

Minaret becomes weekly!

The Minaret, until now a bi-weekly student publication of the University of Tampa, will become a weekly publication effective immediately.

Several factors were taken into consideration by the editors and staff of the Minaret before making the decision.

By becoming a weekly newspaper, the Minaret will be able to print more timely news. It will eliminate a one-week lapse of time which is presently occurring with a bi-weekly publication.

A weekly newspaper will provide better communications between students, faculty, and administrators.

It is felt that by publishing a shorter edition, more often, the staff will be able to greatly improve the contents of the paper.

The Minaret policies will remain as they were in the past.

Classified ads will be run free of charge for University of Tampa students.

Fraternity news will be printed, regardless of length. It is, however, requested that they not be editorialized.

All editorial content of the Minaret will be decided upon by the editorial staff. Letters to the editor must be signed, but the name of the writer will be omitted on request. Letters should not exceed 300 words in length.

The Minaret will be distributed every Thursday. All material to be printed should be submitted to Box 1075 in the University Post Office by 12 noon the Friday prior to the desired publication date.

The Minaret Office is located in Room 439 of Plant Hall. Office hours are: Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 11 a.m.-2 p.m., and Tuesday and Thursday, 2 p.m.-4:30 p.m.

VOLUME XXXXII, 3

University of Tampa, Tampa, Florida

SEPTEMBER 30, 1971

With a theme and a committee, the big Homecoming celebration at the University of Tampa on Nov. 13 is well into the planning stages. The theme, "Spartan Suncoast Showcase," brings the entire Suncoast area into the scheme of things at the University. Committee chairmen are Claudia Pontecorvo, queen, and Barry Lydon, general student Homecoming chairman, both seated, and standing (from left) William Bush, half-time coordinator; Lorraine Duthie, lawn display; Sue Huyler, decorations and refreshments, and Richard Barrer, entertainment. Also on the committee is John Magnolia. Tampa hosts East Carolina as its 1971 Homecoming football foe.

Chandler sets rules governing parking of cycles around campus

by Peggy Watts

Mr. Medwick Chandler, Security Director for the University of Tampa, has issued the following information concerning cycles being parked on campus.

It is unlawful to park motorcycles at McKay Hall. The fire inspector has deemed it a safety and fire hazard. These cycles block the fire exit, drip grease and oil which are both flammable and slippery, and it is against fire regulations to have a gasoline vehicle in an enclosed living area.

There have been numerous bicycles stolen on campus. The security office is keeping a constant patrol to try to thwart these incidents. They recommend that all bicycles be registered with the office; otherwise there is no way of recovering a stolen bicycle. There is no cost for this registration. Forms may be obtained from dormitory directors.

It is further recommended that students register all valuables; stereos, radios, tape players, etc. These valuables are registered by serial number.

Chandler said that many students have fraudulently registered vehicles by using an upper-classman's name or a fake address. This is a very serious violation of Article V which states: "Students are cautioned against falsifying or being a party to the falsification, actively or passively, of any official University record or document. Sanctions will also be imposed upon any student who uses a falsified record or document."

Any student who wishes, has until October 15 to voluntarily surrender with no fear of punishment and he will be issued a restricted parking permit.

No student living within one half mile of the campus may have a vehicle on campus.

West and Smith will represent UT in D.C.

Dr. Charles West, Vice-president of Student Affairs, and Chuck Smith, President of the Student Government Association, will attend the third annual Presidents to Presidents Conference to be held in Washington, D.C., on October 1, 2 and 3.

One of the purposes of the conference, according to David Wanser, Conference Director, is to bring students and administrators from every state in the Union together offering the chance to meet with other people with similar problems and different solutions.

This will be the third Presidents to Presidents Conference the University has attended.

UT library receives Kimmel collection

by Joanne Stygles

Thirty-five years ago Stanley Kimmel took the wrong turn. This detour led him to a house near Belair, in Hartford County, Maryland, the supposed birthplace of John Wilkes Booth, assassin of President Abraham Lincoln.

Today, Kimmel's history and lore of "The Mad Booths of Maryland", is available to the students and faculty of the University of Tampa.

The book is an authentic account of the lives of one of America's most infamous families. The source material for the book comprises an original portrait of John Wilkes Booth, and Kimmel's draft copy.

