Keith Fills New Position In Counseling Department

By NONA EDELSON
Minaret Staff Writer

Do you know what you want to do with your life after graduation? If you have the slightest doubt, Dr. Keith in room 306 is the person to talk to.

Dr. Keith, the newest member of the counseling staff, received his doctorate in counseling from the University of Florida and has three years' experience in counseling college and university students. His official title is "career planning and placement counselor." This position is new to the counseling program.

Dr. Keith helps students who are undecided about their major and finds jobs for those who know what they want. But his work does not stop there. He goes out in the community seeking companies and employers for the purpose of interesting them in the students at the University of Tampa. In fact, his main goal this year is to increase the number of recruiters from companies and employers.

After he has the companies interested, Dr. Keith sets up a certain time for the company representative to come to the university to interview students. Prior to the representative's arrival, there will be bulletins posted for interested students and informative brochures about the company. These students can then set up an appointment for an interview.

The major problem Dr. Keith has encountered with this program is getting companies interested in the University of Tampa. Most employers are looking for students with specialized vocational training. The University of Tampa, as a liberal arts college, does not dwell on a specified trade, but rather on a broad knowledge of different skills that can be applied to a variety of jobs. When employers call colleges for possible employees, they rarely call a liberal arts college. Dr. Keith is trying to overcome this problem by going out and recruiting some of these employers.

This program is not for the graduate only. Dr. Keith also provides undergraduates with part time jobs. There will be a bulletin board posted outside room 306 which will have different jobs that are available: full time, part time, and volunteer work.

Along with Dr. Keith's counseling, the Board of Fellows and the University of Tampa Counseling Association will help with career counseling and placement. This service is available for the individual, organizations, and classes. The students can pass time at these places finding out what their particular field is like. It gives them a chance to discover the real world without having to wait until after graduation. Both Dr. Keith and these two organizations will provide the student with basic job search skills such as how to handle yourself in an interview and how to write a resume.

One of the new programs for this year will be a mini-internship program. This program will enable a student to spend one full day with a professional or executive in the field he plans to pursue. He will find out what a typical day is like in this line of work.

The career counseling program is something everyone should take advantage of. To make an appointment, just stop by room 306 and talk to Dr. Keith's secretary.

With the ideas and hard work Dr. Keith has to offer, the career counseling center should have a very successful year.

Minimal Revisions Made In Residence Halls

By JERRY THOMSEN
Minaret Photographer and Reporter

During the past year, many repairs and revisions have been made on the residence halls of the University of Tampa. These revisions have come in the form of safety features as well as major remodeling and repair work. All dorms have received a certain amount of work to a varying extent.

All dorms have had revisions in the area of safety features.

"Life safety and fire safety," according to Nick Dennis, director of maintenance, "are two paramount considerations in anything we do."

The main safety additions to all the dorms include changes such as the replacement of all the old soda-acid fire extinguishers with chemical filled extinguishers capable of extinguishing electrical as well as conventional fires. Emergency lighting systems have been installed in the larger dorms such as Howell Hall and Delo Hall. These emergency lights are battery powered and will switch on in any instances of power outage. The fire alarm systems have also been checked over and rebuilt so that they are now in perfect functioning order. Dennis also added that there will be fire drills in all halls on occasion. Before school this September, all the elevators in dorms that have them were completely gone over, including cables. The elevators were in perfect working order when the residence halls opened.

Major improvements to the different residence halls include the painting of Howell Hall, as well as the repair of most of its bathtubs. Over the years much of the porcelain finish on the inside of the tubs has been worn away by scrubbing and normal use. These bare spots were covered with an epoxy sealer. Although this should be done to all the bathtubs in Howell only the ones which were the worst got treated.

Touch-up painting was done to Delo Hall even though the whole hall should be repainted. This, however, would cost the University about $30,000 and cannot be afforded at this time. About three years ago nearly $150,000 was spent on major repair work in Delo, and, said Dennis, "That is basically what we should be doing to some of the other dorms, but due to lack of funds for such projects, no major work to any hall is planned at this time."

In McKay Hall, painting was done to outside and inside doors as well as to some of the rooms which needed it the most. Painting will probably resume in the future, but at the moment other priorities exist.

