

Spartans Face Auburn Frosh; Seek Fourth Victory

STUDENT BODY AND FACULTY TO MARCH IN ARMISTICE SHOW

Conceded Weight Advantage for First Time

Tomorrow the student body, band and the capped and gowned faculty of the University of Tampa will take part in what will be Tampa's greatest Armistice day military show in many years. Corp formations representing the army, navy, marine, field artillery and coast guard units will colorfully augment the traditional war veteran, school and fraternal organizations.

Approximately 400 persons are expected to participate in the university group, which will be headed by the band, closely followed by the faculty body, parading in caps and gowns. Students, arranged in alternating rows of four, will complete the unit.

The entire student body, with the exception of the football squad which will be resting for its tilt with Auburn in the afternoon, is expected to turn to the demonstration.

The parade will start promptly at 9 o'clock, and will move from Fortune street south on Franklin street, and up Lafayette to the fair grounds, where distinguished guests will review the ceremonies, which will include a huge mass demonstration by the public school children.

The university group will head section 7, under command of Capt. Frank R. Crom, which will form on the west side of Franklin street, head at Kay street, extending to, and west upon, Estelle street.

The committee in charge of university proceedings is composed of M. L. Price, music director; Chaplain J. P. Jones, and Prof. R. F. Webb.

All individual units will halt from 10:53 a. m., to 11:03 a. m., in order that a period of silence in respect to the dead may be appropriately observed.

Mr. Jones Addresses Brewster Assembly

Mr. John Page Jones addressed the students of Brewster Vocational school last Monday morning on "The Increased Responsibility of the Schools."

Mr. Jones said that the responsibility of the teachers has been increased even in the face of decreased salaries. Many of them have provided, from their own pockets, the money to pay for the only meal some children get each day. In addition to teaching more classes and courses, instructors have been obliged to take over much of the training which should be the responsibility of the home. This is attributed to the fact that many homes have been broken up as a result of the depression.

Because of the increase of technical unemployment, the student's responsibility lies in obtaining training not only in special fields but also in a more general way. The fact that we are approaching a time when achievement will be based on merit alone, will require more of the student's concentration on his work.

Last Sunday Chaplain Jones spoke in an open forum meeting of the Congregational church on "Why Hitler?" In outlining the reasons for Germany's adoption of national socialism he said they were due mainly to the injustices and inequalities of the Versailles treaty, the breakdown of parliamentary government in Germany and the growth of nationalism because of the economic depression.

Mr. Jones will go to Auburndale on Nov. 14 to speak before the Rotary club there on "Germany in World Affairs."

Official Notices

Students will note that all entrance requirements must be fulfilled before promotion to the sophomore class.

All night classes held in the university building should be dismissed no later than 9:30 p. m. Students not rooming in the building must leave not later than 9:45 p. m., except when permission has been obtained from the building committee.

All lights in corridors and class rooms must be turned off by 9:45 p. m. Both students and faculty are expected to turn off lights when not in use.

Regular faculty meetings for this month are to be held Nov. 9 and 23.

The Tuesday chapel is not being well attended. Every student is expected to attend unless he has a legitimate excuse.

Standing Committee Council Appointment For Social Functions

At the last meeting of the student council of the University of Tampa, Miss Mary Litschgi was appointed chairman of a standing social committee. Miss Dorothy Pou and Crockett Farnell were selected as her co-workers. This committee was formed as a result of the decision of the council to do away with temporary groups for each social function.

The duties of the committee will consist of taking charge of the executive end of all social functions that will be held in connection with the university, including dances, suppers, and receptions.

These students, serving in an advisory capacity, will not take an active part in any of the functions. They will select a special committee for each occasion.

New Speaking Course Offered Business Men

The University of Tampa is now offering to the business men of Tampa a new course in public speaking, to be conducted by A. K. Hartzell. This course, patterned after the style of similar lines of study already in operation in more than 150 cities of the United States and Canada, will hold class in the university building each Friday at 7:30 p. m.

