"Spartans in Space" theme for homecoming festival, Nov. 10-15

"Spartans in Space" will set the theme for the University of Tampa's 1969 Homecoming scheduled Nov. 10-15, on the Spartan campus. More than 300 alumni are expected to arrive on the Tampa campus for Homecoming Week festivities.

A convocation at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 13, at Falk Theatre will officially open the celebration. Dr. James Covington, professor of history and historian of the Apollo project at Cape Kennedy, will have as his topic "Makers of the Dream" which will detail the Apollo 11 shot. The address is open to the public. A pep rally followed by a street dance on the east side of Henry B. Plant Hall is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Spartan Spoofs and lawn displays created by the University of Tampa students, will be judged Friday when trophies will be awarded to the most outstanding. Highlighting Friday's events will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen.

Saturday's activities will open with an industrial arts breakfast in the Student Center. Following registration and a coffee hour for alumni in the center, the group will tour the University. Scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday is the annual alumni reception at Curtis Hixon Hall. The Outstanding Alumnus for 1969 will be announced at the reception. Fraternities will hold open houses at 4 o'clock.

The Spartans will take on Northern Michigan's Wildcats, whom they have defeated in three previous games, at 7 p.m. Saturday in Tampa Stadium. Following the game, alumni and students will stage the annual dance at Curtis Hixon Hall.

For the first time this year, the dance will be free for students who show ID's.

Pool opening hoped for homecoming

The new University swimming pool will tentatively open around Homecoming, according to Edmund Sliz, vice president for business.

Sliz recently said the holdup on the debut concerned where to locate the water meter. The city water works has not decided where to place it, he said.

The vice president also reported that there has been some vandalism around the pool. Vandals have ripped off some of the tile around the pool and have broken into the filter shed.

He said some sort of alarm system will have to be constructed to prevent other vandalism.

Covington to address Tampa U. student body

"Makers of the Dream" will be the title of an address by Dr. James Covington, University history professor, and NASA historian, at a convocation at 12:30 today at Falk Memorial Theatre.

Dr. Covington's speech will officially launch Homecoming festivities at the University which has selected "Spartans In Space" as its theme this year.

In his talk, the professor will outline his job for 18 months as a NASA historian in which he researched and wrote about the acquisition of sites and the construction of facilities for the Apollo project at Cape Kennedy.

Dr. Covington's official report will be published as a volume in the NASA historical series and will serve as a reference book in public and university libraries throughout the country. The final product, now being assembled, will be off the press by early spring.

Dr. Covington holds the Ph.D. from the University of Oklahoma and is the author or co-author of five books: "The Story of the University of Tampa," "The English Meet the Seminoles," "Pirates, Indians and the Spanish," "The Story of Southwestern Florida," and a volume awaiting publication, "The Third Seminole War."

We'll Be Out In 294 Years

WASHINGTON—The official Pentagon figures for the number of U.S. troops in Vietnam for the last six weeks show a withdrawal rate that would get the U.S. out of Vietnam in 294 years.

The net withdrawal figure in the six weeks between August 31 and October 2 show a reduction of 200 men.

And, as I. F. Stone's Weekly pointed out October 20, the U.S. has reduced its troop level by only 400 since the Tet Offensive in February, 1968—nineteen months ago. At that time the U.S. had 510,000 men in Vietnam; early this month the U.S. still had 509,600 men in Vietnam.

Palm Beach rock show adds stars

Ten new groups have been added to the star-studded list of groups for the 1st Annual Palm Beach International Music and Arts Festival over the Thanksgiving weekend.

Palm Beach promoter David Rupp announced he has now booked Johnny Winter, Grand Funk Railroad, Rotary Connection, Country Joe and the Fish, King Crimson, the Rugbys, the Byrds, Steppenwolf, Spirit and Sweetwater.

The festival will feature the heralded Rolling Stones from London in their first appearance at a festival, Rupp said.

Other groups on tap for the 3-day festival at Palm Beach International Raceway include: Jefferson Airplane, Iron Butterfly, Janis Joplin, Sly and the Family Stone, Chambers Brothers, Pacific Gas and Electric.

"We'll have 30 outstanding groups throughout the Thanksgiving weekend," said the festival promoter.

Tickets at $20 for the entire three days are on sale throughout the state by the West Palm Beach Jaycees and may be purchased by mail by sending a check or money order to First Annual Palm Beach International Music and Arts Festival, Box 2968, Palm Beach, Fla.

Vietnam moratorium committee reacts with anger to Nixon speech

Washington - (CPS) - The reaction of antiwar leaders here to President Nixon's Nov. 3 Vietnam speech has been one of anger and dismay. The Vietnam Moratorium Committee and New Mobilization Committee both predict that the hard-line tone of the speech will be the catalyst for many undecideds to join peace demonstrations Nov. 13-15.

Particularly bitter are leaders of the Mobilization which is sponsoring the Nov. 15 March on Washington. In addition to hearing Nixon indirectly attempt to discredit their planned activities by speaking derogatorily of the "vocal minority" who would seek to formulate government policy in the streets, they have been informed by the Justice Department that parade permits won't be granted for part of the march.

