

Ippolito To Run For Public Office

Tony Ippolito, 26-year-old president of the University of Tampa student body and a lifetime resident of Hillsborough County, has announced his candidacy for state representative in the Florida legislature.

For the past two years, Ippolito has been listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He is a graduate of Hillsborough High School and will receive the Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from the University of Tampa next June.

Ippolito is well-known in the community for his work with civic groups in organizing teen-age clubs. As a veteran of World War II he served four years in the Navy, 28 months of which were in the Pacific theater.

He was president of the Rho Nu Delta Fraternity for two terms and has served as president of the Pan Hellenic Council.

Statement

Mr. Tony Ippolito, candidate for representative in Group two recently issued the following statement in regard to his campaign.

"I shall be a candidate in the primaries for Representative of District Number Two in common with all the candidates.

"I am in favor of good schools and lower taxes. Specifically, I am in favor of repeal of the sales tax. I believe that certain practical steps can be taken that will provide for the elimination of expense in our state government, so that all necessary services can be maintained without the sales tax. I am particularly interested in the elimination of what seems to me utterly useless expense in the examination and investigation, and re-examination and re-investigation in connection with the distribution to our senior citizens of the funds intended to be provided for their welfare.

"I am familiar with some of the problems of the citrus investor and I am constrained to believe that the Citrus Mutual is well on the way to the solution of our citrus problem if given a chance and proper official assistance.

"I am of the opinion that funds derived from legalized betting at the race tracks, through pari-mutual machines, should be returned to the counties. I am convinced that the people are tired of the swarm of political appointees running around the state at public expense doing things in the name of the state that could be done much better and more efficiently by existing county officials.

"I have for several years been actively identified in the city of Tampa with work of the Boys Club. This is a work very close to my heart. No greater purpose could challenge the people of Florida than to provide a broader program for the young people of the state. To this end I pledge the very best that is in me."

Tampa U. Sponsors Research Cruise

By Lou White

The University of Tampa has announced that its Geography and Geology departments are sponsoring a South American and Caribbean cruise. Dr. H. J. Hoepfner will be in charge and will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Woodnanssee, who will serve as photographer and secretary. Following Gasparilla Day the small craft known as the Blue Dawn will sail. The boat, built in Baltimore, Maryland, is approximately 50 feet long, and will carry provisions for 12 months.

They will make a study of the economic conditions of the people, take pictures and movies, and write articles for national magazines.

Dr. Hoepfner spoke to Geography class 102 on Wednesday Feb. 1, and told about some of the crafts of this size which had sailed before on trips. He also told of his plans and the points of interest he expected to visit. Dr. Hoepfner stated that if the expedition proved successful he would probably continue the cruise around the world.

Dr. E. C. Nance, president of the University, had as his guest Dr. Hoepfner and his party at the Lion's luncheon on Jan. 31.

Bruce, Adkins, Glen Heck; Agliano, Sebastian; Alderman, Florrice M.; Ammons, Hal B.; Bagli, Guy Thomas; Berwaldt, Oren E.; Birky, Edgar R.; Bowyer, Wiley C.; Boynton, Ruth Gorton; Brennan, Michael R.; Brown, Kenneth O.; Bruns, Robert B.; Bryan, Avron Irving; Budlong, Lyman A.; Cac-

Dr. Ellwood C. Nance, president of the University of Tampa, and Dr. M. C. Rhodes, dean of administration, greeted six new members of the University's instructional staff, all of whom were added to the faculty to aid in meeting the requirements of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The association requires a student-teacher ratio of one full-time faculty member to every 20 students, and this proportional relationship has now been met by the University of Tampa.

New instructors have been added to six different departments. The professors appointed include: Dr. C. J. Ho, acting associate professor of secondary education; Dr. William M. Goldsmith, associate professor of science; Miss Alice Jean Small, part-time instructor of art; Prof. Harold H. Heiser, acting associate professor of business administration; Dr. James W. Covington, associate professor of history and political science; and Miss Doris Hawse, acting assistant professor of English.

In Adult Center

Dr. Ho came to the University of Tampa last September from Tientsin, China, to conduct an adult education course in Chinese culture. His experience includes personnel administration, vocational guidance and psychology, as well as a background in Chinese history and philosophy. He has been associated with the American Psychological Assn., and was formerly president of the Chinese Personnel Management Assn. As a member of the Chinese UNESCO Commission, he served as United Nations recruitment consultant in North China.

