and Activities

The Recreation and Activities committee is one of the premier organizations sponsored by student council. Its purpose is to provide activities designed to stimulate student interest throughout the university community with an emphasis on the "play for fun" aspect of the events. It will be the committee's job to institute activities necessary to accomplish this goal.

It is my belief that this will be the most important committee on the Student Council team for it is through us that the faculty, administration and, most importantly, the student body will be able to view the government in action. Our only limitations will be those placed on the determination, energy and creativity of the individuals involved.

The first meeting of the general assembly will be held September 5 at 9 p.m. in the Student Union at which time you may choose a committee. I strongly urge you to attend and participate. Remember, it will be your interest and initiative that will determine the type of year we have here at UT. Don't hesitate — GET INVOLVED!!

Words For Action

by RALPH GONZALEZ
Committee Chairman

Here, at the University of Tampa, a refreshing new approach to presentation of personalities is being proposed by committee chairman Ralph Gonzalez. Formerly known as "Arts and Humanities," this new direction. If you feel that the University should be a forum for presenting new and astonishing ideas, join our team to put education into its proper perspective.

Proposal Committee

by MIKE WALDROP
Sophomore Rep. Chairman

The Student Council Proposal Committee is the only Student Council Committee that does not deal with entertainment events. The Proposal Committee is designed to be a revenue-sharing committee, i.e., to provide funds for recognized campus organizations which have special financial needs, and to review all forms of legislation that are to come before the Student Council. The Proposal Committee will meet once a week. The time and date of the meetings will be announced at the first Student Council meeting.

I encourage everyone to support the Student Council, to insure that this will be a great year!

Music Committee

by JOHN GEMPERLINE

Music is the champagne of the ears, therefore it is this committee's objective to fill the student's glass. In previous years the music committee has sponsored such events as coffeehouses, dances, talent nights, and has provided the music for the Student Council events. This year, I feel that the committee can still do as it has, but there are many new avenues open to us. We are exploring the idea of major concerts in Curtis Hixon Hall. I also would like to see the committee sell tickets to all the major concerts in the Bay area at a discount to the students. All in all, I see the committee as being divided into subdivisions, each handling a specific area, this way we will be able to accomplish a lot more. This will require people who have a goal, and who are willing to work to see that glass of champagne overflow. If you enjoy music and want to have some fun planning this type of entertainment, join the music committee. Thanks.

The Ombudsman Is Coming

by CARL HITE
Dean of Student Affairs

You ask, "What is an Ombudsman?" According to the dictionary, an ombudsman is a government official that investigates citizens' complaints. The Division of Student Affairs is creating the position of Ombudsman to assist students in their educational pursuits at the University of Tampa. The primary concern of the students at the University is their academic progress. In order to facilitate this progress, it is important that we keep problems and hassles to a minimum. Therefore, the position of Ombudsman has been created to help you solve problems that you might encounter at the University. Ms. Darleen McGrath, who is also the Howell Hall Director, will serve in this capacity. Her office is located in Room 300, Plant Hall. Please see the secretary in Room 301, concerning appointments.

Ms. McGrath will also be providing useful information concerning the interpretation of University policy. Her office will also supply emergency, short-term loans for justifiable reasons. So, if you are not sure who to see concerning a problem, come see the OMBUDSMAN.

More Services For UT Students

The University of Tampa has contracted with a number of businesses off-campus in order to provide services for certain students on campus. These services are not for all students, but they are available for those students who are interested in using them. There is an additional cost for any of these services. Following is a short description of each service. If you're interested in participating in that particular program, please stop by Rm. 301, Plant Hall and pick up additional information concerning that program.

1. Optional Dependent Insurance-as a full time student at the University of Tampa, you automatically receive student health insurance coverage. However, this does not apply to your spouse or your children. If you wish to add your spouse to the policy at the University, the cost for 12 months is $73.00. Each child is also $73.00. An enrollment card and student health insurance form is located in Rm. 301, Plant Hall.

