

SPARTANS PLAY NEWBERRY INDIANS

PSYCHOLOGY AND EDUCATION GAIN IN POPULARITY

Dean Sees Increased Enrollment

Although the university has been in session for over a week, registrations are still being added to the increasing student body. Dean M. S. Hale and his office force have been kept busy every day during all the hours of the day. It is evident from the crowded classrooms and corridors that the enrollment is increasing as the years pass.

An official report has not been made of the number of students enrolled but the dean's office reports that registration today is still above the number that had registered at the same time last year.

"New and old students are still filling into my office to register," said Dean Hale yesterday. "Teachers from all sections of the county are still applying for new courses. The numbers of night students has also increased steadily. All indications are that the enrollment will far exceed all previous ones."

Regular courses of study that are offered include Bible and sociology, biology, chemistry, physics, geology, business administration, foreign languages, history and archeology, English and dramatics, journalism, art education and psychology, and physical education for both men and women.

Dr. C. A. Morley's courses in education and psychology and Prof. Richard Bryan's courses in business administration seem to be the courses most popular with the student body. Dr. D. D. Bode's courses in chemistry are also enjoying a boom. Dr. Bode says that he is teaching more classes in chemistry than he has ever taught before. Archeology, which enjoyed first place in popularity last year has dropped over 50 percent.

Dean Speaks

Dean Hale welcomed the old and new students at the first assembly last week. He advised the new students to "come to school for a useful purpose."

"If you have come here just for the social functions," he continued, "or just to play football, or just because your neighbor went to college, you are in the wrong place. In college there is a place for play and for other social activities, but students should not forget that their parents send them to school for a far more serious purpose than those."

The dean also stressed the point that frankness should be a quality which every collegian should have by reading a letter to Robert E. Lee from his father, written when the great Civil war general was beginning his academic career.

"If you have any fault to find with any one," the letter read, "tell him, not others, of what you complain. Never do a wrong thing to make a friend or keep one; the man who requires you to do so is dearly purchased as a sacrifice. Deal kindly, but firmly with all your classmates; you will find it the policy which wears best. Above all, do not appear to others what you are not."

THOUGHTS FOR THE DAY

Never count yourself whipped. We are equipped to conquer; we are God's children.

I am resolved, this day, not to discuss with anyone the faults or shortcomings of others.

The question for me today is: Not what can I get for myself, but what may I share of the common load; not where do my duties end, but where are the opportunities for service.

Addresses Students

DEAN HALE

Who addressed the special student assembly at the beginning of the University's sixth year. Dean Hale has been with the school three years and is very much responsible for the school's growth.

STUDENT COUNCIL IS READY FOR BIG YEAR, SAYS WALTER HOY

The student council swung into action immediately after school began and many meetings have been held since then. Walter Hoy, newly-elected president of the council announces that the council will function smoothly this year. All members elected last year to the council are back in school with the exception of Mary Eve, senior representative who will register in the near future. Miss Eve was elected secretary of the council by the members.

For the second successive year, Rabbi David Zielonka was unanimously elected adviser to the council. Ray Newell, president of the junior class, was elected treasurer. Hoy, Phil Patterson, and Bruce Kelly will compose the executive committee. This committee functions only when it is impossible to call a general meeting. Adolf Ramirez, who is senior class president, is automatically vice president of the council.

The council recently selected the members of the Freshman Guidance court. Officials appointed were Grover Beazley and Orris Beynon, judges; Joe Wilson, bailiff, and a jury composed of Hasus Castro, Luther Sparkman, Rudy Rodriguez, Lafayette Ingram, Howard Stephens and Earl Hatcher.

Plans were also made for the coming election of freshman officers and cheerleaders. Dean Wilson is head of the election committee which will have charge of the election.

Lettermen Re-elect Red Means President

Edwin ((Red)) Means, St. Petersburg, was re-elected president of the "T" club, the official lettermen's club of the University of Tampa. The club held its first meeting of the year early this week and plans for the coming year were outlined by the officers and members. The organization was formed last year and Means was elected the first president.

The club sponsored several picnics last year which were well attended by faculty members and many friends of the Athletic Department.

Other officers elected are: Luther Sparkman, Danila vice president; Phil Patterson, Tampa, secretary-treasurer; and Rudy Rodriguez, Tampa, club reporter.

Other members of the club include: Walter Hoy, Ed Carter, Marvin Chaney, Frank Clinton, John Edison, Clockett Farnell, Willie Godwin, Wilbur Gunnoe, Ray Hurn, Gus Muench, Adolf Ramirez, Bob Trumontana, Monkey Rhines, J. B. Cox, Earl Hatcher, Howard Stephens and James Bryan.

