

WTUN - UBS Offers A Valuable Training Program

WTUN, the University Broadcasting System, with studios on the second floor of the University of Tampa, has been a training ground for many of the top rated personalities in commercial radio and television in the Tampa Bay area and all parts of Florida.

Here in Tampa radio station WDAE has many of WTUN's former announcers. Among them, Mac Lee, Dick Fulweiler, Joe Higdon, Thom Spettel, and last but not least, the newest addition to night time deejays, Jim Gallagher. Jim hosts "Dial 1250" a swinging rock and roll record show that runs from 8:15 till midnight Monday through Friday. Jim has a great time spinning his platters for his "faithful few" and you will enjoy his sparkling personality on WDAE.

WFLA, the local NBC affiliated radio and television station, also has some Tampa University students and former students on their staff. In the television department there is Pete York, David Manley, Jack Higgins, and Jack Breit. Ed Bray, who once announced on WTUN, has a weekly television program on WFLA. Jean Morris, a Tampa U senior who is a present member of the WTUN staff, is with WFLA Radio and Television also. Jean is the gal who records commercials, interviews, programs the music and is hostess on her own program "Partyline", Monday through Friday from 10:05 till 10:30 A.M.

Channel 13's leading announcer is Jerry Krumholz, a former WTUN personality. WTVT is indeed fortunate to have Jerry, who appears on camera as well as booth announcing. There are several members of WTVT's staff who are former Tampa University students.

Tuttle Walker, who just recently left WTUN, is now employed at a radio station in Lake City, Florida. Tuttle will be the morning deejay, signing on the station at 5:30 A.M., and running a record show till 10:00 A.M. He then goes out and makes interviews for the news department.

There are many present members of the WTUN staff are now looking for jobs in commercial radio and television. At WTUN all staff members learn how to run the control board, tape machines and remotes. They spend a great deal of time on mike techniques and learning to ad-lib. Any student of the University of Tampa is eligible for the radio staff. Meetings are held every Thursday at 11:00, or students may contact Mr. Von Szeliski, director of Radio.

Minaret Has New Editor

Jean Morris has taken over the editorship of the Minaret for the current semester. This is no new job for Jean as she was editor for both semesters last year. While she was editor the Minaret received two state awards, one for best editorial and the other for best photography. Jean is a senior, majoring in Elementary Education with a minor in English. She is currently employed at WFLA Radio and TV, where she programs the music for all of the radio programs, does commercials, interviews and special events, and debuts on her own program, "Partyline", on Feb. 23. She is married and the mother of three daughters, Karen, Susan and Terry. She is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, Sigma Tau Delta, president of Association for Childhood Education, a member of the WTUN, radio staff, President of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association and was recently elected to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

When asked about her plans for the Minaret for this semester, Jean made the following statement:

"I have taken the editorship of the Minaret for this semester because I would like to help train a student for the position of editor for next year. I feel that it is important to have a good college newspaper because it is a representation of the entire school, its staff and students. I have made many mistakes, but have profited by them and I would like for the prospective editor to profit from my mistakes. It will take the support of all of the students to have a good newspaper, but I will do my best, with their help."

Eddie Edwards will work with Jean as Business Manager.

EDITORIAL

How often have you heard the statement "The University of Tampa is your school?" . . . no doubt many times. Have you ever stopped to think just what this means to every student here at this university? It means that the University is the choice of each student who is now attending; that it is the duty and the privilege of every student to be public relations people for this university. Each of us has many opportunities during the day to say something good about our school. Too many of the students spend time griping about those things that he would like changed and those things that he does not like, that he has no time to talk about the good things. Remember that you will receive your degree from this institution; a degree that you will be proud of, that you worked hard for three or four years to get. Let the general public know that you are proud of the University of Tampa and of its fine faculty and administration. Next time someone says something derogatory concerning any part of this university . . . speak up, defend your alma mater . . . because it is your university and it can only be as good as you make it.

There are many visitors in and out of the University of Tampa each day. We are all proud of the "new look" of our school, the fresh paint, the remodeled offices, the beautiful Rawlings Room, the new light fixtures and the many other changes. Are you doing your part to keep the fresh new look? Do you throw cigarette butts on the floor of your home? Do you drop paper and discarded coffee cups and empty coke bottles on chairs and window sills? No, of course not, and it is ridiculous to even think that you would, and yet some students do those very things here without even giving it a second thought. We all spend a large portion of our days and nights in the university building, it is actually a home away from home, so why not treat it as such? It takes only a minute to walk over to an ash tray or a waste paper basket. One person can not keep this huge building clean and so it is up to each individual to do his small part toward cleanliness. If everyone put things where they belonged . . . there would be no problem, everything would stay fresh and clean . . . don't you agree?

