

SPARTANS READY FOR STETSON

SIX STUDENTS WILL APPEAR IN COLLEGE BOOK

Honored Students Chosen by Committee

Six University of Tampa students were honored last week when they were selected to represent the university in the national publication, "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

The six students—four seniors and two juniors—have been outstanding throughout their college career in the University. They are Walter Hoy, Adolf Ramirez, Mary Eve, Wenona Manson, Rudy Rodriguez and Janie Trice. The selections were made by a special committee composed of the Student Council and several members of the faculty, headed by Dean M. S. Hale. The junior and senior classes both nominated several students to be considered by the committee.

Not Popularity

Selection of the students to appear in the publication is not a popularity contest, Dean Hale explained. The selections are based upon four standards which are set forth by the publishers of the book. Each student selected should have a combination of all the required qualities to indicate that he is a valuable asset to his school.

Qualities on which they were selected are character, scholarship, leadership in high standard of politics, athletics, and other forms of extra-curricula activities, and possibility of future usefulness to society.

Student President

Hoy is president of the student body, secretary of the "T" Club and a member of the Sigma Kappa Nu fraternity, Fencing Club and the University Yacht Club. He has made three varsity letters in football. Hoy is also a Junior Rotarian.

Ramirez is editor of the Minaret and is an assistant in the University News Bureau. He is president of the senior class, vice president of the Student Council, and a member of the Rho Nu Delta fraternity, the "T" Club and the Pan-Hellenic Council. Ramirez earned his letter in track and also played with the Spartan football team last year. He is an honor student, having been on the Dean's Honor list several times.

Rodriguez, a junior, is one of the most popular young men on the campus. He has been outstanding on the gridiron and has also earned letters in basketball and track. He is vice president of the Tau Omega fraternity, and reporter of the "T" Club. Rodriguez was awarded the American Legion Medal for his outstanding qualities upon graduation from Plant high school.

Miss Eve is the senior class representative and secretary of the Student Council. She is treasurer of the Delta Kappa sorority, and was junior class editor on the staff of the Moroccan, the University's first yearbook. She is active in athletics and is an officer in the Women's Athletic Association.

Miss Manson is secretary of the Senior class and is also treasurer of the Sigma Theta Phi sorority. She entered the University when it was a Junior College and has been an outstanding student throughout her scholastic career.

Miss Trice, a member of the junior class, is president of the Delta Kappa sorority and is very active in co-ed activities. She plays basketball and volleyball on the girls' varsity teams. Last year Miss Trice was selected "Miss University of Tampa" in a popularity contest.

The Sigma Kappa Nu and Beta Chi fraternities and the Delta Kappa sorority were founded and received their charters in 1933. The Sigma Theta Phi sorority was founded in 1934, and the Rho Nu Delta fraternity in 1935.

OLD MAN WINTER
BRINGS NEW FAD;
CO-EDS NOW KNIT

When the leaves begin to turn golden up north, winter is not far away.

Signs of the time to come are being heralded here at the University by the click, click of knitting needles. The sound, at first a murmur, is gradually becoming louder. The average layman has been introduced to a new parlance that includes such words as "knit one," "purl one," "yarn over," and the minor catastrophe of "dropping stitches." Nimble fingers are busily working on nubby, warm woollens that will protect their owners from the biting winds that are felt even this far south.

The European woman has long included woven garments in her wardrobe. It is only in the last few years that her American sister has become knit-conscious. Today, hand woven sweaters, suits, evening dresses and even bathing suits are to be found. Because of her adaptability to new tasks, the American woman has become very proficient in this handiwork.

Even the men have taken up the fad. In New York city, displays of their work have attracted much attention as well as admiration.

Knitting is a pastime that reaps for the ambitious, hours of relaxation and handiwork worthy of pardonable pride.

The first newspaper of the University of Tampa was a three-page bulletin issued by mimeograph during the days when classes were held in the Hillsborough high school building. The first Minaret, as it appears today, was published when the university opened in the hotel in 1933.

Ed Carter, Social Outcast,
Organizes New 'Fraternity'

"Rome wasn't built in a day. All the way with Eddie-Bay."

With these forceful, though disconnected statements as an introduction, Ed Carter, veteran student, Spartan quarterback and self-styled social outcast, dropped wearily onto a lobby couch early this week and announced to an anxiously waiting group of Minaret newshawks the details and pledge list of the newest campus social group—the Eddie-Bay fraternity.

The fraternity, according to its founder, has one member and one pledge. The lone member is elected by himself to the offices of the fraternity at an annual meeting held if and when a quorum is present, in accordance with the by-laws drawn up by the member.

