Brig. General Myer Speaks At UT

Brig. General Edward C. Myer, a high-ranking Army War College General, drew a large crowd to UT's International Room Friday, March 22 when he spoke on the "Nixon Doctrine and the Role of the Army in the Post Vietnam Era."

Since President Nixon's doctrine is supposed to implicate a generation of peace, General Myer is concerned with the following question: What is the role of the military for such a generation of peace?

In dealing with this question, General Myer gave his point of view regarding the military's role, and then explained means by which the army could carry out the doctrine.

General Myer explains that the U.S. commitments are the same as they were in the past. However, with the Nixon Doctrine, the U.S. will seek to perform security responsibilities in a somewhat different manner from the way they had previously done it.

U.S. strategy will move towards more flexibility. General Myer stated that, "The U.S. alone is not the world's policeman; others must share the burden."

The need for the active U.S. general will be decreased and in turn, the U.S. will increase its reliance on the reserves.

Another trend that will be brought into being by the doctrine is an increased emphasis on collective security. The Nixon Doctrine contains principles for U.S. foreign policy; it is not merely a military doctrine.

It indicates an era of more cautious military involvement for several reasons: Firstly, General Myer explains that the bi-polar world is currently breaking down, and the multi-polar world is evolving. The U.S. is no longer merely distressed with immediate threats such as the Soviet Union, but is also concerned with the growing unpredictable threats.

For the United States' economic well-being and security, there can be no isolation for the U.S. The U.S. interest abroad is growing due to the needs for energy sources and raw materials. Thus, U.S. overseas commitments are absolutely necessary.

Since successful diplomacy is deemed necessary to keep conflicts at a minimum in the international environment, the elimination of the military force has not been reached. The military force is considered a basis for peace.

The second part of General Myer's speech dealt with the question: What can the army do better to make it self-sufficiently unique in the future? He stated that the army is essential for the success of the Nixon Doctrine.

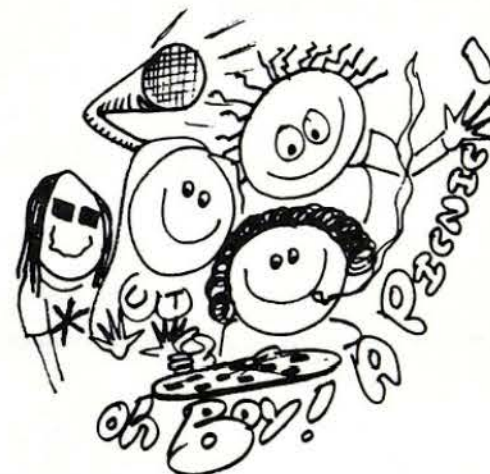

General Myer explains that the army's political and psychological roles are initial elements of diplomacy. The strength of the army is important for the role of preserving peace.

The army must get involved in partnership activities. It must be prepared to meet various international obligations.

In such an unpredictable environment, General Myer claims that the army is well-suited to serve as an element of strength. It is a constant and sustained power, and has the power of mobility. Another advantage is that it can operate in a wide band.

In summarizing the answers to this question, General Myer suggests that the army, "must be a hedge for the uncertainties and unpredictable threats of the future." The army is qualified to give the Nixon Doctrine the flexibility necessary for success, and to preserve peace.

Rocnic Fun

Are you bored with the T.U. campus on the weekends? You say T.U. never gave you anything that didn't cost money? Don't complain . . . the Student Government Association presents a rock picnic on April 1, Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m. in Plant Park for all T.U. students.

For us T.U. music lovers, the Downhill Racers band will amuse our ears all afternoon. It'll be an old fashioned picnic with events like 3-legged races and horseshoe pitching, sponsored by Pen and Sword. For exercise that afternoon, you can play volleyball.

Of course, there will be food. Pizza will be provided by Milano's. With that thirsty meal, soft drinks will be served. Hopefully though, the Rathskeller will be open.

Spend all your money on losing raffle tickets? Here's a raffle that's free. First prize is dinner for 2 at Brewmaster's Second prize is 2 tickets to Holiday on Ice. Third prize is a pair of tickets to the Yes concert. These are a few of the prizes and fun!

Where else but at T.U. can you rock out, have old-fashioned fun, a free meal, and an expense-paid date? No joke. Don't be a fool! See you on April Fool's Day, in Plant Park!

Attention:

Positions for the Minaret 73-74 now being requested.

Positions open are:

I Nearly Died!

It all started a week ago. . . . I'm a speech and drama major and a junior, just about to start winding my way out of school and what happens?

A letter comes out of the blue and lands in my post office box addressed from some guy in administration named Mendelsohn, yea that's it, Dr. Mendelsohn.

I read the letter and what does it say?

It has been decided by the Faculty that speech and drama have been dropped as majors at the University of Tampa.

Oh my gosh, my past flashes before my eyes, what?

I read it again SPEECH AND DRAMA dropped as majors.

All I could think of was three going on four wasted years. . . I could have gone to State, back home, and saved a few grand and only been two miles from Little Suzy.

What a bummer. . . .

The above illustration is only a simulation of what might go through the head of a UT student, if certain majors are dropped soon, as faculty discussion has it.

When is UT going to allow students to represent themselves and their cases to the Faculty and have a chance to defend themselves and their futures?

In all sincerity, dear professors of truth and knowledge, the time we spend here costs a considerable sum, and it is an investment for our futures. Our futures not yours.

Open up and give the students a voice, they know their own situations a little better than you.

Give students the right to attend faculty meetings and exchange their ideas and problems with yours.

"Let's get together and get something done."

Letters To The Editor

DEAR PRESIDENT:

Dear Mr. President,

I am one of your many admirers and would like you to know that I feel that you have done a terrific job this year as President of the Student Body here at the University of Tampa.

I feel, looking in retrospect, that you, in your term, have done more for the students than any other President preceeding you. You have achieved great milestones.

Much of your success, I am sure, is due to your outstanding personality. You are a rare politician because you are honest. You are always outgoing, warm, and cheerful, and always ready to help someone in need of your advice or guidance.

Wanted!

people who can:

If you can spend some time, even a few hours, with someone who needs a hand, not a handout, call your local Voluntary Action Center. Or write to: "Volunteer," Washington, D.C. 20013

We need you.

One of the best factors of your personality is that you are a winner; you get things done that you set out to do, you are competitive, and you strive to surpass what was available today for better unknown things of tomorrow. I know that what ever you choose to do in the future, you will be number one.

I would like you to know that you are highly respected among the students and faculty here at the University. In a few months, you will be graduating and soon your years here will all be behind you, and the world will be lucky to receive you.

I will be sad when you leave because I will be losing our most special person, but it will be a fresh and exciting new beginning for you. I would now like to wish you the best of luck and the best of life in the years to come.

Sincerely,
An Admirer

Tampa Bay Hotel Part III

Although there were not too many mysterious things going around in the Tampa Bay Hotel, there were some facts that amused almost everyone that visited.

For example, the tunnel that led from the hotel to the boathouse was two hundred feet long.

The cornerstone of the building was set in place before construction started. The cornerstone of a building is the first stone to be placed before construction starts. It is hollow and contains historical records of the period. The cornerstone of the Tampa Bay Hotel was placed on July 26, 1898, but its location is unknown. To this day nobody has found that cornerstone!

The elevator that we all use to go up and down Plant Hall is the original elevator of the hotel. At that time, the elevator was powered hydraulically, however, cables now power it. Did you know that the columns in the lobby are now made of marble. They are polished granite.

Other hotels constructed by Mr. Plant were: Port Tampa Inn, The Belleview, The Seminole, Ocala House and the Kissimmee. The only remaining functioning hotel is The Belleview.

The bronze statue of "Esmeralda" which is still in the Lobby, weighs two and a half tons and it took six hours and nine men to place her there.

When Mr. Plant died, all his properties were sold, particularly the Tampa Bay Hotel which was sold for one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars cash to the city of Tampa.

Shortly after Mrs. Plant sold her husband's hotel, she returned to Tampa and loaded thirteen train carloads of cherished art and masterpieces that were furnishings in the hotel and took them with her to Virginia.

The last manager of the hotel did exactly the same thing that Mrs. Plant did. He loaded some train carloads and took them to Ohio.

Afterwards, some presidents of the University of Tampa, prior to Dr. Owens' inauguration, borrowed some furniture and art pieces on a basis of a loan and never returned them.

