UNIVERSITY HEAD GREET'S FROSH TO UNIVERSITY

Lowly Freshmen Put on Pajama Parade

President F. H. Spaulding and Dean M. S. Hale had hardly finished welcoming the freshmen in the first regular assembly held September 12, before proud sophomores, recalling their harassed first year, were laying the "law" down to the first year men.

Student body president John Smiley read a list of many rules and to make certain that no freshman would excuse himself by ignorance, had mimeographed copies placed into the hands of all "rats." Rat caps appeared, baby bonnets were dug up for the girls and numerous penalties were imposed.

However, before any freshman received severe punishment he was given an honest jury trial and was meted out "impartial" justice by kindly sophomore judges Rudy Rodriguez and Red Means. Buck Buchanan served as court clerk, while a sophomore jury composed of Walter Hoy, Cotton Clinton, Adolf Ramirez, Luther Sparkman and Robert Tramon-tana told foreman Bob Morales their verdict.

Following the "court" the freshman staged a downtown shirt tail parade. A second court was held Monday night and pajama clad freshmen were sentenced to parade around town and to inform the town in no weak voices that they were freshmen and that they were from the University of Tampa. A pajamaed, and slightly off-key band led the procession which ended at the Tampa Tribune where newspaper workers, thoroughly conscious that there were such things as freshmen, poked their heads out of their air conditioned building and pleaded for a little quiet.

The girls' "Rat" court was headed by Betty Stone as judge. She was assisted by Edna Johnson, clerk; Sybil Cate, foreman; and Verna Vining, Ruby Wadsworth, Jeanie Trice, Kitty Lea and Anna Bono as the jury.

Officers of the freshman class to be elected October 4 are president, vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Ten Candidates Report For Cheerleader Squad

Displaying more enthusiasm than in previous years, the 1935 squad of cheerleaders is drilling Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:30 for the opening game on the Spartan football schedule, October 18.

The student council by a popular vote elected Manuel Ramirez as head cheer leader.

New movements and yells are being tried with the old and familiar school cheers and songs.

New candidates for the cheerleaders' team are Bill Reed, Johnny Schaub, James Turner, James Galbraith, Clarence Young, Betty Stone, Elizabeth Slaughter, Dorothy Quinn, and Dorothy Bradley.

Five cheerleaders will be elected from the above candidates in the special election October 4.

Walter Lindsay Offers Course in Advertising

Marketing 400, a course in "The Principles of Advertising" is being offered at the University of Tampa by Walter Lindsay, of the Tampa Morning Tribune, on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:00 to 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. Lindsay, a former student of the University of Tennessee and the University of Chicago, has had many years of experience in the field of advertising. His course is intended to give the student a practical knowledge in general and retail advertising.

Students interested in the course are urged to register at once.

Annual Reception

The annual reception given by the University for students and their parents will be held Friday evening, Oct. 4, in the University lobby.

Refreshments will be served from 8 to 9:30 o'clock. Dancing will be in the University ballroom from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Frosh Stage Colorful Pajama Demonstration On Downtown Streets

The first freshman "Nighties" Parade in the short history of the University was the main attraction for several hundreds of up-town spectators last Monday night. The women "Rats" as well as the men joined in the parade in their sleeping garments.

The parade, which was over 200 yards long, started at the University following the dismissal of all freshmen from the weekly freshmen guidance court. Judges Rudy Rodriguez and Red Means and their juriesmen dismissed most of the defendants with light sentences so they could be in good condition for the long march which carried them down Franklin street and back to school.

At the head of the parade, clothed in brown pajamas and pink night gown respectively, were Bill Dymytryk and Mildred Allison. They led the parade with a bright red lantern and a sophisticated walk. The rest of the freshmen goose-stepped along to the tune of "Dinah."

Three erstwhile cheerleaders led the big noise, which reached its maximum in the city police station. The lowly freshmen time and again burst out with a few impromptu yells which proved clearly that they were all in good spirits.

The parade ended in the University campus, and the night's festivities were climaxed with a thirty-minute dance in the music room, the orchestra being composed of several talented freshmen.

Dean M. S. Hale was pleased with the display of school spirit in the parade. "I was greatly pleased to see the students manifest their spirit to make the city University conscious," said Dean Hale, "I would like to see the students have more frequent demonstrations."

Dr. Bode, faculty adviser to the freshmen guidance court, and John Smiley, president of the student body, also gave high praise to the students for the demonstration. "It was of the finest variety," said Smiley. "I was very glad to see the interest shown by the upperclassmen in the parade. We must do this again sometime."

"The parade was doggone good," Dr. Bode said, "it was nicely planned and well carried out. The idea of coming back for a little informal dance was very good. I would suggest, however, that those informal dances should be held on the porch instead of the music room on hot nights. Let's have more and more parades."