According to Ron Young, project director for the march, Justice Department officials are refusing to grant permits for the first leg of the march, from the Capitol mall up Pennsylvania Ave., to the White House.

Stewart Meacham, one of six Mobilization co-chairmen, said he still expects the permits to be granted since, "The people have the constitutional right of free assembly." Promising that the Mobilization isn't about to make a back room deal that would steer the march away from the White House, he strongly hinted it would proceed there even if the appropriate permits were not available.

Bennett, president of the Union of Theological Seminary, said of the speech: "He (Nixon) gave us no concession at all. He talked a lot about peace, a just peace. But he gave us a program for continuance of an unjust war. . . If you think the war is just awkward, then it is sufficient to try to lower U. S. troop casualties; but if you think it is immoral. . . the fighting must end."

In response to reporters' questions about the possibility of violence occurring Nov. 15, Meacham said the emphasis in all steering committee meetings has been on a "peaceful, legal" event with numerous parade marshalls to keep things orderly.

Various radical groups, including the Yippies, Black Panthers, Revolutionary Youth Movement II, Youth Against War and Facism and the newly-formed "Mad Dog" caucus of SDS, are said to be planning a militant "red flag" march within the main march, which will veer from the great mass of people at 5 p.m. Saturday for a demonstration in front of the Justice Department. The theme will be to stop the Conspiracy trial in Chicago.

The Moratorium Committee itself made criticisms, calling Nixon's announced plans "an extension of Lyndon Johnson's war policies."

"The President implies that any alternative to his policy would be unpatriotic," said Sam Brown, national Moratorium spokesman. "We have a different concept of patriotism. We believe that the drain of lives and resources in Vietnam serves no national interest - that, to the contrary, it damages our position in the world and distracts us from constructive work at home."

Brown said the Moratorium will continue to call for mid-month protests against the war, because its leaders are convinced that, "President Nixon has misjudged the mood of this country, just as he has misjudged the realities of Vietnam. We believe that these realities must prevail and that the war cannot long be carried on against the will of the American people."

Have we forgotten our fight for freedom?

Barry Lydon

It has been 194 years since America fought for her freedom. Since that time we have engaged in three major wars: Civil War, World War I, World War II; along with dozens of smaller wars.

Each war we have engaged in has had something to do with freedom, either directly or indirectly.

What is freedom?

Who is freedom for?

Freedom as Webster puts it, is a state of being at liberty, as opposed to bondage, confinement or under physical restraint.

Who is freedom for, is it just for Americans? Or is it for those who can fight for it themselves? Or is it for those who are unable to fight for themselves? Lest we forget that America too had to have help in attaining her freedom.

Can we deny others the chance to live freely without oppression? Can we deny others the chance to prosper? If we do then are we true follower of freedom. If we deny then we can no longer abide by the laws of the Constitution which govern the student opinion

freest country ever conceived on the face of the world.

Are we going on with the New Frontier or do we regress into the policy of isolation. America for the Americans.

"The price of Freedom has always been high, and America has always been willing to pay the price." Are we still willing to pay?

Changes made in Merle C. Kelce library

Several new programs have been initiated in the Merle C. Kelce Library designed to serve students and faculty, reported Dr. Sandor Szilassy, library director. One of the basic changes is the introduction of Library of Congress classification and the reclassification of the old part of the collection from Dewey Decimal to L.C. The new cataloging system is simpler; classification numbers will be shorter in most cases; subject categories will fit the changing times better and the new system will enable the library to tie up with an automated cataloging system of the Library of Congress which will be operational in the next decade.

The recently approved circulation rules enable students and faculty to check out most materials in justified cases, even if the use of the items would otherwise be restricted to the library.

Professional reference librarian and her assistants will be glad to help patrons in using the card catalogue and other bibliographic tools such as indexes, abstracts, bibliographies, etc. Assistance is also available for the location of materials for term papers and research projects.

Many students do not know that they can use interlibrary loan services if the Merle C. Kelce Library does not have the source materials needed. There is a charge for actual expenses, such as postage and xerox copies.

The new library building provides one hundred and forty study carrels, 16 study rooms and 3 seminar rooms among the new facilities. There is an audiovisual room, where patrons can listen to records and tapes in specially built listening booths. Film viewers will also be available at a later date. A 20,000 title ultramicrofiche series entitled "The Library of American Civilization" is on order. A "Use of the Library" course is under consideration for freshman students. This will enable new members of the academic community to learn about the new classification system, the card catalogue, the arrangement of books and other materials, and special services.

An inventory has already begun. As soon as it is finished, the user and the librarians will have a reliable picture of the collection in terms of volumes as well as of gaps that may exist in some subject areas. The library book fund, for which supporters of our institution have already donated more than $35,000, will be used especially for building a well-balanced collection.

More emphasis will be given to different types of microfilms and government documents. Technical Services and the circulation record system are being simplified: library hours have been extended. The library is now open seven days a week.

Because of the two different classification systems which will be in existence for the next few years, students will experience some inconvenience. This and the introduction of new rules and regulations take time before every student and professor gets used to them.