The new dorms which were readied for this year's use include the Alumni Building, University North, and University South apartment dormitories. The Alumni Building previously contained the offices and facilities for the football team. Since last year the building has been converted into a dormitory, although other facilities exist as well. The University North and South Dormitories had previously been private residences until the University acquired them a few years ago. Both houses were remodeled this past year. Altogether, all improvements to existing dorms as well as new facilities enabled the University to add 96 new bed spaces.

The University still needs repair work done to many of the dorms in the area of painting, repair, and general remodeling. They are not being worked on at this time due to a small work staff and limited budget. Eighteen maintenance workers, 51 custodial workers, and 12 grounds workers comprise the bulk of the maintenance department's staff. "It's like a baseball team manager trying to operate with seven players," stated Dennis.

Working on a limited budget also cuts down on the amount of work which can be done to the dorms and to other areas on campus.

The maintenance department, therefore, must operate on a priority first concept making the best use of every dollar. At present the soccer field needs resodding. This means that the maintenance department must stop work on some other project and use money on the soccer field which might have been used to repair or paint a dorm.

Another important factor which keeps revisions from being made on many dorms, and which also wastes money, is in the area of vandalism. For example: Every time a fire extinguisher is discharged it wastes money and creates a safety hazard as well. Destructive vandalism such as window breaking, toilet breaking, etc., wastes money and precious work time. "... about 30% of the work we perform is as a result of somebody doing something they shouldn't be doing," added Dennis.

Some of the other improvements to the campus in general include the future relocation of Brevard Street as it enters the campus. This will eliminate traffic and make another pedestrian walk area. The landscaping on the west area of the ROTC building is scheduled to be completed near mid-October.

Saatkamp Attends Symposium

By LORI BETH LONG
UT Journalism Student

Dr. Herman Saatkamp, UT philosophy professor, has been invited to present a paper on the works of philosopher-novelist George Santayana at the Bicentennial Symposium of Philosophy in New York Oct. 7-10.

Dr. Saatkamp will join a group of distinguished American philosophers in a panel discussion on Santayana's theory of animal faith.

In New York, he will meet with Dr. Peter Shillingsburg, national coordinator of the Center for Scholarly Editions to discuss editing problems connected with the scholarly publication.

Dr. Stephen Meats, chairman of the Division of Humanities, feels the support of the University of Tampa for Saatkamp's trip is an investment in self-development and helps professors "stay alive" in their field.

"When he (the professor) stops learning, his classes become a non-learning experience," said Meats.

Continuing Education Program In Planning Stages

By STEVE CERNY, Assistant Editor and
JAN MONTGOMERY, Minaret Staff Writer

In an effort to expand the University of Tampa's academic programs, Professor Melvin Garten is undertaking a bold new studies program to begin in January. These classes are being planned by Professor Garten, who is director of Continuing Education and Ms. Carol Boyd who is his secretary and administrative assistant.

The program has been organized to fit the needs of UT students as well as people outside the college community. The lengths of the courses range from two weeks to three day workshops or one day seminars. Professor Garten is very enthusiastic about continuing education because he feels that it will be geared toward individuals' interests and will not be concerned with grading or obtaining a degree. Garten's motivation led him to believe "that when UT dropped football, we were divorced from the city." Now he feels it is time to bring the city's involvement back into the school and "this will be an initial start."

The courses that have been proposed range from judo, karate and skydiving to a workshop dealing with international problems. Other offerings may include an LSAT preparation course, photography and a study of women's role in society. There are no requirements needed to take these courses but they are taught on "an academic level." UT faculty has priority in teaching these courses and they will be taught on Saturdays and in the evenings during the week.

Ms. Carol Boyd will be involved through continuing education in the field of travel study programs as well as her secretarial duties. Ms. Boyd's interests stem from her year spent in Italy during her junior year of college. She hopes to advise students on foreign travel study programs originating from UT. Ms. Boyd is also available for consultation pertaining to Continuing Education courses.

Through the work of the faculty, Professor Garten and Ms. Boyd, they hope to make the Tampa Bay area more aware of UT's potential in creating individual interests rather than a money making venture.