Richard Walker Bryan Replaces Cunningham

Professor Richard Walker Bryan, associate professor of Economics and Business Administration of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., is now in charge of the Department of Business Administration. He received his Bachelor of Philosophy degree from Emory University, Atlanta, in the class of 1916, and later his Master of Science in Finance degree at New York University.

Professor Bryan, a native of Georgia, has studied in the Georgia Tech School of Commerce, held a teaching fellowship and a research scholarship at the Institute of International Finance at New York University. Having had eight years practical business experience along with his wide educational background Professor Bryan is well suited for his present position.

In school Professor Bryan was active in sports and literary activities. He is a member of the Delta Sigma Pi Commercial Fraternity at New York University.

Professor Bryan seems quite pleased with the University and Tampa. Professor Bryan expects his wife to join him in the near future.

OUT OF THE NIGHT

Well!!!! School's here and of all the sad looking folks...Shucks, there isn't even a new romance starting up...So—since all true love has evidently gone to the dogs, I reckon that the football players are the only topic of conversation...And that isn't so much...

What is "Rose-in-Bloom's" fatal attraction? The whole practice time is taken up by some of those childish upperclassmen making a circus of the poor boy...I reckon he can take it...He should be able to by this time...

Seeing as how we have King Kong back with us, it seems as how he has brought another of the famous Kong tribe...In order to bring light to the uninformed...we mean Paul Williams, known to all circusmen and headliners as "The Son of Kong"...The son has set unknown and even undreamed of precedents in the University...He was seated one night in the dorms and suddenly the crave for food came upon him...He worried and worried...Finally he arose and dashed for the drug store...The point under debate is: Whether or not he really forgot to change clothes or whether he intended going in his pajamas...Another thing Son has done is to take great delight and pride in washing his so-called Father's unmentionable...What manner of monkey is he???

Many of the old couples are back again together...either because the U. gossip won't let them break or else they really don't want to...Take, for instance, Smiley and Mus, and Farnell and Lea. Now, my friends, that's what I call "Love"...Many of both the new girls and the old are known to be on the make...Some of them are doing remarkably well and others are heading into stormy weather...Now Caroline Luf-burrow and Marvin Chancey are getting along fairly well, while...well, I'd better not name those who are heading for a fall...It's getting to be a business with at least two of the new girls...They've even made out lists of who they're "gonna get"...or at least those they think they're gonna get...After all, the boys have a little to say about it...Or have they?...

Gus Muench is the one University marriage that is announced in the first Minaret...Congrats and all that...

Willard Gates is back with us like the proverbial bad penny and very much in love...The Lakeland High school girls are evidently man-slayers. So what...

Margaret "D. B." Rush has not only given the University boys the go-round, but is even going steady with Donald McCracken...So what...

Reports are circulating as to how Milford Rhines, known to his intimates as Monkey, and to his home folks as Deke, has been stepping steadily with Gaggy Galvin...he seems to be doing very well since she went to Auburn.

Two University co-eds, whose only activities at the University were dances and dates, have entered the holy state of matrimony...Morganie and Rose Moore finally took the final step...So what could we do about it. Snozzle Tramon-tana and Pat Patterson were belles of the ball every Friday night at DeSoto Park...

Any items which pertain to this column please submit to the Minaret column, as this column will have no editor but will be made up from all the materials handed in.

We are slow in digging up our dirt, but just you wait...

University Yacht Club Plans Boat Trip Soon

Officers of the University Yacht Club, in a meeting Wednesday night, announced that the club would sponsor a cruise to Egmont Key and that plans had been completed for a bay cruise for members and their dates aboard the Yacht Lorraine.

Active members of the club will hold their first meeting this year Wednesday night, October 5, at 8:00 at the University.

Membership in the club includes more than fifty University students. Any student or faculty member interested in becoming a member is requested to contact Vice Commodore E. B. Hinckley.

FACULTY TEA

President and Mrs. F. H. Spaulding invite members of the University faculty to attend a tea given this afternoon in the Stewart room, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Celina Klein Joins University Faculty, Heads Physical Ed.

Mrs. Celina Klein, former junior General Gymnastics champion of the British Islands and for three years teacher of physical education at Hillsborough High school, has been added to the University faculty as head of the department of physical education, girls' division. Mrs. Klein will have charge of the program for girls, including the regular classes, intramurals, and team participation in the city leagues.

Before coming to the United States Mrs. Klein won numerous awards in gymnastic activities in her native England. Her collection of awards includes twelve medals won for proficiency in General Gymnastics which includes parallel and horizontal bar exercises and rope climbing.

Mrs. Klein, who received her L. I. degree from Meridian Womens' College in Mississippi and who taught there in physical education for five years, is an accomplished musician. She plays the piano, pipe organ and drums and has participated in activities of various glee clubs, choirs, and operettas.

Mrs. Klein came to Tampa with her husband in 1918. She is vitally interested in a varied intramural program for women, including tennis, volleyball, basketball, track, diamondball and swimming. She plans to arrange tennis meets with other womens' teams in Tampa and will enter girls' basketball teams in the city leagues next spring. She is also anxious to develop a diamond ball team at the University for participation in the girls' city league.