Dr. William Goldsmith was formerly assistant professor of biology at Florida Southern College. He has been engaged in special honor research at John Hopkins and has been an instructor in biology, a university administrative officer, and a director of biological stations in the mid-West. As an author of many books, he is listed in Who's Who and is a member of many state and national honor societies connected with his field.

Alice Jean Small was recently selected by the Tolo Chapter of Mortar Board, national woman's scholastic honorary, as the outstanding woman of achievement in the field of art. Miss Small is a member of the Tacoma Board of Art, Northwest Watercolor Society, Lambda Rho, women's art honorary, Mortar Board, and Phi Lambda Theta.

From Washington

She graduated from the University of Washington School of Fine Arts with a master of arts degree in water color. She has taught painting in the Tacoma public school system, the University of Washington Art Department, the University of West Virginia, and at the New York Federation House.

Miss Small's paintings have been seen at Riverside Gallery in New York City, the Seattle Art Museum, and in many other exhibitions of art. Her decorative paintings of the flower markets of Mexico, Hawaiian beaches, San Juan, and the Northwest are in many private collections.

Professor Harold A. Heiser held a position as educational director of Dumarie Institute and Normal School at Notre Dame for eight years, and was comptroller at Quincy, Ill., for four years.

Was Cost Accountant

He originated and installed a departmental cost accounting system in 14 hospitals throughout Illinois, Wisconsin, and Missouri, and in 1947, he took the position of comptroller of Memorial Hospital, Casper, Wyoming. Since then he has worked as auditor at both Tampa Municipal Hospital and at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Dr. James W. Covington, associate professor of history and political science, received his Ph. D. from the University of Oklahoma. His teaching experience includes history and English, and he received further experience as a dean of men, an athletic coach, and as a job counselor. Dr. Covington was stationed in Tampa with the Army Air Force during the war.

Miss Hawse, acting assistant professor of English, received her Master of Arts degree from the University of Alabama and has done graduate work at John Hopkins and the University of Maryland. She has taught at Gulf Park College, Averett College and Jacksonville Junior College.

Student Snapshots May Worth Money

Have you a snapshot or photo that you are extremely proud of? It may mean $$$$$$ to you. The Minaret will award five dollars cash for the best picture submitted for publication. The contest will remain in effect for the next three issues of the Minaret. A total of fifteen dollars or a five dollar cash prize for each of the three issues will be awarded. Simply submit a photo that you think will be of interest to the other students (excluding French post cards and nude art, natch!) Professional photographers are not eligible. The photo or snapshot must be the work of the entrant; his or her name should be written clearly on the back of the print, and should be turned into the Minaret before Feb. 17 for the first contest; before March 3 for the second contest and prior to March 17 for the final contest.

Editorials

Student faculty friction must be minimized!

A writer of Manchester College proposes the following:
For Faculty:

1. Are you ever unfair because of personal attitude—either your attitude or that of the student?
2. Do you have your lesson prepared every day—with new jokes now and then, the lesson thought through on a college level and with questions that should challenge the student, rather than bore him?
3. Do you also realize that each student has two or three other subjects besides yours, and make your assignments accordingly?
4. Are you impartial in class discussions?
5. Do you dismiss on time, as well as begin on time?
6. Do you attempt to make your subject especially interesting to students who are not enthusiastic?
7. Are you neat and clean in appearance always?

For Students:

1. Do you get to class on time always, and keep appointments?
2. Are you neat and clean in appearance every day?
3. Do you attempt to be attentive and courteous in class, even when the subject seems a little dull to you?
4. Do you have your lesson prepared every day?
5. Do you put forth special effort before expecting an "A"?
6. Do you protest injustice to the professor courteously, in order that he may remedy them, rather than complaining impotently to your roommate and the world at large?
7. Do you refrain from conducting your private correspondence and conversations in class?

Is it not high time that both faculty members and students of Tampa U. take these proposals to heart — and use them daily?

We don't like to make excuses for unsuccessful issues of the Minaret. However, at this time we should be allowed to offer one important one. You can't turn out a paper without reporters. The full class schedules of our staff members limits their activity with the Minaret. The need for more writers on our staff is great. Can you help us make this publication one of the best in the South? If you are interested in writing, why not come to one of our meetings or submit articles for publication in the Minaret? We need the students' aid.