The Professor Problem

By Clyde Ziegler

It should be mandatory that everyone from the highest administrator to the lowest graduate instructor and all students read George William's book "Some Of My Best Friends Are Professors". Mr. Williams has described quite eloquently and humorously the feelings of almost all students.

We can probably assume correctly that very few of the bad professors (and there are many) will bother to read this book. I suggest that you suffering students pool your dimes and send anonymously a copy of this book to certain professors. Be sure to mark the passages which pertain particularly to him.

When the student maybe suggests that one of the "required" courses doesn't fit his needs, he is looked upon with great disdain as if he were trying to put something over on the professors.

The 25 year old veteran transferring to a university with 75 semester hours (all A's and B's) still has to take all of the lower division "required" courses. This veteran has spent a year in the Mediterranean, he has visited the cultural centers of London, Paris, Vienna, Rome, and Athens; he has talked with smugglers in Istanbul; he has tried to console a prostitute in Naples who in an unguarded moment, sobbed helplessly while relating how her mother and father were killed in the war when she was 9 and how she had to eat garbage to stay alive; he has shared a bottle of Gordon Bleu with a negro in Trinidad and tried to encourage him who had saved ten years in order to study law in London and then had to spend everything when his little sister contracted polio; he has visited the opium dens in Hong Kong; he has felt a deep sense of shame while watching hungry little boys and girls eat the scraps from his meal; he has lain for hours in a rice paddy, helpless and afraid and resigned to the fact that he was going to be killed, realizing just how petty most people and their problems are; he has tried to write the mother of his best buddy who has been blown into eternity by a grenade and has ended by cussing, getting drunk and even crying. He sees all of these things and many more when his advisor solemnly tells him that he must take hygiene and social science I & II in order to graduate. If he was not already a confirmed cynic, he would laugh in the face of his advisor.

The veteran and the 18 year old freshman just out of high school are given the same treatment here. Both must take all of the "required courses. Both must be put into the production line at the same point and both are expected to come out the other end as "well-rounded" men. They are well-rounded all right; any sharp edges their minds might have had will have been ground to a dull, smooth and uninteresting finish by the "required" courses along the Aldous Huxley type assembly line.

The Dreambeat

by Bernie McGovern

Understand there's a new hair tonic out called "Tame Root" which is nothing but water and makes you look like a movie star. It comes in Regular, Strong, Stronger, and Leopold Stokowski . . . Understand the air the other day was so clear you could reach up and touch a Sputnik . . . Understand there's a sign in Nantucket that reads: "Rent a bike, the Cycle Logical way to see Nantucket." . . . Understand the play "The Dark at the Top of the Stair," is about bulbsnatches . . . Understand that it was so hot here the other day the bus drivers were accidentally stopping at bus stops . . . Understand that old movie actors never die, they just fade away on old TV tubes . . . Understand the new 1959 trolleys have duel conductors . . . Understand parking lot attendants aren't worried about the length of the new cars, they figure they've only scratched the surface . . . Understand that if Rubirosa and Trujillo, Jr. can't get her then Aly Khan . . . Understand that a buddy of mine had a martini that was so dry that when he spilled it he just brushed it off . . . Understand the networks are going to televise those tense games in pool and billiards. I can see my TV repairman coming into the house and spotting me three tubes . . .

Both Prof. John Von Szeliski's production of "Death of a Salesman" and Vince Petti's production of "The Looking Glass" look good already . . . The bit the Police Department pulled pulling university cars out of the university parking lot while leaving tourist cars intact was a lousy bit of Public Relations . . . The suggestion from members of the Student Senate that the padlock be taken off the Girls Dorm may sound like fun but also sounds a bit stupid . . .

There's a statue by Central Park at Fifth Ave. and 59th St. in New York of Gen. Sherman on horseback. The horse is being led by a woman symbolic of victory. Two rebels came upon it and studied it for a while. "Just like Sherman," said one, "letting the lady walk." . . . Thom Spettel, WTUN's versatile Chief Engineer says King Saud's mother forbidding him to take another wife proves the old adage: "The hen is mightier than the Saud." . . . And our thought for today: "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw parties." . . .