The collection is a vivid account of the facts associated with the tragedy at Ford's Theatre, and is a chronicle of Junius Brutus Booth's ten children.

Kimmel's long time friend, the late Carl Sanburg, a noted authority on Lincoln, tried to induce Kimmel to give his collection to the University of Illinois.

However, the University of Tampa's leading lady, Blanche Yurka, was able to persuade Mr. Kimmel to donate the valuable work to the Merl Kelce Library.

Kimmel, a newspaper man by profession, served with the French Army during World War I. He has worked with the State Department, Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, and was associate editor of the Pan-American Magazine in Panama.

Besides "The Mad Booths of Maryland", Kimmel has published "The Kingdom of Smoke", "Leaves on the Water", "Mr. Lincoln's Washington", "Mr. Davis' Richmond", "The King's Island" and "Island People".

Two collections of his poems have been published entitled "Strange Voyages" and "Crucifixion."

The collection is on display at the Merl Kelce Library.

Editorial

More views on parking problem

Most of the students, staff, and faculty recognize that the parking situation on campus is a problem. However, many members of each special interest group are prone to analyze the problem only from their own point of view. For example, some staff members spend considerable time writing heart rending appeals to the traffic committee explaining the reasons that they should not pay a fine for parking in student spaces. Similarly, some impatient students demand that their group be given a few hundred additional spaces immediately. Further complicating the issue, some faculty members who do not have a private parking space, are demanding one.

As with most problems of this nature, the solution will probably be a compromise.

To get a better understanding of the degree of progress being made toward solving the various elements of this problem, I questioned those people involved in developing the present and future policy. Among those whom I interviewed was Colonel Clifton, Chairman of the Campus Traffic Committee. Colonel Clifton said that his committee is "trying to do something." He emphasized, however, that "we should all cooperate with Dr. Owens' 60 day trial period which ends on October 31, 1971."

Colonel Clifton said he is pleased that the S.G.A. has developed a student parking committee and he will "be happy to work together with the students on this problem."

Colonel Clifton said, "a study of the situation shows that enough spaces adjacent to the campus such as the swimming pool area, are available but require a little walk."

I asked why the lot by the Maintenance building was changed from student space to staff space. The Colonel replied that an attempt was made to concentrate staff in one place, faculty in another and students in another. He said "old staff areas are now student areas." When I asked about space on the fairgrounds, Colonel Clifton said "the fair grounds commission is now asking an exorbitant price for rent and we are trying to get them down to a reasonable figure."

In reference to peak periods, Colonel Clifton said he personally feels that rescheduling classes for equal attendance in the morning and afternoon would help solve the problem. He feels that the optimum figure would be about 400-500 students in class at one time.

From Mr. Chandler I learned that some student complaints are being resolved. For example 18 additional spaces in the vicinity of the library and maintenance building have been redesignated for students.

Another problem concerning registration of cars has been clarified. A student with two cars may now register both for the price of one. It is suggested, however, that he not drive both cars to school at the same time.

Student displeased with the business office

If one is a student at Tampa U, he realizes the inefficiency of the Business Office. Everything it touches seems to turn out wrong. It seems to be endowed with the "reverse Midas touch." If only the school would do away with the unnecessary tasks which fill its busy day - tuition payments, pay checks, traffic tickets, graduation fees, etc. - then the employees would have more time to do nothing, which they seem to be best at.

During Registration, the Business Office is very much in need of student help. However, when the time comes for the students to receive their pay, the Business Office is once again very much in need of help. It is a rare occasion when a student gets paid correctly and on time.

What Can I Say - it's SGA! by Stygles

In these times of rapid change and disordered confusion it's nice to know that something has remained constant. What? S.G.A. of course.

Yes, my friends, Chuck Smith is still sitting in the back of the room, defending the school, and telling everyone how hard it is to be Homecoming Chairman. While Maureen Startt keeps pounding the table for order.

On a lighter note, Freshman elections are due to begin. So any freshman interested in participating in Student Government should start their campaigns. All that's needed is 12 hours, and to be in good standing with the school.

It seems that we are stuck with our present Homecoming theme, Florida Suncoast Showcase. So now all you Greeks can start racking your brains for ideas about lawn displays and skits.

