"I registered for nine hours, and could not register for more. I want to take six more hours. They could organize the adding and dropping procedure better. I have been in line for 14 hours."

Jim Clausen — Senior

"Last semester I turned in my senior guidance form. I just received it back yesterday, three months too late. Now I have to add and drop six hours because of the delay. I am a graduating senior in January and need these courses. I have been in line 10 hours and missed six hours of work. Seniors should have all priority during final semester."

Carol Spooner

Ted Tharney — Senior

"Registration went well. New system is running well. Concern is drop and add. The number of people doing work is not large enough to handle a great number of students, that normally function in any institution. The way it is handled here is less than desirable, in fact it is ridiculous!"

This seems to have the connotation that this method of drop and add is a punitive measure against students who can't get into classes necessary at registration. I have been in line since ten o'clock yesterday morning."

S.G.A. Vows Support For Greek Organizations

by Wallace Brown

Representatives of Student Congress and of Greek organizations on campus met recently to discuss a wide range of Greek affairs.

Student Congress President John Hines sounded the note of the meeting by stating that, "It is time that we do something about the low condition of the Greek organizations on campus. We have reached a new low in relations with the Administration and with the community of Tampa. The Greek organizations are lagging far behind, when compared to improvements in the academic atmosphere at the U. of Tampa." Hines then offered the full cooperation of the Student Congress in aiding the Greek community to reach a spirit of understanding and to develop an improved public image. As a first step, he announced the appointment of a Secretary of Greek Affairs, Paul Kelly, to act in liaison between Student Congress and the Greek societies.

A unanimous recommendation by Student Congress, that all Greek organizations hold their weekly meetings on the same night, was taken under consideration at the meeting. A tentative agreement was reached nominating Tuesday; but a definite agreement awaits ratification by the individual groups.

The remaining points of friction were underscored in a five-point proposal outlined by Hines:

1. A projected weekend retreat for officers of fraternities and sororities to discuss mutual problems.
2. The institution of a program calling for the combined efforts of all Greeks to aid the University and to provide assistance to various charitable organizations in the Tampa area.
3. The tightening of control, by the organizations, over the conduct of their members.
4. Accent will be placed on improving relations on campus, in order to project the image of a uni-Greek community.
5. The implementation of a program to encourage a larger and more congenial Rush.

Hines concluded the meeting by praising the spirit shown by the Student Body at the Tampa vs. VPI football game. He particularly cited the standing ovation given our fine Spartans as they left the field, victorious in all but the record book. On the heels of this fine show of spirit, it was announced that Spirit Week will precede the Memphis State game, this year.

Student Center Plans Activities

Coach Lovely has planned many activities which are interesting and beneficial at the Student Union this semester.

On Tuesdays, Mr. Lloyd Madegan of the Tampa Recreation Department will give ballroom dancing instructions from 3:30 to 4:30. On Wednesdays, Dan Espinosa will give chess lessons from 2:00 to 4:00. Also on Wednesdays, there will be a film series on Sports at 1:00. The film will include topics such as Batting by Ted Williams and the American Cup Race 1962.

Dr. Delo To Attend A. C. E. Meeting

Dr. David M. Delo, president of the University of Tampa, will leave Tuesday (Sept. 29) for San Francisco, where he will attend the annual meeting of the American Council on Education at the Sheraton Palace Hotel September 30-October 2.

Tampa U. Dance Band To Be Formed Under Dr. Stevens

The University of Tampa music department, under the chairmanship of Dr. Noel Stevens has a very busy and enlightening year in store for the students.

Dr. Stevens is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music where he played clarinet for five years in the Rochester Philharmonic under Erik Lernsdorf's direction.

This year the department is organizing a dance band which will be called the Spartans. The first appearance of this band will take place in the Student Center, on an announced date. Also in prospect for this year, are plans for outdoor dances to be held on the banks of the Hillsborough.

