FLA. SOUTHERN COLLEGE HOLDS BIG CONVENTION

Several Profs. and Students of T. U. Attend

Last week Lakeland Southern College held a convention, with statewide colleges attending. The theme of the convention was "Marshalling Our Human Resources for Fla. Development."

Dean Rhodes, Mr. Nava, Dr. Loub, Mr. Baker, Virginia Smith, Rosalie Mathis, and Manuel Alvarez attended the convention, representing the U. of Tampa.

Dean W. I. Matherly of the U. of Fla. was the first speaker. His theme was America's Plan In the Post War World.

Fla. Southern College Chorus sang the Bells of St. Mary following this.

Dr. Howard Odum from the U. of North Carolina then spoke on the "Problems and Possibilities of the South." He wove into his speech the subject, the various kinds of shadows that prevail in our life, that of fear, death, the rock and shadows of ourselves.

"The South must develop itself and get along with the rest of the world." This is a two-fold task.

"The South," he continued, "at its best is a growing south, utilizing its resources."

If we are to be successful we must excel in natural resources, human wealth, technical wealth, capital wealth, and institutional wealth.

A fellowship luncheon including students, faculty and guests followed the morning program at 1:00 p. m. Guest speakers were introduced.

After the luncheon, sectional meetings were held, each going to his preference meeting. There was Education, the leader Colin English; Religion, Charles Thrift, chairman; Gov't., W. J. Matherly; and Social Work, Leland Hiatt.

There were no more meetings until that night when Mr. Denney B. Hooten, chairman of the state planning board, talked on "Florida's Problems Today."

The speeches for that day were concluded by Pres. Campbell of Fla. St. College for Women, speaking in place of Governor (elect) Millard Caldwell, who was unable to attend.

The students and faculty looked on every activity and all the college with admiration.

The Florida Southern College Chorus presented numbers during the various talks.

The conference committee consisted of John Z. Fletcher, Chancellor of Florida Southern College; Ludd M. Spivey, President of Florida Southern College; Ray V. Sowers, General Supervisor Duval County Schools; Colin English, State Superintendent of Education; Dewey B. Hooten, Chairman of State Planning Board; Walter J. Matherly, Dean of the University of Florida; and Leland Hiatt, Chairman of State Welfare Board.

Sharing in the conference were: State Board of Education, University of Florida, Florida State College for Women, Rollins College, University of Miami, St. Petersburg Junior College, Stetson University, University of Tampa, West Palm Beach Junior College, Orlando Junior College, State Welfare Board, State Planning Board, Polk County Federation of Women's Clubs, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Faiths, and civic leaders from Polk County and Florida-at-large.

PAN HELLENIC ELECTIONS OFFICERS

The Pan-Hellenic elect, composed of the presidents of the three Greek letter sororities and a representative from each held election of officers to serve for this school term. The new officers are: President, Lorraine Oglesby; vice president, Rosalie Mathis; secretary and treasurer, Marie Gibson.

All Girl Chorus, Orchestra To Have Appearance Nov. 7

On Nov. 7, the All Girl Chorus and Orchestra will make its first appearance of the season at one of the nearby army fields. This unit, patterned after the "Hour of Charm" is called the Charming Hour. It is affiliated with the Tampa Variety Artists, which presents various shows for the entertainment of service men and women.

The girls have been working hard since school began this fall trying to perfect their parts. Under the able direction of Mr. Wiltse, the unit promises to again be a great success. Imagine what a lovely picture it will be when 35 girls in their pastel shade evening gowns, greet the eye as the curtain is raised. The organizations use some semi-classical and some popular music.

As the curtain rises, the unit will sing its theme song "Neath the Southern Moon." The chorus will sing "Into the Night," "The Night Is Young." With the orchestra, the chorus will sing the "Song of the Bayou." The orchestra will accompany Dot Nylander as she sings "Il Bacio." Ruth Hardy will be the soloist with the chorus. As the orchestra plays "Holiday for Strings" the girls will harmonize a portion of it. Billie Higginbotham will whistle a couple of numbers for the men. Mimi Ferlita is the featured vocalist with the unit. She will do "It Had To Be You," "I'll Walk Alone," "This Is a Lovely Way to Spend an Evening," accompanied by the orchestra. The orchestra will play "Malaguena." As the curtain is pulled the girls will again sing their theme song.

