Spartans Will Meet MacDill Field, Oct. 12

University Plans For Homecoming

"This year's Homecoming will be the largest in the history of the University of Tampa, with the end of the war and the return of many veterans, former students and alumni. Plans are now being made to entertain at least 1000 alumni during Homecoming Weekend, according to James W. Whitehead, alumni secretary.

The dates of Oct. 25 and Oct. 26 have been definitely set for the homecoming, and the weekend will start with a reception at the ballroom of a local hotel. The entire weekend will be filled with luncheons, dinners, dances, open house and the big game, which will be the climax. With the return of football, absent from the University scene since 1942, a capacity crowd is expected to turn out for the tilt with Georgia State Teachers' College of Douglas, Ga., on Oct. 26.

The weekend will begin with registration of all alumni in the lobby of a local hotel on Oct. 25, at 6 P. M. The hotel will be announced later. Immediately following will be the President's Reception at the same hotel. At 7:30 the Alumni Banquet and election of alumni officers will be held. The present officers are Crockett Farnell, president; Earl Hatcher, vice president; James W. Whitehead, secretary, and Robert Wilson, treasurer.

At 9 o'clock there will be a bonfire and pep rally on the former site of the American Legion Casino in front of the University. At 9:30 the Sigma Theta Phi will hold a Harvest Costume Ball at Regan Park. Prizes will be given for the most original, and for the corniest costume.

On Saturday there will be open house all day for the alumni, beginning with a parade starting at the University and going through the business district of Tampa. Dr. Elwood C. Nance, president of the University; Curtis Hixon, mayor of Tampa, and Crockett Farnell, president of the Alumni, will lead the parade.

The newly-formed band of the University will lead the parade in full uniform for the first time since the end of the war. Following the band will be many floats representing sororities, fraternities and clubs of the University, and floats from various concerns in Tampa. University freshmen will bring up the rear, clad in pajamas.

The fraternities and sororities will give their luncheons at 12:00. Plans for these luncheons have not been completed as yet, but the schedule will be announced in the next edition of the Minaret.

The kickoff for the Homecoming game will occur at 2:30, at Phillips Field.

Climaxing Homecoming will be the Student Senate dance at 9:00 after the game. Through the efforts of Manuel Alvarez, Jr., president of the student body, the dance will be held at the Centro Espanol without any charge to the University.

The next issue of the Minaret will be a homecoming edition. This issue will include a complete program of homecoming activities.

Spartans In Shape For MacDill Battle Saturday

Coach Straub announced that the University of Tampa Spartan football team had scheduled a game with MacDill Field on Saturday night, Oct. 12, at 8 o'clock.

The Fliers are coached by Cass Myslinski and Al Merritt, former members of the powerful Third Air Force team who are stationed in Tampa. Both are former All-Americans.

Although several lettermen are back on the Spartan squad this year, Coach Straub is depending on newcomers for most of his material.

Willard Knight, veteran back, who is out of play for the season with a shoulder injury. Knight will assist Straub as backfield coach. Bill Spranza is also on the Spartan coaching staff.

Probable Starters

Straub said yesterday that positions are wide open all down the line and through the backfield, but admitted that this combination would probably see a lot of action against the Fliers: Tom Ritter and Salty Burns, ends; Glenn Reed and Bill Bryant, tackles; Clyde Evans and Fernando Lopez, guards; Conn Straub, center; Jack Layfield, Jerry Jackson, Manuel Miranda and Hunter Armentrout, backs.

"The squad is rounding into shape fast," Straub said, "and will be in top condition for the Fliers."

Sorority Almost Goes Co-Ed

Metz Zamour just missed the opportunity to become a pledge of the Alpha Gamma Sorority. Under the assumed name of Mitzie Milton, he was proposed as a prospective pledge and an invitation for the Circus Party was issued him. But came the night of the party and Mitzie did not show up. Unable to secure transportation, he was forced to forego the pleasure of attending an Alpha Gamma party.

The secret of the prank was so well kept that it was not until a few days later that the conspirators confessed that "Mitzie" was a man.

Better luck next time, Metz. You may become a sorority sister yet.

