R.O.T.C. is explained to U.T. student body at S.G.A. meeting

by Chris Kahn

"Our business is to take a man who's breadth of vision is being enlarged and make him sufficiently familiar with the terms of the Army so we can send him to a branch school to become technically competent."

These words, spoken by Colonel Kenneth Webber, Professor of Military Science at Florida Southern College, were the first official explanation of R.O.T.C.'s purpose at the University of Tampa.

Speaking at a meeting of the S.G.A. House of Representatives, Colonel Webber cited the fact that IF Congress ends the II-S deferments (which looks very likely) "R.O.T.C. will be the only way current freshmen and future applicants with lottery numbers between 1 and 195 will be able to continue their college education uninterrupted."

However, the program affects more than just that segment of the student body. The course is being modified so that it will benefit students of all four classes.

The program, as explained by Col. Webber, offers the individual a chance to obtain a commission while attaining one's degree, receive $50 a month while attending classes and in all probability gain additional deferment if accepted to graduate school.

In addition, the Army offers a two year scholarship for Sophomores and a one year scholarship for Juniors. The scholarships cover tuition and all related expenses except room and board.

That's not to say that there isn't anything extracted for these benefits.

One must attend a six week training period in June-July at Fort Bragg, North Carolina at the end of his junior year. And there is always the matter of one's active duty and reserve obligations.

However, these liabilities don't arise until the advanced stage of the program. "It is not until the Junior year that a man signs a contract with the United States Government," explained Col. Webber. "Up until then he can walk out at any time."

In answering questions Col. Webber stated that R.O.T.C. courses are open to all students, females included. He also clarified that uniforms are worn only for drill, not for daily class attendance.

Of course there was the question of acceptable hair length. To this Col. Webber could only answer that the matter of hair is left to the discretion of the Professor of Military Science in charge. (Our P.M.S. has yet to be announced.)

For those who are interested in further information, there will be R.O.T.C. officials in the lobby of the Student Center every Tuesday and Wednesday from 12:30 to 3:00 p.m., beginning March 9th.

In addition, every male student will be receiving a Fact Sheet, explaining in full the R.O.T.C. program. These sheets will be distributed through the Communications Center.

Committee will evaluate profs

by JOHN McNEIL

Since the reporting of Student Government's intention to recommend a program of professor evaluation by students two extreme viewpoints have been noted on campus.

One has a number of faculty members rejecting the proposal (before even seeing it) as unnecessary or undesirable.

The other has a number of students eagerly awaiting the program as a means of "Getting Back At" instructors they dislike.

Both viewpoints—and their adherents—do a disservice to the University.

To begin with the real impetus behind the desire for professor evaluation comes from two situations directly attributable to the faculty.

First, the teaching efforts of a number of instructors are felt to be somewhat lacking by a large number of students (as well as several instructors).

Secondly, the rigidly adhered to doctrine of "Academic Freedom" virtually precludes senior faculty members from criticizing classes given by members of their own departments.

The logical conclusion to be drawn from the preceding comments is that some critical base for corrective action by instructors is desirable and that the only sources available for such criticism are the students being taught.

Students, on the other hand, must recognize that only objective criticism offered in good faith will be effective. Student reviews will be offered to the faculty as another tool for improving the educational experience. Only if the tool is deemed useful can it be expected to be used.

It is important for all of us to keep in mind that professor evaluation by students is not an end in itself but merely a vehicle, the goal toward which we are all working is improvement of the over-all academic environment.

If both students and faculty will approach this project with open minds we should all benefit.

Entertainment, contests highlights opening at the UT coffee house

by Barry Lydon

Opening night at the Coffee House was a tremendous success according to John Raffaele, Coffee House manager. Over 200 students jammed into the old cafeteria located under the porch of Plant Hall. Raffaele stressed that the Coffee House is for student use and that any student talent is invited to perform on weekends. Local talent, if worthwhile, may be hired for future performances at the Coffee House and possibly other coffee houses at nearby colleges.

Can coed dorms exist on campus

by David P. Hoyle

Colleges all over the United States are asking themselves this question. The trend has been gathering momentum gradually since the early 1960s and now some 200 of America's colleges and universities have co-ed housing facilities.

"Co-ed housing would provide a much more natural environment," says one Delo Hall resident. "The point is we want to know boys as friends and companions as well as dating objects."

Not only is co-ed living natural, but it is a richer environment for learning. Co-ed dorms will be better just as co-ed classes are better. The popular consensus is that co-ed living does have strong educational values as the women residents of Smiley Hall have related frequently.

"Co-ed housing has yet another attraction—security. With male students residing in the same dorm, it would relieve the fear of middle-of-the-night intruders."

A study at Stanford which began on that campus in 1967 reveals the following:

1. Students in a co-ed residence participate less in formal, one-to-one dating, and more in informal group activity.

2. They spend as much time studying as do students in single-sex residences, but study more with members of the opposite sex.

3. They participate more in cultural and community activities.

4. Manners and appearance improve; the noise level is much lower; there is less destruction in the buildings, and the level of conversation is higher.

As a final point, co-ed living may even have some effect in deterring early marriage. Students might lose old romantic expectations of marriage as a solution to their identity problems. When they do marry, it will be with more understanding and maturity.