Mrs. Klein has her office in room 147.

University's Band Drilling for Parades

The University band, thirty-piece organization headed by August Engly and drilled by capable drill master, Art Young, is practicing daily, learning United States Army regulation drills and intricate field formation for use in coming University contests.

Director Engly has discontinued concert rehearsals and has given Young complete charge of the band. Young has outlined several objectives for the band and promises to have the University represented by a well drilled organization. He is working at present on fancy drills and the formation of letter initials of Tampa University.

The band's principal object is to do everything possible to promote and stimulate "School Spirit." It seeks to better and improve the representation of the University to the public, both in drills and in concert work, and to assist and support athletic organizations and the student body as a whole.

The band will furnish sound effect for the school yells and will accompany the school songs.

Culbreath Will Scout Stetson-Florida Game

W. E. Culbreath, business manager of the University Athletic Association, and George Straus, newly appointed member of the Spartan coaching staff, will leave early tomorrow morning for Gainesville where they will scout the Stetson University eleven in a game with the University of Florida Gators. Stetson, under Coach "Brady" Cowell, former University of Florida football and basketball coach, is using an entirely different style of football than that presented during the last two years. Higgins has instructed his two scouts to bring back all the "dope" on Cowell's team.

UNIV. MUSEUM ADDS FOSSILS TO COLLECTION

Harrison and Gunter Make New Donations

Professor Robert F. Webb announces that the Florida Archeological Survey will begin excavation in Hillsborough and Pinellas counties in several weeks. The object of this excavation is to uncover fossils in this region.

Officials of the survey informed Mr. Webb that they would spend approximately $150,000 and employ over 200 men for several months. The University of Tampa has been named as cooperating with the survey in this project and will receive part of the relics found and all the scientific data, which will probably be of the utmost importance.

Several additions have been made to the Geology Museum. First, Mr. Herman Gunter, State Geologist, has given to the University a large set of fossils which are of the utmost importance to the archeological classes.

Second, Mr. Norris Harrison of the Philippine Islands has given two carvings that portray some of the tribal customs of the native tribes. One is carved from the horn of a buffalo and is in the shape of a buffalo's head. The other is from wood and is a spoon such as the tribes previously used. The handle is filigree work and ornamental as well as valuable. Together with these carvings is a collection of Philippine shells and fossils to be used in the Geology classes.

Mr. Webb asks all students to come down to the Museum and see these as they will prove to be very interesting.

Sigma Theta Pi To Present Varied Group Of Social Activities

Plans for several social events were completed by members of the Sigma Theta Pi sorority at a meeting held in the University last Wednesday.

Tentative plans were also discussed for a Halloween script dance, to be given in the University ball room.

Officers of the sorority, elected at a recent meeting are: President, Miss Edna Johnson; vice president, Miss Margaret Williams; secretary, Miss Anna C. Bono; treasurer, Miss Roma Cassidy; reporters, Miss Margaret Hitchcock, Miss Gladys Guthrie, and Miss Elenia Delaney.

University Offers Two Courses in Journalism

In response to a popular demand the University of Tampa has added two journalism courses to its curriculum. The courses, taught by W. E. Culbreath, graduate of the University of Florida College of Journalism, are intended to give the student interested in journalism an insight into the field and to give practical work in reporting, head writing, proof and copy reading and newspaper managing.

The classes in journalism were guests of the Tampa Morning Tribune yesterday morning. They plan to make several more field trips this semester to study the organization of a modern newspaper.

Several editors and authors will speak before the class during the semester.

The Demand For Versatility

Almost every day some one calls to make inquiry about some special short course or courses that will enable them to become "expert" in some particular job presumably with the idea that this would be a means of insurance against unemployment. In this connection a survey recently made by Charles M. Smith, Director of Vocational Guidance and Placement for the New York City schools reveals some very interesting facts. This study offers the conclusion that the age of specialists has passed and that versatility is better "job insurance" than mere ability. Adaptability rather than expertness in a specific job is shown to be the best insurance against unemployment.

"We are no longer in an era of specialists," Mr. Smith said. "The boy or girl entering business or industry must have adaptability. The difference between success and failure on a job is more often a matter of attitude than a lack of aptitude for it." The school program according to Mr. Smith, should place more emphasis on fundamentals, on the theory that a student who has a good foundation in all subjects will be better equipped to meet constant changes in the social and economic order.

"Versatility," he says, "is demanded today even in industry, and versatility implies a general rather than a specific knowledge."

Knowledge in Exchange for Work

From colleges everywhere there comes news of increasing numbers of students who are doing outside work in order to pay for the college tuition. This trend is very noticeable here. A reporter checked 80 names, by searching records and random inquiry, of students who were "working their way" through this University. The number is actually about double that amount. Many students who do not work during school months gained their tuitions by working and saving in the summer.