W. B. Culbreath is advisor for the club.

WPA WORK TO BE STARTED SOON AT UNIVERSITY

Workmen Will Erect New Roof

Word was received recently by Tampa WPA officials that funds had been appropriated from Washington for a project which calls for extensive repair work in the building of the University of Tampa. The first project calls for work to begin soon for the erection of a new roof. Water that leaks into the ceilings through the many cracks in the old roof has already done considerable damage to the plaster in various parts of the building. The new roof will eliminate further damage to this magnificent building.

University officials say that this initial project will be followed by other appropriations by the government. The present plans call for repair work throughout the building and remodeling of several sections of the building. This latter work would begin soon after the new roof has been completed.

Need Repairs

Should these plans materialize, and the possibility is that they will, students of the university will have available the many recreation rooms and fraternity and sorority rooms which they have been petitioning for since the school originated. There is enough room available for these purposes, but it is almost worthless without the necessary repairs.

The entire program of work would call for repair work to plaster in the university ballroom and library; a new paint job for the entire building; remodeling of the annex, known as the athletic department; repair work, and better ventilation and lighting for the basement of the university. The latter would be used for recreation purposes.

The university building was erected by Henry B. Plant in the 1880's at an approximate cost of $3,000,000.

Soph Tells Freshmen Of Ten Commandments To Prevent Cheating

When the discussion arose early this week among a group of lowly Freshmen as to whether or not their new Alma Mater had an Honor System, it took a smiling Sophomore only a few seconds to settle their question and suggest a method for preventing cheating. After being in the University for a year he has drawn up a code which cannot fail. This simple method of preventing cheating follows:

1. Students will march to class under guard of the town's police force, equipped with sawed off shotguns.
  2. Students will be stopped at doorway and thoroughly searched for contraband notes and the like.
  3. Before entering class, each student will be submitted to a psychological test to determine whether or not he has any intention of cheating.
  4. Classrooms will be decorated with such mottoes as "Honesty is the best Policy" and "Think before you Cheat."
  5. Each student will place a handkerchief over his mouth.
  6. Students and teachers will enter together and the door will be locked and sealed.
  7. Students will sit two seats apart with teachers standing between each two students. Teachers will be armed with blackjacks to inspire respect.
  8. Additional teachers on the outside will watch through peepholes in the walls.
  9. Highly tuned dictaphones will be placed behind the pictures to catch the slightest whisper.
  10. When the student has completed his examination a lie detector will be used to see if he cheated.
- (Before marking the papers, teachers will discount 10 points from each paper on the possibility that the student has cheated).

COACH HIGGINS

Who leads Tampa's Spartans in the opening game against Newberry tomorrow night. Higgins is starting his fourth season with the Spartans.

DEAN HALE DEFIES CRITICS WITH SPEECH IN STUDENT ASSEMBLY

Dean Hale fired away at critics of the university with a volley of vital facts about the financial condition and scholastic standing of the University of Tampa in an impromptu speech at the students' assembly last Tuesday morning. He disclosed much information that is not known generally by the students in an attempt to spike the various inaccurate statements being circulated among citizens and students.

"Every year at about this time," he said, "a certain group takes upon themselves to appraise the standing of this university." They point out the fact that the university is not a member of the Southern Association, is not accredited, etc. It is intimated that it is not safe to attend college here.

To prove that there is no foundation for such talk, Dean Hale cited more than half a dozen cases wherein former Tampa U. students had received full credit for their work here. In most cases, the only requirement needed was a set of good grades, but even the University of California accepted "D" grades submitted by a Tampa student.

Carmen Cosio was accepted into the senior class of the University of Alabama; D. B. York was accepted by Vanderbilt; Don Guinta by the University of Florida. West Point, Annapolis, Georgia Tech and other institutions equally important have recognized the University of Tampa credits.

Not only is the academic side of the university in good shape, but the financial side is also excellent. At the close of the 1934-35 term there was a debt of $12,000. At the close of the 1935-36 term, this debt had been wiped out, and at the close of the summer session the university possessed a considerable bank account, enough to meet a moderate emergency.

"The city and the government think enough of this building and the possibilities of the Tampa University to approve a $135,000 appropriation for repairs and improvements to the building," the dean said.

Also on the program were Jesse Keene, assistant football coach, who gave a pep talk about the game to be held Saturday and Leah Mae Hunter, Bill Ried, and Otto Riener, cheer leaders who led the assembly in several cheers.

