Lois Hamann crowned as 1971 Homecoming Queen

Head Cheerleader Lois Hamann, 21-year-old senior from Jericho, N.Y., was crowned 1971 Homecoming Queen by University of Tampa President B. D. Owens last Friday night following the annual Spartan Spoofs at Falk Theatre.

Lois, third maid in the 1970 Homecoming Court, reigned during UT's Homecoming football triumph over East Carolina at Tampa Stadium and the Homecoming Dance that followed at Curtis Hixon Hall. A member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, she was sponsored by Pen and Sword Society. She also is a Sigma Phi Epsilon little sister and a member of the Civinettes.

On the court with Lois were Lyne Carr of Chula Vista, Calif., a junior, selected Lady-in-Waiting; Lenni Waggoner, Short Hills, N.J., senior, first runnerup; Sandy O'Shea, East Northport, N.Y. senior, second runnerup, and tying for third runnerup were seniors; Laura Wood, Springfield, Va. and Maureen Startt, Huachuca, Ariz.

Skit winners were: first—Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority; second—Theta Chi Fraternity; third—Pen and Sword, and fourth—Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity.

Lawn display winners were: first—Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity; second—Pen and Sword; third—Panhellenic.

Admissions and Registrar to become one office

Consolidation of the offices of admissions and registrar at the University of Tampa was announced by UT President B. D. Owens.

Heading the combined office will be Eugene Cropsey, appointed director of admissions and records, effective immediately. Cropsey has been UT registrar since June, 1967.

The change is intended as an efficiency move that will improve coordination between the two offices and decrease duplication of efforts.

President Owens said combining the offices will:

- (1) Facilitate better coordination of admissions, enrollment and attrition studies;
- (2) Eliminate duplication in maintenance and record keeping, in the preparation of input for data processing and on follow-up procedures and controls in high school transcripts;

(3) Provide more efficient correlation of effort between the two offices, eliminating clerical duplication and resulting in the decrease of one clerical position, and

(4) Mean more responsibilities for key personnel within the two positions and reallocation and savings of space by combining file cabinets, offices and other facilities.

Cropsey, well qualified for his additional responsibilities, has been active in modernizing registration and record-keeping procedures since becoming registrar.

One of his major accomplishments was a computer program for evaluation of transfer credits. Future plans call for programming the computer to determine eligibility for graduation and on-line terminals to facilitate computer registration. Cropsey also hopes to put all student records on computer.

He joined the University of Tampa in 1964 as administrative assistant to the vice president for academic affairs, following six years in this area as special agent for Aetna Insurance Co. From 1966-67 he was director of the MacDill Campus.

While registrar, Cropsey taught six hours of business statistics and served on the academic policies and admissions committees at the University.

Cropsey, 40, is married and he and his wife, Jane, have two sons, William, 10, and John, 13, who is ballboy for the UT Spartans. A combat veteran of the Korean War, he received a B.S. degree in business administration in 1957 from Trinity University, San Antonio, Tex., and an M.A. in vocational education in 1970 from the University of South Florida.

Dr. Walter Lane Alumnus of year

As a highlight of the 36th University of Tampa Homecoming, Dr. Walter Lane, Temple Terrace physician, was named "alumnus of the year" by the UT Alumni Association.

The honor was bestowed Saturday during the annual Alumni Association buffet at 3 p.m. in the Aloha Room of Hawaiian Village Motel.

In addition to honoring Dr. Lane, the Alumni Association also awarded plaques to Dr. J. Duane Locke, associate professor of English, and Dr. Stanton G. Truxillo, assistant professor and acting chairman of the physics department, as outstanding members of the UT faculty.

Five years after his graduation from UT with the class of '61, Dr. Lane was named one of the "10 Outstanding Young Men in America" by the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce and was later appointed to the Presidential Advisory Council for the Office of Economic Opportunity.

A general practitioner, he holds one of the 50 coveted Gold Medals awarded by the American Academy of General Practice over the past century. While still a student at the University of Florida medical school, he developed a method for detecting bacterial infection and testing their sensitivity to drugs.

By naming Dr. Locke for outstanding achievement over a term exceeding five years, UT paid tribute to one of its own.

A native of Georgia, Locke was brought to Tampa at the age of four. Educated in Tampa schools, he was graduated from UT in 1949 with a bachelor of arts degree. His master of arts degree came from the University of Florida in 1955 and three years later he received his doctorate there in English Renaissance. The same year he joined the UT faculty.

Locke is married to another UT graduate, the former Frances Crombee. Once a widely known wildlife photographer, he is now internationally recognized as one of the most published poets on the contemporary scene. He is founder and editor of the University of Tampa Poetry Review, circulated around the world.

Dr. Truxillo was honored as the outstanding faculty member with less than five years service. He received the bachelor of science degree in 1963 from Loyola University of the South, New Orleans. His graduate course work stressed quantum mechanics, solid state theory and low temperature physics.

Concluding graduate studies at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, he received his doctorate in physics in 1969. His doctoral research was in experimental fluid dynamics.