STRICTLY FEMININE

By Jean Morris

After a semester of interning STRICTLY FEMININE is back again with some news and views from the world of fashion. The big news this spring is that the waistline is back, and we hope here to stay! Gone is the chemise and the sack look, all that remains from this brief fashion trend is the empire waist line. The clothes this spring are Strictly Feminine. They are softly tailored or delicately bouffant. The colors are simply fabulous, ranging from the palest tints and hues to the deepest tones. Single color ensembles are in the fashion picture, with one shade of a color being worn from head to toe, including shoes. The citrus colors are excellent as well as just about every shade of blue. The blues are given such romantic names as lido blue, Bermuda blue and heavenly blue. Pink is a favorite especially with the younger generation. The shades of pink range from petal pink to the deep watermelon pink and those with just a hint of lavender in them. The fashion picture is a bright and very flattering one for all women.

Jewelry is leading the fashion picture as usual this spring, with the big earrings in bright colors taking first place. They are bigger and prettier than ever, with just about every shape inexpensive. They are available. The floral earrings and matching bracelets are very popular and very inexpensive. They are available in all department and dime stores. The February issue of Glamour magazine has a fashion guide that will help you when you plan your new spring wardrobe so that you will know that your appearance is fashionable. It will help you to avoid many pitfalls when you are planning your summer clothes. In this guide you will find a rating sheet so that you can rate the clothes that you already own and those that you will purchase. It is well worth your time to study this fashion guide.

Remember that a full length mirror is your best critic, after all only you know what is right for you.

NOTICE TO ALL FALL INTERNS

A meeting will be held on February 26 at 11:00 o'clock for all students who plan to intern the Fall Semester of the 1959-60 school year. Those in Elementary Education will meet in room GCR2. At this meeting general instructions regarding the Internship will be given and application blanks for Internship will be handed out.

"Death of A Salesman" To Be Presented By Drama Student

Tryouts were held this week for the next production by the University of Tampa Drama department. Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" will be presented by the Spartan players on April 10 and 11 at 8:00 P.M. in the Dome Theatre.

Casting is not complete, and so no cast list is available now. It may be necessary to bring in non-students for roles in the play, and any such outside interest is welcome.

Miller's play is, in many opinions, one of the few modern tragedies in dramatic literature. It won the New York Drama Critics Circle Award and the Pulitzer Prize. Produced on Broadway in 1949 (the play's huge success made Miller famous almost overnight).

WAX FACTS

By Jean Morris

The current trends in the field of popular music is a topic that lends itself to much and varied discussion. According to many of the music publishers and promoters, the trend is back to the smooth ballad. This could mean one of two things, either that the definition of smooth ballad has undergone a severe change in the past few years, or that recordings such as the currently popular "Donna" is considered a smooth ballad. Some of the "smooth ballads" that are now on the top twenty lists around the country are: "A Lover's Question", "Lonely Teardrops" and "The Diary". There are also some other currently popular songs with such inspiring titles as "Stagger Lee", "La Bamba" and "Gazachstahagen". And while we are at it...

what in the world has happened to such standards as: "My Happiness", "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" and "All of A Sudden My Heart Sings"? I would like to know one thing... what was wrong with these songs the way they were written? The most disappointing thing about the music situation to me is that many of the top recording artists are now releasing many of these rock-a-ballads instead of holding their own with their pleasant and musical styles. A classic example of this is the re-release of Vaughn Monroe's "There I've Said It Again" with a rock and roll beat. These artists have enough followers of their original style of singing to hold their own in the music world. In fact, they could change the trend back to the real smooth ballad if they cared more about the profession rather than the money... but of course, that is idealistic thinking in the mercenary world of today.

There are a few good releases on the market today as far as singles are concerned. Here are the top five according to the way I see it:

1. Hawaiian Wedding - Andy Williams.
2. Petite Fleur - Bob Crosby.
3. Children's Marching Song - Mitch Miller.
4. May You Always - McGuire Sisters.
5. Evening Rain - Earl Grant.

The new long play releases that are listenable include: "I've Heard That Song Before" - Patti Page, "Freshmen Favorites" - Four Freshmen, "The Sound of the Smooth Bands" - Freddy Martin. Here's to good listening.