Questioned concerning the origin of the novel organization the grid star caressed his newly-broken nose and replied: "I have long thought of forming a fraternity, it has been my

STUDENTS AND PARENTS ATTEND
RECEPTION HEREDance Follows Annual Reception

As a major event of the opening social season here, the University of Tampa held its elaborate annual faculty reception Friday night, Oct. 16. Many of the students, their parents and their friends and seniors from the high schools attended and were welcomed by members of the faculty and university officials who formed a line extending the entire width of the lobby.

The reception began at 8 o'clock, all visitors being received formally until 9. Refreshments were served by members of the Delta Kappa and the Sigma Theta Phi sororities throughout the evening. From 9 until 10, visitors, instructors and students mingled freely in conversation and sightseeing. The new geology museum was of especial interest to many.

The university orchestra provided music for the occasion. It is a newly organized group, which has had fine success, under the direction of August Ingley.

Members of the Sigma Theta Phi sorority who assisted in serving refreshments were Edna Johnson, Verna Vining, Ruby Wadsworth, Wenona Manson, Mildred Allison, Winifred Watson and Julia Mary Neef. Those from the Delta Kappa sorority were Janie Trice, Helen Windham, Mary Ann Sampey, Marjorie Dennis, Stella Rogers, Betty Jo Mims and Virginia Morrow.

Following the reception, a dance was given in the university ballroom for the students and guests. Bruce Kelly and his orchestra furnished music and the dance lasted until 12.

Those in the receiving line were R. J. Binnicker, chairman of the board of trustees; Dean Hale and Mrs. Hale, Dr. and Mrs. Guy G. Becknell, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Berry, Dr. and Mrs. Bode, Dr. and Mrs. Richard W. Bryan, Miss Blanche Cahoon, Mrs. Connally, Miss Elizabeth Cone, Mr. W. E. Culbreath, Miss Florence Gray, Mrs. Nash Higgins, Dr. Ellsworth Barnard.

Mrs. Louise Hunter, Dr. C. H. Laub, Dr. C. A. Morley, Louis A. Nava, W. M. Pearson, Cornelius Steinberg, Miss Charlotte Thompson, Miss Edenia Delaney, Robert F. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Webb, A. G. Wuertz, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Borchardt, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Keene.

favorite brain child since the days of junior college, but —" a sigh wheezed through the gridder's battered nasal organ, "until now I have never found a suitable pledge."

Poised pencils, open notebooks, tense looks framed the scribes' question, "Who is she?" The perennial student, brought out a slip of paper which bore under the scrawled title "fraternity pledge list" a single name, Betty Dickinson.

The comely pledge, asked for a statement concerning the Eddie-Bay organization told reporters, "I must have been roped in, I guess."

The fraternity colors, according to its president, are black and blacker. The fraternity yell: "ray-ray-Eddie-Bay" is sometimes used as the fraternity song when the official melody, arranged for duet, "I can't give you anything but love, Eddie. I can't give you anything but love, Betty," grows monotonous.

Local Cigar Factory

The Magazine Article Writing class visited the Cuesta Rey cigar factory last Wednesday.

They watched the process of making cigars from the time the stogies were tobacco leaves until they were ready for the consumer.

On completion of the tour, the guests received samples of the product. Those attending included: Leah Mae Hunter, Julia Mary Neef, Lois McGucken, Carmen Moran, Alfred Woods, Sam Harris, Rudy Rodriguez, Walter Metcalf and Bill Culbreath, instructor.

RIVAL TEAMS IN TOP CONDITION
FOR HARD GAMEWarren Is Star for the Visitors

The University of Tampa Spartans, undefeated in their last four starts this season, will face their acid test in tonight's battle with the powerful Stetson Hatters from DeLand. The game, which will mark the fourth meeting of the two rival schools, will be the hardest one on the Spartan schedule this year. Stetson's only defeat was at the hands of the Florida Gators last Saturday.

Coach Nash Higgins has drilled his team in the art of tackling and blocking all this week, and the Spartans should put up a brilliant defense against Stetson's offensive gestures.

Warren Is Star

In Lynn Warren, Stetson will present one of the best passers to perform at Plant field this year. Warren played a remarkable game against the Gators last Saturday. His passing, punting and ball carrying several times brought the ball into Florida territory. Durrance, Bridges, Anderson and Minehart are also mainstays of the Hatter team.

