Homecoming Preparations Underway; Starts November 17 with "Candida"

by Charles Robbins

With just a little more than two weeks until Homecoming, students, faculty and alumni are busy completing plans for the many events scheduled to begin on Thursday, November 17. On that date, the curtain will go up on the Drama Department's production of "Candida." Casting for the play has been completed and rehearsals have been under way for several weeks.

One of the highlights of events Friday evening will be the announcement of the Homecoming Queen in the university ballroom. The latest list of candidates for the honor includes the following members of the junior and senior class: Jerry Davis (Sigma Phi Epsilon); Marilyn Sollish (Pi Kappa Phi); Norma Lopez (Newman Club); Martha Thraikill (Tau Kappa Epsilon); Connie Felicione (Rho Nu Delta); Suzanne Harting (Tau Omega) and Nanette Nivens (Alpha Chi Omega). Also scheduled for Friday night is the President's reception, to be held in the lobby, and the fraternity skits, which will be held in the Dome Theater.

Members of the university's various sororities and fraternities are busy planning floats for the homecoming parade Saturday morning. The theme of the entries this year will be "Education — America's best Investment in the Future." Saturday afternoon will find the alumni meeting at the Tampa Terrace Hotel for a social hour and banquet, to be followed by the annual business meeting of the Alumni Association.

Football Game

The Homecoming football game Saturday night will put the high scoring Spartans against the Mountaineers of Appalachian State Teachers College. Following the game, Claud Thornhill's orchestra will provide the music for the Homecoming dance at Ft. Homer Hesterly from 10:00 P.M. 'til 2:00 A.M., bringing to a close Homecoming 1955.

An interesting sidelight to this year's homecoming celebration is the release of the book "The Story of the Tampa University." The 200 page history of the university, started by the late Dr. Herbert Laub and completed by Dr. Covington, is expected to be off the press before Homecoming.

Dr. Nance and Party Attend Opening of Cuban School

Doctor Nance flew to Cuba this past week for the inauguration of the Technical Aircraft School at San Julian Air Base. He was accompanied by Mrs. Nance, Dean Burnside, Dean King and her husband, and Mrs. Johnnie Pate, Assistant Treasurer.

The inauguration was attended by President Batista of Cuba, United States Ambassador Arthur Gardner, and high ranking Cuban civil and military authorities, as well as members of the diplomatic corps. These officials flew from Havana in a fleet of airplanes.

The Technical Aircraft School is staffed with 10 Cuban instructors and 5 technicians furnished by the University of

FULGENCIO BATISTA

Tampa under the United States Point Four Program. The University of Tampa had been designated as consultant for this project.

San Julian Air Base was a United States Naval Base during World War II. It is located 130 miles southwest of Havana. Over $300,000 has been spent for improvements to prepare the School to train Aviation Mechanics and Technicians. The initial class started with an enrollment of 90 students.

The principal speech at the inauguration was delivered by President Batista, who paid tribute to the coordinated efforts of the United States and Cuba in this fine new educational establishment.

University Amateur Radio Station Maintains Schedule

The university amateur radio station, K4CCP, is now maintaining a regular schedule, with first priority given to communication with the University of Tampa branch at San Julian, Cuba. The station goes on the air each day, except Saturday and Sunday, at 1 P.M. After completing scheduled messages to any point by communicating with other amateur stations.

Station K4CCP is set up in Room 307, and anyone desiring to send a message should call there after 1 P.M. Professor Roberts, who is in charge of the station, states that there is no charge for students sending messages back home.

PI KAPPA PHI AND SIG EPS RECEIVE 21 OUT OF 37 MEN

Reporter Clears Up Question of New Text Books

by Jack Windt

Since the beginning of the semester there has been much discussion around school, as to why there are so many new text books.

"How come when we sell our used books we don't get even a small percentage of the price we bought them for?"

"Why is it that used textbooks are few and far between?"

First is, that in many fields such as the sciences and in business there are constant advances.

