

Ensemble Presents "Marigolds"

Ensemble Theatre Company will present Hillsborough Community College's production of THE EFFECTS OF GAMMA RAYS ON MAN-IN-THE-MOON MARIGOLDS written by Paul Zindell. The Pulitzer prize winning play was directed by Dr. Marvin Kirschman.

The production will open at ETC's complex at 8th Avenue and North 15th Street in Ybor City, Tampa, on Friday, January 30 and run Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings through February 20. Curtain time is 8:29 p.m.

The play was produced at HCC several months ago and received rave reviews from local critics prompting ETC to reproduce it for the public's view pleasure. This powerful production will retain its original cast including Laura Mitchell, Joy Drain, Sylvia Martinez and Jane Britton.

Tickets are $3.75 for adults and $1.75 for students. Reservations may be made by calling 248-5828 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. daily or in the evenings. Season subscriptions are still available for this play and the remaining plays of the season.

ETC's following production will be THE ROAR OF THE GREASEPAINT, THE SMELL OF THE CROWD, which is planned to open at The Friday Morning Musicale on Friday, February 13 for a limited run. Tickets are now on sale by calling the same number.

Homecoming '76

Homecoming will be March 12, 13, and 14 which will be a student and alumni involved program. The theme is related to the Bicentennial in honor of America's birthday.

It will be a first for U.T. to present Homecoming in the spring rather than the fall; but the change should be refreshing. The reason for this is to take advantage of the spring sports. The weekend of the 12th of March two baseball games are scheduled and also an exhibition of water sports will take place on the river. An old fashioned barbeque picnic is planned during the exhibition in Plant Park. It looks like a good weekend with a variety of new events and entertainment!

Dr. Gillen Attends Convention

Last December Tampa U. was represented at the Modern Language Convention held in San Francisco by Dr. Francis Gillen. This was one of the numerous meetings held at the largest, scholarly convention of its type which involved approximately 8,000 people. It was also the first time Tampa U. has been represented at this convention.

Dr. Gillen acquired the position as chairman of the convention at the yearly meeting held in December 1974 and also this role was obtained due to his success of his publications on E. M. Forster and the narrator in the novel. This particular convention concerned the narrator in novels by E. M. Forster. The meeting proceeded so well that Dr. Gillen was asked to continue as chairman for the following year.

Dr. Gillen feels this is important to be involved in such seminars. It not only extends the representation of the U. of Tampa; but, as the reputation of its faculty spreads is enhanced the value of recommendations given students.

Here at Tampa U. Dr. Gillen instructed a course titled "Modern Novels" last fall. Among the authors discussed were four about whom he has published: E. M. Forster, Virginia Woolfe, Henry James and Donald Barthelme. This course will be offered again in the spring of '77. In addition, Dr. Gillen has just published a writing on the dramatist, Harold Pinter.

INTERVIEW SKILLS

Do you have difficulty writing letters, resumes are troubled about interview skills and employment? Well, the counseling center can help and urges student, especially seniors, to take advantage of their offering.

Meetings will probably be set up according to how the students react and will also depend on how many show an interest. Dr. Tim Russell anticipates a good response and hopes to have weekly meetings; yet this program will not be a series.

It is for the students' benefit and provides a good opportunity for students to learn basic skills that can only prove to be useful and worthwhile.

Just take a little time to stop by the counseling center and set up an appointment with Mrs. Palmer.

Forward Fund Sets Goal For '76

Forward Fund '76, the University of Tampa's Bicentennial year major fund raising effort, kicked off its Advanced Gifts campaign Tuesday, January 27 in the University Club by announcing a goal of $476,000.

Leading the drive is Frederick M. Rothenberg, Tampa attorney who is general chairman of the 1976 version of the University of Tampa's annual fund drive which is spearheaded by the University's Board of Counselors, an organization of young business and professional leaders in the community.

Directing the Advanced Gifts Division is Charles M. Davis, chairman, president and treasurer of Davis Brothers Insurance Agency.

Davis announced the following five division vice chairmen: H. L. Culbreath, president, Tampa Electric Co., Division I, major corporations; James M. Ingram, M.D., Division II, Trustees; J. Ross Parker, president Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. of Tampa, Division III, Fellows, Harry E. Hurst, C.P.A., partner in Arthur Young Company, Division IV, Community; and J. Thomas Touchton, managing partner of the Witt Co., an investment partnership, Division V, Minaret Society Prospects.

