Raritanian Learns Its History

Until June of this year, not even Raritanians themselves knew much of the history of Raritan, a relatively small borough in north central New Jersey — but they do now.

Don Esposito, a slender, brown-eyed junior at the University of Tampa, concerned because there was no accurate single-source chronicle of his home town's history available, set about gathering data on Raritan a little more than two years ago.

The result is a volume of 60 pages titled "The First History of Raritan, New Jersey, in Somerset County," and it owes its existence as much to Esposito's bout with poor health as it does to the 23-year-old author's altruistic attachment to his native soil.

He researched his book from 1961 until 1963, when he began writing its sketchy outlines. Then, in February, 1964, he left the University of Tampa for reasons of health and devoted that entire spring to writing his history. He is back in school hale and hearty and wealthier by one published work.

The borough of Raritan underwrote publishing costs of this first edition in observance of New Jersey's tercentenary year, 1964, though the author retained all copyrights. Esposito's original manuscript ran to 250 pages but was pared in the interests of economy. He plans a new, expanded edition in 1968, however, when Raritan will observe its 100th year as an incorporated town.

Under the New Jersey system of governmental division, a borough is an autonomous unit, while a town is subject to the tax laws and sundry edicts of the township within which it is located. From there on up, the structure is similar to other areas, with county and state governments ascendant in that order.

Thus, while Raritan was a settlement in pre-colonial 1749, it did not achieve the status of a town until 1868, nor that of borough until 1948. Its early history and its geographical location in an important area during that strife-ridden time, together with young Esposito's energy in gathering hitherto uncompiled facts, have prompted both Columbia and Rutgers Universities to purchase copies of the book. Esposito has presented a copy to the University of Tampa library.

Esposito is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Esposito, 6 Reimer St., Raritan, and a graduate of Somerville High School, in the adjoining county seat borough of Somerville.

He is a history major at the University of Tampa, and he plans to go on to get a master's degree in that subject before becoming a history teacher at the secondary school level.

Tau Epsilon Phi Urges
Better Greek Relations

Tau Epsilon Phi joined with the other fraternities and sororities here in Tampa, to begin a better Greek environment for themselves as well as potential rushees. It was discussed and pointed out at the "summit meeting," only two weeks ago, that unity and strength can only come about if cooperation on the part of each organization comes with a strong thrust forward.

To all of the independents on campus, we the Greek community, offer a new way of life. A way of life in the form of Brotherhood, a better social environment and a better academic rating. It is our sincere belief that when one affiliates with a fraternity or sorority, his grades get better simply because of the personal attention he or she receives.

In the following months to come, this column, which is for TEP, will not be used for gossip, boasting or congratulatory remarks. Tau Epsilon Phi dedicates itself in giving the power it has, to try and unite the Greek community here in Tampa — a community which is so rapidly losing its function.

Dr. W. M. Stewart Appointed English
Department Chairman by Dr. David Delo

Dr. William D. Stewart, until recently a resident of Emporia, began his first academic year as chairman of the University of Tampa English Department with the opening of classes Monday, September 21.

Dr. Stewart, who had held the same position with the College of Emporia since 1961, was named to his new post effective September 1 by University of Tampa President, Dr. David M. Delo.

A private, co-educational liberal arts college with a total enrollment of 2,100 students, the University of Tampa is located near the heart of the city in municipally-owned Plant Park.

Prior to 1961, Dr. Stewart had been a member of the faculties of Central Missouri State College, Warensburg, and the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash. He was chairman of the English Department of Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn. 1953-55.

A graduate of the University of Puget Sound with BA, BED and MA degrees, Dr. Stewart received his PhD from the University of Mainz, Germany, in 1953.

He served in the U.S. Army, 1942-46, with overseas duty, and afterward held a civil service position as deputy director of the Public Information Division, Office of Military Government, Wiesbaden, Germany.

Dr. and Mrs. Stewart now reside at 3315 Bay Villa, Tampa.

Dunn Meets College Presidents To Start New Educational TV Channel

by Alyce Spohn

Registrar Willis Dunn, substituting for President David Delo, met recently with other West Coast college presidents to discuss a proposal to establish a jointly operated educational TV channel.