In sciences we are constantly aware of the new discoveries, new methods and inventions, certain laws and theories become disproved or revised. A text book that may have been printed just yesterday may become obsolete by a discovery made today. So naturally, a book a few years old, consequently, would be ridiculous to study from, if the information in it is incorrect, hence we must get a latter edition.

The same is true in the business field. New laws and acts of Congress certainly have their effects on business practices. Such as taxation, labor problems, industrial and trade relations, so again text books of last semester may become useless and obsolete today.

However, in certain classes such as mathematics, history, English, education, and the languages, there is less change in the texts. This is due to the fact that these subjects are static, or changes come about slower than the others.

If an instructor desires to change a text, he must give the book store one semester notice. The instructor, in most cases, is the sole judge of the changing of the text of his subject. If he is introduced to a text that he sees has had more investigation and research, done by it's author, and that it is easier to digest by the students, certainly he will order it.

Therefore, we the students, should be more analytical in our comments and understand that there is a reason for these changes. They are to keep us abreast and up to date in our respective fields of study.

Letters From Colonel Spartan of the University

Constructive Criticism

"Some students of the University open their big mouth at the wrong time." Most all of you have heard this phrase one time or another.

We think that this sentence fits a few of the attending knowledge seekers, here at the University of Tampa. For instance, the cheerleaders seem to be the center of criticism from this "few." One instance in particular is Bill Jackson, University freshman who is the University correspondent for the Tampa Daily Times. In his column of this past week Jackson states, "Memo to cheerleaders, drop some of those high school yells." When one of the co-head cheerleaders asked Jackson for some constructive criticism about their cheerleading, this freshman came back with the brilliant statement, "Well, I don't know, that's not my line."

Freedom of the press, brings responsibility of the press. It seems like "Solid Jackson" would present his case in a manner that is becoming of a University student. If not, we ask that he and all others like him, keep their derogatory thoughts and remarks to themselves.

Patriotism - What Is It?

Armistice Day is November 11.

Patriotic holidays give editorial writers a subject, but it also provides a time for us to remember our American heritage. How many have given their life's blood so that we may be "free."

And what is freedom? We have had freedom all our lives. We take it for granted, to much for granted. We forget the men from Valley Forge to Heartbreak Ridge; the men who had hopes and dreams and plans just like we have, and who gave their lives that we might enjoy the fruits of freedom.

Freedom is the right to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." It is the privilege of choosing the college we want to attend, of going to the church of our choice or not going at all. It is the privilege of choosing where we will live and work and play.

Armistice Day is a time of memories; sad memories for the veterans of many campaigns who have seen their friends die, and happy memories for those of us who live to enjoy these blood-bought privileges.

On Armistice Day wreaths are placed at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. He has no name; he needs none. He represents each man who gave his life in the cause of freedom.

What is freedom worth to us. Is it worth sacrificing and perhaps dying for? Or are we, the American people getting soft from our many blessings?

Each of us has a part in preserving freedom. As long as there is hate and injustice in our land freedom is not complete. Every American has a part to play in preserving liberty. It may be a matter of going to the polls on election day or seeing that a weaker neighbor gets fair play.

As we remember the price of liberty on this Armistice Day, let us rededicate ourselves to the cause for which they died.

If a woman has . . . well, needless to say the women on Jupiter are probably very different.

So you see it is quite possible that man will find something new to play with, and ruin, although it is doubtful that he could do a better job than he has right here at home. Now if you find it hard to follow the reasoning behind this, just remember that if your wife was in a family way, you'd probably lose your continuity too, which brings up another problem of this space minded modern world. Is it possible for man to give up his pleasures long enough to hunt for new ones?

I would say yes, if the drive was strong enough, although many a man is thoroughly satisfied, whereas some of the women are not, and it follows that if the women on Jupiter are so different, the men on Mercury are probably pretty hot stuff too. Anyway it's debatable whether or not anything human lives on earth, let alone any of the other nine planets.

Let it suffice to say that if you're lost after reading this, think how it would be to listen to a four-headed Plutonian with six mouths, eight tongues and more appendages than you can count, and who wants to count them anyway, because their system of numbers is based on sex instead of ten, and who can count that way and . . .