The following events are scheduled for the 64-65 semesters:
November 19 — Chamber music concert, including the University Singers, performing a group of Madrigals and Baroque musical pieces. a duet from a major opera and Dr. Stevens playing a saxophone concerto and clarinet selection.

December 10 — Student convocation in which the chorus will sing traditional Christmas music followed by a round of carols sung by the student body.

It is the hope of Dr. Stevens and the rest of the music department to add as much as they can to the excitement and spectacle that our football team will provide for us.

Newly Renovated Dome Presented To University

Parents of students are especially invited to attend the special showing of the newly-created gift rooms at the University Sunday afternoon, Oct. 4, from 4 until 5:30 p.m.

The highlight of the event will be the presentation of the newlyredecorated Dome Room, formerly known to students as the Dome Theater. The beautification of the room was a project of the Chiselers, a group of community women interested in the University, and it is the latest in a series of worthwhile projects done by this fine group for the University. Refreshments will be served in the Dome.

Other rooms which will be open for viewing are the new board of trustees room (Room 210); the 1812 Room (Room 201) and the Room of the Confederacy (Room 224); both of which are now under construction, and the Room of the Republics (Room 234), which was a gift of the Senior Class of 1963.

The Dome Room features vinyl wallpaper in a gold brocade design, below which is a dado of textured gold vinyl.

Fairgrounds Parking Rules

1. A University parking attendant will be on duty at the Fairgrounds 1:00-5:45 p.m. Monday through Friday. Tickets will be issued for parking violations. The Fairgrounds will be open at 7:00 a.m.
2. Students who fail to remove their vehicles by closing time will be ticketed and fined regardless of the reason. They are not permitted to contact University or Fairground authorities in order to have vehicles released until the following morning. Parking is not allowed on Saturday mornings until 11:30 a.m. Cars that are not removed on time may not be reclaimed until Monday.
3. Students found in the Fairgrounds at unauthorized times will be subject to a $10 fine per person and other disciplinary action will be considered. Fairgrounds authorities will summon police when students fail to comply with requests to vacate during unauthorized times.

Drop and Add Line Can Be Helped

by Dave Scott

What was the reason behind 25% of the Student Body having to go through the Add and Drop line? Why are 25 full time employees having to spend the first week of classes accommodating class changing students?

The answer is not a pleasant one because for the most part the students themselves were to blame. The transaction in the business department resulted in only a small number of conflicts. The main cause of the confusion was the Pre-registration forms. The student body was given instruction to be very careful in making out their schedule, which apparently they were not.

The New Registration process has cut down on Registration time from seven to ten days so that two thousand students were registered in two days. "Everything is being done to hurry the process along. A few years ago it took all day for students to register while this year some students went through the line in five minutes," stated Robert Fernandez.

Six departments at the school are having to drop all work this week and concentrate on helping students change course. Departments ranging from the Dean of Men's to Director of Admissions were brought in to help Data Processing out. Seniors in need of courses to graduate were having to change courses in order to graduate. But the most trouble came from freshmen who were dropping courses because of advice from sophomores, about getting into an easy course. These block schedules were compiled for the freshmen's benefit and should not have been changed.

Some of the students in line were quoted as stating: Bob Terri: "Basically, the new registration system worked well but the drop and add proceedings were very poorly run. The order in preference of classes should be senior, junior, sophomore, and finally freshmen. I don't feel freshmen should interfere with their schedule." "Seniors should have first choice. Freshmen should not be able to change courses. Registration, on the whole, ran very well. Advisers did not cooperate enough with the students because of lack of interest. An advisory board should be set up to handle any scheduling problem." — said Allan Kalsmith.

"There should be a simpler faster way to add and drop courses. Seniors should be given preference according to total hours." — Joseph Mucklevicz.

Mr. Fernandez in looking forward to next semester states: "Students should be interested enough in their goals to program their four year choice of study."

The solution will have to be two fold: The advisers will have to take a closer interest in the students under them. They will have to check the courses needed and most important make sure they have the prerequisites for the courses. The students will have to be careful in making out their program. They will have to go and see their adviser a few weeks before pre-registration and make sure that they need the courses they want to take. With these two things in mind I hope the Drop and Add lines will be just a bad memory.