Each of the division vice chairmen have a number of captains working with them as volunteer workers helping to support private higher education at the University of Tampa through the fund raising process.

SENIORS

The counseling center is trying to devise a group for engaged couples who are interested in bettering their relationship. The group will be directed by Dr. Tim Russell of the counseling center who sincerely hopes students that are engaged or planning to be will take an interest in this program.

The aim will be to get couples to look at their relationship honestly and how to attain more happiness in their relationship. In addition, they will view certain unpleasanties which occur in a relationship and ways they may be eliminated.

Dr. Russell hopes to organize a group that will meet once a week, for 5 weeks, each for a two hour time span. So if you are interested stop by the counseling center (sc. 200) and make an appointment.

Cheryl Chamness

Funds collected through Forward Fund are used in the operation of the University in the areas of salaries, classroom needs, student scholarships and the like.

But recently, the physician, Robert Kistner, has withdrawn his blessing, admitting that his earlier statements "cannot be substantiated." Kistner said in an interview with the Washington Post that the first studies had indeed shown a "statistically significant" relationship between use of the pill and abnormal blood clotting, but not a cause-effect relationship.

Kistner told the Post that he would retract his earlier statements concerning the effect of the pill on cancer of the uterus as well. Kistner had originally claimed that in his experience, women using the pill had a "lower incidence" of endometrial cancer "than one might expect on the basis of chance alone."

Kistner said he had cooperated with pill manufacturers because of his beliefs, not for any financial consideration. But now Kistner does not want to be associated with any pharmaceutical houses. "I don't want to be an authority anymore," Kistner said.

Yes, But What Does It Mean?

(CPS)—If you are in college taking a writing course, or even if you have younger brothers or sisters in high school English courses—composition as opposed to literature—you and they will find that the longer, more pompous, high fallutin and unorganized sentences you write on yours or their essays, sentences like this one, for example, you will receive better grades from your teachers, many of whom can't recognize good writing, a Chicago researcher has found.

A Bicentennial Minute

DURING THE DARK AGES HERE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF TAMPA, IT WAS CONSIDERED INDECENT AND IMMORAL FOR THE YOUNG LADIES OF HOWELL HALL TO HAVE THEIR WINDOW SHADES OPEN AFTER DARK. Penalty for not having their shades drawn was being campused. For those of you not knowing the meaning of campused, it was for a lady of Howell Hall being confined to her room on a Friday and Saturday night. In those days there was no visitation.

And that's the way it was until September 1969.

Barry Lydon

Dear Parents:

It is the purpose of this letter to advise you of policies adopted by the University of Tampa with regard to consequences attending student misconduct. This action has been prompted by some difficulties in this area. It is considered that the proposed action is in the best interests of the student body, the University of Tampa, and the community.

Generally, any student suspended or expelled for actions on the campus or in the community which reflect discredit upon himself, the student body, and the University will not be entitled to any refunds. Further, the incident will become a permanent part of the student's record which is available to other universities, scholarship committees, graduate schools, officer candidate selection boards, and college recruitment personnel from industry.

Incident

1. Drinking or storing alcoholic beverages in any form on campus at any time. (Empty bottles are considered evidence of consumption or storage). Drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the campus or in the community.
2. Gambling in any form.
3. Possession or use of firearms, explosives in any form, on the campus or in immediate proximity of the campus and in University off-campus facilities.
4. Vandalism of private or public property (this includes incidents of gross negligence). All general damages are payable in full within 72 hours or the student will be suspended from all classes. Such absences are not excused.
5. Theft
6. Unauthorized presence of members of the opposite sex in the dormitories or off-campus housing.
7. Cumulative effect of repeated disturbances or incidents interfering with the academic purposes of this University.
8. Disorderly conduct and assemblies, mass demonstrations. (Students in the assembly or who remain in the area as observers will be considered as active participants since their presence, enlarges the group, creates greater attraction to the disturbance, and is an indication of the support and encouragement to violators).
9. Failure to comply with acceptable standards of dress and grooming.
10. Repeated failure to meet acceptable standards of dress and grooming.

