Fordyce Heads Student Council

70 Seniors To Graduate On June 10

Commencement Will Begin June 8 With Baccalaureate

Seventy students will receive diplomas when graduation exercises are held on June 10, following three days of commencement ceremonies.

A baccalaurcate sermon for graduates, their families and friends is scheduled for June 8 at 3:30 o'clock in the municipal auditorium.

Immediately after the baccalaure-ate address the faculty women's club of the University will entertain at a tea in honor of the graduates and their guests at the University.

Class Day on June 9 Class day exercises will take place Monday morning, June 9, in the assembly hall, when Dr. Mooney will make a special address.

The program will also include the address of the class orator whose identity will be announced later, the class prophecy, the presentation of the senior gift and the traditional ivy planting.

Honorary degrees will be presented to several outstanding Americans, and several awards, including the American Legion award to the outstanding man student and an anonymous award to the outstanding woman student will also be made.

Alpha Psi Boys Swing Out In Snappy Front Porch Frolics

Miss Celeste Dervaes Is Crowned May Queen As Featured Spotlight

In one of the snappiest shows of the season, the Tampa U. band boys swung out in great style last night to present their third annual front porch frolics, a gay and colorful af-fair that combined the May queen coronation, carnival features, a floor show that wowed 'em and a fast-stepping dance. It was a great show.

The frolics, presented by Phi Alpha, music fraternity soon to become a local chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, na-tional fraternity, blended colorful and fascinating song and dance specialties with dancing, entertainment and re-freshment booths and hilarious carnival features

Miss Dervaes Is Queen

Miss Celeste Dervaes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dervaes, 5203 boulevard, was crowned Bayshore queen of May, as the popular selection of the student body, in the feature event of the program, and Arthur Burrows, vice president of Phi Alpha, escorted the Misses Beverly Bond and Frances Alderman, Bradenton, to the throne as her maids.

Other Numbers

In the spirit of the gay nineties, Tampa U. dancers gave a "sweet girl swimmers" number, expressing a "don't go near the water" theme, then the popular barber shop quartet from the student-created operetta sang Williams' original creation, "Heart-Warmin' Willie," featuring Miss Daisy Lewis as soloist, with Jack Williams, Jake Dunn, Howard Wesley and Haze Carleton.

Miss Ella Beth Laird presented two dances to orchestra accompaniment, and the Tampa U. dancers repeated the operetta's popular can-can dance. Dancing followed, with time-out periods for the dancers to visit the score or more of carnival and re-freshment booths.

Fernandez, Thonneson, Martinez and Barnes Are Representatives

R. B. Fordyce was elected president of the University of Tampa student council for the coming year in a landslide vote at the annual student election Wednesday. Fordyce, now president of the junior class, has been active in campus affairs since he was a freshman. He won over William Whealton and Tom Johnson.

WHITEHEAD Class elections were closer, with a tie between Frank Cooper and Beverly Bond for junior president. Cooper was elected, how-ever, at a special meeting of the election committee yes-Jimmy Whitehead, Jacksonville, defeated Howard Beynon for presi-dent of the senior class, and Doyle Bluemle won the sophomore class presidency over Russ Bloss.

Class representatives of the student councils also were elected at the same time. Paul Fernandez was named sophomore representative; Dot Thonneson is the new junior representative and Olga Martinez and Sarah Barnes are senior representatives.

The two seniors were elected without a vote, as the senior class has twice as many representatives as each other class, and there were no other candidates.

Cotton Exhibit Given by Home Ec. And Chem. Depts.

The University of Tampa depart-ments of home economics and chemistry presented a spectacular all-day cotton exhibit in the home economics lab Tuesday.

The program began with an all-cotton fashion show which was held during the regular assembly, for men and women. Models were students in home economics classes.

Open house was held in the home economics lab during the afternoon. Individual displays showing the different uses of cotton in replacing other materials, the use of chemistry in changing the original and pro-cessed cotton into the finished and modern forms, and the use of cotton in making materials for wartime purposes were some of the highlights of the exhibit.

Students who modeled in the fashion show were Mary Scars, Bettie Berlin, Genevieve Sultenfuss, Aida Reina, Jackie Jamison, Mary Lefler, Ellen Rice, Andy Anderson and Tom Healy.

Food Sale Tuesday

Quill Club To Hold

The Quill club will have a food sale in the lobby all day Tuesday, offering candy, cookies, cake, etc.

Manuscripts are being edited for the Muezzin, annual magazine of the university, and a subscription drive will be started shortly. According to work handed in, the magazine shows evidence of varied and exceptional stu-dent ability. There is still time for students to enter manuscripts for Muezzin publication. Those whose work is pub-lished will automatically become members of the Quill.