W. Bruce Banks

The Razor's Edge

What Will Other Worlds Think of the Earth

The star on which your wagon is hitched may very well be a planet. Surprising? Not so at all. Already the world is ready to take the first step into space, and into the vast realms of the unknown. When man does make this gigantic move, he will take with him a great heritage. Murder, war, rape, incest, jealousy, hate and a whole host of other such beautiful records will go with him to meet the universe.

Doesn't it seem the least bit strange that we should be so ready to look for new worlds to corrupt, when ours is in such a poor state? Perhaps, but it rather looks like man is about to give up with the earth, and look for dirtier pastures to gambel in. He has discovered all the dirty, rotten sins he can on this small planet, and now he goes into infinity, not to redeem himself, but to find new, more elating, sensuous and violent pleasures.

If a man has one mouth to lie with and lies, he could probably lie twice as much with two mouths. On Venus there may be men with two mouths.

If a man has two hands with which to strangle, he could strangle twice as many people with four hands. On Mars there may be men with four hands.

Education Week to

be Observed Here

Next Week

by Kenny Craft

American Education Week will be observed November 6-12 this year.

A student assembly will be held on the 8th of November. The program will include a talent show.

The university is expecting a guest speaker but at present his name has not been announced.

The chairman of the American Education Week committee for Hillsborough County Education Association, Lucille W. Brescia and Mr. J. Crockett Farnell, Superintendent, Hillsborough County Public School System, points out that American Education Week is not a separate project, but a joint program, sponsored by the American Legion, the National Education Association, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers The United States Office of Education and other organizations.

During American Education Week alumni officers are expected to assist in inviting and managing guided tours through the University for our Alumni and townspeople.

Letters To The Editor:

Dear Sir;

I would like to toss a few bouquets to Bill Kirby and Bruce Banks. Mr. Kirby is doing an excellent job with the sports department of the Minaret. Mr. Banks is doing an equally fine job of journalistic philosophy on a college student level. But a few brickbats are in order too. Any self respecting High School newspaper would rather cut its budget than print such 'stuff' (for want of a more indelicate word) as Klutcher Korner Revealin's; The Wart; and Louall Says. The folks who write these articles are probably very nice despite their misguided form of expression.

Please Mr. Editor, guide them into the paths of righteousness. If I may paraphrase the words of a contemporary of mine, Mr. William Heirens, the noted sex maniac, "Please, somebody stop them before they write more!"

A Crank,
Douglas Dee

Dear Sirs:

As a new student I was surprised and disgusted at the vituperative and vulgar remarks in your editorial entitled "Wise up you students." I have seen this group leave your name in many school publications but I have never seen printed a re-

"diarrhea-mouth students."

The remarks in that editorial were definitely tending towards yellow journalism. I had expected that the Minaret would editorialize on a higher plane.

Those remarks which you used were undignified, ungentlemanly, and what is even worse — ungrammatical!

Wis up you editors!

Maid of Cotton To Receive 1956 Ford

Memphis, Tenn. — (Special) — A gleaming new Ford convertible will be awaiting the 1956 Maid of Cotton when she returns here at the end of her six-month international tour next summer, the National Cotton Council announced today.

Judge J. C. Johnson, West Memphis, Ark., president of the Memphis District Ford Dealers Advertising Committee, has revealed that the dealer group will present the automobile to the cotton industry's fashion and good will ambassador.

The 1956 Maid of Cotton will be the tenth to be honored by the Ford dealers' group. The 1947 Maid of Cotton, Hilma Seay, was the first to be recognized. Judge Johnson said that presentation of the car symbolizes the close working relationship between the cotton and automotive industries. The automobile industry is one of the largest consumer of cotton.

When contest finals are held here December 28, the girl who is selected for the coveted title will receive a certificate of presentation and keys to her automobile. At the conclusion of her tour next summer, she will return to Memphis for a formal presentation of the car itself.

The contest is now under way to choose the young lady who will serve the cotton industry as its eighteenth fashion and good will representative. Any girl born in a cotton-producing state who is between the ages of 19-25, who has never been married, and who is at least 5 feet 5 inches tall is eligible to enter.