Tampa U. students to tutor underprivileged

The Student Government Association is presently conducting a recruiting drive for volunteers to serve in the Intensive Tutorial (IT) program. This project was formed at the University of South Florida in 1968, to help underprivileged children in school.

Don Stieger, head of the IT program in Tampa, cited that 1,500 students participating in the tutorial program improved in all areas of study after a year with high school and college students. Stieger, an American Ideas instructor at U.S.F. and a Methodist minister, feels that this method of one to one ratio of pupil to student teacher, will provide the love, the attention and skills that the children need.

The sociology classes and education majors are presently participating in this program under the direction of Father Leo, Mr. Fred Fisher and John Defone, student coordinator. After one session in orientating themselves, these students spend anywhere from 1 to 6 hours a week at an assigned school.

Some have become so involved that they take the children on trips to Busch Gardens, Lowry Park, movies and their homes, according to Stieger. Stieger felt that display of affection "will cause the kids to grow and the student teacher to grow."

All those who are interested may contact the Student Government or the office of Mr. Fisher for more information. The university organization with the most participation in this cause will be awarded a trophy in recognition of their efforts.

Majority disapprove of Nixon's war speech

A poll recently taken at the University of Tampa concerning President Nixon's speech on November 3rd, showed that the majority of those interviewed strongly disagreed with the President's future policies.

Out of 150 interviewed, 83 disagreed, 11 were for his speech, and to a great surprise 56 did not hear the speech or had read anything about the President's address to the nation on the night of the 3rd. Percentage-wise 56% voted strongly against the President while a mere 7% voted for him, and 37% were uninformed.

In the fall of 1968 a poll of all the presidential candidates showed Nixon the favorite of the students with a fantastic 60% support of the student body.

Asked why Nixon's followers have deserted him, a few of those interviewed commented by saying: "Nixon has not fulfilled his promises made while he was a candidate; another student put it in a more direct way, "He said nothing that we didn't hear before. A majority of students feel that the President has been running around in circles. And to prove this point I shall take a quote from the President himself.

Mr. Nixon what are you going to do about the present problems in South America? "WE ARE GOING TO TAKE FIRM ACTION."

Mr. Nixon what kind of firm action? WE ARE GOING TO TAKE FIRM ACTION.

This is the point many students referred to.

Tampa is not alone with its disapproval of Nixon policies, the University of Mass., Plymouth State College, Merrimack College and Harcum Junior College, have all expressed discontent with the President's message.

It seems President Nixon is going to have his hands full the next couple of months.

Paying and peeing

CHICAGO — A bill in the Illinois legislature to ban pay-toilets is facing opposition from the manufacturer of locks for restroom doors.

Frank Rouse, president of the American Con Lock Co. in Pawtucket, R.I., calls the bill "un-American and un-constitutional". James McNutt, president of Nik-o-Lok Co. of Indianapolis said that "any hippie who wants to will be able to take a free shower in your restroom."

But the man who introduced the bill, Edward Wolbank of Chicago, is sticking to his guns. He says that "when Mother Nature calls, we must respond and should not have to pay for this privilege." Other states are considering similar action against pay toilets.

Colony Shop gives scholarships

University of Tampa art majors Susan Croxall and Christopher G. Keys split a $250 art scholarship fall semester given by Colony Shops of Florida Inc. The scholarship, given on the basis of proven ability and potential merit, is awarded by the art department's faculty.

Miss Croxall of West Hartford, Conn., is a sophomore. She is a member of Kappa Pi honorary art fraternity and is co-editor of the Moroccan year book.

Keys, of Dayton, Ohio, is a junior who is currently on the Dean's List at the University. He is also a member of ULEMA, the scholastic honorary organization.

Tampa University gets new vice president

by Thomas S. Corse

The new vice president for development and public relations at the University of Tampa, Robert B. Gronlund, has projected a successful future for the school based on conditions he views now.

Gronlund, who took office September 1, will raise funds and direct public relations as well as the alumni program.

In an interview recently, he said he will rely on three main fund raising plans. "The Forward Fund campaign, the endowment and deferred fund giving are very relative to our operation," he pointed out. He said, based on his findings, he thought the financial potential for the private institution looked very good.

Gronlund came to Tampa from Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, where he had been vice president for development since 1963.

His other professional experiences cover a vast range.

For three years, he served as pastor of the Newport Harbor Lutheran Church. During that time, the membership grew from 80 to 300 adults. Following this he served as a campus pastor at the Los Angeles City College for Inter-Church Fellowship. This was a half-time job while he attended graduate school. He took a job as assistant to the president and assistant professor at California Lutheran College, where he worked with the president in organizing this new college, designing the curriculum, fiscal and physical planning, faculty and staff recruitment, etc. He was directly responsible for public relations and fund-raising and, for a time, also admissions.

In 1962 he served as executive director of the American Lutheran Church

Gronlund

Foundation in Minneapolis, Minn., leaving that post for Capital University.

He has conducted 12 fund-raising campaigns for congregations, raising as much as a half-million dollars. He directed a $750,000 California-Arizona-Nevada campaign for California Lutheran College and American Lutheran College benevolences. He served as a special lecturer on development and college financing for Ohio State University graduate classes in higher education, for 1968-69.