GIRL ASSEMBLY

In an assembly for sophomore, junior, and senior girls last Tuesday, Miss Jones, dean of women, discussed various projects for the semester, and requested the cooperation of students. She suggested a friendliness campaign to make freshmen feel at home in the university, and a campaign to create more interest in class organizations.

She said that she plans to present interesting speakers and subjects at assemblies, which are compulsory, and asked for suggestions.

RADIO TALENT SOLICITED

If you have aspirations toward radio broadcasting work, whether it be in the writing, performing, or technical aspects, contact Roy McGillivray, Instructor in Speech.

Three weekly programs are being planned by the University Broadcasting Service.

Cheerleaders Chosen for '46

To help cheer the '46 Spartan football team on to victory, nine brand-new cheerleaders were chosen Wednesday by the faculty. The squad includes: Evelyn Jewell, "Scotty" Branch, Dora Lee Bowen, "Sis" Ellis, Alyce Griffin, Pat Scott, Bill Hair, Billy Handley, "Butch" Lorton and Peggy Anderson, alternate.

The election followed a two weeks practice by some 20 candidates under the supervision of "Butch" Lorton, former head cheerleader at Hillsborough High School.

A meeting of the cheerleaders was held Friday at which "Butch" Lorton was chosen head-cheerleader and Dora Lee Bowen as alternate leader. A uniform was selected and plans were made for a pep-rally Tuesday.

Now a word about each Tampa University cheerleader:

Evelyn Jewell graduated in 1944 from Hillsborough High, where she served in the band, chorus and orchestra. She is now a Junior, making music her major subject. Since attending Tampa University she has been outstanding in the field of sports, and the Alpha Gamma Sorority, of which she is a member, thinks Evelyn is just about tops on their teams.

"Scotty" Branch is just a lowly freshman but threatens to have as long a string of honors here as she did in Hillsborough High School. There she was a cheerleader, R. O. T. C. sponsor, Thespians, and a member of the Red and Black staff. She graduated in June of this year and is now majoring in Dramatics.

Dora Lee Bowen is short but packed with pep. She also attended Hillsborough, where she was especially active in intermural sports.

REGISTRATION IN PROGRESS FOR ADULT COURSES

Registration for the adult education courses at the Tampa University began in the business office Monday morning, and will continue through Saturday noon. For the benefit of those people whose occupations prevent their coming to the university in person, arrangements have been made for registration by mail, or having a friend to register for them.

These courses are to begin on Oct. 14, and to run for 10 weeks.

Under the direction of Dr. Donald W. Robinson, The Adult Education Center plans a full and varied curriculum of subjects, ranging from contract bridge to navigation. All classes will be held in the afternoon or evening, to enable professional and business people to participate in the program.

Cultural Opportunities

For those whose desires lie toward the development of facilitating social relations, a number of courses have been prepared to meet these needs. These courses include art appreciation, social dancing, Spanish, Italian, contract bridge, radio writing and acting, effective expression through speech, and landscape painting.

Vocational and Commercial

In the line of commercial training, courses are offered in typing, shorthand, speech, merchandising, life insurance, navigation and piloting, and merchandising. The course in merchandising will be taught in the Maas Brothers Department Store, and students will have an opportunity to get in on the actual operation of retail merchandising, opportunities for part-time work on Saturdays and the Christmas holidays being available.

General Value Courses

A group of courses are to be offered with the aim of rounding out the individual and giving him a better understanding of the relationship between him and his environment. These courses will include the series of lectures to be given by Dr. Niederland in Achieving a Healthy Personality, the course he will give in intercultural group-study, and those courses in health for women, current events, income tax, United States since 1917, and others.

Hobbies, Too

The values of having hobbies is well known. To help the members of the Great Tampa community to find, develop, and participate in their favorite hobbies, the Adult Education Center offers courses in contract bridge, pottery, social dancing, radio writing and acting, and such other courses as shall from time to time result from popular request.

Enrollment Limited

To assure acceptance for any of the subjects offered, Dr. Robinson advises early submission of applications, as the number for each class is limited. Those who are interested should secure application blanks from the University of Tampa, and submit them as soon as possible.

Prepare today for tomorrow's world.