Entry forms and complete information are available from the National Cotton Council, P.O. Box 9905, Memphis 12, Tennessee. All entries must be completed and returned postmarked no later than midnight December 1. Each entry must be accompanied by two recent photographs, one a head and shoulders portrait-type picture and the other, full length.

Mr. Penny, the pompous and parsimonious president of the Buzzright Easypencil Company, was boiling made at some of the things that had been going on in the office. This was a usual state of affairs and he did what he usually did—stay-late and wrote a message to all employees. Rather than dictate it to his secretary, who was one of the culprits, he wrote it out in longhand with his own Easypencil. And, as many times before, he tacked it conspicuously on the bulletin board. As luck would have it, the first one in the morning was the office prankster, who promptly took his Easyraser and rubbed out certain key letters. The employees read the bulletin all right, and were able to understand its import. Can you do the same?

"Candida" to be Presented Week of Homecoming

What happens when a pastor vies with a brash young poet for the love of a young British girl? This is the very amusing situation that arises in "Candida," a comedy by George Bernard Shaw, which will be presented by the Drama Department on Thursday, November 17, in the Dome Theater.

Diane Bidwell, well known for her excellent performances in "Pink Ribbon" and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" last season, has been selected for the title role. Phillip Swain will play the part of Morell, the very respectable, and very human, pastor. Marchbanks, a love-stricken young poet who has a singular talent for disrupting Morell's well organized life, will be portrayed by Bryan Webb. The strong supporting cast is composed of Carmen Wright, Robert Newman and James Gallagher.

Mrs. Frances Allen, director of the play, stated that "Candida" is Shaw at his best.

"Each role is a challenge," she said, "and I know that the members of our cast have the ability to meet this challenge."

Those who saw last year's productions, "Our Town," "Pink Ribbon" and "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," will readily agree that our student-actors have the ability to give fine performances. This ability, combined with the writings of Shaw and Mrs. Allen's able directing, promises to provide an evening of excellent entertainment.

Students State Views On School Insurance

by Mary and Micki

We have all read the explanation of the insurance policy that was published in the last edition of the Minaret. Now let's see what the students have to say about it.

Clark Davis, Frosh: Don't quote me. Why? Because I got bawled out in church about it and I can't speak now.

Silvio Alvarez, Jr.: I still think it stinks. I don't think it covers much.

Rita Jackson, Jr.: I don't think it's worth $7. I could put the $7 to some other use which would benefit me more.

Frank Wolf, Frosh: It costs too much money and the majority of the students won't ever need it.

Jack Carew, Sr.: From looking at the school's physical aspects I think it is a very good thing.

Bryan Webb, Sr.: Considering the fact I've been sick all my life, I consider myself a very poor risk, but after all life is dangerous — it kills everyone who tries it.

Ida Felicione, Soph: It is good if something happens to you but I hated to pay $7.

Kay Clements, Jr.: Everyone should have some type of insurance. It is probably the greatest thing we've ever had and we just aren't intelligent enough to realize it.

Nello Rimoldi, Jr.: It doesn't concern me whatsoever. I don't have to pay for it — thanks to my athletic scholarship.

Celestino Miranda, Jr.: I think it is a very good deal as far as it goes. I think the students will benefit very much.

Jo Ann Cliff, Sr.: From what I've heard I don't think it is very effective. If it were a good plan I think it would be ideal for every student to have.

Joan Jones, Frosh: I think it is very good because most students do not have enough money to take out insurance and this helps because it is so cheap.

Lynn Ceval, Frosh: It is very good for those who do not have other insurance policies.

Sally Lou Correll, Soph: It will be beneficial to the student body if they have a thorough understanding and can take advantage of it.

Jane Bradley, Frosh: I think it is an excellent idea. The students have been putting up such gripes that they have not taken the time to discover the advantages of it.