Tired of standing in line some simply sat and waited.

Organization News

T. K. E.

After our first meeting Monday night, Sept. 21, Tekes expect to have another successful year.

Congratulations are in order for Carl Alonso, our new president and Bob Cheret, our new vice president. Bill Peters, our past president, who has decided to fill out his military obligations will not be with us this year. His dedication and work to Epsilon Beta will be warmly remembered by all the brothers.

Our social committee already has begun to plan parties and other activities slated for the new season. Larry Unger, head of the social committee, has announced plans are well on the way for establishing a first place lawn display this year.

Delta

The members of Delta Zeta Sorority would like to welcome the Freshmen, as well as the returning upper classmen, to our campus. We wish to take this opportunity to announce that Delta Zeta National Sorority no longer has a chapter on our campus. This took place as of last June. The girls of this sorority have formed a local group called Delta Sorority.

The Delta Sorority and the Student Union are sponsoring a dance at the Student Center following the game with Memphis State on October 3. We cordially invite all to attend.

T. E. P.

The brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi Fraternity extend a hearty welcome to one of the largest Freshman classes in the history of the University of Tampa. We also remind and warn the new class to never forget what they are in school for. Too many students have thrown their careers down the drain because of the many advantages a sub-tropical environment offers.

At 208 Verne Street, the brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi are very active. In our newly acquired house, we have installed air-conditioning, renovated the rooms and gave the house that fine touch for the new semester. New furniture and tiled floors will be installed next week when the brothers plan to invite their neighbors to get acquainted.

The new officers of the fraternity are as follows: Chancellor, Kenneth Hartman; Vice Chancellor, Lee Formato; Scribe, Richard Riesenbergs; Bursar, Joe Schwartz; Warden, Alan "Chico" Epstein; and Historian, Bob Padernacht and Alan Weidberg.

It's Your Freedom

by Karlin Maria Klingler, Feature Editor

Starting a college year is a very important time in the life of the student, in particular the Freshmen. Some will approach it with the silent confidence of excellent preparation in high schools; others are a bit apprehensive realizing that with a little effort they could have done better during their secondary school careers, and a minority have no real substantial thoughts on the subject.

One way to put it is to say that the freedom road lies wide open ahead.

But what is freedom?

The word should have a very special meaning to the college student of 1964. Freedom is everywhere until you reach the borders of certain countries and certain minds. Attempt to penetrate that type of a mind or cross over the border, and freedom is reduced to a mere word. It is a word that is not fully understood — a word considered worthless.

Freedom is in truth a word that stands for challenge to the college student.

It has no price tag. The freedom of one Man was sold for 30 pieces of silver and later redeemed by a human life. It has been purchased by millions of lives but the price has never — and can never — be stabilized on the market place.

Freedom at the University of Tampa means you have the right and the privilege to think freely within the fair and honest restrictions you will find at this and any institution of higher education.

It does not mean that you will always think right but it also means you will have the opportunity to learn how to think to reach a logical and intelligent conclusion.

This University was established 31 years ago for a particular kind of freedom known as education.

Your presence on this campus today is proof of a determination to turn bricks and mortar into brain power.

You have the freedom to determine on this very day what you are going to get out of the next four years at the University of Tampa.

You have the freedom to determine how long you will remain on campus.

Freedom is always hard to come by so grab it!

University Players Present "Reynard the Fox" Saturday

The University Players under the direction of Mrs. Marcelle Alexander, Admin. Asst., and Director for the Drama Department, will present the Prologue from the children's classic "Reynard, The Fox," Saturday night in the Overture II to be held at McKay Auditorium.

The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. and the show features a scene, introduction, or dance selection from almost every cultural activity planned for the stage in Tampa this fall. Also represented will be the Tampa Community Theatre, Tampa Lyric Theatre, The U.S.F. Theatre, The Tampa Philharmonic, The Civic Ballet Co., The University Players, and many other cultural organizations.

