Oratorio Displays Fine Musicianship

"The Creation" Scores Success as Outstanding On Tampa U. Program

In an interpretation that pleased a critical audience, the University of Tampa's mixed chorus and symphony orchestra told the story of "The Creation," in Joseph Haydn's oratorio in the municipal auditorium last night.

Responding to the baton of Prof. Lyman Wiltse, music director at the university, the chorus and the orchestra caught the spirit of the first dramatic words of the book of Genesis, and carried it through the numerous solo, trio and chorus selections.

Story Gains Enthusiasm

After the introduction, representing chaos, and the sombre tones of the opening words, "In the Beginning," the story gained enthusiasm with an increasing tempo as the creation advanced, until the final note of the recitatives, "And God Created Man," and "And God Saw Everything That He Had Made" were sung in a spirit of victorious triumph.

Excellence of training and fine musicianship were evidenced by the singers and the accompanying orchestra, both displaying mastery of difficult crescendo passages, handling the shadings with accuracy.

A feature was the solo selections, with Miss Daisy Lewis, who previously had starred in a comedy role in a university production, showing versatility by presenting equal ability in the serious role of a religious oratorio. Miss Lewis and Olive Beebe sang the soprano parts as Gabriel, both with clarity of tonal quality.

Trusler Opens Solos

John Trusler, outstanding in Tampa U.'s music department, opened the solo numbers in the role of Raphael with the first number, "In the Beginning," the sombre baritone notes rolling through the house. After lighter tenor and soprano solos, he struck a note of gentler subtlety in the slower moving "Rolling in Foaming Billows."

William Fricke, in the tenor role of Uriel, showed a sustained quality that lifted the oratorio to dramatic heights, and Bond Giles, in the same role, late in the program, displayed good volume, control and tonal quality.

Miss Mary Haverstick at the piano gave the soloists excellent support.

Quill Club Names Four New Members; Makes Muezzin Plans

New members of the Quill club announced yesterday are Mary Borelli, Ruth Morgan, Evelyn Fernandez and Paul Byars. The four were selected on merits of literary work submitted for the consideration of the group.

The club has set May 1 as a deadline for submission of material for the Muezzin, yearly literary magazine of the university, which will be published early in May. Price of the book will be 25 cents.

The club will hold a food sale next Thursday in the lobby.

Three From Tampa U. To Attend Convention

Dr. Mooney, Dean Sanford and Professor Leinbach will attend the eighth annual convention of the Florida Association of Colleges and Universities being held at West Palm Beach Junior college today and tomorrow.

Dr. Mooney is scheduled to lead the discussion on "Guidance" at the afternoon session, which will follow the talk on "The Internship Program," given by Milton W. Carothers, of the state department of education.

Dean Sanford is a member of the executive committee.

Band Frat Goes National

Named Alpha Sigma Chapter of K. K. Psi, Installation May 11

The Alpha Sigma chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity, will be installed at the University May 11, it was announced today by Arthur Burrows, vice president of the local group, bringing the total of national organizations at the university to three.

Known as Phi Alpha up to the present, the Tampa group, composed of 21 boys outstanding in band work, has sought entrance into the national fraternity for a year. Word was received yesterday from the national grand president, Francis R. Todd, of their admission. He will be here for the installation which will be held on the afternoon of May 11 at the American Hellenic center.

Mrs. Cortina Is Speaker at Faculty Women's Meeting

Mrs. Mary Gill Cortina spoke on "Our Relations at Home With Our Latin American Friends" at the final meeting of the Faculty Women's club of the University of Tampa at the home of Mrs. James E. Mooney.

She suggested ways in which Latin American friendship could be fostered by club women and urged continuation of the neighborly relations after the Pan-American conference ends this week.

Mrs. Louise Hunter presided at the installation of new officers, who are: Mrs. James E. Mooney, president; Mrs. Daniel Sanford, vice president; Mrs. W. B. Phelps, recording secretary; Mrs. D. D. Bode, treasurer, and Mrs. J. N. Leinbach, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. W. F. Miller expressed the appreciation of the group to the retiring president, Mrs. Guy Becknell, and other officers, Dr. M. B. Denton, Mrs. Porter B. McLendon, Mrs. D. D. Bode and Mrs. Jesse Keene. Dr. Denton and Mrs. Becknell were elected members of the board of directors.

Reading Clinic Set For Summer Session

The summer school catalog announcing the summer program of classes will be off the press in about a week.