He completed graduate work in religion and philosophy and education at the University of Southern California.

Parents weekend huge success at Tampa U.

by Barry Lydon

The University of Tampa's first parents weekend was called "a huge success" by parents from all over the United States who took part in the festivities.

Much to the surprise of the staff, Parents Weekend went over bigger than they had hoped for. Many parents liked T.U.'s campus and a lot commented on the advantages of a small college.

There was a small program set up for the parents. On Friday night a play was presented by the Drama Department in Falk Theatre, followed by a picnic on Saturday afternoon and football game on Saturday night. On Sunday afternoon there was a band concert in Plant Park.

Also on Sunday afternoon dorms were opened for all to visit. There were no complaints on the condition of the dorms. Even Howell hall passed the parents inspection which was the scene of overcrowding earlier in the semester.

The new library and Plant Hall drew a special attention from the parents; those who like Plant Hall were amazed with the 13 Minarets and especially pleased with the well-decorated variety of classrooms.

Asked what they liked least, one set of parents repeated some of the rumors about the questionable activity of Plant Park.

Many parents expressed regret that they did not get a chance to meet members of the faculty and hope that there will be a time set aside in future years program for them to meet the instructors.

To further compliment those who helped to make T.U.'s first Parents Weekend a success, many parents said that they would return again next year.

Students living off-campus wishing to move on-campus can and are invited to discuss terms with Dean of Men, John Benton. Rooms are available in all the halls and since student life centers around the campus, on-campus housing can be a rewarding experience, Benton said. The dean stated that, since many students do run low on money and are hampered by commuting difficulties in addition to living only a part-time college life, some are more than willing to house on-campus.

Greeks prepare for Homecoming

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Under the leadership of coach "Vince Tuthill Lombardi" the fraternity football squad turned in its most impressive season to date.

The brothers under the whip of John Gargon are working feverishly in preparation for this year's lawn display.

The brothers would like to congratulate John and Nancy on becoming lavaliered as well as Skip and Liz.

It's nice to have brother Les back with us again this year.

Too bad to see Ali is still #2!

We understand Willie Smith is in the 98% fewer cavities group — nice going Smitty.

Sorry to see Skip lost his best friend — Lefty.

Word has it that R. H. and G. G. have the cleanest apartment in town. Daisy?

What ever happened to that lavalier, Ira?

Will the "Four Horsemen" ride again next week? — What say, Mike?

Alpha Sigma Alpha

A Happy Homecoming to you all and we hope it will be even happier after the Saturday night game. We want to wish all the sororities and fraternities all the luck in the various Homecoming activities, especially to the Sig Eps. Because of their very kind gentleman-like gestures, they have made the Alpha Sig's Homecoming even happier. Thank you, boys.

Alpha Sigma Alpha wants to wish our "big sisters," Donna Blaess, Zita Tau Alpha; Lynn Benson, Alpha Chi Omega; and Cathy Wells, Delta Phi Epsilon, much success in the Homecoming Queen contest.

This week's bouquet of sandspurs goes to the annual staff for scheduling the sororities and fraternities pictures at Busch Gardens on the day of Homecoming. Your bouquet will arrive at the same time as our check, April 1, 1970.

Theta Chi

Congratulations to the football team for their defeat over Quantico, keep the ball rolling for Homecoming and Northern Michigan. Speaking about Homecoming — Theta Chi is hoping to have their representative for queen, Kathy Driscoll, take the title for the second year in a row. Last year Sandy Link took the honors for Epsilon Zeta.

Jeannie Waterman is an official Theta Chi Dolly now that she has accepted Larry Gordon's fraternity pin. Larry's big dream has finally come true. Congratulations and best of luck Jeannie and Larry.

Coach Boone's football team has reached the playoffs in the intermural league by defeating Tau Kappa Epsilon and Tau Epsilon Pi. The team played the Major's Club for the championship on Tuesday, Nov. 11.

Hank Wingfield says his Volkswagen Bus is great for taking long scenic trips. It's the only way to travel.

Delta Phi Epsilon

We would like to thank the sisters of Alpha Sigma Alpha for honoring two of our sisters, Ruth Wernick and Cathy Wells. Also we would like to thank the TKE's for saving our party by loaning us their band. Our two Homecoming queen contestants are Cathy Wells, representative for Delta Phi Epsilon, and Dottie Branch, representative for Howell Hall.

MISCELLANEOUS:

Will a certain sister ever bear being a First Lady? Is anyone willing to make a donation for a long distance phone call to Bob, Sherry is interested? Ask Linda what she is looking for in eight days? Has anyone found a lost drummer on interstate 4? If he is looking for the Phi Delta Kappa house he is too late. What's going on at 64 Davis Blvd.? The old party girl just sits by the phone and smiles. Anita, what kind of education course are you taking next year? TKE's beware, you have a pledgebook; we have a horseshoe! 474 lands on 1169, will it make it or not?

Congratulations to Helen Bailey who is pinned to Paul Pierce, Delta Upsilon at University of Florida.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Congratulations to the new baby Zeta, Anne Braunfeld, who we took on open rush.