In the past, The Minaret has always refrained from voicing political beliefs or supporting an individual for election to a public office. But at this time, we desert tradition to rally to support Tony Ippolito, President of our student body in his quest for election as State Representative.

We need not laud the accomplishments of Tony at Tampa U. His tireless efforts in behalf of the student body and the university are recognized by everyone. We can say that his record of achievement here at the University is a reflection of his ability to apply successful effort to a public office as well.

Every student eligible to vote in the city primaries should turn out to vote for a fellow student who has a keen interest in Youth and Educational legislative measures.

Ripping Through With Ripley

From Lowell (Mass.) Teachers College comes the following story, which adds new light on the devices which advertisers dream up to spread the merits of their products. It seems that a minister couldn't scrape up the funds to have the programs for his services printed, so he offered to let a local printer do the job, with the provision that some ads would appear therein. The next Sunday he noted with horror that a verse to one of the Hymns ran as follows:

Hark the herald angels sing,
Murphy's pills are just the thing
Peace on earth and mercy mild,
Two for an adult and one for a child.

Poetry Corner

I love the paper,
I think it's swell,
On Friday mornings
I run pell mell
To get my copy,
and read each line,
The stories and columns .
I think are fine

I laugh at the jokes,
I read all the ads;
I note all the news,
I take up the fads.
When I praise the paper,
I scorn those who laugh.
I'm really most loyal—
I'm on the staff.

THE HOBO PROFESSOR

By C. L. Salter, Jr.

A freight train struggled up the long mountain slope. It was an ordinary group of freight trains on an ordinary run, but it had aboard no ordinary group of human beings. Another freight followed the first. In one of the box cars of the first train there were some 40 or so hobos, tramps or bums, and in the corner two were talking, a young hobo and an old tramp. The old tramp was trying to convince the young man that the life of the road was the best and most healthful. The other occupants of the car were talking or sleeping. No one had any idea of the disaster that impended.

Someone, probably a tramp provoked at the railroad, pulled a cup link of the air hose and eight cars of the first train slipped slowly back down slope, gaining speed as they bore down on the second train. The engineer of the second train frantically threw his engine in reverse. About two-thirds of the way down the slope the terrible crash occurred.

Amid the splintered steel and wood wreckage, most of the hobos in the boxcar perished. They didn't ever know what hit them. The dead and dying were everywhere. The aforementioned car and another kept on ramming down the mountain side, twisting, careening, tearing, until it finally came to rest.

The only two survivors, the old tramp and the young hobo, crawled out of the wreckage unscathed, only to be pursued by railroad police with billy clubs. They escaped by swimming and wading through a cattail swamp. It was then that the old man said to the younger one: "See what I mean about life on the road being the best? Now, just think if we were two fine gentlemen sitting in a Pullman car when that wreck happened. Why we might have been cut to death by the window glass."

This was marked another adventure in the life of Prof. Jesse W. Dees, Jr., son of the Rev. Jesse W. Dees, a Methodist minister. Professor Dees, known as the "hobo professor," was the young man who escaped from the ill-fated box car. He lived a weird double life as a student, and later professor of sociology, and as "Larry Worth" the hobo.

Professor Dees believed that if one really wanted to know about the life and problems of people, the best way was to live their lives with them and thus study them first-hand. This he did, and when Christmas, Easter and summer vacations rolled around, Jesse Dees became "Larry Worth," an uncouth, unshaven bindle stiff. This soul-searching work carried him to a series of adventures packed with intrigue, poverty, danger and despair. He witnessed at first hand the very dregs from the bottom of the barrel of humanity.

Now only superman can lead a double life undetected without outside help. Jesse Dees was aided and abetted from the beginning by his understanding wife and mother-in-law. His father knew nothing of his double life until he happened to see his son standing on a flatcar, stretching himself, dressed in complete hobo regalia. A week later, the minister heard the whole strange story and later admitted that if he hadn't actually seen his son on the flatcar that day, he probably wouldn't have believed the tale.

Jesse Dees is now professor of sociology at the University of Tampa, having transferred here from Hillsdale College, Hillsdale, Mich. He was head of the sociology department there. He is the author of the book "flopouse," a far-reaching and significant study at first hand of the disintegrating life of America's homeless men. Professor Dees is now working on a new book, "Snake Pit Attendant," which will be published next year. Notes in the book are from Karl A. Merminger, the eminent psychologist.

