U. of Tampa Band Under Prof. Ingley Boasts 26 Members

The University of Tampa has a band to be proud of. It is composed of 26 pieces and is directed by Prof. August Ingley who has composed several numbers played by the band.

Most of the boys in the band are from out of town and have had plenty of previous experiences in bands and orchestras. Two boys, Pete Canary and Bob Thomas, have orchestras of their own and are heard at many of the school's social functions.

Following is a roster of the Tampa U. band: Eddie Curren, second trumpet; Bob Thomas, snare drummer; Jerry Nelson, third clarinet; Robert Green, second bass; Jerry Parsons, librarian; Melvin Lassiter, fourth clarinet; Stephen Deiffenweirth, tenor saxophone; Robert E. Thomas, drum major; Jack Williams, third cornet; Manuel Gonzales, first concert master; DeWitt Trawick, bassoon; Art Pitchard, piccolo; Bob Hutchinson, second clarinet; Fred Carter, second trombone; Pat Hill, alto saxophone; George Hayton, fifth clarinet; Kippy Moore, fifth clarinet; Jimmy Cantrell, French horn; Ed Chenet, first clarinet; Wendell Waters, third trombone; James Farmer, fifth clarinet; Joe Armstrong, oboe; Pete Canary, first bass; Harold Sullivan, fourth trombone; Bruce Kelly, bass drummer, and Art Young, trombone.

The woman's friend is Irish and very pretty. Her blue eyes have the sparkle of youth and her hair, although gray, is always perfectly groomed. Her tongue is tipped with Irish wit and it is the delight of her friends to bait her with provocative remarks that will bring forth one of her saucy retorts.

On the occasion of her wedding anniversary one of her husband's friends commiserated her.

"It must be dreadful to live with the same man for 25 years."

"O, Larry's not the same man he was when I married him."

Tampa Proud of Its Colorful Band

Above is shown the 28-piece band of the University of Tampa, which is directed by Prof. August Ingley. The group looks very colorful with their new uniforms of scarlet, gold and black. They appear at all Tampa U. football games, parades, radio programs and other presentations.

'No!'—Miss America

MISS HENRIETTA LEAVER

When the Pittsburgh artist who sculptured Miss Henrietta Leaver of McKeesport, Pa., "Miss America of 1935," sought to exhibit his work, Miss Leaver refused to give her consent. She also refused to appear in a nudist sketch in a Broadway musical demanding that her contract guarantee her rights in this respect.

Introducing— The Spartans

RUDY RODRIGUEZ

Rudy is one of the best broken field runners in the state. He is a blue-eyed blonde weighing 145 pounds and is five feet seven inches tall. Rudy is a contribution from Plant High School, where he was outstanding in athletics.

During his three years, Rudy was awarded nine letters, three each in football, basketball and baseball.

He gained state-wide recognition by making All-State in football in the Big Ten conference for two years, 1931 and 1932. He was also All-State in basketball in 1930.

This is Rodriguez' third year on the varsity team of Tampa U., and he has gained recognition in intercollegiate circles for his exceptional speed, passing and field generalship. The only reason he has not made official honors is because the Spartans are not yet members of any conference.

He has starred in all the games this season and is expected to be the spark-plug for the remainder of the season.

Rudy, like nine out of ten football players, has his own superstitions and customs. He says he never shaves before a game because he believes it's bad luck. He also sleeps the entire morning preceding a game so as to be fresh.

For his profession Rudy has chosen recreational leadership, including coaching, teaching physical education and directing playgrounds.

Alumni To Have Banquet Here Friday

A banquet, given for the alumni and the seniors of the University of Tampa, will be held at the Crescent Grill on Friday, Nov. 15, at 6:15 p. m. Honor guests at this time will be members of the first football team of the University and Coach Walter Burrell, of Hillsborough High.

The first team, coached by Burrell, was organized in 1931 and included Bill Moody, Jack Fitzgerald, Morton Hackney, Miller Adams, Mike Muleo, Ed Blackburn, Pat Stuckey, Jack Savage, Herman Manson, Joe Scruggs, Jack King, Henry Richarde, Sam Spoto, Vincent Granell, Arthur Friedburg, Fletcher Cawthorn and C. L. Craft.

M. K. Adams, alumni president, will be the master of ceremonies and speakers for the evening are President Frederick H. Spaulding, George B. Howell, Coach Nash Higgins, Coach Walter Burrell and Dean M. S. Hale.

The tables will be arranged to form a "T" and the color scheme will be carried out in the Tampa University colors of scarlet, gold and black. Place cards will be used with the University seal on them.

Mechanized harvesting of 1,672,500 acres under beet root in Russia is to be attempted.

Boys and girls agricultural clubs are to be organized by the government of South Africa.

Four Bands Entered in Parade This Afternoon

Tampa will see the biggest parade in its history, it is expected, when the first annual homecoming parade of the University of Tampa is held Friday afternoon. The parade is to have four bands, the entire student body of the University, the students of the local high schools and of Stetson University. Tampa merchants have been invited to send advertisements, and a partial holiday on Friday has been declared by Mayor Chacey.