Members are asked to please watch the bulletin for a called meeting.

Baptists To Plan Annual Program

Meeting for the first time since their installation, the new B. S. U. council will outline its entire program for the coming year at the weekly council meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the B. S. U. room. In order to be better organized at In order to be better organized to the opening of school next fall the council officers will attend a pre-school retreat probably the week-end before school starts.

Russell KingFaculty Adviser FORDYCE CLARIFIES STATEMENT

The campaign statement of R. B. Fordyce concerning the purchasing of Plant Park caused not a little discussion. The statement in assembly may not have been exactly clear, so our new president offers the following suggestion; "I plan to begin a movement which will enable us to own our own campus in the future. "This may sound like a pipe dream but the only way we will ever own our campus or building is to start the idea that we students are campus conscious and the criticisms that shall arise will be constructive to our school. "As long as there is a dead feeling here, the people of Tampa will not notice our plight. But when they hear and feel a movement of real university spirit, then is when they will cooperate.

"It might take five, maybe 10 years to materialize, but in the future Tampa has a lot more to look forward to in a beautiful University campus than a city park."

Congratulations, to the successful candidates!

The election has been fast and furious this week. You have made us many promises that we believe will improve the school in many ways. We have put our confidence in you and your ideas by electing you.

Now, please, you new officers, don't fail us. We are counting on you to do all those things for the school as a whole and for each class that you told us you would do.

We are willing to help you whenever you call on us, but don't forget-you're the leaders now!

Local Band Frat To Be Installed As Kappa Kappa Psi Sunday

John A. Forlong, writer of the work. Each year the group has spon-sored the Front Porch Frolics enlargmarch "Forward Florida," will be made an honorary member of the Alpha Sigma chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity, when the Tampa chapter is installed Sunday afternoon.

Double Feature Cotton Exhibit - Fashion

Show and Campaign Prom-ises Fill Assembly

The regular assembly Tuesday turned out to be an outstanding program of the year, which included a fashion show and the campaign speeches by candidates for president of the student council.

Ernest Maas, treasurer of the board of trustees, was introduced by Miss Melber, who was in charge of the fashion show. Miss Melber explained the importance of cotton in connection with the display in the Home Ec lab, in that the defense program will help to relieve the cotton market of some of its quantity.

Home Ec Models

Students of the home economics department served as models. Jackie Jamison entered first wearing a navy blue cotton slack suit with contrasting red and white striped sailor collar and cuffs. Mary Sears wore a blue striped cotton play suit with a removable skirt.

Modeling a summery white blouse with a rose pastel skirt, Genevieve Sultenfuss presented a cool picture; followed by Bettie Berlin wearing a McMullen dress of a tailored striped dusty rose material of a finer grade of cotton.

Patriotic Theme

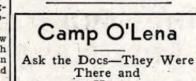

The patriotic motif was expressed in the outfit worn by Aida Reina, the skirt being blue with a button-on blouse of red with a white star print with a sailor collar. Mary Lefler was clad in a tailored model of striped pastel offset by a quaint bow-tied neckline.

Bettie Berlin returned to show the evening model that will be the summer rage: a dress of white with large red polka dots, accompanied by a short red jacket with an attached hood lined in the printed material. Ellen Rice modeled an evening gown of aqua with large white flowers, also worn with a short removable jacket, displaying a small open midriff.

Men's Attire

The attire for the male sex was displayed by two brawny football players, Andy Anderson and Tom Healy. Andy entered, amidst a wild applause, attired in a Palm Beach quality of lightweight wool beige suit. His shirt and tie were of cotton. Tom Healy strolled nonchalantly down the aisle wearing a striking white suit also of Palm Beach quality. (He was ac-companied by whistles!)

The remainder of the program was given to the candidates. Miss Odessa Dietrich, campaign manager for Wil-liam Whealton, introduced her can-didate; followed by Bill Gaventa who spoke for R. B. Fordyce. Tom Johnson, jr., the third speaker and candidate, was presented by Jack Goodson Goodson.

How

When college professors and college students go to Camp O'Lena for a week what happens? The answer is plenty. Plenty besides discussions on education and intern teaching.

Artists Show Their Work In Ballroom

Sixth Annual Exhibit Presents Interpretations Of Varied Subjects

The sixth annual exhibit of the University of Tampa art department opened yesterday in the ballroom with an interesting and varied display of student work.

The display presents a colorful and artistic array of portraits, illustra-tions, landscapes, fashion drawings, shown in water colors, pastels, char-coal and oils. Notable among land-scape oils are "Solitude and Sunlight," by Marion Neil, and "Ploughboy," by Jay Sanders.