If this revolution in progress is to exist, I am convinced it will call for mature concept of the male and female roles.

Dress code

Students are reminded that there is a dress code at the University of Tampa.

In classrooms, University offices, Plant Hall, the Student Center, and the library: Shoes or sandals will be worn at all times. All students must wear upper garments. Men's upper garments must contain sleeves. No garment designed to be an undergarment can be worn as an outer garment.

Swimming attire will be worn only at the University Swimming Pool or at specified sunbathing areas.

Women's lib stage symposium

Within the last few years, the Women's Movement has grown tremendously as more women raise serious questions about a wide variety of issues that concern them. Florida Presbyterian College Women's Liberation Group would like to offer a Symposium March 19-21, 1971, on its campus in St. Petersburg. The goals of the Symposium are many, and will be viewed differently according to the needs of each individual. The broader goals we hope to achieve are:

—to raise certain vital questions concerning the legitimacy, roles, and status of women today,

—to create an atmosphere of an open awareness and understanding through which viable solutions may be explored, —to provide a dynamic vehicle, for both men and women, for creative change in society, and —to suggest methods of survival, self-fulfillment, and alternatives to the traditional roles and status of women (and consequently men).

Workshops discussing such relevant topics as women's sex roles, women's psychological oppression, of Black women, women in politics, and professional women plus lectures featuring speakers from along the Eastern seaboard will be held.

To estimate crowds and to provide accommodations, pre-registration is required. Both male and female are encouraged to attend. For an application or more information, write Mary Lee Hall, Women's Liberation Group, Box U, Florida Presbyterian College, St. Petersburg, Florida, 33733.

Come open the lines of communication between men and women — particularly on the issue of women's liberation in the college community and in the larger society.

West Indian Encounter a summer study tour

Dr. Douglass Norvell, assistant professor of economics, has announced final plans for a five week study tour of the Caribbean during the first summer session, May 31-July 2.

The tour entitled, a "West Indian Encounter," will provide a chance for students to learn and apply the social sciences in a Spanish, French and English culture.

Before departing from Tampa, students will participate in five days of orientation lectures given by Dr. Norvell and other persons with experience in Caribbean affairs.

On June 5, the tour will depart for eight days in San Juan, Puerto Rico and the hinterland. Students will visit with representatives from the Puerto Rican Economic Development Board, a family planning operation, a marketing management group, and the University of Puerto Rico.

The second country will be the Dominican Republic. Students will spend six days visiting with representatives from the U.S. Embassy and Agency for International Development, the Dominican Office of Economic Planning, the Ministry of Agriculture, and the Universidad Pedro Enrique Hernandez. Students will be staying in Santo Domingo and will travel to the City of Santiago to study the traditional market system of that city.

The next stop will be four days in Port Au Prince, Haiti. These days will be essentially unaltered.

The last stop will be Montego Bay, Jamaica. Students will spend five days visiting the Institute of Social Science Research at the University of the West Indies, the Coronation Market place at Kingston, and the Jamaican Ministry of Tourist Development.

The group will return to Tampa on June 28th and spend five days reviewing and analyzing the tour.

The tour is open to students of all majors. Participating students will receive six hours credit in economics. These hours may be used for credit toward a major in economics or may be used as elective credit.

During the tour, conferences will be held in the mornings. The afternoons and evenings will be left free so that students may profit from experiencing the different indigenous cultures. In Tampa, lectures will be held in the evenings.

The tour will cost $685, including tuition, hotel, and airfare. Deposits of $150 may be paid in the Business Office.

The tour is limited to 15 persons. Acceptance will be on a first come basis.

Any interested students wishing further information may contact Dr. Norvell in room 3 on the circle or leave their name and box number in box 365.

Kate, Petruchio battle on stage

by PAT WILDER

Tame a Shrew? Ha! Impossible!? But V. J. Petty, Director of Drama, as Petruchio, does it quite well! As the director of the Tampa U. players, he has accomplished the difficult task of tying together the two Shakespearean scripts; "The Taming of a Shrew" and "The Taming of the Shrew," into the production of "The Taming of the/a Shrew." The play is characteristic of the Italian commedia dell'Arte, using improvisation and stock characters.

The plot unfolds, with colorful merriment, as a jest upon a drunken commoner. Traveling players, tell the tale of a shrew and her hell-fire courtship.

Experienced actress, Grace Hackney, in her guest appearance as Kate—the Shrew, seemed to lack the harshness and stubbornness required of a shrew.

Mary Quigley's performance of the same role in the matinees were superb. She captured the audience and had them straining in their seats to see more.

Doug Vance gallantly saved the show when he stepped in, on less than a day's notice, from the Os-low Theater, and played the part of Tranio. Apparently familiar with Shakespeare, his script in hand was hardly noticed.

Vincent Petti, as Petruchio, with his smooth style and striking appearance, carried the show and labeled it a success.

Yes, I guess a shrew can be tamed. It's a man's world, ladies—watch out!

Students from abroad have a club

by Barry R. Lydon

President Jose Vengoechea, of the International Club, extends an open invitation for any student, especially American, to join the International Club. The club meets every Tuesday at 9 p.m. in the International Room of the Student Union. There is a $2.00 membership fee each semester.