The alumni of the University of Tampa, the honored guests at the homecoming, are coming from far and near to be on the campus Friday. Among those present will be Mr. Jimmy Moore, now teaching at Fort Myers, Miss Louise Leonard, teaching at Haines City, Miss Agnes Wittemore, of Sarasota, and Miss June Grant, of Bradenton.

The procession is scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock and will assemble at different points. The University of Tampa band will head the parade, after which will follow a car carrying President Spaulding, Coach Higgins, of the University of Tampa, and Brady Cowell, the Stetson coach. All the University of Tampa students will follow in cars decorated with the red, yellow and black of Tampa U. After that will come the 59-piece band of Stetson University and Stetson students in cars with green and white colors; the various civic organizations follow, and the band and student body of Plant and Hillsborough High Schools. The parade, assembling at North Boulevard, Hyde Park Avenue and the Tampa U. campus, will go up Lafayette Street to Florida Avenue, to Cass street, and to Franklin Street. Campus grounds will be decorated by the Pan-Hellenic committee, while it is expected that Franklin Street will be decorated with flags.

Almost the entire city of Tampa will turn out to see the parade. About a thousand are estimated to participate in the procession, and it will require approximately two hours to pass.

After apparently floating for 25 years a bottle containing a message has been picked up by the trawler Shandwick and delivered to a fishery board official in Aberdeen, Scotland. The glass messenger was covered with seaweed and barnacles. The wordings on the paper inside read: "Drifter M. E. 620 Vine, Aug. 5, 1910. Latitude N. 56.40, longitude E. 2.43. All well." The bottle was found a short distance from the Scottish coast.

SPARTAN FIELD

By MANUEL RAMIREZ

About three minutes before the end of the great Armistice day classic between the University of Tampa and the Cumberland University, the huge Plant field still shook with the deafening roar of the crowds in the football arena when Rudy Rodriguez scored the second touchdown for the Spartans. Once after that tally, a stillness, almost of death, brooded over the scene as J. B. "Strawberry" Cox prepared to boot the oval for the extra point.

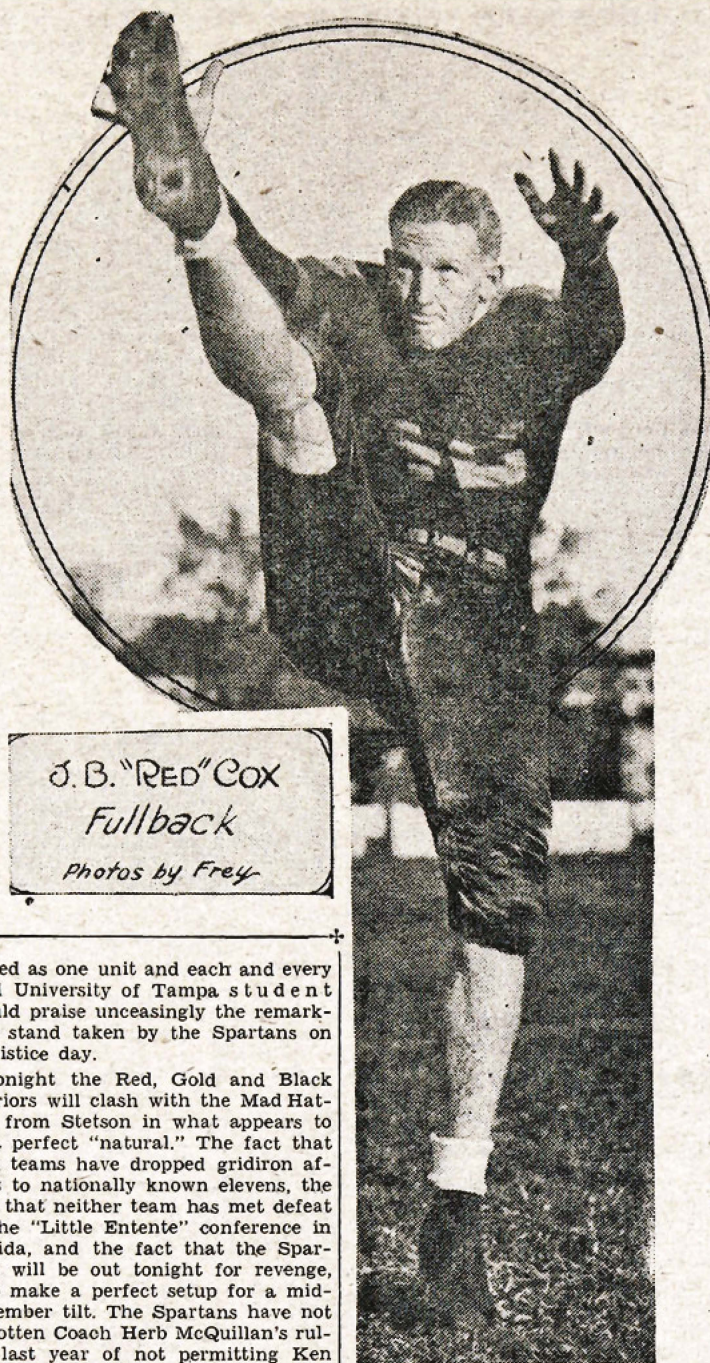

Many were the hoarse throats which yelled in glee as the plunging Spartan fullback kicked the ball for what seemed an extra point. But alas! As if by a favored gust of wind, the oval missed the left upright by a mere yard and thus gave the maroon jerseyed gridsters from Cumberland University a thrilling 13-12 victory. The heart-breaker marked the third consecutive year that a Spartan eleven has been defeated on Armistice day. Birmingham-Southern and the Auburn freshmen triumphed over the Red, Gold and Black football machine in previous years.