Answer to Oct. 20th Bonanzagram

WELL, YOU CERTAINLY SKIPPED OUT JUST IN TIME. THIS MOB TODAY WAS NOT TO BE SNEEZED AT. WHAT A SALE! CROWDS HUSTLED IN LIKE RAGING HORDES. THEY ROAMED ALL OVER—EVEN BROKE OUR CASEMENT WINDOWS. THERE WERE BATTLES EVERYWHERE. A GRIM OLD HAG GRABBED THE LAST TOASTER FROM A BURLY MAN. A BRAWLING BRAT POUNCED ON EVERYTHING, PLAYED AROUND THE COUNTERS, SEIZED A GRILL AND DAMAGED THE WORKS. I GOT HIT ON THE HIP WITH A FRYING PAN AND AM FEELING PRETTY RAGGED. OH BOY! IT'S GOOD TO RELAX. THE BEST TO YOU.

"A" Hungary Students Site Views on Favorite Subject

by Earl Cambas

What's Your Favorite Subject? "Why?"

Hello. For the last few days I have been pacing up and down these halls of our dear Alma Mater trying to find out what classes different students like the most. After wearing out two pair of shoes, I finally got these students to give me their favorite subjects — and why. Maybe YOU agree with some of them. Let's see . . .

Don Montgomery, Sophomore: "Sociology—because it deals with human events; everyday occurrences in a complex society such as ours."

Crazy Records

Bernadine Becker, Sophomore: "Music — the juke-box plays such crazy records."

Dalia Rose Lopez: "Lobby — You get to relax."

Dolores Rubio, Sophomore: "Chorus — Professor Wiltse is so nice."

Eugen Temlin, Freshman: "Oh I don't know."

Mary Rose Scarcella, Sophomore: "Band — I like music and marching very much."

Bob Hutchison, Junior: "Coffee-break — I meet all my Sig-Ep brothers in the Spartan room."

Oh, yes, Dick Cole added "And to think I dropped Dr. Thompson's class."

Well, there they are. Do you agree with most of them? If not, maybe you should try making out a new schedule.

Dr. Beiser Scores

Joan Jones, Freshman: "History — Dr. Beiser knows so much about it that he must have been around for a million years or so."

Gonzalo Rodriguez, Sophomore: "Harmony—I'm finding out how much I don't know about music."

Nick Nichols, Sophomore: "Art — It brings out my creative ability!"

Barbara Harding, Sophomore: "Food — It's the only thing that'll keep me quiet."

Dr. Thompson, English Professor: "The fair sex — I don't need a reason, any gentleman would say the same."

Jeanette Maniscalco, Sophomore: "English — That Dr. MacFadyen is the most."

Larry Theriault, Junior: "Categories — Tip-it, Buzz-fizz-buzz, and The Prince of Wales."

Dick Cole, Senior: "Sig-Ep parties — Sig-Ep choral lessons."

Edison Merritt: "I agree with Dr. Thompson and Dick Cole."

SINGING TRAVELER—Vocalist Micki Marlo is featured on Steve Allen's NBC-TV show "Tonight." She has been making frequent trips between Hollywood, where "Tonight" is originating for the Summer, and her East Coast night-club dates.

A man cannot command greater respect from his neighbors than he accords himself.

Work is something that when we have it we wish we didn't; when we don't have it we wish we did, and the object of it is to be able to afford not to some day.

The Old Bach says he didn't believe in flying saucers until he flirted with the waitress.

Bob Swirbul, Sophomore: "Physical Science — The experiments are so complicated; they tax the mind."

Pat Bullard: "Nutrition — the kind I get in the snack-bar."

Danforth Trust Fund Open to Students

The Danforth Foundation, an educational trust fund in St. Louis, Missouri, invites applications for the fifth class (1956) of Danforth Graduate Fellows from college senior men and recent graduates who are preparing themselves for a career of college teaching, and are planning to enter graduate school in September, 1956, for their first year of graduate study. The Foundation welcomes applicants from the areas of Natural and Biological Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities and all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

President Nance has named Dean Rhodes as the Liaison Officer to nominate to the Danforth Foundation two or not to exceed three candidates for these fellowships. These appointments are fundamentally "a relationship of encouragement" throughout the years of graduate study, carrying a promise of financial aid within prescribed conditions as there may be need. The maximum annual grant for single Fellows is $100; for married Fellows, $2400 with an additional stipend for children. Students with or without financial need are invited to apply.