Dr. Huebner To Be Instructor Again

We are happy to have Dr. Ilse Huebner back with us again this year. This is her third year as instructor in piano at the university. Dr. Huebner taught for 14 years at the College of Music in Cincinnati. During the summer she was the head of the summer school of music at Western Carolina Teacher's college, in Cullowee, N. C. In New York and in Cincinnati she has been holding master classes for the past two months. We welcome her to Florida and Tampa U. again this winter.

Political Minded Reporter Asks Students Preference On Dewey or FDR

By MARGARET HAVLIK

Which do you prefer, Roosevelt or Dewey?

Mr. Borchardt—Roosevelt, because I know pretty well what he is going to do.

Dr. Angus—Roosevelt . . . because behind Dewey is McCormick, Hamilton Fish and other potential Fascists.

Jane Lee—Roosevelt . . . Can you see Dewey sitting at the peace conference with Churchill and Stalin? . . . We'd be laughed completely out of the conference.

Mrs. M. Cronk—Roosevelt, even if some people think he's too dictatorial; at least he knows what it's all about without having to consult a bunch of stooges.

Clair De Vore—Roosevelt . . . I favor Roosevelt because I think he is the man that is going to take care of the working man.

Dr. Mildred Babcock—Roosevelt until the war is over, then in order to keep the Democratic principle intact a change of parties.

Billie Higginbotham—Roosevelt, as he is better qualified than anyone else in America today to bring about the successful completion of the war effort and to help work out a lasting peace.

Nancy Marsh—Roosevelt, naturally as a president. Dewey will make a good district attorney.

Catherine Bowen—Well, since I'm the eager tpe, I like fourth terms . . . Need I say more?

Mrs. Alex Gregory Diaz—Roosevelt of course will defeat District Attorney Dewey. All over the country the newspapers are switching to Roosevelt since they have heard and read the manner in which Mr. Dewey is handling his false prosecution to our President.

Mary Fulton—Roosevelt may be old and decrepit but we know what we have in office and what to expect from him. What do we really know about Dewey?

Billy H. Hood—Roosevelt . . . Foolish to put a man in now that knows little or nothing about the job.

Paul S. Hutton—Roosevelt. I don't like Dewey's mud-slinging.

Cynthia Moran—Roosevelt—He has come out with a definite foreign policy . . .

Eleanor Fisk—I haven't made a final decision as yet, because I am waiting to hear the two major speeches next week. At any rate, I'm going to the polls to vote in November.

Marea Bordt—This is a very important issue and needs lots of concentration. Haven't made up my mind yet, but you can bet your boots it will be the right man for the job.

Dr. Laub—I hate to say down here.

Mr. Reed—These United States of America are today facing the greatest crisis that has confronted them since the founding of the Union. We must act as intelligent individuals, not as mob followers, remembering that the choice we make could be worse than prostrating ourselves before the same royalist oligarchy from which we escaped in 1776. America must continue to be not only the hope of all free peoples of the world, but also the gaurantar of justice, and the exemplar in social and economic equity.

Rosaly Alan—Mr. Dewey because his record is far superior to that of Roosevelt's which is a series of proven mistakes, costly and foolish.

Duane Locke—I'm for Roosevelt because he is the man who started the WPA, therefore I can always be sure of a job. If the rumor is true that he is a Communist, I will be one of his supporters.

Mr. Nava—Dewey . . . I think he is a young, honest, reliable man, and knows what he is doing.

Jean Griffin—Roosevelt . . . Long experience and success proves his great capabilities.

Rosalie Mathis—Roosevelt is the man. Stalin dislikes the Republicans because of their tactless diplomacy. If the Republicans take over all hopes of a cooperative post-war settlement with Russia will be nipped in the bud. Hitler has publicly expressed his dislike of Roosevelt. Dewey lacks the experience to deal with a chaotic post-war nation. Enough said.

Andrew Martinez—There is no question about who I prefer. I had made up my mind as soon as I was certain of the candidates and I am hoping he will be elected.

Bette Garrison—Personally, I don't like mustaches, especially the 1920 style.

Jo Ramil—I love old men!

Virginia Smith—I plan to register and vote for Roosevelt, not so much because I am a Democrat but because at a crucial moment like this, we need an experienced man.

Miss Ruth Moffatt—Roosevelt!! I should say so.

Matthew Aprile—Roosevelt. His sagacity has proven him, why not keep him in office until after the war.

STUDENTS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR WHO'S WHO BOOK

Four Seniors and One Junior Selected

Dean Rhodes announced in assembly last week the names of students who have been elected to appear in the 1944-45 edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges." Every year a small percentage of the senior and junior classes is chosen to represent the colleges and universities all over the country.