Several new courses, among them a special reading clinic and a course in audio-visual education, will be offered. The reading clinic is limited to children and is designed to test them diagnostically.

The audio-visual course will treat the teaching of subjects by means of movies, phonograph, field trips, motionoscope, ophthalmograph and the telebinocular. Mrs. Edna Hodges will teach these two courses.

Nice Girl: "If I had been offered a dish with two apples on it, I would have taken the smaller one."

Brandenberger: "Well, you've got it; so what are you hollering about?"

Heads T. O.'S

Jacob Dunn

Jacob Dunn Heads Tau Omega Frat; Other Officers Named

Jacob Dunn, senior from Savannah, Ga., was elected president of the Tau Omega fraternity at a meeting last Tuesday.

Other officers are Jimmy Whitehead, vice president; Glenn McRae, recording secretary; Walter Shiver, treasurer; Charles Slocum, corresponding secretary; Henry Vest, parliamentarian, and Tany Kolka, sergeant-at-arms.

Installation of the new officers will be held at the next meeting.

Dr. Berry Will Speak At I. R. C. Meeting at State Park Tuesday

The International Relations club will hold its bi-monthly meeting Tuesday at the Hillsborough State park. Members plan to have a party parallel with the meeting in which Dr. Berry will be the main speaker.

After refreshments are served the group will have games and other social activities which will be climaxed by Dr. Berry's informal talk on ancient politics as compared with present day governmental institutions. He will compare Plato's prize politician, Aristotle, and the American filibuster, Alice Lee Sewell and R. B. Fordyce are in charge.

Last Tuesday the I. R. C. presented a successful round table discussion to the Woodrow Wilson junior high school. The subject covered possibilities of Nazi aggression and future co-operative development in South America. These round table discussions will probably be continued in other schools in Hillsborough county.

Student Conductors Scheduled for Final Concert on Sunday

Frances Alderman, Jack Williams, Arthur Burrows and Alton Rine will be assistant conductors at the last seasonal band concert Sunday at 3 o'clock in Plant Park. The band also will present the new Army Air Corps March, the official song of the United States Army Air Corps.

Selections to be played and the conductors are: Overture—Morning, Noon and Night (Von Suppe) conducted by Frances Alderman; Selection (Faust) conducted by Jack Williams; Waltz—Gold and Silver (Franz Lehar) conducted by Arthur Burrows.

Hungarian Fantasia (Tobani) conducted by Alton Rine; Army Air Corps March (Crawford), Country Gardens (Granger), Furiant from The Bartered Bride (Smetana), and Pomp and Circumstance No. 1 (Elgar) conducted by Lyman Wiltse. The band will close the concert with the "Star Spangled Banner."

Classes Will Elect Chief Executives

Porch Frolics To Be May 8

Music Fraternity's Big Annual Event to Present New Features This Year

The annual Front Porch Frolics and May Festival sponsored by Phi Alpha music fraternity, will be held May 8.

Carnival booths, dancing and a program of entertainment will provide amusement during the evening.

The affair will be held on the University front porch, with seats arranged in the park, using the porch as a stage.

Highlight of the frolics will be the crowning of the May Queen and the presentation of her court. The queen will be elected by popular vote of the student body and her identity will be kept secret until the night of the Frolics.

Nominations and election of the queen and her court will be held in assembly next Tuesday.

After the program of entertainment and the coronation, the porch will be cleared for dancing.

Tampa U. To Sponsor Excursion to Havana At End of Semester

The University of Tampa will sponsor a 10-day excursion and tour of Cuba beginning the second or third week of June, comprising two overnight boat trips by way of Key West, and elaborate entertainment while on the island.

Twenty-five students of the university Spanish classes have already signed up for the trip, and all those interested are invited to go. Students from other Florida colleges are also being invited. The group will be headed by Mrs. Mary Gil Cortina.

Exact prices have not yet been decided, but Mrs. Cortina announced that the larger the group, the less expensive will be the trip. By May 1, however, the probable schedule and other information will be posted.

Students who think they may be able to go are urged to look up their birth certificates. The Cuban government does not require them for entrance but the United States government does require them for re-entrance into the country.

Dance, Orchestra Recital Will Be Presented May 1

Students of the dance are hard at work rehearsing for their part in the second annual Creative Dance and Orchestra recital to be given May 13. This program consists of numbers played by the orchestra of the university and dance numbers by students of Miss Moffatt's dancing classes.