Vets Receive Military Credits

"Veterans enrolled at T. U. will receive four hours of college credit in military science if they have served actively with the armed forces for more than six months," Dean Rhodes has announced.

"The university has followed the policy of all other educational institutions in awarding college credits for special training courses in the armed services, whenever same has received the approval of national accrediting agencies," Dr. Rhodes said.

Courses in Freshman and Sophomore physical education will be waived for veterans having six months service, provided they can successfully pass screening tests and will participate actively in intermural sports.

Science Assn. Accepts T. U.

The University of Tampa has been accepted as a member of the Southern Association of Science and Industry, Dr. E. C. Nance, president of the university, announced Saturday in his office.

The purpose of the association, founded in 1941 at Mobile, Ala., is to foster the economic and social development of the South by improving technological and scientific educational facilities, by giving Southerners an opportunity to study the South and learn about its resources, and by supplying members with an inventory of Southern resources.

"We are glad to be able to increase the scope of the University's service to the community and to the South by lending our support to the Southern Association of Science and Industry in its plans to arouse greater interest in the betterment of education and to urge greater endowments for Southern schools and the South's economic welfare," Dr. Nance said.

Handicap Week Is Here

Many of our handicapped persons are disabled as a result of military service in defense of our country. Millions of others were either born with some defect or, through injury or disease, became physically handicapped later in life.

But, despite being blind, deaf, hard of hearing, or being victims of polio, cardiac troubles, amputations, and numerous other disabling diseases, defects, or injuries, millions of these handicapped are perfectly capable of performing varied kinds of employment successfully.

During World War II, the physically handicapped made a wonderful record as workers in the war production plants, where approximately 1,500,000 of them helped build ships, planes, tanks, guns, bombs, and all of the other implements by which we overcame our enemies.

Employers found the handicapped excellent workers. Their records on absenteeism were better than the non-handicapped. Their accident record was also better than that of non-disabled, because, already being disabled, they were careful and did not take unnecessary chances. Their production record compared favorably with that of non-handicapped, and even exceeded the latter in several instances. So, the handicapped, under stress, proved they were worthy of responsibility, and they helped write a brilliant page in the history of our war production.

List all jobs for handicapped persons with the United States Employment Service. Phone M-8471.

Vet's Wives Form Club

A group of the wives of the veterans attending the University of Tampa are attempting to organize a club for the student veterans' wives. The chief purpose of this club will be to provide an opportunity for these women to get acquainted, and to stimulate friendship and understanding of their mutual problems. It would also provide a special means of welcoming the wives of student veterans who come to the university from other cities and states.

The club is to be a social group, approved by the university, and membership will extend to all wives of veterans attending the university.

All wives interested in becoming charter members of the club are invited to attend the initial meeting, which will be held at the university, Friday evening, Oct. 11. The group will assemble in the lobby at 7:15, then retire to the meeting room.

All married veterans are urged to communicate this message to their wives.

One of the most apparent symptoms of high-schoolishness and adolescence is the ganging together of a few into what is known as a "clique." These groups are usually composed of a few who have various and sundry things in common. The members are often so absorbed in their own tight bunch of affairs that they leave out many whose company they might enjoy if they untied the apron strings of their clique long enough to wander out and find them.

By the time one is old enough to attend institutions of higher learning the adolescence in them should have subsided enough to avoid such groups. In T. U. however, it is still apparent that there are still some suffering from such adolescent hangovers. Sticking together in their own tight little bunches they remind onlookers of a handful of survivors sitting on a raft in the midst of a vast ocean. In elections they nominate their own candidates for office and close their minds to the fact that the opponent might have higher qualifications and be better equipped for office. They leave many boys and girls out of social affairs and extra-curricular activities for reasons ranging from rumors and gossip they hear to a sudden aversion to the color of their eyes.

T. U. is an up and coming organization. There is no room for petty quarrels between cliques and dissension over topics of vital interest. We all want our university to become accredited for many personal reasons. One way to help it along is to show the outside world so full of hate and dissension that a group, a large group of people can be one big happy family. For your own enjoyment and pleasure try looking for the interesting characteristics in the most uninteresting person you may happen to meet. You can never know what you may turn up until you try and find out. To attain a pleasant feeling of contentment and happiness, make the new students feel welcome and the old ones still on the outside feel wanted by the simple means of a smile and a hello for everyone and a welcome friendly attitude.