The students' assembly is a variation from the general assembly which is held every Thursday. The general assembly is under supervision of university officials for the purpose of keeping it educational, but the new student assembly is for the students to use as they desire. It will be held each Tuesday hereafter, according to an announcement by Walter Hoy, student body president.

HIGGINS' MEN FAVORED OVER WEARY INDIANS

Tampa U. Lineup Is Uncertain

Equipped with the greatest offensive and defensive power of any of the teams in the school's brief history, Coach Nash Higgins will turn loose his big football machine on Plant field tomorrow night against the weary and battered Newberry Indians, of Newberry, South Carolina.

Although the South Carolinians are not conceded a chance to win by the majority of local enthusiasts of the pigskin game, this writer believes that the Spartans will find the going pretty tough against the huge forward wall of the visiting team. The Indian line with such huskies as Tony Holm, 210-pound tackle, and Joe Gibbons, 230 pounder, will average every bit of 200 pounds.

Low Furen, huge end, is also a great defensive and offensive player. He was the individual star of last year's encounter which was played in Newberry.

Spartans Won Last Year

The Spartans won last year's game 12-7 after a great battle which left them crippled for the next few games. The Newberry team was the third opponent that Coach Higgins' men faced in 10 days. This year, however, Newberry comes here with the tables

William E. Culbreath, instructor in journalism and business manager of the Athletic Department is improving after undergoing an appendicitis operation last week. His illness came as a complete surprise to his many friends and students. It is the opinion of this paper that Culbreath will be present at the Spartans' opening game tomorrow night, even if he has to go in an ambulance. We wish him a speedy recovery.

turned against them. Their game with the Spartans marks their third encounter of the season, which only started last Friday. The Indians have played the Citadel and Oglethorpe University.

Coach Higgins, who does not believe in having an over-confident squad is expecting a hard battle for his proteges. He is well satisfied with the pre-season showing of his team.

For the past several days the Spartan mentor has drilled his squad against last year's Newberry plays and the boys have done well against them. Coach John Edison's Freshmen outfit threw passes all over the playing field, which probably means that the Spartans are preparing themselves against an enemy aerial attack. Coach Dutch McLain's youngsters depend very much on long passes for most of their gains.

In Ed Beck, a 180-pound halfback, the Indians will present a first class triple threat star who should give the Spartans a headache. He is an excellent ball carrier and his passing is accurate.

Several Injuries

Several Spartan aspirants, who were being counted upon by Coach Higgins to bolster the team's power, will see little or no action in the opening game. Ed Carter, the dependable, hard blocking signal caller of last year's team will not be able to play because of an old knee injury. Tony Freedy, sophomore quarterback, will probably play very little because of minor injuries. It is very probable that Rudy Rodriguez, the key man of the Spartan offense, will start at the quarterback post. Rudy alternates at quarterback and halfback and plays both positions well.

Dick Spoto and Paul Alfieri are also nursing minor injuries which may

THE MINARET POLICY

- To give full support to all activities that will prove beneficial to the University.
- To encourage the growth of social fraternities and sororities on our campus.
- To strive for a better understanding between students and faculty members.
- To do our part in making student government a complete success.
- To support the Spartan athletic teams and advocate a well rounded physical education program with a complete list of minor, as well as major sports activities.
- To help publicize the University of Tampa in every way possible.
- To present news stories in an unbiased and straightforward manner.

Progress

Along with the opening of another scholastic year come scenes of the inevitable ordeal through which the freshmen must go. Men wearing red and gold caps, hustle like a colony of red ants about the campus. They yell, they laugh, they run, they are uneasy. But what are they after?

"Paddles," explains some one. "They are looking for paddles."

We hear rumors of a rat court.

"Tonight! There is a rat court tonight!"

"Bah," says a bold freshman, "who cares?" But from another corner comes the trembling voice of a timid rat:

"Honest," he inquires, "do they throw you in the river? You see, I . . . I can't swim."

Bursts of laughter choke his words, and his plea is ignored. Later, when the first hours of the night come, we hear VERY distinctly the cracking of the paddles:

"One."

"Ouch."

"Two."

"Oucher."

Evidently the freshman laws are being enforced. And so we see how as the years go by the laws take shape, they grow like an avalanche and are more rigorously enforced.

This year, however, the sophomore class is extremely democratic in nature. Backed by the principle that to equal privileges correspond equal duties, they have come out with a new code of laws for the guidance of freshmen. Because these freshmen know nothing about college manners and college ways, the sophomore ladies open their code with "what the well dressed freshmen must wear" and that's the reason why you see so many red, gold and black butterflies fluttering about in the lobby.

But of all the laws in the freshmen code, none pleases the Don Juans more than that about "Thou shalt not cut campus unless accompanied by an upper-classman."