Have you ever felt you were the last person to receive notice about up-coming events? Dean Johns feels that way now, no one informed her about the Homecoming theme until last week. Why is that so astonishing? She was one of the Deans that was choosing it.

Anyway, Lykes Hall has finally got a T.V. - a colored one at that. So there is hope for the rest of us.

Circle "K" is organizing

All male students who are interested in becoming members of Circle "K" are invited to attend meetings at 7:00 p.m., Thursday nights in Room 5 of the University Union.

The purpose of Circle "K" International is to provide college men with a means by which those students interested in helping others and being of service can express this concern. There are over 800 Circle "K" clubs through the world.

Students who desire additional information may obtain it in the office of the Vice President of Student Affairs, Room 363, Plant Hall.

Student involvement can help registration

This year, Registration at the University of Tampa hit rock bottom! Registration wasn't a procedure, it was more like a monopoly game: Stop, do not pass go, go directly to Room 3, Plant Hall, the Ballroom. . . Registration is a problem but it is not unique here at the University of Tampa.

It is a great relief to know that something is finally being done about it. Next year, registration will be held entirely in the University Union, this will eliminate the back and forth procedure. Also, a more authentic looking Student I.D. Card is in the planning stages.

It is fine to criticize as long as we attempt to solve the problem. Students can help their own cause by pre-enrolling. Pre-enrolling makes the registration procedure one else whose last name resembles his.

The lack of common courtesy exhibited by some of the ladies who deal with the public is another unpleasant matter involving the Business Office. If it takes such an effort for these ladies to be decent to the public, then they should work for that branch of the Business Office which requires no contact whatsoever with the outside public.

I realize that there are some competent people working for the Business Office. If this was not the case, the school would have been forced to close a long time ago. However, it is a shame that these qualified people have to work with the, shall I say, "incompetent" personnel.

more efficient and drastically reduces the time span involved. Any student who has a suggestion on improving registration is asked to contact Gary Stevens, Assistant to the Registrar.

There is a two-way street that has to be opened between the students and the department involved in any issue. Here are three ways to handle a complaint or suggestion: A personal letter to persons involved, a motion at the S.G.A. meeting, or a signed letter to the Minaret.

Registration can be changed by one of the above methods but not by idle complaints voiced in the lunch lines. It is time to act like mature college students and handle these problems in the proper manner.

Third Parents' Weekend scheduled for Nov. 5th

by Bob Ruggiero

Yes, students! By popular demand, the third annual Parents' Weekend is soon to become a reality. Parents' Weekend will be held Nov. 5-7. Parents of the northeastern area will be leaving on a chartered flight out of New York, through arrangements made by the Regency Travel Service. Headquarters and accommodations for this fabulous affair will be at the Manger Inn on the river.

The Student Development Council has really made it a point that parents "know where it's at" on the University campus.

Friday's schedule consists of registration at the University Union, class visitations, consultations with professors and deans, campus tours, and a special luncheon with President Owens in Fletcher Lounge for Parent Donors of one hundred dollars or more. Friday afternoon

Travel and football---city nights

The University of Tampa will salute Brandon, MacDill Air Force Base, Lakeland, Clearwater and Sarasota at special city night programs during this year's football season.

Fans from those areas will be bused to Tampa Stadium for the football game during their "night" through a special package deal that includes reserved seat tickets on the 40-yard line, bus transportation, a badge and program.

Nearby Brandon's special night was the opening game against the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs.

Prices for the different city nights range according to distance — $6 for MacDill airmen, $8 for Lakeland and Clearwater fans and $12 for those in Sarasota.

Other special nights are MacDill — Oct. 2, Youngstown State; Lakeland — Oct. 9, Dayton; Clearwater — Oct. 23, Villanova, and Sarasota — Nov. 6, Mississippi.

Ticket outlets are at the MacDill Service Club and the Chamber of Commerce in the various cities.

During the football game the cities will be recognized with announcements over the public announcement system and WFLA Radio which broadcasts the Spartan games.

