

MASQUERS HAVE NEW STAGE HIT FOR WEDNESDAY

'Bohemian Shawl' Stars
Joyce Turner

The 313 Masquers of the University of Tampa presented three one-act plays at the Wolff Settlement last Monday night, March 15. These plays were: "Sally's Hat Shop," "A Pair of Lunatics," and "The Bohemian Shawl." The plays were given for the benefit of the young people's division of the San Marcos Methodist church. Although the auditorium of the Settlement is small there was a fairly large crowd attending the plays. Miss Anne Way Peebles, a member of the dramatic club, gave two readings, in the interim of the plays and Miss Onelia Palaez played many numbers on the piano between presentations.

"The Bohemian Shawl" was presented after very few practices but with great success. It promises to be the best play which the club has presented this year.

Unusual Play

"This play is greater in intensity than any other play that has been given here at the university. The players are improving as the rehearsals proceed, and I believe that they will do exceptionally well the evening we present it for the university," said Mrs. Elizabeth P. Connally, director of dramatic arts.

The play is of a very unusual type, involving a great amount of dramatic expression and feeling. The players themselves are enthusiastic over the production and feel that everyone will enjoy it. The members of the cast are: Joyce Turner and Bill Pound in the leading roles, with Mrs. Lucas B. King, James Lindsay, and Bert Hernandez in the supporting parts.

The Masquers will present an evening of one-act plays March 24, in the Municipal auditorium. The plays scheduled for this evening are "They're None of Them Perfect," and "The Bohemian Shawl."

The Dramatic club recently held a combination meeting and "Koffee" social at which the members discussed the idea of the presentation of a series of educational broadcasts. It is the hope of the club that they may give one of the series at each university broadcast. Also the day of meeting was changed from the first Thursday night of the month to the first and third Tuesdays of the month, at 8 o'clock.

At the meeting on Tuesday, March 16, the members present decided definitely upon the plans for a reception to be given in honor of the new president, Dr. J. H. Sherman, by the club. The reception is to be given on Saturday, April 3, at the home of Mrs. Connally. Guests, who include all the members of the faculty and their wives or husbands, are to be invited for the time from 4 to 6 p. m.

Students See Movie On Tuberculosis

"Behind the Shadow," a moving picture of tuberculosis and its development, was presented in the university assembly room Wednesday night by Miss Mildred Manson, of the Hillsborough County Tuberculosis association.

A large number of students was present to see the destructive nature of the tubercular germ as it was vividly shown on the screen.

Miss Manson commented freely throughout the reel and after the picture had been shown she made an appeal to the students to lend a helping hand in the struggle against tuberculosis.

"I am appealing to you students to help teach the prevention of this disease," she said. "You are college students and soon you will have to take over the reins of the public health work in the various communities that you represent. We need your aid to combat the dreadful germ."

Coach Nash Higgins introduced Miss Manson to the audience.

COMPULSORY ASSEMBLY

The office has again assigned seats for all students who are expected to attend the regular assemblies on Thursdays. The new seating plan replaces that for the first semester.

The purpose behind the assignment of seats is to make attendance at the assemblies compulsory. Any student that does not attend, unless previously excused, will be marked with an absence as though he had cut class.

In contrast to the plan of the first semester, the seniors are seated in front, with juniors, sophomores and freshmen placed in order behind them. Each row has monitors to check the attendance.

Students See Wild Animals After Air Trip to Sarasota

A group of air-minded university students winged their way to Sarasota last week in the huge tri-motor silver plane of Pilot Nidernhoffer.

There they enjoyed a pleasant visit to the Ringling, Barnum and Bailey circus winter quarters.

The lion tamer putting his pets through their paces thrilled the students who became little boys and girls for the afternoon.

Elephants played baseball, old-faced midgets rode prancing ponies, a muscular girl did acrobatic stunts on a fat white stallion. While animals in cages, from the world's largest tiger to the bristling porcupine, showed themselves off to the admiring crowd.

After the visit, too short for most, there was a thrilling trip home in which 60 miles was covered in 23 minutes. But there was still a thrill in store and a disappointment, too.

When the silver plane landed at Peter O. Knight field, a man asked the pilot to take him to Miami by 6 o'clock. After some negotiations the plane was chartered for $175. Several of the group commented on the trip. The man immediately invited as many as could go to be his guests. Just as quickly, the students began to scramble. Hurried phone calls were made; hats and coats were placed in the plane; some hopefuls even grabbed seats. But like most very good things, it was too good to last, or to be true.

After telephoning the weather bureau, the pilot returned with the bad news that the weather conditions around Miami were unfavorable and that the flight was off—definitely.

The pilot's words deflated the quickly inflated spirits of the group and they disconsolately departed.

Junior Chamber To Offer Scholarship To Essay Winner

The Tampa Junior Chamber of Commerce announced this week that it will sponsor an essay contest soon in the Tampa high schools and the winner will receive a $150 scholarship to the University of Tampa next year. The plans of the contest were contained in a letter received by Dean M. S. Hale from Robert D. Hill, director of the essay contest.