Surprising as it may seem, a great many freshmen are having trouble trying to identify the DeSoto Oak. Too bad they can't see the tomb stone under it.

Knowledge in Exchange for Work

From colleges everywhere there comes news of increasing numbers of students who are doing outside work in order to pay for the college tuition. This trend is very noticeable here. A reporter checked 80 names, by searching records and random inquiry, of students who were "working their way" through this University. The number is actually about double that amount. Many students who do not work during school months gained their tuitions by working and saving in the summer.

Those old enough to have spent several years trying to earn a living in competition with others in business or the professions are almost unanimous in advising young people to gain as much school training as possible. This, along with the inherited idea of the good time one has at college, has probably caused these students to attempt the double duty of working and studying. After close observations, several doctors and writers have now come to the opinion that just any one cannot be a student-worker with a happy result. The reasons, in part, are that health is endangered and that bad habits, such as procrastination, may be formed and that four years of valuable time may be wasted on a mind that can't be educated.

However, it can be safely assumed that any student who is willing to work is also willing to study. He is probably ambitious and well-behaved. So he goes to make up part of a good general student body. Fortunately for the student-worker, the student body is unusually congenial. There are few here with the "better than thou" attitude.

Another thing that is fortunate for the student-worker is the leniency of the instructors. Where there is a good explanation of how the time when one should have been studying was spent, the instructor is willing to postpone the time for handing in home work. This is greatly appreciated.

—Minaret.

OUT OF THE NIGHT

All things must have a beginning, so this column begins here!!

Herky Hoy, our untried president, but tried and tested Spartan, will no doubt be seen many places this year—officially and unofficially. He will probably be so entirely captivated by his duties that he will hardly have any time to give to the affairs of any lady's heart.

Many of our revellers are disappointed because they were not able to bring their dates to rat court which was open neither to the ladies nor to any other than students of the University. Lawrence Alford and his latest were turned back at the gate as the bailiff was crying "Hear Ye! Hear Ye!". The taboo was only for the "Formal Introduction" and later rat court will be enjoyed by all.

John Smiley's walk should be illuminated with artificial moonlight—inspirations without moonlight are few in this balmy clime—and just think, the moon is dark for 14 days out of the month!! We suggest that freshmen secure enough Model "T" headlights and wire in order to install constant moonlight on our picturesque promenade.

DeWitt Trawick, the blonde zephyr from Tallahassee, is casting his lot (which was almost lost last year) with the petite Stella, who may or may not change her mind this year. Danny Cupid's arrow had a sting last year, but we think that he is no longer susceptible to the venom.

An unusual disaster almost ruined the season's first bridge party sponsored by the Sigma Theta Phi's. It is a doggy story. Hostess was dismayed to discover that her pet dachshund had already tallied a few rubbers upon the floor by destroying the tally cards—Oh dear!—An almost excruciating embarrassment was about to follow. Dashing madly and gnashing in consternation because of dachshund's prank hostess at last was extremely fortunate in finding some spare tally sheets.

Monk Rhynes will be seen in a new role Saturday night, that of drum major. "Arson" does fancy tricks on the dance floor and as water boy; so he will probably surprise the spectators with a fancy band drill and some agile baton twirling. His ideas may be "cute."

The Delta Kappa's are planning several teas, some of which will be pink-silver (but always orange). Too bad Clett will not be definitely established as a D. K. fixture and will not grace, by his presence, the "gab-fests" which by his adornment would have been so piquant.

John Smiley is at Pearson, Fla. We wonder how Smiley and Lucille are doing on their matrimonial seas. Which is the galley slave? Perhaps both are first mates. We expect to see them in attendance at some of our better functions.

Dr. Barnard has impressed his English classes with statements of his humble aims for the courses. The outbursts of spiritual energy of the Victorians and the brilliant Romanticists, Byron Keats, and Shelley, should teach us a better answer to the questions: "What are the aims of education?" and "How to live?" since the human problems of all ages are identical. Problems of the heart also remain unchanged.

LOYALTY SONG

To the Tampa University
We pledge our faith
String onward to honor and fame.
To our college
To our team-mates
We are always true
And we cheer and we'll fight for our name.
Hear our war cry.
Hear our motto
Hear our song of praise.
We will cheer,
We will fight,
We will win.
On you Spartans
On to Glory
On to Victory
To the Red, Black and Gold be true.