The Hatters will be seeking their third victory over Tampa in tonight's game. The Spartans beat Stetson 8-0 in the mud in 1933. The next two years the Hatters won by 19-6 and 9-7. The winner tonight will remain in the running for the championship of the Florida small college conference.

Spartans Crippled

Several Spartans have been on the ailing list during this week's practice, but most of them will be in condition for the game tonight. Ed Carter, who last year was chosen the most valuable player on the team, may not play very much tonight. Carter broke his nose in the Statesboro game last week. Phil Patterson is still out with a foot injury and Walter Hoy has an ailing hip.

The Hatters, 30 strong, arrived last night accompanied by Coach Brady Cowell. Stetson is in excellent condition for the Spartans. It has been rumored that both teams will take to the air early in the game tonight. The Spartans have done some good passing in their previous games and it would not be surprising to see them battle the Hatters at their own game of passing.

The probable starting lineups are:

THE MINARET POLICY

To give full support to all activities that will prove beneficial to the University.

To encourage the growth of social fraternities and sororities on our campus.

To strive for a better understanding between students and faculty members.

To do our part in making student government a complete success.

To support the Spartan athletic teams and advocate a well rounded physical education program with a complete list of minor, as well as major sports activities.

UNIVERSITY PROGRESSES

For the last few years our students many times have had to answer to many well aimed questions concerning the accreditation of our Alma Mater. There is plenty of evidence that many citizens of Tampa and of Florida have been totally misinformed upon this matter. All of us can cite occasions when parents have thought twice about sending their children to matriculate at Tampa U. This sort of thing has gone on for a long time and surely it should be corrected.

There is no doubt that our University has registered great gains during the last two years, and there should be less doubt that the school will continue to progress, but as long as we continue to get the adverse criticism mentioned above, we are going to find the road very bumpy. The students of the University are the ones who really know what their school really is; they have been here long enough to have set attitudes concerning our present standing, therefore it is the students who can go out into the streets of our city and change public opinion. Our strength lies in the faith that students have in their Alma Mater.

Recent developments in and about the University should furnish ample proof of our continuous growth. The WPA has begun work on a $100,000 project to remodel the building; this week it was made public that a large tract of land had been deeded to the University as a site for a huge athletic stadium; enrollment figures have soared over all past records; the University was invited to contribute six of her outstanding students for places on "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges," which is a national publication. Our football team is constantly keeping our name in the national headlines; the financial condition of the school is in very good standing; and, last, but not least, our graduates are finding employment.

No, our school is no longer in its infancy. We are progressing—and we shall continue to do so.

BE SURE TO VOTE

This is the last edition before the national election of the president of the United States. All newspapers except those of nearly all schools and colleges are filling their columns with political news, and their editorials urge voters to cast their ballots in a certain direction to secure better conditions. To the students of Tampa U, the Minaret will not advise how to vote but only to be sure to vote.

Not all the student body will be able to vote, but there should be a moderate percentage of students with an age of 21 or above. These are accorded the privilege of voting—and it is a privilege, don't forget. To have a voice in the decision of the way in which this nation will be directed during four years of the 150-year-old union is power for any individual.

Considered among the millions of votes cast, the vote of one student may seem unimportant. But there is an importance in it for the student himself. When he votes, he lays claim, as he can in no other more genuine way, to citizenship in the leading nation of the world today. The possession of this claim is a basic part of good character, which every normal person should want.

So vote with your first chance. The next election is four years distant, and you will then be four years nearer old age.

FOR BETTER ASSEMBLIES

The question again arises, "Why don't we have interesting assemblies?" It is time for the assemblies to be turned over to some source of interest, so that the students will attend the weekly programs with an interest, instead of a desire to be somewhere else—in a hurry.

Each year the office warns students against taking cuts in assemblies; each year the students continue to cut. So far this year, there hasn't been an assembly program with much more than half of the student body in attendance. Why? There is no interest! There is no pep! The programs are not encouraging!

Why not turn the assembly program over to an active committee appointed by the student council? Why not make a determined effort to make the programs an active and interesting part of the college student's life? When this is accomplished, there will be fewer cuts, fewer grumbles, and all will be satisfied.

OUT OF THE NIGHT

With all the current interest in the song-writing ability in the University, specifically in the profound InSpIra-tion based upon the famous Birmingham Jail monstrosity, the meter of which would not accept the name Tampa, Jacksonville being an adequate substitute. But here it is: We have learned of one with much local color and odor, but which was written by a local inebriate who, contrary to the former, has experienced the realism that brought about his inspiration; the metric pattern is well former. The title: "TAMPA CITY STOCKADE."