The subject of the essay will be "When We Take Over." In an explanatory letter to the school system it has been explained that by this subject the junior chamber means "to get our younger citizens' ideas of what steps should be taken in Tampa."

The contest will be conducted by the public school system. The junior chamber will have to judge the winner from the 10 best papers submitted.

One of the rules of the contest is that should the student receiving the scholarship fail to maintain a satisfactory scholastic standing, he would forfeit the award.

The announcement of such a scholarship offer was well received by Tampa U. officials. Several other scholarships are offered in connection with the State Music Festival which will be held here late next month.

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce must be commended for sponsoring such a subject," said Dean Hale. "It will provide a splendid opportunity for a higher education to the winning essayist."

SUMMER SCHOOL WILL COMMENCE JUNE 14 HERE

Large Enrollment Is Expected

Complete plans were announced this week for the annual summer session of the University of Tampa in a bulletin published by the University. The summer term this year will be held from June 14 to August 7. Registration will be held June 14 and classes will begin on the following day.

According to Dean M. S. Hale, indications are that this year's enrollment for the summer session is expected to hit a new high mark. The summer term here has been very popular for the last three years, especially with the many teachers from all sections of the state who have come here for additional work on their certificates or for completion of degrees.

The summer session is also open to students who desire to make up extra credits or to make up back work, college graduates who desire to do special work, and to high school graduates who desire to enter college or who desire to take special work during the summer.

The session, lasting eight weeks, will offer courses equivalent in method, character and credit value to those offered during the regular school term. Students can usually do from one-fourth to one-third of a full year's work during the summer period. Several students are planning to receive their degrees at the end of the summer term.

Late Registration

All students should register on the first day of the term. An additional fee of $1 will be charged those who register late.

Tuition for the courses will be $5 per semester hour, the same as for the regular school year. A university fee of $4 will be charged for the session. All students are required to pay this fee. Room rent for out of town students will be $18 for the entire session.

The faculty will consist of President John H. Sherman, Dean M. S. Hale and almost the entire regular faculty of the university.

WPA Workers To Paint And Plaster Building

Work has been started here on the WPA project to replaster the inside of the university building and to paint the outside. The work on the new roof, which has been in progress for more than three months, will continue also.

The plaster work will begin in the dormitory rooms in the "Circle Suite," around the dome of the library. Workers have been busy for the last two weeks scraping the old paint off the wood and metal work on the outside of the building. Painting will begin soon.

America's Oldest Composer Directs Tampa U. Concert

H. E. Bailey, considered the oldest living composer in America, last week directed the University of Tampa band in its weekly concert in Plant Park. An audience of more than 1000 persons was present to see the 93-year-old composer wave the baton for the playing of two of his best compositions. His internationally famous "Ave Maria" and his melodious "Fairyland" thrilled the listeners.

"Fairyland," which is a duet for two cornets and the band accompanying, seemed to be the most popular with the large gathering. Talented Jack Williams and Billie Martin were featured in the cornet duet. The playing of "Ave Maria" saw Wendel Waters playing the cello obligato and Prof. August Ingley, the violin obligato. These two parts are very difficult to play.

Group Pictures for Yearbook Will Be Taken Next Week

With only two more days remaining for students to go to the official photographers, the preliminary work of preparing the 1937 Moroccan is almost completed. The group pictures of the organizations other than the sororities and fraternities will be taken the latter part of next week.

The division of the picture-making to two photographers has been a great help in getting this work done, but it is still not being accomplished as fast as it might be. Many students from the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes have yet to appear for their pictures. Mary Eve, editor-in-chief, announced that the final deadline will positively be fixed at Saturday afternoon, March 19.

Both photographers are holding the negatives for retouching until all exposures have been made; they will then develop the prints all at the same time and deliver them to the staff. This means that even if the students are successful in making all photos by Saturday, the staff will not get the prints until after the first of April. The book is scheduled to go to press April 15.

The one constant request of the photographers at the present is for those who have proofs already to return them absolutely as soon as possible. Many are holding the proofs for four and five days.

The group pictures will include all organizations of a purely academic nature, the Beta Sigma pre-medical fraternity, Sigma Epsilon, the orchestra, band, intra-mural organizations, cheer leaders, the dean's list, freshman football team the girls' basketball and volleyball teams and the members of the varsity football team. Schedules for these pictures are being worked out now and will be posted on the bulletin board soon.

J. H. SHERMAN BEGINS DUTIES OF SCHOOL HEAD

President Eager To Meet Students

Dr. John H. Sherman, who has assumed his duties as president of the University of Tampa, yesterday was formally introduced to the student body at the regular weekly assembly. The new school executive was introduced by Dean M. S. Hale. Dr. Sherman will take charge of the regular assemblies from now on, unless he is away.