MUEZZIN CALLS

SUMMER'S END

The curtain lowers on the summer show;
The disenchanting lights upon the crowd
Are turned; while in the pit, the closing flow
Of music climbs the air with brassy loud . . .
For some, the play has been too brief a thing;
They think of past full moons poised in the sky;
And sunsets chorde with a crimson sting;
And quiet dawns that somehow pacify . . .
For others, it has all been played too well:
The love they thought was such a valued prize
Became as hollow as a trickster's shell . . .
What matter though, the play be truth or lies?
Each passing summer must a pattern be
To pin upon life's varied tapestry.

GEORGE KAYTON.

UNNECESSARY

It needs not scientific implements
Nor cunning apparatus to detect
The coming clash for rule as States direct
Their gold and men on costly armaments . . .
It needs not telescopic instruments
To see the Horsemen eagerly collect
And wait the rending signal to project
Themselves again upon earth's elements . . .
It needs not these to hear the coming blare
Of bands . . . So men, know this before you fall:
In war, both victor and the vanquished share
And suffer brutal vast defeat; and all
The glory that you forge out of your hate,
Shall turn upon you with a vengeance great.

GEORGE KAYTON.

THE TRIAL AND THE CLOAK

Diviner law than yours
Will judge my cause;
Fit the sentence on
With suppler ease.

Mine to wear your verdict,
Doubtful thread,
Till a finer Juror
Give me tweed.

Pain is the biting diamond
That breaks the shielding glass,
And lets the Heaven-smothered soul

INITIAL YEARBOOK STAFF IS PRAISED BY TAMPA U. STUDENTS

During the summer the Moroccan, the memorable first year book of the University of Tampa, made its initial appearance. This marked another step in the progress of the university.

Due to delay in getting copy to the printers because a number of photographs were missing, the Moroccan did not appear during the spring session as was expected.

The lobby and halls at the time of its distribution were thronged once again with students who had come for this prized possession. Everyone was making a rush to the professors and other students for signatures.

The red cover of fine moroccan grain and rich golden lettering contains a special design of the university with its towering minarets. Dr. Morley believes the cover is one of the outstanding features of the annual. Also the designed pages dividing the pages into sections made by a student, Al Yorkunas, are exceptionally fine. The snapshot section by Bill Logan gained universal approval as well as the class notables. Other sections were devoted to numerous pictures of the campus, buildings, surroundings, pictures of the professors, seniors, juniors, and lower classmen; sections of athletics, organizations, and advertisements. Every organization was represented.

"The entire staff of the Moroccan is to be commended for its splendid efforts and accomplishments in producing the first issue of the students' year book," were the words of Dean Hale.

The first edition, of course, will be followed by many more of this nature, maybe larger and more detailed, but none, however, will signify more in the life of the university or the students whose worthwhile perseverance has made this first annual a success.

Variety

BY
T. L. FERRIS

Well!!! School's here or we're at school, but anyway we can give three cheers—the kind that was originated in the Bronx . . . Some didn't come back but twice as many filled their places. Yeh, these rats that squirm back and forth ain't the big cheeses they use to be in Senior Hi . . .

Plenty happened during the summer, most of the Tampa U-ers spent their time absorbing vitamin D at the Gulf. Plenty has happened in the past week too, but just give us time to catch up with ya . . . The Sigma Theta Phi and the Delta Kappa teas were of much interest to the fairer sex and the Beta Chi dance, Sigma Kappa Nu luncheon, and Tau Omega smoker held the attention of the not-so-fair sex.

Patti Burton believes in playing around on the shores before she steps into the sea of matrimony. But all play and less work makes her the sought-after pebble she is . . . Verna West has convinced her beau to "Go West Young Man, Go West." . . . A very tall young man confides that it won't be long before he will pop the question. (He's building up courage now) . . . The old time and all-the-time McGucken-Baker mix-up is now leveled out again but not just cause George Clett has gone back to Georgia to stay. All that jam that took place at the Deke dance was unpardonable and McGuck wishes "all the remarks would cease." . . . What would happen to co-ed colleges if they adopted (like the U. S. Naval and Military Academies) a rule requiring each co-ed to pledge herself not to marry for two years after graduation?

Dr. Barnard, new blond prof will soon have the honor of autographing books which he himself has written. Leah Mae Hunter has pointed out the fact that the Doctor isn't married. (So what, wonder we) Ann McCurdy, who was gal-dictorian at Plant has a sweet line—hook and sinker too . . . Joyce Turner, back from the University of Penn summer school has acquired a new twang and some new jokes (we hope) . . . Sara Barlett, faculty heart-breaker, is learning the advertising trade at the Tribune . . . Hamp Dunn, last year editor of our rag has stepped into the world as a reporter for the Times.

