★ SPECIAL ELECTION ADDITION ★ FOR PRESIDENT

GUY EULIANO

I am seeking your vote for Student Council President. As a resident on this campus for three years, two years as a Resident Advisor, I am confident of my understanding of students' problems. As current Vice President of the Student Council, a member of O.D.K., a member of the Who's Who Committee, past president of Phi Delta fraternity and former sophomore representative, I have developed a good rapport with students, faculty, staff and administration.

I personally feel the need for increased student involvement in Student Council. I propose to enact more surveys and referendums weekly and/or monthly in the hopes of obtaining a better picture and a more thorough understanding of what the students' needs really are. Students are the #1 priority on campus and should be treated accordingly. Among other things, the pool should be open from 9 to 4, not just from 11 to 3. The gym and weight room hours should also be lengthened.

As President, the new Student Council will be characterized by a system of broad student participation, more "miles" for the students' dollar, more responsiveness to students' needs and desires, a more organized, efficient system, and a unity of all clubs and organizations on campus through better communication.

THOMAS SLAYMAKER

I would like to become President of the Student Council because I have the desire and ability to do a good job. A strong leader is at the heart of the Student Council. I have the experience. I will provide the strong leadership.

As a Resident Advisor for two years and Treasurer and Chairman of the Proposal Committee for two years, I have demonstrated my ability as a responsible representative and a conscientious administrator.

As President I will require all committees to be more responsive to the needs of the students. The Vice President will be required to attend all committee meetings to insure that they maintain and pursue healthy communication with the student body.

I am willing to make difficult decisions. I am confident that I can handle the responsibilities of the Presidency.

I have made no unrealistic promises in this campaign because I believe in sensibility, not sensationalism. As President I will attempt to improve our facilities as well as the hours available to students at the library, the pool, the fairgrounds and the gym.

As voters, you must decide on what kind of leadership you want. I believe that I can serve you well as President. I ask for your vote.

Judicial Openings For 1979-1980

By WAYNE HUTCHINS
Coordinator Judicial Board

There are a total of eight positions that need to be filled between both the Student Judicial Board and Traffic Court for next year. The Student Advisory Board will be interviewing and selecting among the interested applicants on Friday, April 13. All students who are interested in serving on either the Judicial Board of Traffic Court can pick up applications in the Student Affairs Office, Plant Hall, Room 301 today through Wednesday, April 11. Interested candidates can also secure an interview time slot with the secretary.

Participating on one of the boards (i.e. Judicial, Traffic) can be a very challenging opportunity. The appointed students will be able to take part in court procedures such as: determination of guilt or innocence, deliberations, and decisions of appropriate levied sanctions. The idea is to give the students input into the enforcement of university articles and traffic regulations.

It should be noted that for both the Junior Justice on the Judicial Board and Junior Judge on Traffic Court, the applicants must meet qualifications outlined in Article II Sections A & E in the Student Handbook pp. 55-56.

Judicial openings for the 1979-80 year are as follows:

Traffic Court Positions

Member-at-Large
Junior Judge
First Alternate
Second Alternate

Student Judicial Court Positions

Member-at-Large
Junior Justice
First Alternate

Applications must be in by 5 p.m. Wednesday, April 11 to the Student Affairs Office, Room 301, Plant Hall.

Student Photographer Honored

By IRV EDELSON

Phi Delta Theta Goes National

Brothers of Phi Delta Theta are shown being initiated into the fraternity as part of the big weekend installation program granting the Florida Theta chapter national status. An initiation ceremony was held at the Hillsborough Masonic Lodge March 23, followed by a reception and banquet dinner in Fletcher Lounge. Forty-seven new brothers are shown taking the oath in the Ballroom March 24. T. Glen Cary, president of the General Council of Phi Delta Theta; Robert J. Miller, executive vice president of Phi Delta Theta, and C. T. Bray, member-at-large of the general council, were here for the ceremony. New fraternity president is Ron Garon. Larry Baratta is vice president.