In an interview with a Minaret reporter Dr. Sherman revealed that he was very anxious to become more acquainted with individual students.

"It is going to be a great problem for me to become acquainted with all the students," said he, "but that is just what I want to do; so I will be glad if some of the students who already know me will help me to get acquainted with the others."

"Not Conceited"

"I am near-sighted," he remarked in a pleasant tone, "so if I happen not to call you by name when we meet, don't think that I am trying to be conceited."

The president talked freely as he told of the advantages that a school like Tampa U. can offer its students. Our school offers splendid opportunity for the student who wants a four-year degree. The student can be near his home and at the same time he can be getting an undergraduate education comparable to any offered by larger and older universities in the country.

"In fact," continued Dr. Sherman, "a big institution usually does not give as good an undergraduate course as do the small local colleges because they generally specialize in post graduate work."

"The student who goes to school seeking a four-year degree will profit by attending a small college which does not specialize in graduate work. If he goes to the large college he will not come into close contact with the big professors, because these only give their time to graduate work."

Dr. Sherman has a lot of faith in the future of the university.

"If I did not believe the school had a potential future I could not have afforded to come here," he said. "This growing community is an ideal spot for the school, but the key lies with the present students here. Our success depends very much on how many relatives, friends and other students they can attract here by their own success and by their support."

Museum Is Host to Author Garet Garrett

Garet Garrett, whose articles are now appearing in the Saturday Evening Post, was a visitor to the Tampa museum during his recent visit to Florida. Mr. Garrett spent nearly an hour in the museum. He was quite critical of the museum pieces. He remarked that the $15,000 Majolica case was "awful." When asked why he did not like the vase he said that he did not like the combination of red and yellow.

Mrs. M. P. Upson, writer for one of the large New York newspapers, was also a visitor in the museum recently. Mrs. Upson found the museum very unique and interesting.

"The University of Tampa has a marvelous background," she said.

The museum registration book reveals that visitors have been here from China, Panama Canal Zone, Cuba, Canada, Germany, Spain, Italy, France, Denmark Scotland, England, India, Australia and Ireland.

Little Oliver was careless about his personal effects.

When his mother saw his clothing scattered about on the chair and floor she inquired: "Who didn't hang up his clothes when he went to bed?"

A muffled voice from under the covers murmured, "Adam."

THE MINARET POLICY

To give full support to all activities that will prove beneficial to the University.

To encourage the growth of social fraternities and sororities on our campus.

To strive for a better understanding between students and faculty members.

To do our part in making student government a complete success.

To support the Spartan athletic teams and advocate a well rounded physical education program with a complete list of minor, as well as major sports activities.

To help publicize the University of Tampa in every way possible.

To present news stories in an unbiased and straightforward manner.

ADVICE TO STUDENTS

It seems to me that most college students do not understand how to get the most good out of a college education. Many seem to drift along in school a year or two before waking up to the fact that a college education can be of real value to one's future, and that it requires some very definite planning from the very start. Let us take this case for an illustration: A young man is to graduate soon who expects to enter the teaching profession. Up to this point he has had only two things in mind. One is to get twenty-four hours' credit in a subject for a major and eighteen hours in another as a minor, plus a few other required courses. The other is to follow the line of least resistance to get through. Now he has the offer of a position in a high school teaching history. "But I can't teach history," says he. "I can only teach science and physical education."

As a matter of fact, this student could have three or four minors on his certificate with a little more effort. Does not a big net catch more fish than a small one? So there is an advantage in getting the maximum instead of the minimum.

What is needed, in my opinion, is more student counseling. It should not be taken for granted that each freshman is able to paddle his own canoe. Some are and some are not. In the latter case the student not only should seek the advice of his instructors, but he also should discuss his plans with those engaged in the field which he is preparing to enter. By traveling the same path that others have trod, one may often avoid many pitfalls.

So my advice to college students is to have something definite in view, seek sound guidance, have a goal to reach, and then be diligent.

—C. W. CANNON.

WELCOME, PRESIDENT SHERMAN!

This week is an eventful one for the University of Tampa. The civic organizations, the daily newspapers and the citizens of Tampa have turned their attention to the university at this time of acquisition of a new president after a nine months' period of operation without one. We may pardonably feel proud in acclaiming the arrival of Dr. John H. Sherman, who is now duly installed as president.

As head of this institution, President Sherman is assuredly a welcome addition to the personnel. Possessed of a strong personality and a wealth of experience, he will rapidly become a great influence in strengthening the framework already set up in the past few years and in future growth. We feel sure that he will find the administration, faculty and student body ready to offer any cooperation in getting off to a firm start in his work, which he announces now to be—The University of Tampa!

FOR BETTER MEETINGS

This is the time of the school year when students are often called to meet with their different classes. As graduation time approaches the seniors and the juniors find that quite often they are called together to discuss plans for various important matters. These matters must be attended to and it can not be done by only a handful of interested students. Help must come from almost the entire group.