Repeats Theme

Repeats Theme Elsie Gill repeated a popular theme of last year in her presentation of woodland scenes done in clearcut water colors. She also shows a striking pastel of a mother and baby. Sanders depicts rugged farm life in his oils. Also outstanding are his pictures of horses in pencil and charcoal. Miss Neil's landscapes depict nature on a grand scale, especially bringing out sharp contrasts in color.

- Anne Marie Hargan shows versatility in her work, exhibiting charcoal and pastel portraits from life, landscapes and flowers. Jack London's pastel drawings of girls express freedom of stroke and bold, clearcut line. Fashion drawings are displayed by Bette Wellacotte and Mary Evelyn McClung. Jack Dromey offers several unlabeled surrealistic pastels represent-ing definite non-objective art. Modernistic Entry

June Garden also steps from the beaten path in subject and method, expressing modernistic figures with water color and pastel on canvas. Maelma Cowley, Wiltse Liner and Leo Stalnaker present oil landscapes; Stalnaker's especially notable for their sunset skies in tropical marine settings. Yolonda Finney offers a group of cartoons, as well as original fashion drawings and a soft pencil self portrait.

Norman Borchardt, head of the de-partment, is exhibiting works in a variety of mediums. His oil landscapes and portraits are vivid and true to life; his magazine cover illustra-tions are clever and distinctive. The exhibit, to which the public is invited, without charge, will be open today and tomorrow from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. 10 p. m.

are Miriam Quarles, Louis Hausrath, Rex Goode and Gloria Runton.

The election closed a vigorous two weeks campaign with slogans, posters, free entertainment and speechmaking. Vice presidents and secretaries of the sophomore, junior and senior classes will be elected in September, as will all three officers of the new freshman class.

"The policy of electing the three upper class presidents during the latter part of the year preceding their term of office was begun several years ago, as it enabled the officer to begin work immediately in September," Zeno Stalnaker, president, said.

Fantasy Or Is It?—Theodore Gazes Into Private Crystal Ball

Looking into the future-Tampa U. football squad in a feeble attempt to form a company in the United States army—the unfortunate situation would appear thus:

Untailored uniforms would bring daring complain's from Glamour Boy Reid, who must have his English drape on all occasions (Does the army alter the uniforms to fit the drip?).

Never a dull moment-for three times a day loud shouts of disapproval will eminate from the mess hall, followed by a fleet-footed cook checking out with Pappy Jack on his heels with his plate in one hand and a butcher's cleaver in the other. (A note for the uninformed-Pappy has a very dainty stomach.) Pappy is known to the nation's cooks as 230 pounds of food complaint and consumption.

Big Shot Hatch Victor Hatch may want to suggest the next army maneuver for the whole regiment, but some tough sargeant (and I hope it is I) will have to remind him that he might have been Tampa U.'s star quarterback but to the United States army he is just a $21 a month buck private.

If the buglar (Willard Driscoll) were found dead some morning Zaiko's fingerprints would be easily detected on Willie's very strong vocal cords. WARNING—The horizontal kid doesn't like his slumber disturbed. I know.

Poor Champ Champ could never line up "right dress" command, for those swivel hips could never stay still that long. (The jitterbug boy assumes a broken-field waltz even in ranks.)

All our bow-legged boys headed by Andy, followed closely by Beynon, Fordyce and Fisher will line up for the rest of the boys to have tunnel-crawling practice. Quite a feat with a rifle and a 60-pound pack! Quite a cowboy spread!

And Brandy and Andy Brandy and Andy insist on giving us (against our wills) their slappy, slap-stick comedy. Arrangements have been made to borrow the Bud Abbott and Castello scrip for duration of the war. The Jeeps claim they will send the boys over-the-top with laughing faces. (The boys prefer lead rather than corn.)

Bill Read and R. E. Fordyce have assured the Buck Privates that they will receive taxi service to the front for a small sum of $22 a month. The privates will have to take a little, work on the side to meet the demands of these philanthropists.

B. S. U. Holds Banquet And Installs Officers For Coming Year

Baptist students of the University of Tampa installed council officers for the coming year at their Birthday banquet celebrating the second anniversary of the organization of the B. S. U. Friday night at the Y. W. C. A.

Frank Conlon, president of the University of Florida B. S. U. and Eunice Walker, president of the Southern college B. S. U. brought greetings from the neighboring schools.

Bill Gaventa, retiring B. S. U. president, was presented with a B. S. U. key in appreciation for his work in organizing and leading the Tampa group during the past two years.