2. Linen Service-also available on an optional basis is linen service provided by Dixie Linen Supply of Tampa, Florida. Linen service consists of 2 sheets, 1 pillow case, and three bath towels. Exchanges can be made once a week and the linen service will be located in the basement of Delo Hall. The cost of linen this year is $61.80, which includes a refundable deposit of $15.00. If you are interested in Linen Service, contact either this office or the linen service which will be located in the basement of Delo Hall. Hours of operation will be Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the afternoon. If you do not like the inconvenience of washing your own linen, then I would suggest you take advantage of this service.

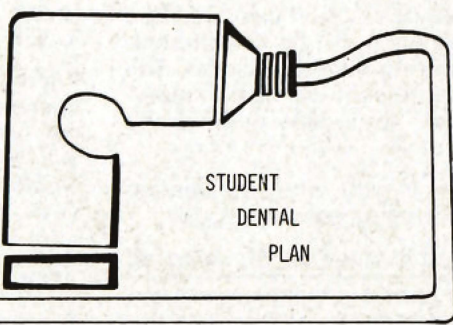

3. Student Dental Plan-DENT-ALL is a pre paid dental plan in which contracts with established members of the dental profession have been made in the Tampa area. Each member receives care in a convenient dental office by his own personal-plan dentist. The benefits of this program include X-rays, (full-mouth, bite wing, individual), examinations, diagnosis, office visits, two teeth cleanings (prophylaxis) for each member, plus special rates for other dental services. The cost of this plan to individual is $36.00 for one year. Cost for one couple is $66.00 per year, and the cost for a family is $96.00 per year. If you are interested in this dental plan, please contact the Office of the Dean of Students or call Ms. Mary Smith at 855-6717.

4. Campus Store Svcs-There are a number of services provided by your campus store on campus. In addition to weekly specials and other sales promotions, there is the opportunity for special film developing, the special order department for any text or trade book, a heat transfer machine for letters on tee-shirts or other clothing, free notary public and free bridal directories, a lamination service, shoe repair service, copy machine at ten cents a copy, magazines and subscription sales, and gift wrapping. If you have any questions concerning these services, please contact the manager of the bookstore, Mr. John Mason.

Counseling Center News Counseling Center News Counselin

by DR. ED NOLAN
Director of Counseling

More often than we like, students develop misconceptions (or never even think) about a counseling center and the folks who work there. These notions come about through Hollywood's image of the "head shrinker," TV's Bob Hartley, and perhaps a recollection of your high school guidance counselor. None of these accurately portray us or the services we provide. In an effort to dispel some of these misconceptions or to prevent them from starting, each member of our staff is writing an article in this issue explaining his/her respective duties and functions.

My objective in this article is to provide you with an overview of the entire Counseling Center, as briefly as I can.

Each year we conduct student evaluations of the services we provide and so far the responses have been overwhelmingly favorable. Either we are doing a good job or you are the kindest students in the world, or may be both. One problem, however, was identified as a lack of sufficient career and life planning services. This was because that position was a half-time one. I am pleased to report that your concerns have not gone unnoticed by the administration. On the basis of the expression of your needs, that position has been funded as a full-time position. Your collective voice is being heard. We have hired Norma Caltagirone to fill this position and she explains her services elsewhere in this issue.

Another important service we provide is the Reading and Study Skills program. I am also pleased to report that Arleen Shearer has returned from educational leave and will again be available on a full-time basis to provide classes, workshops, seminars and individual help in her area. She has also written an article for this article in which she outlines her services.

This year Andrew Mount, junior, and Marine Science major, will be student coordinator for our Peer Counseling Program. This program has been designed to reach freshmen in their residence halls for the purpose of instilling in them an awareness of the need to start systematically planning their careers. This is a very important project for us this year and is receiving high priority. If you wish to be involved as a leader or participant, let us know.