The few faithful who usually attend class meetings often are subject to criticism from other students who do not attend. Whenever anything is done in a meeting those who were not there start to kick. It would be much better if the "kickers" would sacrifice a few minutes of their time to attend class meetings.

Frederic March has at last picked the good lookers from Tampa U. Below is the letter which he wrote:

Dear Mr. F.:
The copy of your year-book, the "Moroccan" arrived a few days ago. I have chosen Miss ..... as the best photographed girl, and Miss ..... as the next best. I have written "number one" and "number two" next to their respective pictures.

You must realize that this choice is but one man's opinion—another man might have an entirely different idea. I assure you it was no easy task to pick out the two most attractive girls from all the photos, but I hope I have made a fair and just choice.

With best wishes, I am...

Sincerely yours,

FREDRIC MARCH.

We are sure that Mr. March himself picked the winners (instead of his assistant, assistant secretary) because the handwriting in the annual is of the same ink (brown) and the same writing as his own signature.

The names of the winners will be kept a secret until Ginger Rogers picks out the best photographed boys. A likeness of Freddie, who was elected as our favorite actor last year, will be autographed to the beauties personally. The girls are really luvlee and will deserve the new feathers in their caps. We hope Miss Rogers won't get snooty on us and refuse to do her part.

Tomorrow spring officially begins!

Poem:

Spring is here.

It brings good cheer,

Romance, and bock beer.

The spring holidays begin March 25, Thurs., 12:30 and ends the following Tuesday morning. Organized groups will be trailing to the gulf for beach parties. (There'll be plenty of material for dirt columns the next issue!)

The "Minaret" promised to publish the Short Story Class serial; but each chapter was so long it had to be rejected for lack of space. However, here's the drift of the chapters up to date:

In the first chapter Ben Travers and his father are discussing Ben's future. Hardley wants his college offspring to study something practical, such as banking, accounting, or what not. The stubborn son doesn't. After the usual quarrel, including Mrs. Travers, Ben goes out with a hell-it-all feeling and meets the dame of the story. She has brown eyes and wotta figure!

Chapter two: Another family row takes place and Ben goes out to celebrate with a friend, Gabe. They go to a jern and indulge in ha-ha water. The end of the chapter finds Ben grabbing a fan away from Sally, a dancer.

Chapter three: Ben manages to make time with the new gal in his life (not Sally) and gets himself invited out to dinner. Sylvia, that's the heroine's name (Miss Reynolds to you) does things to Ben—she even got him to go to church. Treachery steps into the plot when the pal, Gabe, threatens to tell Mr. Travers about Ben's episode with the fan twirler if Ben doesn't fork over 275 smackers which is needed to pay for a car accident.

Former Pres. Spaulding has been in Massachusetts since his resignation. He is going in business in Maine. There is a popular demand for more community-sing programs in student assembly. ...Suggest: An organization or class could make money by having a sport, taxi dance on the tennis court (or call it an open air, street dance). The gals could collect a dime ticket from each sucker for each dance—some fun, eh? ...The junior, senior boys decided at the meeting that they would go to the banquet tuxed. "We gotta start sometime," one said.

Dot Talbot took honors in Jax last week while on a basketball tour. She did the town with a long-time friend (male). ...Albert Massey complains that Freshman Beth Hornsby has been doing things to him in the alumni column which she writes for the Plant Hi rag. "He strings the same high school line," was the dig. ...Is Katherine Jane and John aware of the usual custom that goes with a girl wearing a frat pin? ...Submit your masterpieces to the "Meuzzin." You may be a genius and don't know it. ...Quote—Dr. Morley: "There must be fear connected to romance because, if not, why do lovers seek the dark?" We'll let you figure it out. ...S'long.

Mrs. Cleland Davis of Coral Gables is offering a prize of $10 to the author of the best poem, of any type, which is contributed to the Ibis, literary magazine of the University of Miami.

ANOTHER SPARTAN

OUT OF THE NIGHT

Miss Helen Jepson, opera star gave an exceptional concert in Tampa recently. Her performance was the last of a group of four concerts given by great artists in Tampa this season. According to an account in the society page of the Tampa Daily Times, Miss Jepson was entertained by a glimpse of Tampa social life. Perhaps amused also. After looking on the social set's evening game of ping pong at the exclusive club, Miss Jepson was escorted to one of the Latin festivals at the Centro Asturiano where she was again amused. (It is worthy of mention that the court organist was probably staying in the winter palace, which accounts perhaps for the lack of music during the entertaining hours.)

After all of the entertainment and the pursuit of amorous desires by her escorts, Miss Jepson resolved to remain in the opera.

We failed to tell you where you may see the cartoon of St. Peter which was done by Al Yorkunas in conjunction with his study of Byron's "The Vision of Judgment." This unusual drawing is in the Leah May Hunter collection. Leave Joe Carr (hack-driver) alone—he enjoys living in a great big way.