NOTE:

I would like to thank for the cooperation given me by Mr. Robert Delack (Curator of the H. B. Plant Museum), Dr. J. W. Covington (Chairman of the Senior Seminar and writer of the last history of the Tampa Bay Hotel), and to all those other people for making this series of articles possible.

Under The Covers And Between The Sheets

Donovan is back with a new sound and a new record, Cosmic Wheels. When in the past he sang "Mellow Yellow", now he is exploring outer space and the problems of space travel. The song "Intergalactic Laxative" deals with getting constipated between Earth and Mars. Jim Horn and Bobby Keyes do their usual fine job handling the horns. All cuts are well produced and satisfying.

With Cosmic Wheels, Donovan is moving toward a musical emphasis rather than lyrical one. He is contemplating, Son of Cosmic Wheels or Star Dust In My Eye as a title for his next record. And another folkie moves on to bigger and better things. Peter, Paul and Mary lasted ten years, then they were forgotten. Tim Hardin and Tom Paxton live in obscurity somewhere. Joan Baez is lost in Washington, D.C. and Judy Collins survives through some quality of style she possesses.

Folk is dying in our complex society. It seems at this time impossible for a new folk artist to emerge and gain national attention simply because of the Rolling Stones, David Bowie, and Alice Cooper. Alice is predicting that 800,000 will pay 4.5 million dollars to see them during their upcoming tour of 55 cities in 60 days. Little does Alice have to worry about one man and a guitar.

Folk is alive somewhere, and if or when rock fades out, folk will have to re-emerge. In August 1971, Dylan did straight folk at the Concert For Bengla Desh. When the time is right, maybe he will emerge from his guitar case and start blowing in the wind again.

Clergy Coming

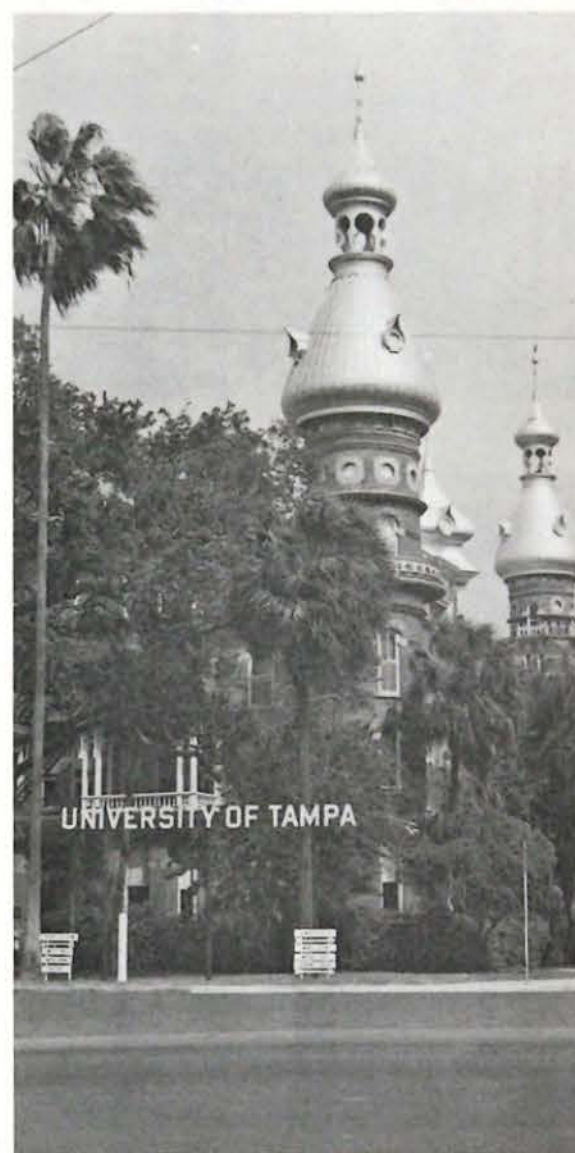

Problems in leadership facing the clergy will be the topic of discussion at a meeting by the Florida Clergy Economic Education Foundation at the University of Tampa April 6.

Dr. Newel W. Comish, author of "Effective Leadership of Voluntary Organizations," will lead the all-day seminar which will feature discussions on "Effective Church Leadership," an analysis of the problems faced by Florida Clergymen, possible solutions to them, and group discussions of individual problem solving.

The seminar will include a luncheon in Fletcher Lounge.

Academic Help

This semester Merl Kelce Library is offering academic help to students through the services of a reading specialist. Mrs. Bessie-Ruth McAbee, formerly Director of the Communications Laboratory and now a member of the library staff, Technical Services Division, will be available each day (Monday through Friday) from 10 to 11 a.m. in the Audio-Visual Room (Room 252) on the second floor of the library to help students strengthen academic skills necessary for success in college.

Listed are a few of the areas in which help is available:

Methods of textbook study

Taking and reviewing lecture notes

Preparing for and taking tests and examinations

Basic reading skills and speed reading

Vocabulary enrichment

Spelling

Grammar

Please inform your classes of this service and urge especially the foreign students to take advantage of this assistance. Individuals may be referred by professors or they may report voluntarily to the Audio-Visual Room (Room 252) in the library.

History of Falk Theatre

Falk Theater, formally Park Theater, was built in 1928 for the dual purpose of showing movies and for Vaudeville. The theater was owned by Wometco Enterprises in Miami and was designed to seat 1200 people. After many successful years of exhibition, Park theater finally saw its dying years at the end of the 50's, due to the popularity of wide screen motion pictures and exotic sound systems. The theater could not compete, so it was decided that it was time to sell.

Michell Wolfson, President of Wometco Enterprises, happened to be a close cousin of David Falk. David Falk was chairman of the board of Trustees of UT, and since the theater was not making a profit, Mr. Wolfson decided to sell it to the University of Tampa.

UT, very much interested in acquiring the theater, did not have sufficient funds with which to purchase the theater. David Falk, who had just previously died, left a sum of money to his widow, Mary Irene Falk. Mrs. Falk, together with her brother, Frank E. Mandel, created the Falk-Mandel Charity foundation. The foundation agreed to make a contribution that would fully cover the down payment for the theater.

On December 26, 1961, the Falk-Mandel foundation contributed 35,000 dollars for the down payment of what is now Falk theater. The total cost of the theater was 175,000 dollars and was to be paid in installments for the next 10 years at 4½% interest. The foundation then continued to assist in payments through annual contributions to the University.

Also on December 26, 1961, Dr. Delo, then president of UT, made a speech in which he listed 8 advantages he felt Falk would provide the University. He conceived that Falk would be;

1. A teaching auditorium for large lectures.

2. A place in which to hold all university convocations.
3. Site for all future artist lecture series.
4. Center for radio and TV teaching and production, and location, and location for an educational TV studio in conjunction W/WEDU.
5. A location for production and rehearsal for the U.'s choir, chorus and band.
6. Good facilities to stage all future drama productions.
7. A site for the showing of motion pictures in the film classic program.
8. Adequate office space for the school's radio and drama dept.

The theater got its first use on January 18, 1962 when a student meeting was held. There, they proceeded to make plans for the "University of Tampa Day." Architect Mack Hampton drew out plans for the redesigning of Falk theater and the work continued.

Finally, on March 21, 1962, David A. Falk Memorial Theater declared its grand opening with his official dedication. The day was celebrated by Thomas Brockman, pianist from Southern Methodist University, performing the 1st concert before 700 students and faculty. The Tampa Times ran an editorial several days later, and titled it, "David Falk would have been proud". Over all, the acquisition of Falk theater has been a huge success. Concerts were held regularly in Falk theater, after that and as a token of appreciation, Mrs. Falk and Mr. Mandel were given engraved silver cards which were admission cards to the theater for all events sponsored by UT.

The Falk Mandel foundation continued to support the University and the theater was completely paid for by 1971.

TEP recently instituted a "case of beer" raffle which began last Friday in Plant Hall. We are going to try to make this a weekly affair with each chance just 25 cents. We put up the case and draw the winner all in the same day, so come on over, buy a few chances, and win a case of Bud to sit down with on Saturday. You'll never get back up.

Heartiest congratulations go out this week to brother Vito Barbieri who recently got engaged to Debbie Mauer. A July wedding is planned and we would like to wish them both the most happiness possible. Vito has really gone off the deep end this time.