The annual D Phi E - ZTA party was a huge success thanks to the TKE's for bringing the band. It seems that Darla Dateless and Bellbottom Betty Boyless had more fun on the stairs than anyone.

We would like to wish all organizations "good luck" on their lawn display and skit. May the first place winner not flame out this year!!!

The "order lady" of ZTA has been making a lot of whoopee in her room lately. Do you want an order??

Remember Zeta's, the hat is the badge of femininity. Sorry, my error!!! And ladies, by all means, watch that cigarette!!!!!!

Pi Kappa Phi

We would like to thank all the brothers and pledges for showing the parents a good time at the cocktail party.

This week, we are sponsoring a "Mouse to College" for Cancer Research. We thank everyone for contributing to this worthy cause.

After a successful P.J. party, we expect to have a great time at this Roaring 20's party.

"Little" and John would like to congratulate Jim Bernhardt and Patty on their marriage Thursday. Best wishes for many happy years.

QUICKIES

It seems that there was a fire in Dan's bed on Sunday, luckily an "Angel" from the sky put it out!

Congrats to Marty — on the birth of your 18-year-old daughter.

Is it true that Stoner is auditioning for EL SULLIVAN? He's called the Diving Pelican.

Is Nasty's Soft Parade still alive?

Bucci got caught by a man-eating ditch. TOUGH.

Tau Epsilon Phi

The Tau Epsilon Phi Fraternity congratulates the Spartans on their 9th place ranking and hopes that the Spartans continue their climb in the U.P.I. poll.

Halloween was changed from an evening of spooks and goblins to an evening of funny costumes and riotous excitement at TEP's Halloween party.

TEP's own "Evil" Griffith captured the No. 2 position in the intramural pool Championships.

TEP's arrangements for homecoming are really shaping up, with the big party being held at the Men's Garden Club. Brothers and pledges alike are sure the party will be another one of TEP's famous parties.

TEP congratulates Donna Blaess on becoming their nomination for Homecoming Queen and wishes her the best of luck.

Eddie, aren't phys. ed. majors supposed to be tough?

Mike, you're no Zorro.

Alpha Chi

The Alpha Chi's would like to wish everyone a Happy Homecoming and to extend a welcome to all visiting alumnae. The Homecoming Queen contest should be exciting and beautiful since three AX's are running. They are Lynne Benson, A E Pi; Kathy Driscoll, Theta Chi; and Patsy Shealy, Alpha Chi Omega. Best wishes to the Queen and her court. Skit rehearsals this past week have been fun and frantic. We'd like to thank our sweetheart, Bill James, for his professional direction.

Thanks go to those thirsty football players who supported pledges Linda Curry, Kathy Ernst, Eileen Fernandez, Lourdes Martin, and Liz Muller on their successful lemonade sales.

Our thanks go to Eddy DV., Greg S., Paul Z., Ali, Fred P., and the two Bobbie B's for their great help during the volleyball games.

NOTE TO LINDA C.: Better keep your eyes on the game! Next time it might be a player and not a football that hits you behind the knees!!

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon are happy to welcome all the men who pledged our Fraternity. We want to welcome our first fourteen little sisters. You will be a great inspiration for our Fraternity.

Communication course now at Tampa U., offered in conjunction with W.S.O.L.

by Charles Neff

Twelve students from the University of Tampa are now taking a radio communications course at WSOL Radio. This is the first time a course of this type has been offered at the University, and it is the first course of its type in the United States to be taught in the confines of a radio station.

Mr. Albert B. Gale, General Manager of WSOL Radio has helped in writing the text book used in the program. The course meets three times a week.

The first six weeks were spent studying the basic rules and regulations of operation of a radio station, and in the last six weeks each of the students will have a chance to put together their own radio show, and broadcast it on WSOL.

The course is being offered in cooperation with the speech department, and is offered in order to give students a closer look into the inner-workings of radio and communications.

Radical Stone raps Nixon's address

I. F. Stone was adamant.

Only minutes after President Nixon had concluded his much-prompted speech on Vietnam, the radical political writer and editor of I. F. Stone's Weekly, told CPS, "It was a disastrous speech for him and for the country."

"If he was supposed to be talking to the silent majority, he's going to find the ranks of his majority growing smaller and smaller by talking like that."

"This is Johnson and Rusk all over again," Stone said. "He (Nixon) has distorted history and the Ho Chi Minh letter."

Stone said the letter, which Nixon did not read but was released to the press after the speech, was a soft spoken, letter—it was moderate and it held hope for peace.

Nixon portrayed the letter, written by Ho only a few days before his death in answer to a Nixon letter, as giving no shred of hope for peace.

As for Nixon's interpretation of history, Stone accused him of blaming every president in the last 20 years but himself for the war. "He didn't say that in 1954 when he was vice president, he wanted to send ground troops in."

Doctors advise end to marijuana penalties

(CPS) — A Senate subcommittee has been told here that marijuana is in many ways a better drug to take than alcohol and that Operation Intercept, if successful, would merely drive more people to dangerous drugs such as amphetamines.