No news of the thief but news is that burglary is "one of the poorest paid learned professions." Amazing protective devices, some even magical have been developed. Here is one that might be useful to college fraternities: a device which, as the intruder gropes through a darkened room and before he has even touched the apparatus, will detect his presence and then automatically set off a siren, send a warning signal to the police, turn on the lights, take a photograph of the burglar and give him a dose of tear gas.

A young French painter had an unusually large stretch of canvas before him and was mixing his oils when he was asked by a neighbor, "What are you doing now?"

"Oh," replied the painter, "I have an American patron for whom I am painting a miniature."

"You don't need all that canvas then, I am sure," came the neighborly advice.

"Of course I do—it is to be the largest miniature in the world," the artist finished the conversation and continued his work.

The American, aside from his love of money and pursuance of anecdote has an indomitable love of measurement. Speaking of things on a large scale, G. K. Chesterton has said that it is as if we were to say that some one came to see us carrying "three feet of walking stick" and "four inches of cigar."

Since T. L. has mentioned that 10,000,000 germs are exchanged with every kiss, we have discovered this little rhyme filled with delightful couplets.

COLD THOUGHTS

Here I sit and pine
While my playmates dine,
They make free with beer
I am prisoned here,
Just because I told
That I have a cold.
Why should I have been
Conditioned by hygiene?

Think how free and gay
A germ went on its way
In other years. Who cared
If Paris, the fair haired,
Had a pain where his throat is,
Helen didn't notice.
No, no! These ladies cheerier
Knew naught about bacteria
If they gave up a hug
It wasn't for a bug.

MUEZZIN CALLS

OVERCURIOUS MOON

Way up high in the dark blue sky
A gazing Moon was wondering why,
Her presence seemed to encourage his date,
More than she dared to anticipate.

Soon their talking grew much slower,
Sounds seemed, too, to grow much lower.

But they seemed to understand,
Since each now held the other's hand.

A cloud above passed quickly by,
And the old Moon, up now so high,
Blinked her eyes and gazed below,
While the two put on a show.

This intrusion made her dismayed,
Despite the vital role she played,
Because the cloud had stolen the part,
Which let Dan Cupid send his dart.

—Paul Mitchell

PORTRAIT

Like the sweep
Of a noble eagle's wings,
Poised and lovely
She slowly descended
The curving staircase.

He stands waiting.
Like the quick dip
Of a butterfly's wings,
Her trembling eyelids
Open and close.

Cecelia.

SPRING LEAVES

The leaves
Of aged, sagacious trees
Are gold
And emerald velvet;
They move softly and gracefully

But young trees
Have leaves of
Green and gilded feathers;
They move quickly
Like swift, gay birds.

—Cecelia.

LONELINESS

Loneliness and I live
All day through
And all through the night
Missing you.

Filmy fingers of fog
Clutch at me,
When I walk at dawn
Beside the sea.

Every whisper of waves
Seems to bring
Back words that you said—
A song you'd sing.

Solitary gray gull
With piercing cry
Though lonely, he is
No lonelier than I.

"Why does Mary call you Maple Syrup?"

"Because I am such a refined sap."
—Pep O' Plant.

Tampa U. girl cagers copped the first place trophy in their division of the city recreation league last week when they won the last two games of the tournament on the Y. W. C. A. court.

In their first encounter they downed a group of young Seminole playground players, 21-5. Stone scored high with 12 points to her favor.

With a different lineup in the second game, the Spartanettes defeated the Jack Cookies girls 30-23. Stone repeated her high scoring honors with 14 points. Talbot ran second with 11.

Seminole forwards were able to score only five points against the close guarding of the college players, but with the sharp shooting of Parham of Jack Cookies, that team piled up 23 points to push the local shooters for their 30 points.

At a meeting of the girls' basketball squad and officers of the W. A. A. a vote was taken for the most outstanding player of the season. Miss Grace Moore, a guard, won the honor and will receive a trophy as an award.

Another vote was taken to elect an honorary captain to receive the blue division trophy at the annual city recreation department banquet. Miss Dorothy Talbot was elected.

Plans were made at this meeting for a picnic for the Spartanette basketball team to be held at Keystone lake. Misses Martha Franco, Frances Keating, and Dot Talbot were named by Mrs. Klein to make arrangements for the outing.

Intramural basketball games begin next week with the Delta Kappas playing the Physical Educators on Tuesday at 11:30 and Sigma Theta Phi playing the Freshmen on Wednesday at 12:30.

Swimmers To Meet Miami U. April 10

The swimming meet scheduled with Georgia Tech in Atlanta has been definitely postponed according to word received here by members of the aquatic team. The meet was cancelled because of a conflict in dates. Tech has another meet scheduled the week that the Spartans were supposed to travel to Atlanta.

Negotiations are under way for meets with Emory university in Atlanta and with Stetson. A meet with the Miami water team has already been set for April 10.