The brothers got together with former Lykes Hall residents for a softball game, the stakes being a keg of beer. Because of this, the brothers magically gained the incentive to walk on the field and whip the Lykes Hall team. Last Friday afternoon we got our reward for a well played game. Dad

First off, we are looking forward to Greek weekend. Since this is a small university this affords us the opportunity to share some fun with all the Greeks on campus; something that cannot be done as easily at the bigger universities.

Congratulations to our president Bill Alvis for winning the singles competition in the Intramural bowling. The team of Bill Alvis, John (Swiss) Businger, Scott Seiler and Cliff Taft placed fourth in the team competition. John Businger lost a tough (13-15) match in Badminton.

In our final game in basketball, ZBT lost to TKE (34-20). Good luck to TKE, who are play off bound. L. C.

Theta Chi

With a stunning victory over TEP 57-29, we joined the majors club and TKE with a three way tie for first place in basketball. We play TKE for a play off spot and I'd like to congratulate our starting lineup of Cal Semel, Tim Smetana, George Sulock, Rich Gaudio, Ken Wilson, Roger Weiss, and Boo Boo Bezich for their outstanding (fore) play.

Our Toga party turned out to be very successful and everybody seemed to have a good time. This weeks Greek weekend should prove to be a frolic. Our chariot builder, Randy Neucomb thinks that our chariot is so fast that we won't need anyone to pull it.

The house is coming along fairly well. With a few minor improvements, such as a new floor, it might be inhabitable.

So as the poisoned pen writes, so must it also stop, especially when it runs out of ink.

F.T.B.S.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon closed out its basketball season last week, ending on a sour note. The score of the last contest, Delo Hall 41, Sig Ep 28.

Looking forward to repeat winnings in this years greek weekend, the brotherhood looks strong again in all events, including the chariot races.

Other highlights to this weekend are a softball game, Cal's C-mens vs. Coombra's Crusader's, good luck to both teams.

Sig EP weekend has been decided on May 2, 3, 4, at the Sheraton in St. Petersburg.

Remember brothers the big softball season is coming up, lets get ready.

Senior Class Report

The Seniors of May 1973, will be the first graduates of the University of Tampa to receive newly styled diplomas and tassels. The diplomas have been updated in wording, size and style.

The tassels will contain our school colors—red, black and gold. Both of these innovations should add a more personal and prestigious significance to the seniors and the University.

Although Commencement will be held on May 20th, graduation plans are not yet completed. The Senior Class Dance will be held May 18th at the Manger Motor Inn from 9:00 p.m.-1:00 a.m.

The Tampa Alpha Alumni Chapter will host an open bar from 7:30-9:00 p.m. preceding the Senior Class Dance.

The class meeting in May will be announced at a later date.

Seniors are reminded that they must be fitted, in the bookstore, for a cap and gown. Graduation announcements will go on sale April 16th, also in the bookstore. If you have a need for calling cards, place your order in the bookstore, they must be paid for in advance.

Also you may order your class ring from Jostens in the bookstore. A graduation fee of $25.00 must be paid in the Business Office before receiving your cap and gown.

Seniors will receive all important information concerning graduation in your student mail boxes. May 1973 graduation should prove to be very promising and rewarding.

Baseball News

As of March 23 the University of Tampa baseball team stands with a record of 6-10. I'm sure it would be more encouraging to the players to exceed in a winning amount of victories rather than a number of losses.

Former seniors have long since been graduated, leaving future games to be played by underclassmen who lack the required experience for a good baseball team.

Errors are numerous and they haven't quite been able to put it together—yet.

The team was shortchanged for a while when sophomore pitcher Sam Howell pulled a muscle in his chest.

On March 4, Florida State beat Tampa with a terminal score of 6-2. Even though Florida ranked number two in the nation last year, their victory wasn't easily acquired. The Spartans, playing a strong, determined game provided an abundant amount of competition that lasted for 14 innings. Hank Propper was the pitcher of this truly commendable game.

In spite of the teams inexperience they have, however, achieved 6 wins to highlight their season.

On March 11, Tampa beat Temple University, last years third ranking team in the nation. The game was pitched by Sam Howell, who struck out 5 and walked 1. Two runs came in at the bottom of the ninth inning finalizing the score 2 to 1.

March 13 provided Tampa with another victory against Columbia University and a resulting score of 12 to 4. Chet Czaplinski was winning pitcher.

On Saturday, March 17, Chet, a 6'1" sophomore from Union, New Jersey, highlighted the game against the University of Buffalo by pitching a remarkable two-hitter game. Tampa won 5-0. Chet also helped Tampa win against Catholic University on March 21 with a resulting score of 12-9.

The sixth Spartan victory was achieved on March 22 against Bates College. The final score was 6-5 with Sam Howell as winning pitcher.

The following is the 1973 University of Tampa Baseball roster:

Tampa's First Girl Coxswain

When opportunity knocked, coach Art Trubiano gladly opened the door. He added a delightful attraction to the Junior Varsity Crew team by selecting Cassie Burroughs, a cute 5'4" brunette criminology major, as Tampa's First Girl Coxswain. Various other colleges have added a member of the opposite sex to their teams and Tampa finally decided it was time to do the same.

Cassie, a sophomore, heard of Tampa's decision to use a girl coxswain and went down to the athletic department to talk things over with the coach. He decided Cassie was their girl and from that day on, Cassie has been partaking in daily practice on the Hillsborough. She's a native of Indialantic, Florida and an extreme water sport enthusiast. When Cassie's not dressed in her cut-offs and crew team shirt, yelling out commands or steering the boat, she's working for Dr. Kratz in the internship program typing up forms and sending them out.

So next time you hear the high pitched scream of a girl, followed by a splash, it'll be the result of a T.U. victory and one girl coxswain getting dunked by eight energetic guys into the "enchanted" waters of the Hillsborough.

Servant Of Two Masters Opening

The Servant of Two Masters, that Italian Commedia del Arte comedy by Carlos Goldoni, opens its three week run this Friday night at 8:30 p.m. This show, which is the last offering of the year for the University of Tampa Drama Department, will also be presented Saturday night at 8:30 and April 6 and 7 at the same time. Matinee performances, which begin at 10:30 a.m. will run April 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, and 12.

Featured in the title role as the servant, Truffaldino, is Bob Abrams, who last appeared as Ross in Macbeth. Cast as the two lovers in search of each other are Donna Blackstone as Beatrice and Rick Schlegelmilch as Florindo.

The part of Dr. Lombardi is portrayed by R. J. Miller and his gallant, though clumsy, son Silvio is played by Mike Bernstein. Clarice, the beautiful daughter of Signor Pantalone, who is madly in love with Silvio is played by Mona Levine while her rotund colorful papa is played by Donald Marinelli.

Other members of the cast include: Bill Knopke as Brighella; Meg Maloney as Smeraldina; Dan Evangelista, Alex Hirschberg and Karen Bryder appear as the porters and waiters. Helping with the directing chores are Mike Skaletsky and Marna Dillane.

The production is free for all University of Tampa students, faculty and staff.

Turn On Your Radio

In the near future, when you turn on your radio, you may be tuning into the voice of a fellow University of Tampa student equipped to tell you the news or weather and play your favorite song. Part of the impetus for the station's reality has come from Dave Larcey, a junior from Cleveland, Ohio. During his high school years he was involved with the creation of station WUTP which echoes his knowledge.

Referred to as Carrier Current Broadcasting, University of Tampa's AM radio station, will initially be heard only in the dormitories and surrounding buildings. Air time will be from 8 a.m. to midnight, seven days a week. Progressive rock graced by the past will be laced with campus, state, and national news, sports, weather, public service announcements, commercials, and creative talent. CCB will not be governed by FCC rules; however, the station will subscribe to all FCC codes.

There will be at least nineteen openings for positions and jobs as disc jockeys, program directors, advertising representatives, writers, managers, and public relations workers. Meteorology and electronics will be incorporated also. It shall utilize a myriad of departments. The Delo Forensic Society will be actively involved with the project lending its creative forces. The curriculum may reflect involvement too by different course offerings in radio communication, music and others. It would offer a definite opportunity to develop the arts at the university.

A radio station could put the five letter word "PRIDE" into the vocabulary of the academic community. Indeed it would offer an outside activity rather than football or the Rathskeller for the student to relate to, become involved with, or use to receive information.

Historically, in the early 1960's an FM station, WTUN, was broadcasting from campus. Perhaps CCB will attempt a nostalgic return to the past abreast of the thoughts of the times. It is an open-ended project.

If you are interested in getting involved with the project or have any questions please get in contact with Kathy Hoyne, Don Marinelli, or Dave Larcey.