There was a broken record of debts at the D. K. dance last Saturday, but we can't say the same about the man. It was beginning to look like no man's land but the males soon showed up and swung it. The added one hour was as much appreciated as if the place had been air conditioned but the hot weather helped beat a trail to the automatic drink stand which Richard Powell swears was spiked . . . The Vice presidency of the Sophomore class is still vacant because of a tie in the election between Buford Lindsay and Marvin Lassiter. A flip of a coin would aid matters.

Tampa U will have a Merry Xmas the whole year around. It is not the usual kind that comes every December 25th, but a student, Miss Mary Christmas, who has registered as a Freshman for this term.

Remember last year the student body picked the favorite movie actor and actress (Ginger Rogers and Fredric March), well, this year Miss Rogers and Mr. March are going to pick favorites from Tampa U—but that's all we can tell you now . . . Virginia Morrow is waiting for sweet whispers in her ears, but they haven't come yet . . . Bob Shoun is dishing dirt

The Rat court nearly threw us into convulsions Monday night. Bailiff Joe Wilson had to explain to each newcomer how to assume the angle—we'll skip the explanation! . . . Dick Spoto, probably the first to receive a lick last year was the first to administer a lick this year. A massage was given after each whack to the pet rats. . . Freshman Pound (All that the name implies) had to bray at a light like a quadruped, commonly known as the jackass . . . Another freshman was asked to wrestle with temptation. "Judge," he said in a Bob Burn-ish manner, "the only temptation I can think up now is to jump out that window and beat it for home." . . . The show was stolen when big-footed Lateral and Moran "Fred Astaire it" to the hill billy tunes of Dan Brainer, then Upper Classman Oxo Hurn started laughing so hard he attracted all the attention.

But that's enough about these rodents that infest our house of learning, so until the game—which reminds us of three pleasant sounds: 1. Clink of money coming down slots. 2. The gurgling of good "stuff" and 3. Cheers at a Foot Ball Game! One very unpleasant sound is—Knock Knock . . . S'long.

ART INSTRUCTOR TO PREPARE FOR BETTER EXHIBIT

The University of Tampa Art Studio, which gathered cobwebs during the summer months, will soon be in full swing and headed towards another bigger and better annual art exhibit. The first exhibit, to which 23 art students contributed over 200 drawings and paintings in all mediums, received favorable comment from press and public. It is the desire of Mr. Borchardt and all those connected with the art department to produce works which will be a credit to the University. The first exhibit did its bit towards this end.

Mr. Norman Borchardt, the art instructor, spent the summer months in Canada where he, at times, made sketches of the beautiful scenery which is so plentiful in that northern country. He has returned home full of vim and vigor and with fresh interest to build up the art class. He hopes to make the classes more stimulating than they were last year.

Some of the things Mr. Borchardt wants to stress this year are, sketching from models, outdoor easel painting, portrait painting, and work which will stimulate advertising away from the photographic influence. The overuse of photography in the advertising pages of our leading magazines is crowding out good design and layouts which could bring quicker results—apart from being more interesting.

Another thing which will be emphasized this year is art work which will have practical use such as, cartoons, book and magazine illustrations, book cover designs, trade mark design, lettering, etc. Mr. Borchardt wants to present those things which will prove profitable after leaving school.

In short, the art course offered in this University is not a pastime but a practical, well rounded commercial course as well as an academic art course.

"I want to take this opportunity," says Mr. Borchardt, "of cordially extending an invitation to all our 'fair' co-eds who are wasting their loveliness in the University lobby to come up and pose for our struggling artists."

Hurricane Grid Team Expects Winning Year

With a large aggregation of sophomore talent to bolster his varsity squad, Coach Irl Tubbs is all smiles these days as the Hurricane eleven from Miami prepares for its important annual game with the Tampa Spartans next week. The game, which will be played in the south Florida city, has all the indications of being an early season classic. The Spartans won 12-6 last year in a rough and tumble game.

At least four newcomers have been primed for regular berths by Coach Tubbs. Eddie Dunn, of Port Jervis, New York, has almost clinched the quarterback position left vacant by the graduation of Johnnie Ott, once the pride of the Hillsborough Terriers. Ott is backfield coach of the Hurricane team.

Zalmon Zolesnick, 190-pound youngster from Milwaukee, seems sure to earn the starting position at center. This burly youngster is also giving everyone close competition for the fullback post. Andy Csaky, a New Jersey boy, and Tom Shopis, a product of Virginia, are two other sophomores who are in the running for backfield duties.

Big Nat Glogowski, veteran guard from Tampa, succeeds Johnnie Ott as captain of the Miami eleven. Glogowski starred at Plant high school a few years ago. The powerful Sal Mastro will take control of the other guard post when the opening whistle blows for Miami's first contest.