All four members of the team are practicing daily at the Tampa Aquatic club under Coach Johnnie Upson.

Members of the team and their events are Lee Barker, 50-yard dash, 150-yard breast stroke and the 300-yard medley; Ronald Graf, 50, 100, and 200-yard dashes, 150-yard breast stroke; Linus Upson, the 220 and 440-yard swim; Guy Cutolo, 50 and 100-yard dashes. All four swimmers will be entered in the relays.

A special course in "Introduction to the Art of Photography" will be offered at Rollins college art department through the spring term, beginning on March 22. This course, which is opened to outsiders as well as students of the college, will be conducted by John Tiedke, an expert amateur photographer who has made photography his hobby for the past eight or 10 years.

Girl Flirt—I adore dark men.
Boy—You'd have a splendid time in Africa.
—Red and Black.

This column wishes to express to Rollins college and to parents and friends, heart-felt sympathy concerning the death of two members of the fencing team at Rollins. We did not know them personally, but we of the University of Tampa feel close to Rollins college in many ways, especially athletically.

Coach Higgins has announced that it is hardly probable that there will be a Spartan track team this year. Most of the boys are working in the afternoons, which makes training impossible. Track requires much training, as much as any other sport. No other college in the state except the University of Florida has had a track team in several years. While there will be no regular track team, there is a possibility that Higgins will take a sprint relay team to the A. A. U. meet.

Baseball has a chance to become one of the major sports here. The Cincinnati Reds are interested in creating a farm team here in connection with the university. The Cincinnati club, if the plan ever materializes, would send men to school here, and these men would play baseball under Spartan colors.

If this plan works there will be few college baseball teams in the south that could produce a better team than Tampa U.

Senor Louis Nava was quite an athlete while a college student in Spain. He was a star on the Rugby team, (the ancestor of modern American football), at one of the bigger and better universities of Spain. Professor William Culbreath was a star guard on Hillsborough high's football team. Mr. Culbreath attended Hillsborough during the fall seasons to play football, then transferred to Wimauma for the spring semester to play basketball. Hence the nickname "Wimauma" which accompanied him through high school. We may have mentioned before that Mr. Berry also is an ex-Hillsborough griddier. Some surprising upsets were registered in the intra-mural tennis tournaments recently. Billy Pou turned in a victory over Albert "The Great" Day, which was an accomplishment no one except Pou expected would happen. More good matches are scheduled when the finals in the doubles take place, and a large gallery should turn out and see some real tennis. The men of the foil and mask may be seen everyday at any hour on the front porch, rehearsing their parries and thrusts. They hope to arrange matches with fencers from Stetson, Miami, and Rollins. Fencing is a great sport to develop muscular coordination and grace. It requires great stamina to be a good fencer. If you don't believe it try it sometime.

Speech Students Have Own Chest Campaign

Students in Mrs. Elizabeth Connolly's public speaking courses this week have spread the gospel of the community chest in the classrooms. Each day an imaginary luncheon was held in which the various members of the class had to talk about the chest campaign. One served as toastmaster and the rest were to represent officers and workers in the drive to raise the necessary funds.

"The results were very good," said Mrs. Connolly. "We have had some very good extemporaneous speaking. The plan not only gives good practice in speaking, but also helps to promote interest in the community chest."

The music department of the St. Pete Jr. College presented a historical cantata, "Joan of Arc," with a chorus of 125 students.

CINCY REDS TO PLAY YANKEES AT PLANT FIELD

Today the New York Yankees, 1936 world's champions, match base hits with the up-and-coming Cincinnati Reds to usher in Tampa's attractive Grapefruit League schedule. Around the field, in the stands, on the track, everywhere on Plant field, scores of university students will be busy at many a job made possible by the Crosley-owned club.

In the ticket booths six busy Spartans will sell the coveted pasteboards to an expected record crowd. Five huskier footballers will be stationed at the ticket-taking posts, while a half dozen university men will show fans to their seats.

Around the race track and the three miles of fence surrounding the park another group of students, armed with sticks, police whistles and boogey-man voices will attempt to stem the tide of fence and gate crashers.

Down front safe from foul smashes from the bats of the major league mighties, the university band will tootle stirring tunes for the peanut-eating galleries.

Three students will part with game programs, a pencil and everything for a thin dime, two nickels, one-tenth of a dollar.

And up there in the sanctum sanctorum of the gentlemen of the press, eight wandering journalists will settle for an hour or so to rub elbows with the line men and to try out new-found abilities with score-cards and mystic symbols. Inside another university man will busy himself with coin counting and will heat the coils of a tiny electric calculator with speedy accounting to determine how many's here, where they sit and what did they pay.

A cheer leader's giant megaphone will amplify a student's voice as he bellows the names of batsmen strolling toward the platter for a cut at sizzling curves.