Cover Letters — from Career Planning and Placement Today, "C. R. Powell

By PETER J. MULRY
Career Counselor

All letters of application should be personalized to be most effective. An obviously reproduced form letter should never be sent. The placement office or a number of directories in libraries can supply names of persons to contact, preferably employment managers or supervisors in departments of interest. As a last resort, a functional title such as Personnel Director, Sales Manager, or President, if it is a very small firm, can be used.

A number of examples in the book, Career Planning and Placement Today, give typical cover letter formats. Unlike the resume, a preprinted letter is unacceptable.

The cover letter should never exceed one page. Emphasis is placed upon facts and brevity. In the applicant's own style, it is necessary to say, "I am interested in you; here is why you should be interested in me; can I have an interview appointment?" Sounds simple — it isn't!

Introduction. The first paragraph must attract attention. The reason for writing should be stated by naming the position for which applying, and how the opening was heard of or how the employer's name was obtained. One technique is to straightforwardly ask in the opening sentence a question, "Are you interested in employing a hard-working, energetic and aggressive recent college graduate in a sales position? I have the personality and ambition to advance into marketing management in a few years." Whatever the opening, the letter must spark enough interest to cause the employer to want to press forward.

Body. In the second paragraph the reason is stated for writing to this particular employer and for wanting to work for the organization. Concrete reasons should be emphasized and flowery phrases describing growth, challenge, advancement, etc., avoided. In this paragraph, the applicant's specific challenges and aspirations should be mentioned. Why success can be achieved should be supported. How education and past achievements will support the capacity for which consideration is desired must be indicated.

The resume data should not be repeated any more than is absolutely necessary. Only a few seconds are available to capture the employer's imagination, so wasted words must be avoided. The meat of the resume should be emphasized and personal qualities documented.

The third paragraph should be short and refer to the resume. It should emphasize career interest and personal qualities. This message must get through! For a third party referral, or mutual acquaintance the party's name and how highly the company was recommended should be stated. Wanting to work for that employer must be emphasized!

Close. The closing paragraph is just as important as the opening. The response desired should be stated. Phrases like "if you have further interest, please write," should be avoided. Since the purpose is to get an interview, it should be requested in this paragraph.

One very positive response is to state that a call to the firm will be made on a specific date to arrange a specific time. Few people will turn down the call. Often it is wise to tell the employer that plans to be in the area during a certain week have been made and that a call for an appointment will be made at the end of the preceding or the beginning of the next week. Arrival of the letter should be timed so that it arrives one or two days before the call and five to ten work days before the visit to the firm's community, if it is different than the applicant's.

If requesting information concerning the existence of an opening, the applicant should end the cover letter with a specific question.

Few employers are likely to encourage applicants, unseen, to come in for appointments if it is necessary to travel more than 50 miles. Qualified applicants may be waiting in the lobby so employers would hesitate to hedge on the inquiry; therefore, the initiative must be taken by the applicant after sending the letter. However, it is not desirable to force a "no" decision without getting a chance for a personal presentation of one's qualifications.

Summary. The cover letter is likely to get a favorable response if it contains a tone of modest confidence. The closing paragraph might, therefore, assume that the employer is interested and that the next logical step is an appointment. Asking for a specific day for an appointment is another approach. Still another idea is to ask for information on specific jobs, a job description, an employment brochure, or an application blank. Keeping the reader in mind when writing the letter and keeping the letter concise by focusing on a specific position, gives an idea of what might be done if the applicant were the employer. Is the letter effective enough to elicit a written positive response if an opening exists? With the cover letter and resume finished, most of the written communication is complete. Preparing an interview presentation is the next step.