Amanda Goulding, left, pins a badge on her mother, Mrs. Virginia Goulding, in preparation for Parents Weekend. In this case mother is well acquainted with the campus, being a senior and part-time student seeking a degree in business administration. Amanda is a junior, majoring in sociology. More than 400 are expected for Parents Weekend, which includes a noon President's Luncheon Friday for all parents in Fletcher Lounge and a Saturday UT Brunch in the University Union from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

24 Hours A Day

For Your Protection Only

Although U.T.'s Department of Safety and Campus Police is the only department on duty 24 hours per day, 365 days per year, many students are still prone to the misconception that this department's primary duty is to issue parking tickets and make a profit for themselves.

First of all, parking tickets and stickers have the lowest priority in the Department, but ironically are the issues which affect the students most directly. These items are done in the best interest of the students, i.e., to supervise and prevail over their cars.

The Department does not derive any benefit from the parking tickets or stickers; they are merely a collection agency for the University's general fund. In fact, there have been more warnings and less tickets this semester than ever before. Cars have only been towed away after the person has been warned, unless there has been a specific complaint from a faculty or staff member.

It is also of utmost importance to note that the rise in the parking sticker fee ($10) is due to inflation. At U.S.F. it has risen to $35.

Although the Department is always kept busy protecting the students both Robert Miritello, the Head of the Department, and James Cremer, Safety Coordinator and Assistant Director, assure us that most of the crime comes from the outside. After all, U.T. is in the middle of an urban area.

During the month of September alone, 5 arrests were made on stolen bicycles. Ten people were also arrested for trespassing on the campus after having been warned.

The reason for such an efficient Department is partly due to the fact that these officers are certified as Special Sheriff Deputies. Before they are issued the power of arrest, 320-400 hours of Political Academy are required.

Presently six college graduates are pursuing this degree — four of which are U.T. graduates. The Department also offers an intern program for any interested Criminology and Sociology majors.

Another asset is the fact that the Department has four female officers (one on duty at all times). They are especially trained in handling rape cases.

The recently adopted Operation I.D. Program has been a tremendous help in "tracking down" stolen belongings. This program enables a student to have his social security number engraved free of charge on any personal belonging. It is then considered a crime to remove the number or possess any property with it removed.

As is quite evident from the previous accomplishments mentioned, the Department of Safety and Campus Police is by no means an authoritarian organization out for themselves. As James Cremer states, "we are here to protect and preserve, not to persecute."

Out for a trial run on the University of Tampa campus, UT President B. D. Owens, left, and acting Mayor of Tampa Lloyd Copeland encourage area residents to support the upcoming Hillsborough County Cyclathon. A benefit for the Hillsborough County Heart Association, the Cyclathon will be held at the University of South Florida campus, Oct. 13, from 2-6 p.m. Live entertainment will be featured and prizes awarded to individual and team cyclists. The 1974 Jessie Owens Cyclathon is a nationwide event to be climaxed at Disney World when Olympic star Jessie Owens will present awards to teams which raise the most money. For more information on the cyclathon, call 256-8241.

SGA Election Winners

S.G.A. elections were held on September 26 and 27, for Freshmen and Sophomore Senators. The winners are Toni Baker, Vickie Gutshell, and Dave Pulver.

Toni Baker, originally from Miami, has been elected as freshman senator. Her job consists of attending meetings regularly and attaining assignments from president Don Marinelli. Presently Toni is involved in a project titled "Watts Line". This is a student benefit project with the possibility students can call home at reduced rates. There will be a fifteen minute limit to all calls.

In addition to being involved in S.G.A. Toni's interest are in people, gymnastics and tennis. She also remarked, "I like Tampa U. very much and I feel a lot can be done for the school — that's why I'm involved."

Vickie Gutshell has also been elected to the freshmen senate. Her first concern is to represent the ideas and problems of her freshmen class. She will bring these ideas and problems in front of the senate when necessary. One of Vickie's present plans is to work out a way to get more credits for the band. The band puts in an average of 8 hours a week and receives only one credit. She is also involved in the food committee which meets every other Thursday.

Vickie's home town is Brandon, Florida and she has come to U.T. to major in Medical Technology. This semester she is also pledging Alpha Chi Omega and she hopes to work on homecoming. Dancing, piano, animals and water skiing interest Vickie outside of school. In closing she commented, "I'd really like to see more spirit on the campus. Involvement is the Key to a great institution."

Dave Pulver has been selected sophomore senator. He is responsible for taking student complaints to the attention of the senate and the administration if necessary. He is involved currently in some new plans for Tampa U. One projects aim is to try and give credits to those students taking Karate as a P.E. course. He is also working to see if the post office can be kept open longer hours.

Dave, initially from Rochester, N.Y., is a P.E. major here at U.T. He is also on the Varsity baseball team. Sports are his primary interests and he enjoys working with little children. Dave is concerned with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Assoc. also. This involves being a Big Brother to underprivileged children. He further commented, "I like U.T. and I wish more students would become involved. We can make some changes here at U.T. if others would voice their opinions and everyone worked together."

Counseling And Career Opportunities

Dr. Chester Arnold, coordinator of Counseling and Career Services (located in Science wing of Plant Hall, Room 200, Phone 253-8861, Ext. 405 or 406), has been with the University since August of 1972. He graduated from college with a B.S., M.A., and Ed.D. and since his arrival, the counseling services have steadily improved through the years with appointments showing a three fold increase between Fall of '72 and Fall of '73.

Two special projects are now underway in an effort to help the students.

The Senior Counseling and Career Services, designed to aid the graduating Senior in his search for a satisfying career, will have campus interview dates with a variety of employers for the 1974-75 academic year. Dr. Arnold suggests that anyone desiring this service should act now by scheduling an appointment with the representative of a particular company through his office. Most of the recruiters will be on campus early in the semester, therefore placement credentials should be completed as soon as possible.

Various resources are on hand to aid in planning a career.

"Blanche Yurka" Speaking Award

The late Blanche Yurka, famous actress of stage, radio, television and motion pictures bequeathed her theatre memorabilia to the University of Tampa. She had set up a fund for the "Blanche Yurka Awards," consisting of a plaque, a copy of one of her books, and a cash prize of $50.00 for the University of Tampa student who made the best public speech in open competition. The competition is open to any student at the University of Tampa. A friend of Miss Yurka's also donated several thousand dollars as a loan-scholarship for juniors and seniors majoring in Speech and Drama. The loan requires no interest, and payments are not required to begin until two years after the student's graduation.

Before her death, Miss Yurka made provisions in her will for her Public Speaking Awards to continue for ten years: She instructed her publisher to send ten copies of her latest book Bohemian Girl to be awarded along with the cash award, to be administered by the Area Coordinator of Speech & Drama. Miss Yurka's personal papers were bequeathed to Dr. Hugh Fellows, who announced to The Minaret that he would place the documents in the "special collections" section of Merl Kelce Library. Blanche Yurka was twice awarded the National Academy of Arts selection as having the best voice and diction in the American Theatre. She donated to the University of Tampa's speech laboratory twelve magnetic tapes which are used in improving voice and diction.

1. Career Counseling and Vocational Testing. Dr. Arnold, coordinator of Student Services, is available for counseling and will determine the appropriate method of vocational testing.
2. Career Library. An assortment of career materials, graduate school information, and employer recruiting literature is available.
3. College Placement Annual [1975]. The official occupational directory for college graduates. Provides job information for 1,500 employers. (Free to each graduating senior).
4. What Color Is Your Parachute? A Practical Manual for Job Hunters and Career Changers, by Richard N. Bolles. $3.95 — paperback — will be available in the U.T. Bookstores. An excellent new book!
5. The Campus Interview — Are You Ready? What to expect in the campus interview and how to prepare for it. (Audio cassette, tape and brochure).
6. Planning Your Future. A career for seniors. (Brochure).

In developing this career program, a Mini-Career Survey has been circulated among the seniors. As these forms are returned to Dr. Arnold, the names are added to a mailing list for future career newsletters.

A new non-credit mini-course entitled "Introduction to Career Planning" has been established to assist the Freshmen in selecting a college major. The course consists of four, two-hour sessions involving vocational testing, vocational exploration groups and a special orientation film on psychological adjustment to college. Three of the four sessions have been presented, and the last will be Monday, October 14.