Instruction on this subject is being offered in response to the demands of active business and professional leaders of the community. Mr. Hartzell, specialized in speech education, is well qualified for the post.

The purpose of this practical and intensive course, as outlined, is to develop modern orators—business men possessing the ability to speak clearly, forcibly and appealingly.

First Freshman Prom Will Be Held Nov. 17

Following the Oglethorpe game next Friday, Nov. 17, the first freshman prom will be held in the university ballroom. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock to music provided by Manuel Sanchez and his orchestra.

A committee comprised of Red Means, Doris Then, Bob Morales and Spurgeon Fulford announced that both football teams will be guests of the class, but the players must provide for their date's entrance.

The ballroom is to be decorated in the university colors and the committee is arranging to have draperies hung.

A fish pond ducking is the penalty for every freshman boy not attending; the fate of feminine absentees has not been disclosed.

Municipal Museum Opened to Public

Art Treasures Admired By Many Visitors

Rare and valuable art treasures, gathered from all parts of the world by Mrs. H. B. Plant to adorn the Tampa Bay hotel, have been collected and arranged in the south wing of the university, forming Tampa's municipal museum. This collection, most of which was removed from the hotel parlor, now the university library, was opened to the public with a brief ceremony last Tuesday afternoon.

"We are happy to have Tampa's museum in the university building," said Miss Virginia Hill Smith, curator appointed by Mayor Chace, "for these two organizations will be of great assistance to one another."

Two of the most interesting of the group collections are the Oriental room in the southeast end of the long corridor and the Marie Antoinette room, just across the hall.

It would take hours to really study the Oriental collection. It took 10 years of hand labor to complete a Japanese cabinet, which is estimated to be 200 years old. There are elaborate and costly vases from China, Tibet and Japan, including a Satsuma vase depicting the king and queen of Japan with their dynasty.

In the Marie Antoinette room is a Majalaca vase which is valued at over $1600. Its color of ruby red and golden yellow is characteristic of its type. The cabinet, which was made by Boule, is arranged exactly as it was in 1892. A pair of lovely jeweled vases made in India adorn the mantelpiece.

The long corridor is lined with pottery, vases, and an interesting assortment of china pedestals which range from a group of animals to a formal parlor group. The hall ends with two fine bronze statues on engraved marble pedestals.

American Music Lecture Course To Begin Nov. 15

On Nov. 15 at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. H. Lane Coachman will give the first of a series of six lectures on American music.

These lectures will be presented in the university chapel through the courtesy of the Friday Morning Musicale. All members of the faculty and the student body, as well as members of the Musicale will be admitted without charge.

The lecture course is based on John Lasker Howard's "Our American Music," and will be illustrated with musical excerpts. The course will be of value to students of history as well as to students of music.

Two University Dances Honor Football Teams

The second junior chamber of commerce—University of Tampa Athletic association script dance, was held Saturday evening in the university's ballroom, in honor of home and visiting teams of the previous football game.

University sponsors were Miss Mary Gannon and Miss Helen Hartness; sponsors representing the chamber of commerce were Miss Grace Gannon and Miss Janice Prince.

Music was furnished by Homer Mercer's orchestra and dancing was continued from 9:30 until 1 o'clock.

Spartan Game Dance
More than 200 students and guests attended the first of a series of dances given by the university, sponsored by junior chamber of commerce, held Saturday a week ago. Southern and Spartan football teams were special guests.

Miss Mary Litschgi and Miss Margaret Rush were sponsors.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

What with cheery blazes snapping and crackling in the hearths, students whizzing around all bundled in scarfs and topcoats, and snow falling, or just about to fall, an unmistakable Christmas spirit pervades the air.

And so we, the staff, first, last, and always, with today's news tomorrow, wish you a very Merry Christmas!

Belgium Museum Sends University Scientific Tomes

A valuable addition to the university's scientific literature was recently received here in the form of a group of volumes treating of East Indian Paleontology, a gift of the Belgium government.

The Royal Museum of Natural History of Brussels, Belgium, has forwarded to the university, through medium of the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, copies of its 1933 publications, printed entirely in French and German.