Consequences

- Expulsion within 24 hours.
- Expulsion within 24 hours.
- Expulsion within 24 hours.
- Expulsion within 24 hours. Charges for labor, materials and $5.00 punitive fee per person.
- Expulsion within 24 hours.
- Expulsion within 24 hours.
- Suspension or expulsion
- Expulsion within 24 hours.
- Non-admittance to classrooms, cafeteria, library, office spaces.
- Suspension.

Students who are arrested for any reason are required to arrange for their own bond when necessary. The University will not enter the bonding business.

This information is being made available to all students; however, it is felt that it is directed primarily to that small faction of students who are disruptive influences in institutions of higher learning.

SGA News

It is official — Dean Meyer disclosed that the pool will be closed starting February 1 because there is no money to operate the facilities. As a result of this announcement, the SGA will propose appropriating roughly $220.00 with certain stipulations. This amount would only cover the month of February and has to be approved by the House and Senate.

President Kathy Hoyne terms UT "a cultural desert" and she is planning several events which hopefully will erase that opinion. She is trying to have author-lecturer Merle Miller speak on campus about the American presidency, which he is currently doing across the country. Miller is the author of the best-seller Plain Speaking, the autobiography by Harry Truman. Also in the developing stages, Kathy will probably book the Dinglefest Company. They are a musical-comedy troupe that will perform in Falk Theatre and on campus.

Thanks to a large turnout, WTUN night at the Rat raised $201.76! More good news about WTUN is in order — Chemical Electronics will build a free radio studio and most of the equipment is due on Friday, January 30.

SHORTS — The money problems pile up — Completion of the new baseball diamond has been halted because the $12,000 has run out. Dr. Mendelsohn sent out letters to the faculty about the Library Assistance Act and only 4 professors responded. Complaints are coming in over the bookstore's handling of charging original prices for used books which weren't labeled as such.

ODK will be drafting a letter to all presidential candidates asking them to speak on campus. Dr. Owens says that he was not aware of a name contest for the Fairgrounds and that it will be named by one of two prospective donors. Money DOES talk.

Spring Enrollment Statistics

Enrollment, on the downswing since the draft ended, reversed itself at the University of Tampa this spring with 1,906 persons registering, an increase of 67 students over last spring.

It is the first time since 1972 there has been an increase in students from one spring to another.

UT Registrar Eugene Cropsey said that 1,667 are undergraduates and 239 are graduate students. Among the undergraduate are 39 new freshmen and 139 transfer and former students. A total of 1,489 are classified as "continuing students."

Other figures show 1,086 male and 581 female students among the undergraduates, 46 from Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Panama Canal zone and 78 other from 22 foreign countries.

Cropsey also reported 278 students from Hillsborough County and 60 from Pinellas County among the 481 Florida undergraduates at the University of Tampa. Among the first-time students this spring are 47 from Hillsborough County.

New York is the second largest producer of UT students with 216, New Jersey is next with 185 and Pennsylvania has 101.

Graduate enrollment is up 55 over last spring, and UT officials credit the new Plant City center with much of the credit. Of the 137 graduate students in education, 30 are enrolled at Plant City. The MBA program has 102 students.

SINGLES!

Individuals who desire to meet people and to find out more about relationships are invited to take part in a group for singles. The group will meet once a week, during the day, but as of now a time has not been planned.

It is another idea of the counseling center's which they are offering to Tampa U. students. Dr. Tim Russell will supervise and focus mainly on the following:

how to meet people, how to form close relationships, what makes a relationship happy or unhappy and whatever else the group wishes to discuss.

All students are invited to participate. Just stop in the counseling center and make an appointment.

FEBRUARY 9th

EVERYONE PARTIES!

He called himself "Gasparilla." He was a truly authentic pirate and mutineer who used Tampa Bay as his headquarters during the late 1700's. February 9th everyone celebrates and recreates the Pirate Invasion of Gasparilla! The Pirate Invasion bursts into action at noon and a parade befalls on the public at 1 p.m. Tampa becomes a city quicken to display high spirits.

The annual Gasparilla Invasion, complete with a 3-masted Jose' Gasparilla ship is manned by costumed pirates. The ship comes into the harbor and up the Hillsborough river. The ship is accompanied by a fleet of small boats filled with Rowdy crew members. Cannon rumbles, pistols bang and all welcome the pirates, shouting "Jose' Gasparilla" and there is dancing in the streets!

The parade proceeds through the streets that exhibit pirate theme floats. There are more than 50 floats and 20 bands in all.