This election creates a great deal of excitement and much speculation because the honor of Who's Who is attained by few in a college career. Besides being an honor, Who's Who is greatly beneficial in helping the graduate to acquire a position in the business world. Every year H. Pettus Randall, editor of Who's Who helps scores of college graduates to find the job of their choice. Many outstanding business firms refer to Who's Who when they have positions to fill.

The students here are selected by an impartial vote. The members of the senior class and faculty have an equal vote. This year the list consists of four seniors and one junior.

Catherine Bowen, only junior, is president of her class, associate editor of the Minaret, Delta Kappa Pan-Hellenic representative, sports editor of the yearbook and active in athletics.

313 Masquers Take In 17 New Students At Tampa University

The students who successfully passed the tryouts for the 313 Masquers Dramatic society are: Evelyn Jewel, Glenna Hill, Carrol Slayton, Betty Jane Chadwick, Andrew Martinez, Betty Ann Smith, Dorothy Cheatham, Jean Freeland, Rosemary Kindle, Rosalie Mathis, Marion Dalloz, and Edward Hall; acting, Mildred Cronk; acting and directing; Virginia Smith, stage managing; Raymond Younglove, John Kershaw and Edward Hall, stage handling.

Many students missed these tryouts and would like a chance to act. If you are one of those people, get in touch with either Dr. Angus or Violet Conte for an appointment.

Students Urged To Participate in Varsity

The urgent need for more students to participate in the Varsity show is being emphasized by Dr. Angus. Varsity shows, now a tradition at Tampa university, have always proved a tremendous success. The production for 1945 promises to be a greater success than ever before.

All students interested in script writing are urged to see Dr. Angus immediately. The successful production of this original musical demands the attention and cooperation of the entire student body.

BIBLE THOUGHT

The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein.

GOOD FOR THE GOOSE—GOOD FOR THE GANDER

"No excuse is accepted whatsoever for a cut of assembly." These words have been pressed into our brain until we are quite familiar with it and even repeat it from memory.

Yet, many of our professors do not attend the supposedly compulsory assemblies. If they do attend, they sometimes pay attention to the guest speaker. What can be more encouraging to a speaker than to find all eyes on his face.

Many students and faculty have not the courtesy to center their attention on the speaker or person who are there for their benefit.

Just as classes are a part of our school, so is our assembly. This is the only time where the entire school can assemble.

The other day I was quite amused at an assembly when one professor was looking out of the window and another one sound asleep.

Of course, there were many students acting unbecomingly for that occasion, but after all we feel what is good enough for the professor, is good enough for the students.

Why don't we all sign an agreement to bear the assemblies together?

T. B. OR NOT T. B.

We have heard much talk lately about Tuberculosis from the executive secretary of the Hillsborough County Tuberculosis and Health Association. All students have been encouraged to take the Tubercular test.

Many of us are afraid, some because we have heard that the X-ray might harm us. Mrs. Lofstrom definitely says that it will not. Others are afraid that we might have it and that it will scare us. It would be better to know it and then start on the road of curing it and still remain in school.

In the movie we saw how the hero found out after having hemorrhages. It was not too late but he had to give up his regular life and go to a sanitarium, likewise the heroine.

We may not even show a positive test and then we would not need the X-ray. If we have a positive test we are not necessarily diseased. We can still give the germs to others though.

Let's all take precaution and find out that question T. B. or not T. B.

LET'S SELL TAMPA U.

If all the students would get out and be salesmen of Tampa U. we would really inform the citizens of Tampa that we have an institution that we can all be proud. We have a dejected look on our faces when various people say, "Tampa U., what's that?" Yet we do nothing about selling our school to others.

We can well keep in mind what one of our alumni members said the other day in assembly, "We should be salesmen of Tampa U."

We can best do this by continually having a sense of loyalty toward our college. There are many things about Tampa U. that we love! Why not tell others. There will also be many factors about T. U. that we disapprove. Don't tell outsiders but suggest remedies to the student council or faculty members.

Many of us come in contact with others, high school students and friends, by our conversation we may instill a desire in them to want to come to our Alma Mater.

Let's be salesmen of Tampa U.!

A NEW BIOLOGY IS SET UP FOR T.U. STUDENTS

Dept. Plans To Have Natural Museum

By ED HALL

A new Biology laboratory has been secured on the west wing of the third floor of the University. This includes rooms 640 through 648, also other available rooms will be used for lectures.