Miss Mary Haverstick will play the "E Flat Piano Concerto," by Liszt and the orchestra will present the "Overture to the Marriage of Figaro," by Mozart.

Dance numbers directed by Miss Ruth Moffatt include "Song of the Bayou," "Pavanne," "Dance of the Reed Flutes," a waltz, and a number of sports solos.

LOST—SPORT COAT

A blue herringbone sport, size 40, was left in the University lobby during the dance Saturday night. Anyone who knows where it is, is requested to notify Bob Thomas.

Prexies for Council, Upper Classes To Be Chosen May 7

The University of Tampa students will elect a student council president for 1942 one week from Wednesday in a general election. At the same time members of the present freshman, sophomore and junior classes will elect presidents of the three upper classes for the coming year.

Petitions must be turned in to the election committee on the Monday preceding the election day. All nominations made must bear the signatures of one tenth of the members of the electing body. No voter's signature may appear on more than one petition for the same office, and if such duplication should occur, the duplications will be stricken from both petitions.

Qualifications

Those interested in running for office must have an average of 1-quality quotient in all college work and must be carrying at least 12 hours at the time of nominations. They must carry at least 12 hours to continue to hold office.

The president of the student body must have been a student from the beginning of the fall term of the year in which such nomination is made and must be a member of the Senior class while holding office. No student shall be nominated for, or hold more than one student body office at the same time.

Candidates Will Speak

A special student assembly will be held the Tuesday before the elections on Wednesday, when all candidates for president will speak.

Petitions may be secured from the bookstore on Monday, and must be filled out and returned to the Dean's office for the election committee not later than Monday, May 5 at 5 o'clock.

Only class and student body presidents will be elected at this time. The president of the freshman class and all other class officers will be selected at the beginning of the fall term.

Alpha Psi Elects Three New Members For Second Semester

The Alpha Kappa cast of Alpha Psi Omega formally announced their new members Tuesday night. The new members, chosen for outstanding work in dramatics are Jo Price, Howard Beynon and Jay Sanders.

Jo Price earned points for her role in "The Weatherman's Secret" and as program chairman for the masquers. Howard Beynon attained the honor for his part in "Smilin' Through" and "First Lady." Jay Sanders earned his for the lead in "What a Life" and as stage manager for "Brief Music."

Members elected during the first semester were Ann Simpson, Marlanna Harrison, Bill Fricke and Charles Barrow.

'Forward Florida' To Enter State Libraries

"Forward Florida," the march written by John A. Forlong of St. Petersburg and first presented in public by the University of Tampa band, will soon enter the library of every high school and college in Florida.

The University has sponsored the printing of attractive folders containing the University of Tampa band arrangement of the march and a letter from Lyman Wiltse, head of the University music department, to the principals of all Florida high schools. "Who Is Young America?" a short article by President Mooney, appears on the back. The folder is designed to fit into music library files.

THE UNIVERSITY'S PLACE

The following is an excerpt from an editorial written by Dr. J. E. Mooney which appears in the current issue of "This Week in Defense," University of Tampa bi-monthly publication, reflecting the program of our university with respect to the defense situation:

Now as never before, universities and colleges are being called upon to perform a dual role in modern society. On the one hand, they must maintain their status quo as intellectual, cultural and professional balance wheels, but in addition to this the programs must be flexible enough to take in a wider range of essentials in order that these institutions of higher learning may better contribute toward the effective perpetuation of democracy.

Therefore, the University of Tampa is making every effort to broaden its facilities to include essential instruction during this present crisis and at the same time it is maintaining and expanding its liberal arts program, because youth today should not be handicapped. It should receive the benefits of the heritage of American education and at the same time the advantages of a program keyed to the modern need.

DOWN THE STRETCH

It's "down the stretch" from now on, students—we're on the last lap of the school year. This six weeks will soon be over, and its grades will play a vital part in the results of the year's work. Time to get busy if you've been coasting. Make that last run "down the stretch" a good run. Snap it up—there's time yet to overcome a couple of "D's" and a "C" or two, and boost them up a letter. And while we're at it, why not boost a few "B's" up to the top-notch first letter?

What a System

Tampa U. Campus Leaders
Air Views on
New Bell

Feeling ran high Wednesday when the bell was installed. Here are a few overheard remarks:

Jay Sanders—I don't like it. Very disturbing.

Celeste Dervaes — Not so good. What's it for?

Dot Hill—I don't have a watch so now I'll be on time.

Marilyn Levy—High schoolish. Mac Shadburn—It's all right.