The goals of the club are to show students life in the foreign countries represented at the University, and to give the foreign students an insight into the life here in America.

President Vengoechea pointed out a few plans of the club which include: lectures, rap sessions, movies, dances, and a raffle for a trip to South America. One of the major goals of the club is to locate an International House to solve the rooming problem of International students.

Jose states that the club believes that through universal understanding of each other, there is the possibility of peace between all nations.

Kate gets her revenge as she lays a good bite into the leg on Petruchio during the run of "The Taming of the/a Shrew" at Falk Theatre. This production represented a fusion of two plays, "The Taming of a Shrew" and "The Taming of The Shrew" ala University of Tampa style. Pictured here are Mr. V. J. Petti, as Petruchio and Mary Quigley as Kate.

Art scholarship awarded to sophomore art major

One of the University of Tampa's top grants in aid, the Colony Shops Art Scholarship, has been awarded to Margaret A. Dihl, a sophomore, for the 1971 spring semester.

The scholarship, awarded each semester, is based on proved ability and potential merit. Selection is determined by the University's art faculty.

Although she has shown proficiency in all phases of art, her main interest lies in drawing, painting and print making.

Her art will be featured in student work to be exhibited in the spring salon.

S.G.A. Quotes and Comments

Since it has been overtly suggested that I stop "bitching" at all of you about your lack of involvement in Student Government, and instead try to enlist your support via rapturous upgrading of the S.G.A. scene; rather than sell out I offer you a few words about a committee worth enthusiasm . . . the newly formed Communications Committee.

Concerned with the development of a communications network which will serve to "develop and advance our educational institution for the benefit of all," the committee is initiating some long awaited action.

Stating that students, faculty and administration must communicate openly, the committee, is working to open channels of communication with emphasis on the exchange of ideas; not merely the dissemination of information.

A Free Speech Board is one of the approaches suggested. If erected, it is hoped that students and faculty alike, and the administration as well, would use this board to share any sort of information they feel would be of interest or pertinence to one another.

Such a board presents a way in which anyone would have the right as well as the opportunity to openly state their opinion.

But the committee's aim goes further than this. The hope is to create and encourage open dialogue between the various factions of the University.

In the words of the committee, "there must be mutual interaction of ideas and thought, with all energies collectively channeled towards common goals if this school is to fulfill its potential."

The committee is particularly concerned with gaining the interest and support of the faculty and administration. For their involvement will not only extend the learning experience beyond the classroom, but will make it a reciprocal experience.

The group has only been in existence for three and a half weeks, but the people involved are deeply committed to trying to solve the University's perennial problem of communication break downs.

So there it is, a working committee with some very definite goals. Meetings are at noon Mondays in the S.G.A. office and Thursday at 4 p.m.

If you're not afraid of work you might find it very interesting!

Miss Blanche Yurka to present her own "one-woman show"

One of the most distinguished first ladies of the theatre, Miss Blanche Yurka, will be on campus to present her highly acclaimed one-woman show in Falk Memorial Theatre Friday, March 5, at 8:30 p.m.

Aptly titled "The Arc of the Theatre," the production spans more than six decades of theatrical highlights . . . extending from the tragedies of Sophocles to the humor of Sheridan, from the wisdom of Shakespeare to the wit of Wilde.

The actress is best known for her many stage roles, ranging from Queen to John Barrymore's "Hamlet" to the starring role in a recent revival of "The Mad Woman of Chaillot."

She played with distinction in more than 20 Hollywood hits, including "The Song of Bernadette" and "The Bridge of San Luis Rey."

Few television viewers could have missed her portrayal on Madame DuFarge in "A Tale of Two Cities," since this Dickens' classic has been shown on TV more than any other single film.

In addition to her books — "Dear Audience" and "Bohemian Girl," Miss Yurka has had many of her poems published.

This will be her third personal appearance in the University's Falk Theatre. Her warm, personal friendship with Dr. Hugh Fellows, chairman of the Department of Speech and Drama, led to her first performance in 1965. For this she earned a standing ovation. She appeared again on the Falk stage in 1969.

In 1967, the University awarded to Miss Blanche Yurka the honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree for her assistance to young people and education in the drama department and above all, "because she has brought joy to so many hearts for so many years . . ."

Her generosity to the University of Tampa has left its impact. Following her first visit, she established the Blanche Yurka awards in speech and drama, donating a cash prize, a trophy and an autographed copy of one of her books to the students who present the best speech in a contest and the best performance in a dramatic production.

Her theatrical memorabilia, valued at $20,000, has been donated to the University of Tampa. And a friend of Miss Yurka has established a revolving scholarship loan fund in her name for any worthy student majoring in speech and drama.

Sponsored by UT's Department of Speech and Drama, this year's production will be open to the public without charge.

Students hear lecture by meditation expert

by Mike Tomassi

The University of Tampa was recently the host of William and Clara Berno. The Bernos presented a lecture on the rapidly growing technique of Transcendental Meditation.

Bill Berno began by explaining the technique of Transcendental Meditation, stressing the fact that the technique itself is easy and effortless with positive results. With T. M. a person becomes totally relaxed. He went on to explain that by acquiring relaxation, a person is able to transcend to absolute being thus, later adhering to creative intelligence. At this point, Berno explained a report by a Dr. Wallace of UCLA and Harvard, who studied the physiological effects of T. M. It was shown how it decreased the oxygen intake and heartbeat of a person. Overall, T. M. has been shown to be beneficial to the metabolism of the body.