While many of the University women are debbing, we find many of the University men dubbing. During the times that the men and women are rubbing elbows, the two sports could hardly be said to mix well, for how can the women do serious debbing while the men are so perfectly silly as to be searching for and trying to find significance in pseudonyms. Perhaps a new sport will evolve, that of snubbing. Some favorite dubs: by Hurn: "Phoney" for Rudy. "Blandy" Stephens. The T. O.'s have been said to be "Throw-outs". Hurn, by the way, is called "Blimp" (hardly appropriate) Dot Orr has brought on herself the title of "Juliet".

Suzanne Jackson is some politician and incidentally in the machine fashion. She now holds two offices, that of vice president of the Freshman class and that of Treasurer of the Delta Kappa pledges.

A worthy flat tire story has been told which relates that three DK's were chasing about madly Monday night when suddenly a tire went flat. When these unfortunate babes in the wood found a service station several miles away, there was no one to take care of the business during the time that the attendant would be gone to repair the flat. Now Betty Jo, Blanche Sessions and Betty Dickenson were thrown for a sufficient loss, but suggested that they would attend the station. They put on the overalls and proceeded as "service men" calling to each of three customers, "Fill 'er up, mister?"

Rumored from the Tau Omega meeting that the idea of a large interfraternity ball has made a favorable impression upon all fraternity leaders. This may prove to be a thoroughly recognized get-together.

This letter of appreciation was received in the Minaret office:
Dear Gabe:

I wish to take the opportunity of thanking you for the wonderful aid I have received from you. I, being a wallflower have been changed to a great extent by your personality instruction which should attract many students in need of charm, humor, and personality.

When Alka-Seltzer failed, the benefits of your marvelous course made me an overwhelming success at the B. G. B. (Bid Girls, Bid!) Tea dances. In the future may all who take your incomparable course feel an immediate transition from Bachelor Buttons to Orchids.

Yours for grace,
ALPHONSE CASANOVA.

Freshman Girl Can't 'Check,' Classmates Show Her How

The last court for women freshmen was held last Saturday in the midst of howling and laughter. All the commotion was caused by one little question that Judges Leah Mae Hunter directed at one of the timid, shaking freshmen.

"Rat Eades, give us your interpretation of 'checking,'" commanded Miss Hunter in the Rat court.

"What do you mean?" came the bewildered reply of Ratess Eades.

"Checking," said Judges Lea Mae, with an emphatic flourish of her hand, "means making time with the men. Now check for us."

"I don't know how," replied Mary earnestly.

"Miss Jane White will show you," ordered Leah Mae, and up came sheepish Miss White with all the eyes in the courtroom cast upon her. "Well, I guess I check with my eyes—like this." A few meaning rolls of the eyes indicated that Jane was "checking."

"Miss Floyd," sternly came from Judges Hunter, "you show Miss Eades how you 'check.'"

"Ah don't know how ah check, ah

DAWN

There will be many nights of wondering
And silent doubts, of wandering down streets
At that wan hour when the pulses
sing
Their feeblest song and life is more a hope
Than a reality. When darkness fleets
Beyond this town, and fumbling colors
grope
At that far mountain's top, what tongue shall tell
The hidden terrors of the watching man?
He who awake all night has heard the knell
Of his own destiny and has come here
To glimpse Creation in this moment span
His altered world. This dawn the well-tuned ear
Might catch his murmur in bewildered flight:
"Dear God I am not what I was last

HARVEST SEASON

This is the season of remembered gains
And losses garnered from the summer's wide
Green acres. . . Now, the mind with cautious stride,
(Much like a patient harvester) takes pains
To gather retrospective fruits and grains
(From stinting, rock-encumbered steep hillside
And lavish valley field of ripened pride)
Before the coming of the snows and rains. . .
This is the busy harvest season, spread
With changing autumn's poignant rich design. . .
What though some grain will make a bitter bread
And luscious vintage fruit an acrid wine?
Replenish well the empty bin and hold,
For winter days and nights are long and cold.

GEORGE KAYTON.

RELEASE

I saw the calm, cool evening close
And fill the coming night with breeze;
I saw the people seek repose
Content to spend the night in ease.
But I must out upon the hill
And watch the night slip slowly by;
I go where'er my spirit will,
Where life becomes a faint, far cry.

Culbreath Is Given New Federal Post

William E. Culbreath, instructor of journalism and business manager of the University Athletic Department, was notified recently of his appointment as junior placement officer of the National Youth Administration in the Tampa district.

Culbreath will continue his activities in the university.