Oliver Boynton—Heck of a situation.

Paul Myers—High schoolish. If one doesn't have enough sense to go to class a bell won't help.

Jean Pryor—I agree with Paul.

Mary Collura—Reminds me of high school.

Sara Barns—Pool!

Gene Youngs—I don't like it. It jangles my nerves.

Tom Albers—Wakes me up once an hour, which is against the law.

Frances Sessions—How gruesome!

Jack Goodson—I don't like it, definitely.

Jake Dunn—Reminds me of Ral-ford.

Katherine Perdicaris—Corny.

Norma Myers—Maybe now the professors will let us out on time.

Louis Hausroth—It doesn't fit in with the surroundings.

Johnny Kaufman—Lot of noise.

Carol Neff—To heck (typographical error) with the bell.

Frank Cooper—Should be a chime—more subtle.

Dick Schlechter—So they say it's high-schoolish? Well, it is high-schoolish to get to class on time—or to remind students to attend classes on time?

Ted Bravakis—Being on time helps a student to develop initiative and responsibility, but depending on a bell deprives him of this development.

Andy Anderson—What a system!

Speed cameras reveal that a wink occupies only one-fortieth of a second—long enough to get a man into trouble for a lifetime, though...

Ye Olde Seniors

Brandy, Denny, Genny
Alderman Get
Put on Spot

A senior, big enough to top any column, John David Brandenberger starts this off. Hailing from Connecticut, Brandy spent his first two years in a college of a theoretical nature, and his last two years at Tampa U. in a practical school learning how the other half lives.

"Graduation?" he pondered. "Graduation means nothing more than enlisting in the army or joining the ranks of the unemployed. I'll realize my stay here as a tourist and my other years in a college will close. All kidding aside, I owe an awful lot to Tampa U. and I'll be proud of my sheepskin."

Virginia Richelieu, Tarpon Springs resident now, and a new member of D. K., has attended four colleges and prefers T. U. to any.

"My parents must have had gypsy blood in them," she commented. "I've been transferred to so many schools—making a long time to receive my degree. I'm dying to teach school—I really want to!"

"She is an alumnae of Hood College, Md.; Tulane, and Indiana State. Genevieve Sultenfuss, Sigma Theta Phi secretary, and treasurer of the Home Ec club, wants to learn to fly—if Mom will ever consent. Right now she's wearing wings. Hers? (Observation).

It was hard to get anything out of Jenny. She was afraid the writer would quote her. About graduation: "I always answer to those who ask me—I hope!"

Frances Alderman, Delta Kappa, dormitory member, music student, Who's Who, band and orchestra are just some of her accomplishments.

"After June, it seems like I'll have to cut adrift," she lamented. (She's a past member of the used-to-be Yacht Club).

"I hate graduation, I really do. I'd like to stay one more year. Everything I do is centered around one building—eat, sleep, and even going to school. My hobby: I like to do anything that pops along!"

We, the Frosh

By EUGENE ZIELINSKI

Rats, just plain ol' rats—that's what they call us. We are despised by everyone, especially by those barbarous sophomores. At times the seniors are supposed to be our friends—but we're still looking forward to the times. Yes, after weeks and weeks of persuasion the Editor has finally allotted us space (in some unknown corner) to be represented as every other class is in the Minaret. Your columnist plans to give you the lowdown about people like himself, namely freshmen. Well here goes.

The seniors may have tennis stars like Dick Schlechter or Paul Meyers, but we have our boy Jim Cryan... and we're darn proud of him. Who was the only Tampa U. tennis team player to defeat a Stetson man? Do you want me to go further or should I stop right here? You guessed wrong... I definitely will continue even if it bores you to death.

We also have many freshmen football players. If "Junior" Thornton, John Clements, Bill Lassan, Jules Fantel, "Tex" Weiner, Gene Youngs, Bob Bowen, Jim Marchetta weren't included in the line-up, the Tampa U. football team wouldn't be rated to win the Conference this year. Enough of athletics—now we'll talk about the intellectual side. Take Student Council prexy's little brother, Leo, for instance. Stalnaker received a straight "A" for his six weeks grades (Leo, you can pay me later). Yes, there were others who came close like "Lizzie" Erwin, Frey, Willett and... gosh, I was going to mention myself; but I don't think two "F's" and three "D's" is just quite good enough yet.