Clara Berno spoke of how it is an asset to students and their studies. She explained how studying becomes easier and more enjoyable. She also spoke of examples in which grades of students greatly improved.

A question and answer period followed the lecture.

Coffee house debuts

ideas are welcomed to express them in the coffee house. All possible efforts will be made to have a variety of entertainment. However Raffaele pointed out that the Coffee House is not designed for big bands because of the acoustics.

The Coffee House serves coke, coffee, tea, and chips. At the present time a THING CONTEST and NAME CONTEST are under way with prizes for the winners. More information can be obtained from the staff.

Pinball machines and a record player provide entertainment during the week. Students are invited to bring their own albums at anytime.

At present, no major form of entertainment is planned. The Coffee House is being played by ear, that is, if the Coffee House proves successful, professional entertainment ment will be brought in.

According to members of the staff, students must show interest in the Coffee House and show their support. In the past student attendance in events has been close to nothing. Although numerous reasons have been given for past failures, the problem still remains, either students want a coffee house or they don't. All students with ideas are welcome to present them to the Coffee House committee of the Program Council.

A number of students have questioned the possibility a Ratskeller on campus. Until the Coffee House proves to be a success, the planning of a Ratskeller is completely out of the question.

John Raffaele invites all students to come down and rap, jam, grove, play pinball, or just have a cup of coffee or coke.

Theta Chi

Congratulations to new brothers Joe Waresak, John Burkhardt, Don Amato, Bob O'Shaughnessy, Larry Fatica, Joe Richardi, Cris Wright, John Magnolia and Chuck Carnevale. Carnevale and Magnolia have taken over the social chairman job and have already proved their worth with their first event being a boat party. An excellent time was enjoyed by all.

Intramural basketball is coming up and Theta Chi will be led by last year's MVP Gary Christy. Ninety percent of Theta Chi's championship wrestling team is returning to claim first place once again.

Any independent who thinks fraternities aren't hip enough to look into them, either doesn't know anyone in fraternities or is a little bitter because fraternities haven't shown an interest in him. Consequently, both fraternities and freshmen have just experienced a bad "rush."

Alpha Chi Omega

Having experienced a successful rush, we extend our congratulations to our new pledges, Nancy Boch, Brenda Bradley, Lyne Carr, Cheri Fritz, Debbie Johns, Terri Kammer, Candy Moore, Bari Seigal, and Debbie Zepht. Good luck, pledges.

Last week's shoe shine was a big success, thanks to all! Don't forget our next one on March 31. A car wash is planned for March 27, hope to see y'all!

Congratulations to the other sororities on their new pledges. They all look like a fine bunch of girls.

Miscellaneous:

1. M. C., do you always express your opinion to the wrong person?

2. M. T., spell much?

Starting this semester, there will be a reinovation of our sorority. One of the first changes will be weekly sales. Secondly, parties every month will be scheduled into the calendar. Many other changes will take place. So be on the alert, the Deepfers are on the move!!

Extra: Barb O. — "Go out and get drunk!"

Tau Epsilon Phi

The brothers of TEP wish to thank everyone who helped make their rush party a success.

They also wish to extend the welcome wagon to Whale, John, and J. P.

Vito — with Debbie here, you won't get paddled at the party.

Gene — get a date or else!

Gungus wants a pledge, too!

Will Dave ever return, no he'll never return, he's lost on TEP's new bus — sorry fellas!

Zeta Tau Alpha

We'd like to congratulate our new Baby Zetas: Janice Dargo, Rene Foster, Debby Haney, Arlene Malasko, Cindi Morgan, Kathleen Nastal, Joan Nevins, Jill Vail, and Karen Warner.

Congratulations to our girls elected in Smiley. Claudia Pontecorvo, president; Sandy Delzotti, Chairman of the Board of Standards; and Mikki Negri, Activities Chairman.

Leni's whistling, "Wave your little hand and whisper so long dearie, you ain't gonna see me no more." Also, rumor has it that Stygles is a snob, but Marty knows it isn't true; best of luck to Sandi on becoming engaged to Chuck, and to Claudia and Chris Harrison on being lavaliered to Bobby and Chris. (Better luck next time, Maud).

Pi Kappa Phi

Pi Kapp wishes to thank all the freshmen who helped us make our rush party the best this semester. We would also like to bestow the "slouch barf basket" award on all those people who were able to walk away! We plan many more such parties with future pledges and brothers. Many thanks to our fearless crew of daughters and rosebuds for their help with the rush party. We really love you!

Pi Kapp goes into the finals in volleyball, undefeated. All we can say to those teams who we beat is: A.M.F.

Quickies

To all the brothers girl friends, Angel will be selling blackmail pictures of the upcoming conclave. That is if you don't trust him!!!

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Now that all the other fraternities have had their say, the Sig Eps are back! For those of you who missed our "Gasparilla Day Mudbowl," it was the Sig Eps 2, the University of Tampa Spartans 2.

Our intramurals are a bit slow starting due to our brothers heavy attendance at the Spa.