Risk-Taking

Most of us are familiar with the expression that "Anything worth doing is worth doing well," and probably most of us agree with it. I would like to make a small, but significant change so that it reads "Anything worth doing is worth doing poorly." Heresy! you say, but let's take a closer look at what this means. It does not mean that you should strive for poor performance or establish failure as a goal. What it does mean is that if you think you might want to try something new, go ahead and try, even if you are not perfect at it. For many of us, our initial attempts at walking, riding a bicycle, giving public speeches, or submitting a professional article for publication met with poor results. Little children do not expect or demand themselves to be perfect at walking, so they continue to try until they have mastered the task. The same is true for anything we do, although we have differing levels of mastery. But how many times have you refused to try something new and different because you knew you wouldn't be perfect at it? Perfection, by humans, is unattainable, yet we often demand it of ourselves. If we don't demand perfection, then at least we believe we must be thoroughly adequate and beyond comment or criticism before we act. Not all people do this all the time, but it is safe to say that there are probably one or more areas in your life where you do this.

By refusing to take risks because of your perfectionistic beliefs, you prevent the possibility of failure, humiliation, or embarrassment which may result, although you are most likely over-exaggerating its effect. Not only are you avoiding the unlikely possibility of being criticized, but you are also losing out on a whole lot of opportunities to experience something positive.

Risk-taking is rarely easy and it certainly is safer to hold back. Not taking risks can also be self-defeating because you give up long-term gain to avoid short-term pain. If something is worth doing, do it even if you never become perfect at it (and you won't). Take a risk knowing that it might take a while to improve. Keep in mind the rational and probable results of performing poorly, not the exaggerated ones that are preventing you from trying. Remember that it is more important to try than it is to try to be perfect. But also keep in mind to try your best, not the best.

If you find yourself in a position where you avoid taking risks more than you like and want to do something about it TAKE A RISK stop by the Counseling Center in Plant 300 and let's talk about it. Next week: Dealing with Stress.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The Brothers of Kappa Kappa Psi would like to congratulate Steve McLaughlin for being elected District VIII Vice-President at the recent District VIII convention held at the University of Florida in Gainesville. McLaughlin's term in office will be for one year and we wish him the best of luck. Also, we would like to commend Richard M. Vidal for his past term as District VIII Vice-President. He did a fantastic job both during his term in office and at chairing the recent convention. To the both of you, CONGRATULATIONS!

Correction

Dr. Lois Benjamin, faculty member of the Ad Hoc Committee on Freedom and Responsibilities, was incorrectly quoted in last week's Minaret. Her comments should be amended as follows.

"The only function of this committee is to make a broad statement in support of the 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom. It is not necessary, and would seem most inappropriate, to establish a review board or any other committee to pass judgment on speakers who are invited to campus."

In addition, Benjamin was summarized as saying she agreed with Board of Trustees member Louis de la Parte, when he said that it was ridiculous to have a speaker that discusses the philosophies of Lenin or Karl Marx when the subjects have never been taught, or when students are unfamiliar with and perhaps subject to the emotional lure of these viewpoints. Benjamin did NOT agree with de la Parte. "I don't feel that it is necessary to prepare students for a particular speaker. What I do see is the need for learning and developing of the intellectual tools necessary to analyze any speaker who comes onto campus," said Benjamin.

Finally, Benjamin should have been quoted as saying, "Both (Carmichael and the South Africans) have a right to speak on campus, but here you have the furor generated on campus by Stokely Carmichael and here you have someone speaking representing (a country that is) oppressive. Are we to condone that?"

The Minaret regrets these errors.

A Frosh Approach

By TONY DeSORMIER
Minaret Staff Writer

I would like to extend my congratulations to Mike Waldrop and Ralph Gonzalez, who have been elected sophomore class representatives to the Student Council. I'm sure they will do a good job for our class, as well as for the UT community. Congratulations!

I would also like to make an observation concerning the past elections. I don't know how many people realized it, but a majority of those running for office and those elected are from the same fraternity — Phi Delta Theta. The fact that they're from Phi Delta, or the fact that they're frat people is not what disturbs me. It's the fact that they're all from a single interest group. Whatever policy will be made in the future will have a tendency (either intentionally or unintentionally) to lean in the direction of fraternity benefits, indirectly, and Phi Delta, directly.