Forthcoming Debate

By STEVE CERNY, Assistant Editor and
JAN MONTGOMERY, Minaret Staff Writer

The newly formed Student's Political Organization is finally announcing its first sponsored political event. Along with SPO, the national leadership organization ODK will be co-sponsor.

On October sixth from three to four-thirty there will a debate between incumbent Florida State Senator David H. McClain, Republican of Tampa, and Democratic challenger Elvin L. Martinez, also of Tampa.

The confrontation will take place in the International Room in the Student Union building on campus. Professor Melvin Garten, one of SPO's faculty advisors, will be the moderator of the discussion. Questions will be posed to the candidates ranging from prayer in the schools to the ERA amendment.

Elvin Martinez graduated from UT and attended law school at Stetson. Serving in the Florida House of Representatives from 1966-1974, Martinez helped write and sponsor the law reinstating the death penalty in Florida for the crime of murder.

David McClain is also a lawyer and held office in the Senate from 1970-1972. This year McClain received the Allen Morris Award for "Second Most Effective in Debate in the Senate."

Refreshments will be served after the debate.

Infirmary Gets New Director

By DAN PFEIFFER
Minaret Staff Writer

The UT infirmary is headed by a new man this year. Mr. Jeff Turner, a physician's assistant out of Bowman Gray Medical School (Wake Forest University), is taking on the task. No longer will aspirin be the remedy for broken legs and massive head injuries.

The most frequent sickness he has seen so far has been tonsillitis. Mr. Turner stated, "It has been at epidemic stages for the last three weeks." The most unusual illness he has ever seen in his career was a case of leprosy. That occurred back in medical school in North Carolina.

Mr. Turner received his Bachelor degree from Greensboro College and then went on to graduate with a P.A. (physician's assistant) degree from Bowman Gray last year. When asked if he'll go back to medical school for a M.D. degree, he said, "P.A. is an open field right now, so I have no immediate plans for the future except to improve the student health center." along with his responsibilities at the infirmary, he also is a trainer for the athletic department. Referring to his job, Jeff said, "It keeps me busy."

Jeff Turner does not run the whole operation alone. He has a fine staff of four nurses at the present. They are: Laurel Stewart (head nurse), Dorothy Schiro, Dorothy Miller, and Winnie Gillman. Jeff said he has a "wonderful staff which is striving to keep the student body functioning at its best."

The infirmary is comprised of four examining rooms and eight beds (two of which are isolation beds). It is open twenty-four hours a day and a nurse is always on duty. The health center is located on the second floor of Delo Hall.

Herman Bips: New Director Of Residence Life

By DIMA SMIRNOFF
Minaret Staff Writer

Busy, innovative, concerned. These are just a few of the words that describe Herman O. Bips III, the new director of residence life and director of Delo Hall.

Bips started his job at the University of Tampa on July 1, 1976. As director of residence life his job entails counseling, administering discipline, and helping students adjust to life in the dorms.

His goal for the dorms, specifically Delo, is to break down the high density. According to Bips, breaking down the two- and four-man rooms in Delo would increase good feeling and make the dorm more conducive to study.

Bips has a positive feeling toward UT students. He believes the public sees college students as apathetic. However, it is Bips' theory that the problem is not apathy but a lack of meaningful activities.

The old method of getting students involved was to force them into some program. There is now a new method in which programs are organized for an initial trial period. After this trial period the management of these programs is taken over by the students.

The idea behind this method is that programs and activities are more meaningful to the students if the students run them. This type of thinking is exemplified by Bips in his work with the Coffee House.

Panty Raid Foiled

Late Saturday night, hysteria broke out at Smiley Hall where the first panty raid of the year was foiled. One hundred and fifty rowdy guys from McKay and Delo surrounded Smiley and searched for an unguarded entrance to the dorm. Inside there stood a small but determined R. A. named Terry Ovalle who took it upon herself to assure the safety of the girls in Smiley. Meanwhile, some of the girls were laughing and making jokes about the situation. Others locked their doors in fear of losing their panties. Word spread quickly through the grapevine of U.T. Once again McKay Hall director Don Cramer had to come to the rescue of the Tampa girls, this time to suppress a poorly organized panty raid. Terry, Don, and Police Chief Cramer stood eye to eye with the anxious and excited crowd. Inside of Smiley, security was maintained by a handful of R. A.s from the other dorms plus other concerned groups like the "DeNegro Gang." The raiders tried climbing into the windows but were spotted by Miss Ovalle who quickly notified the people inside. Through this well coordinated handling of the incident, many guys were left dejected and empty handed. Better luck next time.