Another area of concern for us is helping you cope with any number of situations of a personal nature. Feeling homesick, boy/girl friend conflicts, roommate troubles or whatever may interfere with your main purpose for being here. In an attempt to help you keep your mind free of unnecessary hassles, we offer our services on a free, confidential basis to those students requesting them. We are also in a position to make appropriate referrals to other professionals.

Counseling sessions are available because people inevitably encounter some crises from time to time. While some of these are unavoidable, many others can be forestalled with the proper knowledge and skills. It is in this vein that we offer a series of workshops and seminars during the school year.

If you are interested in talking with someone about our programs or wish to make an appointment, see Mrs. Jane Groves in Plant 305. During the school year all services are available from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. There will be some programs at night, too.

When we schedule a seminar, group or workshop we will publish the information in the Minaret, so be sure to read it carefully. We will also post notices in the Union and the lobbies of the residence halls.

Each Thursday edition of the Minaret will carry a feature written by me, entitled "Effective Living," in which I will discuss issues of interest to the college student. If you have a specific topic you would like to see discussed, drop a note in the campus mail or call us at ext. 303.

Our sole purpose for existence is to help you get the most out of your experience at UT by assisting you to manage or eliminate those hassles, conflicts, or problems which interfere with your education.

Unlike high school guidance counselors, rarely will we call you in for an appointment. The responsibility is yours to take. We don't know who you are or when you are having trouble, so you must speak up. Talk to your RA or an upperclassman if you have reservations about making an appointment.

In any event, if something is bothering you, find out who, on campus or off, can help you resolve it. Your education requires all of your energies so you certainly don't need more to complicate your life.

Good luck with the coming year and be sure to call on us when you think we can help.

Career and Life Planning Services

Are you undecided about a college major? Are you unsure about a future career goal? Do you need help finding a job? Career and Life Planning Services, a branch office of the Counseling Center, is designed to help you with these aspects of your life. And Norma Caltagirone, UT's Career Counselor, is eager to work with you.

If you are undecided about a major or unsure about your career goal, you may want to see her for help in clarifying your values, interests and/or abilities; and in decision-making and goal-setting skills. These services are provided on an individual and group basis and in workshop-type format. Testing of various sorts is also available. In your residence hall, peer counselors will also be working to help you get started in thinking about your future.

If you have already narrowed down your major or career goal to a general area, the Career Counselor can help you find out more about specific occupations in a broad work field. She can provide you with useful resource materials such as job descriptions, requirements, salary levels, and future outlook. These materials are maintained and updated in the Career Library in 305 Plant Hall.

If you need help in finding a job, or in obtaining work experience in your field, a file on part-time job leads in Tampa is available in room 305 Plant

Hall. This fall the Career Counselor plans to initiate a new service for students who want to volunteer their time to various agencies in the community. Volunteers not only earn valuable work experience but also have a "testing ground" for finding out whether their career choice is a valid one.

The Career Counselor will also work with students in contacting local, regional, and national companies to solicit their interest in hiring UT graduates. Career and Life Planning Services staff will organize on-campus employment interviews for seniors and maintain a resume and data sheet file on any interested prospective graduate.

Individual, group, and workshop-type assistance is offered in helping students develop job-seeking skills.

If any student desires more information or wishes to receive individual career and life planning services, Norma Caltagirone is available to assist you from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday in 309 Plant Hall. While not mandatory, appointments are helpful and you may wish to make one by calling extension 303. Information on group activities and workshops will be forthcoming. You may also want to watch for other valuable career information which will be provided in the "Career Corner" column in future issues of the Minaret.

Let's Play Musical Office

By DR. CARL HITE
Dean of Students

The University does not slow down in the summertime; even though the number of students on campus in the summertime is less than either Fall or Spring semester, the University has more than enough to do. The following are some of the changes that have taken place over the summer.