Those old enough to have spent several years trying to earn a living in competition with others in business or the professions are almost unanimous in advising young people to gain as much school training as possible. This, along with the inherited idea of the good time one has at college, has probably caused these students to attempt the double duty of working and studying. After close observations several doctors and writers have now come to the opinion that just any one cannot be a student-worker with a happy result. The reasons, in part, are that health is endangered and that bad habits, such as procrastination, may be formed and that four years of valuable time may be wasted on a mind that can't be educated.

However, it can be safely assumed that any student who is willing to work is also willing to study. He is probably ambitious and well-behaved. So he goes to make up part of a good general student body. Fortunately for the student-worker, the student body is unusually congenial. There are few here with the "better than thou" attitude.

Another thing that is fortunate for the student-worker is the leniency of the instructors. Where there is a good explanation of how the time when one should have been studying was spent, the instructor is willing to postpone the time for handing in home work. This is greatly appreciated.

Contrary to the opinion of the writers, students who work for tuition here seem to be making fair grades continually and passing from year to year. They will probably graduate with the feeling of the four years being well worthwhile. Those who are not now taking the full set of subjects should, if possible, arrange to take what they need, and pay by working.

Fifth Year—And A Good Start

The University of Tampa has begun its fifth year with a good start. I have been very much encouraged by the fine spirit and attitude shown by the faculty and students. Already about three hundred and fifty students have enrolled for the first semester and the registration has not close. This is indeed most gratifying. The fact that so many of the old students have returned and the fact that so many new students have come to us is an indication that the University of Tampa has definitely made its place in the educational life of this part of the state. With the united support and cooperation of the faculty, students, citizens of this city and surrounding territory I predict that this will become one of the outstanding institutions of higher learning in the state.

FRATERNAL NEWS

The Delta Kappas have been doing some intensive rushing in the two weeks since school started.

They began by giving an elaborate tea at the White House on Bayshore boulevard on the afternoon of Saturday, the 14th. A profusion of garden flowers with the sorority colors predominating were placed at various points throughout the reception rooms. The officers, Kitty Lea, Jane Pearson, Jeanie Trice, Edna Frances Prince, Charleen Leonard and Virginia Roberts, formed the reception line at the door and during the course of the afternoon over 100 guests called. Mrs. Frederick Spaulding and Mrs. Nash Higgins presided over the tea and coffee service. Chicken salad, beaten biscuit, sherbet and square white cakes with white icing decorated with red rosebuds were served.

Other rushing parties consisted of "dating"—luncheons, theater parties and bridge parties on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday following the reception.

The sorority entertained its rushees at a waffle supper on September, the 18th, at the home of Edna Frances Prince, 1315 West Cass street. Waffles and iced tea were served in the living and dining rooms which were decorated with small yellow chrysanthemums.

A buffet supper was given last night for the rushees in honor of Mrs. Higgins at the home of Helen Knight, 3406 Mullins avenue. Rushees present were Louise Taylor, Lucy Jackson, Anne Thrasher, Leah Mae Hunter, Helen Windham, Betty Jo Mimms, Blanche Sessions, Stella Rogers, Maurine Powell, Mary Ann Sampey, Louise Green, Virginia Morrow, Olga Pardo and Laura Ellen Webb.

Mrs. Higgins has been chosen for the sorority faculty sponsor. Mrs. Barr is the regular sorority sponsor.

In the absence of Carmen Cosio, the president of the sorority, Kitty Lea, vice president, now presides.

BETA CHI

The Beta Chi fraternity held its first meeting Wednesday, Sept. 18, 1935, in Bob Morales' room at the University. Plans for the coming year were discussed, among these being the rushing program, social functions which include: A dance at the Villa Del Rio, a party at the home of Bill Marbourg, a supper for old members and a theater party at the close of next week. A new policy as to fraternal officers was adopted. Bob Morales is president, Bill Marbourg, vice president, and Jimmie Lindsey, secretary-treasurer.

WOMAN DICTATES SUICIDE NOTE

Found hanging in her house in Osaka, Japan, a woman left behind a letter saying she felt that life was too hard to live, and so preferred to die. The note had been dedicated to a friend, who wrote it down, because the woman who planned death was illiterate. "I wrote what she wanted. I could not interfere with her wish for death," the friend told the police.

Husky colored fullbacks from the Florida A. and M. and Bethune Cookman College were trial horses for Walter Hoy and Crockett Farnell in their intensive football tackling and blocking drills this summer.

Freshmen Puzzled by 'John H. Smiley' Walk

Why all the bother about the John Henry Smiley walk? This is what every Rat is thinking—be he high or low, male or female.

This walk is the result of a promise made by John Henry Smiley himself during his famous campaign for the presidency of the student body. Previously there was only a thin lane which had been worn by former students. Being exhausted by the mental effort that school requires, they would "cut campus" in order to save a little of their remaining physical strength.