He will be in charge of new NYA employment service for youths of 16 to 25 years of age, under O. G. Sexton, director of the Florida state employment service. The new service is not confined to relief cases; it is free employment service conducted for youths by the federal government.

Culbreath has done similar work for the government before. A few years ago he worked in an educational survey in Jacksonville and north Florida.

BABY SPARTANS TO PLAY FRIDAY

Coach John Edison's Baby Spartans have been getting ready for the last two weeks for their scheduled game next Friday in Pensacola against the strong team from the United States naval training base. The team will leave sometime Thursday on the university bus.

Last year the sailors lost a close 7-0 battle to the Florida freshmen.

The Baby Spartans have displayed their ability several times against the varsity and they should provide good competition for the sailors.

The freshmen linemen who have shown up well in practice are Whitney, Mumbauer, Brainard, Pound, Woods, Manucy and Massey. These boys should make up a creditable forward wall for the backs to follow.

The outstanding backs have been Latterall, fullback; Thomas, McDuffie, Filipski, halfbacks, and Velasco, quarterback. Velasco injured a shoulder this week, but he will be in condition to play against the sailors.

Thomas has shown exceptional form carrying the ball, and McDuffie's passing and kicking has been one of the features in the practice sessions.

The game in Pensacola will be the first of the season for the Baby Spartans.

By DOT TALBOT

The Spartanettes lost their first city league volleyball match to the Cox Sporting Goods team at the Lee playground last Thursday night, but won their second contest from the strong Hospital Nurse's team on the Davis Island court on Tuesday.

Lagging behind at the start in their first match, the varsity girls seemed to take more time than usual in getting warmed up to the game, but started a rally in the second game of the series. The Cox team managed to stop the last minute rally by the Spartanettes and took the contest 15-8, 15-9.

Those taking part in the first match of the season on the University varsity team were: Marjorie DeWolf, Mary Eve, Leila Turner Clark, Martha Franco, Leiga Vega, and Betty LeDuc.

In the second game of the season, the Spartanettes won out over the Hospital Nurses on the Davis Island court. It was necessary to play three games to determine the winner, the locals winning the first and third.

After piling up a large number of points, the varsity girls slowed down and the Nurses, with a short rally, tied the score at 9-all in the first game of the series. The Spartanettes then tightened up and took the game in straight points.

The Nurses had the upper hand in the second game and led in the scoring almost all the way, winning by the score of 15-7, after losing the first 15-9.

The last game in the series the Spartanettes won after much fighting on the part of both teams. For a long period during the game no points were scored and an unofficial record for "side-outs" was broken. The game ended with the score at 16-14, in favor of the university.

Those taking part in the victory over the Nurses were Mary Eve, Olive Castro, Carmen Fernandez, Martha Franco, Waverly Floyd, Legia Vega, and Betty LeDuc.

Tampa Teachers defeated the University in a close match at the Davis Islands court last Tuesday night, 15-9, 15-11.

The Spartanettes were favored in this game but did not come through with a win as was expected. Their playing was good at times but was not consistent. Outstanding on the teams were Legia Vega of the University, whose serving was unusually steady, and Ruth Moffit, of the Teachers, whose placement shots were excellent.

Those taking part in the Teachers-University game on the varsity squad were Martha Franco, Carmen Fernandez, Legia Vega, Olive Castro, Leila Clark and Betty LeDuc.

The last game of first round matches is next on the schedule with the Spartanettes meeting the strongest girls' team in the city, the Holt-singer Motor company, which is favored to win the league championship.

The game will be played at the Lee playground sometime this week. Undeclared, the Ford team leads the league and a loss at the hands of the Spartanettes would mean a tie in the first round. Although the varsity girls are the underdogs in this match, they do not feel that a win is impossible.

SPARTAN SPARKLES

By HAMPTON DUNN

Announcement this week that the University of Tampa had been deeded property north of Cass street by the I. W. Phillips Estate marks a definite step in the construction of a huge, modern football plant for the local institution. George B. Howell, chairman of the building committee and treasurer of the Athletic Association, immediately announced that work on the stadium would begin within the next two weeks.

Completion of the stadium will be a definite step in the progress of the young school. No other college or university can boast of the progress it has made in the first four years of operation. For that reason, students should be proud of what has been done for the school by interested citizens and add to that their own support.

After seeing the Stetson-Florida game at Gainesville Saturday, we are inclined to believe the Spartans have a strong test on their hands in the contest tonight. However, we are glad to add, it looks like another victory for the sensational Spartans. If the Tampans can ward off the passing attack of the Hatters, and shoot in some good straight football plays through the center of the line, it is possible they can stack up a commendable score.