MAKE A GOOD START

By Frances Combee

Who has not, in ambitious fervor, resolved to make a brilliant record in the new semester?

Every person who has ever daydreamed through a class or crammed for a test knows how much easier it is to drift and procrastinate than to conscientiously work toward an objective. Everyone who has slipped into the habit of drifting comes to realize that this is not the way good grades are acquired.

It isn't necessary to be a grind in college. More often than not, the person who makes the dean's list is simply an interested student who takes his work seriously. He also finds time to be popular and to participate in extra curricular activities.

Many University organizations are connected with fields of study. These include the Minaret, which welcomes students interested in journalism; the Quill Club, a literary organization; the 313 Masquers, the University dramatics club; and the Alpha Mu Tau and Kappa Kappa Psi, societies for music majors and minors.

The Phi Society, an organization devoted solely to scholastic achievement, serves always as an incentive for students to make excellent grades in all courses.

Now at the beginning of the semester, when resolutions are hardly tarnished, is the time to acquire good habits of study.

STUDENT SENATE

By MANUEL ALVAREZ

A hearty "thank you" is due to the entire Student Body for their excellent cooperation during Fall elections. I would like to welcome Robert McDonald, president of the freshman class, and James Ferrell, freshman representative, in to the Senate. I am sure that they will do their best to fulfill these positions and meet your expectations. Congratulations also to the other winning candidates of individual classes.

Alvarez

One of the outstanding features of this year's Student Senate Activities is the preparations now under way for the largest, gala homecoming that we have ever had. With the assistance of the Alumni and the cooperation of all fraternities, sororities, clubs, religious organizations, and individual students, we can turn out an outstanding event in the city.

The Student Senate is confident that there will be one hundred percent participation by all freshmen wearing their pajamas for the parade, though the project is on a strictly voluntary basis.

We sincerely welcome back our band, which will lead us in the familiar red, gold, and black uniform for the first time since the war.

Accomplishments made thus far by the Senate for the affair are: Obtaining proclamation of the University of Tampa Day from Honorable Mayor Curtis Hixon, and also the pleasure of his presence in the head car of the parade along with Dr. E. C. Nance, President of the University of Tampa, and Coach Crockett Farnell. Arrangements have been made for the Student Senate dance to be held at the Centro Espanol De Tampa ball room, situated at Broadway and 16th St.

In conclusion I want to remind you to be sure to save the 25th and 26th of October for a sensational University of Tampa homecoming!

DORM RIOTS

By DEE ROBINSON

At the monthly meeting of the Girls' Dorm Club, held Sept. 23, new officers were elected for the coming year. They are: Pat Tallant, president; Becky LaBoon, vice president; Babs Hammett, secretary; and Mimi Gorsline, treasurer. Plans for a Dorm Dance were also made, and a date will be set later.

The Dorm seems to be about the busiest place on campus since the rush parties and football games have started.

This wonderful Fall weather seems to have infected everyone . . . and the aroma of mothballs is pretty overpowering since the gals started unpacking blankets and those purty sweaters everyone likes so well.

The piano has been tuned, which should make Pat Tallant and Dot Nylander happy . . . and Adele Adams, too. She's been trying to play "Clare de Lune" for the past two semesters.

The ol' coffee-pot in the kitchen seems to be getting a work-out with all this after-lights-out studying (?). Leads one to think that the dorm gals are pretty studious. Setting a good example for the fourth floor, no doubt.

EDITOR'S NOTE:—No doubt.

Rush Season Starts With Pan-Hellenic Tea Party

Sorority rushing at the University of Tampa formally opened last Monday afternoon from four to six with a formal tea held in the university ball room.

Miss Thelma Jones, Dean of Women, and sorority advisors and presidents formed the receiving line, which welcomed all non-sorority girls at the door.