"Reynard, the Fox" will be presented in its entirety later this year as a part of the "Theatre For Young People" program. Prof. Marvin J. Philips, the new drama instructor and director of Falk, designed the sets for "Reynard."

The cast includes: Tietelin, the Crow, Bob Harris; Reverend Epinard, the Hedgehog, Jeff Mergardt; Bruin, the Bear, Jim Abruzzino; Ysengrin, the Wolf, Bob Corey; Noble, the Lion, Odis Richardson; Reynard, the Fox, Bob Levy; Lendore, the Marmot, Elizabeth Frank. Holding the book is Janice Fried. Sound by Richard Reith.

S.G.A. Plans Spirit Week

Nosti To Exhibit Mosaic Art At The University's LaMonte Gallery

A specialized technique in the field of mosaic art will be explored in a three-week exhibit of the works of Harold Nosti at the University of Tampa's LaMonte Gallery, which opened with a public reception from 8 to 10 p.m. Friday, Sept. 25, at the gallery.

Nosti, an art instructor at the University, will exhibit 20 pieces done in glazed ceramic relief, a process which uses common earthenware clay as its basic material. Working from the raw clay, the artist flattens his material over the surface to be covered, carves and incises it, then cuts it into sections for bisque-firing in the kiln. Glazes are added subsequently.

Free to the public, the Nosti exhibit will be open daily from 2 to 5 p.m. until Oct. 16, and special evening hours will be arranged when activities are scheduled in the University's Falk Memorial Theater adjoining the gallery.

Currently in his third year as an art instructor at the University of Tampa, Nosti is a graduate of the University of Washington. He also attended the University of Alabama and studied at the Ringling School of Art, Sarasota. He resides at 5217 Eighth Ave., S., St. Petersburg.

'64-'65 Film Classics League Starts Season with First Showing, Oct. 14

All films will be shown on Wednesday nights, and, says League president Dr. Besse, special group rates are available. The complete schedule following the opening "Seven Deadly Sins" on October 14, is:

Setting the pace for the 11 films to follow, the October 14 opener takes up each of the seven deadly sins, segmenting the overall, and adding an ironic epilogue which does more than any other element to create a comprehensive entity.

An non-profit organization, the Film Classics League is selling memberships to adults for $5 and to students of any age for $2. Memberships will remain on sale as long as there is a demand for them.

League officers are president, Dr. Bryon Besse; vice president, Dr. Stephen L. Speronis; vice president for development for the University of Tampa, and Mrs. Tina Moore and Miss Vanda Nelson, of the University staff, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Free coffee will be served at 8:00 p.m. preceding each performance in the University's LaMonte Gallery, adjacent to the theater.

Oct. 28, "Two-Way Stretch," a 1961 British satire; Nov. 4, "Ugats," a 1954 production set in 16th century Japan; Nov. 12, "Wild Strawberries," a 1958 film by Swedish writer-director Ingmar Bergman; Dec. 9, "League of Gentlemen," British vintage 1961.

Jan. 6, "Last Year at Marienbad," a 1961 French film; Jan. 20, "Rififi," a 1956 French film which at one point carries the action a full 35 minutes without dialogue; Feb. 17, "Viridiana," a 1961 epic of Spanish cynicism; March 3, "The Mouse That Roared," the Peter Sellers classical British political burlesque dating from 1959; March 17, "The Ugly American," based on the best-selling novel which spotlighted American foreign policy in Asia at the outset of this decade.

March 31, "My Name is Ivan," a poetic glimpse of a war-torn Russian youth, produced in 1963.

Standing Ovation Given Tampa In Loss To V. P. I.