A series of witnesses testifying before the subcommittee on alcoholism and narcotics, chaired by Senator Harold Hughes (D-Iowa), told the committee that penalties for drug usage should be ended. These included

Dr. Joel Fort, a Berkeley professor and former consultant of drug abuse to the World Health Organization; Dr. Roger Smith, director of the Amphetamine Research Project at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco; Dr. David Smith, founder of the Haight - Ashbury Free Medical Clinic; and Dr. William McGlothlin of the UCLA Department of Psychology.

Fort told the subcommittee that it is "totally immoral and hypocritical to express concern about marijuana smoking without worrying also about other kinds of smoking." Tobacco, he said, is clearly as dangerous as marijuana.

Under questioning about possible harmful effects of various drugs, Fort told the committee of one drug that "accounts for thousands of deaths every year, that, despite decades of use, still works on the brain in ways we do not understand, and that has caused not only chromosomal damage but actual birth defects." The drug is aspirin.

McGlothlin told of a study of middle class whites who had been initiated to marijuana some twenty years ago. All had used it for several years, and some were still smoking it regularly. The study found that it was used as a substitute for alcohol. Those who had overused marijuana had also overused alcohol at a different period of their lives and would probably do so again if they were to stop using marijuana. "Of the two drugs," he said, "alcohol is probably the more disruptive when used to excess."

Roger Smith, who has set up a clinic in San Francisco, told the committee that, "As a result of this past summer's marijuana drought, many users are turning to other drugs." If Operation Intercept is successful, this pattern will increase, he said.

Hughes agreed with the witnesses that drug laws relating to users are overly punitive. "Excessively severe, almost sadistic, levels of punishment do not deter a young generation determined to turn on," Hughes told the committee. "We must guard against having punishment more damaging to society than the offense."

Hughes said he had told his 17-year old daughter that he hoped she would never smoke marijuana, but that if she decided to do so, "I hoped she'd tell me so that we could smoke it together."

Wexler's "Medium Cool" contains six plots

"MEDIUM COOL." Written - directed - photographed by Haskell Wexler. Released by Paramount Pictures.

"Medium Cool" is not the story of the Chicago Democratic fiasco of August, 1968.

Though Haskell Wexler spent that week in and about Chicago's Lincoln and Grant Parks—and he had another film crew inside the Convention Hall—the scenes shot there do not turn up in "Medium Cool" until about halfway through the third reel. What he chose to do instead was weave a loose story (containing no less than six sub-plots) around the activities going on in Mayor Daley's city while the Democrats were in town.

The basic story-line of "Medium Cool" is that of a newsman for a fictional television station in Chicago and his befriending of a young boy from one of the city's West Side Appalachian neighborhoods. The sub-plots (not necessarily in any order here or in the movie) concern the newsman's working life, his private life, the everyday life of the fatherless boy, the newsman's love affair with the boy's mother, the Convention itself, the Street Battle of Chicago and numerous other story lines, which, to mention them, would only add to the already existing confusion.

The previously mentioned central theme does not really surface until some 45 minutes into the film, and so the first one-third or so of "Medium Cool" is confusing. During this time, four or five of the sub-plots either begin to develop or are played out with the aid of rather suddenly appearing flashbacks into the young boy's life in the hills of West Virginia.

Throughout this portion of the film, however, the photography is superb.

The transition scene which leads "Medium Cool" into mid-August in Chicago and the events of the Convention is hilarious and perhaps tells the story of the Convention better than a few hours of film could ever do. It takes place at a National Guard Training Camp and was not staged for the benefit of Wexler's cameras.

It is, briefly, a look at the Army and the Chicago Police's Task Force preparing for the expected invasion of protesters into Chicago. Half of the soldiers and cops take off their uniforms and don wigs, make-up, ridiculous old clothes and parade around carrying posters and screaming obscenities. They "attack" the in-uniform members of their unit in the fashion they expect THEY will be attacked by the young people who are migrating to Chicago that week. Beer bellies and all, the "protesters" square off with their bayonet-armed pals, throw old tires and barricades into the path of police cars and army jeeps and just have themselves a rip-roaring afternoon of "training."

Finally, there is one scene in "Medium Cool" that will pass unnoticed by the viewer if he does not listen carefully.

It is perhaps the essence of what could have been a successful cinematic story. It comes when the Chicago Police have halted Dick Gregory's march on the Convention site, and when the marchers refuse to disperse, tear gas cannisters begin to fly. As Wexler moves in for a better camera angle, his sound-man yells something at him that can be just barely heard over the background confusion. As the clouds of tear gas begin to rise in the air, listen for these prophetic words: "Watch out, Haskell, it's real."

Junk Mail

Selective Service mail can be ruled obscene

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (CPS) — Roger Staples got fed up with junk mail cluttering his mailbox. So he took it to the post office, labeled it "obscene," and requested the post office not to deliver any more mail from the offending advertisers.