I'm not accusing Phi Delta of monopolizing the election or insinuating that they will use Student Council to achieve their own means, for I like to think that non-frat people will keep a close eye on them. However, in upcoming elections, I would like to see a larger representation of interest groups in Student Council. In the meantime, congratulations to Phi Delta Theta on receiving their national charter, and the majority of Student Council positions.

SPOT CHECKS

With the addition of academic credit for Minaret staff writers, I hope to see more of you joining me in my literary indulgences. I mention this, on the first morning of Fall Pre-Registration, to encourage those who might be considering joining the Minaret staff.

O'Donnell Scholarship Established

OPI

A Paul D. O'Donnell Memorial Scholarship has been established at the University of Tampa in honor of the 53-year-old author, engineer and civic leader who died Sunday in Tampa.

O'Donnell was a former director of production resources for Westinghouse Electric Corp. and prior to becoming ill was director of generation projects for Florida Power Corp.

The scholarship was endowed by a $5,000 gift from associate and long-time friend Al Lang of Tampa. Friends of O'Donnell have been asked to fund the scholarship through the development office of the University of Tampa. Dana Todsen, UT Annual Giving director, is coordinating the scholarship fund.

O'Donnell's interests were widespread, covering culture, business, industry and education. He also demonstrated an interest in youth as president of the Junior Achievement of Greater Tampa and a member of the board of the Gulf Ridge Council of Boy Scouts of America.

He was on the board of the Florida Gulf Coast Symphony, a director of the Exchange National Bank of Tampa, a member of the Board of Governors of the Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce, a past president of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers and a past member of the visiting committee of the board of trustees of Lehigh University.

O'Donnell was listed in Who's Who in the World, and in America in Finance, Industry and Engineering. He was the author of the book, "Production Control," published by Prentice-Hall, and "Management Handbook and Industrial Engineering Handbook," published by McGraw Hill.

He is survived by his wife, Clare; sons Daniel, David and Edward, and daughter Ellen.

Florida Undergraduate Philosophy Conference

Mark your calendar for the Florida Undergraduate Conference in Philosophy, Friday, April 6, and Saturday, April 7. This year's conference will be sponsored by the University of Tampa. A number of schools will be attending, including: University of Florida, University of North Florida, University of Central Florida, Stetson, Eckerd, New College, Hillsborough Community College, St. Petersburg Junior College, Seminole Community College, Polk Community College, Rawlins, and others.

The conference will consist of students presenting their own papers, with questions and discussion afterwards. Papers will be presented in classrooms of Plant Hall Friday night from 8 - 10:30 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. until approximately noon.

Several students from the University of Tampa will also be presenting papers and it is hoped that several students will attend the conference. Having students from all over the state participate will enable listeners to examine and evaluate the type of work being done at other schools in relation to the type of work being done at the University of Tampa.

Your attendance would be greatly appreciated. Information regarding which rooms will be used for the conference will be posted in Plant Hall.

Folkdancefest Scheduled

The 5th annual Folkdancefest will return to Tampa on Easter weekend. The Tampa Festival Folk Dancers and groups from St. Petersburg, Orlando, Daytona, Tallahassee, Gainesville, Ormond Beach and other Florida areas will give a two hour free performance for the general public Saturday, April 14 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, April 15 at 1 p.m. at McKay Auditorium on the University of Tampa campus. The folk groups will perform colorful dances from around the world, representing over 20 nationalities, including a Polish Mazur with lightning turns, a fast stamping Romanian Birul, a coquettish Italian Tarantella and a rousing German Schuhplattler.

After the Saturday program, there will be dancing. The public is invited to participate in this joyous occasion.

The Tampa Festival Folk Dancers hold dance sessions and classes Friday evenings at Forest Hills Recreation Center.

UT At Youth Fair Tent

OPI

UT's ROTC, marine science and library facilities will be on display Monday, April 9, in the "Wonderful World of Youth Tent" at the Florida State Fairgrounds from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Representing each of the segments will be: ROTC — Maj. Edward Thomas, accompanied by ROTC cadets; Marine Science - Dr. Wayne Price with members of Beta Beta Beta biological society; Larry Westley, representing the library.