Eric Romanino

Though he is looking forward to an exciting future at UT, Bips feels a danger of over-exposure to the school. Over-identification with any given institution can cause a person to lose the fresh outlook which is so necessary for people-oriented jobs. Bips needs the diversion of outside life to keep from feeling that he is a mechanical piece in the UT machinery.

Originally from the New Jersey area, Bips graduated high school from Gettysburg in 1968 and went to New York. There he worked as a residence life counselor and recreation worker at a home for dependent boys located just behind Yankee Stadium in the Bronx. As a part time job he drove a taxi in New York City.

In 1972, four years after graduating from high school, Bips decided that it was time to get away from New York and do some traveling. Astride a Yamaha 650, Bips left the east coast and rode to California. Once on the west coast, however, he found life unrewarding. Bips had no college degree and knew he needed more education.

Returning east, Bips attended Upsala College in New Jersey. Majoring in psychology during the day, Bips kept a couple of part time jobs in the evening. First, working as a night watchman at a Nabisco bakery, then as a short order cook at a truck stop. Bips graduated from Upsala in 1974 with a B.A. in psychology.

From New Jersey, Bips went to Kutztown State College in Pennsylvania where, after two years,

Food Committee

By STEVE LEVINE
Minaret Staff Writer

The University of Tampa's Food Committee held its first meeting of the year on September 16. The thrust of the discussion was the length of lines for dinner. Many students feel they waste too much time in line; thus they must rush through their meal to make a six o'clock class. To help the lines move faster, the committee recommended that ice be already placed in the glasses.

One of the problems discussed was the shortage of seats in the cafeteria. To alleviate the situation, the River Room, next to the cafeteria, is now open.

The director of Food Services is Wendy Groves and she encourages students to attend the meetings, for there are many ideas to make meals in the cafeteria more enjoyable. Meetings will be held at 4:00 p.m. in the Student Union Building on alternating Thursdays. The next meeting will be October sixth.

Dorm Director Appointed At Smiley Hall

By LORI GREENSPAN
UT Journalism Student

A new dorm director has been appointed to Smiley Hall by Dean Johns, Vice-President and Dean of Student Affairs.

The new director is Prudence Inzerillo, 24, North Babylon, N. Y., graduate of Oneonta College in New York with a Bachelor's Degree in literature.

Prudence plans to institute a strong residence program with a series of Friday night activities. There has already been a coffee house in which students came and showed their talents. The program was well received.

Under Prudence's direction are three Resident Advisors: Sandy Pritchard, Terry Ovalle and Leslie Bernard. Their positions require them to be "people oriented." Their duties require them to be available to students, and to observe individual and group behavior. They receive help from other members of the staff through individual conferences, group meetings and the Resident Advisor Workshop.

he graduated with a Master of Education degree. In 1976 he was interviewed by UT's Tim Russell at a professional conference.

Now, as director of residence life and director of Delo Hall, Bips sees two big assets for students at the University of Tampa: (1) the small size of the school and, (2) the ability of students to remain independent of fraternities if they wish.

For Bips, one of the most important factors of a successful university is unity of the student body. When asked why he felt that way, he said, "At many universities students are identified by the fraternity they belong to, but at UT students are judged on a more personal level."

When asked to comment on the future of the University of Tampa, Bips replied, "The academic quality of UT is rising. The University is approaching the time when it will no longer be a stepping stone for people who wish to transfer to other schools." Bips went on to say that more and more of the incoming students will be staying for the full four years.

Herman Bips is a man of many interests, including swimming, fishing, scuba diving, camping, and reading.