This location, composed of a large general laboratory and three other laboratories for advanced work will give combinations of rooms adequate to take care of a full majors work in Biology. The rooms provide excellent light and also adequate storage space and shelving room. The equipment of the laboratory will be much more effective in these new quarters. The laboratory is also securing equipment and apparatus which will place it on a par with other laboratories of its kind in colleges and universities throughout the country.

Mr. Reed says that Tampa and the surrounding territory provides better field opportunities for Biological investigation than can be found in any other place in the United States.

New Plans for Biology Dept.

The Biology Department is planning to reestablish a natural history museum at the University. A great deal of material is already available for this purpose in the field of Geology, Paleontology and Anthropology. These materials together with the abundance of botanical and zoological material available here should make the University Museum a mecca for all naturalists visiting Florida. It has planned to build up a collection of excellent material covering all the native plants, fresh water fish and other forms of marine life.

It will require considerable time to realize these plans, however, work is already underway towards these ends. Anyone who is in position to contribute material in any of these fields, including ornithology are asked to get in touch with Mr. Reed, the newly arrived head of the department of Biology.

Chemistry Laboratory

The Chemistry laboratory has been completely overhauled and is in process of recognition so that it will be possible to accommodate large classes in elementary and advanced Chemistry.

With some addition of chemicals and supplies the Chemistry department will be in position to offer four years of Chemistry.

Roll Out the Barrel

I was headed out last week to buy a present to send my boy friend for Christmas. Ah, yes, for this way I could keep him from marrying one of those Ubangis that he was engaged to. The one with such a dark suntan.

After waiting on the bus for three hours I finally flagged one down. I stood up all the way; one thing I didn't have to hold on, for the crowd held me up. It was very difficult reading over that man's shoulders three persons over, but I just had to read the ads in the Sears Roebuck book.

I've not forgotten the last time I did window shopping—I got a summons to appear in court—driving on the sidewalk.

That policeman said I had criminal ears and face that was murder. I got a contempt slip for asking him if his face was declared an open city.

Well, pleasant peasants, I didn't see any use crying; laugh and the world laughs with you, cry and you can't get any kleenex.

Well, on with my shopping and shop-lifting. Let's see, shaving cream, cold cream, chocolate cream. No, he grows a beard. That's out of the way—now smoking pipe, tobacco pipe, and wind pipe; no, he doesn't smoke 'cause his lungs are deflated and he can't inhale. How about food? He needs to eat, his last letter said he'd lost 25 pounds and so now he only weighs 225 lbs. now. Of course the last letter I got was two years ago. This is fun shopping. I point to what I want and the clerk says That I Can't Have It.

What a nice clerk over there, the cutest man and such a cute nose, too, it's a shame that it isn't in the middle of his face . . . oh, well.

Something special should be in store for my boy friend. I have to show him how vital I am. After all a popular man like him, he was voted the drip grind of 1944.

At last I've found just what I want—a couple of dice and a deck of cards. That clerk is deliberately ignoring me. Well, why not warm up these dice. Why not get up a crowd here. Well, they're already here. Where's the counter selling barrels—I'm going home.

T. D. Bailey Speaks To Future Teachers Club

Mr. T. D. Bailey, superintendent of public schools, addressed the Future Teachers of America yesterday at their first meeting. The title of his talk was "What is Expected of the Future Teacher in Observation."

Mr. Bailey was the first state organizer of Future Teachers of America. He began his speech by telling of the essential qualities to be found in teachers; what he will look for in the future teacher.

"Scholarship is not the first thing I look for," he said. He continued by telling that although it is very basic that other qualities present are valuable; such as culture, refinement, personality, emotional stability, training and their interest in the profession.

"The teacher must recognize her shortcomings and limitations. They must find out what they are."

By KITTY KOLUMN

Why the moon-eyed expression, Garrison? It couldn't be that merchant marine, could it?

I hear Harriet Manning has lovely engagement ring. Congratulations, Harriet.

Seen with a private last Saturday, and a first lieutenant Sunday was Doris Thompson. Give us a hint as to how you do it.

Kitty and Sharpy were having a swell time at the Elks club with their dates also on Saturday night. It seems the USO at North Boulevard didn't have any lights.

Our freshmen are not far behind with their dates, either. Happy, Eugenia, Audrey, Dot Rankin and Ginia Rankin have been going with some Lieuts lately, so we the upperclassmen have no dates. I cannot understand that—maybe it's our looks.