The Reds wanted to make it a complete university day, to have President Sherman toss out the first ball.

but previous engagements will take the university head out of the city.

August Ingle, cheery director of the band, offered to make the initial chunk, but was politely declined when he exhibited his pitching form, learned from the single baseball game he had witnessed.

Champ Eater Says He Lives To Eat If Food Is Plenty

By MICKEY DeWOLF

"I eat to live when food is short, I live to eat when food is plenty."

—Motto of the great Mr. George Aubert, champion eater of the University of Tampa.

Quite by accident I discovered that our little George Aubert has a reputation for eating more than anyone else around the U.

It all began when George informed me that he had forgotten to eat lunch. Then a fellow classmate spilled the beans, so to speak:

"Why, the landlady at the 'Maryanna' House used to say to give George a quarter and tell him to eat across the street, because he ate too much at 'Maryanna's'."

First George, being of a retiring nature, disliked the idea of having a story printed about him, but bit by bit he forgot and let out some choice bit of news. George stated that he once challenged several people to an eating contest, but no one could be found that would financially back such an enterprise.

When asked what his favorite food was, George replied that strawberry preserves were his very best favorite. He ought to like them 'cause he lived on them all summer.

George says that when good food and plenty of it can be obtained that eating is his favorite sport, but if the food isn't good why eating is only a minor sport.

"Why did I forget to eat lunch?" inquired George, "well, I was studying geology so hard that I forgot to go eat and furthermore, if I don't soon stop talking I won't get any supper."

THE SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT THIS WEEK

By FIFI

Dear Annette:

Mary Frances O'Berry's brown eyes are alight with fun, and she's laughing from morning 'till night. Mickey's okay, but we agree with Albert that Mickey's a mess. And this is how Mickey was introduced at the S. T. P. Formal! Master of Ceremonies failed to announce that Mickey had been voted the outstanding pledge of the year and that now she proudly wears the Sigma Theta Phi ring which bears the sorority insignia. Grace Bruton, her sorority sister, because of her intellectual ability, has a bracelet adorning her arm which was presented to her by the alumni members of the sorority. Grace had the highest scholastic standing of the semester pledges.

Dot Talbot and Grace Moore were guests at the Mayflower hotel in Jacksonville during the state basketball tourney recently. Dot was entered in the physical beauty contest after the tourney and won second place. Congratulations, Dot.

Marjorie Dennis, Moroccan snapshot editor, inquest of candid photos of U. students, traveled to the Sulphur Springs dog track to get a few action shots of "our dog-track boys."

Captain Ed Carter and crew, which will be composed of Howard Stephens, Luther Sparkman, Dick Spoto, Jay Toulme and Bill Culbreath, will sail to Indian Rocks on the night of March 27 to join the many other students who plan to be at the beach over the week-end.

Occupying the McGucken cottage will be Lois, Mary Glen Coarsey, Evelyn Robson, Gwen Blake, Margaret Richards and Betty Hodgson.

The Sigma Theta Phi's will be at the Osceola Cottage across from the Cabana, which is located next door to the SKN house. The Delta Kappas are moving in directly back of the S. T. P.'s. Tau Omegas and Beta Chi are still looking for a place to lodge, but maybe they can pitch a tent somewhere. At least for one week and we will all love our neighbors!

Mary Ellen Knight was hostess last Tuesday night to her Alpha Gamma sorority sisters at her home on Lois avenue. Pledging ceremonies were held, after which Evangelina LaFuenta welcomed the new pledges, Emily Noe, Mary Pelaez and Angelina Cusmano.

Guests who arrived later to join in a Fifty party included dates and a few additional friends. Prizes were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Zachini for both high and low scores in the Fifty game. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

The Beta Chi's are partying quite a bit of late. They had a smoker last week and this week had a very successful "place to place" party. Today they are lunching together at the Crescent.

Plans are in the making for the annual Junior-Senior Prom, which is to be given at the Tampa Yacht and Country club in May. It is to be strictly formal, so get your tuxes ready, boys! Alice Wilson, president of the junior class, is chairman of the plans committee. Edna Johnson, Verna Vining, Janie Trice, Jimmie Lindsay and Ed Plummer will assist her.

There was a Koffee Party given here two weeks ago by the dramatic club, but now there's a Tea Party in the air, or shall we say, a Tea Dance. Delta Kappas are having a girls' bid affair in the University ballroom from 5 to 8 o'clock tomorrow evening. Dance music will be furnished by Bob Porton and his orchestra. We'll be seeing you at tea time!

Yours,
FIFI.

Music Festival Entries Continue To Come In

Plans for the annual Florida Music Festival held here are already complete, and according to officials of the affair, this year's competitors will number more than 2000. Students will gather here April 22, 23 and 24 from all sections of the state. Many local schools have also entered contestants in the festival.

Early last week entries had been received from 28 schools and other entries will swell the total to more than 50 schools within the next three weeks.