Professor Dees tells his story straight from the shoulder, and when speaking about the people he has known, he pulls no punches. The professor continues to gather information of this kind. If you have a story of a parallel adventure, tell it to Professor Dees. You will find him an enthusiastic listener.

Meet The People

By JOAN DAVIS

Lynn Wooddy

Meet Lynn Wooddy, a Junior who was recently awarded a Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities certificate in recognition of merit and accomplishments as a student.

After attending the University of Richmond, Lynn joined the Navy and became an instructor at the Navy quartermaster School in Boston. Later he took part in Operations Rustbolt, the third Atom Bomb experiment, which took place on Eniwetok Atoll in the Marshall Islands. After his discharge from the Navy, he entered Tampa University and became a member of the Kapa Sigma Kapa fraternity. Lynn is working for a B.S. degree in Education, majoring in Mathematics.

Lynn is not only talented in adding 2 and 2 but also has found time to be active with statesmen players, a dramatic group in Richmond, Virginia, taking several lead parts. Why not hear our applause too, Lynn.

Lou White

There is a new face in the halls of Tampa U. Her name is Lou White, a Freshman this semester. Lou comes from Scottsburg Indiana, and is a speech and dramatics major. Already she has added many extra curricula activities to her days work. One of these is her participation on the advertising staff of The Minaret and also as a reporter. In both she has proved herself of great value.

Some of her favorite pastimes are dancing, swimming, and tennis. You will be hearing more about this girl, so keep her name in mind.

Juanita Smith

Have you missed anyone lately? Maybe it's Juanita Smith. Smitty may ring a more familiar note. If you have wondered why she is not frequenting the old familiar haunts, it is because she is in cold Indiana attending Indiana University. Working towards a B.S. degree in science, her goal is Lab. Technician. But Juanita will be heading south with the snow birds in Sept.

SENATE TO TRY NEW REPRESENTATIVE PLAN

Student body president, Tony Ippolito, in a special meeting of all organizational leaders, disclosed plans for a new student government representative system. The plan will be put to test this semester. It places emphasis upon equality through representation of every organization and independent group in the university.

Official Accreditation Requirements Submitted

Editor's Note—We are aware that similar articles have been printed in The Minaret before. However the following is an official list of requirements which must appear in the publication of the University seeking accreditation.

I. Requirements for Admission

Ordinarily the requirement for admission shall be graduation from an approved secondary school with the minimum of 15 units (or 11 such units from a three-year senior school), or the equivalent of this requirement as shown by examination; but the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education may arrange for properly safe-guarded programs with other requirements. Candidates for admission from secondary schools requiring more than the normal four years for graduation may be accepted when their transcripts show the full equivalent of graduation from a four-year secondary school. In the preparatory training, there should be several sequences of subject-matter adapted to the curriculum of the institution where admission is sought. The certificate should show the quality of work accomplished and give information as to the personality, character, and health of the applicant. Supplementary psychological or achievement tests are advised. All information needed about a student should be in the hands of the institution before registration is permitted. A program of guidance or orientation should be provided by each institution as a part of its entrance procedure.

II. Requirement for Graduation

The minimum requirements for a baccalaureate degree shall be 120 semester hours or the equivalent, with such qualitative restrictions as may be deemed needful. The giving of a variety of degrees, especially by a small institution, should be discouraged.

III. Instruction

The effectiveness of an institution should be measured largely by the quality of its instruction. This should be a principal concern of both administration and faculty. Data on this point should include classroom methods, tests, examinations, grading systems, faculty and student interests in the subjects taught, faculty and institutional self-analysis of instructional results, including the compilation and distribution on a comparative basis of grades by departments and by individual teachers.

X. Physical Plant and Equipment

The buildings and grounds for an institution must be judged by the program of service it undertakes to render. There should be sufficient land or a campus to provide for the buildings needed and give an opportunity for recreational activities. The buildings should be located and constructed so as to be suitable for class work, laboratories, administration, health, recreation, dormitory facilities, and student activities. Lighting, heating, ventilation, and general sanitary condition should be carefully provided. The care and upkeep of the buildings should be factors in determining the effectiveness of the plant.

XI. Student Personnel Work

Provision should be made for handling students as individuals, including careful records, academic and personal, counseling as to the college program and personal problems, physical examinations for the tuberculosis and other physical defects, vocational and placement advice. All such service in each institution should be carefully correlated, whether rendered by students, faculty, administrative officers or alumni.