This is the second straight year the University of Tampa has scheduled city night programs. They were inaugurated by Robert B. Gronlund, Vice President for Development and Public Relations at the University, and are being coordinated by Ed Snee, Director of Development for Annual Giving.

may be used as free time for students to spend with their parents. At 1:00 pm tours of Busch Gardens will be available for those who are interested at $4.50 per person. Friday evening there will be an address by President Owens, and the Drama Department will present a production entitled, "Excerpts From the World of Carl Sandburg."

Saturday morning there will be a Parents Association Board of Directors meeting, followed by a FABULOUS UNIVERSITY OF TAMPA BRUNCH in the University Union. Before and after the brunch there will be a film entitled, "We're Number One," a football highlight film of 1970 season for all interested persons.

Another tour of Busch Gardens will be available on Saturday for anyone who may have missed the Friday tour. The Student Development Council has scheduled more free time for all the homesick to see their parents. Saturday night, at 8 pm the Tampa Spartans will challenge the University of Mississippi on the gridiron.

Sunday, President and Mrs. Owens will be serving coffee at their residence, at Barritt House.

All in all, Parents' Weekend should be a memorable one for all.

Library adds volumes hours remain same

by Gayle Deneau

Due to a shortage of funds, the library hours will remain as they now stand (Mon.-Thurs. 8-10, Fri. 8-5, Sat. 9-4, and Sun. 2-5). Since the administration requires the presence of an adult in the library at all times, longer hours would mean more adults must be hired, but the money shortage prevents doing so.

The library is presently operating 75 hours per week with a staff of two women and a variety of student assistants. The only time library hours can be extended, as usual, is before and during final exams.

In Oct., 1969 when Merl Kelce Library opened, it was composed of less than 100,000 volumes. This amount is expected to rise to 150,000 by the end of this year; one-third in new books alone.

Included in the volume count is a new addition. A 19,000 volume ultramicrofiche collection entitled the "Library of American Civilization," which covers America up to World War I on small microfiche cards.

This unique way of researching is actually a library in itself. These amazing clear, plastic cards can contain up to 1000 pages, each reduced to about two pinheads in size. This really makes it easy on the student, who has only to locate the card he needs, and place it on the microfiche viewer.

Imagine, 700,000 pages in volume form, normally would take up to 2000 feet of shelf space, while in Microbook form the entire collection can be stored in 30-card trays.

Jack and Sally Jenkins, University of Tampa alumni, appearing as Agnes and Michael in "I Do, I Do," on Sunday, Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in McKay Auditorium.

Jack and Sally star in lighthearted musical

by Gayle Deneau

Showing signs of a near sellout, the premier performance of "I Do, I Do" looks like a play that shouldn't be missed. So far, all $5.00 have been sold, with only a few $4.00 places left. Three dollar seats may still be purchased.

"This is further evidence of the tremendous interest the people of Tampa have in this University," stated Printy Arthur, director of income trusts and bequests at the University of Tampa. "With Jack and Sally (performers) being alumni, the proceeds going for academic scholarships, and the charming show "I Do, I Do," I think we may just have all the ingredients for a sellout."

The play is due to open Sunday, Oct. 10 at 7:30 p.m. in McKay Auditorium.

Tickets are being sold at the Bookstore in the Student Union and in Room 344 in Plant Hall.

Music Department has busy choral season in '71

by Greg Biggs

The Music Department has some big things in store for music lovers at the University of Tampa as well as the surrounding community. Concerts, half-time shows, and special programs will be headliners in the new musical season.

First in line is the Stage Band, under the direction of Mr. Greg Holleman. It is a 22-piece group of musicians whose specialty is playing jazz and rock music. Their main purpose is to explore all aspects of popular music. They do this by playing concerts at local high schools and by performing for local clubs and service organizations, such as the Lion's Club.

The Choral Department, under the direction of Mr. Malcolm Westly, also has big things planned. Even though planning for the Christmas program is the predominant thought, Mr. Westly has other concerts and performances lined up for the University Singers, the Madrigal Singers, the Men's Glee Club, and the Spartan Serenaders Quartet.

TEP foresees a good year

The brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi congratulate their new brothers, Tom Harrigan and Joe Horodosi.

The brotherhood has started the year off well with numerous parties including one aboard a yacht. Many more parties are in the planning including a barbecue after the next football game.

Under good leadership this year, TEP expects to be in good shape for the intramural season.