I find it unnecessary to say how great our Fondue Party was because I'm sure the word has gotten around through Howell and Smiley. The cheese and beef was delicious.

The Theta Chi request to have a party with us is still under consideration.

In the latest national fraternity poll, our brothers were recognized as being very warm, affectionate and heavily cherishing number one.

Apathy and USF defeat Spartans

Recently the Spartans met USF in basketball at Curtis Hixon Convention Center. These teams had never clashed until this year, and the game should have been the highlight of the UT basketball season.

Instead, it was the highlight of the season for the Brahmins, since scarcely more than 100-150 Spartan supporters showed.

Curtis Hixon is not exactly far from our campus, and yet not only did the students not appear, but the cheerleaders had better things to do also.

USF not only dominated the boards, but wiped UT off the map with their boisterous support of their team and their school.

Spartan supporters present saw their school go down to defeat, both on the floor and in the stands.

Apathy has been allowed to run rampant throughout the basketball season, but the USF game was a disgrace to the school.

When the cheerleaders fail to show up for the first UT and USF game, it has to be the ultimate in apathy.

It will be a long while before USF will allow us to forget the thrashing they dealt the Spartans. It will be much longer before the City of Tampa and the USF student body forget the apathy and indifference displayed by the University of Tampa.

Ft. Lauderdale sets vacation regulations

TO: All students planning to visit Fort Lauderdale, Fla. during the Spring holidays, 1971.

FROM: R. H. Bubier, City Manager, City of Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome you to our City and sincerely hope that your stay will be a pleasant and memorable experience.

In order that neither you, nor the City, incur any unpleasantness the following suggestions and policies have been instituted and will be adhered to unequivocally.

1. Do not come to Fort Lauderdale unless you definitely have a confirmed housing reservation. Our policies and ordinances prohibit sleeping in cars and/or sleeping in the open. Campers or trailers are not permitted to park on the beach. If this type vehicle is to be used as living quarters it must be parked in a trailer park specifically licensed for this purpose.

2. All the laws that govern the conduct of the individual will be enforced. A person must be 21 years of age in order to purchase or consume alcohol. Persons guilty of intoxication (it should be noted that drinking in the open is not permitted), narcotics, use of false identification, creating unnecessary noise, or any other form of disorderly conduct and any other unlawful act, will be arrested and prosecuted. Violations of the traffic code will result in apprehension and prosecution of the offender.

3. Parents and school officials of any and all students arrested during this period will be officially notified.

Students should be aware of the fact that persons who are arrested and convicted on any charge will have established a permanent and sometimes criminal record against themselves which could have a detrimental influence later in life.

It is the feeling of the City Commission, this office and all of the City departments involved that if your conduct while in Fort Lauderdale is governed by the aforementioned guidelines, then your vacation will be indeed a pleasant one.

Cordially,
R. H. Bubier,
City Manager

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"I'VE DELIBERATED ALL DAY AND MOST OF THE NIGHT ABOUT YOUR FINAL GRADE AND I REALIZE AN 'F' ON YOUR TRANSCRIPT MAY FOUL YOUR TRANSFER. DELAY YOUR EDUCATION. HAVE TH' DRAFT BOARD ON YOUR NECK. IMBITTER YOU AGAINST ME AND OTHER FACULTY. FURTHER WIDEN THE GENERATION GAP. TURN YOU AGAINST THE ESTABLISHMENT, GOD, COUNTRY AND SOCIETY — BUT, I'VE DECIDED TO RISK IT."

Are fraternities dying away on this campus?

Are the fraternities dying out on this campus? I think not. The fraternal system is still maintaining a high point of social activity on this campus.

I must admit today's world is demanding individualism, so why join a fraternity, especially on a small campus?

I'll tell you why. The function of a good fraternity is to develop the individual's talents, to stress his capabilities in participating in athletics, social activities, leadership and individualism.

The University of Tampa has an adequate number of fraternities chartered on this campus, each appealing to the individual. There is a place for the individual to perform to the utmost of his capabilities. Furthermore, as long as there is a stress for excellence at the college level—either from a group or an individual—the fraternity system will not perish in the dust of change!

Who is really ailing: patient or infirmary

Dear Editor,

I am writing in reference to the "so called" services the infirmary provides.

Recently a friend of mine became ill and was admitted to the infirmary at 8 o'clock in the morning. The nurse told her that she wanted to keep an eye on her, make sure she received the correct medication, and informed her that the doctor could see her that day.

After sleeping soundly until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, my friend called for the nurse. The nurse entered and said, "Oh, what a shame, you just missed the doctor." At that point my friend got dressed and left in quite a huff. She visited her own doctor later that day and was informed that she had a high white blood count, typical of diseases such as mononucleosis and pneumonia.

Another friend of mine made four trips to the infirmary in one week for a serious cold. Never once was her temperature taken. When she asked for an antibiotic, she was given a cold capsule.

For the amount of money the students of the University are paying, they are certainly entitled to more adequate personnel. It seems to me that the student's health and welfare is being endangered.

Civil Defense alert is double blunder

by Dean Rowland

Saturday, February 20, proved to be a competency test for our nation's defense system. The result was a "disaster" and some unbelievable repercussions assisted in magnifying the blunder.