That fourth quarter climax, which resembled the same type of football as played by the Spartans last year against the highly-touted Panther from Birmingham-Southern, all but took the breath of the spellbound onlookers. Never before has there been such excellent spirit displayed by a football team as that of the Tampa eleven. Which brings back the words uttered this past summer at Chicago by the nationally known football mentor, Dan McGugin, that in the annals of football never has a team accomplished as much as the University of Tampa has in the past two years! A stouter eleven than the Spartans would have folded completely after Donnell had scored his second touchdown for the Bulldogs. But the "do or die" spirit of the local gridgers, driven to grim and sheer determination, gave them sufficient power to march down the field for a second tally.

However, the fighting spirit which the Spartans left on Plant field will never die and even though the University of Tampa eleven has dropped three football tilts on consecutive Armistice day classics, there will be many a fan who will cheer on and on for the courageous boys who made history as far as football is concerned.

Although the complete Spartan football squad is to be complimented for the fine brand of football exhibited, careful emphasis should be given for the outstanding game of one, Ed Carter. Ed's fine defensive tactics will never be forgotten as long as football exists at the University of Tampa. A past master in the art of blocking, Ed again demonstrated to the home folks what really takes place on ground-gaining plays. The work of Bob Trammontana, scrappy diminutive guard, deserves praise also. Not that the Spartans failed to shine, but that these unsung heroes of the gridiron are to be congratulated. The team played as one unit and each and every loyal University of Tampa student should praise unceasingly the remarkable stand taken by the Spartans on Armistice day.

Tonight the Red, Gold and Black warriors will clash with the Mad Hatters from Stetson in what appears to be a perfect "natural." The fact that both teams have dropped gridiron affairs to nationally known elevens, the fact that neither team has met defeat in the "Little Entente" conference in Florida, and the fact that the Spartans will be out tonight for revenge, help make a perfect setup for a mid-November tilt. The Spartans have not forgotten Coach Herb McQuillan's ruling last year of not permitting Ken Hance, Jimmy White, Marion Lee and Johnny Edison to play after the Tampa squad had traveled over 140 miles to DeLand. Neither have the Spartans forgotten the humiliating 19-6 defeat administered by Bert Slade and Company.

Tonight's clash, the homecoming game of the University of Tampa, will undoubtedly bear much significance for both schools. Not only will the "Little Entente" title be at stake, but also the Spartans and Hatters have to make up for past defeats. A highly touted Stetson eleven visited Tampa in 1933 only to be defeated 8-0 by an infant University of Tampa football machine. Last year, the Spartan powerhouse visited DeLand where it was stripped of the "famous four ineligibles" and dropped a 19-6 decision before the onslaught of the Mad Hatters.

To date the John B. Stetson University's Green and White have met defeat at the hands of Florida and

"Strawberry" Cox, of Quincy, Fla., whose punting has been one of the chief assets to the Spartans this year.

Sigma Kappa Nu Wins
Over Pack Elephants

The Sigma Kappa Nu touch football team, tagged to go places in a big way this season, lived up to expectations Tuesday afternoon when it defeated the defending titleholders, Pack Elephants, by a 14-0 score.

The convincing defeat at the hands of Sigma Kappa Nu "eleven," tumbled the Pack Elephants from second place and left the fraternity boys at the top of the "Big Six" scramble for the title. Their third straight touch football win left the field wide open for the Sigma Kappa Nus.

On the very first play, the fraternity boys scored on a "sleeper" play from their own 24-yard line. Donaldson, who starred in the line as well as in the backfield, heaved an aerial which traveled 20 yards through space into the waiting arms of "Honest" John Schaub who carried the oval for a touchdown. Buchanan passed to Donaldson for the extra point. Donaldson's educated toe kept the Elephants deep into their territory throughout the game.

The second score came about from the result of a fumble. Donaldson recovered an Elephant mishap early in the second period on the Elephant 18-yard marker. "Bucky" Buchanan, Wauchula flash, then picked 'em up and laid 'em down in a dazzling 20-yard run which netted the Sigma Kappa Nu gridgers their second touchdown. Blomley again passed for the extra point with Donaldson on the receiving end.

The Pack Elephant threatened to score in the third frame, but an intercepted pass by Blomley halted the 1934 champions' rally. The absence of Johnny Edison and "Monkey" Rhines from the Elephant lineup weakened the losing team's offense. Paxton and Morgan played well defensively for the Elephants. Jay Toulme starred in the backfield for the losers. The whole Sigma Kappa Nu team played a fine brand of football.

The lineups:
Sigma Kappa Nu Pack Elephants
Schaub LE Laird
B. Wilson LG Waters
Williams C Hand
Donaldson RG Hill
C. Young RE Paxton
Buchanan QB Turner
Johnson LH Morgan
Blomley RH Toulme
Substitutions: Sigma Kappa Nu—Beazley, Donnell, Thomas, Pou, DePury.