The meeting at the University of South Florida was called by its president, John Allen and was attended by the presidents of 11 other area colleges.

The University of South Florida hopes to get the various colleges to co-operate in establishing a TV credit course for their students.

Dr. Dunn points out that classes now taught by lecture could just as easily be taught by television, releasing the instructor for leading discussions and other duties.

Debate Team Being Formed

An intercollegiate debate team is in the process of being organized at the University of Tampa. Any student who is interested is invited to apply for membership on the team. No experience is necessary, if you're vitally interested, although experienced debaters are earnestly requested to apply. Contact Dr. Hugh Fellows, Room 245; office hours are 9-10 a.m., Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and 10-11 a.m., Tuesday and Thursday. His extension is 244.

Colorful by day and impressive, by night, the Florida Citrus Tower at the New York World's Fair is visible for miles and can be seen from most roads to the Fair.

WE'RE PAYING THE PRICE OF IRRESPONSIBILITY

You've heard it before, "They treat us like children." You'll hear it again, because the irrational acts of a few students, such as defacing university property, prove to the administration that students deserve to be treated like children.

This summer hundreds of dollars were spent to re-finish, previously disfigured and decorated desks. Less than a month of school has passed and already new configurations, works of art and other degenerate markings are to be found adorning these refinished desks. Take a look at the floors, or rather at the cancer sticks which grace them. Ashtrays have been placed in every conceivable place and yet some still insist upon using the floor as a cigarette depository. Every inch of vinyl floor space was refinished this summer, now they have to be done again.

These seemingly small acts of destruction are costing you, the students, dearly. First, they are costing money to be spent which could have been allocated to Student Congress, money which could have gone toward the expense of bringing name talent to the university. This money will now go toward the expense of refinishing the marred floors. Secondly, these thoughtless acts are costing you the respect of those persons who could help you, namely, administrators. Until you start proving that you are capable of accepting responsibility, including, the responsibility of caring for your own faculties, then get used to being treated like children.

Organization News

Psi Chi

On October first, Psi Chi, the National Honorary Society in Psychology had its first meeting of the year. The officers were introduced: President, Charles Sherrill; Vice President, Barry Miller; Secretary, Harriet Agster; Treasurer, Betty Fortin; and Dr. Gilgash, Faculty Adviser.

The meeting began with coffee and cookies, served by Harriet Agster and Yvette Forman. Committees for the year were organized and the committee chairmen appointed. The committee chairmen are: Social, Harriet Agster; Library, Marilee Duren; Publicity, Charles Sherrill; and Special Events and Guest Speakers, Barry Miller and Jerry Kutzman.

Psi Chi has opened "Associate Memberships" to any student who is sincerely interested in Psychology. All Psychology Majors and Minors are urged to take an active interest in this organization.

The University of Tampa chapter of Psi Chi originated as a Psychology Club in September of 1962, with the main objective being eventual membership in Psi Chi. At the end of one year, the minimum period required by Psi Chi, the "Psychology Club" submitted their petition for membership. The petition was examined and our Psychology Department and University were investigated to substantiate every aspect of the rigid standards set forth by this National Organization. Upon satisfactory completion of this investigation and ratification by three-fourths of the Psi Chi chapters throughout the nation, the "Psychology Club" at the University of Tampa was accepted as a chapter of Psi Chi on December 23, 1963. This relative short time stands as a credit to our school and to our Psychology Department. On February 23, 1964, Dr. Delo, acting as Installation Officer, installed our chapter and its 24 charter members.

Esquire's CLUB & CAMPUS FASHIONS

BY O. E. SCHOEFFLER, ESQUIRE'S Fashion Director

WELCOME BACK to the Halls of Academe! They may or may not be covered with ivy—but what's on our mind is what's going to be covering you! So let's take the plunge, and get your wardrobe with it!