With everything looking good this year, TEP wishes to congratulate all new pledges and say that the "Welcome Mat" is always out at the house.

The largest choral body is the University Singers, who are now into a different musical approach over last year (such as a jazz version of "We Three Kings From Orient Are"). They are putting more emphasis on modern numbers with percussion accompaniment to add more rhythm to their music. Although most of their numbers will be more modern, they will still retain some with a more serious approach. Their Christmas program is slated for December 7, at 8 p.m. in Falk Theatre.

The Madrigal Singers, whose specialty is madrigal type numbers, are also working on their Christmas program. Their music has a more serious tone although the whole program hasn't been decided on as of yet.

The Men's Glee Club, a group which has always been popular in Tampa's club circles, starts off their year by performing for the Lion's Club in Oct.

Finally we have the Spartan Serenaders who will also be performing for clubs in the Tampa area. They also have some specials on tap as well as some television appearances.

Mr. Westly points out that all of the concerts given by the choral department are to be recorded by a professional recording company and discs will be made at the end of the year.

The fine group of musicians that provide the half-time entertainment at the football games are the Spartan Marching Band under the leadership of Mr. Richard Rodean. Their first half-time show was a salute to Walt Disney and other specials are undoubtedly planned for upcoming games.

ROTC opens contest to UT student body

The Military Science Department will sponsor a competition to select a design for a Unit Insignia for UT ROTC.

Competition is open to all full-time students. The Insignia is to be a stylized design depicting corp cadets with the University of Tampa.

All entries must be submitted to the Military Science Department prior to Oct. 25. Prizes will be awarded for first, second, and third place winners.

The Military Science Department has further announced the appointment of Buzz Geiger, Spartan defensive tackle, as Cadet Battalion Commander. Geiger will receive the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Appointed as Cadet Battalion Operations Officer is Spartan trainer and U.T. senior, Rick Parrish who will receive the rank of Captain. Company A will be commanded by Joe Morales, Cadet First Lieutenant.

Initial enrollment for Military Science courses, a total of 84, exceeded all predictions by about seventy-five per cent.

Judges for the Insignia Contest will be Wallace Green, Art Department; Captain Ralph Ripley, ROTC; and Buzz Geiger, U.T. senior.

For further information regarding the ROTC Program or the contest may be obtained from the Military Science Department.

Antigone comes alive on Falk stage

by Bob Ruggiero

A woman wants to do something she feels is right. Her boss says she cannot. She disagrees with her boss and she turns against his command and carries out her intended act.

A Women's Lib' movement? No, the theme of the classic play, "Antigone," Mr. Vince Petti, of the Drama Department, has improved the script by updating the language to fit modern times. Tony Negron, a former Tampa student, has designed all the costumes and Petti has designed the scenery for "Antigone" by the use of slide projection. In this technique, Petti projects images of battle scenes upon a backdrop for a truly unique effect.

Mary Quigley is the star of the play portraying Antigone and Skip Hodgkins co-stars in the role of Creon. Lissa Sawyer, Holly Taylor, Richard Ganis, Don Marinelli, Mike

Special to The Minaret

University of Tampa education seniors are now spread around the community getting the flavor of the classrooms they will soon call "home" when commencement day comes around, all to soon now. University and public school officials took part in a briefing session for the teacher interns recently on campus. Shown from left: Philip Bondi, Hillsborough County intern placement supervisor for the Hillsborough County Board of Public Instruction; Miss Marie Valenti, Tampa, elementary education intern who will be at Lee Elementary School; Dr. Howard W. ## Student protection a serious matter

by Peggy Watts

The matter of student protection was one of the subjects discussed at the meeting held in the President's dining room Tuesday, Sept. 14 at 8 am. Malcolm Beard of the Sheriff's office; Chief of Police, Mr. Otero; Chief of Police, Walter Heinrich of L.E.E.P. (Law Enforcement Education Program); Dr. B. D. Owens; Edward Sliz; Dr. Edward Ward; Mrs. Marisol Johns and Dr. Charles West were in attendance.

It seems that each year during the summer months and during the mid-winter Gasparilla festival there are numerous incidents involving Tampa U. students and the habitués of Plant Park.

This year, however, the incidents were worse than usual. This was a matter of concern causing the involvement of the Police Department. As a result of this meeting there has been an increase in police patrols throughout the park area. Numerous arrests have been made already.