Bill and West is all we've been hearing from Lorraine O. and Dottie G. I can see why!

B. J.'s Al is overseas. We're sorry about that but hope he'll be home soon to stay.

The freshman class are all excited about the dance they are giving on the 10th of Nov. Hope they don't change the date again. I think I've got a man for the occasion.

Ronnie C. has been having a good time lately with a certain Harry. Hear he's quite good looking. Keep it up Ronnie.

One of our old alumni, Jewel McWilliams, came over to visit us a few days ago. She certainly looks grand, and is doing a fine job with Pan American.

Seen at the Rainbow the other night was Catherine Bowen with a Drew field boy, Wayne.

Peggy Mack is manless these days. You see, Carl is in the service.

Bobbie Lacy went to Southern college to a dance last week-end. Hope you had a nice time.

Elena R. has been seen with Bill quite often lately. Which Bill, Elena? Mathis and Smith can always be found either at Drew or MacDill. They certainly have good times though.

Glenna Hill's boyfriend Hillary came to see her last week. He sure is cute, too.

Laura R. has been going out with a coast guard by the name of Carl. Who was the phone call from the other day, Laura?

What's Alice A. seen doing at the tennis court quite often—and not with another girl! Playing tennis, of course. Congratulations to all who made "Who's Who." We're mighty proud of you.

There will be an important Senior class meeting today at noon. Plans and changes will be discussed in regard to the year book.

Ask Aunt Carrie

Dear Aunt Carrie:

I'm one of those fellows who is making the world safe for democracy. I fought and fought—but I had to go anyway. I was called in Class A. Next time I want to be in Class B (B here when they go and B here when they come back).

I remember when I registered, I went up to the desk and the man in charge was my milkman. He said, "What's your name?" I said, "Oh, you know my name." He barked, "What's your name?" So I told him August Childs. He said, "Are you an alien?" I said, "No, I feel fine." He asked me where I was born, and I said, "In Pittsburgh." Then he said, "When did you first see the light of day?" I said, "When we moved to Philadelphia." He asked, "How old are you?" I said, "Twenty-three the first day of September." He said, "The first of September you'll be in China and that will be the end of August."

Then I went to camp and I guess they didn't think I'd live long—the first fellow I saw wrote on my card, "Air Corps." I went a little farther and some fellow said, "Look what the wind blew in." I said, "Wind nothing! The draft did it."

On the second morning they put these clothes on me, and Aunt Carrie, what an outfit. As soon as you're in it you think you could fight anybody. They have two sizes—too large and too small. The pants are so tight I can't sit down. The shoes are so big I turned around three times and they didn't move. What a raincoat they gave me! It rained the rain. I passed an officer all dressed up with a funny belt and all the stuff. He said, "Didn't you notice my uniform when you passed?" I said, "Yes, but what are you kicking about; look what they gave me."

One morning when it was five degrees below zero, they called us out for an underwear inspection. Talk about scenery! Red flannels, B.V.D.'s—all kinds. The uniforms I had on would fit Tony Galento. The lieutenant lined us up and told me to stand up. I said, "I am sir, it's the uniform that's at ease." He got so mad he put me to digging a ditch. A little later when he passed me, I asked him what to do with the dirt. He said, "Dig another hole and put it in there."

Three days later we sailed for Australia. Marching down the pier, I had the worst luck. I had a Sgt. who stuttered and it took him so long to say "Halt!" that 27 of us marched overboard. They pulled us out and lined us up on the pier. The Captain came by and said, "Fall in!" and I said, "I have already been in, sir."

I was on the boat 12 days—nothing coming down and everything coming up. I leaned over the rail all the time. In the middle of one of the best leans, the Captain rushed up and asked, "What Company are you in?" I said, "I'm all by myself, sir." He then asked me if the Brigadier was up yet. I said, "If I swallowed it, it's up."

Talk about your dumb people. I said to one of the fellows, "I guess we dropped the anchor." He replied, "I was afraid they'd lose it, it's been hanging out over the side ever since we left New York."

Well, we landed, Aunt Carrie, and were immediately sent to the trenches. After three nights the cannons started to roar and shells began to pop. I tried to hide behind a tree but there weren't even enough for the officers. The Captain came around and said, "We go over the top at 5:00 a. m." I said, "Captain, I would like to have a furlough." He said, "Haven't you any red blood in you?" I answered, "Yes, but I don't want to see it now."