Among the more important works is a series of memoirs, grouped under the title Les Resultats Scientifique du Voyage Aux Indes Orientales Neerlandaises, which are concerned with the biology and paleontology of the Dutch East Indies. Also included are numerous bulletins and memoirs of the museum, containing reports of their recent research work in petrography and paleontology.

Early this spring the university was presented similar material by the Cuban government, published in Spanish. These two collections will be the nucleus of what is hoped to develop into an important scientific reference library.

Faculty Has First Informal Smoker

The season's first informal faculty smoker was held recently in the faculty reception rooms adjoining Professor Higgins' office to introduce new members of the faculty and discuss educational policies.

An appetizing buffet supper, served at the opening of the meeting under the direction of Mrs. A. S. McCordie, included sliced ham, pickles, several kinds of cheese, beer and coffee. Following was an informal discussion in which President Spaulding spoke of the remarkable progress the university has made in its three years existence.

"Frankly," he said, "I wondered why anyone attended the university during its first year. It had no inducements at all."

He then described conditions for next year, expressing his optimism for the future. In closing it was decided to hold a smoker every month. Dr. Becknell was selected chairman of the November meeting.

NEW FOOTBALL SONG

To Tampa University
We pledge our faith,
Striving onward to honor and fame.
To our college,
To our team mates,
We are true
And we'll cheer and we'll fight for our name.
Hear our war cry,
Hear our motto,
Hear our song of praise.
We will cheer,
We will fight,
We will win.
On you Spartans,
On to glory,
On to victory,
To the Red, Black and Gold be true.

POWERFUL AUBURN FROSH THREAT TO TAMPAN'S RECORD

Near 400 Expected To Represent University

Facing for the first time what promises to be serious opposition, the University of Tampa Spartans will take the field tomorrow afternoon to seek their fourth straight victory. Twenty-six of the husky Auburn frosh, reputedly the strongest in several years, and holding the weight advantage, arrived here this morning for a preliminary workout on the Plant field sod. Preparing themselves to revive the Auburn varsity next year, the freshman team under Coaches Jordan and Jimmy Hitchcock, has developed a powerful line crushing attack in which two 185-pound halfbacks figure very prominently. Realizing this Coach Higgins has driven his team to a fever pitch, developing the linesmen to the peak of resistance.

Twice have the invaders tasted blood, once in riding over the Birmingham-southern frosh, 39 to 6, and then trouncing the Sidney Lanier high school of Montgomery, 25 to 0. They average nearly 160 pounds—the line 182 and the backfield 175—one pound more than the Spartan forces. In their previous games Coach Higgins' eleven boasted from 10 to 15 pounds advantage over every rival, so being the underdog is a brand new sensation.

"This Auburn team is heavy and strong. If we make a credible showing against them I shall be well pleased," Coach Higgins said. "The spirit of the team is excellent, and if we pull through this game we should go a long way with the rest of the struggle."

The loss of Rodriguez, who severely injured his leg at practice last Tuesday, is keenly felt, but it has been revealed that the cagey little quarterback should be ready to return to the battle front within 10 days. Several minor injuries, not serious enough to cripple the squad, have been reported.

Coach Higgins has kept his players swirling through a torrid pace all week in preparation for this game, and a marked improvement is noticeable, especially in the aerial attack which sagged so surprisingly last Saturday.

The sudden cold snap has caused the footballers to perk up remarkably, and a renewed pep and enthusiasm is exhibited everywhere upon the practice field.

The probable starting lineup of Auburn: Williams and Cone, ends; Laflin and Rogers, tackles; Gilliam and Yarbrough, guards; Gantt, center; Scarborough, quarter; Scott and Huie, halves; and Kilgore, full.

Higgins will probably open with Edison and Hoy, ends; Lee and Gunnoe, tackles; Hastry and Godwin, guards; Clinton, center; Carter, quarter; Overstreet and Chancey, halves; and Whitlock, full.

Snowfall has been recorded in Tampa four times, the latest occurring in December, 1906. Tampa's greatest snowfall was in February, 1899, when a light dry snow fell, remaining upon the ground for a considerable time.