Dean Johns and Dr. West both advise all girls to avoid Plant Park whenever possible; to never go there along especially at night; to stay away from poorly lighted areas of the park and to report any and all incidents, no matter how slight to Dean Johns, the house mothers or campus security.

Absence policy, a matter for student concern

by Carol Murrell

There is a new and complicated cut policy on campus this year.

According to the Registrar's office "a student may not be dropped from a course with fewer absences than the equivalent of one week plus one period."

The major complication in this policy is that each individual professor may use his discretion in determining how many cuts a student may have in his class.

Dr. Charles Hyde, Acting Dean of Faculty, has strongly advised students to contact their professors and find out exactly what their policies are. It is the responsibility of the student to know the cut policy of each of their professors.

Any student wishing to read the exact policies of individual professors may go to Mr. Hyde's office and see the file containing written statements from all professors.

If a student should have any problems regarding the absence policy in a class, he should contact the professor involved or Mr. Hyde.

WDAE radio show a new UT addition

by Carol L. Murrell

Campus has been engulfed by a wave of new faces and other new paraphernalia. The latest new addition to life at UT is a radio talk show, "Campus Point of View."

This will be the first talk show of this type in the area, and it will be produced by WDAE (1250) radio station for the University of Tampa with assistance from the UT public relations department.

These weekly shows will encompass all of UT campus life, University problems and current events.

The personable Mr. Mel Berman will host this hour-long series every Sunday night at 7:00 pm. Mr. Berman is one of the brightest men in TV and radio today.

He has a way of moving an interview and has been known to surprise his subjects with his frank and candid manner. He is not to be missed.

The first show will be aired on Sunday, October 3, 1971 at 7:00 pm.

Mr. Berman will be interviewing Jack and Sally Jenkins, who will be starring in "I Do, I Do" at McKay Auditorium on October 10, 1971.

The couple will discuss nudity in the theatre, their experiences with students on the college tours and their professional lives.

Following Mr. Berman's interview, the telephone lines will be opened for questions and discussion about the program. Any listener can call in to voice his opinion.

Everyone should make a point of joining Mr. Berman with Jack and Sally Jenkins on Sunday, October 3, 1971 at 7:00 pm on 1250 on your radio.

New Draft Law "up in the air"

by Mario Recchia

A recent overflow of concerned students have been visiting the Draft Board to see where they stand. Therefore a clarification of the new draft law was recently released by the Selective Service System in Washington. These laws concern the incoming freshmen and the upperclassmen.

The new freshmen are the ones most affected by the new legislation. At present the old Military Selective Service Act of 1967 is being filibustered in the Senate. This leaves everyone "up in the air."

In past years students could acquire student deferments with ease; but until the new bill is passed no student deferments will be given. The Tampa University Draft Board has specific orders not to send any 109 forms (student deferments) to Washington. Yet upperclassmen will be eligible for the student deferments if the present bill is approved.

Dr. Curtis Tarr, Selective Service director, clearly stated "If the pending Selective Service legislation does not pass, it would not be in a registrant's best interest to obtain a student deferment which would extend his liability until age 35. Should Congress change the legislation to provide for deferments for new incoming freshmen, applications for deferments will not be jeopardized by delaying submission until after passage of the new law."

The release also stated that if the Congress failed to pass the new law, then the President could step in and take charge. If this unlikely event occurred, he could presumably cancel all of those who have or have held deferments. If this happens, it is believed that the military quota could be met by inducting those who graduated, dropped out of school or changed their occupation. Recent college graduates or dropouts would make up the majority of inductions. Officials also stated that cancellations of present deferments would not be necessary.

"Currently there are approximately six million young men under age 35 with deferments. Approximately 500,000 of these normally lose their deferments during a 12-month period. The largest groups of deferred men are those who have received fatherhood, occupational or student deferments." So, for now, everyone will remain in the same position as last year until the Congress comes up with a new legislation.

A delightful evening with Madame Petrova

by Kam Schaffer

As I sat in the middle of the theatre, there was a feeling of excitement all around me. People were whispering and watching the dark, empty stage, waiting to see what the evening had in store for them; wondering what that silent film star would have to offer since her retirement in the latter part of the 1920's.