XII. Extracurricular Activities

The extent to which student activities add to the educational efficiency of an institution or detract from it will determine their value. The entire program should be under faculty supervision. The participation of students should be as far as possible on a fair try-out basis. Fraternities or social clubs should not initiate members until their academic standing is fully approved. The "spoils system" in student elections should be eliminated. The financial programs of all extracurricular activities should be audited, reported to students and faculty, and careful management assured.

XIII. Intercollegiate Athletics

It is essential that there be faculty control of all phases of intercollegiate athletics. This should cover specifically the admission of students, the choice of studies to be pursued, the grades attained, scholarship aid permitted, and other similar details. Athletes should have the same treatment as other students in these matters. The athletic coaches should be regular members of the faculty, appointed as other members, with tenure and remuneration suitable to the faculty scale.

The financing of athletics should be a function and responsibility of the institution and under the control of the administration. Purchases should be made on requisition forms and all receipts and expenditures should be shown in detail in the college audit. Debts and assets should be the institutional responsibility.

All members of this Association which engage in intercollegiate athletics should hold membership in some athletic conference or association of approved standing and requirements. Exemption from this requirement may be granted for reason by the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education.

XBI. Alumni Records and Contracts

If adequate information were obtainable in regard to the attitudes and achievements of those who have attended an institution, it would serve as a sufficient single standard for accrediting. It is important for a college or university to keep careful records in the Registrar's office, or in a supervised alumni office or elsewhere, not merely for a few outstanding graduates but for all who have attended. Their records should show those who have gone on to public or community service, and other items that may measure the influence of the institution in church or state. A college or university should consider carefully the carrying on of an educational program among its alumni. These should be encouraged to maintain an interest in their Alma Mater and contribute to its support, but care should be taken that they do not dominate the policies and programs of the institution.

XXX. Maintenance of Educational Ideal

In determining the fitness of an institution to meet the requirements of the Association, due consideration shall be given to the type of the institution, its announced purposes and objectives, and the relation between its resources and its educational undertakings.

The tone of an institution is one of the most important factors in its recognition. Fairness in recruiting students, truthfulness in publications and on the part of those who represent the institution in soliciting students, or in other relations, conservatism in granting honorary degrees, and a spirit of cooperation in educational work, and saneness in the awards of scholarships and loan funds are factors of importance in judging any institution.

ACADEMIC TITLES OF INSTRUCTORS DIFFER

There are certain basic requirements necessary to be qualified as an associate professor, a professor, or a dean, although they usually differ in every association of colleges, in fact, in practically every individual college.

To be an associate professor, at least a BS or BA degree is required; a professor a master's degree; and a dean a Ph D. Having these degrees does not necessarily mean that a person will hold these positions, for such factors as superiority and experience as well as a vacancy must be considered. Many times persons holding several positions never attain a position higher than that of a professor.

FASHIONS

Because we live in Florida and the weather has become so attractive to tourists it is time to begin to wear our resort fashions that the South is so famous for.

Resort wear means a dress of light weight cotton or linen material the style being one for warm weather. One department store has a yellow checked gingham sundress with a dressy grey velvet jacket. The outfit is precious and can be put to ready use on these cool full-mooned evenings.

Many women and girls are of the opinion that just because this is the winter season they should wear woools and hot crepes, in the darkest of shades. If you—for just a minute—would put yourself in the place of a visitor (tourist), how would you feel if you came to Tampa for a vacation and warm sunshine and when you put on a cotton dress feel like a fugitive because the women in Tampa are dressed for sub-zero weather even though the temperature is warm enough to go swimming.

For a new note in style: California wear has genuine copies of Mexican blocked skirts and gay blouses in various styles. There is also a new material, a heavy cotton almost a linen that has a rather wrinkled look. These outfits are what the chicest chicks will be wearing and you can make switches with the skirts and blouses. You can get them in the sportswear department of a large downtown Dept. store.

Next issue we will be back with a picture and the big fashion scoop of the month.

Basketball Preview

By John Marzolf

The Spartan Hoopsters are now nearing the end of their 49-50 season and are sporting a record of 11 wins against 9 defeats with a good chance of taking the state basketball title by virtue of their recent 67-55 win over the highly rated Miami Hurricanes.