The biology prof. was speaking. "I have here some very fine specimens of dissected frogs, which I will show you."

Unwrapping the parcel, some sandwiches, fruit and hard-boiled eggs came to view.

"But, surely—I ate my lunch!" he exclaimed.—Penn. State Froth.

Tampa stands 17th in shipping tonnage of all the ports of the United States, leading Seattle, Mobile, Savannah, and others.

PEPLESS ENTHUSIASM

The term "school spirit" has so long been a target for jokes, praise, and severe criticism that one feels he is treading on forbidden ground when he mentions such a subject. School spirit, however, in the best sense of the term, is a laudable trait, a trait which has been woefully lacking at the University of Tampa.

Consider the spirit of the team itself. In the game against South Georgia the players seemed slow, ponderous, and utterly without ambition. When asked the reason, several of the team members attributed their spiritless playing to the general mental attitude. Each player is out for his own glory. He works hard for himself, but when it is his time to block for someone else he goes to sleep at his post. He is jealous of the feats of others and criticizes his own team mates. Without cooperation no team can long remain victorious. The players must forget entirely their personal animosities, and their own selfish ambitions, and give the best that is in them for their University.

The greatest reason for the poor spirit of the team, however, is the fact that the general student body is showing too little interest. Do you feel a quick tensing of the muscles, a desperate loyalty, an intense enthusiasm at the opening whistle of a game? Do you fight mentally with your team until the shrill scream of the closing blast? If so, you are an exception. The students of this University have been only lukewarm in their enthusiasm thus far. And why? Don't you know you are a part of the University and the team, in working for their school, is working for you? Yet you remain base ingrates.

Combine the two separate units, the team and the student body, and work toward mutual benefit. Go out Saturday, students, and yell yourselves hoarse. Remember that, regardless of how hard you exert yourself, the team will be working many times harder.

"It strikes me," said Owen Young recently, "that we're all in the same boat with Christopher Columbus. He didn't know where he was going when he started. When he got there he didn't know where he was, and when he got back he didn't know where he had been."

To Be Or Not To Be

Our Sunday morning chapel attendance has been very poor—so poor, in fact, that if it does not improve within the next week or two the Sunday services will be discontinued. As students of the university, we surely cannot let this happen.

The time is 9:45, and that does not conflict with any church services. You can come here and then attend your own church. Mr. Jones gives excellent talks that are absolutely non-sectarian. If he takes the time and effort to accomplish such a feat, the least we can do is to be present.

We can all stand a little serious thinking once or twice a week. We're all old enough for that. We want chapel continued. Let's bring our friends and make a good showing next Sunday, and every Sunday after that.

There are two ways of being happy; we may either diminish our wants, or augment our means—either will do—the result is the same; and it is for each man to decide for himself, and do that which happens to be easiest. Benjamin Franklin.

We regret that no columns were received from Hillsborough, Brandon, or Wimauma high schools for this issue. We hope to restore these columns to our editorial page next week.

The Panther Muezzin
By CARL OPP

After the extreme pitch of excitement reached last week over the Plant City game, Plant has settled down to the usual routine, which is disturbed only by the ominous report card activity.

The Panther football squad is now resting a little since winning the game with Plant City but as the remaining part of the schedule seems to be made up of hard games the boys will have little time for relaxation.

The Plant City goal was neatly crossed up by the Panther running attack Friday. It is reported that the Panthers, expecting a heavy bombardment of aerials, drilled more heavily on their defense against Plant passes than against the Plant line plays. But the Panthers tried only two or three passes during the entire game and both of their touchdowns came as the result of sustained "up the field" drives, made through the line and around the ends.

Kearney made up for some bad punts in the first quarter, when, in the second period, he booted the ball down the field in the longest punt made at Plant field this season.

Coach Duyck of Plant City wanted it made plain that his team did not have the weight advantage the papers said it had. He said that the Plant City line was little or no heavier than the Plant line. Regardless of weights or records, however, there was spilled "dope" all over Plant field that afternoon.