Radio and television stations from coast to coast received the Civil Defense "alert" signal at 9:33 a.m. The immediate response in such a situation calls, not for questioning of its validity, but proper following of instructions.

Diversity from the normal procedures occurred instead. Some stations acted accordingly, others doubted the authenticity of the message and called authorities for verification, while others totally ignored the "alert" and continued regular broadcasting.

It seems that in this day and age of atomic warfare, a signal of national emergency should not be disrupted. The media assumes responsibility for advising the public when such a crisis takes place. If personal evaluation overrules an official warning, then there exists no form of national security whatever.

Apathy invades parking

by SUE SCOLNICK

Monday, Feb. 22, the Executive Council of SGA held a meeting with the administration. The problems of on campus parking during the Florida State Fair were discussed.

SGA was trying to give all students an opportunity to air their complaints which the administration wanted to hear.

During the ten days of the fair, students readily expounded upon the parking problems which they had encountered, but when the time came to state the specifics, only a handful of students were seen.

The administration was represented by Mr. Sliz, Mr. Taffey, head of security, and two security officers. They explained the parking rules that were in effect during the fair and answered all questions asked by the Executive Council and the floor.

Suggestions for improvement of student parking were made. They included: a written list of rules concerning parking during the fair be sent to the student body and be in the possession of all parking attendants; a list of parking prices be posted; employees be identified; and attendants be required to receipt all money they handle.

The Executive Council is looking into ways to make the parking discomfort slighter during the fair.

Any student who is interested enough to help, Executive Council meetings are on Monday nights at 9 p.m.

a citizen or resident of the United States must file a return for 1970 if his gross income during the tax year was $1700 or more. A married student must file a return if his income combined with that of his spouse was $2300 or more, unless he files a separate return, unless he does not live with his spouse, or unless he or his spouse is a dependent of another. In these cases he must file if he had an income of $600 or more.

Q) Is it true college students aren't subject to income tax withholding anymore?

A) The 1969 tax reform law made it possible for some students to avoid having income taxes withheld on part-time or summer jobs under certain conditions. To qualify, the student must have had no Federal income tax liability in the previous year and anticipate none this year. If that is the case, the student should complete Form W-4E and give it to his employer. This covers only Federal income tax withholding. Social Security taxes will continue to be withheld.

Q) I worked last summer to earn money for college but made less than $1700. How can I get back what was withheld from my pay for income tax?

A) File an income tax return to obtain a refund of any income tax which was withheld from your wages.

Q) As a student who is a candidate for a degree, must I report as income amounts received under a scholarship or fellowship grant?

A) No, such amounts are generally excludible from income. However, amounts received for part-time employment, such as for teaching and research, are included in income even though these services are required as a condition to your receiving the scholarship or fellowship grant. However, if such services are required for all candidates for a particular degree, the amounts received therefrom are excluded from income.

Q) As a student who is not a candidate for a degree, must I report as income amounts received under a scholarship or fellowship grant?

A) If you are not a candidate for a degree, the amounts received under a scholarship or fellowship grant may be excluded from income up to $300 times the number of months for which you receive amounts under the grant during the tax year. The exclusion is limited to a maximum of 36 months, which may or may not be consecutive.

Q) Do I have to pay Social Security tax on tips earned as a waitress?

A) Tips have always been taxable income, but until 1966 they were not subject to Social Security taxes. Since then, tips amounting to $20 or more in a month while working for one employer have had to be reported to the employer for withholding purposes.

Scuba diving course offered

by Barry R. Lydon

For the first time the University will offer a non-credit scuba diving course under the direction of Ed Uditis, licensed diver and member of the National Association of Underwater Instructors.

The course will start the second week in March and run approximately eight weeks. The cost is $50 and the course is open to all students. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Inez B. Eicholz in room 130 or at Ext. 223.

The course will be limited to 10 students and the class will meet twice a week for two hours. Class time will be divided between lecture and actual practice at the University pool. All equipment is provided except fins, mask, and snorkel which can be purchased from the instructor at a discount.

Students will be instructed in diving procedures, underwater techniques, safe water practices, diving physics, diving physiology and medicine. To qualify for diver certification, all trainees must satisfactorily complete each phase of underwater instruction, have a satisfactory attendance record, score 75% or better on all tests, and complete an open water qualification dive.

Upon satisfactory completion of course, students will receive a certificate from the National Association of Underwater Instructors which is recognized throughout the world.

After the course is completed, if there is enough interest, a field trip to the Florida Keys will be planned.

Scottsboro case is studied in new book

The following startling headlines appeared in newspapers across the country in 1931; the year of the Scottsboro case - in which eight black youths were falsely accused of the gang rape of two white Southern prostitutes:

"Deny Negroes Trial Is Legal Lynching"

"Condemned Negroes Riot In Alabama Jail"

Hear That Train Blow by Kelly Coyin, published by Delacorte Press, is a powerful legal documentary novel about the Scottsboro case — the 1931 Alabama case that was a milestone in legal history and an example of "white justice" at its most flagrant. In this stirring novel the author has drawn a vivid picture of the time — The Depression era; the place—a small Southern town; and the people — arrantly prejudiced Southerners, poor white trash, self-seeking "liberals," and finally the victimized boys.