Score by periods:
Sigma Kappa Nu 7 7 0 0—14
Pack Elephants 0 0 0 0—0
Sigma Kappa Nu scoring: Touchdowns—Schaub, Buchanan. Extra points—Williams, Donaldson.

HOMECOMING NUMBER TWO

Last June twelve students received degrees from the University of Tampa. Twelve young people, just graduated, and two from the year before combined with those taking L. I. degrees to form the alumni of this institution. And now we have a wonderful result of the work of that organization, small as it is, in the arrangements for the second annual homecoming. This is not just a day for another football game but a day marked by interesting events and topped by a more interesting football game tonight.

The time for homecoming is the time for all graduates to visit the campus again and to have a hand in planning events in our calendar. All of the former students who have dropped out of school should be here, and all the present students should observe the day with them as part of an institution that is gaining strength. Nothing can be a better symbol of the permanence and position that we are acquiring slowly than this homecoming which is greatly superior to the first affair last year.

The most important part of the celebration will, of course, be the game tonight, and about all that the alumni ask in the way of co-operation is that every student that possibly can do so attend the game. A large crowd will mean good spirit and bring the attendance of Tampa football fans upon the event.

At last year's homecoming the Spartans met the University of Miami Hurricanes with a team badly impaired by the loss of four star players who were ruled ineligible by S. I. A. A. rules. They had been defeated just before that by the Stetson Hatters, 19 to 6, and to the end of the season continued on a down-grade. This year the situation is different. The Spartans have met and defeated two of the Florida small college teams, Miami and Rollins, and now have only the Stetson Hatters to beat tonight for the championship. In the 1933 game, the Spartans won from the Hatters, 8-0; in 1934, Stetson took the game, 19-6. For 1935, well—you had better be at Plant field tonight!

—EDGAR ANDREWS.

Guinta's Meditations

Smile and the world smiles with you;
Weep—and you weep alone,
For the world has enuf of sorrows—
To be bothered with your own.
—DON'S SCRAPBOOK.

SMILE! DARN YOU, SMILE!

It is said that Happiness is located in the State of Mind. When we stop to think that our dispositions are controlled by the self, we need not doubt the fact that whether we pass the day in a gayful or sullen mood is totally dependent upon our selves. I sometimes wonder what sort of serious losses some of us would incur if we were to smile and speak a word of salutation to the fellow-student we encounter in moving through our halls—instead of walking past one another like two mute bodies of living matter—merely gliding through space. In my humble opinion there is more to live for in our college contacts than the absolute drudgery of class attendance. Few things are more tiresome than college life unless a student makes it a game of greeting his fellows as he meets them, whether in the classroom, campus, or elsewhere. May I suggest that we greet our fellow-students with a smile, and make it the habit to be first to speak a word of salutation?

WE AGREE, DOCTOR

We agree with Dr. Bode in his pointed assertion recently that we lack not school spirit among our students, but cooperation of them to show that they do have it.

SHE GOES THE DIONNES ONE BETTER AND NO DR. DAFOR PRESENT, EITHER!

Your columnist is the proud owner of sextuplets—puppies of course! And what's more they've been named after his favorite courses of study: Physics, Chemistry, College Algebra, Astorn-

omy, Economics, Geology and Law. He'll have quite a body of knowledge at his command when they get together. (On second thought though, he might have to enter the butcher business.)

WE STUDY IN PEACE? HOW CAN WE?

Our hope is that our voice department may be equipped with a sound proof studio ere long. Nothing, to our way of thinking, is sweeter to the ear than a song well sung; but on the other hand—we cannot conceive of anything more distressing to the sense of hearing than the continuous, monotonous (at times blood-curdling) vocal utterances of the musical scale, as ejected without restraint into ether, by the students of voice. Ironically enough, these unwelcome cataphonics are heard loudest in the supposed-to-be "Realm of Silence" (our U library).

We know of but three great lobbying centers. That in the United States Senate, that in the State Legislature, and the one located at the University of Tampa. Ours no doubt leads them all in color and vivacity, for therein we find our campus pulchritude vying for opportunities to converse with our year's football heroes.

Epitaphs on New England tombstones:
Here lies Annie Lowder,
Died of drinking Sedlitz powder
Gone from this earth to her heavenly rest,
She should have waited till it effervesced.

Here lies our dear little Anna
Done to death by a banana.
It wasn't the fruit that laid her low.
But the skin of the thing that made her god.

VARIETY

Homecoming sorta gets you; this is Tampa U's first and we've certainly looked forward to it. It seems like old times having our grads and alumni back with us again.

The sponsors, who are elected by the football team, are a good selection. During the last game Caroline Edwards and Margaret Spamer forgot that they were Cumberland's sponsors and started cheering for Tampa U. Kitty Lea and Mercedes Rodriguez, Spartan sponsors, showed their loyalty with plenty of cheers.

Our game today is with the oldest college in Florida and our goal is "Smash those Hatters!"