In addition, there will be representation from the UT admissions office in Booth No. 4 part of the day, and a demonstration of rowing at 3 p.m. by UT's two-man crew. Head Coach Tom Feaster and assistant Harry Edenfield, a national champion when he rowed for UT, will demonstrate the pair on the fair lake.

ROTC is assigned to booth No. 16, marine science to 15 and the library to No. 14.

Summer Florida Student Assistance Grant

Attention all JUNIORS and SENIORS, if you meet the following requirements, please report to the Financial Aid Office, Room 306, Plant Hall:

1. Have been a recipient of a Florida Student Assistance Grant during the 1978-79 academic year.
2. Plan to enroll as a full-time student during the 1979 Summer term.
3. Have earned at least 24 semester hours during the 1978-79 academic year.
4. Have maintained at least a "C" average or above (2.0 or above on a 4.0 scale) during the 1978-79 academic year.

All FRESHMEN and SOPHOMORES who have only received one semester of FSAG for the academic year of 1978-79 and plan to enroll as a full-time student during the 1979 Summer term should report to the Financial Aid Office.

The DEADLINE for receipt of the Florida Student Assistance Grant Applications in Tallahassee for Summer funds is APRIL 30, 1979.

Pi Kappa Phi

The Pi Kappa Phi Daytona Beach camp-out was a big success with all the beer you could drink and steaks you could eat. The highlight of the weekend was the Pi Kapp annual surfing competition. The winner has not yet been decided. Only a few minor injuries were reported.

The brothers of Pi Kapp will be selling lollipops for cancer. You can purchase them in the lobby of Plant Hall or in the Student Union. All money will be donated to the cancer society. The cost is only 25¢, so everybody buy a lollipop and help us help the American Cancer Society.

This Friday at 6 p.m. the Brothers of Pi Kapp will be holding a run-a-thon to help benefit disabled children. All Brothers will be carrying bid sheets with them. Please donate what you can.

Pi Kappa Phi is doing it again tomorrow night, April 6, with the Pi Kappa Phi end-of-the-year party. The party will feature all the beer you can drink, Super Lu, and the famous Pi Kapp Killer cones. It all happens this Friday night behind the Pi Kapp house. Festivities begin at 9 p.m.

Sincerely,
Ms. Murphy

NOTICE. . . . .

Check Cashing Closing
Effective April 13, the Check Cashing Service will close operation for the semester. The service does not operate during the last two weeks of each semester. However, cashier's checks, money orders, traveler's checks and University checks will be honored.

Parking In Front Of McKay Hall

A number of students continue to park between the post office and McKay Hall throughout the day. Campus Police have been in the process of having cars either ticketed or towed away. The reason why this road must be kept open and cleared of cars is because the US Postal Service needs to have access to the Post Office three times a day. They are having difficulty getting the mail delivered to the university because of cars blocking the roadway. However, the US Postal Service has threatened to drop their service to the university, if cars continue to block the road for US postal trucks. So if you want mail to come to the University of Tampa, please park your car in areas designated for student parking. If this problem continues to exist, you may have to go downtown for your mail.

Measles Outbreak

As most students are well aware, there has been an outbreak of measles on campus this past week. I would like to inform students of the Health Center's policy concerning a patient who has been diagnosed and confirmed as having a communicable disease. The patient must be confined or isolated in the contagious stage. If the student lives in the residence hall, he or she must stay in the Health Center. If the student lives off campus, he or she must be treated in the Health Center but may stay in his/her apartment. You will not be allowed to stay in the residence hall except under extenuating circumstances. Therefore if you are told to report to the Health Center, you must report. Failure to do so could result in your immediate removal from the university as a threat to the health of others.

Alpha Epsilon Pi

The brothers of Alpha Epsilon Pi would like to congratulate our new Little Sisters. We hope you enjoy the fraternity.