Everyone was ready to sit back and enjoy it. Slowly, the stage lit up and there she appeared! Poised and sophisticated, in a black velvet dress, she began the evening.

The first part of the program was a presentation of scenes from two of her early plays. The first offering was the opening scene from "What Do We Know?" It was a good insight into a contemporary opinion of the Puritanism of the early twentieth century.

The next selection, "The Making of a Silent Movie," was an amusing portrayal of the directing of a silent movie, used effectively with a strobe light.

The third sample, the opening episode from the controversial play "Hurricane," seemed most impressive. The dramatic speaking voice of Olga Petrova was highly praised.

The evening spent with Madame Olga Petrova was a rewarding one and surely one to be remembered. Her talent is extraordinary.

Antigone...

Skaletsky, Jack Spirtos, and Al Alvarez help complete the cast.

The Chorus acts as citizens disagreeing with the King. The Chorus members are Dave Yacker, Joann Hubner, Cecile Bell, Hugh Quigley, Bell Knopke, Prudy Sherman and Shannon Alexander. Attendants to the Queen will be Meg Maloney and Ellen Worcester.

Petti will direct a color video tape of the play that will be produced by the Hillsborough County School System. The tape will be shown at various schools in the surrounding area, which should be a great publicity boost for the University's Drama Department.

"Antigone" is free for all students with University of Tampa I.D. cards. Seating arrangements are based on a first come, first serve basis. Mr. Petti enthusiastically encourages everyone to attend the play — especially the University's freshmen. Performances will run from Oct. 20-23 with matinees on Oct. 21 through 23 at 10:30 and evening performances beginning at 8:30.

This is the "Age of Aquarius," "Age of Astrology," and "Age of Ecology." The student body of the University of Tampa is not about to be left behind in today's "super" culture. A "sign of the times" has been placed in front of the student center at UT. Ecology-minded students have come across a new positive approach to the "Keep off the grass" signs. This sign says: "If allowed to survive this grass will produce enough oxygen for two students to breathe for one semester."

Leslie Jones stars in Faculty Artist series

With a program of classics sure to challenge his keyboard musicianship, J. Leslie Jones, instructor in music at the University of Tampa, will open the current Faculty Artist Series, Sept. 30 at 8 p.m.

Presented in the ballroom of the main building, Plant Hall, the program will consist of such popular masterworks as "Etude No. 2" by Paganini-Liszt; Preludes "Poissons d'Or" and "L'Isle Joyeuse" by Debussy; three waltzes, "Ballade No. 2" and "Scherzo No. 1" by Chopin and the moving "Pathétique," a sonata by Beethoven.

Acclaimed for exceptional talent plus a musical insight and understanding beyond his years, Jones will have an opportunity to exhibit his sensitive artistry in the beautiful phrasing of Schubert's "Impromptu," Op. 90, No. 4.

Dick Rodean, chairman of the UT Department of Music, announces that the program, like all others in the Faculty Artist Series, will be open to the public without charge. Everyone is cordially invited to come and spend an evening listening to Beethoven and Chopin. It's guaranteed to be enjoyable.

I guess you can say I'm President of the "Put Freddie Solomon at Running Back" committee.

After seeing the Tech game, he seems more valuable at running back than at quarterback. He runs the 40 in 4.3 (only one tenth of a second slower than you-know-who). He is a threat every time he touches the ball. Many people are saying he's too small for running back but he and McDaniels from Tech are the same size, and look what McDaniels did. I believe if Solomon were put at halfback he could have as good a year as McQuay did when he was a freshman.

I hope the plea is heeded by the next game.

Mark Wakefield wasn't thrown to too much in the Tech game. I don't know why. He's the finest receiver in the state (yes, Carlos Alvarez included). Nobody runs routes like Wakefield. He drew single coverage all night. Everybody knows Mark can't be covered one-on-one. He beat double coverage all last year. He and Buddy Carter know each other like a book.

Alex Edlin is definitely the best tight end around. He has great hands, runs routes real good, great speed and tremendous concentration for football. At 195, he blocks like a 230 pounder.

Ernie Dubose, who was the best running back in the spring, didn't play at all against Tech. I hear he hits the holes faster than anybody else. Ken Moorhead also played very little against Tech. Moorhead was sought after by a lot of colleges, but chose Tampa.