We also have pretty gals. Now take Frances Piazza or maybe (?) Kitty Bishop—they're good enough for me... I mustn't forget Alice d' Onofrio... there's a gal that's got... Oops! I almost slipped... Well she's cute anyway. She definitely is the best dressed freshman in school. Leaving the fem's we come to the well known Band. There you will find many frosh represented.

We can't forget the many stooges around the school. Your columnist loves life, therefore, he won't mention any names. Also there are a few screwballs... and I don't mean you, Joe!

At last I'm running out of paper, also out of dope. Before I close I must tell you this... Solomon once said, "He that walketh with wise men shall be wise... so now... I'm going out and take a walk with myself. With that last crack I'll crawl back into my dog-house... See you next week.

Only six weeks remain before those horrible final exams. Oh, well... I'm slunking now to avoid the June rush.

Ace tennis freshman Jim Cryan says if his tennis starts "interfering" with his studies, he definitely will cut out the studies... and incidentally Jim is somewhat of a basketball player. The talk about it couldn't convince me so I went to watch him play the other afternoon. There was Cryan, stunts and all, handling the ball just like a clown in the Ringling circus.

Three freshmen are playing ball for Miller Adams. Paul Straub, also a football boy; Doug Forster and John Clements. The latter two are outstanding pitchers and darn good ones too... With a pair of hurdles like the above, the Spartans can be sure of another baseball title.

It seems that there has been an epidemic of the sleepiness disease in Dr. Laub's freshmen 100, history class (M. W. F.). To counteract the disease, Dr. Laub brings to class, every now and then, a so-called humorous book entitled "1066 and All That." Although now, half of the class stays awake... but I'm afraid it'll take more than "1066 and All That" to keep your columnist awake.

Enough for this time... See you next week. EASY...

Jobs Are Open Now For Marine Engineers

There are now vacancies for a substantial number of marine engineers, and jobs may be procured through the Maritime commission training program, according to information received by President Mooney from Joseph Weil, director of engineering training courses, University of Florida.

A competitive examination will be given to applicants for the jobs. The civil service commission will give an immediate examination upon application.

Dramagicians

Masquers Make Magic—
Also, Recipe for Hero-Making

Topping the list in entertainment at the Masquers' meeting last week were vocal selections by Jack Armstrong, a ballet number by a student of the "Laird school of the dance," and an Eleanor Powell rendition on taps by Miss Laird herself.

The program for next week, which promises to be interesting, is in charge of those super dramagicians, those exponents of dramatic skill, The-Dramatic-Interpretation-Claws.

Slightly aside, but still on the subject of dramatics, is the goings-on in advanced speech class.

"Did you know murder was committed in the University the other day? Yes—down and out cold blooded murder—When?—Why, when Bill shot Bill in the shooting of Dan McGrew."

"E-e-e-e-k! What's that?—Why Alexander and Hotchkiss just committed murder on the moor."

"Heh, heh, heh, her—Help hero, that villain's here again!"

The villain jerked off his mustache, put on a straw hat and turned his sign around which made him It. The Hero, I mean—the speech class found out that that's how hero's are made.

New Hours Are Set, Proctors Appointed For Recreation Room

The recreation room will remain open until 11 o'clock every night except Saturday and Sunday, according to new rules announced today. It will be open week day afternoons from 1 o'clock until 5 and on Saturday from 1 until 3 o'clock. No plans have been made for Sundays.

The room will be available as a date room and a number of new games will be placed at the disposal of students. Five proctors have been appointed, and the room is entirely in their care. Students are required to obey them and to aid in keeping the room free from unnecessary papers.

Proctors are Mel Rizzie, Jim Forsgren, Joe Cermano, Frank Zalmano and Paul Byars.

The afternoon schedule is as follows: Monday Rizzie, 1 to 3 o'clock; Zalmana, 3 to 5; Tuesday, Cermano, 1 to 5; Wednesday Rizzie, 1 to 3; Forsgren, 3 to 5; Thursday, Cermano, 1 to 5; Friday, Zalmano, 3 to 5; Rizzie, 1 to 3; Saturday, Rizzie, 1 to 3.

Evenings: Monday—Byars, 7 to 11; Tuesday, Zalmano, 7 to 11; Wednesday—Forsgren, 7 to 11. Thursday—Zalmano, 7 to 11; Friday—Byars, 7 to 11.

Yes we think it's humor but you may not think so. Any similarity between these jokes and those of 1861 is purely co-incidental.

Dinner Guest: "Will you pass the nuts? Professor."

Absent-minded Prof: "Yes I suppose so, but I really should flunk all of them."