Dr. Arnold now has two peer counselors working with him for the benefit of those who would feel more secure, or open with a fellow student with a three hour course required for training called Peer Counseling. It is hoped that there will eventually be fifteen to twenty peer counselors with the help of financing.

The line of communication between the counseling services and parents will be opened Parents Weekend, October 11, as Dr. Arnold presents a lecture, and a film to all interested parents, followed by a question and answer session.

When looking for full or part-time employment, Mrs. Palmer, secretary to Dr. Arnold since August 1973, is always ready and willing to assist the students. Her job is to lay the ground work by making appointments in career placement, serving as a referral agent, and locating jobs to name just a few. As the first contact with Counseling and Career Services, you can be assured of a warm smile and a desire to help in any way she can.

Jessie Owen's Cyclathon

On Sunday, October 13, the first of an upcoming, annual event will take place at USF. The Jessie Owens Cyclathon is being sponsored by the American Heart Association as an attempt to raise money. Between 2:00 and 6:00 p.m., besides a 10 mile ride, there will also be celebrities, bands, free food and refreshments, and "lots of fun."

Anyone can enter or participate in this festivity. To ride in the ten mile course individually, you must pay a ten dollar entry fee and/or have someone as a sponsor. There can also be teams of five or more riders, also paying $10 a person. An easy way to get the money is through a business. This is an advantage to the business because it is free advertisement and is also a tax deductible donation. Individuals can ride by themselves but the organization is trying to stress teams of five or more people.

The association is hoping for an outcome of 500

Traffic Court 74

The first thought that pops into many students' head upon receiving a University traffic ticket is, "No way, I'm not paying this thing." They then speed over to the office of Campus Safety where they fill out an Appeal form stating why they think they are innocent. From that point on a Student Judiciary System, known as the Student Traffic Board takes over.

Often one of the forgotten groups in Student Government, the Traffic Board is one of the busiest facets of our self-governing university community. Its specific purpose is stated as such: to render a final decision on written appeals from students who have received a university traffic ticket.

Let's follow the course of an appealed traffic ticket to get some idea of what goes on. A student who feels that the ticket he has received is unwarranted, or feels that he has extenuating circumstances to the violation is then free to appeal that ticket within five days. This student may now exercise his right of appeal by going to the Campus Safety Office and filling out an Appeal form. This Appeal form is then sent through the Business Office to the Student Traffic Board. The fine is withheld pending the Board's decision.

The Traffic Board will then hear the written appeal in closed session to decide whether or not the situation warrants a hearing before the Board. If the Board decides that the case is of such a nature to warrant a hearing, the student is then notified when and at what time he is to appear before the Board to argue his case.

The final decision is reached by the Board in closed session after the student has spoken and been questioned by the judges. The student is notified right then and there of the Board's decision. He is also formally notified through the campus mail.

The decision is then turned back over to the Business Office where the fine is either written off or payment is expected. All upheld fines must be paid in order for a student to receive transcripts or register for the upcoming semester.

That then is the yellow brick road an appealed traffic ticket follows. Not much of a journey is it? Well, don't try to tell that to the Board itself, especially after one of the more rigorous Monday afternoon sessions.

This year's Traffic Board is composed of Chairman Pam Mason (She is also the elected Senior Judge), Junior Judge Lou Bezich and Sophomore Judge Sharon Brash. A Freshman Judge will be appointed to the Board later this month. Karen Bryder is the secretary of the Traffic Board and is also an Alternative Judge, ready to fill in whenever another member can not make a meeting. Luther Clemons is the other alternate judge, continuing in a capacity he held last year. Faculty Advisor for the Traffic Board is Dean Marisol Johns, a woman whose impetus as an organizer is well known. Traffic Board meetings are held in her office every Monday at 3:00 p.m.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1974

1. 12:00 Hotel Check Out — for Charter Flight to New York The Holiday Inn has arranged for "Riverside C" Lounge for your convenience prior to flight. There are restroom facilities and your luggage will be picked up there upon departure for the airport.
2. 2:30 p.m. Approximate Departure — of Charter group from Holiday Inn for Airport.

to 1000 bike riders who will take part in the cyclathon. The entry fee money will go to the American Heart Fund and sponsors will donate prizes and free food and refreshments to all that are involved. The first three people who finish the course will receive ten speed bikes. A trip to Walt Disney World will be won by the first team that crosses the finish line. This winning team will be awarded a free trip to Orlando to meet Jessie Owens. Also, there will be a drawing of all the riders' names, and the winner will receive a weekend trip for two in Nassau, Bahamas.

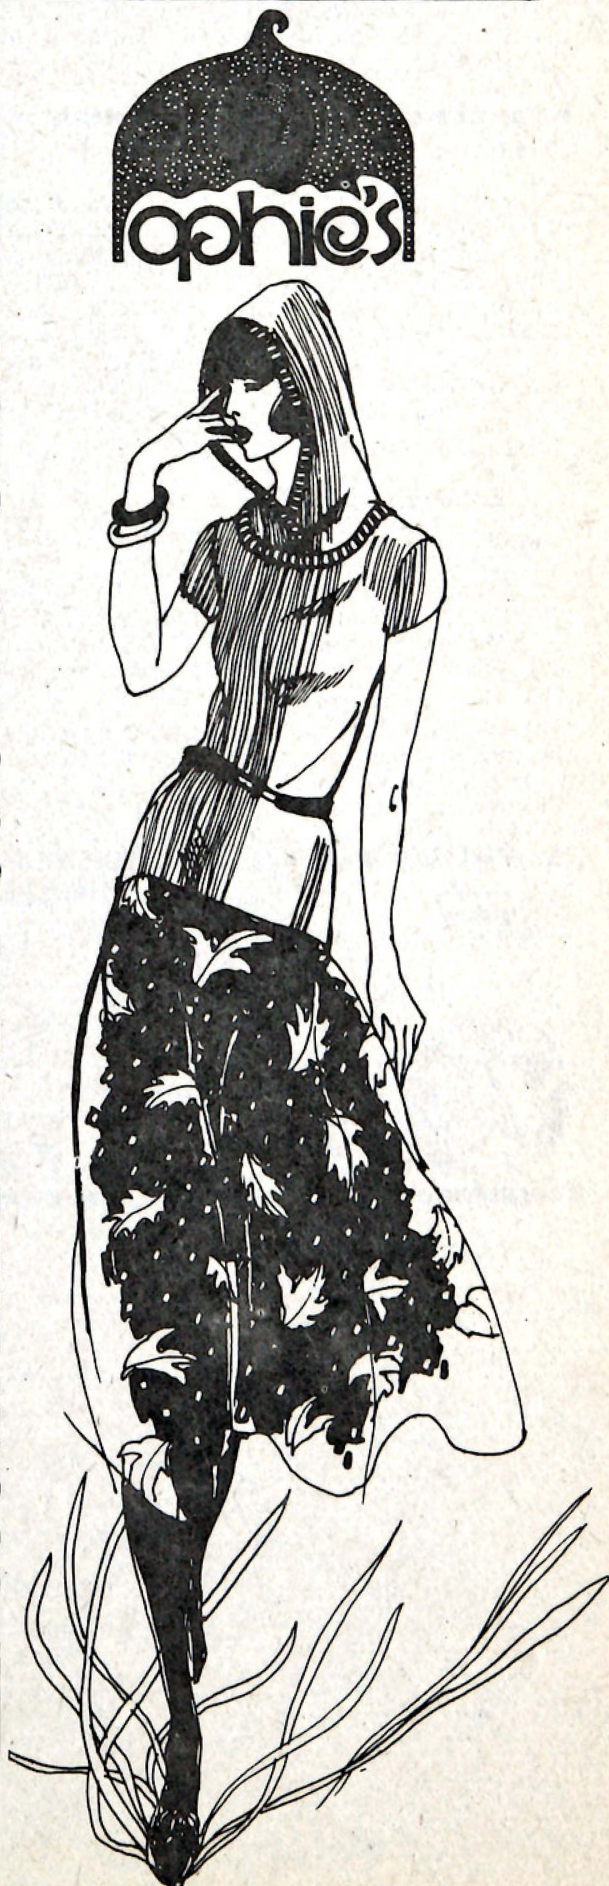

"The Heart Association, with the help from Pi Kappa Phi, is introducing the cyclathon to the University of Tampa." The fraternity has broadcasted on the radio, informed the Minaret, and put up signs throughout the campus to tell the UT students about this activity. Both organizations want you to get involved; both for the Heart Fund and for your own personal reward.