By not allowing freshmen to walk on the John Henry Smiley walk until Christmas vacation starts on December 21, the upperclassmen are endeavoring to establish a tradition which will become an unwritten law of the University.

Freshman, before you tarnish that walk with your lowly feet, stop and think! Think of the former students who had no such walk! Think of the work Smiley and the laborer put into it so that this walk might be possible! Think of the future students who will revere this walk because it is the first true tradition of the University of Tampa.

Elizabeth Connolly New Instructor in Speech

Miss Connolly, who replaces Mr. H. K. Hartsell as instructor in Spoken English, is a native of Boston, Mass. She received an A. B. degree in Literature and Oratory from The Currey School of Expression. She is also a graduate of the Barron Posse school where she completed five years work in Physical Education in three.

Miss Connolly held the chair of Dramatics and Physical Education at the La Grange school.

Miss Connolly will give private instruction in the development of public readings. She plans to organize a University dramatic club which will be composed of University students. All students who participate will receive regular college credit.

Miss Connolly states that the purpose of the course in Spoken English is to develop the voice and the body, and to prepare the student for platform speaking.

"MIRACLE CURES" IN DUBLIN

"Miracle cures" are reported to be achieved by Rev. Father Begley, an Irish priest, with the aid of a relic said to be a portion of the heart of a saint, in Dublin, Irish Free State. Chronic cases of epilepsy and other diseases are said to be completely cured through his help. Every day his tiny house is crowded with sick people. "I have a relic which is very precious to Catholics. It is a portion of the heart of a saint given to me when his tomb was opened in Rome," the priest said.

Twenty-eight percent of the population of the state of Florida lives within fifty miles of the University of Tampa.

Crockett Farnell, Bob Morales, Walter Hoy and Adolf Ramirez spent their summer in the north Florida woods excavating Indian mounds.

VARIETY

Well, here we are, just one big happy family. You can hardly walk around without stepping on a freshman now and then. They get in your hair but they've been pretty good sports.

We enjoyed seeing Maurine Powell posing like the statues in the lobby, Mildred Allison using the street car step to tie her shoe strings, Louise Green sitting on the lobby floor talking to the boys, Dolly Quinn saying nursery rhymes in assembly and Ernestine Spain painted up like a chorus girl. Doris Davies has been asking Tony Gaetani for dates, I wonder what's become of "Tony's Wife"!

We know that T. L. Ferris and Joe Wilson had a pleasant swim in the fish pond after the pajama parade because they came up with their pockets full of gold fish. Bob Thomas and Jack Williams were singing about "ants in their pants," while Cecil Henriquez was watching Statue Esmeralda and making sure that she did not run away. Arthur Pichard had to skip a few years and appear in the lobby as a man of fifty.

The University local sororities are having one rush after another and the fraternities have been busy too. I understand that the fraternity boys north are boycotting girls who wear make-up—So what?

The football eleven deserves every yell that the cheerleaders are working so hard to give them this season.

President John Smiley is all smiles and a certain young lady comes within his . . . Kitty Lea and Jeanie Trice have been telling secrets and have something up their sleeves in the way of school affairs.

Judges Betty Stone, Rudy Rodriguez and Ed Means have been plotting what to do to the "Rats" next. Alice Wilson, chief summoner, has a list of clients two pages long for the next Rat court.

Yesterday a certain teacher found several boys hunting frantically for a book they had lost.

"What are you looking for, boys?" the prof asked.

"A book," they answered seriously. "Well, I'm glad to know that you are willing to increase your knowledge."

But little did the teacher realize that the sought-for book contained only telephone numbers and addresses.

Student Election To Be Held October 4th

University of Tampa students will go to the polls October 4 to select officers for twelve positions now vacant.

Petitions, which must be signed by at least ten percent of the class or body electing various officers, have not been issued and nominations have not been announced.

Officers for the following positions will be elected: President of the senior class, representative of senior class, president of sophomore class, president of junior class, president of freshman class, vice president of freshman class, secretary and treasurer of freshman class, and five cheer leaders.

Presidents and representatives of the various classes will become members of the student council.

The University election board consists of the following: Marjorie Dennis, Edenia Delancey, Walter Hoy, Dean Wilson, Dr. E. B. Hinkley, Harry Dobson, Dr. Bode and Jeanie Trice, chairman.

Dr. Bode New Member Of University Faculty

Dr. Donald B. Bode, graduate of Southwestern and the University of Virginia, has been added to the University staff as instructor in chemistry.

Dr. Bode is a native of Memphis, Tenn., coming to Tampa for the first time at the beginning of the academic year. For the last two years he has been in the industrial field in Memphis, Tenn., and Cleveland, Ohio.

A graduate of Southwestern with a B. S. degree, Dr. Bode attended the University of Virginia where he received his master's degree in 1933 and his doctor's degree the following year. He was graduated with honors from Southwestern.