At 5:00 a. m., we went over the top and 10,000 Japs came at us. And Aunt Carrie, the way they looked at me, you'd think I had started the whole war. Our Captain yelled, "Fire at will." I didn't know anybody by the name of Will, so I didn't shoot. But I guess the fellow behind me thought I was Will because he fired his gun and shot me in the excitement.

Well, guess I'll close now.

Your loving nephew,

"AUGUST."

FASHIONS

Winter's here! Anyone who has noticed the drop in the weather will certainly know what I mean. This sudden change in temperature has also brought a change in fashions.

Betty Ruth Israelson had on the cutest Scotch two-piece wool suit yesterday. It was real colorful and the lines of the suit had the tendency to bring out its color. The jacket is tight fitting with white braid trimming around the three-quarter sleeves and front, the skirt is pleated. Her accessories are brown loafers and plastic bag.

Eleanor Revero really looks good in red, I guess her brown hair tends to emphasize the color. Her dress is a heavy, corded wool gabardine made on straight lines with a brown ribbon stitched from the neckline to the bottom of the gathered skirt. Her brown low cut pumps and envelope bag helps to contrast the two colors together.

Betty Jane Chadwick came in the lobby out of the cold winter winds. She wasn't shaking a bit cause she was all dressed for the occasion. Her darling red coat of reversible type was set off by her bunny fur mittens, and her triangle kerchief served as her ear muffs.

Margaret Havlik has the best looking two-piece brown suit of heavy wool. It's made on tailored lines with a "no-collar neck." She wears a cute lapel pin. Her cute new hair-do tends to show off the suit and her nice height emphasizes it.

Did you see how cute and collegiate Sara Hale looked the other day? She had on a darling brown skirt with a frilly white blouse and pink cardigan sweater. To match the sweater she had two pink ribbons in her hair and pink socks for her saddle oxfords. Another cute frosh who really wears her clothes good.

Gray is overly good this year. You will know what I mean when you see Jayne Lee's new dress. It's blue-gray made on simple lines. There's an inset bow around the neck line done in white thread. Also the cutest little lamb at the bottom of the skirt hem with a silver bell "Lambs eat ivy."

Rosalie had the most clever green color scheme the other day. Her sweater was a light, light green of fine knit and her skirt was a shade darker, almost a Kelly green. The skirt was made in gores and of a heavy crepe material.

Now that winter's here, we of the fashion world want to show off our new and newest. So come on, let's sport our box coats, long and short sweaters, plaid skirts and saddle shoes.

The 3 Ghosts

Once there were three ghosts who lived in the woods—Mama Ghost, Papa Ghost, and Little Baby Ghost. A dame by the name of Goldy, being neatly stacked and quite the kid, was walking home from sorority meeting one night and came across the Ghost Flat. Not being the backward type, she decided to go in and see what was cooking.

A butler (The Little Man Who Wasn't There) took her rat cap and sloppy joe coat and led her into the jock room. On the bar were three drinks—evaporated milk in the condensed can. She didn't like any of them, but she drank the little drink anyway—to the last drop—just to be sociable. The radio was softly playing "Whooooooo" from the picture by the same name).

By this time Goldy was feeling a bit woozy from the drink and wanted to sit down. The first one was okay, but there was no ash tray, so she went on to another. The second one would have suited her, but it suddenly disappeared (this had nothing to do with the ghosts, it was the bill collector). The third chair was fine, but she fell through, which positively floored Goldy.

In the meantime Goldy, who had had a couple more drinks, decided to write the ghosts a letter telling them who had been drinking the drinks but all she could find was invisible ink, so she had to give up the idea. Goldy, who was by this time feeling no pain, went up to get a little shut-eye and try to sleep it off a little.

Taking the flying carpet (most people have elevators) upstairs, she staggered into Papa Ghost's bed, but it wasn't made up, or at last she saw Three Sheets to the Wind. Mama Ghost's bed was okay, but it wouldn't stay still long enough. Little Baby Ghost's bed looked very inviting. It had bars all around the bed, and as she was used to bars, she fell fast asleep.

Now, Mama and Papa Ghost "blew in" from Little Red Riding Hood's cocktail party about this time, and Baby Ghost had just come from the show "The Invisible Man." He sauntered in, singing, "I Don't Stand a Ghost of a Chance With You."

Seeing that Baby Ghost had no drink, he quickly ordered him another and they all chugalugged, after which they all had to sit down. Papa Ghost didn't care who had been sitting in his chair; Mama Ghost didn't care either after one more drink; but Little Baby Ghost did and he said, "Somebody's knocked the bottom out of my chair and I'll get to the bottom of this yet."