After dropping a close game to Jacksonville State in their opener, the SPARTANS were again on the short end of a close contest in the home opener with VPI. The Gobblers came to Tampa with a great team that had won the Southern Conference championship last year, and it was led by All-American Quarterback Bob Schweickert. All last year, he was the entire offense for VPI and the Spartans had keyed their defense to control him. The Spartan defense did such a fine job that the Gobblers had to turn to their fine fullback, Sonny Utz to keep the Spartans from pulling off a great upset. In the final two minutes of the game, Utz scored his second touchdown of the night to give the Gobblers an 18-14 win. Moments before, quarterback Val Johnson had thrown his second touchdown pass of the night to John Perry and the 7,500 fans at Phillips Field had started to smell a Spartan victory. Besides the running of Perry, Larry Maier and the passing of Johnson, some of the other bright spots for the Spartans were: the great punting of Kevin Hurt who averaged 48.1 yards per kick; the outstanding defensive play of Tom "Midget" Doan; the blocking of Jim Galmin, the aggressiveness of guard Ed Owen; and the overall desire and determination of the entire team to beat the Gobblers who were a 30 point favorite.

The crowd showed they felt the Spartans were off to a great start with their "up-graded" brand of football. This Saturday they will face yet a stiffer test when they face Memphis State in the second home game of the season. The Tigers were rated the number 10 team in the nation last season and will be tough again this year. They will bring with them one of the best tackles in the country in Harry Schu. At 6-5 and 265, he will be a tough man for the Spartan line to stop. End Chuck Brooks is also an outstanding player and is sure to be a favorite target for the Tigers quarterbacks Saturday night. With a weekend off, the Spartans have had two weeks to correct their mistakes and for anyone that doubts they can take the Tigers Saturday, just ask any member of the team. All of these boys have a great pride in the team as a whole and a great desire to win. This squad might not look too hot in the won and lost column, but everyone who has seen them play must admit there probably isn't a harder working and more under-rated team our size in the country. A standing ovation for a losing game against VPI was proof that the people of Tampa were pleased with the team's effort. Perhaps the only people in the stadium who were not pleased were the players and the coaching staff. After losing two games that they feel they should have won, the Spartans are hungry for a win and the Memphis State Tigers may have to put their tail between their legs and run for cover before the final buzzer sounds Saturday.

GO GET 'EM SPARTANS!

against V.P.I. The game was one of the finest this university has seen. The student body is also to be praised for the great school spirit displayed.

September 28 through October 3 has been designated SPIRIT WEEK. Signs will be placed in front of dorms and fraternity houses. There will be a Pep Rally Friday night before the Memphis State game. All campus organizations are asked to get out and back our team.

Tampa will host the S.U.G.A. State Convention October 2 and 3.

THE National Security Agency is a totally unique organization

... and offers creative research opportunities in the art and science of sophisticated communications

There is absolutely no other organization like it . . . no other organization doing the same important work, or offering the same wealth of opportunity for imaginative thinkers in the Liberal Arts, as well as the Physical and Engineering Sciences.

The National Security Agency is a major research arm of the Department of Defense, but its influence and responsibilities are far broader. It works closely with many industrial and research institutions; it has special access to scientific information at universities and other Government laboratories; and it enjoys close consulting arrangements with scientists of commanding stature. NSA staff members enjoy all the benefits of Federal employment without the requirements imposed by the Civil Service system.

What does NSA do that warrants this unique stature?

NSA approaches the subject of sophisticated communications from these original standpoints:

1. Creating secure communications systems and equipments unknown anywhere else, and devising special refinements for computers & edp systems that will increase our handling capabilities. This means that Communications Engineers, Computer Design Specialists, Mathematicians, Programmers, and Systems Analysts, all contribute to the design of antennas, transmitters, receivers, and terminal equipment . . . to experiments using new semiconductors, magnetic film, superconductive devices, etc., resulting in new logic circuits and memory units, better high-gain arrays for UHF radio systems, higher-capacity data handling terminal equipment, more effective speech band-width compression . . . and scores of similar advances.