There is the story of the substitute who warmed the bench for four years without ever having been sent in to play. The last game of his college career was being played—he was going to graduate. His college was losing by one touchdown. Minute by minute passed by, substitute after substitute was sent in by the coach in vain effort to produce the necessary touchdown. Finally there was no one on the bench but himself and the coach. He sat there chewing his nails nervously. At length he could stand it no longer. Edging his way over to the coach he pleaded: "Coach, coach, do me a favor and send me in. Please, coach, just send me in, get them to hand me that ball, and I swear I'll run through a brick wall for a touchdown." The coach looked at the fellow pityingly and replied: "Go sit down. Whataya think this is? A movie?"

The Park theater is showing "The Eagle's Brood" with William Boyd Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The other feature is "The Bishop Misbehaves," a picture with plenty of exciting action about an English bishop who loves detective stories and finds himself in the midst of a case to solve. Beautifully played by Edmund Gynn, newcomer, and Maureen O'Sullivan. The two students whose names were drawn this week and who will receive a free pass to the Park theater are Ruth Johnston and Carl Rahm.

Every columnist should always give his readers some good advice; here's mine for this issue:

Her lips quivered as they approached mine. My whole frame trembled as I looked in her eyes. Her body shook with intensity as our lips met, and my chin vibrated and my body shuddered as I held her to me.

Advice: Never kiss them in a flivver with the engine running!

"Darling, I love you."
"Migod, the Homecoming and you get drunk."

Well, s'long—be seeing ya at the alumni dance after the game.

OUT OF THE NIGHT

WALLFLOWERS, INC.

By HUNTER and SAMPEY
(Sampey furnishes all the inspiration. Hunter furnishes the poetic (?) ability to rhyme.)

I cried all day
I cried all night
And now my face
Is a messy sight!
Why?

She asks me why?
She doesn't know
To Froshy Prom
I shall go!

Well, today is the big day! Homecoming and all that! Three cheers and a couple of rahs for our graduates! This afternoon the whole city of Tampa will turn out for the parade both to watch and to participate, and it seems to me, that if the city can do that for the University, the University students can do it for themselves. It certainly would look funny if there are more merchants in the parade than students. In every other place the students mob at every function for the week-end, and so... it seems to me we could put forth a little effort and mob for one day. Don't you-all reckon so? ... Anyone who isn't there will be conspicuous by their absence and by their lack of school spirit. Then, too, you'll miss the best time of the school year—

Besides the parade today, there will be a senior-alumni banquet... Big feed and all that sort of thing. After that will be the game! Ta-de-dah! After the game the victors and the losers will dance—one for joy and the other because it's the thing to do... The alumni are throwing a dance here and the Beta Chi are doing the same at Tarr's... Others will be given but I haven't heard of them. There will also be many private parties (!!!) both before and after the game so that everyone will be in a festive spirit.

The Gainesville Fall Frolics start today and will continue till late Sunday night. Barney Rapp is one of the big orchestras that is playing... And many people are celebrating doubly—first our homecoming and the Gainesville's celebrating homecoming (or as they call it, Fall Frolics) celebrating or frolics... It's all the same to me...

Everyone seems to be sticking to their old boy-or-girl friends this week! I guess they realize that Christmas is only six weeks off and a bird in the hand is a lot better than being left empty-handed!

Why, oh why, is it that Leah Mae Hunter runs wild at the mention of Pittsburgh... Is it your "best beloved" or what?

Who is the girl of renowned fame... that socked "Spud" Thomson... made a nose flow profusely and then... before witnesses... burned some very important papers?

And Chansey even has girls hollering down sidewalks for him! Those were nice-looking girls, Greek gods... but young. Hi-school or just junior hi?

It seems that a certain Jay Toulme (accent on the e) is swiftly becoming the Beau Brummble of school... He even can't walk through the lobby without being swamped.

MUEZZIN CALLS

PLAYFUL LINES

He—Ho—Hum—
The world was made for playing.
This I know.
For as I grow,
The fools are always saying,
"Work and slave,
Pinch and save."
And with sweat their lives are paying.

He—Ho—Hum—
The night was made for playing.
So to me here,
Beloved dear,
Away with useless, vain delaying;
We mustn't spite
The joys of night,
For the night was made for playing.
PAUL JOHNS.

DEATH

And sometime, brother, in a year or two
Or ten or twenty and a dozen more,
When this is ended I shall be with you,
Huddled upon the prow seat while the oar
Of Charon shatters darkness, shatters mist,
Shatters, even, like a looking-glass
This primed dying that the knotted fist
Could never even smash. And we shall pass
With but a jagged vision of our souls
Pinned to the floating mirror of the stream
One moment only e'er the water rolls
Aside leaving the gurgling foam of dream.
Not awed, not frightened, we shall step asore:
Masters of Hell's broad lands, firm foot to floor.
RUSSELL ST. CLAIRE SMITH.

CREDO

The whole of life
Is in the upward rise...
In an unstagnant growth
Quickthrobbing with
The dawn fresh streaming
In one's straining eyes...
A constant thrusting
For the buried pith...
An ever onward,
Higher movement strong
And bitter, pleaded with
A pulsing song.

QUEEN TOURS IN CHARABANC

During her recent visit in Scotland, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland showed her democratic spirit by touring the Trossachs with all her suite, in a large charabanc. She had read Scott's "The Lady of the Lake," which made the Trossachs world-famous, and took with her a guide to point out places of interest. Armed with a Glasgow corporation permit, she later picnicked by the side of Loch Katrine. Her daughter, Princess Juliana, had her first experience of a Scottish house party when she attended a dinner and dance. The girl entered with zest into the intricacies of Scottish reels and Highland Schottisches.