The Church of Scientology is giving a seminar this Friday in Room 3 at 1 p.m. The cost of admission is $1. Proceeds will be going to the David Carr Fund. The topic that will be discussed is CHOOSING YOUR FUTURE PROFESSION. This event is being sponsored by Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity. We hope that all will attend.

This past weekend the fraternity had a good turnout at their car wash, thanks to the sisters and brothers who attended.

Congratulations to our pledges for sticking out their pledging program. The Brothers closed out their season with a fine effort against the ZBT Fraternity. All in all, thanks to the Apes for a truly good softball semester.

Kropper's Korner

By JOHN KROPPER Editor

The varsity Athletic Association sponsored a panel discussion concerning the future of UT sports last week. President Richard Cheshire was on hand to answer inquiries from V.A.A. members. One of the main topics discussed was the expected date for a new gymnasium. Apparently, 1983 is the earliest UT can expect new gym facilities.

Another major concern was the possibility of a calendar change and its effect on athletics. Cheshire and several administrators demonstrated that the proposed calendars would benefit extra-curricular activities including athletics.

After car troubles enroute to Jacksonville, Men's Crew put forth an outstanding performance last weekend and gained a second place overall finish. UT withstood pressure from the best competition in the southeast during the weekend regatta in Jacksonville. Women's Crew was less fortunate and finished a distant fifth. Congratulations are extended to the dedicated coaches and athletes of the UT Crew.

Rumor has it that one of UT's favorite people is leaving the Bay Area. Tom Kehan, the Philly Kid, is contemplating a career in the nation's capital. He hopes to participate in an athletic research and development program within the federal government. Kehan, a former NCAA soccer all-star, has been instrumental in several varsity sports on campus. He's No. 1 among athletes and students and I don't think UT will ever find anyone quite like Tom Kehan.

Professional baseball begins its long season this week. The obvious question is whether the Yankees can win their third consecutive World Series. The several additions to their pitching staff could make the New York Yankees' defense flawless.

Ex-Spartan and former NCAA nominee, Claude Caruso, may rejoin the UT baseball team next season. This time Caruso will be an assistant coach and not a nationally renown catcher.

The UT golf team recently played "solid" golf in Miami and gained a third place finish against a dozen colleges. It was the best finish in quite a while for Coach Jon Seavey and his Spartans. Junior Marshall Ames was the leading UT competitor and gained tenth position in the individual competition. Freshman starter, Bobby Becham said, "We surprised a lot of people in Miami and we all know we're capable of an even better performance in the future."

The parents of team member, P. B. Dye, were gracious hosts to the team during their four day trip. PB comes from a nationally known golfing family, his father being one of the top golf course designers in the country and his mother being a former national champion.

UT Offers Scuba Diving Course

An eight-week course in basic scuba diving will be held at UT April 18 through June 6 at 7:30 p.m. under sponsorship of UT's Office of Continuing Education.

Lectures will be held each Wednesday in Room 100 of the UT Computer Center. Students may select either Tuesday or Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for diving instruction at the University of Tampa pool.

Instructor will be J. Edward Uditis, who is certified by the National Association of Underwater Instructors (NAUI).

Registration is being accepted now in UT's Office of Continuing Education. The fee is $65.

Spartans Bumped From USF Tourney

By TONY DeSORMIER
Assistant Sports Editor

Last week in the USF Tourney, the Spartans found themselves in very poor position after splitting with Toledo in the first doubleheader and being swept by the host team, USF, in the next doubleheader. But the Spartans still had Harvard and Detroit left to play.

The Spartans met Harvard in a doubleheader last Tuesday in the continuation of the tournament. In the first game, Harvard got two quick runs off loser Lou Daniele (1-2), without the benefit of a hit and pitcher Rob Alevizos of Harvard made it stand up, as he kept the UT bats in check, allowing only four hits and no runs. Joe Salanitri was the hitting star for UT, going two for two.