Here's our guess for the outcome of the battle: Tampa U., 13; Stetson U., 6. We have every confidence in the ability of Coach Higgins' eleven with its great club of blockers and tacklers. After bouncing back into their early season form, the Spartans look more powerful than ever. Old-time rivalry also will spur the grid-ders on.

At last Bill Culbreath, business manager of the athletic association, has succeeded in obtaining a promise from officials of the University of Florida for a game between the Gators and the Spartans. This is smart business and will get Tampa some much-needed national publicity that would naturally accompany a game with the Southeastern conference team. However, 1938 seems a long time from now, but in the meantime the Tampans can be priming for the Floridians.

Tonight's program will include a "battle between bands" as both institutions are sending splendid musical groups to perform between the halves and add color to the grid classic. Led by their high-stepping, strutting drum major, "Monkey" Rhines, the scarlet-clad Tampa U. bandmen are expected to be at their best and will make a wonderful sight for the spectators. Applause after applause greeted the local band in its last appearance here, and this will be no exception, because when they see Prof. Ingley's bunch this time, no praise will be too high for them.

With only a few followers present, the Stetson band pepped up the game for the Green and White eleven at Gainesville last Saturday. Their perfectly-timed music was greeted highly by the witnesses, and the complicated drills were presented beautifully. It was a little blonde-headed lass that captured the hearts of the fans, though. The young lady, who also leads the famous Daytona Beach American Legion drum and bugle corps, really "strutted her stuff" for the Hatters.

Activity is humming in the intramural camps now. Once again, Miller K. Adams has launched a widespread program for the boys. Last year 85 percent of the student body participated in some form of athletics and this is a splendid record, much higher than most colleges and universities in the country. Patterned after the University of Southern California, the program is so extensive any person the least inclined gladly joins in participation. Last year, 17 sports were played by the clubs and fraternities. Medals and awards were given, stimulating interest in the various sports. The football play has already started and much interest has been shown.

THE SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEK

By FIFI

Dear Annette:

Most everyone came to our annual reception and stayed for the dance that followed, which was a grand success—even if our Georgia-bound boys were missing.

The University lobby was appropriately decorated, and afforded a lovely background for our receiving line, which was composed of members of the faculty and their wives.

The University Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. August Ingley, director of music, presented an interesting program of varied selections.

During the evening refreshments were served by the members of the Delta Kappa and Sigma Theta Phi Sororities from a table overlaid with an imported lace cloth, on which was displayed a centerpiece of red rosebuds and a fosteria punch bowl, over which Miss Janie Trice and Miss Edna Johnson alternately presided.

This week has been an exciting one! Our sororities and fraternities are proud to formally announce their future members. At impressive ceremonies held recently rushes were pledged to the various Greek letter organizations.

The Rho Nu Deltas were the first to hold pledging services. Last Tuesday week their pledges were guests of honor at a luncheon at which Dr. C. A. Morley was the featured speaker.

Theodore Lerley was host Monday evening to the Sigma Kappa Mus. Rabbi David Zielonka, fraternity advisor, enlightened the new S. K. N.'s on the subject of fraternity life, and as is customary, presented a ring to the pledge of last semester having the highest scholastic standing. This presentation was made to Bud Criddlebaugh.

The Sigma Theta Phi entertained in honor of their pledges Wednesday evening at a formal dinner-dance given at El Pasaje. During an impressive candle light service each pledge was presented a corsage of red rosebuds, the sorority flower, and pledge pin of blue and silver.

Tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Carmen Moran a group of girls will pledge themselves to the Delta Kappas. Later in the evening they will be guests of honor at a dance given in the University ballroom.

You'll hear about the Tau Omegas and Beta Chi pledges later.

Yours,
FIFI.

Tau Omega Beats Beta Chi by 13 to 0

Tau Omega, newly organized fraternity made its debut in the intramural touch football league last week with a surprise win over the Beta Chi team, champions of last year's intramural program. The winners completely dominated the game with a combination running and passing attack. Tau Omega gained its scoring punch after going scoreless in the first half.

The game was featured by the passing combination of Rhines to Toulme, which puzzled their opponents throughout the contest. Rhines scored in the third period, and Upson repeated in the fourth. For Beta Chi Zendegeui and Cocke were outstanding.

TAU OMEGA, 13; SKN, 0

Tau Omega won its second game of the touch football season Tuesday when they downed the strong Sigma Kappa Nu team 13-0 in a well played game. Monkey Rhines and Jay Toulme again led their team to victory with their superb passing and running attack. Toulme scored both of the markers and Rhines added one extra point.