Alumni Will Sponsor Dance in University Ball Room Tonight

The University of Tampa will sponsor a dance in the university ballroom tonight from 10:30 to 1 o'clock honoring the alumni of the institution, and the two football teams.

The senior classes of Hillsborough and Plant high schools and all University students are invited to attend this event. A small fee of .25c per couple will be charged in order to pay for expenses of the occasion.

Sponsors chosen for the dance are: Miss Carolyn Maness, who will be escorted by Mr. Miller Adams, and Miss Lucille Musgrove, escorted by Mr. John Smiley.

The assembly room will be decorated with colors of Stetson University and Tampa University. Miss Martha Powell, an alumnae, will be in charge of the decoration. Music will be furnished by Pete Canary and his "Kampus Cats."

Tampa Alumni Will Boost University

The alumni of the University of Tampa are endeavoring to bring a closer relation between the former students, graduates and the University. I consider it a privilege being one of the first members of the Alumni Association of the University of Tampa.

From the standpoint of the future growth and progress, the University has a very definite part in the development of the city of Tampa and vicinity.

There are located within 50 miles of Tampa 42 percent of the entire state population. There are approximately 500 students who graduate from our high schools in the city each year. The University of Tampa offers to this group of young men and women opportunity for a higher education and social and cultural development.

It is my belief that the University of Tampa will double the present enrollment in the next two years. The alumni of the University wish to express their appreciation and gratitude for the splendid cooperation and help that the citizens of Tampa have given this year. —MARTHA POWELL.

The Presbyterian minister had been summoned to the bedside of a Methodist woman who was very ill. Going up to the house he met the small daughter of the sick woman.

"I am glad your mother remembered me in her illness," he said. "I suppose your own pastor is out of town."

"O, no," answered the child, "he's at home, but we thought mother might have something catching and we didn't want he should be exposed to it."

University President's Welcome

Home Coming is a red letter day in hundreds of colleges and Universities. On this day, sons and daughters of dear old Alma Mater come trooping back to the familiar scenes of college days, renew old associations, retell ancient and moth-eaten anecdotes so dear to the hearts of "old grads." It is a day of hilarious and often not too academic rejoicing.

This first home coming of ours is another important mile stone in the growth of the University. We cannot look back to years of great deeds and great names. Our halls will not be filled with old gentlemen who love to assume once more the privileges of unconventional youth. Our thoughts are toward the future and we celebrate as a builder who delights in his work. The University was born and reached youthful strength within the undergraduate years of our entire student body. We still feel our growing pains but we know definitely we are on our way with confidence in our ability to succeed and faith in our destiny.

Home Coming is a day to recall our accomplishments and take new courage for the future. First we have a home in which to grow up. Should we go around the world, it would be difficult to find a more beautiful one. Already in it we possess the ivy walls, the mellow colors of age and benevolence and a thousand memories to enrich the life of its new possessor. After four short years, we can rejoice in standing with our sister schools shoulder to shoulder to uphold the best traditions of scholarship and sportsmanship, already dedicated to ideals of unselfish service to God and country. We are proud of our first alumni upon whose shoulders rests the great responsibility of demonstrating the quality and influence of higher education, and the proof that things of the mind are the best investments for successful living. We have reason to be proud of our friends who, catching a vision of the future, encouraged our immature efforts. We are proud of the spirit of loyalty and fair play that already permeates all activities of the University in football, intramural games and scholastic contests, in classroom and laboratory. We are grateful to trustees and faculty who have and are giving time and strength in the interest of education and youth.

And so while other schools older and more sophisticated than we observe the annual trek homeward, we too, with our own little memories and satisfactions, celebrate the first Home Coming, with less blare of trumpets and rolling of drums, perhaps, but with no less cause for pride.

FRED H. SPAULDING (Signed).

Flying ants became so familiar during a cricket match at Outwood village green in Surrey, England, that they stopped the contest for half an hour. After the wicketkeeper, batsman and bowler had complained to the umpire that the intruders were biting them at crucial moments play was suspended. The players cleared the pitch of insects, and the game was resumed.

SIX TEAMS ARE IN INTRA-MURAL TOUCH FOOTBALL

Miller Adams Directs Intra-Mural Activities

Three fraternities and three clubs form the nucleus of the 1935 touch football league in the intra-mural department of the University of Tampa, announced Miller K. Adams, director of intra-mural athletics at the school.

The "Big Six" gridiron season, opened at Spartan Field two weeks ago by Sigma Kappa Nu's 14-0 win over Beta Chi, promises to be the best in the football annals of the University. Members of the touch football conference this year are the defending champions, Pi Epsilon Pack Elephants, Sigma Kappa Nu, Sigma Epsilon, Plebes, Beta Chi, and the recently organized fraternity, Rho Nu Delta. Each team, strengthened by the material coming from high schools all over the state, will be able to compete in full force at every tilt.