2. By the very nature of "secure" communications, assuring the continuing invulnerability of U.S. communications through cryptologic procedures and techniques. Because cryptology and its cryptographic counterpart are not taught elsewhere, mathematicians, scientists—and all others with appropriate intellectual curiosity—will be taught this challenging new discipline right at NSA. Work in this field may involve specially-designed computers, television, computer-to-computer data links, and edp programming. (Even music, philosophy, or the classics may be useful prerequisites for cryptology!)

3. Translating written data, and presenting the crux of the material in meaningful form. This is the home of the linguistics expert and the languages graduate—enabling the talented graduate to make the most of his or her particular gift, and quickly expand familiarity with other tongues.

In all that NSA does, there is seldom any existing precedent. Only NSA pioneers in secure communications on this broad a scale, so only NSA offers the college graduate the best chance to make immediate use of his disciplined thinking . . . without years of post-graduate experience. All these features— together with its well-instrumented laboratories, libraries, and professional staff of specialists in amazingly varied fields—provide a stimulating academic atmosphere for individual accomplishment.

On-Campus Interviews for Mathematicians and Engineers will be held later.
Consult your Placement Office for dates.

NSA is located in expanding facilities at Fort George G. Meade, Maryland—halfway between Washington and Baltimore. It is handy to transportation facilities, the University of Maryland and Johns Hopkins, suburban or rural living (initial highways are completed) . . . and the Chesapeake Bay resort region.

SPORTS BILLBOARD

by Mike Moore

It is a sincere pleasure to be able to write and praise the spirit of the student body. The week before, during the game, and the past two weeks, there has been more student spirit on the campus than there has been the past two years put together. The freshmen did a good job of cheering led by a hard working and dedicated group of cheerleaders. We can't expect the alumni to be any more interested in the school than the students themselves and I know many of them were impressed at the VPI game.

There has been a lot said about how big and strong Memphis State is, but you saw a good football team play VPI, and you can be sure you will see a better one play Memphis Saturday. Scouts in the pressbox at the game were from such schools as FSU, Mississippi, Memphis, Wake Forest, and ten other outstanding schools. They were all impressed with the SPARTANS and the team gained a lot of well deserved respect that night.

Coach Charlie Bailey deserves some well-earned praise for the good defensive showing the team has made in the first two games, especially the back. We have only had three passes completed against us in two games and we have faced two outstanding quarterbacks.

Rick Gillis is dead serious about teaching Memphis State's All-American tackle, Harry Schu, that holding Bunnies on your arms and playing football are two different things. I have no doubts that Rick is capable of doing the job, but all I can say is that I'm glad it's him and not me . . . Watch for Memphis to run (or at least try to) against us, I don't think they will be able to pass on us . . . Head Coach Sam Bailey may have ulcers after this season, but he is certainly gaining respect for our football upgrading . . . Jim Galmin has not received the praise he deserves for the VPI game. Jim made some great blocks on both our touchdowns and I'm sure the L. A. Rams are pleased with their draft choice . . . Coach Vic Prinzi has been a big part in the improvement of quarterback Val Johnson. He is also doing a great job of grooming freshman Ed Nizwantowski for the field general position . . . That name may be long, but you better remember it, you will hear a lot of it in the next four years. After we beat Memphis Saturday there will not be anyone happier than Coach Frank D'Agostino. He has said he won't even smile until we win.

Remember when you're at the game this week to follow the cheerleaders when they lead the yells . . . Head Cheerleader, Sandy Lima hasn't been able to talk since the VPI game but she and the rest of the girls have worked hard making signs and such to boost spirit for the next game. After two weeks without talking, you better stay away from her when she does get her voice back.

LIBERAL ARTS SENIORS: Your PQT Application must be mailed before November 27th

This is most important: To apply for an NSA position, all students EXCEPT Mathematicians, Engineers, and Physicists must take the PROFESSIONAL QUALIFICATION TEST scheduled for Saturday, December 12th. Stop in at your Placement Office and ask for the NSA Professional Qualification Test brochure . . . fill out and mail in the application card enclosed inside . . . and bring to the test the ticket you will receive by mail.

Even if you are not sure of your career interests yet, get the facts on NSA opportunities now.
