Volume 44, Number 6 — August 1974

The Muezzin is published nine times a year by the University of Tampa, 401 West Kennedy Boulevard, Tampa, Florida 33606, with two issues in January, one in March, one in May, one in July, two in August, one in September, and one in November. Second class postage paid at Tampa, Florida.

I 03

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The University of Tampa began publication of its annual report issue of the Muezzin three years ago. The report was started because we are so deeply grateful for the continuing support provided by the faculty, staff, trustees, students, alumni, parents, business firms, and foundations. The University's continued success is vitally dependent on these "margins of excellence" funds.

The University of Tampa has, as a necessity, been forced to operate without wasteful or frivolous expenditures. The next few years will present even greater tests of our abilities to provide quality educational opportunities. Inflationary pressures coupled with a level or declining college-age population necessitates that your university continue to rely upon your financial support.

Our primary objective will continue to be that we provide the highest quality educational environment for the lowest possible cost. We shall continue to demand the best from your university community and allocate your precious gifts with great conscience and deliberation.

Thank you so much for your investment in the free enterprise system of higher education. Your support assures a freedom of choice educational opportunity for many young people.

Gratefully,

Our Best Year Ever!

Gifts received by the University of Tampa in the fiscal year 1973-74 ending June 30, 1974, totaled $1,135,487.42—the highest gift total in the University's forty-three year history!

Commenting on these totals, James Gray, President of the Marine Bank in Tampa and Chairman of the Trustee's Development Committee, said, "The total is outstanding and reflects well the generosity of our donors, the dedication of our volunteers and the competence of our staff. What is especially impressive is that the record total was achieved without a capital campaign or any large amount of government funds. The $1,135,487.42 total reflects primarily voluntary, annual giving to the University of Tampa and that is most encouraging."

The chart below indicates the various sources from which gifts came. Not listed are several programs which produced the response from the various sources. The Forward Fund, which is the University's annual giving program, played a large part in total gifts achieved. Forward Fund '73, which ended December 31, 1973, produced a record $495,107.00 in gifts. Forward Fund '74, with a $550,000 goal as of August 1 was well ahead of the pace of a year ago.

SOURCE	FISCAL GIFT INCOME	PERCENTAGE
Alumni	$ 35,992.00	3.16%
Boards	$ 91,479.77	7.96%
Parents	$ 10,342.00	1.14%
Staff	$ 21,159.56	1.86%
Students	$ 17,574.43	1.54%
Friends	$217,949.37	19.17%
Foundations	$213,904.12	18.81%
Clubs	$ 42,864.54	3.78%
Corporations	$292,438.73	25.70%
Government	$191,782.00	16.88%
TOTALS	$1,135,487.42	100.00%

Part of the Forward Fund total is achieved through the annual Alumni Loyalty Fund. This fund, since its inception just four years ago, has grown rapidly and in the past year reached the $55,965.00 mark—a fine achievement in such a short time.

Another important program, not part of the Forward Fund, is the Sword and Shield Club and its new Golden Order Level, which raise substantial sums for the athletic program. Over $73,495.00 was produced through these programs last year.

On the pages that follow are listed the members of these different giving groups, as well as the donors to the Forward Fund, the Alumni Fund and many others who made possible a record gift year at the University of Tampa through their generosity. More importantly, through their gifts they made an enduring investment in young lives as they prepare for their future and ours through a University of Tampa education. To all who gave and who solicited, a grateful University says "thank you."

Minaret Society

After an impressive first year in which it broke the college record for annual giving clubs, The Minaret Society continues to set a fast pace. In just two years, The Minaret Society has produced a total of over $1,010,000 in gifts and pledges for the strengthening of the academic program! There are three membership levels: Gold Crescent, $10,000 or more per year; Silver Crescent, $5,000 or more per year; and Crescent, $1,000 or more per year. In addition, the Life category indicates those who have contributed amounts sufficient to endow their annual membership. We proudly list the members of The Minaret Society—the University of Tampa's record-breaking prestige giving club!