A member of the Theta Nu Epsilon social fraternity and the Sigma Xi honorary scientific fraternity, Dr. Bode thinks that the University of Tampa has unlimited possibilities. He said, "I think the University of Tampa, with the proper support from the students and the citizens of Tampa, has more possibilities for developing into one of the finest colleges in the country than any college I have ever seen."

SPARTANS OPEN WITH GEORGIA TEAM OCT. 18

Squad Faces Tough Schedule This Year

With the first game of the toughest grid schedule ever arranged for a University of Tampa eleven still three weeks away Coach Nash Higgins' Spartans are following an outline of work calculated to bring them to mid-season form when they meet the powerful South Georgia State Teachers on Plant field, October 18. The Teachers last year upset an overconfident Spartan team 21-13.

Coach Higgins, who left Tampa last night for a ten-day business trip to Chicago, gave instructions to his assistants to give his squad plenty of work and large doses of scrimmage. In carrying out these orders the assistant mentors have outlined an ambitious program for the warriors and hope to have the squad in top shape when Higgins returns.

Athletic officials have arranged a nine-game schedule for the Spartans. Eight of the games will be played in a period of 40 days, an average of a game every five days, an extremely tough assignment for the thirty athletes who comprise the varsity squad.

Three newcomers appear on the Spartan schedule this year: Cumberland University journeys down from their Tennessee lair Armistice day for a feature encounter; the Spartans move up into Kentucky to take on the Western Kentucky Teacher eleven on Thanksgiving, two weeks later, December 14, Coach Eddie McLane brings his Louisiana Tech Engineers to Tampa to wind up the season for the Spartans.

The complete schedule follows:
October 18—South Georgia Teachers College, at Plant field.

October 25—University of Miami, in Miami.

October 31—Newberry College, in Newberry, S. C.

November 4—Rollins College, Orlando.

November 11—Cumberland University, at Plant field.

November 16—Stetson University, at Plant field (homecoming).

November 22—Alabama State Teachers College, at Plant field.

November 28—Western Kentucky Teachers College, Bowling Green, Ky.

December 14—Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, at Plant field.

W. E. Culbreath, business manager of the University Athletic Association, has contacted athletic officials of the University of Havana relative to a game in Havana late in December. Coach Jim Kendrick of the Cuban college has written that he would like to have the Spartans dedicate the new athletic stadium in Havana should the University open in time for football this year.

The University of Tampa played four games in December last year.

Athletes Play the Role of Washermen

Rub-a-dub-dub. Rub-a-dub-dub. Three men in a tub, the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker—but hold on there fellow, those three stalwarts you see in that tub are not butchers, bakers or candlestick makers, they're only a trio of huskies assigned by Coach Higgins to wash the dainty garments worn by their grid mates. And where'd you get that rub-a-dub stuff. There's no rub in work of these gentlemen of the laundry, that is as long as the aging machine is in working order.

But there's the rub you say. The fuse blows out, the blank! blankety (censored) didn't bring the right kind of soap, the belt breaks, the motor gets hot and jams, the water leaks out of the tub, the drier-slugs clothes all over the room, the freshmen helpers are elsewhere, there is no hot water. Tiz a cruel world but the three men, Henry Hoy, Cotton Clinton, and Harry McCartney grin through the layers of soap suds, get the garments clean on time despite the obstacles and point water wrinkled fingers at their laundry room slogan, "Cleanliness is Next to Godliness."

These Spartans Are Ready

Three Spartan stalwarts who will see much action on the gridiron this year are Ray "Oxo" Hurn, upper left, Marvin Chancey, upper right, and Willie Godwin, lower right. All three will be wearing a Spartan uniform for the third successive year. Godwin, who last year was probably the outstanding center in the State, will be depended upon to do most of the fullbacking duties for his Alma Mater; he weighs 193 pounds and is rather fast for his size. Hurn, who was put on a diet by Coach Higgins recently is the mighty man of the squad, weighing 233 pounds. Hurn hails from Bartow, Florida. On the sturdy shoulders of Marvin Chancey will rest most of the ball carrying duties this fall. Chancey is one of the speediest backs on the squad and tips the scales at 180 pounds. Chancey is a product of St. Petersburg high school.

Higgins' "Tower of Babel" squad has men of the following nationalities: Italian, Jewish, Russian, Lithuanian, Swedish, German, Scotch, Irish, English and Spanish.

Nash Higgins' football squad is gathered from Florida, Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Massachusetts, Illinois and Maine.

Ray Hurn claims the "Largest Spartan" title. He weighs 233 pounds and is 6 feet 4 inches tall.

Marvin Chancey and Bill Hand spent the summer umpiring diamond ball games for the city Recreation Department. Hand was dubbed "Blind Bill" and was presented with a cup and a handful of pencils by one of the city league teams.

SPARTANETTE

Women athletes, or Spartanettes as we know them, may be interested in the plans for serious competition this year.