It seems that somebody had been sleeping, too. Papa Ghost said, "Who's been getting shut-eye in my sack?" Mama Ghost said, "Can that, Papa, if you think your's is messed up, you should take a look at my bed." And there was nobody in Baby Ghost's bed either. Where did Goldy go? I don't know. Maybe she's hiding in the mirage, where they keep the car.

Floor blowers similar to those formerly seen at amusement parks are now used to whip dust and lint from clothing of workers entering defense plants.

Hemlock trees over 600 years old have been found.

AG's Defeat Frosh, DK's Defeat STP's At Intramurals

The spirit of competition is running very high between the Freshman team, the Plebette team, the Alpha Gamma team, Delta Kappa team, and the Sigma Theta Phi team this year for the Volley Ball trophy.

The intramural games for October 12 were composed of the Alpha Gammas defeating the Freshman team in two out of three games, 16-14, 6-15, and 16-14, and the Delta Kappas defeating the Sigma Theta Phis in two straight games, 15-10 and 16-14. The Freshman team was composed of: Gloria Rodriguez, Neddie Rodriguez, Gertrude Cameron, Carmen Palacio, Gloria Franco, Mary Leone, and Ebbie Park. Alpha Gamma team: Evelyn Jewell, Ruth Israelson, Violet Conte, Marea Bordt, Dot Jackson, Millie Thomasine. Delta Kappa team: Catherine Bowen, Lois Sanchez, Aquilla Baker, Mary Fulton, Margaret Havlik, Jayne Lee, Elizabeth Robertson, and Glenna Hill. Sigma Theta Phi team: Betty Fay Cumble, Alice Arias, Bonnie Constantie, Betty Jane Brounsey, Lorraine Oglesby, Milarea Talcome, Martha Comelim, and Dot Rankin.

The Varsity Team played their first game of the season on October 12 against the WAC team from Hqs. Third Air Force and won two straight games. These games were played at the Trailer Park Gym.

All games were called off for October 19 because of the hurricane but the games were continued on October 16.

The last plea is being made for all Freshmen that are interested in a Freshman team to play in the City League. All Freshmen that are interested please see Catherine Bowen, at once. Come on Frosh, get on the ball, how do you ever expect to make the Varsity team?

Josephine Ramil Is Elected Prexie of La Tertulia Club

"La Tertulia," the University of Tampa's Spanish club, which has been reorganized this semester under the sponsorship of Professor Louis Nava plans big events for the coming year.

Josephine Ramil, newly-elected president, states that the primary aim of "La Tertulia" is to encourage the non-Spanish speaking members of the club to master the language and to promote better understanding between American and Latin-American students. The other officers are: vice president, Manuel Alvarez; secretary, Carmen Palacio; reporter, Glorinda Ficarrota, and acting treasurer, Professor Nava.

The activities of the club will include carrying on correspondence with college students of South America and other Latin countries and visiting neighboring colleges in order to formulate a better understanding of the aims of the other Spanish clubs in Florida.

Plans for a banquet honoring the new officers which will be held next week, will be announced later.

Education Students Visit School in St. Pete

The observation students and other education pupils visited the country Day and Boarding School at St. Petersburg last week. This is a modern school in the country. The facilities of the school include separate nursery school and kindergarten and all grades to the 10th grades; there are seven artistic buildings. Shady playgrounds and tall pine are interspersed among the school buildings.

Mrs. Peris Penningroth is the principal, while her husband, Dr. Paul W. Penningroth is consultant Psychologist and Educational Director.

Her workshop, nursery school classrooms, kindergarten and elementary grades were all visited by the students.

The children attending have an all around balanced day every day. They study, read, rest, ride horseback and have other sports.

Recreation is ample and varied from individual to group organized games. There is badminton, volleyball, baseball, basketball, croquet, pony riding, and swimming at school. Then on park tennis courts and occasional movie in town and a concert.

In the mornings and evenings the children are taken to and from school in the school station wagon.

Students attending were Mrs. Simms, Clair De Voir, Marie Bordt, Violet Conte, Betty Ann Smith, Dot Jackson, Rosalie Mathis, Dora Guito, Lorraine Oglesby and Virginia Smith.

Newman Club Has Informal Supper

The Newman club had an informal supper at the Candlelight restaurant at 6:30, Monday, Oct. 23. The supper was combined with one of the monthly meetings where plans were made for future activities of the members.