Kearney's Pants

There was quite a lot of breath holding on the Plant sidelines during the game last week when Francis Kearney's pants began to slip alarmingly. According to his story his belt was broken and he had not replaced it. Coach Sarra gave orders that he should have a good belt next time.

Plant's Band Broadcasts

Plant's new band, under the direction of Mr. Benjamin Green, broadcasted from station WDAE Thursday evening at 7:30 in a pep program preparing for the Plant City game. Coach Sarra made a short talk, and Carl Opp, as student representative, completed the speaking part of the program.

Bob Thomas is the student drum major of the band.

Game This Week

On Saturday, Nov. 11, the Panthers will journey by bus to Clearwater to play the Clearwater eleven. The Panthers are favored to win the game, but Clearwater has improved throughout the season, and consequently will furnish no material for a walkover.

The Panther "B" team will probably play the St. Pete "B" team here on Thursday or Friday of this week.

PLANTER HIGHLIGHTS

With the election of class officers, the senior class of Plant City high school is off to a profitable year. After careful consideration and some campaigning the class elected Jack Chapman as president. Other officers include: vice president, Jack Clinton; secretary, Alice DeVane; corresponding secretary, Eloise Horton; treasurer, Carmen Bowden; sergeant-at-arms, Edmund Thomas; reporter, Ruby M. Fletcher. The class has the united support of the school in all their endeavors.

Spectacular Game With Plant

One of the most spectacular football games of the season was witnessed by 3500 spectators last Friday afternoon at Plant field. Although the score, 12 to 7, was in favor of Plant high, Plant City is very proud of her big Orange and Blue team. We commend their courage and sportsmanship.

The first period was turned into a punting duel in which Plant City, slowly but surely, pushed the Panthers deep into the shadow of their goal posts. The longest punt of the season on Plant field, a distance of 70 yards, was gotten off by Kearney of Plant.

During the second period Plant made her two touchdown expeditions which won the game.

The third period found Plant City making a good attempt for a touchdown, and they made it. Tom Jarvis lugged the ball over for our touchdown. McEachern's placement for extra point split the bars. Jimmy Moore, speedy substitute back, J. Lee Smith, big fullback, Jeffcoat, quarterback, and G. Helms, left end did some unusually fine playing. Fred Knight was the outstanding player.

In fourth period, the teams swapped breaks but Plant City outplayed Plant throughout the second half.

Gobbles From Turkey Creek

The past week was a great success for the Turkeys in basketball. The senior high teams won a double-header from Kathleen, with a girls' score of 12-11, and boys' score of 12-6. The junior high team of girls won from Antioch 17-1, and the junior high boys won 23-12. The next game will probably be with Brandon.

The auditorium stage has recently been renovated. New wine-colored velvet curtains were hung last week.

A recent book contest netted more than 3000 additions to the library. These books have already been catalogued and are being shelved. Additional shelves in the library are being built for them.

Friday of this week has been designated as home-coming day. Alumni and school officials are being invited for a program and supper in the afternoon and evening. The seniors will also occupy places of honor in the day's activities, in recognition of their winning the book contest.

Broken-down co-ed: Say, I've lost my heel.

Prom chairman: Well, what the hell do you think I am, a gigolo?—Ohio State Sun Dial.

Yip! Yip! Yip!

Yip, Southern! What a yell! Slowly, but surely, it gains momentum during the calmer moments of the game. Who originated it? Why? Someone told us it was a national hiccup (or was it a hiccup?) of the bleachers. At any rate it must be hiccupped to give the proper effect.

The band seems to be the center of this activity—as if they didn't make their share of the noise—and, believe it or not, they were perfectly sober when they started it.

Will they continue yipping Southern throughout the season? Southern can be most euphonorously yipped but how about yipping something more up-to-date—Auburn, for instance?

Well, time alone will tell, but we offer congratulations to our courageous band for so firmly and persistently defending their conviction that someone should be yipped.

More power to them!