Before joining the UT faculty in 1970 he was a research geophysicist with the Coastal Studies Institute of Louisiana State University where he participated in development and field testing of multispeed photographic techniques for remote sensing of coastal environment along with other projects.

Letter to the Editor

Pressure makes a man

by Carol L. Murrell

Throughout this football season everyone has read K. R. Lombardia's column each week. His observations about players, teams and coaching are sometimes good, sometimes mediocre and last week — ridiculous.

I am referring to his contention that Carter proved himself a great quarterback in the Ole Miss game. According to Lombardia, Carter became great because of the absence of pressure.

Previously this pressure came from two sources: Solomon waiting to step into the QB position and 3rd down and long yardage situations.

How can anyone in athletics, scholastics or life be great if they only function when NOT under pressure?

A quarterback has to always be able to withstand competition and face 3rd down and long yardage situations. It is the name of the game. If he cannot face these situations, then he is not a great anything.

Come on Lombardia, no one can be called great at anything if they cannot function under a little pressure.

IS AMERICA GOING TO POT?

*Is America going to pot?
That's what they said when I was a tot.
Is life passing by me slipping?
From this terrible thing that they call tripping.
Are my parents turning hip?
Is Dad really going to trip?
Is Mother getting high,
From her Alice B. Toklas pie?
I told my parents that I had tripped.
Their first reaction? — They really flipped!
They just wouldn't try to understand,
And now they've made their big demand!
They said that they too would have some fun,
So popping pills has just begun.
And now I'm getting a little hot,
As I sit here watching them smoke their pot!!
If they would have only tried to understand,
They would have stopped before they began.
For when I told them that I had tripped,
It was not my mind but my back that slipped!!!*

For some reason we always walk around taking everything for granted. When someone tells us about a nice gesture that a third party has made, we just say "that's nice" and forget about it.

Look at the Pen and Sword Society. They are donating the funds to send all our cheerleaders to Vanderbilt.

That, I think, is a very nice gesture and I think they deserve a special vote of thanks.

It's so funny how you overlook the little things that people do. I'm probably the worst one for overlooking everything.

Professor James Bignell, of the industrial arts department, with the help of some of his shop assistants, has donated the wood and built three newspaper holders to distribute the Minaret. The holders are located in the Post Office, the University Union, and the main lobby of Plant Hall.

I really want to thank Professor Bignell for building these and for making the distribution of the newspaper a neat operation.

As I look around the school I can see a million things that people have done that they have never been thanked for. I sincerely hope that these people realize that their efforts are appreciated even if they are never thanked.

To the Editor of the Minaret

Was it necessary?

In 1951, while a young child of five years, I had several opportunities to visit Plant Park with my parents and brothers. The memories are fond. Perhaps the fondest of all is the memory of sitting on the backs of the bronze dogs as they stared at the squirrels chipping acorns in the huge oak.

Last week these memories were shattered. The dogs have turned tail to the oak and now stare vacantly towards nothing. Why? Is there one logical reason for turning Plant Park's bronze dogs around, or was this "make work" for our maintenance crews. Surely I am not the only one with former happy memories of Plant Park as it was. Was any consideration at all given to other's memories?

Matuszak - UT's friendly giant

What do you do with a combination Greek God, teddy bear and Goliath?

Coach Bill Fulcher has seen fit to put his attractive conglomeration into a Spartan jersey (number 82) and utilize the unique and effective talents available in such a package.

John Matuszak, a junior transfer student from Missouri, fills the bill as UT's friendly giant. Weighing in at 270 lbs. and reaching the 6'7" mark, he is more than useful as a defensive tackle.

On campus John has to be one of the most easy going and content persons walking around. He can be outgoing, shy, aloof or exciting. The amazing thing is that he can be all of these at the same time and usually is.

This relaxed, congenial person makes quite a transformation at game time.

Upon setting foot on the gridiron, every inch of his massive body goes to work with the fierceness and determination of a bull going after a red cape. The mental process behind this personality change begins long before the opening kick off.

John thinks about future games five to six days ahead of time, and then the night before the game he is concentrating entirely upon the upcoming game. He is thinking about all possible situations which might arise during a game and what to do about them.

While participating in a game, John claims that he is only thinking of "the next tackle, not making a mistake and making the coach happy."

It is quite obvious that this year John has made both his coach and the fans very happy with his action on the field.

This alert and quick Spartan feels that you are "only as good as you want to be." He adds that he would "like to be one of the best." His performances this year have put him among the elite of the collegiate football world.

John sees football as being similar to life in that both have "lots of hardships, hard work, and if you can see your way through, you can see the rewards."

Off the field John accepts most people as being basically good. It is his belief that if people were not this way, it would be impossible for anyone to get anywhere.

What Can I Say - it's SGA! by Styles

They say you never get anything for free. Well, tonight in the River room of the University Union, many students will be receiving free legal advice about apartment renting. Every year students have problems with landlords about deposits, breaking leases, and being thrown out of apartments for some small infraction of their lease.