1. The Housing Office has moved to the third floor of Plant Hall. Ms. Jan Jardieu is the Director of Residence Life and Housing, and the Director of Housing is Mr. Ron Pierce. If you have any questions concerning Housing, please direct them to Mr. Pierce, located in Room 300-A, Plant Hall. The new Director of Rivershore Tower, and counselor for the Human Sexuality and Counseling Center is Ms. Diane Phelps. Ms. Phelps comes to us from Bowling Green University. The Counseling Center will have a full-time Career Planning and Placement Counselor this year. Ms. Norma Caltagirone comes here from St. Pete Junior College. Her office is located in Room 309, Plant Hall. Mrs. Arleen Shearer's office has been moved across the hall with the Reading Lab. Her office is now located in Room 306, Plant Hall; the Reading Lab is in Room 304. Mr. Wayne Hutchins will continue as Director of McKay Hall and the Coordinator of the Judicial System. Ms. Darleen McGrath will again be the Director of Howell Hall, and will also serve as the Ombudsman. The position of Ombudsman was created to assist students while they are here at the University. The purpose of the office is to provide a University contact on campus in order to assist you with any problems you might have with the University and its policies. So, if you are not sure whom to see about a problem on campus, please contact Ms. Darleen McGrath, Rm. 300, Plant Hall.

2. Linen service is available this year from Dixie Linen. If you are interested in linen service, please contact the representative from Dixie Linen on campus on Tuesday, in the basement of Delo Hall between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

3. The hours of the Health Center have been changed. Due to the extremely high cost of maintaining a health service and infirmary, the Health Center will now be open five days a week, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. - 7:00 p.m. We are still able to provide the same services that we have in the past. However, if it is an extreme emergency, you will be sent to a hospital during the hours that the Health Center is closed. If it is not an emergency then you will be able to see a nurse the following morning. This new schedule will also allow us to put an extra nurse on during the daytime which is when 85% of the students use the Health Center.

4. You will notice that when you walk into the lobby of The University Union there are lockers now available for commuter students. We hope that residential students will not use these because they have their rooms in which to leave books and belongings during the day. We request that commuter students who do not use those lockers do not use them permanently, but only a day at a time. Locks left on overnight will be removed.

Hite's Hotline

by CARL HITE
Dean of Student Affairs

I want to take this opportunity to welcome both new and continuing students to the University of Tampa. The University of Tampa is undergoing many changes—all for the good—and you will be a part of those changes. For continuing students, I'm sure you have noticed changes taking place in programs both inside and outside the classroom. Upon graduation, you will be a different person than on the day you arrived on campus. For new students, you are about to enter a time period in your life that many people find exciting, but very challenging. We hope that with your assistance, we can meet the University's mission as defined by the Board of Trustees in their meeting of May 17, 1979. The University mission commits us to helping students pursue a "personal integration of intellectual, moral and practical knowledge which will assist them in becoming productive, responsible, self-reliant and free persons."

In order to accomplish the goals of that mission statement, the University needs to offer you the opportunity to become productive, responsible, self-reliant and free persons. It has been shown that the most effective learning is "learning by doing," as opposed to "learning by listening." The Division of Student Affairs will be offering a variety of programs that will, hopefully, result in students acquiring the skills necessary to become the above. By productive, we hope that you will be adding to the knowledge available in your area of study as well as assisting mankind in the problems that are facing them today. For example, energy and alcohol abuse are major problems faced by all societies today. These are real problems concerning us on campus as well as off-campus. You will have an opportunity at the University of Tampa to get involved in programs that are trying to deal with these problems and find solutions. Because you are legally adults, you are responsible for your actions as well as actions of those around you. You have been given the right to write your own rules and regulations, but you also need to adhere to and live by them. We also hope you will acquire a number of skills so that you can become self-reliant. Be on the lookout for programs offered by the Counseling Center and other offices on campus that deal with developing self-reliance. In order to be free, you must be able to make decisions. You must be able to make WISE decisions. There are also programs available that deal with making decisions.

There are also organizations, such as Student Council, that allow you to make important decisions that affect you as well as others. The opportunities to grow here are many, but the key is YOU.