Classes are cancelled which leaves you to worry about nothing but to have a good time. So be ready for the celebration and party out!

PEN & SWORD NEWS

All Pen and Sword members are reminded that the next monthly meeting is scheduled for 6 February, in the Student Union, at 1600 hrs. The last monthly meeting of the society resulted in numerous changes to the constitutions. Members should be aware of these new changes. Any questions pertaining to these constitution changes should be directed to any of the society's officers.

Pen and Sword members are urgently needed to participate in the society's sports program. So get out and support your organization! Currently basketball players are needed, and next month the call will be for golfers. This is the excuse you need to get out of the house and in shape for spring and the sap rising activities associated with it!

PHI GAMMA NU

The sisters would like thank all of the interested girls who supported our pledging activities from January 18-30. On January 24 a coke social was attended by Virginia Schulte, a executive director and also by Donna Jo Jagel former South-eastern providence director. We all appreciated their presence and the valuable information and direction they had to offer. On Sunday, February 1st a wine and cheese party get-together was held for our prospective pledges to allow them to get to know what a professional sorority was. We're grateful to those girls who responded to their invitations and made that afternoon a success.

The sisters will be involved in some fund raising activities on Gasparilla Day, February 9. Under the direction of Maj. Paul Sawyer, president, Tampa Chapter #19, ROA, the sisters will be allowed to sell Bicentennial license plates along the parade route from 9 a.m. - 1 p.m. The plates cost $2 each and the proceeds will go to the University of Tampa ROTC Building fund. So if you see our girls, let's give them some support.

Sisters, don't forget pictures will be taken on Wednesday, Feb. 3 at 12:00 by the flagpole.

Food Stamps And Students: A Shot In The Dark

(CPS) — Last year it finally got to be too much for the Agriculture Department to bear. That image of college students packing down steaks and lobster paid for with food stamps had become too embarrassing.

So they changed some of the food stamp eligibility provisions, requiring that students on the dole either have parents who were eligible for food stamps or not be declared as dependents on their parent's income tax forms.

About a year after that set of regulations was put into effect, federal food stamp officials say they don't have any idea what the result has been. The reason is simple — even the main office of Agriculture's food stamp program never had an idea of how many students actually received food stamps.

Records for the program aren't broken down to show the occupation of recipients. But the best guess of the department — which is only a ballpark figure — says that student probably made up less than one percent of the total number of food stamp recipients, which is currently pushing the 19 million mark. But even those figures could be drastically overshooting the level of handouts to students.

An Agriculture Department survey of food stamp recipients found that 99% of persons receiving food stamps live in a household where all members are related. The last one percent, which students would be most likely to be included in, also takes account of elderly, low income people sharing living quarters and other low income people living with unrelated roommates.

Looking back, food stamp officials in Washington said the changes were made in the eligibility laws for students because too many people complained that students were misusing food stamps. An information specialist in the food stamp program said that there were obviously students receiving stamps who were dependents and had parents who could afford to feed them. She explained that the law changes merely took care of loopholes in food stamp laws.

The information specialist, who didn't want to be identified, said that the department never had an idea how many food stamps went to students who were not needy or ineligible.

And if the latest regulation change cleared up some old existing loopholes, it may also have created some new ones. Some local food stamp officials are claiming now that there is no sure way to determine whether students are going to be declared dependents on their parent's income tax.

The problem is that food stamp officials don't have the power to demand income tax returns as proof of whether a student is claimed as a dependent. But even if they did, it wouldn't solve all their problems.

The reason is that last year's income tax form would cover a student's dependency status for the previous year. In most cases, the tax form which would show what a student's dependency status is for the current year has not yet been filed.

Meanwhile, in Congress, the battle to get more students knocked off the food stamp rolls is being carried through committee. Sen. James Buckley's (C-NY) Food Stamp Reform Act, which could toss out all students from the list of recipients, is caught up in the Senate Agriculture committee with other food stamp bills.

Buckley's aides say there is no way to tell whether the provision exempting students from eligibility will be intact when the bill is reported out of committee sometime after January.

Buckley has called on his New York student constituents to support the measure, which is part of a total reform package. He claims that students must be willing to accept the responsibility of being voluntarily unemployed and not ask other working people to help pick up their tab. Buckley added that the credibility of the student voice in other appeals to Congress would be enhanced if students could come before the body "with clean hands — that is to say without food stamps."