All applications, including the recommendations, must be completed by February 15, 1956. Any student wishing further information should get in touch with Dean Rhodes, our Liaison Officer.

University Story to be Released Homecoming

The story of the University of Tampa has very good possibilities of being presented for sale the week of Homecoming according to Dr. Covington.

"I am making every effort to have 'The Story of The University of Tampa' ready for sale by Homecoming week," said Dr. James W. Covington, the author.

A brief survey of the proofs of the story indicates a tremendous amount of research on the part of the author. In this connection Dr. Covington expressed his appreciation to Dr. Alan Stuckey, professor of history, the first graduate of the University of Tampa, Miller K. Adams, acting professor of physical education, and to those members of the board of trustees who so generously permitted the use of their papers pertaining to the university.

The book will be handsomely bound, consisting of some 200 pages, and 800 copies will be printed as the first edition. The story of the University of Tampa is realistically presented by the author. The many trials and tribulations that have best the university from its beginning are interestingly told, but with frankness, and without bias. In addition to the story, a list of all graduates and the students presently enrolled in the university will be included in the book.

Like many books, there is also a story behind Dr. Covington's book. The idea for "The Story of The Tampa University" originated with the late Dr. C. Herbert Laub, former head of the department of history. After his death, his notes on the subject were correlated and brought up to date by Dr. Covington. The author has dedicated the completed story to the memory of his esteemed and respected former colleague—Dr. C. Herbert Laub—Gentleman of History.

Would Stetson-Tampa Game Keep Fan Appeal . . .

Should Tampa continue to schedule the Stetson Hatters? We wonder just how long such a "farce" would attract the large crowds that some people seem to think would attend the games.

Many would like to see the Spartans continue to play the Hatters, solely because of the "drawing" power of such a rivalry. However, the approximately 4000 fans who say the Spartans stomp Stetson, 40-13, in DeLand in their last meeting, is a far cry from the 7500 who attended the Spartan-Hatter game in the Tangerine Bowl in 1953.

Also, it is a few below the estimated 8000 who witnessed the 1954 massacre here in which Tampa won, 64-9.

How long would a fan, even the most ardent Tampa supporter, attend such a rivalry if Stetson was a sure victim?

In moving up the football ladder, Tampa must cast aside its bonds with teams of lower caliber. It must schedule teams that will furnish a good battle on the grid. Fans, including alumni, want to see a god ball game.

Don't Mention This, But . . .

Tampa's basketball program, with new coach Gene Biittner at the helm, is well underway. The cage candidates will complete three weeks of fundamental drills this weekend.

Few of us care to remember Tampa's record of last year when the Sparants won only two games in 20. But Coach Biittner, who succeeds assistant football mentor Sam Bailey as cage coach, expects the Spartans to be a much improved ball club this season.

It is hard to diagnose last year's team, but with a full-time coach on the job, maybe the Spartans are on the right track at last. At least, it is hoped so.

Sam, we all understand, was unable to devote his complete attention to the basketball team at the crucial or forming stage of the season since his football line coaching duties kept him busy until late in December. With Gene on the scene from beginning to end, it should be much different.

Tampa has a wealth of potential players on hand this season including veteran All-Stater Howie Bernstein who had a 21-point average game last year. Also returning are Bill Bosworth, Bobby Bryan and Wiley Carnes, to mention a few.

Tampa may, or may not, have a gym built this year. But at least the heads are thinking about it and that is a good sign. Tampa could certainly use one. However, Phillips Field is not the place to build it.

A gym should be easily accessible to students for intramurals, etc., as well as to the basketball team. A gym at Phillips Field would almost require transportation to and from it and chances are it wouldn't be used more than once or twice a week at the most.

Wonder if it couldn't be located closer to the campus?

Top Crew Teams May Vie Here . . .