I hold that companionship is a matter of mutual weaknesses. We like that man or woman best who has the same faults we have. George Jean Nathan.

A Posteriori

Monkeys blush very easily, not from modesty, for God knows they are not modest, but from anger. To observe this phenomenon, however, you must not only look at the monkey's face, he often blushes in another, unexpected place. Why their Maker, for reasons of his own, should have chosen this very place for such a rich and sensitive carnation, such a prodigal display of vivid colors, crimson, blue and orange, remains a mystery to our uneducated eyes. Many startled spectators do not even hesitate to pronounce it at first sight to be very ugly. But we must not forget that opinions as to what is beautiful or not are much at variance in different ages and countries. The Greeks, arbiters of beauty if there ever were any, painted the hair of their Aphrodite blue; how do you like blue hair? Amongst the monkeys themselves this rich carnation is evidently a sign of beauty, irresistible to the ladies' eye, and the happy possessor of such a glow of colors a posteriori is often seen with uplifted tail turning his back upon the spectators in order to be admired.

The Story of San Michele.

A Recreation Hall, Please!

The University of Tampa needs a recreation hall. Our "grapevine" tingles with anticipation, but just when will a happy realization occur? Even University students have some leisure—

What better way to employ it,
Than learning how to enjoy it?

Among the cataclysmic changes that are taking place in our over-taxed world, one fact shines out—people will have more leisure, whether they want it or not. Our English cousins complain that Americans are incapable of making the most of leisure; that a mad hustle for one thing or another has made of America a very dull boy—when the time for play arrives.

Helpful Criticism

Criticism that may be constructively applied is the most helpful thing in the world. Our University professors endeavor to teach us many things; from each other we learn many others. Every student has something of value to divide with the rest. Therefore, a recreation hall would provide opportunity for the enrichment of life. Therein, we might first of all learn to observe the amenities gracefully—and with appreciation. We might learn to converse about art, science, literature, music—rather than to gossip.

Best of all, in such a community center we should certainly arrive at more open-mindedness, tolerance, understanding. Our sympathies would expand with our growing ideals, and we should find unity with the ideals of our university.

Foster Mother, when do we get our Recreation Hall?

Spartans Add Two To Vanquished List

Coach Higgins' Spartans disposed of two more opponents since this sheet last went to press. Southern's Moccasins were the first victims, falling before the superior Tampa eleven by a 21 to 0 score two weeks ago. Last week a reputedly inferior South Georgia outfit very nearly turned the tables on the startled Spartans, but Higgins' team regained enough of their power to deliver a 13-0 victory.

Spartans 21, Southern 0

In his team's first official football bow before the homefolks, Coach Higgins frequently substituted three complete teams, otherwise the score might have been larger. The third team opened the fray, holding their own in a first period punting duel. Late in that quarter the first string took the field and quickly pushed across the initial tally. The second touchdown came when the Moccasins failed to solve the second teamster's passing attack. Again entering the battle in the closing minutes the first eleven clicked for the third and final score. The Spartans chalked up 15 first downs to the visitors' three.

Startled Spartans

Finding in the South Georgia aggregation a stubborn resistance and in their own play a pronounced feebleness, the deflated Spartan was pushed all the way to gain an unimpressive victory. The highly perfected and reliable aerial attack collapsed sadly before the Georgian's defense. Marvin Chancey provided the single thrill with the 59-yard jaunt for the first score. Ed O'Reilly's string of eight perfect place kicks in eight attempts was broken when the Spartan line sagged following the second touchdown, allowing the South Georgians to sift through and block the attempt.