Advisors and presidents are: Mrs. Elsie Sheppard and Barbara Raffo, Delta Kappa; Miss Charlotte Thompson and Marlam Chastain, Sigma Theta Phi; and Mrs. Robbie Landry and Mary LiCalsi, Alpha Gamma. Mrs. Landry was unable to attend because of illness in the family.

Serving at the punch bowl were Mrs. G. H. Baker, and Mrs. D. W. Robinson, wives of two faculty members.

Refreshments were provided by the Alpha Gammas and the Delta Kappas. Sigma Theta Phi furnished the decorations. Entertainment was offered by Jeanne Cusumano and Mary Jo Glenn, piano solos, and Dorothy Quarterman, a dance specialty.

All non-sorority girls at the tea were dressed in formal afternoon dresses, while sorority girls wore evening gowns.

Oh! My Aching Back Or I Want To Be A Cheerleader

By Sis Ellis

Following two weeks work out, the 1946 Cheerleaders of Tampa University were chosen last Wednesday. Poor things, they would have been glad to hear it before it was too late—'tis sad.

The lone survivor was notified of his election at the Tampa Hospital yesterday, but to no avail as he is not expected to live more than a few days. (And they did work so hard.) Perhaps you would like to hear the sad sad story of their misfortune.

About two weeks ago the first cheerleader practice was called and happy little University students went out for it with the hope of being able to cheer our Spartan team on to victory. The next day, another practice was called and not so many candidates, (and not such happy candidates) were out ready to work.

Every day it was the same thing, until finally the number had dwindled down to almost nothing. What few eager beavers did remain might as well not have been there for all the pep they had. But they tried, yes they did, they did. "Butch" was screaming, "up-down-one-two-up-down-one-two," and faithfully the candidates would stagger to their knees on the count of one and fall back flat on their face on the count of two. So see, they really were tryin'!

Besides the constant groans and screams of agony, could be heard remarks such as these—Dora Lee: "I'm tired"; Margaret: "I'm tired"; Billy: "I'm tired"; Pat: "I'm tired"; Mary Jo: "I'm tired"; (that's what I like, variety.) Margaret High: "I'm tired"; Scotty: "I'm tired"; Adele: "I'm tired"; Evelyn: "Let's give another yell", (hey, how'd she get in there?); Alice: "—" (And she was such a NICE girl!)

Finally the big day came and Tampa University students crowded the front porch to see the prospective cheer leaders give a few cheers while the faculty members who were to choose them hid in the trees so as not to offend any one. "But where are the cheerleaders?" asked the students. Soon the sad news got around and a long slow driving line of cars could be seen heading for, yes—the cemetery.

Nine little graves could be seen and on each tombstone, the following epitaph:

"We yelled 'til our lungs could utter no more;

"We jumped 'til our wittle wegs were sore;

"We twisted and turned and worked—what a sin;

"Ah, what nice little cheerleaders we could have been."

FACULTY COLUMN

By NORMAN BORCHARDT

I gladly comply with a request to write something for the faculty column of the Minaret. I wish first to thank the administration for the excellent space given our department and for the redecoration of the rooms.

I feel that this year we have an excellent, live, and happy group of students taking art in the various classes that make working with them a joy to the instructor. Not only is the class a larger one than ever before in its history, but I feel among them a potential talent which I am sure will find expression in a way which will make us all proud before the end of the year.

I wish also to welcome the many older students who were called to serve our country during the recent war and who are now with us again. These and others formerly in the service are, I am sure, a wonderful asset to the university. Their presence; their womanly and manly poise; their will to work and interest in their work all go to make their presence in the class and in the school as a whole a wonderful factor in raising the morale of the institution.

313 Masquers Add Members

Final tryouts for the 313 Masquers were held Tuesday night, Oct. 1. Candidates presented their final test, an original pantomime. Those selected to join were: Edith Spiegel, Barbara Bedford, Doris Johnson, Ed Kendricks, Barbara O'Berry, Frank Donsy, Ruth Ann O'Berry, Glenn Hooper, Joseph Russo, Dick Saxon, Peggy Chambers, Sis Ellis, Jack Cartledge, Barbara Blake, Mary Nell Buck, and Fred Copell.

At the next Tuesday night meeting plans for a three-act play will be discussed.