Basketball has been the outstanding major sport for the girls, however, volleyball and diamond ball teams representing the University have been entered in the city leagues.

A tennis team representing the school will play matches with other teams in the city. The positions on this varsity team will depend on the outcome of an elimination tournament which will be held on the University courts in October.

A volleyball team consisting of six players and four substitutes will be the first to enter city competition. The games will be played at night on the illuminated courts one night each week.

The program for intramurals will include the following activities: Tennis, volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, horseshoes, shuffleboard, swimming, track and diamond ball.

The clubs or groups who will be asked to organize teams for participation in the leagues are Delta Kappa, Sigma Theta Pi, the Minaret staff, and the physical education classes.

Each team will have a captain and a manager whose duties will be assigned at a meeting which will be held previous to the making of the intramural schedule.

It seems worth while to include that we hope every girl will become more interested in physical condition, more conscious of her health, and that she will develop the right attitudes toward play and healthful living.

A composite Spartan, compiled from the weights and measurements of the University's 42 gridgers, would be 5 feet 10 inches tall, twenty years and three months old, and would weigh 169 pounds.

Spartan Sport Field

The prospect of the coming season does not look as bright as it has looked at the beginning of the two previous seasons. A number of last year's veterans are absent from this year's squad. The loss of these men will detract from the reserve strength, so outstanding last year, of the team.

The veterans returning for the line positions are Muench, Clinton, Hurn, Gunnoe, Patterson, Hoy, Swilley, Stephens, Sparkman and Tramontana. These men will form the nucleus of the forward wall for the coming season.

The veterans returning for the backfield are even fewer than those returning for the line. Rodriguez, McCartney, Carter, Hatcher and Cox will form the backfield nucleus. Some of these are playing in strange positions, which will make it harder for Coach Higgins.

The uniforms for this year will be somewhat changed from those of last year. The pants will be gold jockey satin, and the jerseys will be red with black numbers.

Two assistant varsity and two freshman coaches have been added this year to Coach Higgins' staff. George Straus, graduate of Stetson, is assisting in the varsity backfield, and Bill Sledge, graduate of Rice Institute, Texas, is assisting in the varsity line. John (Whisper) Edison with Marion Lee is in charge of the freshman team.

The schedule is a tough one to handle this year as four of the nine games are on foreign ground.

ANNUAL CLASSIC BETWEEN RATS AND SOPHISTUES.

Sophomores Upset by Frosh Last Year

"Rat" Donaldson, freshmen touch football captain, searches eagerly up and down the halls and corridors for any possible additions to his growing army of Rat footballers. The sophomores don't wonder at his alarm for they have taken oath to right the wrongs of previous humiliations at the hands of freshmen gridders. Year before last the frosh won 13-0. If the first-year men repeat it will bring humiliation to the proud and arrogant upperclassmen that will be hard to live down. With such rivalry this game should go down in the books as a natural; it rivals the Ethiopian-Italian feud in interest and ferocity.

This contest pries the lid off the intramural sports program which is under the direction of M. K. Adams. The fall program starts immediately with a call for cross country, golf, tennis, and touch football candidates. The rest of the program includes handball, boxing, wrestling, basketball, horseshoes, swimming, volleyball, shuffleboard, ping pong, diamond ball, track, sigma delta psi, and fencing. Mr. Adams, with a group of intramural managers, and Mr. Culbreath, explained to a special assembly of freshmen the program of intramural sports. "Let's boost intramural sports, and strive toward 100 percent participation," said Mr. Adams in summing up his address to the students.

With the slogan "Every Student in Athletics," the Intramural Department and the Department of Athletics will give greater attention to sports so long considered "minor sports." Sports of a carry-over nature, sports that can be enjoyed by the student long after he is graduated, will be stressed by the university. If any student desires an activity that is not offered, a petition of 12 interested students submitted to the Intramural Department will bring about the addition of the activity to the program.

The intramural board of managers for the current year consists of the following: Billy Hand, major sports; Billy Newkirk, sigma delta psi, cross country; Bill Chancey, golf; Billy Laird, tennis; William Buchanan, minor sports. Other posts are as yet unassigned.

MUEZZIN CALLS

SWINDLER

Mournful is the song death sings
As silently God's message he brings;
Rocking the strongest of men,
Tormenting, stinging until the end,
Having a hungry lust for man
And those who love life's caravan.
Offering, at times, a short retreat
Wasting his time on your sure defeat.
Eventually and suddenly he'll notice
you
Narrowing his brow for negligence, too
Sad—for even you must go, as we all do.

BOB MORALES.

THE RACE OF MAN

Stretch forth your mind unto this empty land
Where scoops a portion of the moon our star.
Name this "Eclipse" and with sagacious hand
Convert to laws this miracle whose scar Darkens your brave display. Teach to your boys
And to your lesson-wearied girls this truth
You sage research expounded. Let no joys,
No little foolishness pollute their youth.
Stretch to the snapping point their slowing minds,
Clogged with such weighty knowledge of the skies
That should they turn to peer at other finds—
A daisy, say, a primrose, or a prize
Persimmon from the Autumn branch
—each brain
Would burst and shrivel with the awful strain.