On Feb. 14 the locals will journey to Macon, Ga., for a return game with a steadily improving Mercer squad. In the first game, in Tampa, between the two schools the Spartans managed to eke out a 75-72 victory in the rough ball game. After the Mercer game, Uncle Mike's charges will return to Tampa for games on the 16th and 17th with Erskine and Florida Southern as tuneups for their forthcoming game with the Florida Gators in Gainesville. Little is known about the Erskine squad except that they have fielded strong teams in the past and chances are that this year's squad will live up to that reputation. Florida Southern will be out to revenge the overtime defeat handed them by the Spartans in Lakeland when they meet the locals in a return game at the Armory.

The game in Gainesville is sure to be one of the best this season as the improving Gators will be out to better the showing they made in Tampa when they fell before the Spartans' power by a 63-50 score. The Florida quintet will be strengthened somewhat for their second meeting with the Tampans by Julian Miller who missed the game in Tampa due to a cold. The State Championship may rest on this game, pending the outcome of the forthcoming game between the Miami Hurricanes and the Gators.

With Mullens back in shape, the Spartans are at full strength and should make things plenty hot for the remainder of their opponents. Holland Aplin has shown up very well in his relief role and will see a good deal of action during the rest of the season. George Montz, Harry Bryan, MacWilliams and Jack Booros have been showing the local fans plenty of fancy floor work and have been the main reason that the Spartans have only lost one of their 10 home games to date.

Spartans Post Win Against Miami U.

Led by the fine play of Jack Booros and Bill Mullen, the Tampa Spartans dumped the Miami Hurricane hoopsters 67-55 here in Tampa last Monday night before 2,133 fans.

Striking fast at the opening whistle, the local whirlwinds rolled up a 19-2 lead before an amazed Miami "5" could gather their wits.

The visiting players couldn't find the range of the hoops and the winners took full advantage of it, never relinquishing their lead.

Jack Booros, Harry Bryan and Holland Aplin each scored from the field before Jerry Weinstein bucketed one for the visitors just after the start of the contest. The Spartans then went on to build up a 19-6 lead at the close of the first period. At the half the score stood at 34-22.

In the final period the Tampans led by a 22-point margin before Coach Gaddis rushed a stream of reserves into the game. The 'Canes then staged a rally and dwindled the count down to a 12-point difference before the final whistle.

Macky MacDonald, Miami star of their earlier season triumph over the West Coast quintet was banished from the contest by way of the foul route. It had little to do with the outcome of the contest, however, as MacDonald had been held to a lone field goal by the careful guarding of Jack Booros.

Jack Booros, along with Bill Mullen and Holland Aplin also led in the scoring department for Tampa with 13 markers apiece.

The contest featured everything from fancy passing, trick shooting, and rough play to wild shooting and even wilder passing.

The University of Tampa now has a record of six wins and two losses within the state. Victories have been posted over Florida, Miami, Southern, Rollins, Florida State and Stetson. The two losses were attributed to Miami and Stetson.

Fla. Southern Crew Beats TU. Boatmen

Florida Southern College and the University of Tampa crews thrilled the thousands of fans that jammed along the Davis Island seawall and the Platt Street Bridge when the Southern crew eked out a half-length victory over the Spartan eight in a stretch drive which left the defending champions from Rollins College far in the rear in the second Annual Gasparilla Regatta.

The Tampa U. crew jumped to the lead early in the race and held this lead until the last quarter of the race, when the boys from Lakeland stepped up their stroke from 33 to 36 and moved out in front as they neared the finish line. The Tar crew trailed almost the whole distance and finished two lengths behind the other two squads.

The trophy was presented to the winning crew at a banquet held after the race in the school cafeteria.

Alec Templeton Concert Lauded

A note on the last performance of the Tampa Symphony orchestra under the direction of Lyman Wiltse.

The performance with Alec Templeton on Jan. 30, was a very good concert for the people to remember. Mr. Templeton was superb and captured the hearts of all present. His rendition of Beethoven's Emperor Concerto, was sensitive and well mastered. It is amazing how this man can play such a work from one end of the keyboard to the other without ever having seen the musical score or the keyboard of the piano.

Perhaps the best part of the program was the "Improvisations" by Templeton. The audience became more enthusiastic with each number and the houselights had to be dimmed so the symphony could finish with Sibelius' Finlandia which the orchestra did extremely well.

The concert itself was well balanced and provided a very enjoyable evening of music. It is well to add that the house was filled to capacity. This fact alone was enough to inspire the musicians to play a good concert and they did.