Hayes: Is it raining outside?

B. J.: Yes.

Hayes: Good! Now we know that it isn't an inside job.

THE RAZOR'S EDGE

By SIS ELLIS

Hee, Hee, Hee, it's such a good feeling to know you can tear up every soul in this school for a whole year and be able to hide behind a newspaper's skirt. Right about now, I'd better tell you innocent little kiddies to beware of the Razors' Edge (O.K., so the darn edge is dull). And to the sky, weak minded, inferior, anemic, individual (speak to me Bill) don't hide under a table every time you John Henry is mentioned in this so called column. Speaking of being under tables, I'll never forget the first time I ever saw Bobby Fielder . . . my goodness!

To be perfectly truthful this column was shoved at me, at the point of my gun, therefore I have no idea what the dear editor expects. That editor! What she knows about a newspaper could be put into a thimble and there would still be plenty of room for Gordon Stevens' brain. How in the world they overlooked me and made her editor, I shall never know. She probably knew Harry, who knew Johnny, who knew Therman, who knew Oscar, who knew Cecil, who knew Joe and therefore she got to be editor. I might add that if you knew Frances like I know Frances, she probably knew 'em all.

By the way, have any of you ever taken a good look at the dorm girls? The dorm girls really aren't so bad; I'm sitting here in the midst of them now and some of these get-ups you must hear about. There's Pat over there in the corner doing her music homework. At least I think it's Pat—for the answer to this puzzle please look on page four. And there's Boon—sure hope she wasn't hurt in the wreck—seriously she looks right smart in her dad's "you-know-whats" that she insists on sleeping in. And dear ole Nancy; she looks so feminine in her slinky nitie and her size nine and a half, with saddles and wool socks gently and sweetly propped up on the piano. "Smooty" and Dot are here too, but the human eye can stand just so much so I'll not attempt to describe them.

But leave us find a more interesting subject, which won't be hard to do. S'pose we go slummin' and talk about Fielder's friends, fans, and fiends. Take Rickie for instance I dare say, if that child don't shut his eyes he's gonna bleed to death.

"Hoop" and Bill are really tops tho—surely you know them, they're the insipid—er pardon, I mean inseparable room mates. 'Twas really a shame about them this Summer tho, they must have been quite ill, with all the time they spent at the local hospitals.

"Hoop" is really the better half however; he seems to have all the brawn, brains and beard. Gosh, I'll never forget the first time I saw him. He was leaning over in the lobby tying Bills' shoe laces, and from the back I could see the rippling muscles thru his shirt, his broad shoulders, his slim waist and hips, his—but then he turned around and I got a look at that (I hesitate to say) face, which only goes to show you how you can be fooled in the end, (ahem).

Tommy Waugh is another character around the school—surely you've seen him—all yo gotta do is open your eyes and you're bound to see him—he's lost a lot of weight since last year when he went horseback riding—why, I heard that this year he rides the horse. Good ole Tommy.

Ah yes, the people you meet at Tampa University are really characters you'll never forget—but keep trying! They're all such good sports too—bet not a one has taken a thing I've said to heart, not that the majority of them have one—but they can usually take a joke. Think I'd better quit about now tho and take some of these knives outta my back.

Rho Nu Delta Has Hayless Hayride

By "ROSIE" CICCARELLO

In a mood of pastoral simplicity, Rho Nu Delta closed its September social season with a gigantic hayride. There was only one difficulty connected with this hayride, there was no hay.

The hayless hayride culminated at beautiful Lake Ellen located in the golden ochre hills of North Hillsborough County. Dinner was served on the unique patio extending over the southern corner of the lake. The menu consisted of cokes, popcorn, and wieners. Mustard and pickles were also present. Buns added to the variety.

After-dinner dancing was held in the wall-less, floorless, and roofless blue and white room of the lake resort. Music for this open-air dance was furnished by a record player equipped with the latest in automatic record changers and the latest scientific development in tone arms.

Robert "Bugs" Payne provided a program of varied entertainment with his water show. Dan Blanco added to the entertainment with his imitation of dancing. One of the outstanding events of the evening was Blanco's own individualized interpretation of Tchaikovsky's "Sleeping Beauty" Waltz. One of the strangest events of the night was Ted Baldwin's constant repetition of "Tampa U. Is Beautiful." Bontanist Troy Smith spent most of the night studying the bark of a large oak tree.