Spartans Play Newberry Indians

keep them from playing tomorrow night.

Happy Hayes, a hard working tackle and Lytton Ashmore, a shifty ball carrier, will make their debut with the Spartans in tomorrow's game. Both are junior college material imported to the school this fall.

Although a definite starting lineup has not been announced by the Spartan coach it is probable that he will start with 11 veterans of last year's team. The starting assignment will probably fall upon Walter Hoy and Phil Patterson, ends; Ray Hurn and Bob Tramontana, guards; Gus Muench and Crockett Farnell, tackles; Cotton Clinton, center; Rudy Rodriguez, quarterback; Marvin Chaney and Earl Hatcher, halfbacks, and J. B. Cox at fullback.

The kickoff is scheduled for 8:30 p. m.

Will Play Newberry

Rudy Rodriguez, left, and Phil Patterson, right, will have starting assignments in the Spartans' opening game tomorrow night against the Newberry Indians. They are both seniors and will be playing their last season of college football.

SPARTAN SPARKLES

By HAMPTON DUNN

The strongest team ever to represent the University of Tampa on the gridiron will trot out on the field tomorrow night to face the strong Newberry College Indians. This is not just a wild guess, but after seeing the Spartans in daily practice we are convinced that they have a faster team, a heavier team, an almost perfectly-timed team, and a better team in general.

Twelve seniors from the nucleus of Coach Nash Higgins' squad, and these with many other veterans and a large group of promising Sophomores makes the coming grid season a bright one, indeed. And then, Johnny Edison has a bunch of scrapping frosh out there who have been giving the varsity plenty of tough competition in scrimmages and daily practices.

But the thing that really convinces us that the Spartans this year are a winning squad is the old fighting spirit they have shown constantly in two weeks of torrid training at Camp Owen Brorein and the hard practices at Plant Field. One can say what he likes, but a team cannot win—no matter what scientific system it uses—unless it has that old "do or die" spirit. It is essential, and this writer believes every one of the Spartans is conscious of this.

We will go out on the limb for the first time this year by predicting a victory of about two touchdowns over the Indians by the Spartans. Records reveal that the Spartans have defeated the South Carolinians twice in just as many encounters. In 1934, the Spartans were victors with a 33 to 0 score, and last year they defeated the Indians 14 to 7. While the locals have increased their strength the Newberry eleven has gone down, although they do have several flashy backs. Three games in eight days is tough on any team and that is what Newberry is doing. Citadel defeated the Indians 33 to 0 last Saturday night and the Oglethorpe Petrels were to meet them on Wednesday of this week.

The close score resulting in last year's contest between the two teams was under the same circumstances. The Spartans were rushing through a strenuous schedule and met the Indians when they had just finished beating three strong opponents.

With Newberry out of the way, Higgins' outfit will point for Miami. The game with the East Coast eleven will be the supreme test of the Spartans. If they are successful in that clash—then success for the remainder of the season is assured. We will first have to see the Spartans in actual competition before we can make any prediction for the outcome of the game with the Hurricanes. All we can say is—we wish them luck!

Gardenias to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who have voted to assist the Spartan Club in a drive to obtain $3000 during the month of October to provide the University athletes with a training table. The Jaycees will solicit memberships into the club and assist in various other ways.

Incidentally, the Spartan Club is responsible for the new "dresses" the Spartans will proudly display at the game Saturday night. The uniform this year is a colorful combination of white jerseys with red, black and gold stripes and the bright orange silk pants.

3 TEAMS

TEAM (Spoken)
TEAM (Louder)
TEAM (Shout)

"A team for every girl and every girl on a team" is the motto of the Women's Intramural Program in the University of Tampa.

In the year 1934-35 over half the women in the college participated in the sports program offered by the department.

This year the intramural board hopes to reach every girl. At least they are endeavoring to make the program so interesting that every one will wish to take part in it.

Games will be scheduled at the most convenient hours possible during the day, and girls wishing to play may sign up with team and class managers.

Very little coaching is needed for intramural contests since instruction is given in all sports in the physical education classes. However, any individual or team wishing extra coaching may have it upon request.

Playing to win is only a part of the intramural policy however, since the main purpose of the program is to afford an opportunity for the girls to enjoy some sort of recreation and relaxation between the hours of study.

Therefore it is not at all necessary that a girl be especially good in any sport for her to come out and learn as she plays, and improve her health and knowledge as she enjoys the activity and the fellowship accompanying the activity.