I hope the defense changes some. Sammy Gellerstedt played linebacker against Tech. He's more valuable at tackle, where he puts pressure on the quarterback.

Well, the players tell me they'll come back. I believe so. We'll see in the next few games if some adjustments are made.

Intramural program to hold football jamboree

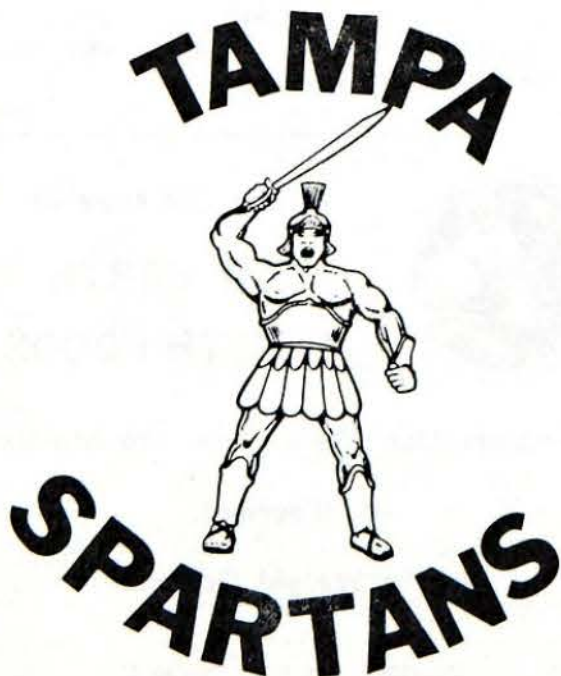

The Intramural Football program begins on September 30, with the third annual "Flag Football Jamboree". The "Jamboree" consists of two games being played at one time, with each game lasting twenty minutes.

There will be approximately twelve teams participating in league play, which will begin Tuesday, October 5. A 40 game schedule will be used for each team. Among the teams participating this year will be the defending champions of last year, Majors Club. In addition, all fraternities, dorms and some independent organizations will be represented.

To highlight the season, a most valuable athlete award and an outstanding sportsmanship award will be presented at the annual Sports Award Banquet.

The 1971-1972 Intramural Football season looks to be another exciting year with the Majors Club to be challenged by strong representations by Sig Ep, PKP and Pen and Sword Club.

Spartans 31 - Mocs. 14

by K. R. Lombardia

Adjustments were made, the team jelled—the result was a smashing 31-14 victory over an outmanned Chattanooga football team.

Defense was the word in the first quarter as both teams failed to tally. Just as the second period got under way, though, Tampa capped a 70-yard drive with a 17-yard Buddy Carter to Alex Edlin scoring toss. With Super Soper's kick, Tampa led 7-0.

Midway through the second period, Joey Clark was roughed after punting and Tampa continued their drive to the Moc 20-yard line, where they bogged down. The Spartans settled for 3, however, on "Super's" 37-yard field goal.

As the game moved into the third quarter, Tampa collected on a Mocassin error. Martin, sweeping to his left, fumbled, and Harry Smith recovered to give Tampa the ball at the Spartan 47. Shortly after, Willie Miller took a pitch-out from Carter and lofted a 29-yard scoring strike to "Marvelous" Mark Wakefield. Soper's kick made it 17-0, Spartans.

On Chattanooga's ensuing series, Joey Clark picked off an errant Mickey Brokas pass and galloped 30 yards for the score. Soper's XP Machine made it 24-0.

At this point freshman Frank Pitts entered the game. Pitts scampered 25 yards on a draw play after Ken Moorhead's 17-yard run, Solomon's 12-yard scramble, and Alan Pittman's 10-yard burst. Soper's kick made it 31-0, Tampa.

Chattanooga scored two times in the fourth quarter for their tally, mostly against Spartan reserves. One, a Brokas to Parker pass of 16 yards, and David Sessums' 33-yard run. Brokas booted both extra points.

The win was Coach Bill Fulcher's first as the Spartan mentor. Tampa faces the Youngstown Penguins next, in an afternoon game Saturday, Oct. 2 at 1:30 in Tampa Stadium.