Though the local postmaster found this quite strange and refused to do what Staples asked, the Post Office Department's assistant general counsel ruled that the obscene mail law leaves the defining of "obscenity" squarely in the hands of the recipient. Said he: "Under the law, they (Recipients) can declare that an ad for a sack of potatoes looks sexy to them. And if they do, we're obliged to act." (i.e., refuse to deliver the mail.)

The ruling apparently includes obscene mail from the Selective Service System. (from Great Seckled Bird, Atlanta.)

It's the real thing.
Coke.

I amaze myself more every week. In the last edition I ended with a 17-3 mark. The score of the Quantico game at one point was exactly 31-7, but "Blurr" just had to tell everybody and that ruined it and the Spartans poured on the steam finally ending in the 45-19 score. I thought Auburn would have a tough time with the Gators but the Tiger defense was amazing. Nobody would believe me when I said that Pittsburg would upset Syracuse and Ole Miss would take LSU but ask "Lucci" - he's a believer now.

Here is a list of this week's games:

TAMPA vs NORTHERN MICHIGAN

The Spartans are in fine physical condition, with the exception of Bruce Brown, after last week's layoff. The Wildcats from Northern Michigan come into this their final game of the season with a 5-4 mark. One loss came at the hands of North Dakota State, the nation's No. 1 small college team, 28-14. The Quantico Marines also defeated the Wildcats 21-7, but as in all football, previous scores mean nothing. The Spartans will stay on the winning track.

Tampa 45 — Northern Michigan 14

AUBURN vs GEORGIA

Last weekend I was in Auburn, Alabama for Homecoming, and I've never seen such a defensive display as the Tigers limited Miss. State to 8 yards rushing, and intercepted 4 passes setting a new season interception mark of 30 in the SEC. After the ball game I spoke with some of the Auburn players and they want a bowl bid bad. I just hope they aren't looking past the Bulldogs to the Alabama game. I have to stay with the War Eagle - she's been good to me -

Auburn 28 — Georgia 7

Other selections: Stanford over Air Force. Alabama over Miami, Arkansas over Southern Methodist, Dartmouth over Cornell, Florida over Kentucky, Florida State over Memphis State, Kansas State over Nebraska, LSU over Miss. State, Missouri over Iowa State, Notre Dame over Georgia Tech, Ohio State over Purdue, Penn State over Maryland, Pittsburg over Army, Syracuse over Navy, Texas over Texas Christian, Tulane over Virginia, UCLA over Oregon and Ole' Miss upsets Tennessee.

Wrestling team opens season against Florida State Saturday

The University of Tampa wrestling team begins its 1969-70 season this Saturday at 1:00 p.m. at the George B. Howell Field House. Coach Jerry Espy, who graduated from Indiana State University, said that only 21 prospects signed up for the team, and since that time many have dropped out due to scholastic difficulties.

There are ten weight classes this year, and all except three will be manned by first year men. Two classes, the weights for 118 lb. and 177 lb. will have to be forfeited, since there is not even a freshman to fill these spots. Fletcher Carr, who is perhaps one of the best matmen in the country, will move to the 190 division this year and will not begin practice until the star center is finished with the current football campaign.

Louis Mancusi, who wrestled last season, and David Kelly, a "redshirted" football player, are the only experienced matmen for this opening match. The following are the weight classes which are wrestled and the men who will represent the University of Tampa: 118 lb., (forfeit); 126 lb., David Henly; 142 lb., Mike Moschitta; 150 lb., Phil Polizzotto; 158, Steve Burke; 167, Louis Mancusi; 177, (forfeit); 190, Mark Cantor; and Heavyweight, David Kelly. Both the 118 and 177 pound classes must be forfeited since no one has come to practice who can fill those classes.

Majors Club intramural football champions

The 1969 Intramural football season came to a close on Tuesday, November 11.

As the regular season ended, the Majors Club, of the dormitory league, took first place over Theta Chi fraternity, 14-0.

The runner-up play off was held at the Fair Grounds at 3:30 p.m. The championship game between the Majors Club and Theta Chi began at approximately 4:30 p.m. Competition was fierce in both games and a large crowd of spectators attended.

The finals for intramural horseshoes and tug of war were held this week and won by Bobby Gumrot.

In horseshoes, a final match between Gumrot and Espisito took place on an agreed date between the players.

The final competition for tug of war was held on Thursday, November 13, at 4:00 p.m. at Plant Field.

Handball match play began November 7 and will continue until Dec. 5, when the semi-finals and finals take place.

On Sunday, November 9, the Majors Club sponsored its first All Sports Day. Individual and team competition included horseshoes, badminton, archery, volleyball, and a small softball tournament.

All teams were organized for an afternoon of co-recreational fun.

The Sports Day was organized and directed by Bob Hanna. Individual and team winners will be announced at a later date.

Individual sports are up and coming for the intramural program. The individual sports for competition will include fencing, handball and table tennis.

Sign up also began for handball on October 20. Tournament match was posted and began November 3. Three participants from each organization were permitted to enter. Each game consisted of 21 points. All contests were decided by the best two out of three games.

Sign up for table tennis began November 3. Play begins November 17. There will be a limit of three players per organization. Winners will be decided by the best two out of three games per series. Each game will be played to 21 points.