For SKN Gainer, Shaub and Ingram played a creditable game, but they could not match the all around playing of their foes. The victory places Tau Omega in a tie for first place with Rho Nu Delta. Both teams have two victories and are undefeated.

Tau Omega Plans Charter Ceremony

Members and pledges of the Tau Omega fraternity met Tuesday night at the university for their first joint meeting. Announcement was made of the forthcoming pledging ceremonies to be held next week when pledges will be awarded with attractive pledge pins recently adopted by the fraternity.

After a brief welcoming speech by Luther Sparkman, the pledges met for their own meeting with Rudy Rodriguez, T O vice president, presiding. They elected officers to serve until February.

Selection of a design for fraternity pins has been made, and orders have been placed. The first pins will make appearance in about two weeks.

Plans are being made for pledging ceremonies Tuesday night at a private home. This is to be a colorful affair. Combined with the pledging, the charter will be officially presented to the fraternity by Dean Hale.

Jay Toulme and George Kayton were elected representatives to the Pan-Hellenic council.

Regular meetings will be held at the university bi-monthly in the future.

PLEDGES ELECT OFFICERS

Ed O'Reilly was elected president of the Tau Omega pledges at a meeting held Tuesday night at the university.

Other officers elected are Billie Martin, vice president; Dick Powell, secretary; Lytton Ashmore, treasurer; and Joe Carr, sergeant-at-arms.

Other pledges of the Tau Omega fraternity are Harry Thomas, "Happy" Hayes, Wilnot Paxton, Bill King, Jimmy Lindsay, Gregory Lucas, Wilbur Gunnoe, Gus Muench, Albert Hand and Riherde Green.

Education Students Have Grade Charts

Dr. Morley, head of the education department here, has developed a new grading system this year. Believing that students should be allowed to know just how they stand in their work early in the semester, he has decided to use this new grading system for the benefit of his students.

A test is given every week to all pupils in Education 100 and General Psychology, and every pupil in class is given a number. At Dr. Morley's office door graphs have been placed indicating the grades made by both of these classes. The pupils' number and the name appears on the graph, thus making it less embarrassing to those who fail. All A grades are marked on the graph with blue pencil, B and C with lead pencil and D, E and F with red pencil.

Dr. Morley feels that by using this new system his pupils are at least kept up to date in their work. This new system has aroused great interest and students who would otherwise neglect their work are kept up to standard.

World Traveler Says Russia Has Failed

H. Lane Coathman, well known Tampa attorney and world traveler, addressed the student body in the Municipal Auditorium yesterday. Mr. Coathman just recently completed a tour of Europe and has returned to his native city to tell his fellow citizens and friends of the existing conditions in war-scarred Europe.

Mr. Coathman's talk yesterday was aimed at the complete failure of the much publicized Russian plan. He told his audience of the misery and poverty that exists today in Russia.

The speaker also described the tension and nervousness the present revolt in Spain has brought about in France, Italy, Germany and other European powers.

The greatest known depth of the ocean is a little over six miles.

New Pledges Honored With Luncheon by Rho Nu Delta Fraternity

The Rho Nu Delta fraternity entertained last week at a luncheon in honor of its new pledges. The luncheon, which was held at Mrs. Jenkin's restaurant, was the initial one of a series of monthly luncheons given by the organization.

Next month the fraternity will celebrate the first anniversary of their charter night with a banquet to be given in one of the Spanish restaurants in Ybor City.

The principal speaker of the affair was Dr. C. A. Morley, education professor, who delivered an interesting talk to the members and pledges. Dr. Morley compared the fraternity to a great dam in which waters of many rivers accumulate and then produce power by their union.

Benigno Miyares, president of the fraternity, delivered a short address to the pledges, and laid down his plans for the semester. Prof. Louis Nava, the fraternity adviser, also welcomed the new pledges.

J. S. B. Coniglio was master of ceremonies.

Those present were Dr. Morley, Mr. Nava, Benigno Miyares, J. S. B. Coniglio, Adolf Ramirez, Severino La Fuente, Oswald Delgado, Teobaldo Zaccchini, Aurelio Prado, Cecil Henriquez, Braulio Alonso, Charles Sierra, George Giglia, Armando Corcos, Torino Scaglione, Bob Tramontana, Bert Hernandez, Albert Breijo, Jimmie Jardon and Jack Alvarez.