Received And Contents Noted

Dear Editor:

Complaints are naturally unpleasant, especially are they unpleasant when the grievance is so indisputably justified as this one. I refer to the same complaint that lurks darkly in the minds of many—to the flagrant infractions of training regulations of which so many of our strong-backed gridsters are guilty. This seeming indifference to responsibility does not well display the individual, but even more does it degrade the showing of the entire team. Someone has said that a chain is only so strong as its weakest link, and in such a highly organized and cooperative aggregation as a football team is expected to be, a weak link is easily recognized. A link weakened by excessive dissipation can very handily toss the proverbial monkey wrench into the gears. To look upon the wine when it's red, to finger the pasteboards until an early hour, to attend the weaker sex; all these show themselves very clearly Saturday afternoons. There are many specific instances, even names, I might mention, but to do so would prove woefully embarrassing to all, including myself. If these glorified huskies would but dust off their alleged minds and cause them to function ever so little, they might realize that when they compensate for an evening of pleasure by tearing a gash in the team's organization they double, or triple, the burden of their team mates; that they reduce the team's efficiency by 27 percent; that they materially impair their resistance to injury. Surely, dear editor, the footballer was not brought into this peculiar world for the lone purpose of gamboling upon the green with an elliptical sphroid tucked beneath his arm. Surely they possess some intelligence.

But sometimes I wonder—

Intramural Sports Are Being Organized

A flood of interest precipitated by the frosh-upperclassmen touch football game has brought about a decision to extend intramural competition to include all sports. These competitive groups will not be drawn from class divisions, but will be self-organized teams. It is expected that games will be played on Saturdays on Plant field, under adequate officiating and supervision. Each group is limited to 10 members and a student playing varsity in that sport will not be allowed to participate in the intramural division.

As soon as four full teams have been arranged, touch football games will be scheduled. Three teams have already been organized, calling themselves the Alley Rats, Fallbearers and Sanitary Engineers, respectively.

Other sports which have been suggested for intramural competition are: Basketball, track, soccer, tennis, boxing, wrestling, handball, diamond ball, badminto horseshoe pitching and squash.

—Notes on Feeding

Every one in the university should become acquainted with Pat, for he is a permanent fixture here. We know he looks ferocious, but his friends assure us that he won't bite.

He likes to box, and if any of our hefty Spartans should like to take him on for a round or two, we're sure he would be delighted. Of course, it would be best to tackle him when he's in a good humor, for, although he is only four feet tall, and has not perfected this art, his 300 pounds should make him a pretty good match for the average man.

We have neglected to mention the fact that Pat is the little black bear in the rose garden, who recently came from the Everglades. The keeper is building him a cage in the park, because he simply loves to tear off people's clothing—all in fun, y'understand.

His owner intends to let people feed him anything they may wish. We'll give you a tip right now—he is crazy about water flavored with a little syrup. He'll stand up, hold out his hands, and whine like a puppy if he sees it coming. If you indulge him with this delicacy, however, make him take it in his paws like a nice little bear, because, being only two

THE MAN

A '35 adorns his chest,

He knows he's good if not the best.
He swaggers by, disdains to talk,
A noble purpose in his walk.You ought to hear him string the gals

During the summer one of the old timers told me this incident about the Tampa Bay hotel when it was first constructed.

At that time Mr. Flagler owned the best hotel in Florida which was located on the east coast.

At the opening of the Tampa Bay, Mr. Plant wrote to Flagler inviting years old, he doesn't always remember his manners and still prefers to hold things in his teeth.

Pat is also quite fond of bananas. He doesn't care for the peelings, and if you do not peel them for him he will try to do it himself, but his youthful enthusiasm for food usually overcomes him before the job is complete—and into his mouth goes the delicious morsel, peeling and all.

Visitors are always welcome. If the little fellow is feeling well he may tumble around some for you, and mayhaps even demonstrate how to apply a true bear hug in the orthodox manner. Thus we are almost certain that a visit to our amusing new neighbor will prove educational (and, perhaps, inspirational) who knows?

him to visit the best hotel in Florida, the new Tampa Bay.

Later Mr. Plant received the following postcard from Flagler.
"Where in the — is Tampa?"

I hear that Dean Coulson received a letter addressed to the Tampa Baby hotel.

After weeks and weeks of study I have finally found what the yellow light in the traffic signal is for. It's to warn Scotch drivers to start their motors.

After reading that essay on laughter, it seems to me what he really means to say is that loud laughter betokens an empty mind.

When you try to get SOMETHING good for nothing, you usually get something good for NOTHING.