Residence Life Staff Speaks Out

The Residence Life staff feels a strong need for certain policy changes within the dormitories and on campus at U.T. One of the policies that we would like to see changed is the alcohol policy. College students should be mature enough to account for their own actions. Eighteen is the legal age for consumption of alcohol in Florida. We feel that the University is being overly conservative in its alcohol policy. The present policy has become a major problem on campus. We have found that many students abuse this rule, which makes it much more difficult for the Residence Life staff to do their job. We also feel that if a new policy were to be passed, allowing alcohol in the dorms, the students would not abuse it.

Residence Life would like to plan more social events on campus. We have already had "The Bippers Disco" which was a huge success. The students need these activities, as they are a big part of their college life. We feel that they should not be deprived of these events, as they have been in the past. We also feel that alcohol should be allowed at any social events on campus, if it is handled properly. This is another part of the present policy that we would like to see changed.

Petitions have been written which are available to all students residing in on-campus housing. We are in the process of writing to other universities for their alcohol policies; from this information, we hope to revise our policy, with certain restrictions. A survey is being prepared which will be distributed to the students to determine their views on what restrictions should be set. We are also seeking the aid of parents, faculty and other staff members. We realize that the process will be slow and often frustrating, but we will maintain a positive outlook on the situation.

PI KAPPA PHI

Pi Kappa Phi is alive and well. At least they are alive, but as far as being well after this weekend they're still not sure. The brothers started off the new school year with one of the best rush parties in Pi Kapp history. Between downing two kegs of beer all the brothers and prospective pledges participated in one wild football game down at Lowry Park, last Saturday afternoon. The new pledges began to understand what it takes to be a Pi Kapp brother, along with meeting a lot of new people. As the afternoon dragged on, the Hillsborough River became the center of attraction, and then it was back to hot dogs, hamburgers and beer.

Those men and women who are still interested in Pi Kappa Phi are welcome to investigate. More big parties and projects are in the planning for the future so COME ON DOWN if you are willing to help.

The new officers for the fraternity this semester are as follows: archon, Larry Cippaloni; pledge warden, Dave Helterbran; social chairman, Blake (the flake) Wilder; historian, Rob Ross; secretary, Dave Helterbran; fund raising, Marty Miller; IFC representatives, Tom Parisi, Dave Helterbran, SGA representative, Joe Lamphier; Pi Kapp daughters rep., Dave Helterbran. That's it for now, so remember to "shake that ming . . . er booty."

The Teke men would like to thank everyone for the good turnout we had for the Southwest Florida Blood Bank. It was a very successful day. The Tekes are looking tough in football, so beware. We are predicting a very successful season.

We also hope that all who attended Busch Gardens Day with us had a good time. We suggest that everyone keep in touch, because the TKE tubing party is coming up. It should be a very good semester as we are already making preparations for our Halloween Party.

PEN & SWORD SOCIETY

The Pen & Sword Society kicked off the Fall Semester right. Through the planning of the social chairman, Charlie Ingraham, and the help of his wife Wanda, our BYOB party on 24 September was a great success. Setups and an ample amount of snacks were provided by the Society. The membership gave a hearty welcome to the following newcomers: Sam and Joanne James, Curt and Pam Rogers, Chuck and Marianne McGill, John and Sheryl Kennedy, Terry and Cynthia Clark, Tim and Jackie Avirett, Rick Guffey, accompanied by Jan Roantree, and Steve Glover. We were pleased to welcome back alumni of UT and Pen & Sword, Ed and Jay Weidig along with their daughter Kathi Whitaker. We even found out who the real Larry Jackson was! The Society was especially pleased to enjoy the company of a distinguished University of Tampa Professor and his wife for a brief visit during the evening, Dr. and Mrs. Speronis. Charlie's selection of the English Village Apartments "Club House" provided plenty of space, a dance floor, and a pleasant decor, which added to the overall success of the evening's get-together. Soccer Posts First Victory

By JEANNE CHITESTER

The men's varsity soccer team won its first game of the season against Clearwater Christian on Monday by the score of 4-3.

Clearwater scored first on a straight kick with about 15 minutes gone in the first half. A Clearwater error gave Tampa a goal to tie the score.

Sandy Lehrer "used his head" to put in the first earned goal pushing Tampa ahead 2-1. Clearwater came back to knot the score 2-2 before the half.