The cyclathon is a national event and will be taking place throughout the country. Rather than watching in on television, YOU can participate by coming out to USF on October 13. The money is going to a good cause, and it is good for you. Bicycles are popular now a days because they emphasize physical fitness, ecology and they are "good for your heart." Even if you don't ride a bike, come join along in the activity. Do it for the Heart Association; do it for yourself.

If you have any questions please call: 256-8241 or 689-4763, 685-1814. Donations can be mailed to The Heart Fund, 116 S. Howard Ave., Tampa, Florida 33606.

Fryzel's One Yard Line Play

On Saturday night, September 28, 1974, Tampa Stadium's crowd of 40,762 was going wild. The Spartans were losing by 6 points with 8 minutes and 57 seconds left in the game. They had the ball on Miami's one yard line with fourth down coming. Time out by Coach Fryzel.

The Spartans momentum and talent by running backs Morris LaGrand and Frank Pitts led the Spartans from their own 49 yard line to the Miami one. With the score 21-19, the Spartans could have broken the game wide open with a touchdown, or they could have kicked a field goal and relied on their young defense. The defense up to this point of the game shut out the "Canes in the second half."

40,762 screaming fans were awaiting the coaches call. The crowd wanted Freddy and Co. to go for the score. Fryzel decided to go for the touchdown. Then he remembered the Vanderbilt game last year. The Spartans were leading 16-15 against Vandy with 8 minutes left in the game. They had the ball on the Vanderbilt one on fourth down. The Spartans went for the score, and were stopped short of the touchdown. Vandy got the momentum and kicked a field goal to win the game 18-15.

Coach Fryzel, born in Ohio, is a Paul Brown fan (coach of the Cincinnati Bengals). The coach reflected on Paul Brown and decided that in the Spartan position coach Brown would have gone for the field goal to regain the lead.

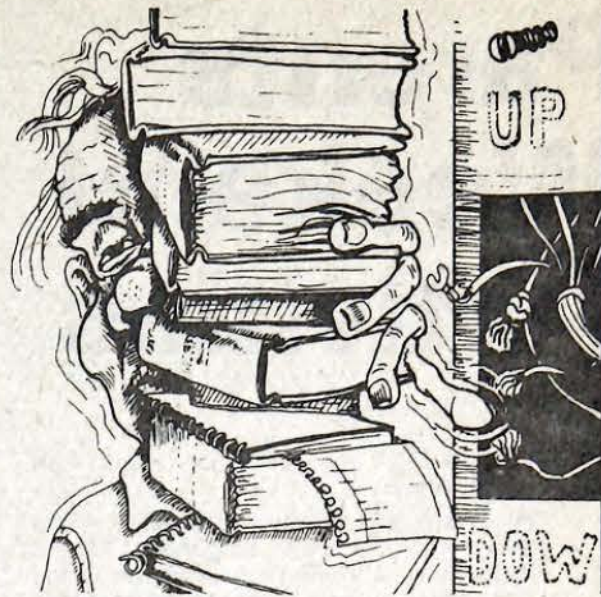

Coach Fryzel decided to go for the 3 points, with his ace field goal kicker, Kinney Jordan at the helm. As Jordan jogged on the field, the fans began to boo at the coach's call. Jordan kicked the ball, and the next sound the crowd heard was that of a thud of a blocked kick. The fans began to boo while Miami picked up the ball and ran to their own 35.

The game was over for the hard hitting Spartans. Miami scored once more by a one yard plunge from Martin, and the Spartans scored with a 8 yard pass to LaGrand.

The coach made the right choice in going for the almost sure field goal. "It was a call of percentage," remarked the coach. His objective was to regain the lead, and rely on the second half performance of the defense. The game, win or lose, was the best performance of the Spartans in the past 3 years.

It wasn't the call that bothered the crowd as they filed out of the game, it was probably the blocked field goal. Who would complain about the coach's call if Paul Horschel didn't block the deciding field goal?

Omicron Delta Kappa

Interested in the occult? Does this part religion; part science; part lore; fascinate you? If so, then consider attending the Rathskeller "Rap Session" on Friday, Oct. 18 at 2 p.m. Omicron Delta Kappa, the national honorary Readership Society, will present the first in its series of "Rap Sessions" in the Rathskeller.

The featured speaker will be Miss Norma Jean Zbar. Miss Zbar, a noted authority on the subject of the occult, is currently teaching literature of the Occult at the USF. Following the formal session, a question and answer period will ensue, during which time beer may be purchased for 10c a glass.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

The brotherhood of Sig Ep is looking forward to a successful 1974-75 year.

Currently heading up the executive committee are: President Jeff Willis, Vice-President Bill Hall, Treasurer Ray Weber, and Secretary Bob Begelman. The brotherhood would like to welcome our new pledges: Bill Behr, Rocky Goldberg, Mark Abramowicz, and Paul Burlingame. Good Luck!

Thus far this semester the Sig Eps have been working diligently on our newly acquired house which is located at 343 Bayshore Ave. We would also like to thank little sisters Pam Colangelo, Becky McElroy, and Barb Rose who have given us assistance. We promise some wild parties once the house is completed. Don't just take our word though, come by and see for yourselves.

Biology Club

Saturday, September 21st marked the Biology Club's first field trip. A successful venture to Ft. DeSoto Beach just south of St. Petersburg provided a great start for University of Tampa's "Back to Nature" club. Club members collected sea shells and many live specimens for the marine aquariums located on the second floor of the science wing, along with enjoying the sun and sea.

Dr. Marlon Ellison, Professor of Biology, was the faculty sponsor on the outing. Other faculty sponsors for the school year are Dr. Richard Gude, Dr. Steven Monaloy and Dr. Edsel Caine. Membership is open to anyone interested and dues are only $2.00 per semester. The next meeting is slated for Thursday, October 10, 1974, 7:30 p.m. in SC303.

This year's club officers are George Dunn, President; James Kipp, Vice President; Kathy Trott, Secretary; Charles Morris, Treasurer; and Gail Kelly, Historian.

Panhellenic Council

University of Tampa Panhellenic Council, the coordinating organization for the three sororities on campus, would like to extend congratulations to the sororities for their successful rush efforts. Unity among the three sororities at UT is the primary goal of Panhellenic this year, under the leadership of Grita Vail, president (Alpha Chi Omega), Lynette Evenson, treasurer (Delta Phi Epsilon), and Susan Sheehan, secretary (Zeta Tau Alpha).

Be watching for announcements concerning the Panhellenic-sponsored race for cerebral palsy, to be held in late October. Run for those who can't!

Alpha Chi Omega

The sisters of Alpha Chi Omega sorority are pleased to welcome and announce their new pledges: Vanessa Allen, Amanda Goulding, Lynne Guernsey, Vicki Gutshall, Hilary Hughes, Cindy Ott, Debbie Partrich, Linda Payne, and Terry Shults. Congratulations to Kim Farrell who was recently pinned to a Chi Psi!

We are an active group of individuals who can be seen working in all facets of university life. Rowing, studying, running, thinking, caring, eating, swimming, jiving, talking, loving, and working constitute a portion of an Alpha Chi Omega's life. We want to remind you that if you want to share with us and join our heritage open rush is going on right now and for information go to Dave Jackson's office.

Many thanks to Pam Mason who spent many hours painting our sorority room — 209, Howell Hall! Also, the best to our industrious pledge trainer, Louann DiPano, one of our liveliest members....

Our Big Lyre hayride was successful thanks to Grita Vail. Grita is known for her friendliness?!

We wish the campus community a creative, happy semester.

Zeta Tau Alpha

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha would like to wish everyone a happy new year. Our new year is starting off with a big bang as a result of a successful formal rush which brought us four new Baby Zetas: Holly Eisele, Ingrid Etayo, Robyn Kanarick, and Susan Scaglione.

Congratulations to Linda and Tasso on becoming lavaliered, and to Michele for her outstanding showing in UMOG!!

Pi Kappa Phi

Congratulations to our six newly initiated brothers, Larry "Scrambled" Bostian, John Csir, Jim Dunster, Al Fainblatt, Tony Falci, and Tasso Kiriakes. With the addition of these six dedicated brothers Pi Kapp will remain strong in all facets of student life. Randy "Boat" Morris, our pledge-warden, anticipates another fine pledge class for this fall.

We've been busy in the last couple of weeks with our formal rush party and numerous successful beer blasts with much of the music supplied by Super Lu with Michael DiPiazza. Good times were had by all and more of the same is sure to come.