Several new factors will add to the interest of the football followers here this year. The new Spartan Field was recently completed by the city recreation department under the supervision of Miller Adams and the Intra-mural Board of the University of Tampa. Capable football officials from the coaching school will handle the games with competent scorers assisting. The fact that the fraternities are enforcing compulsory participation and attendance at the games will also add zest to the success of the 1935 touch football campaign.

Addition of former high school and college football luminaries will also stimulate interest this year. Johnny Edison, ruled ineligible from the University of Tampa varsity football team by the S. I. A. A., and Jay Toulme, former Mississippi player, have strengthened the Pack Elephants. "Chet" Morgan, former Hillsborough high school end, also plays for the Elephants. Jimmy Blomly, who played at Birmingham before matriculating at the University of Tampa and "Buck" Buchanan, former Wauchula flash, form two-thirds of the high-scoring Sigma Kappa Nu backfield. Bradenton high contributed Edward Plummer, Rho Nu Delta's roving center, to the local institution. Beta Chi has a former Howard griddier in Pete Canary, who played center for the Bulldogs in "33". Bob Shoun, former all-state fullback while at Hillsborough, and C. S. "Kip" Moore, who was a linesman while at Louisiana State University lead the destiny of Sigma Epsilon's football team.

Spartan Field, the new gridiron of the intra-mural department is a beautifully laid out field of play which measures 72 yards in length with 10-yard end zones. There are six 12-yard zones which mark the field. The new playing field is 40 yards wide.

The first two weeks of play have indicated that the annual rush for the gridiron title will be tighter this year than ever. At the present, Sigma Kappa Nu, with its Ohio State shift, seems to have the strongest team on the field. However, the loss of Louis Sullivan, all-star field general, Miller Adams, John Flannery, "Bix Six" end, and Spencer Bures will be felt heavily by that fraternity.

The Pack Elephants, defending titleholders, will miss John Traina, all-around athlete, Bob Morales, Adolf Ramirez, all-star back and several other players. Sigma Epsilon, Beta Chi and the 1935 Plebes will have formidable teams during the season.

Star for Stetson Team

Frank "Tiny" Minehart, 210-pound center from Youngstown, Ohio, is playing his first year on the Stetson varsity this season. When Coach Brady Cowell was looking around for a stalwart to replace at the pivot position "Swede" Phillips, star center on last year's squad who was shifted to end this season, the husky sophomore won the assignment against strong competition from other candidates. The big blonde sophomore has won high praise from supporters of the Green and White for his work thus far this season.

but the mystery squad will be the newly organized Rho Nu Delta fraternity. Led by Charles Sierra, former Pack Elephant griddier, and "Eve" Lopez, the Trojans will provide plenty action in the current season.

Following are the squads of the 1935 "Big Six" touch football teams:

Sigma Kappa Nu — Buchanan, Blomley, Kelley, Johnson, Wilson, Thomas, Pou, Sanford, Young, Schaub, Beasley, Donnell, DePury, Donaldson, King, Williams.

Rho Nu Delta—Manuel Ramirez, Anderson, Castro, Miyares, Scaglione, Plummer, Hernandez, Goodyear, Sierra, Delgado, Alonso, Cuervo, Prado, Guerra, Lopez, Fernandez.

Beta Chi—Newkirk, Lindsay, Sullivan Nelson, Curren, Pittman, Canary, Trawick, Greene, A. Young, B. Lindsay, Pichard.

Pi Elephants — Edison, Morgan, Rhines, Smiley, Hill, Turner, Galbraith, Laird, Paxton, Nelson, A. D. Young, Thompson, Toulme.

Sigma Epsilon — Bridges, Acosta, Davidson, Sullivan, Upson, Wilkerson, L. Fernandez, Andrews, Collins, Hunter, Bailiff, Goss, Long, Shoun, Moore, Henriquez.

Plebes—Sheppard, Balcom, Gepson, Zendequi, Lassiter, Cannon, Green, Wackerman, Rodgers, Briley, Hattaway, Parsons.

Handsome Tackle Is Star of Stetson Line

DELAND, Nov. 14.—(Special.)—Winston Bridges, Stetson's muscular and good-looking 200-pound tackle, has been helping to win fame for the Hatter line in this, his third, season on the Green and White eleven. He is a Jacksonville boy.

In matches with the Florida Gators, the Oglethorpe Petrels, and the Howard College Bulldogs, Bridges has more than held his own against the most formidable opposition. He is a quiet, somewhat retiring young man off the gridiron and indeed Head Coach Brady Cowell and Line Coach Chester Freeman were afraid when they first observed him that he was too lacking in aggressiveness to be a great tackle. But since the opening game at Gainesville they have changed their minds. With Claude Miller at the other tackle, the Hatters have been able to maintain a superior brand of play at this position throughout the first half of the season.

When injuries knocked out almost all the Hatter ends early this year, Bridges was shifted to the end for a while and there he did almost equally fine work in breaking up end runs and outwitting would-be blockers. He now has returned, however, to his normal post between the guard and wing man.

There are no free scholarships in the school of experience.

TAMPA SPARTAN CREW BATTLES STETSON HERE

"Little Four" Title Will Be Decided

By MANUEL RAMIREZ

The University of Tampa Spartans will loosen all the fury that has been bottled up since their humiliating defeat at the hands of the Stetson Hatters a year ago when they meet the same Green and White eleven on Plant field tonight at 8 p. m.