Girl Drum Major Back to Scene of Her First Success

DELAND, Oct. 22. — (Special.) — Diminutive Helen Montgomery, 15-year-old drum major of Stetson university's green and white 60-piece band, tomorrow is going back to Tampa—scene of her first triumph.

There she will lead the college aggregation of musicians which will accompany the Stetson Hatters in their annual football clash with the University of Tampa Spartans Friday night.

It was in Tampa, during the 1936 Gasparilla carnival when Helen was lifted by the scruff of the neck and plumped down on Franklin street, with a silver baton in her hand, and told to do her stuff. She did—and helped the Stetson band win first place in the carnival parade.

The regular drum major, Horace Bills, was out with a broken ankle. The band arrived in Tampa and took its place. Helen was along as mascot; but when the need of a leader became more and more apparent, she stepped to the fore and pranced the length of the parade as if she'd done it all her life.

Helen is a junior in the Daytona Beach high school, and is 15 years old. She's a blonde, a dancer, weighs less than 100 pounds and is popular and personable.

NEW WORDS VIE FOR HONORS

BOSTON Oct. 23. — New words vied for honors at the joint convention of the national puzzlers' league and the American cryptogram association. Words approved by the educational committee are sent to the dictionary makers with the request that they be included in the latest unabridged dictionaries.

Rho Nu Deltas Win First Grid Game

Rho Nu Delta Fraternity opened its touch football season last week with an unmerciful 34-0 triumph over the Sigma Epsilon Engineers. Brilliant ball carrying and accurate passing, plus an air-tight defense was displayed by the victors throughout the game. They scored seven touchdowns, of which two were called back by the referee. The Engineers never threatened the Rho Nu Delta goal, all their passes falling either incomplete or into the arms of a Rho Nu Delta player.

The unexpected strength displayed by the winners has thrown the intramural race wide open for the first time in three years. S. K. N., last year's champs, have a strong team in the field, and Tau Omega has also displayed its power in recent games. Beta Chi is the dark horse of the league.

The entire Rho Nu Delta team was outstanding on its blocking assignments. Adolf Ramirez, Corcos and Ginesta were the offensive stars of the game. Ramirez scored five times with his broken field running, but two of his scores were called back. Corcos and Ginesta also scored on well executed plays. Corcos, Ginesta, Cutolo and Prado added extra points after touchdowns.

For Sigma Epsilon Sullivan, Upson and Wilkerson were outstanding.

RHO NU DELTA, 20; PLEBES, 0

Led by Adolf Ramirez, who scored three touchdowns, Rho Nu Delta won its second grid game of the season Tuesday over a scrappy team of Plebes. The Plebes threatened the winner's goal only once during the first quarter, but the Rho Nu Delta defense kept them in check the rest of the game. Ginesta and Delgado added extra points for Rho Nu Delta.

On one of his touchdown trips Ramirez sprinted the entire distance of the field after intercepting an enemy pass on his own goal line. Castellano was the outstanding player for the losers. His punting was the best seen so far in the intramural league. Prado and La Fuent were outstanding in the Rho Nu Delta line.

Dramatic Club Will Present One-Act Plays

Two evenings of one-act plays will be presented soon by the "313" Masquers, announced Mrs. Elizabeth Connally, sponsor of the university dramatic club.

Rehearsals for the plays are already under way and Mrs. Connally is well satisfied with the progress of the actors. Tryouts for the three-act play "Adam's Evening," which will be presented soon, will be held this week.

New members who were admitted to the Dramatic club are the Misses Mary Pelaez, Peggy Neef, Martha Franco, Ann McCurdy, Mary Frances O'Berry, Jane White, Alice Williams and Leah Mae Hunter; Mrs. A. L. Allgood, Mrs. T. E. Shinholtzer, Mrs. R. B. King.

Richard Powell, Bill Pound, Ben Filipiski, Robert Johnson and Carlos Balliff.

Sigma Kappa Nu Pledges Seven in Home Ceremony

The Sigma Kappa Nu fraternity pledged seven prospective members last Monday night in an impressive ceremony held at the home of Theodore Lesley, III, 2707 Morrison avenue.

Zielonka, the Rabbi awarded a white gold signet ring with the S.K.N. insignia in yellow gold to Bud Criddlebaugh for making the highest average in grades of last semester's pledges. Bill Reid won the ring last year.

Alber Massey was elected president of the pledge group. Billy Handly, vice president, Henry Roberts, secretary-treasurer. Other pledges were Alfred Maney, Bob Thomas, Louis Houston and Spencer Diamond. The pledges were entertained at a luncheon last Thursday.

Refreshments were served and a short business meeting followed.