Clearwater returned aggressive for the second half inching ahead 3-2 against a tiring UT squad.

With 15 minutes remaining in the game, Dave Schultz drilled in a point to tie it up 3-3. Shortly after Schultz's tying goal, Alex Hill broke the game open with a penetrating goal to put Tampa ahead 4-3. UT then held Clearwater for the remainder of the game.

This was the first win of the season for the Spartans, leaving them with a current record of 1-1. The next game is scheduled for Thursday at 3:30 p.m. against Florida Southern on Phillips Field.

Intramural Program Underway

By RUSS IKERD
Minaret Staff Writer

A total of 65 baseball players are participating in the University of Tampa's 1976 fall intramural baseball season, according to head baseball coach Frank Permuy.

The 65 ballplayers are divided into four teams, each having played four or five games apiece already. Baseball Tryouts Revised

The UT baseball team has started holding tryouts for the fall season. Practice began September 14 and will continue through November 23. Head coach Frank Permuy is returning for his third season as coach.

Permuy has a new way of holding tryouts for his Spartans. "I figure I can tell a ballplayer better in game situations than by letting him take his few swings in batting practice," stated Permuy. And that is just what he did. Out of the seventy students trying out, four teams have been formed of approximately eighteen ballplayers per team. "I am just one coach with the help of no one. I think I could watch each ballplayer more now as an individual and see what new acquisitions I may get," said Permuy.

After a very successful season last year (24-14-1 and once rated No. 8 in the nation for Division II) almost all of last year's Spartans are returning.

At catcher, both Dennis Lopez and Claud Caruso will be back with their hard hitting bats. At first base, both Roddy "Jai Alai" Alveres and Bob Wolf will be wearing the Spartan uniform again. Drew Hansen will be picking up where Paul Russo left off at third base. In the outfield, Eddie Camunas, Harold Lewis, and Gary "Cool Breeze" Richardson all will be returning from last year's squad. On the mound, the Spartans are very lucky. All nine of last year's pitchers, once an inexperienced staff, have now all the experience they need to go all the way.

Permuy announced the recruiting of second baseman, Rocky Rocamora. Rocamora was picked up from the University of Middle Georgia, but is a native Tampan.

The major losses from last year's team are Paul Russo, Jerry Matusak, and three-time All-American John Sylvester.

We hope to see you all out on opening day.
Harold Lewis

KEEP TABS ON TABS, DOCTORS WARN

(CPS)—Beer can pop-tops are strewn everywhere from the mountains, to the valleys, to our stomachs white with foam.

In a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, two doctors said it is dangerous to drop metal pop-tops into a can before drinking its contents. They said drunken people sometimes swallow the tabs. In some cases the tabs lodge in the stomach or lungs.

Sailing News

This past Saturday, 10 students participated with the sailing club in sailing out of Davis Island. We had three boats, a Windmill, Thisile, and Nordex. We went sailing off the tip of Davis Island by the Davis Island Yacht Club. All of us had a great time and we thank Herman Bips for supplying the cold beer.

This coming October 2, the club plans to have a sailing extravaganza. We will have an outdoor barbecue combined with a day of sailing. In the future we plan more activities and plan to have a sailing regatta with U.S.F. If you would like to join us, write a note with your name and box number to the Sailing Club, Box #2979. The club has meetings every Thursday at 5:30 p.m. in Room 3 of the Student Union. By the way, no experience in sailing is needed.

Freshmen Oarsmen Impressive

By RANDY RUDITZ
Minaret Sports Editor

A state championship, southern regional championship and a third place finish in the national championships are not bad statistics. These were the honors the freshmen eight captured last season.

This new school year brings a fresh crop of freshmen to the University. With these new men, plus the returning oarsmen from the previous year, head coach Tom Feaster hopes to build the strongest rowing program in the South.

"The freshmen this fall fit the requirements it takes to be superior oarsmen. They are competitive, intelligent and have a good sense of responsibility," said Feaster.

In late October the second annual Bottom of the Hillsborough Regatta will be held. The race will begin at the mouth of Tampa Bay and finish in front of the boathouse. UT, FTU, FIT, and the Miami Rowing club will participate. This will give the students their first opportunity to see the men and women rowers race.