Rho Nu Delta's private photographer was present to record this event for posterity. A special exhibition of these photographs will be held soon.

Everyone had the traditional good time. After the party, everyone went home.

Plans are now being made for a dance to be held Nov. 1. A wienersless wiener roast is also planned soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nava were the guests of honor at the above mentioned hayless hayride.

When the prospective football players signed the roster the name of the highest official in the student body was conspicuously there. We wonder when he intends to come to practice—if ever!

The date room is to be used for couples. There should be no priority as there is now. Becky Borde and Jack Brockman take notice.

I would take a 10 to 1 bet that Bob Moler was an officer in the Air Corps. A. Adams is longing for a letter from G. M. C.

'Tis a rumor the Beta Chi (Fat Boys Club) are working toward a degree in lobby-sitting. Think they will earn it, girls?

There is a girl in the dorm who should not hold her nose so high as some day she might be caught in the rain and drown.

There is a certain switchboard operator, whom Cox Capel seems to have taken a fancy to.

Wally Hague doesn't seem interested in the T. U. co-eds. A-w-w-w-w. Wally, give the girls a break.

Circus Party Given By A. G.'s

The Circus came to town Tuesday night when the Alpha Gammas held their Circus Rush Party at the home of Jean DeLand, 916 Coral St.

Each rushee was presented with a sufficient amount of play money with which she paid her admission fees to various side shows in the form of a photographer's booth, a fishing pond, dart throwing, fortune telling, pop corn, pink lemonade and hot dog stands. The meat shortage was emphasized by the price for hot dogs. They were $500 apiece.

Bingo was played and balloons were given as prizes. Later the rushees were entertained by the four clowns, Evelyn Jewell, Mona Deeter, Martha Jackson and Marjorie Petion, and Violet Conte, who recited "Casey at the Bat" and "Express Yo'self."

Those rushees who attended were: Antonette LiCalsi, Regina Macardis, Louise Aparicio, Elsie Rosen, Carmen Alvarez, Lily Pizzalato, Lucy Pelaz, Josephine St. Paul, Eleanor Spring, Lethia Sierra, Shirley Smith, Betty Bridges, May O'Brien, Dolores Patrick, Myalle Sanford, Doris Johnson, Mildred Branch, Dorothy Hepderson, Jackie Elliot and Elsie Norton.

The next party will be a dinner given by the Alumni at Las Novedades.

T. O. Rolls Over Rho Nu By 25-0

By PAUL GORMAN

In a touch football game played at Plant Field Thursday morning, the boys of Tau Omega got started in the second half, and scored two touchdowns. In the third and fourth periods, the TOs made one conversion to trounce the Rho Nus by the convincing score of 25-0.

In the first half there was very little action with neither team being able to score. The opening few minutes of the second half saw Grimsley run wide around left end down field for 50 yards to set up the first touchdown. Grimsley passed to Joe Edwards for 12 yards and pay dirt. The conversion was missed. TO kicked off and Rho Nu ran it back six yards. They lost the ball on downs and kicked TO returned it 12 yards. TO's ball on their own 15 yard line. On the first play Grimsley heaved one to Frank Selph for a gain of 54 yards setting the ball up on the Rho Nu one yard line. On the first play a pass over center was good for six points.

In the fourth quarter it was mostly all TO with Rho Nu making a gallant try in the closing minutes to score.

With three minutes gone in the last period, Grimsley intercepted a pass and ran it back 22 yards. TO's ball first and 22. Selph passes to Ellis complete for eight yards. Two incomplete passes and on the fourth down Selph threw one to Ellis good for 27 yards and a touchdown. A pass over center by Selph made the score TO 19, Rho Nu 0. An interception by Selph running for 36 yards was the final score of the game.

Good sportsmanship was shown by both teams. The officials did a fine job.