Intramural football season has progressed, with our unstoppable offense led by Field-general Nick Costanzo and our impenetrable defense — we're in the playoffs again.

Our brotherhood has selected Gretchen Pence, one of our daughters, as Homecoming Queen candidate.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club held its first meeting for the 1974-75 term on Tuesday, October 1, to elect new officers and to plan some projects for the year. The new officers, which show some of the many nations represented in the I.R.C., include as President, Allan Kwok from Hong Kong; Vice President, Solomon Agbontaen from Nigeria; Treasurer, Durdane Karakayali from Turkey; and Secretary, Michael Shapack from the U.S. Among the suggestions for activities are to have various trips to other universities; go to a football game at the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando; a Thanksgiving feast, something most foreign students have never experienced; a trip to Cape Kennedy and tutoring for any club member who may request it.

To many people the word "International" in our name implies foreign students only. It is by no means that, but, for students of all nationalities, including the U.S. Everyone is invited to join. Just come out to our meetings which are held every Thursday at 9 p.m. in the director's apartment in Smiley Hall. If you can't attend our next meeting and would like to be a member, drop a note to the Secretary of the club, Box 2018.

Theta Chi

The brothers of Theta Chi are pleased to announce that John McKenna, who was seriously injured in an intramural football game last week is well on the road to recovery. The entire brotherhood would like to thank all those who donated blood or showed their concern in any way.

After starting off the '74 season on a losing note the Big Red Machine" bounced back to a 21-6 win over Independents. Highlights of the win included a 50-yard touchdown pass by Keith DeMyer to Lou Bezich and some good running by Marc Kelman.

The brothers staged their first tubing party of the semester and it proved to be a great success. The floating caravan was led by Bob Morris who demonstrated some beautiful tubing and drinking techniques.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Pleasant surprises marked the past week as three brothers announced their engagements. The engaged couples are: Jerry Goldstein to Debbie Baker, Bill Westuba to Elizabeth Falvey, and Bill Varian to Christine Furior.

Don't forget to help the ecology and save those aluminum cans for the annual TEKE aluminum drive.

Newly pledged members are: Nick Matson, Steve and Greg Hammarberg, Tom Cindric, Greg Brown, Bob Fetterman, Gregg Goldberg, Rick Nash and Jeff Stevens.

Thanks again to Jeff Hatfield, our Regional Chapter Director, for the advice on the new houses. Tues., Oct. 15 the Little Sisters will be sponsoring a bake sale to relieve those hunger pains between classes. Best wishes to Dave Jackson on his recent marriage. Warmest congratulations, Dave. TEKE is unique.

Old Autos Tour UT Campus

Want to see what grand dad drove around in? You may get that chance right in the faculty and staff parking areas Wednesday morning, Oct. 16.

The Glidden Tour, sponsored by the Veteran Motor Car Club of America, will attract about 250 owners of "yesterday's cars" to the area Oct. 13-18. The caravan of cars — none newer than 1935 vintage — will park on the UT campus Oct. 16 enroute to Disney World.

Cars will begin arriving early in the morning, but the majority will enter the campus about 9:30 a.m. and probably depart by 11 a.m., using the University as a coffee, tea, doughnut and juice step.

Faculty and staff are being asked to park in the fairgrounds that morning.

Scandinavian Seminar

Scandinavian Seminar is now accepting applications for its study abroad program in Denmark, Finland, Norway, or Sweden for the academic year 1975-76. This living-and-learning experience is designed for college students, graduates and other adults who want to become part of another culture while acquiring a second language.

An initial 3 weeks language course, followed by a family stay, will give the student opportunity to practice the language on a daily basis and to share in the life of the community. For the major part of the year he is separated from his fellow American students, living and studying among Scandinavians at a "People's College" (residential school for continuing adult education) or some other specialized institution.

The fee, covering tuition, room, board, one-way group transportation from New York and all course-connected travels in Scandinavia is $3,200. A limited number of scholarship loans are available.

For further information please write to: SCANDINAVIAN SEMINAR, 100 East 85th Street, New York, N. Y. 10028.

Under The Cover and Between The Sheets

Joe Cocker is possibly the most tragic figure in the rock industry.

Back in 1970, he was riding the wake of his first two albums which were very well received critically and sold quite well. He had also finished a major tour and was ready to go back to England to relax. But that rest was not to come, because without Cocker's knowledge Leon Russell, who produced Cocker's second album, took the initiative to organize what was to be The Mad Dogs and Englishmen Tour.

Cocker, unable to back out of the commitments made by Russell, went ahead with the tour and wore himself out, possibly permanently. After the Mad Dogs Tour, Cocker finally did return to England.

With the exception of his album released two years ago, he has remained in England in relative obscurity.

His recent comeback tour has received much adverse criticism, and rightly so. For the opening dates, Cocker was displeased with his band, and drank most of the time. But his new album is a different story.

Joe Cocker's latest, "I Can Stand A Little Rain," is a powerful and moving album. Though his voice is not what it used to be, he still knows how to control what he has.

Though at time it has the old Cocker bounce, the album is very moody and at times depressing. It is the story of a man who has been abused and used.

Cocker's voice is treated just like any other instrument on the album, but an instrument that deserves special attention as noted on the back with "Special Thanks to Joe Cocker."

Cocker has help from some prestigious friends. Jimmy Webb wrote and plays piano on, "The Moon Is A Harsh Mistress," and Randy Newman, wrote and plays piano on "Guilty."

On this album, like his first two albums, Cocker relies on the strength of the song and not the musicians that back him up. Cocker's voice and Cocker's voice alone make this the outstanding album it is.

And for any one who missed their copy of Sound Magazine can still pick one up in the Student Government Office in the University Union. SOUND is published by Sony and has some good stories like "Growing Up On American Pie: A History of Rock," and "Dylan, Mitchell, Springsteen....A Decade of Songpoets. SOUND is free to all students.

Delo Forensic Drama Lives On

Delo Forensic Society will accept applications for membership during the two weeks beginning Oct. 10th and ending Oct. 24th.

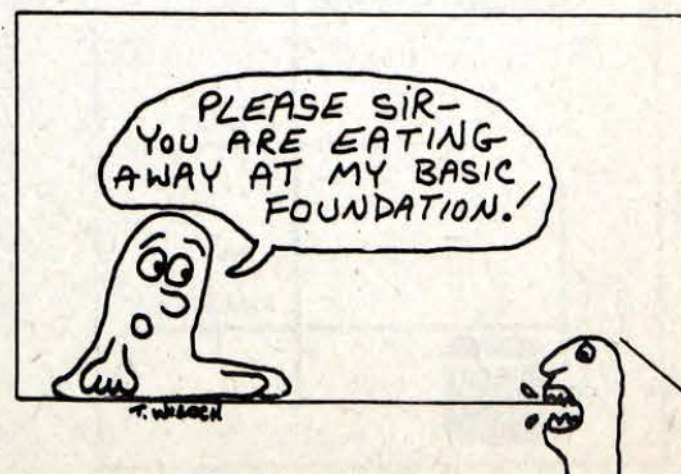

The society is for the pleasure of students interested in debate, extemporaneous speaking, poetry reading, oral interpretation and reader's theatre. Any student of the University of Tampa is eligible; one does not need to be skilled in any of the aforementioned subjects — only interested. There are skilled members on hand to help train you. We throw parties, also!

Delo Forensic Society participates in intercollegiate debate, poetry festivals, and general interpretative speaking arts. The ultimate aim of most members is to become eligible for membership in the National Honorary Fraternity, Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha, one of the more prestigious national honorary fraternities in the U.S.A. Only juniors and seniors are eligible to join Delta Sigma Tau Kappa Alpha, and being a member of Delo Forensic Society is the only way at the University of Tampa to become eligible.

The procedure is simple: Drop a note, indicating your interest, to Dr. Hugh Fellows, University Post Office Box #112F. You don't even need to do that, if you show up at the "Membership Meetings" to be held Thursday, October 10th and Thursday, October 24th, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 5 in the Student Center.

Anyone interested with or already connected with any of the University's publications is invited to the meeting at 5:00 o'clock on Friday, October 11 in The Moroccan office, Room 417, in Plant Hall.

Spartans Fall Short 28 — 26

Miami's Paul Horschel blocked the controversial field goal with seven minutes left in the game, to give the Miami Hurricanes a 28-26 win. It was the Spartan's best game, but their worst defeat.