Great Films For A Song

by TIM O'CONNER
Minaret Staff Writer

The Tampa Film Club (TFC) is now recruiting new members for the 1979-80 season. Membership ($15) entitles you to the following in valuable benefits:

- free refills on popcorn and soda;
- a pocket calendar of scheduled films;
- a voice in future TFC selections;
- a discount on next year's membership;
- a $9 saving over monthly membership.

Here is how the TFC program works: each month, when any non-member attends a film, he receives a monthly membership card which will entitle him to attend the remaining films for that month free of charge. The initial per-month charge is one dollar. Also, there is always at least one, and sometimes two, short films/cartoons before each feature. Audiences were recently treated to a World War II-vintage Donald Duck anti-Nazi propaganda film, and a 1940's Superman cartoon.

The biggest bonus to UT students is that the Tampa Theatre, located on the Franklin Street Mall (downtown) is within walking distance (about 15 minutes) of the campus. You can obtain membership forms from the box office (open 12-5, Monday-Friday, and before each TFC showing) of the Tampa Theatre, 711 N. Franklin Street.

The Tampa Theatre is a division of the Arts Council of Tampa-Hillsborough County.

Blackjack Is Not Based On Chance

by GREG GARDNER Entertainment Correspondent

Most people see Blackjack as a gamble based on chance. To the players in the rock group Blackjack, "Blackjack" represents a gamble not based on chance, but the combined musical abilities of four seasoned musicians.

But the birth of the group nine months ago may not have been a gamble at all. "The chemistry was just right," drummer Sandy Gennaro explains. "We were all going in the same musical as well as personal direction."

Vocalist Michael Bolotin played Connecticut bars for 13 of his 26 years before meeting lead guitarist Bruce Kulick. In early 1977 they hit the Connecticut bar circuit looking for the bassist and drummer who could complete the mixture. With smug looks, both Bolotin and Kulick agreed that the lengthy search ended instantly in California when they heard bassist Jim Haslip and drummer Sandy Gennaro.

The hunt for the group's name was almost as frustrating. Several names were decided on only to find they were registered to extinct or obscure groups. After losing 40 at Blackjack, manager Phil Lorito couldn't forget Blackjack. The group and its record company, Polydor, were enthused. Blackjack was no longer a dream, but a reality.

What does Blackjack have in common with the Allman Brothers, Rod

Stewart and Eric Clapton? All have used superstar Tom Dowd's services in producing albums. Dowd's reputation and many successes have made him a most sought-after producer. Kulick and Bolotin agreed that merely Dowd's presence in the studio fostered an intense level of concentration, but Bolotin emphasized that Dowd is not a "slick" producer who depends on a lot of overdubbing. The premier Blackjack album is selling well and the single "Love Me Tonight" is in the Top 100.

During a lengthy interview in Lakeland, August 11, Kulick discussed their destiny and the music business. Missing was the usual partying and girl-chasing that follows most performances. There was an unnatural air of unhurried seriousness present. Not your typical interview with the musician dreaming about the girl last night in Toledo.

Bolotin stressed the importance of interviews, especially in the early stages of a group. When asked if success would limit the band's access to the rock press Bolotin had an interesting answer.

"Those who have given us their time we will always have time for. Those who choose to ignore us now? Later, we may be too busy or tired to talk to them."

That's not a profound statement from a man whose band holds the last card.

Auditions For UT Players

The University of Tampa Players will hold auditions in the Falk Theatre, on Tuesday, September 4, at 7:00 P.M. They will be selecting performers for a Reader's Theatre production based on the works of the British short-story writer, Saki. Performance date for the production is October 11.

Auditions will be followed by the first general meeting of the University of Tampa Players. The agenda of the meeting will include nomination of officers and a discussion of this semester's programming. All interested students are encouraged to attend.

Lady Spartans Get New Tennis Coach

by TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Sports Editor

In another of many changes in the UT Athletic Department this past summer, Joyce Traina, an area tennis instructor, has been named the head coach of the women's tennis team here at UT.