T. U. Joins In Pan American Celebration

Students Give Youth
Program; Dr. Mooney
Is Featured Speaker

(Held Over from Last Week)

With President Mooney as one of the featured speakers, a youth program by two students, a faculty member as general chairman and several professors in attendance, the University of Tampa played a prominent part in the city's successful observance of Pan American day Monday.

Mrs. Mary Cortina Gil, instructor in Spanish, was the general chairman for the Pan American league, sponsoring organization, and Dr. Mooney is a director of the cooperating League for Inter-American Solidarity, of which Professors Nava, Johnson, McLendon and King are members.

Dr. Mooney's Address

Dr. Mooney spoke forcefully and straight from the shoulder on dangers faced in South America, pointing out that "during the next few months the situation may develop into the life or death-line of the Americas."

"We are going to have to get inside of South America, establish air bases, a foreign legion, and combat fifth columnists work there. And we are going to have to buy South America, and do it fast."

Martin Caraballo, Tampa lawyer, long experienced in Latin American affairs by personal contact, pointed out that the United States has won the confidence and friendship of the South American republics.

Students Speak

Miss Olga Martinez, representing the United States, said:

"A good Pan American neighbor is one who sees himself as a vital part of a greater, more united American civilization, and who is willing to undertake the responsibilities of this position. It is up to us, the youth of today, to see that this unity of thought and action is more greatly solidified, because there is, without question, much in common thinking among the youth of the Americas."

Pointing to the historic example of Simon Bolivar, Zeno Stalnaker, president of the student council, declared: "The Latin-American countries recognize the fact that the United States upholds the principles of the Pan-American conference that all the American nations are on an equal footing—Honduras with its million population standing equal with the 130,000,000 of the United States."

During a performance an opera star was being annoyed by a heckler... so she stopped and said:

"I'll have you know I have a throat like a swallow and a voice like a nightingale!"

A voice was heard from the audience saying:

"Gee, if I had a rock I could kill two birds with one stone."

Tampa U. To Form Latin American Student Program

Latin American and American students at the University of Tampa will combine in forming a department of cultural Latin American relations, under coordination of Mrs. Mary Gil Cortina, who yesterday described plans for the creation of the cooperative unit.

An outstanding event in connection with it will be a trip to Havana shortly after graduation, especially for adult students in Spanish. Students from other Florida colleges and universities will be invited to join the tour.

"This movement should contribute something of value toward creating a closer cultural understanding and greater friendliness within the Americas," President James E. Mooney said yesterday. "Because of its nearness to South and Central America and because of its own Latin population, Tampa is a logical place to bring these relationships closer."

A list is being compiled of Latin American students at the university, and a similar list will be made of an equal number of American students to be coordinated with the other group in various phases of the program.

Work of these groups will be conducted in a Latin American room at the university, where books and pamphlets, curios, magazines, pictures and other interpretative materials will be kept for their use. At their meetings, Spanish and English will be spoken on equal basis.

A committee of interested Tampans will be formed to aid in drawing up a program of proposed activities, in cooperation with the students.

Creation of scholarships for Latin American students will be one of the goals of the department.

Pan-American Week Dance Is Given by Dr. and Mrs. Mooney

Dr. and Mrs. James E. Mooney entertained the faculty, administration, student body, and music festival participants at a reception and dance last Friday night at the University in celebration of Pan-American week.

The reception was held in the Student Union Hall, where guests were received by Olga Martinez and Zeno Stalnaker, chosen as the most representative Latin-American girl and boy, and introduced to Dr. and Mrs. Mooney. Others in the receiving line were Dean and Mrs. Daniel S. Sanford, Dean and Mrs. D. E. Bunting, George K. Strauss, Coach and Mrs. Flucie L. Stewart.

Refreshments were served by University girls while Mrs. Mary Gil Cortina played several Latin selections on the piano.

Dancing was held in the ballroom, where La Tropical, Spanish orchestra, provided the music.

During intermission, Miss Ella Beth Laird entertained with a Spanish dance, Mary Collura played several Spanish and Mexican solos on the piano and the Conza chorus from "Pin Points" did their dance.

Girls who assisted in serving were Mary Merle Jones, Sarah Morgan, Bernice Wolf, Dorothy Hill, Bettie Berlin and Genevieve Sultenfuss.