The football classic of small colleges in Florida will determine the 1935 champions of the "Little Entente" and will also determine the football supremacy between the two schools. In 1933, Stetson's Hatters scheduled the University of Tampa football machine as a good "warm-up" opponent. But the Spartans turned the tables over and defeated a highly touted Stetson eleven 8-0 on a muddy football field. Last year, however, the Hatters took the Spartans into camp with a 19-6 victory. The Spartans were handicapped with the ruling made by Coach Herb McQuillan that Ken Hance, Jimmy White, Marion Lee and Johnny Edison could not play. Bert Slade, scintillating quarterback, led the Green and White to triumph over the locals.

The Red, Gold and Black eleven has met defeat on the gridiron only once this year—a thrilling 13-12 defeat at the hands of Cumberland University. The Spartans have run over South Georgia State, Miami, Newberry and Rollins for a total of 75 points as against 33 for the opponents. The Mad Hatters from Deland have been outscored by opposing teams, 98-40, but they have bowed to such powerful teams as the Florida Gators and the Howard Bulldogs. They defeated the Oglethorpe Petrels, Miami and Erskine University.

Stetson, under the tutelage of the new Head Coach Brady Cowell, will bring to Tampa practically the same football squad which trounced the Spartans a year ago at Deland. Only Bert Slade, dynamic back, will be missing. But the Hatters will spring Herbert Wotring, who starred against Oglethorpe, Florida and Howard, Ken Louton, punting ace of the Green and White, and the elusive Aubrey Smith. Ed Knittle and the towering Gannarelli help round out a well balanced backfield. From the line only Peck, all-state tackle, will be missed, but Haynesworth still picks 'em up and lays 'em down at guard. Frank Minehart, sophomore center who hails from Youngstown, Ohio, and who resembles Tampa's Willie Godwin, is expected to go places at the pivot position. Captain Harry "Whitey" Gordon, stellar guard of the Stetson eleven, will lead the Mad Hatters against the Spartans.

The Red, Gold and Black gridders will start their sixth football tilt reinforced with the return of Crockett Farnell, who has been out of the Tampa lineup since the Rollins debacle. The complete Spartan squad, with a few exceptions, will be in tip-top shape for the annual homecoming affair. The Green and White from Deland, some 30 strong, will appear on Plant field in the best condition. Their last game, a smashing 19-13 victory over Erskine University, was played a week ago while the Spartans are still recovering from their Armistice day classic.

An added attraction will be the "battle of music" between the Stetson Green and White band and the University of Tampa red-clad band. The Hatter musicians, 55 in strength, will maneuver before the grandstand at Plant field between halves, while the Red, Gold and Black band will step their best in the forthcoming game.

Joe Coniglio Elected Head of Dramatic Club

The recently organized dramatic club of the University held its regular meeting last Friday at which time it was decided that the selection of a name would be derived from the number of the dramatic course as catalogued. Therefore the name "313 Masquers" was unanimously selected.

The following officers were selected: J. S. B. Coniglio, president; Verna Vining, vice president; Dolly Quinn, secretary; Bert Hernandez, treasurer; and Bruce Kelly, press reporter. The faculty advisor and director is Mrs. Elizabeth Potter Connally.

The membership of the group is limited to 25. There are four vacancies to be filled by boys.

The club plans to dramatize a course in etiquette in the near future. Tryouts for the two plays, "The Elopement of Ellen" and "Her First Assignment," have been held and the cast are in rehearsal for the early production. Those cast in these plays are: Anne Peebles, Mary Goulding, Verna Vining, Fred Carter, Bruce Kelly, Truman Hunter, Bert Hernandez, Louise Taylor, Grace Daynon, Lucille Lynd, Mary Alice Lomax, Dolly Quinn, Gracie Jones, Louise Green and Marjorie DeWolf.

A husband and wife were driving along a lonely country road. They had had a spat. A mule brayed. "One of your relatives?" he asked. "Yes, by marriage," was her reply. —"Bagology."

Scotchman: You sell those cigars three for a quarter, don't you?

Grocer: Yes.

Scotchman: Well, here's a nickel. I'll take the other one.

We cheer with joy supreme

Not far above old Tampa bay,
With waters so blue,
There stand our hearts, we're proud

And be ever true;
Hail to glorious Alma Mater,
Hail to Tampa U.

Hail to our grand, glorious, and wise,
Alma Mater dear;

And sing to you here.

Thy Minarets piercing the sky,
That is always blue,
They remind us of Florida,
And our Tampa U.

University Yacht Club

Captain Hudgens of the Bull Line last Wednesday night gave a very interesting and comprehensive talk to the University Yacht Club on the Gulf Stream. Many important and interesting facts were brought out concerning the whys and wherefores of the Stream. Aside from the scientific lecture on the Gulf Stream he mentioned personal experiences with mermaids which especially interested the boys of the club.

In the line of business the club made tentative plans for another yachting party in the near future.

"MOTHER" OF 73 WINS PRIZE

For having brought up 73 children a widow of 66 has just won a prize of $200 in Le Touquet, France. The 73 were little wards of the nation abandoned by their parents. "I was married at 17," she said, "but I had no children, so I applied to the authorities."