Ms. Traina will be replacing Dr. Judy Bohren, who will stay on at the university as an instructor in the physical education department.

Traina, a graduate of the University of Tampa, is a past president of the University of Tampa National Alumni Organization.

"I feel Joyce will be a big plus for our program," said Dr. Birrenkott, athletic director here at UT. "She's been a teacher and a player with a great deal of success. Also she's maintained strong ties with the university and she believes in University of Tampa athletics.

Welcome back, Joyce!

Year Of Promise Ahead For Lady Spartans

By TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Sports Editor

Last year, the volleyball team's record was nothing to write home about. But things might be drastically different this year. Coach Anne Strusz is pleased with this year's crop of netters, led by returnee captain Jane Castor.

Coach Strusz's team has been on campus for more than a week and has been working hard. Organizationwise, things are way ahead of last year. Last year, we had a team before we had a coach.

But things are far and away better than last year. Coach Strusz has had a year to recruit. And like Coaches Miller and Mulry, who also have offices in Howell Gym, she had a fairly good year of recruiting.

The Lady Spartans open their season on September 18 at home in a tri-match against Florida Southern College and Manatee Junior College.

The rest of the season looks like this:

9/27	Eckerd/North Florida JC	7:00	St. Petersburg
9/28-29	Florida Southern Invitational		Lakeland
10/6	Rollins/St. Petersburg JC	10:00	UT
10/9	South Florida/Hillsborough JC	6:00	USF
10/11	Saint Leo/Polk CC	6:00	UT
10/15	Florida Southern/Stetson	6:00	Lakeland
10/18	South Florida	6:00	UT
10/22	Manatee JC	7:30	Bradenton
10/25	Stetson/Flagler	6:00	Deland
10/27	Rollins Invitational	10:00	Winter Park
10/30	Saint Leo/Eckerd	6:00	Saint Leo
11/2-3	Flagler Invitational		Saint Augustine
11/8-10	FAIAW State Tournament		Orlando

GOOD LUCK!

Glenn Ousted As UT Swim Mentor

By TONY DeSORMIER Minaret Sports Editor

On July 17, the UT Athletic Department released Brad Glenn from his duties as head swimming coach and director of aquatics. In addition to his duties with the University, Glenn also served as swimming coach for the Greater Tampa Swimming Association (G.T.S.A.).

The reasons for Glenn's release include: lack of cooperation with other campus agencies; improper representation of the University; frequent failures in personal relationships; and failure to adhere to GTSA policies.

Dr. Robert Birrenkott, the UT athletic director, stated, "Our differences were not with Brad's coaching goals, but rather with the manner and actions he used in trying to attain these goals."

In a story written by Greg Gordon in the July 18th issue of the Tampa Tribune, Glenn blamed his firing on Jorge Rodriguez, GTSA's president of Board of Directors. Apparently, it was an accumulation of problems that have built up since Glenn's arrival on the Tampa scene over a year ago.

Glenn told Gordon, "The whole thing stems from shady dealings of Jorge Rodriguez. Few people know what's going on behind the scenes."

"He's the man in control. Through his actions he controls the whole program. When you have a man with that much power you're going to have problems."

Rodriguez answered Glenn's charges in the Gordon story with, "I don't see how I have so much power since the board votes on the rules of the organization."

Brad's administration management was lacking and he failed to adhere to the policies of the GTSA Board and its by-laws."

Glenn replied, "I'm not saying that everything went smooth (at UT) because Dr. Birrenkott and the maintenance crew had problems; but as far as the other reasons (for his firing) I don't know. I think he's got to justify it through the university, and he can't so he's making these reasons up."

Glenn told Gordon in the interview that he wants to remain in coaching, but will not jump to another job too soon.

"I am a little bitter," he said. I'm concerned with the young kids coming up. I also take the blame for not educating the parents.

I'm critical, hoping to open some eyes (in Tampa).

"There are no programs in Tampa leading anywhere. It's sad a city this large doesn't have one good swim team. It's the worst city in the whole state."