Laugh and Like It

Samuel Johnson, colored, had been insured for $1000. The policy had been in effect for several years with the premium payments having been paid very promptly. Suddenly however, the payments stopped. After several delinquent notices had been sent by the insurance company they received the following letter:

"Dear Sirs: Please excuse us as we can't pay no more premiums on Sam. He died last August."

Razzle: "You know my deaf uncle? He was arrested yesterday and this morning the judge gave him a hearing."

Dazzle: "Overlook it, my good fellow. I've got a blind aunt and the other day she walked into a pile of lumber and 'sawdust.'"

Thought of the week: Why bother to shoo flies. Let the darn things run barefoot!

So-long . . . See you next week.

B. S. U. Play-Day They Have Their Picnic in Spite of Measley Bill

Oh tragedy! tragedy! tragedy! moaned the Baptists after a telephone conversation last Friday morning. There it was the morning before the night after and prexy Bill G. calls up and calmly states:

"I have the measles."

All of this was the day before the Baptist Student Union entertained the Baptist high school seniors at a picnic at the Y. M. C. A. camp Saturday.

Firmly believing that the show must go on despite the absence of the boss and two out of two speakers on the program, the B. S. U. council loaded up five cars with high school kids, baseballs and bats, bathing suits, and eats and set out to do or die.

Nobody died. But anyone hearing the howls of some would-be baseball players the next day would think they were ready to die.

A group of girls got a swimming lesson par excellence when two small boys from a neighboring cottage came over to the dock for their daily splash. Before entering the water the smaller was loosely laced up in a life preserver large enough for a man and declared ready to go swimming by the senior partner.

While the older boy showed the five girls how they ought to dive and how to "torpedo" away from the dock, the little fellow studied his dress thoughtfully and then called, "Sammy, you put my life-persaver on wrong."

When the last cookie was eaten and the crowd gathered around the campfire, the picnic was declared a success despite the old-man measles.

Lucie Lee: "You know, I wouldn't trust that Beattie too far."
Mary Merle: "Huh, I wouldn't trust him too near."

Delta Kappa Sorority Holds Shipwreck Dance In Tropical Isle Theme

A tropical isle of the South Seas was the scene of the Delta Kappa annual shipwreck dance last Friday night in the University ballroom.

The ballroom was decorated with thatched huts, ship wheels, life buoys, palm trees and numerous other articles carrying out the shipwreck theme.

Hostesses were the Misses Celeste Dervae, Yolanda Finney, Jewel Fernandez and Phyllis Flanagan.

Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Flucie Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. George K. Straus and Miss Caroline Melber.

Music was provided by Val Antonio's orchestra.

Sanfords Have Party For 313 and Moroccan

Dean and Mrs. Daniel S. Sanford entertained members of the Masquers and the Moroccan staff Tuesday night at an informal party, after the meeting of the dramatics club.

The group was entertained with readings by Hilda Sweet and Priscilla Hunt. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Social Spotlight

Dear Maudie:

Here I am back after a vacation of about two weeks, spotlighting the social news again.

Something to look back on—

The top-notch reception and dance given by the prexy and his wife last Friday night . . . novel program . . . heaps of fun for everybody . . . a Latin orchestra to provide the music.

The B. S. U. picnic . . . a lovely afternoon and evening at the Y. W. C. A. camp . . . plenty of games and eats . . . Dean Sanford knocking a home run.

The Deke shipwreck dance . . . a tropical island setting . . . eds and co-eds in beach togs . . . jitterbugging and what have you . . . oodles of fun.

Something to look forward to—

The Sigma Theta kid dance . . . kiddie cars, balls, lollipops . . . prizes for the best costumes . . . fun and more fun.

The Front Porch Frolics . . . carnival booths, dancing, entertainment . . . coronation of the May Queen and her court.

Beta Chi bowery brawl . . . Alpha Gam dance . . . S. K. N. gardenia ball . . . Deke formal . . . etc.

Gee, there's plenty to look forward to! See you later.

Love,
M. M.

By TOM JOHNSON

Pounding out 12 hits, the Florida Fighting Gators gained an 8-2 revenge win over the Spartans in Tampa's opening home debut before 500 customers last Saturday.

Coach Miller Adams has revamped his lineup and has given the Spartans long drills in preparation for their coming two game tilt with Rollins here on Plant Field today and tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Changes In Lineup

Frank Straner, veteran, will take over centerfield in place of Villarosa, who is in a batting slump; Champ Williams, deadly hitter, will replace Buchan at second, who is out with an injured knee, and Adams hinted there might be other changes to strengthen team for state games with the Tars.