The Spartan bats woke up in the next game, as the Spartans collected eight hits, in scoring six runs, with the aid of three Harvard errors. Using a new line up, the Spartans scored four runs in the first inning and never looked back. Bob Kinckiner, now the lead off hitter, started off with a single. Frank Ramppen got on on an error by the third baseman. Andy Faza then got on on the benefit of an error by the Harvard centerfielder, which scored Kinckiner. Larry Reasonover then doubled, driving in two more runs. Joe Salanitri got his third hit of the day, as he drove in Reasonover for the fourth run. The Spartans scored twice more, once in the second and again in the fifth, but the initial four were all that starter Mike Moran needed, as he breezed to his third win against four defeats, while holding the Harvard bats in check, allowing only three hits, and one harmless run. Offensive stars were junior Larry Reasonover, who went two for three, with two doubles, two RBI's, and a run scored, sophomore Frank ramppen, who went two for three, with two runs scored, and freshman Joe Salanitri, who went two for three with an RBI.

On Thursday, the Spartans could eliminate U. Detroit, if they swept both games, but they needed one win to continue themselves in the tournament, for the University of Detroit could return the favor if they swept UT.

The afternoon started off badly for UT. U. Detroit tallied one run in the fourth, one in the fifth, and two in the sixth to take to take a commanding 4-0 lead into the bottom of the sixth. But the Spartans weren't dead yet as they battled back, sending eleven men to the plate, while scoring five runs to take a one run lead. Junior Braulio Pardo started it with a walk, and, after Bob Geist struck out, was followed by consecutive singles by Kinckiner, Ramppen, and Faza, with Faza driving in Pardo. Reasonover followed with a fielder's choice, which saw Faza forced at second, but scored Kinckiner. Joe Salanitri reloaded the bases with a walk. Rich Vollrath followed with a single that drove in Ramppen and Reasonover. Frank Yurchak walked, and Pardo, batting for the second time in the inning, singled in the fifth and final run of the inning in Salanitri. But the Spartans could not hold on, as Harvard, with one out, loaded the bases on a single, a walk, and a hit batsman. Senior Jim Budnick then gave way to Kris Kelley. Kelley got the third out, only after allowing a hit that scored the tying and lead runs for Harvard. This was enough, as the Spartans could not get any offense started in their half of the inning.

U. Detroit	0	0	0	1	1	2	2	6	10	0
UT	0	0	0	0	0	5	0	5	6	1

The Spartans were in danger of being eliminated if they did not win the second game. They had their backs to the proverbial wall. It didn't look good, as U. Detroit tallied once in the first inning and again in the third, as the Spartans also tallied twice in their half of the third. It stayed tied until the fifth inning when the Spartans took a two run lead on four consecutive singles, a fielder's choice, a walk, and another fielder's choice to score twice. Kris Kelley made it stand up, as he picked up his second win against four losses to put UT in a play-off for the fourth spot in the playoffs. The opponent would be U. Detroit, again.

UT	0	0	2	0	2	0	0	4	8	1
U. Detroit	1	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	6	2

On Friday, the Spartans went in against the same U. Detroit team, needing a win to continue. A loss would send the Spartans home for the weekend. It was not to be, despite a fine pitching performance by Rich Vollrath. Vollrath gave up eight hits, but only three runs, one of which was earned. U. Detroit scored its only earned run in the first inning, on a double and two singles. But it was enough, as the Spartan offense could not get on track, not getting any hits until the sixth and seventh innings.

U. Detroit	1	0	0	0	1	1	0	3	8	0

McNiffer's Crew Talk: Jacksonville Regatta

By MARGARET MCNIFF
Sports Editor

At the Jacksonville Regatta, held on Doctor's Lake, the University of Tampa's crew finished second overall. The Florida Institute of Technology claimed first place honors out of the field of five competing crews.

The lightweight four with coxswain was won by UT's crew. Coxed by Cheryl Mohammed, the crew beat FIT, Citadel, and Jacksonville University. Jim Preston was the stroke with Mark Bachman #3, Bill Arnot #2, and Bernie Szer bow. The crew completed the course in 7:17.5.