Dr. John H. Sherman, new president of Tampa U., is president of the executive committee for the festival. Dr. Sherman is a great lover of music, and upon his arrival here he was glad to know that such an occasion was held here.

Dean M. S. Hale is secretary of the executive committee.

Don't worry when you stumble—remember, a worm is about the only thing that can't fall down.

—Red and Black.

DELTA KAPPAS PLAN TEA DANCE

Girls' Bid Will Start at 5 P. M.

The Delta Kappa Sorority will give a tea-dance Saturday, March 20, from 5 to 8 o'clock. The dance will be held at the University ballroom, with music by Bob Porton's orchestra.

The chaperones are Mr. and Mrs. Keene, Dr. Laub and Mr. Harry Dobson. Hostesses for the dance are: Misses Jeanie Trice, Helen Windham, Laura Ellen Webb. They will be presented with rosebud corsages.

Miss Windham will wear a black and white printed silk dress with skirt made on swing lines. It will have puffed sleeves and a silk pique collar. She will wear black patent leather accessories.

Miss Trice will wear a green and white printed silk sports dress, made on princess lines. With it she will wear white accessories.

Miss Webb will wear a green and white crepe ensemble, with covered buttons down the front. She will wear green accessories.

The weekly meeting of the sorority was held in the sorority room last Monday night at 8 o'clock. A committee consisting of Misses Betty Jo Mims, Lois McGucken and Evelyn Robson was appointed to write announcements of the dance.

Those who attended the meeting were Misses Jeanie Trice, Betty Jo Mims, Margie Dennis, Blanche Sessions, Margaret Rush, Ella Berry, Priscilla Henderson, Mary Ann Sampey, Virginia Morrow, Leona Wagner, Laura Ellen Webb, Mary Eve, Evelyn Robson, Betty Dickinson and Minna Dennis.

Beta Chi Frat Plans Variety of Functions

The party which the Beta Chi fraternity originally planned for last Monday night will be held tomorrow night, at 8:30 o'clock after the Delta Kappa tea dance, at the home of John Cocke.

The fraternity has planned a luncheon for all members, to be held in the near future. The date and place have not yet been decided.

Plans are also in discussion for a dance to be given after the spring holidays. A group from the fraternity have decided to go to the beach, probably Haven Beach, during the vacation, and plans are being completed as to the cottage and houseparty arrangements.

Sigma Theta Phi Hold Impressive Formal Initiation

The Sigma Theta Phi sorority held its formal initiation ceremony at the Tampa Terrace hotel last Friday evening. The impressive candlelight ceremony was conducted by Edna Johnson, president of the organization, assisted by other officers, Verna Vining, Julia Mary Neef, Wenona Manson, Margaret Hitchcock, Mildred Allison and Ruby Wadsworth.

During the formal dinner Miss Neef was mistress of ceremonies. Guest speakers were Miss Charlotte Anne Thompson, sorority sponsor, Mrs. Shell Berry and Mr. Berry, faculty advisor. A toast was given to the new members by Miss Johnson. Mary Burruss responded for the new members.

Edenia Delaney, president of the alumni, presented a bracelet with the sorority emblem to Grace Bruton, the pledge having the highest scholastic standing. Mary Frances O'Berry was selected the outstanding pledge and received a ring with the sorority insignia.

After the dinner many guests attended the dance in the ballroom of the hotel. Music was by Manuel Sanchez and his orchestra. All new members were introduced during the dance with appropriate verses.

The new members are Mary Burruss, Mary Christmas, Mary Burgess, Shirley Scadron, Faye Sloane, Dorothea Butler, Dot Talbot, Zula Satterfield, Louise Lomax, Ernestine Wieman, Mary Frances O'Berry, Fair Malphurs, Grace Bruton, Malvena Roberts.

Co-ed Almost Proves Evolution Theory

Miss Jewell Hamilton, comely sophomore co-ed, recently showed Mr. Thompson and girls taking Physical Education 200 just how well she could climb. It seemed that when Mary Domingues, Lois Johnson, Mickey DeWolf, and Jewell Hamilton came in from their physical Ed class they found the dressing room door locked and what was worse no key to open it with. Down went one of the girls of find Mr. Thompson. Back came Mr. Thompson. But his key would not fit!

The girls began to look at each other in dismay. The clock was ticking away. Mary Domingues announced that her Spanish class was nearly over, and that she had four cuts in it already. Down in the Biology Lab kids were already sawing on the frogs. The girls decided, however, that even the frogs would not like the dirty blue and yellow gym suits that they were attired in.

In desperation Jewell and Mr. Thompson pulled a table in front of the stubborn door. On top of the table went an old chair. On top of the chair climbed Jewell. Through the half opened transom she squeezed herself, and landed with a bang on the other side. Jewell opened the door and the much relieved girls got themselves ready to go cut frogs.

More from the flu epidemic:
"And how did you all get here last month?" asked St. Peter last month.
"Flu," said the victims cheerfully.