Many of the new freshmen have an excellent chance of making the boat that will race in Boston on October 17. "These new guys are in shape. They are making it hard on the old guys returning from last year," said one oarsman. "I think they will win the Florida State Title and prove to be one of the top freshman eights in the country."

Feaster is looking forward to the fall state championships scheduled in Orlando for early November. "FIT has dominated rowing in the South over the past five years. Based on last year's success and the group of incoming freshmen, UT will soon make its bid to be the most powerful crew in the South."

Hatton To Coach Women's Rowing

(OPI) — Holly Hatton, a Philadelphia advertising artist who got "turned on" to rowing, is switching from competitor to coach in taking over the highly successful women's crew coaching program at the University of Tampa.

The 28 year-old graduate of Moore College of Art in Philadelphia who just missed being the U.S. Olympic crew coxswain at the Montreal games was named to coach the UT women, according to Robert Birrenkott, director of athletics at the University.

Coach Hatton is now in the process of building a team around five returning veterans from a team that won the state and southern championships and placed third in the nationals in the women's four competition.

A member of the College Boat Club of the University of Pennsylvania, one of the top rowing clubs in the U.S., Holly was coxswain in races that won either gold or silver medals in the Women's Nationals, Women's Mid-Atlantic Regionals, Head of the Schuylkill, Head of the Charles, San Diego Crew Classic, and Canadian Henley.

The member of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen was a finalist for coxswain of the 1975 U.S. team and 1976 Olympic team.

Hatton was art director of Perceptive Marketers Agency in Philadelphia, taking leave to try out for the Olympic team. She later coached the Woodstock Rowing Club, a high school team in Woodstock, Ontario, the past spring and summer before deciding to take the Tampa position.

Spartans Sweep Pair; Florida College Victim

By RUSS IKERD
Minaret Staff Writer

An impressive University of Tampa baseball team opened its 1976 fall baseball season with a pair of close, hard fought victories over Florida College last Saturday, 3-1 and 6-5.

Pitching appears to be the club's forte, although coach Frank Permuy has some bonafide hitters to choose from. The Spartan batsmen banged out fifteen hits on the day, compared to six for the visitors.

Permuy sent five hurlers to the mound in the first game, and they responded with a sparkling one-run, one-hit performance. Jim Budnik started and was charged with the only run in his one inning of work, freshmen Mike Manders and Rick Tonyes each pitched two innings of no-run relief, and Rich Buchanan and Mark Ketley threw for an inning apiece to preserve the victory.

Rod Alvarez, Drew Hansen, and Kevin Sullivan scored the Spartans' runs.

In the second game, UT jumped to an early 4-0 lead but then had to hold off the stubborn Florida College team for victory number two.

Leadoff hitter Buddy Sacino enjoyed a good game, scoring twice and going two for three at the plate, including a long double. Freshman first baseman Al DiCampali also went two for three and added a pair of runs batted in. Kevin Sullivan slashed two hits, walked, and scored once to complete a productive day. The hard hitting freshman can also field several positions well.

Brian Doyle, one of the many veteran performers Permuy has, started for UT and went two innings without a run before giving way to Alex Riseman in the third. Riseman was tagged for a run in his two innings of work. Bob Wolff and Gary Lowen hurled the next three frames and gave up four runs. Lowen, usually a flame-throwing lefthander, was nursing a sore elbow.

"Our pitchers threw well today," assessed an obviously pleased Permuy after the two game sweep. "We didn't given up very many walks which is surprising for this early in the season."

"We'll get a better idea of how good we are after we've played a few more games," Permuy added.

His team tangles with St. Leo College tomorrow at 3:00 p.m. in a single game on the Sam Bailey Field, and then travels to the University of South Florida for a doubleheader scheduled for 12:00 noon this Saturday.

Protrusions Conquer

The merger between C. C. Bad Company and the Big Nasty Magraders, both outstanding football teams from last year, proved successful as the Big Protrusions were victorious in their first outing of the season (42-6) over Theta Chi.

The Protrusions' offense was skillfully led by quarterback Dave Stevenson who was joined in scoring by Sam Howell, Dominick Ioli, Bob Iezzi and Danny O'Brien.