Lucie Lee Marsh and Jo Price, graduating council members, received the B. S. U. birthday cake as a reward for their services on the council. They assisted Bill Gaventa in the installation ceremony.

Place cards and decorations carried out the birthday theme. The theme was further carried out in an original skit by Alice June Wright depicting comic scenes in the life of the Tampa Baptist Student union.

The program also included a solo by Josephine Price and a string trio composed of Ruth Morgan, Jo Price and Bill Hayes. Bernice Horne, University of Tampa graduate, spoke on "Memories" giving a sketch of the B. S. U.'s organization and growth.

tion. One minute one candidate was up and the next minute another, and they had us all guessing till the last second. Congratulations to all, anyway.

Oh, by the way, M. M. has the measles (caught 'em on her birthday, too) so I'm pinch-hitting for her. Hope you don't mind.

The music department has been working out so many clever tricks for tonight's frolics, that it promises to be the best ever. We're all just dy-ing to find who the new Queen of the May will be. Remember Mickey O'Berry was last year's queen.

The A. G.'s have elected their new officers, but they won't tell anyone who was elected until their big dance next week-end. Speaking of next week-end reminds me that there are three big affairs coming one right after the other: Jr.-Sr. banquet, S.K.N. Gardenia dance and A. G.'s spring dance, and all promise to be huge successes.

The highlight of the B. S. U. ban-quet was to have been the presentation of the B. S. U. key to Bill Gaventa, retiring president, but to the embarrassment of the members the key didn't arrive in time, so Bill was presented with a picture of the key, which was described as a reasonable facsimile.

No one at the M. S. O. picnic had a chance to be bored, there was so much going on every minute. Boating, swimming, singing, exploring and plenty of eats were only part of the program.

That sophomore hop, highlight of last week's social calendar, certainly lived up to all expectations. It was swell! And the sponsors' bracelets are darling. Congrats to Bettie Berlin, Nouna Hitchcock, Jewel Fernandez, and Elsie Gill.

The style show Tuesday was very nice. Everyone agreed that Mary Sears' playsuit was very "oompish." Well, bye now. See you at the

Annual Dinner Dance Of Juniors, Seniors Set for Palm Room

The Junior-Senior banquet will be held Thursday at 7:30 o'clock in the Palm Room of the Tampa Terrace hotel. Details of the theme which will center around court life are being kept secret.

Feature of the evening will be the introduction and crowning of the king and queen of the senior class, and the maids from the other three classes. Candidates for maids are Jean Pryor and Beth Hotchkiss of the freshman class; Jewel Fernandez and Beverly Bond of the sophomore class and Priscilla Hunt and Gloria Gutierrez of the juniors.

Chaperones will be Mr. Harry Dobson and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Phelps. Dr. and Mrs. Mooney will be honor guests.

Committees in charge are: Bob Anderson and Priscilla Hunt, program; Lula Blake Gibson and Cora Shields, theme; Mary Berle Jones, table decorations; Geneva Roberts, flowers and Tom Johnson, dance.

The entire student body is invited to the dance which will begin at 10 o'clock.

The Art Department opened Tuesday, for its sixth annual exhibition, featuring work done by students during the last semester.

This exhibition clearly shows the individuality and originality of the students, which is stressed freely under the supervision of Mr. Norman Borchardt.

This year, as before, the exhibition has attracted favorable comment from critics.

"For the remaining part of the semester, the art class will work along the academic lines, such as sketching from both statues and life," Mr. Borchardt said.

Rollins Gains Revenge After Two Tampa Defeats Last Week

By sweeping both games last Friday and Saturday, the Rollins Tars gained revenge over our Tampa U. Spartans who had beaten them earlier in the season. The scores were 11-1 and 4-3.

In the first game, Friday, sloppy fielding and three-hit pitching by Clyde Jones, contributed to the Spartan nine's downfall.

Homer Is Highlight The only high note was John Comparato's homer in the fourth inning with no one on. Pugh, third, and tack, getting three for five. Pitching winning ball all the way up until the ninth inning, Saturday, Doug Forster eased up and the Tars pushed across a run to win 4-3. Pugh Gets Winning Single Sam Pugh singled in the winning run with two out and bases loaded.

Yopp, second base, led the Rollins at-run with two out and bases loaded. Pugh also got a double and Caldwell, first baseman, collected two for three. In this game the Spartans knocked Sam Hardman out of the box in the sixth and Clyde Jones came to his rescue and pitched scoreless ball for the last. four frames to win two games in a row over Tampa.

Joe Magadan, first baseman, had a perfect day at bat, getting four hits in four trips to the plate.

Tampa will play Stetson as their next state opponent.