RUSSELL ST. CLAIRE SMITH.

PROTEST FROM FLANDERS

You living, breathing men of far and near,
Have you forgotten now those recent days
When all the world was one great anguished blaze,
Though dust has stopped our mouths,
you yet shall hear:
We pity you, we dead who know not fear,
Nor hate, nor springtime's lift, nor autumn's haze;
We pity you, we dead who see the craze

Of conflict urging you while thousands cheer.

Have you not eyes to see with, minds to think,
And throats to shout, that you are so inert
And passive to this hastening human wrong
That soon will hurl you men from life's high brink?
We pity you, we dead who sleep alert
Where gaping poppies sway in crimson song.

GEORGE KAYTON.

MEDITATIONS

Golly it's tough bein' a rat,
Not to sit in the lobby
Or take off my cap

To stand in the gutter
And wear a night robe
To hear Sophomores sputter
While I clean their clothes

To keep off of Smiley's walk
And sing when they ask.
Gee, I'll be glad when
I'm at least a Bull Rat.

Stetson Game Will Be Tampa U. Homecoming

The University of Tampa, for the first time in its history has a group of alumni, a small group but one, nevertheless which the university will honor by setting aside Nov. 16 as Homecoming. On that day the Spartans meet the strong Stetson Hatters, a contest which promises to furnish the "old grad" the thrills and excitement that grads expect when they come back to the old home town to watch their Alma Mater do battle on the gridiron. Many social events are being planned for that day and activities a-plenty will be on tap for the first graduates.

In previous years citizens of Tampa have assumed the role of University of Tampa alumni. Vanderbilt, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Cornell, Dartmouth, Florida, Cumberland were pushed into the background of many a Tampan's memory as they accepted the new college filling historic Tampa Bay hotel, as their adopted Alma Mater.

These citizens, banding together under the club name Spartans have come time and again to the aid of many a university student. Their interest in the University of Tampa and their enthusiasm for the new college have spread the name and the work of the University of Tampa throughout the world. They come from all walks of life, they look at the university from a thousand different angles but to the last man of them they are for the University of Tampa. Their good work is greatly appreciated by the university and it is our fondest hope that they shall always regard the University of Tampa as their Alma Mater.

Freshman Eleven To Play Five Games

For the first time since it put a major athletic team on a football field two years ago the University of Tampa is separating the varsity from the first year men and is arranging a schedule of five games for the yearling eleven.

This step was taken largely because of the rules of the S. I. A. A. of which the University is a probationary member. This rule does not permit members or probationary members to play first year men or transfer students who have not completed a year's work.

The freshman squad, small but composed of promising grid aces, has furnished the varsity stiff opposition in scrimmages held this season. During a 30-minute game session last Saturday the varsity was able to push only one lone touchdown over the fighting first year Spartans. Their showing in this and other scrimmages pleased head Coach Higgins and the first year mentors, John Edison and Marion Lee.

Teams which the freshmen will meet this year include: Middle Georgia College, Abraham Baldwin College, Stetson frosh, Miami University freshmen and Brewton Parker Institute.

CYCLE CHEAP, BUT FINES LOOM

John Williams, a Newport, England, man bought a motorcycle for $2.50. In court recently he pleaded guilty to offenses which made him liable to $1000 in fines. They included having no driving license, no road fund license, no insurance certificate, insufficient brakes and failing to notify change of ownership. The judge let him off with a fine of $1.25.

John Moe, former student here, reports that his credits earned at Tampa U. were accepted in full by the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York.

COACH HIGGINS WILL ATTEND CHICAGO MEET

Spartan Mentor Will Scout Football Foes

Nash Higgins, Spartan grid coach and Superintendent of Public Recreation for the city of Tampa, left here last night for Chicago where he will attend the executive convention of the National Recreation Association. Higgins will serve as chairman of the convention.

Enroute to Chicago Higgins plans to scout Newberry College, Spartan opponent, in its game with Oglethorpe University at Atlanta, Friday night. On Saturday he will motor to Bowling Green, Ky., to watch the Western Kentucky State Teachers eleven, Thanksgiving day opponents, in their game with Bethel College.

On Sunday the Spartan mentor plans to reach Chicago in time for the opening session of the convention which will continue until October 4. Higgins will speak to the convention on the need for public recreation among the negroes of the south.

Following the meeting Higgins will scout Cumberland University in their game with Vanderbilt, in Nashville, Tennessee.

Higgins will be accompanied by Mrs. Higgins and his small son, Pete, and Mrs. D. D. Hunt, director of girls' and social recreation for the city of Tampa. Mrs. Hunt will be given a merit award for ten years service with the Recreation Department.