This year, however, an Off-Campus Housing Committee was formed to help students learn about available apartments, and some of the loop holes available to them. The first step of this committee was to make arrangements for the students to receive legal aid, which might help them. Tonight there will be 5 lawyers and a judge, speaking to the students for two hours just about apartments.

Even if you are not interested in getting an apartment while you're in school, this information will help you later. The program starts at 7:30 p.m. All students are encouraged to attend.

DOCTORS DISCOVER NEW PILL FOR TREATMENT OF ACNE

This report deals with a new form of sulfur. Sulfur is probably the safest medicine known to man. M. Hannon found particles of theionized or activated sulfur taken by mouth are so fine and tiny they can be absorbed rapidly from the intestine. Dr. Hannon feels theionized sulfur's effectiveness occurs because it reacts more rapidly to influence all organs including lungs, circulation, kidneys and above all the skin. This reaction takes place because theionized sulfur not only is rapidly concentrated in the blood but this high blood sulfide level is carried to the skin to produce high concentrations at the site where the acne begins. This is the reason theionized sulfur is so effective in pustular acne of the teenager. Dr. L. D. Bulkley confirmed Dr. Hannon's findings. He treated sixty-nine acne patients with theionized sulfur analogue. He found theionized sulfur analogue effective for acne when used alone or combined with other measures. The drug was most effective for teenage acne whether pustular or cystic. AVAILABLE without a prescription . . . AKNE-KAPS only $1.69 at better DRUG STORES and all KASH and KARRY.

The Vandy Vendetta! That's what everybody is calling it.

Last year Vandy refused to let Sammy Gellerstedt, Dave Tomeo and Ron Herbein play because they were transfers and had not sat out their year to be eligible to play against SEC teams. This could easily have been waived by Vandy but it wasn't. The result was a narrow victory for the Commodores which wouldn't have been if these 3 had played.

This year they will pay! These 3 have been waiting a year for revenge and the time is near.

The one man who has been waiting with the most impatience has been Gellerstedt. This is all he's talking about now. There should be no stopping him Saturday. Vandy will probably play with 5 men in the backfield all night. One of them will be Gellerstedt. If they doubleteam him, Mike Hernandez (who is subbing for John Matuszak who is ineligible this year for the same rule) and Bobby Brown will be there to kill Vandy. In any way, Vandy loses.

But, Tampa has got to get together. Vandy isn't as bad as their record says. They run the option well and can pass with some authority. This will be Tampa's first look ever at the Wishbone-T and it might fool them if they don't play well.

The can't fumble against the Commodores either or the roof will fall in. They're not as inept as Carolina was and they will jump on every opportunity they can get.

I don't think the fans have to worry. The Spartans will be there to play. So will Vandy.

Believe me. Gellerstedt, Tomeo and Herbein will play their most outstanding games this Saturday. They have to.

Tampa beats East Carolina ---losing streak is over

by K. R. Lombardia

Buddy Carter flipped two TD passes to All-American candidate tight end Alex Edlin and Jesse "Super" Soper booted a stadium record 50 yard field goal as the Tampa Spartans crushed a not so bad East Carolina Pirate team 43-7. A pitiful Homecoming crowd of 17,092 fans received the game.

Tampa started their scoring on account of a Carolina mistake. Wilburn Grooms recovered a Billy Wallace fumble and from the 16 it took just 3 plays to score the payoff coming on an option from Carter to Ken Moorhead for 11 yards behind a crushing block by Paul Orndorff. Soper kicked his first of 5 PAT's.

East Carolina drove right back, but a 37 yard field goal attempt hit an upright and failed.

The ball exchanged hands on punts and Tampa was bagged at the 33 of Carolina when Jesse Soper stepped up and booted his record setting field goal.

East Carolina later made another mistake which Tampa leaped on. Joey Clark intercepted a Casazza pass and on the following set Buddy Carter spotted Alex Edlin who dodged two tacklers to complete a 23 yard touchdown. Soper kicked Tampa into a 17-0 lead.

East Carolina was unable to move and punted to its 47. On the succeeding play the Carter-Edlin aerial machine produced again. Edlin was all alone at the 15 and loped in to score. Soper's kick made it 24-0 at intermission.

Jesse Soper started the second half fireworks as he had ended the first. This time Super booted a 33 yard field goal to up Tampa's lead to 27-0.

The defense again turned the ball over to the offense. This time Tom Witmer intercepted a Casazza pass at the Tampa 48. From there Freddie Solomon handed to Orndorff for nine and Ernie Dubose for 4.

Solomon carried the rest with the score coming on a 12 yard scamper around left end.

Tampa again gained possession on a punt and drove to the 6 inch line where Frank Pitts fumbled on the ensuing play for Carolina, Casazza sprinted out and was tackled in the end zone by Clarence Pickney for a safety and a 36-0 lead.

East Carolina refused to fold and drove down the field to score, against Spartan reserves, the TD coming on a Summerell to Stan Eure pass. With Kilbourne's kick the final score stood at 43-7 in favor of the now 5-4 Spartans.