A crowd of 40,672 witnessed the success of the veer option against the number one scoring defense in the nation. Miami allowed just 3 points against the U. of Houston. The Spartans rushed for a total of 301 yards. Fast-footed Freddy Solomon dashed for 182 yards, scoring two touchdowns from 78 and 5 yards out. Kinney Jordan kicked field goals from 50 and 47 yards out. The Spartans last score was a 7 yard pass to Morris La Grand.

Ticket Policy Changed

Unfortunately, students, faculty, and staff, because of the wide spread abuse of the present procedure for free admission to Spartan football games, a change is deemed necessary beginning with the Villanova game October 12. Admission will no longer be granted on presentation of your I.D. card alone but special tickets (2 per I.D. maximum) must be obtained in advance of the game and presented with your I.D. at gate 25 at the game.

The new procedure will operate as follows:

- 1) Tuesday through Friday each game week, tickets will be available from 11:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. at a special table in the Student Union.
- 2) In order to obtain your two complimentary tickets for the game that week, present your I.D. card and have your I.D. number checked off the master list.
- 3) Your two tickets will be honored for admission at gate 25 at the Stadium the night of the game from 6:00 p.m. on but must be accompanied by your I.D. card. Tickets alone will not be accepted for admission.
- 4) Free admission is limited to yourself and one guest. Any others attending with you must purchase either a $6.00 ticket or a $3.50 family plan ticket (or $1.50 for those under 15).

Please make note of this new procedure and pick up your tickets before the game. Kim Clark with Miami leading 7-3 after the first quarter, both teams got their offenses moving, scoring a total of 30 points in the second quarter. The 'Canes, with Kary Baker at the helm, tested the Spartan young secondary by throwing a 30 yard touch-down pass to Witt Beckman. In this quarter, Miami stuck to the air and Baker threw a 39 yard pass to Beckman which led to a 3 yard run by Thompson.

This was the quarter that Solomon and Jordan shook the stadium by scoring a total of 16 points. Solomon carried for 67 yards, then sneaked in for the score, from 5 yards out. With the score 21-10, and the crowd beginning to groan, Fred flew 78 yards for a score. Coach Fryzel wanted Solomon to go for the two point conversion, so he would be a field goal behind. Fred's pass was batted down. With the score 21-16 the Spartans held the 'Canes, and with time running out in the half Jordan kicked a 50 yard field goal. Halftime score was 21-19.

The third quarter was a defensive battle. The only threat was a 21 yard field goal attempt by the Spartans, which was blocked by Paul Horschel.

With a scoreless third quarter, the fans were ready for Miami to fold. With eight minutes left in the game, Frank Pitts and Morris La Grand busted their way to Miami's one yard line. The Spartans had a decision to make with fourth and one. The Spartans went for the field goal. Kinney Jordan kicked the ball, which would have put Tampa in the lead 22-21, and it was blocked again by Paul Horschel.

Game Planned Trips to Orlando

You are invited to go to Orlando on Saturday, October 19 at 7:30 p.m. to watch the Spartans take on Southwest Louisiana in the Tangerine Bowl for a reduced price, as well as stay in a new luxurious High Q Hotel just off I-4 while attending parties galore!

Since this game will be co-sponsored by the Tangerine Sports Association, there will not be any free admissions. However, all U.T. students, faculty and staff members may purchase the normally priced $6.00 reserve tickets for $4.50 before Friday noon, October 18. These tickets are available at the U.T. Ticket Office, Tampa Stadium, and area Sears and Maas stores. End Zone tickets may also be purchased for $3.00 at the U.T. ticket office only.

With all tickets purchased at the U.T. Ticket Office a discount coupon to Sea World is available for your entire party.

The 6-months-old High Q (Quality Inn) Hotel is offering a special Spartan rate of $18.00 for as many as 6 persons. A deal such as this can't be beat — only $3.00 per person. Each room has 2 double beds and a fold-out couch.

Needless to say, with all the parties scheduled at the High Q, there can't possibly be a dull moment all weekend. On Saturday, between 4:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m., there will be a poolside cocktail cocktail party with cocktails for $1.50 including tax and tip. A buffet dinner will also be offered in the Orange Tree Room from 5:00 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. for $5.95 per person. For children 12 and under there will be a special rate of $3.25.

After the game everyone can celebrate "till his heart's content" at the Victory Party in the Orange Tree Room. There will be a combo, dancing, cocktails for $1.50 and plenty of "munchies."

On Sunday everyone can sober up while eating brunch and drinking Bloody Marys in the Orange Tree Room. This feast will be available between 10:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon for $3.25.

For those of you without transportation, these two chartered bus plans are at your disposal:

Plan A — Leave U.T. at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, October 19. Leave Orlando Sunday at 1:00 p.m. Arrive in Tampa at 2:30 p.m. Bus fare $8 per person. Includes transportation to and from hotel, to and from game, to and from Sea World and overnight bus charge.

Plan B — Leave U.T. at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. Go to High Q Hotel for pre-game activities. Then to game. Return directly from stadium to Tampa after game. Bus fare $5 per person.

Advance bus reservations are required and a limited number of buses are available. You can also purchase these tickets at the U.T. Ticket Office. Kim Clark

The momentum was shifted to the 'Canes, as they ran the blocked field goal to the Miami 35. A 65 yard drive was capped off by a Martin one yard run. The Spartans never gave up as Freddy threw a 42 yard pass to Ricky Rivas, and Morris La Grand caught a 8 yard TD pass. The horn blew and the Spartans and fans left the stadium proud of their team but frustrated by the loss.

Coach Fryzel ended up saying that "we should have won the game." As the fans came from the start to see Fred move the team, two scouts from Cleveland and New Orleans took special attention on Fred's leadership on the field and his agility on the run. Ronald Holland

Crew Team Improves

Pride and accomplishment? Keen physical development? Travel? National recognition? These are readily available to the University of Tampa student through the crew program.

Beginning in England on the banks of the Thames River in mid-1800, rowing has spread widely in the United States to include over 5000 registered competing oarsmen/women rowing for approximately 400 clubs, universities, and schools. University of Tampa crew members will have competitive exposure to 93 institutions, such as Marietta, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, University of Massachusetts, Williams College, University of Pennsylvania, Rollins, Princeton, and Yale, on a regional and national level.

University of Tampa crew coach Tully Vaughan is also the executive secretary of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, the governing body of all rowing in the United States. He is training his charges six days a week with activity on land — daily 3 mile runs with exercise and a controlled weight lifting program — and on water — developing the muscular structure of a swimmer using the technique of rowing based on the West German Ratzeburg and Harvard University styles.

Although the southern rowing scene was dominated by F.I.T. last year, there is good opportunity this year for the University of Tampa Sweep-swingers to finish respectably, if not in fact assume the southern leadership role. With 34 dedicated individuals committed to this ever-growing and demanding program, the University can look forward to a much envied record of quality, success, and maturity. Mindy A. Matthews

Spartan Tennis 74

University of Tampa's starting top six tennis players from last fall are back. They are Frank Swope, Keith Embree, Al Tumilowitchz, Jerry Goldstein, Jim Gregor and Greg Goldberg. Also Coach Pruett has taken on four more players to his varsity team. After a couple of weeks of challenge matches and a few cuts, the final four are Chad Cole, Tito Lopez, Nick De Tarnawsky, and Scott Roberts.

The coach has planned four practice matches for the fall semester. They are U.S.F., St. Leo, Eckerd and Rollins. Due to the lack of money in the U. of Tampa's program, there is a limited amount of preseason matches.

Come out and support U.T. tennis.

Scott Roberts

Women's Intramurals

A bright new dimension in women's athletics is currently evolving at the U. of Tampa. Dr. Rodriguez in conjunction with the Physical Education Department, has once again introduced a women's intramural program.

This year's program will feature nine individual sports. The sports are volleyball, softball, swimming, basketball, foul shooting, tug of war, bowling, team tennis and billiards. Dr. Rodriguez expects a total of 200 girls to participate in this year's sports.

The only problem that she is worried about is the budget. "Our budget has been completely cut, we have no funds to work with," Dr. Rodriguez said. It takes funds for her staff to run a successful program at the university, she added. Her right hand woman is Gretchen Pence.

All intramurals will be held Mondays and Wednesdays from 4-6 p.m. at the gym on the north campus. The first basketball game is Oct. 14. Any girl interested contact Dr. Rodriguez at her office on the second floor of Plant Hall, or at the first basketball game October 14. Cy Sinar