In 1934-35 several girls were voted outstanding in the various sports by the members of the W. A. A. Others won top honors in such games as tennis, ping pong, and birdminton, a modified game of badminton which will be played again this year.

Dot Sanford, a freshman last year, came in and took the tennis crown from Miss Marjorie Dennis, after defeating several players of good standing in the university.

Carmen Fernandez, a new student last year, won the ping pong championship, taking the finals from Miss Betty Dickinson, another freshman, last year, who gave the tennis contestants a scare or two in the tournament.

At the annual swimming meet held by the intramural department, Betty Stone walked off with the high point medal and the Physical Educators won the team championship.

Volleyball provided an interesting schedule for the intramural teams with the Delta Kappas facing the Sigma Theta Phi's in the first match. The Delta Kappas won but went down in defeat in the finals before the Freshmen girls' team, the best first-year team the university has seen. The new students will have to go some to outdo the record of last year's freshmen.

Marjorie Dennis was voted the outstanding player in the volleyball tournament and received a medal as a reward.

Several new sports will be added to the intramural program of 1936-37. Besides tennis, volleyball, basketball, diamond ball, track, swimming, ping pong and birdminton, there will be horseshoes, shuffleboard and archery.

Two women's volleyball teams will represent the university in the City Recreation league.

One team composed only of freshmen girls will play in the school league and another team of upperclassmen, or varsity team, will enter the business women's division, provided the two divisions are not combined and all teams scheduled to play each other.

According to a statement made by Mrs. Klein, director of women's athletics, the women's volleyball teams will be expected to practice regularly and to adhere to training rules strictly because she plans to send her teams into the state tournament which will be held here in Tampa this year.

Competition in volleyball in the city league has proven heretofore a little too much for the local girls in the long run, however they have exhibited some well-played matches and have shown a fine brand of sportsmanship.

At present it is a little soon to be going over the prospects for the women's basketball season but the loss of several veterans makes it interesting since we have noticed their failure to register this term.

Two guard positions have been vacated by two dependable players, Mildred Rupe and Betty Stone. Mildred will be in school but will not carry sufficient hours to make her eligible for the team. Betty has not returned from Indiana where she has spent the summer.

Mary Eve, a reliable forward, has not yet returned but may register soon. Mary played in every game, acting as captain at times, aided the team in many victories.

Angelino Martino will be lost to the team this year because of a knee injury. "Angie" was known as the fastest guard the Spartans had on the '36 team and her absence from the squad will be noticed.

Freshmen players are fortunate this year in having Miss Grace Moore of Clearwater for a guard position on their team. Grace won a position on the all-state team in the A.A.U. state tournament held here last year. She played basketball, diamond ball, tennis and volleyball for the Gym Girls of Clearwater for a number of years and excelled in every one of these sports. At one time Grace won a medal for displaying fine sportsmanship.

The women's varsity basketball team played off a tie in the City Recreation league last season for the city championship in the blue division but lost the final and deciding game of the three-game series to the Hospital Nurses' team.

W. A. A. members will meet in the assembly hall Tuesday at 11:30 for the first time this year.

Mary Eve, president, will take charge, and will discuss the purpose of the W. A. A. and its program.

Freshmen managers will be elected by members of their class.

Every woman in the university is automatically a member of the association and will be expected to be present at the meeting.

An archery set is being purchased by the W. A. A. Ping pong and birdminton sets were bought last year for the use of all the members of the association.

Sophs and Rats Battle Soon in Grid Classic

The intramural sports program for the current year will be ushered in Saturday, Oct. 3, at 11:30, with the Sophomore Bullies encountering the Frosh in the annual touch football game. Judging from past encounters between the rival classes this should be a titanic struggle for class prestige. Rumors are going around that the losing class shall suffer the insult of the well-known belt line. Should the Rats win this would place the Sophomores in a peculiar situation—a Sophomore flogging. According to past records the upperclassmen are the favorites but the Frosh have a chance to pull the unexpected. A freshman class walked away with the honors in 1933, 13-0.

Plans as now outlined by the intramural department call for a heavy program of activities for the fall season. Touch football starts the week of Oct. 5, cross-country, shuffleboard, horseshoes in November, ping pong, tennis, in early December. From the interest shown last year this should be the greatest year in the life of the young university in intramural activities. The total list of activities offered this year shall include touch football, cross-country, shuffleboard, horseshoes, ping pong, tennis, golf, wrestling, boxing, basketball, track, diamondball, swimming, volley ball, water polo and handball.

A special student assembly is being arranged for the purpose of awarding trophies, and medals to last year's winners, and to acquaint the freshmen with the opportunities offered in participation in wholesome intramural activity.