Bill Stalnaker, coach of the Spartan crew, hopes to bring two of the nation's top crews here next spring. "Yale and Wisconsin are both interested in meeting the Spartans here," he said in a conversation a couple of days ago.

Bill expects most of his varsity crew to be made up of members of the junior varsity team of last year which won the state title, since many of the Spartans' top oarsmen have graduated.

Today's best should be tomorrow's starting point.

Spartans Off On Last Road Trip of Season

Tampa After 5th Win in East Carolina Clash Saturday

by Bill Kirby
Sports Editor

Bullet Bill Minahan, Tom "Spook" Spack, Don Herndon, et al, make their final road trip of the season this weekend, traveling to Greenville, N. C., to play the East Carolina Pirates.

The Spartans hope to enrich their grid standing at the expense of the Pirates who lost last year to Tampa, 27-14, and 18-13 in 1953.

Tampa, whose reserves have seen nearly as much action as the regulars this season, has won four games while losing only one and is heavily favored over the East Carolina eleven.

Bullet Bill, a capable quarterback who has led the Tampa offense for four years, has connected for five touchdowns and 28 completions in 54 attempts for yardage amounting to 442 yards. He is expected to be in his usual role as chief signal caller, at least for the first quarter. After that, his understudies, Fred Girgis and Jerry Thomas, may get into the action.

Herndon, holder of the scoring and rushing lead who has Intramurals are off to a big start. The first activity is volleyball. All sororities have joined, also two freshmen teams and an independent team. Any girls interested in joining WAA see Mrs. Yvars.

Judging from the way some folks drive, if the road turns the same time they do, it's a coincidence.

It's a pleasant thought that when you help a fellow up a steep hill, you get nearer the top yourself.

made 36 points and reeled off 337 yards for a 13.6 average per carry, will be at one halfback position with "Spooky" on the other side. "Spook" has done right well with 205 yards gained in 29 tries for an eight-yard average. Look for Jack Mackie at fullback.

The line, as usual, will be anchored by tri-captains Bob Lovely, a tackle, Ted Greene, center, and Tom Mahin, tackle. Other starters will probably be Bill Sefcik and Dickie Harte, ends; Ed Ruray and Bill Post, guards.

The Spartans latest victory was a 51-7 trouncing of Livingston, Ala. Herndon scored three TD's, Ken Nuznoff two, Spack one, Sefcik one, and Charles Coleman one. Greene kicked two extra points and Billy Nuznoff made the other. Sefcik's touchdown and one of Herndon's was on passes from Minahan.

Meet Your Spartan Warriors - -

by Phil Rotolo

Ed Duray, senior, from Cleveland, Ohio, is a guard who has been with the Spartans for three years. Ed is one of the versatile players on the Spartan squad. In 1952 he was a hard-running fullback who broke the opposition's line all year and piled up yardage. The following year he was moved to the center post where he did a bang-up job.

After laying off one year because of an injury, Ed was on the road to comeback. There was much work to be done, getting in shape, working on his timing, and learning his new position as guard. Now a senior, he has stepped into one of the guard slots vacated by Nick Waytovich and Joe Zalupski and he is doing a tremendous job. Ed is capable of playing 60 minute football, as he proved when he played all but two plays in the Southeastern Louisiana game. Ed is an above average student and is majoring in Physical Education.

An informal soccer team has been formed at the University of Tampa. At present eighteen students are trying out for the team.

No Wage "Ceiling" on Korean G I Bill

There is no such "ceiling" for veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill. However, there is one for Korea veterans taking on-the-job training. Under this ceiling, when a veteran's on-the-job training wages, plus his GI allowance, exceed $310 a month, VA scales down the allowance accordingly, to bring the total within the $310 limit.

Starting allowances for Korean GI on-the-job trainees are $70 a month with no dependents; $95 with one, and $105 with more than one dependent. The law requires that these rates be reduced at four-month intervals, as training progresses and veterans' earning abilities increase.

The rates for veterans in school full-time with no dependents; $135 with one dependent, and $160 with more than one dependent. VA said no ceiling applies to outside earnings for these veterans.