"John Napier pauses during practice"

Hoopmen ready

The University of Tampa Basketball Spartans are preparing for their Dec. 1 season opener with a team that is stronger than last year's 15-11 squad.

Led by John Napier, second team Little All-American selection from last season, the Spartans play a tough small college schedule. Senior Lester Henley, although playing out front this season, also returns, along with 6'7" Roy Johnson, Jack Quealy, Doug Smith and Scott Miller.

New additions to the Spartan squad are a list of junior college players. These include Charlie Boes, Chip Nelson, Frank Robinson and Pat Biber.

Tampa opens its season on enemy territory, the first two games away, at Tulane University and on Dec. 2 at Loyola of New Orleans. The Spartans play such opponents this season as: University of Dayton, recent NIT champions, Rhode Island College from Providence who had a 24-2 record last year, and Georgetown College, who finished second in the NAIA tournament, and also Boston University.

Tampa goes for 7

The University of Tampa Spartans will attempt to make it seven in a row as they face Northern Michigan University on Saturday at 7 p.m. at Tampa Stadium.

Saturday is not only Homecoming but it also ends Spartan appreciation week, but the appreciation should not stop then.

The Wildcats from Northern Michigan are 5-4, losing to North Dakota State, the number one small college team in the country by a 28-14 score and they also lost to the Quantico Marines 21-7. However, those scores don't tell the true picture of the Wildcats.

According to Gil Heard, NMU's Sports Information Director, the Wildcats were injury-prone throughout the season and are now just coming into form.

Last season the Wildcats dropped a 22-19 decision to the Spartans, and

McQuay, DelGaizo, Most Valuable

Leon McQuay and Jim DelGaizo are the recipients of the Theta Chi Fraternity Most Valuable Player Award for the Wisconsin and Quantico games respectively.

McQuay, who set a Tampa Stadium record, averaged 18.7 yds. per carry, gained 150 yds. in 8 carries and two touchdowns.

DelGaizo, All American candidate led the Spartans of Tampa to its 6th straight victory. Against the Marines he ran his offense superbly.

An engraved plaque will be presented to each of these players along with an award for Bruce Brown for his performance in the Tulsa game. The plaques will be awarded during the Homecoming game with Northern Michigan.

the NMU coaches will be sure not to let the Wildcats forget it.

The Spartans, physically, are ready for the ball game with the exception of halfback Bruce Brown. After the Quantico 45-19 victory, the Spartans deserved last week's rest. Leon McQuay, though he gained only 48 yards, received the greatest compliment a running back could. Head Coach Fran Curci said of Leon that: "Leon played his best game since he's been here, he blocked like he should and did everything."

The real heroes of the Quantico game though, were the linemen for both the offense and defense. The defense who held the Marines to only 16 yards rushing consisted of Jim Roberts, Ronnie Cox, Steve Starnes, Willie Lee Jones, Bob Huber, Joe Kolinski and Ron Bouly.

Offensively, those who enabled Jim Del Gaizo to pass for 306 yards were John Mooring, Dick Nitinger, Fletcher Carr, Noah Jackson and Gary Myers.

Jim Del Gaizo has set two new Tampa career records; he has completed 98 passes for a total of 1,346 yards.

Northern Michigan has never beaten a Tampa team in three attempts. Following Saturday's game, the Spartans face California State of Los Angeles and Florida A & M.

Freshman oars to vie with vets

SPARTAN SPORTS by Larry Kutney

A crew race is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 14, at 4 p.m. on the race course beside Davis Island.

Freshman crew coach Mike Snellgrove will put his freshmen squad against the returning oarsmen from last season.

Snellgrove, who was an outstanding oarsman while an undergraduate at the University of Tampa, will draw from the following oarsmen who have been training diligently for the past few months: starboard (right) oarsmen, Larry Berlinger, Chris Conlan, Phil Englehardt, Duke Keegan, Mark Pasis, and Brad Stoner; port (left) oarsmen, John Anderson, George Cronin, Ned Chandler, Merrill Long, Walt Martin, Doug Reese, and Gene Steinberg; coxswains, Joe Hordosi and Don Lenteni.

According to Coach Snellgrove, much progress has been made since the first day of practice, and varsity coach Brad Wickersham feels many appear to be candidates for varsity or junior varsity positions in the spring.

More experience, though, may be needed to push returning oarsmen such as senior captain Bob Bailey, junior letterman, Tom Colucci or 6'5" Bob Baron out of their seats. There is also an outstanding group of dedicated sophomores from last year's freshman boat, with which to contend.

The University of Tampa has been noted throughout the years as having an outstanding crew team. These Spartans of the water compete with the best crew teams in the country but more help is needed. The freshman turnout of only 30 men for fall practice this year was the smallest in the past five years. More interested young men are needed to help, and not just freshmen, but also second, third and fourth year men are needed. No scholarships are offered at this time, but a man with good size and determination to be active in inter-collegiate competition are needed if the University of Tampa is to grow into a major university.

No previous experience is needed, just desire and determination to make your university the best. If you are scholastically able and are interested, contact Brad Wickersham or Mike Snellgrove at the U. of T. Athletic Department.