AMT Activities

The Alpha Mu Tau, provisional chapter of the national music fraternity, Sigma Alpha Iota, is an honorary Music Sorority. Membership is based on musical talent, scholarship and participation in the musical organizations on the campus. Students must attend the University one semester before being pledged. Full recognition by Sigma Alpha Iota will be realized as soon as the school is accepted by the Southern Association of Colleges and Universities.

Mrs. Lyman Wiltse, wife of Professor Wiltse, musical director at the University, is the advisor of Alpha Mu Tau. Mrs. Wiltse was a member of Sigma Alpha Iota at Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

The sorority is sponsored by a group of music lovers of Tampa. These patrons are selected and voted upon by the members of the sorority. They work directly with the sorority to further the spirit of harmony among music lovers. Mrs. J. S. Mims, outstanding civic leader in the community, was re-elected president of the Patronesses for this year.

Friday night the Patronesses gave an informal dinner party at the home of Mrs. Fred Donnelly. Patronesses and members acted as hostesses. Mrs. Mims and Miss Glenna Hill, president of Alpha Mu Tau, greeted the guests. A program of music followed the dinner.

We, the members of Alpha Mu Tau are looking forward to a most successful year. We believe that the University has been extremely fortunate in enrolling a large number of students who possess a great deal of talent.

High Hopes For T. U. Grid Future

By COX CAPEL

The University of Tampa Spartans are off to a flying start with Coach Paul Straub shaping up the Spartan team for their first game which will be with MacDill Field Fliers to be held at Phillips Field, Oct. 12, at 8 P. M. During the last week, due to rain, the Spartans were unable to practice regularly at their stomping grounds at Plant Field.

Practice has been going off all right with 45 strong out for the varsity.

The Spartans were disbanded in 1942. A few of the former players are back with us this year, such as: Glenn Reed, Jack Layfield, and Paul Straub, who is coaching the Spartans this season.

Coach Straub is using the two-team system in practice, but as of today is still hard put as to just who he will pick for his starting eleven. The Spartans are looking forward to a good season this year. Coach Straub makes no predictions for his first game. He has stressed such fundamentals as, cross-body blocking, punting, pass offense and defense, running plays, tackling, dummy scrimmage, place kicking, blocking kicks, timing, and signal drills.

In addition to several former Spartans, there are quite a few new players. With these high school stars and the former Spartans, the University of Tampa stands a grand chance of coming back into the highlights of football history.

All positions are wide open on the Spartan team as yet, but the lineup for the two teams which are being put into practice are as follows: Reds: Tom Ritter, left end; Fernando Lopez, left tackle; Conn Straub, center; Jack Layfield, alternating from guard to studnets of University of Tampa, quarterback; Glenn Reed, guard; Billy

Willard Knight, former Spartan star football player, will be out this season because of an injured shoulder. The former high school stars are Jerry Jackson, from Hillsborough; the two Ippolito brothers from Jefferson High and Tony Ippolito also from Jefferson but of no kin to Mario and Emilio Ippolito; John Scott, who played fullback and halfback at Bradenton and received an all state honorable mention in football is holding a fullback position on the Spartan eleven. Charles Rey, star end from Jesuit and Bill Sadler, veteran end from Coach Vines last Spartan team will return within a few weeks.

Charles Rey, who has a broken arm not due to football practice will be in shape in a week or two. Manual Miranda, former Hillsboro high wingback, is holding down the right half or wing back position on the Spartan team. Doyle Blueble, who has never played football before, is showing to advantage in the forward wall.

SPARTAN HISTORY

Paul Straub, now coaching the Spartans this season made the only touchdown for the Spartans against the University of Florida in 1942. Willard Knight, played halfback and proved that he had the ability and the knowledge for that position. Although he is out with a bad shoulder this season, he is acting as assistant coach to Straub. With their knowledge, I cannot see why the Spartans won't come back for a winning season. The team is trying hard to fill the positions of a starting eleven for next Saturday's game against the MacDill Field Fliers.

Gregory Lucas, trainer for the Spartans, is doing his best to keep the team in shape for a big season. There is no reason why we, the students of Tampa University cannot or will not support the Spartans to the limit.

This is your University and your team, so come on you citizens and Layfield, alternating from guard to studnets of University of Tampa, let's hold that line.