The teenagers were convicted and sentenced to death, but they appealed repeatedly. As time went on, liberal sentiment throughout the world mounted in sympathy for the Scottsboro boys. The case was finally resolved and in 1950 the last of the boys was released from jail — no longer young.

Hear That Train Blow will soon be made into a motion picture to be produced by David Dortort.

staff apology

The Minaret Staff regrets a printing error made in the last issue of the Minaret, which caused embarrassment to the Security Office.

The article read: "A campus security guard came by and gave me a $10 ticket." It should have read: "I hastily stuck it back on before a campus security guard came by and gave me a $10 ticket."

USF nips Spartans

by Larry Levine

Tampa opened its baseball season on a sour note by dropping a 4-2 decision to the University of South Florida on February 27, 1971.

The Spartans out-hit their crosstown rivals 9-6, but failed to take advantage of numerous scoring opportunities. Tampa could not get the clutch hit when needed and stranded over 15 men on base.

Chuck Nunez started on the mound for Tampa, but gave way to Cecil Kent in the fifth, who finished the game.

Tampa scored first when Nunez and Dennis Dawes singled. After Bill Atkins was awarded first base on catcher's interference, Bill Teuffel hit a long sacrifice fly to center.

USF then came back to tie the score and went ahead with two runs in the fifth and one in the sixth.

A last ditch Tampa rally fell short in the top of the ninth. Dawes banged his second hit of the game, but was forced at second. Jim Rowland knocked in one run with a triple to deep right center.

Teuffel kept the rally alive with a walk, but Rudy

Toth's drive was hauled down by a fine catch by USF's left fielder to end the game.

Rowland and Dawes had two hits, while Atkins, Nunez, Toth, Sonny Hester and Ron Valley had one each.

One of the few things that I haven't understood at TU is the lack of support for baseball. Why, I don't know. The baseball players aren't even on scholarship. Only two players are on a partial scholarship.

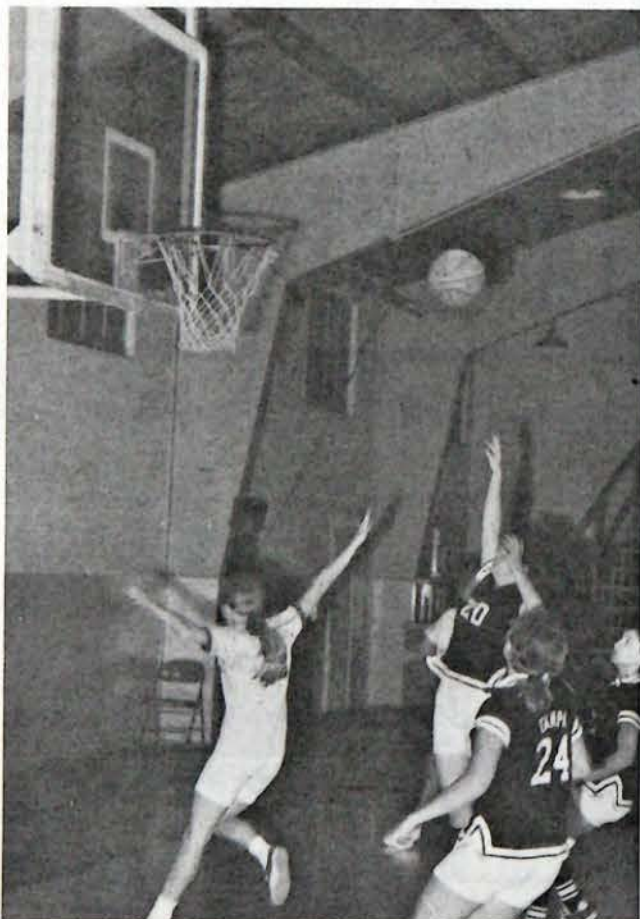

With the baseball talent in this area, Tampa should compete with F.S.U. The Tampa Bay area is the best place in Florida for baseball. The talent around here could possibly be the best in the world. This was demonstrated by our local West Tampa Senior League when it won the World Championship last year.

From what I hear the alumni claims that there is no support for baseball. I think that if we went big time, students and area fans would support baseball. Many fans within three miles of TU, live, eat and sleep baseball. Believe me, I've lived here for 20 years and all I've ever seen since I've been able to walk was a baseball and bat.

Coach Sikes is just doing a super job of recruiting boys even though he does not have much to offer, except his great knowledge of the game. If we, the students, backed our baseball team, maybe the alumni would back it too. In a year or so, Tampa could be NCAA.

It would be great to have a team in the NCAA College World Series the first year we entered. It could be accomplished if the alumni and students would back their team.

The field is looking good - so is the team.
Support the baseball Spartans!

Spartanettes remain undefeated for season

With two games remaining in their schedule, the girls' intercollegiate basketball team now boasts a 4-0 record. The varsity girls, playing on a home and away basis, have chalked up wins over Florida Presbyterian College (32-16), St. Petersburg Junior College (39-31), and Manatee Junior College (32-16 and 50-12) in the Suncoast Women's Intercollegiate League competition.

The team, sporting new navy blue and white uniforms, is playing experimental five-player rules for women this year for the first time and is scheduled to complete its season this week with games against St. Petersburg JC and Florida Presbyterian College.