The varsity eight, coxed by Suzanne Lechler, stroke Tim Morris, Steve White, Joe O'Neil, Steve Kahne, Jeff Grimner, Mike Wood, Ted Viola, and Charlie Dickens bow, finished second to FIT. The University of Central Florida finished third, Jacksonville University fourth and Citadel fifth.

The JV eight also finished second behind FIT. The men's pair, with Wayne Blackwelder and Joe Hooten, coxed by Suzanne Lechler, finished second to the Miami Rowing Club crew.

"It was a very close race and it was the third race of the day for both Wayne and Joe. Both of them had rowed in the JV eight and the novice four," said Men's Coach Tom Feaster.

"Overall, the day was a good one for us, especially for Wayne. He proved to the rest of the crew that he not only has the heart to row but that he can put it to use behind the oar."

In the women's race, the UT's four finished fifth. In the earlier stages of the race, UT was leading, but lost the edge towards the final strokes of the race. Representing UT were coxswain Cheryl Mohammed, stroke Marjorie Henry, Debbie Berg, Kyle Corscadden, and Janine Robinson.

"Even though the women didn't win, they still did a good job out there," said Women's Coach Dave Thomas.

Howell Edges South In "Anything Goes"

On March 24, 1979 at the Fairgrounds a number of residents from the University of Tampa residence halls competed in the first "Anything Goes" competition. The winner was Howell with 155 points, closely followed by South with 140 points. Coming in third were the residents of Rivershore Towers with a combined total of 115 points. The turnout was disappointing but those who did come, I believe, did enjoy themselves. There were no representatives from McKay and Delo in the competition. The events included in the competition were the egg toss, amoeba race, egg spoon race, three legged race, frisbee toss for accuracy, infinity volleyball, and the panty hose race. Howell will receive 200 points in the race for best residence hall as well as $100 for the residence hall council. Runnerup will receive 150 points and $50, the third place team will receive 100 points and $25.

At the completion of 10 events, Smiley Residence Hall is still in first place with 1,710 points. In second place is South/West with 1,124 points. Howell Hall is in third place with 925 points.

Basketball Club Sponsors Tourney For David Carr

By WAYNE F. HUTCHINS

The UT Basketball Club will sponsor an open invitational tournament Friday-Saturday, April 13-14. All proceeds from the entrance fee of $10 per team will be forwarded to the DAVID CARR BENEFIT CAMPAIGN. For those who are unaware of this cause, it involves money to help pay medical bills for David Carr, a former UT student who has been stricken with a serious blood disease.

This single elimination tournament will be played in Howell Gymnasium with first round play starting at 4 p.m. Friday, April 13. The winners will move on to second round play Saturday noon, April 14, with the championship game concluding this event that evening at 7 p.m. There will be trophies awarded to the members of the winning team, an all-tourney consisting of five, and a MVP selected in the FIRST ANNUAL UT BASKETBALL CLUB INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT.

The tournament card will consist of four teams from the university, three outside teams from the Tampa City Recreational League and the UT Basketball Club squad. Team selection and seating will be on a first come, first serve basis. An eligible team consists of at the minimum five members. UT fraternity or social organizations, faculty, staff and UT student body members are encouraged and welcome to enter teams into this benefit tournament. As mentioned earlier, the entrance fee of $10 per team will be forwarded to the DAVID CARR BENEFIT CAMPAIGN.

Applications can be made by submitting roster and name of team along with entrance fee i.e., make checks payable to DAVID CARR BENEFIT CAMPAIGN (to Mr. Wayne F. Hutchins, McKay Hall Director or through mail box number 70F).

SHORT STOPS

The UT Basketball Club was eliminated in first round play of the third annual Tampa Tribune Tournament. This was a statewide invitational tournament that had the best AAU and Industrial League teams competing. UT lost to Reeves-Birdsong Volkswagen 85-55, a team that consisted of former USF basketball stars that went on to capture the tournament championship. In that game UT club player Tracey Diel and Eugene Johnson chipped in 12 and 10 points, respectively.