John Clower, big right hander, held the Tampa nine to three blows, one a mighty four ply homer by Johnny Comparato, veteran left fielder. Clower struck out 10 Spartans.

Tampa opened up with the scoring with a single tally in second, coming on two walks and Magadan single. The State boys went ahead with three tallies, one each in fourth and fifth innings.

Comparato's homer, with no one on base, put Tampa in the game in the

TENNIS TODAY

Finals of the men's doubles tennis will be finished this afternoon when Bob Henry and Tom Johnson, S. K. N.'s will continue their match with Paul Myers and Dick Sleichter, Beta Chi's.

The first part of the match was played yesterday afternoon, but darkness intervened before the completion, with the score 6-3 in the first set in favor of the Henry-Johnson combination. The second set was tied 5-5.

Bob Henry easily won the men's singles Tuesday by trouncing Paul Myers in three straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1 on the Davis Islands court.

eight. But Florida sewed it up with a four run outburst in the ninth.

John Clements, who beat the Gators last week 7-2, was all formed and had poor support, Tampa making four errors. Big John struck out 10 and only walked one.

Doug Forster relieved Clements in the ninth, after Florida had touched John for two singles. Doug allowed no hits in his inning.

Bannerman led the Gator attack with four hits for five trips to the plate.

Tampa left 12 men stranded on the bags.

T. U. Second In Play Day

Sherman, Clemons, Robinson, Victors in Badminton, Tennis

St. Petersburg Junior college ran away with the championship at the all sports day held at the university last Saturday with a total of 13 points. Tampa U. came in second with 7 points, while Southern college was left trailing with only one point.

Marie Sherman and Nell Clemons were the stars for Tampa U. by winning all the games in the badminton tournament, both singles and doubles.

Polly Robinson also did credit to our school by taking her tennis match, which was our only win in that sport. All the girls who participated should be given full credit for their splendid sportsmanship and their help in making our sports day program a huge success.

Rev. Gotschall Talks To Special Assembly

"National unity among all religious sects is necessary in this time of national defense" the Rev. A. W. Gotschall, director for the southern area of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, told students in assembly yesterday morning.

"America belongs to all of us, not to any one particular sect," Rev. Gotschall said. The speaker, who is making a tour of universities and colleges, was introduced by Rabbi David Ziehlsonka.

The regular assembly Tuesday was turned into a benefit movie for the junior class to defray further expenses of the annual junior-senior banquet and dance set for May 15.

Moving pictures of Tampa U. football games with Miami and Florida were shown. A small admission fee was charged.

Wiltse Talk Will Be Published in Journal

Lyman Wiltse, head of the music department, has written his talk on "What Do Colleges Expect of Music Students" for the Florida Education Association Journal. The article will appear in the October issue.

Mr. Wiltse will also speak at the commencement exercises of the Wimauma high school in Wimauma, Fla.

HOME ECONOMICS

The Home Economic club is sponsoring a cotton exhibit Tuesday, May 6, in the Home Ec. Lab. Students and faculty of the university and students and Home Ec. teachers of the high schools are invited. The purpose of this exhibit is to acquaint others with the many and various uses of cotton fiber.

Stetson Wins At Tennis

Score Is 6-1 But Most Matches Go Into Extra Games

Stetson's highly touted tennis squad again assert its superiority over the men of Sparta Friday with an overwhelming 6-1 victory at DeLand.

Each match was well played and hard fought, but only Jim Cryan, as in the previous Stetson-Tampa duel, could penetrate the win column for Tampa U.

The summary: Stetson's best—Bill Davis, routed Walt Beasley, 6-2, 6-1. George Slaton sprung a mild upset when he eked out a close 7-5, 6-4 victory over smooth stroking Bob Henry in an exciting match. For the second time Carl Purts had to play his best tennis to nip Paul Myers, 6-2, 7-5, in a long contest. Cryan's victim was Boy Brown, whom he defeated handily by a 7-5, 6-2 score.

The Hatter's crafty team play was evident in the doubles as Bill Davis and George Slaton beat Bob Henry and Paul Myers, 8-6, 6-2, and Carl Purts and Stan Rathbone defeated Dick Sleichter and Jim Cryan, 7-5, 6-2.

Sigma Kappa Nu's To Hold Annual Gardenia Ball May 16

The Sigma Kappa Nu fraternity has set May 16 as the date for its annual gardenia ball, to be held at the Palma Celia Country club. Manuel Sanchez will play. Many novel ideas have been planned.