Spartans Swing Into Action

By TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Sports Editor

Could this be the year that UT gets some national recognition in soccer? As one cartoon character says, "Could be!"

To start off with, the Spartans are coming off a superlative 11-3 season, just missing a national bid that many people thought the Spartans deserved. If they can duplicate this outstanding mark, the NCAA could not (or wouldn't dare) pass up the Spartans when they start handing out the invitations to post-season play.

That may take some doing, because Spartan head coach Jay Miller has arranged the toughest schedule in UT history. Three NCAA Tournament teams and four Division I opponents will be paying visits to the local diamond. NCAA Division II second-place finisher Alabama A&M, Florida International and Rollins are the post-season participants on the schedule. Crosstown rival USF, West Virginia, U. Miami, and Stetson are the major college foes. Other teams on the 79 schedule are Florida Southern College, Eckerd, Embry-Riddle, Saint Leo, FIT-Jensen Beach, Central Florida and FIT-Melbourne.

Jacksonville, Miami-Dade/South and Miami-Dade/New World come in to fill out the Spartan schedule with exhibition games.

But what gives this year a definite glow of hope was the outstanding year that Coach Jay Miller had recruiting. Most notably will be the appearance of Peter Johanson, a member of the

All in all, coach Miller hopes for a repeat of last year's fine record which (we hope) will culminate in a post-season NCAA bid.

UT Adds Fall Co-Ed Varsity Sport

By TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Sports Editor

The University of Tampa has added a new fall varsity sport this past summer for both men and women undergraduate full time students. The University of Tampa Men and Women's Cross Country team will swing into action for the first time on September 22, in a tri-meet with the University of South Florida and Georgia State University, at the University of South Florida.

The rest of the schedule for the UT cross country team, which will be headed by Dr. Marco DiBernardo, will be as follows:

Sept.	29	Florida State Invitational	Tallahassee
Oct.	6	Suncoast Invitational	South Florida
Oct.	13	Florida A&M, USF, Florida College	UT
Oct.	20	UT Homecoming Cross Country Open	UT
Oct.	28	Tampa Bay Classic	USF
Nov.	3	Flagler College	UT

Baseball Coach
Pete Mulry

Bright Future
In Sight
For UT Baseball

By TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Sports Editor

Coach Mulry found himself a home. He now has an office in Howell Gym, along with Coaches Strusz and Miller. After he got himself settled-in and saw what kind of recruiting Strusz and Miller were doing in preparation for their respective seasons, he had no choice but to follow suit.

It's said that pitching is 90% of the game of baseball. If this is true, then Coach Mulry's charges are going to be tough to beat next spring. Their pitching staff has been markedly improved with the addition of six pitchers who have announced their intentions to play for the Spartans.

First-year performers for the Spartans this year will be right-hander Richard Mendes from DePaul High School in Pompton Lakes, N.J. and left-hander Keith McGrath from Worcester Academy in Worcester, Mass.

"We lost more than half of our games by two runs or less," says Mulry. "With the addition of these new pitchers, I think we may be able to turn that statistic around."

Ex-Men's Crew Coach
Tom Feaster

Feaster Resigns

by TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Sports Editor

Effective August 22, Mr. Tom Feaster resigned his duties as the head coach of the University of Tampa men's crew team.

Feaster, who recently became a member of the Tampa Board of Realtors, says he plans to go to work for the United States Chamber of Commerce and to pursue real estate endeavors with Tam-Bay Realty Company.

Feaster, a former national scholastic singles sculling champion and a two-time national collegiate sweep champion, has coached for four years at the University of Tampa. His crews won a number of championships including the National Championship for the varsity men's pair with coxswain and varsity four with coxswain at the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia. Another feather in the Feaster chapeau was the origination of the UT President's Cup Regatta which is considered the most prestigious rowing event in the South.

"We will really miss Tom," said Dr. Bob Birrenkott, the athletic director here at UT. "He really revitalized our men's crew program and has built a solid base from which we can continue to grow."