The room was decorated with palms and candles reflected the only light in the room. Active members and new students attending the supper were:

Mary Julia Mena, Ronnie Constantine, Alice Arias, Millie Tomasino, Manuel Alvarez, Sara Hale Marea Bordt, Carmen Palacio, Andy Martinez, Sam Leto, Rosemary Kelly, Mary Li Calsi, Jennie Cusmano, Mary Leone, and Miss Hanley, our faculty advisor.

Prof. Josef Baker Will Give Music Recital on Nov. 8

On Nov. 8 Mr. Josef Baker will give a piano recital in the university ballroom. He has studied piano quite extensively and has appeared in various places in recital, including St. Petersburg. The public is invited to attend.

His program will get off to a good start with Bach's "C Minor Fantasy." Then he will play Beethoven's "Sonata" in F minor (Appassionata). The second portion of the program will be taken from Chopin. His "Nocturne" in C minor, his "Revolutionary Etude," and his "Ballade" in G minor will be featured. The latter part will include Brahms' "Intermezzo" in B flat minor, Ravel's "Jeux D'Eau" (The Fountain) and DeFalla's "Ritual Fire Dance."

Everyone in the university is looking forward to hearing his interpretations of these great works of the masters. Don't forget the university ballroom, Nov. 1 at 8 p. m.

Walter Lunden Has Returned to States

Second Lt. Walter C. Lunden, jr., 22, of 413 Shore Crest drive, Tampa, returned from service outside the continental United States, now is being processed through the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach, where his next assignment will be determined.

This is one of the redistribution stations within the AAF Personnel Distribution Command. At an AAF redistribution station, AAF returnees from theaters of operation are examined by specially selected medical and classification officers whose joint findings are used in recommending new assignments. Theme of the AAF redistribution program is designation of each man to duty for which he is best fitted. Returnees live at a redistribution station under conditions that encourage natural response to processing, the greater part of their two-week stay being devoted to rest and recreation.

Methodists Have Halloween Party

The Methodist Student Organization of the University of Tampa held its annual Halloween party last week at the Hyde Park Methodist church. Those in charge of arrangements were: Invitations, Dorothy Jackson and Billie Higgenbotham; decorations, Glenna Hill and Evelyn Jewell; refreshments, Dorothy Rankin; recreation, Gladys Ford. All members of the student body and faculty were invited. Chaparrones present were Dr. C. H. Laub, Dr. Amelia Lautz, and Professor Jesse L. Keene.

The decorations were in the traditional orange and black, and prizes were won by Dr. Laub and Evelyn Jewell. Appropriate refreshments were served.

The state organization of the Methodist Student Movement held its fall retreat Oct. 21 and 22 at the Wesley Foundation of the University of Florida. Dr. Harvey C. Brown, representing the national organization, was the main speaker. Plans were made for the main conference of the school year to be held at Gainesville late in March.

The Methodist students of the University of Tampa will hold their next meeting in the Brownings room

Thursday, Nov. 9 at 12 o'clock. It is important that all Methodist students registered at the university be present.

Future Teachers Elect Eleanor Fisk, Prexie

At the first meeting of the Future Teachers of America association officers were elected to serve this year. The president, Eleanor Fisk; vice president, Dorothy Mallard; secretary-treasurer, Margaret Havelik. Dr. Babcock is the sponsor as she is the head of the education department. This club is opened to all education students. It is for the purpose of creating an understanding between the student teachers and her observation and practice teaching. One meeting is held each month, that being the last Monday.

Each week the direct observation students plan their hours to observe the following week, and submit it to the president. This in cooperation with the public schools of Tampa. Last week they made plans for the trip to the country day school in St. Petersburg.

After the observation gets under way, there will be much subject for discussion at the future meetings.

Each month the members receive a copy of the Journal of National Education. This magazine offers many helpful suggestions to future teachers.

Wanted

1. A good book on "How to Win Friends and Get Dates."
2. A new tire for my V8. I was out last night with a re-tread.
3. A tape measure to see if I'm in the red.
4. "All or Nothing at All." I'm eager.
5. More Plant park officers to get acquainted with in the lobby—they're nice.
6. A pair of wings. I want to "straighten" up and try right.
7. More quietness in the library—the noise gets on my nerves.
8. A big ring (not around the bath tub.)
9. A swimming pool—I love "dive in."
10. An extra sack, my date tonight might be a bag.
11. A scratch pad, since I have the seven years itch.
12. A fourth term so I can keep a "dope" out.
13. More men so us gals can stay on the beam.