Members of the varsity team, which has livened Howell Gym with its practices in the last two months, are: Kathy Masolino, Betty Lambert, Linda Nagle, Nancy Kalafus, Elaine Honig, Lois Hamann, Marsha Geise, Judy Engleman and Michele Gordon. The team is coached by Miss Bragg in the Physical Education Department.

Musical bowlers debut

by Steve Erenrich

Last September five students from the University's Music Department formed a bowling team and entered a league at Dale Mabry Lanes. The team consisted of Cliff Antion, Julius Nagy, Richard Kehrer, Steve Erenrich and J. P. Wilson.

For several months, the team consisted of five bowlers searching for a sponsor. All five bowlers went with the T.U. Band to Miami last October to the Tampa-Miami football game along with a well-known photographer from this area, Al Paul, who consequently became their sponsor.

The UT team has gained the reputation of being the comedians of Dale Mabry Lanes. The team has caused other teams to think that every Tuesday night is Laugh-In. With all the bizarre behavior, the team has unquestionably arrived at one of the most unrespectable averages in the league, and no whas a firm grip on next-to-last place!

Season is complete for Spartan cagers

by K. R. Lombardia

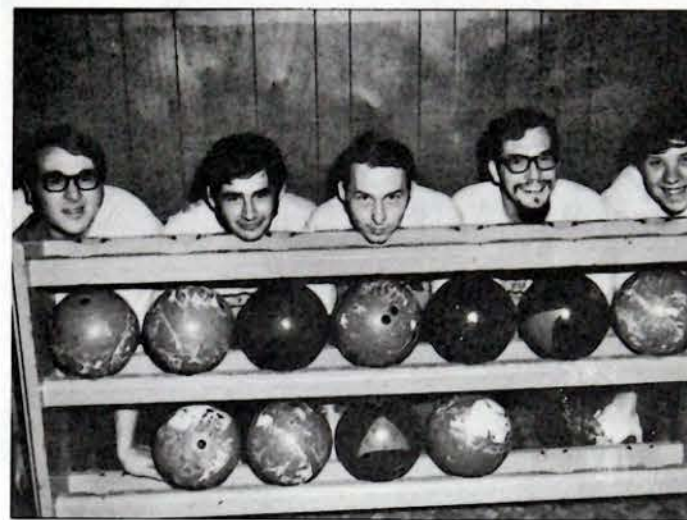

The Spartans won their first game on the road on Feb. 13 in St. Pete against Florida Presbyterian, 105-87. Led by Pat Biber's 30 points, the Spartans were never headed in the contest. The closest Presbyterian came was 79-78, but Tampa really poured it on.

Chip Nelson tossed in 22 points, Frank Robinson, 17 and Tom McKeon, 11.

On Feb. 20, South Alabama found Spartan Larry Berrien too much to handle as the 5-11 junior guard pumped in 22 points. Frank Robinson added 21 to aid in the scoring. The final score was 80-72 and the game was close all the way.

Tulane U. rolled into Tampa and rolled out with a 93-82 win. Tampa just couldn't hit from the outside. The Spartans made only 40 percent of their shots from the floor. Tampa had 23 turnovers and the Greenies 26. Pat Biber dropped in 26 and Chip Nelson 24 in the losing battle.

On Feb. 24, Tampa traveled to Dayton, Ohio to meet

All varieties of persons are attracted to bowling, but the University of Tampa must be one of the few places where there is a musical bowling team. The Music Department has gathered together these fine young men and attempted to turn the musicians into bowlers. The success of this transformation is yet to be determined.

Last Saturday night the team was entered in the Tampa City Bowling Tournament. This was humorous to the other teams in the league, but when Big Al's team walked on to the lanes they decided to bowl seriously for the first time. To the surprise of everyone there, the comedians of the Tampa Bowling Association grabbed second place in the City Tournament and has a good chance of taking home a few hundred dollars.

Sports are changing in spring

by K. R. Lombardia

Baseball, crew, tennis and golf make the scene very soon for the Spartans.

In baseball, the diamond-men face such foes as South Florida, Rollins, Georgia, Buffalo, Harvard, Florida Southern, Maine and St. Leo's, just to name a few. Coach an Sikes has prepared his Spartans for another grueling season.

The crew team, who last year, were all freshmen, return in hopes of bettering their previous year's record. The season will be topped off with the Southern Tournament in Savannah, Georgia.

Tennis has already started with the Spartans dropping a 6-0 decision to the number two team in the state, the Rollins Tars. Florida Presbyterian is Tampa's next foe on March 5 in St. Pete.

The golfers have already started by playing Rollins and South Florida, and by participating in the Florida Collegiate Tourney in Winter Haven. Their next match is against St. Leo on March 5 at Rocky Point.

Gridders are back on field

by K. R. Lombardia

Believe it or not, football is in the air again! Yes, the No. 1 Spartans put on the pads and started practice Monday, March 1 at 3:30 p.m.

Practice is held four days a week, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday at 3:30 p.m.

Head Coach Bill Fulcher said, "I couldn't wait to start. It's just a thrill to be here."

The twenty day practice will end with the big spring game to be played in Tampa Stadium in April.

This is the beginning of another great season for the Spartans.