FIGHT FIRE WITH FIRE—specifically, with one of the new "Three-Alarm Blazers"! This is a new breed of blazer, and one to keep clearly in mind when you're looking for a new sport jacket. They're just what they sound like—colorful!—in reds from brilliant to burgundy, in greens from billiard-table to bottle, in bright blues and, of course, in camel! Linings blaze brighter, too—solids, stripes and patterns to contrast or blend with the blazer. Buttons account for the third alarm, in brilliant ceramic with colorful motifs, or in bright, burnished metals.

TAKE A GIANT STEP into "Giant Plaids," for another new look in sport jackets. These oversize plaid patterns can be found in rich, mellow color combinations like brown with blue, tan and brown with dark red, and light and dark bronze tones. They're cut, of course, with the natural shoulder styling favored on campuses from coast to coast.

"BIG V" GETS A BIG VOTE for still a third idea in sports jackets. This is your favorite herringbone pattern, but it's magnified to a mighty power—especially in black and white or black and gray combinations of hefty, husky yarns! The "Big V" adds a bold note to the classic sport coat this year.

"CLUB CHINOS"—NEW CLASS FOR NEW CLASSES. The new Chinos are neater, trimmer and slimmer than last year—and lots of them will stay that way longer! Practical polyester-blend fabrics contribute extra crease-retention, in or out of the laundromat. These popular pleatless pants feature a hip-riding waistband and an added Western touch in frontier-styled pockets. The natural tan tones continue to be most in demand, especially the new bleached "Bone" shade.

HAVE A "HOOT" FOR YOURSELF this year! The craze for hootenannies has given its name to a whole new way of dressing on campus. This "Hoot Look" is identifiable, first of all, by the turtle-neck sweater—real or "mock" (the high crew neck)—for a rugged, he-man look. Bright solid colors, stripes of every description and in every direction, argyle and Scandinavian patterns—all will be found this year with the turtleneck "Hoot Look"!

JACK UP YOUR WARDROBE WITH A HOOT

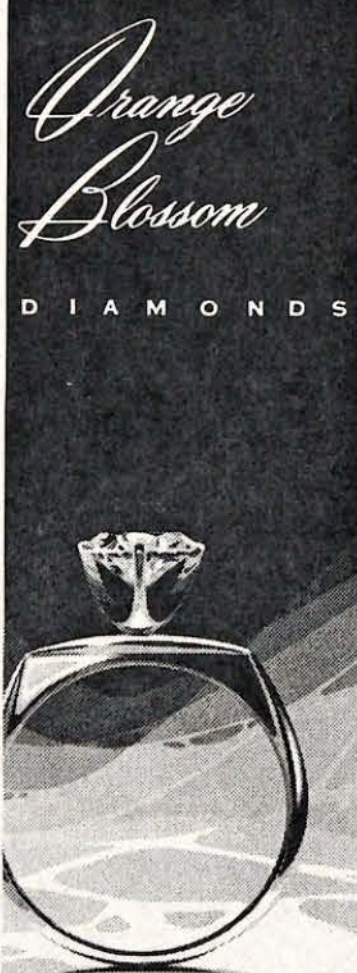

JAC—the casual shirt-jacket that's the "hip" hip-length, fitting loosely over your trim, corduroy Hoot Slacks. Solid or multi-colored stripes highlight the Hoot Jac, which features classic button-down styling. Carried to its logical conclusion, it should be worn with a solid color turtleneck tee shirt (surprise!) or dickey made of comfortable, practical cotton knit or polyester blend.

FOLK-SING-ALONG IN CORDUROY, which is staging a comeback on the campus in Hoot Slacks. In tan and bronze tones as well as the brighter colors, and with trim, tapered styling, these corduroy slacks coordinate perfectly with all the ingredients of the "Hoot Look."

HELP STAMP OUT SQUARES in your Hoot Boots—today's 2-eyelet demi-boot with welt seaming. You can find them in plain, grained or brushed leathers, with leather or rubber soles—unlined or, for cold-weather quadrangles, lined with fleece or shearling. And for practical, easy-care socks, try on some Hoot Hose—a combination of acrylic fiber and stretch nylon in soft heather mixtures that go-with-everything, everywhere!

SUITING UP for the more formal functions on campus is our next topic—so we'll be seeing you next month with the "suitable" Word!