The University of Tampa now has the honor to claim as one of its past year's visitors the President of the United States, Gerald R. Ford. At a $300-a-plate dinner on March 8, Mr. Ford, then the Vice President, gave an address in which he emphasized the role of higher education and commended the University for its fine record of accomplishment. The purpose of the dinner was to raise funds to process former Congressman William C. Cramer's private collection donated to the Merl Kelce Library. The dinner was a success, with $20,000 raised to establish the Cramer Collection. In addition to this tangible outcome, the University can record in its highlight history the honored presence of our country's 37th president.

The Century Club

The most popular giving club among alumni, parents and friends, the Century Club recognizes annual support from $100.00 to $999.99 per year. The tremendous growth of the annual fund has been in large part due to the leadership of the 1973-74 Century Club members.

Pulitzer Prize-winning composer-conductor Dr. Howard Hanson was well-received during his visit to campus the week of March 24. Dr. Hanson, who has performed with world-renowned symphonies, presented a series of lectures, then ended the week with a grand finale concert featuring his original compositions. To honor the famous musician, the University Women's Club dedicated a newly renovated room in McKay Auditorium as the Howard Hanson Room.

The University of Tampa's landmark, the lavish Moorish castle named Plant Hall, is doubly a national landmark. Listed in the National Registry of Historic Places last year, Plant Hall (originally the Tampa Bay Hotel) was dedicated as a National Historic Site on the Florida Bicentennial Trail during an April 29 grand ceremony. The building will wear a new coat of exterior paint in honor of the Bicentennial year, thanks to Sears, which is donating $5,000 worth of paint; to the National Parks Service, which provided a $20,000 Historic Sites grant; and to the Conn Foundation, which gave $15,000 to complete the match of the $20,000 NPS grant. Another NPS grant of $6,887 was received to renovate the West Veranda, and is being matched by the Chiselers.

One of the many favorable comments received by the University from the team of educators from the Southern Association that conducted the ten-year accreditation review concerned the excellent appearance of the campus. Renovation and improvement projects completed this past year include the University Union, McKay Hall, a number of rooms and areas in Plant Hall, and the construction of an attractive brick cul-de-sac around the newly landscaped Plant Memorial Fountain in Plant Park. The University of Tampa Women's Club donated funds to renovate a classroom in McKay Auditorium which was dedicated in the spring as the Howard Hanson Room.

"Open education" is the key concept of the 70's in higher education, as the academic world tunes in to the needs of a total population. The University of Tampa's response to open education is the New Horizons Program, designed for mature students who find themselves motivated for a variety of reasons to get back into the educational swing. Students in the program have been stimulated into setting new goals for themselves, and are delighted to discover that the generational gap they feared simply does not exist in an atmosphere of intellectual and social interaction. Personal counseling and specialized programs are added attractions for older students joining the New Horizons Program.

During the spring, the Division of Education began a successful venture in graduate studies. By this fall, the new Master of Education program will be rounded out, with a variety of areas of specialization available: elementary education, secondary English studies, social studies, and industrial arts. The law of supply and demand is certainly a factor in the program's success: over 60 students are already well on their way into graduate studies, and fall projections indicate an additional enrollment of about 40 MEd candidates.

The University took that important first step into graduate education this past fall with a Master of Business Administration program. Enthusiasm continues to run high, with over 70 students already enrolled in the program and about 30 more expected to enter this fall. It is a program really on the move, with the first MBA graduate receiving his degree this August. Emphasis has been on quality material, a topnotch faculty, a broad base provided by an interdisciplinary approach, and flexibility in meeting needs of both academic and business worlds. Special lecturers from national corporations and other universities were brought in throughout the school year to enhance the program.

Perhaps the most outstanding highlights of the year were those events which drew no public notice nor attention from the press. These took place daily at the University of Tampa — quiet moments of scholarly research in the library, a stimulating lecture in a renovated classroom, conversations at the cafeteria and in the hallways. The business of higher education is one highlight after another, for the pursuit and acquisition of knowledge is one of the finest efforts known to man.

In all, it was a most successful year. It was a year when your University gained in the strengths of its faculty, staff and academic offering. It was a year of relative quiet on the campus — a year when studies assumed a new priority among students. Thanks to your thoughtfulness and generosity, it was a record year in financial growth. It was a year that signified possible declines in future enrollments, reflecting the end of the Korean War baby boom two decades ago. It was a year when your University lost some very dear friends — in all, a year to remember.