CAMPUS CROSS COUNTRY

I never believed so many newspapers existed until I looked into the exchange box in the Minaret office. Man! "You have no excuses for not writing a column," the editor said. "Oh yeah..."

Well, just about everything on hand is about Christmas, and who wants to hear about Christmas now... how ridiculous can one get. There is one Christmas joke worth repeating, however, "Twas the night before Christmas — and Santa Claus died." (So will I for that one).

A play currently being put on at Brigham Young University is entitled "12 Angry Women".

FLASH: Coeds of a New York college dormitory were slightly enraged when they were forced to change dorms. The girls were even more irritated to find out that they were being moved out so their quarters could be turned over to campus males. The reason finally came to light: from their dormitory the women students had been afforded an excellent view into the men's rooms.

EXCLUSIVE: A USU student who was to give a report ran into class late one morning and proceeded to remove his hat, galoshes, coat... and there he was clad in shirt, tie... and no pants. Some coeds screamed; others nearly fainted; some just stared. The subject of his report: Personal Grooming. But the whole thing had been planned; after the screaming died down, he took his trousers from a desk drawer, donned them and proceeded to give the highpoints of personal grooming. Wonder what his grade was?

From Colo. School of Mines: "Nietzsche is peachy, But Freud is enjoyed." — "Conformity — or non-conformity — is a state of mind, nothing else."

GORDON KELLER NURSES

About 49 nurses are attending Tampa U. Where are they from? What are they doing here? How long have they been taking courses here? The answers are simple.

The present program has been going on about 7 years. The nurses attend Tampa University to obtain the necessary academic courses to help their degree which they cannot obtain in the Gordon Keller school. As a result, a triangle has been formed between the Keller school where the nurses receive their degree, obtain their required courses in Tampa U. and practice in Tampa General Hospital. At the hospital they receive practical experience and training.

The nurses are required to take English, Speech, Biology, Chemistry, Sociology, Physiology and Anatomy.

Baptist Student Union News

All students are cordially invited to attend the weekly B. S. U. meetings in room 284 on Mondays at 12:00 and Thursdays at 11:00.

University of Fla.

GAINESVILLE, Feb.—The University of Florida's College of Health Related Services will begin accepting students in the junior year of specialization beginning next September, Dean Darrell J. Mase has announced.

Activation of the new college means the initiation of the first accredited degree programs in physical and occupational therapy in six southeastern states — Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, and South Carolina. The new college also offers an undergraduate program in medical technology.

The University of Florida's masters degree program in rehabilitation counseling, which was recently cited by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation as being one of the very finest in the nation, will be transferred from the College of Education to the new College of Health Related Services.

The College is a unit of the J. Hillis Miller Health Center which also includes the colleges of medicine, nursing and pharmacy. Classroom work will be conducted in the Medical Sciences Building. Clinical training will be conducted in the University's new $10 million Teaching Hospital and Clinics.

WHOM FRIENDSHIP

By Clyde Ziegler

I think that I shall never see
"Sorority Rose" date foolish me.

A fool; though clever, wise,
and witty,

Unenchanted by frater-nity.

A fool naively unimpressed
with rushing, pledging,
mug, and crest.

A fool who wore no "pledge
pot" small,

Whom life-long firendship
didn't call.

A fool who sports no foreign letter,

The man with neither crutch
nor fetter.

A fool no Tuesday meetings
beckon;

An outcast in "left field", I reckon.

A fool whose little on campii,
Except a poor, crude GDI.

A fool psychotic and abnormal
Who skips each fireside and

A fool with will and way to

But unendowed with pin to

Yea fools are woo'd by fools
(so to speak),

While only God can "make" a

Yet the foolish are many, the

And I'm no "equine derriere".

For my cup runneth over,

So let God have His sanctified

Yes, it's been demonstrated time and time again, that for real refreshment it's Coke every time! Add up that cold crisp taste, that lively lift and you really have a drink worth going after. So whenever the crowd has a multiple thirst, make the high sign of good taste... pass around the Coca-Cola! Quod Erat Demonstrandum!

FROM OUR OVEN

FRATERNITY NEWS

By Harry Verderci

The Sig Eps were recently disconcerted by the discovery that their traditional Red Door had turned to pale white overnight. The culprits, however, have been sought out and a confession is now a matter of record. Unfortunately, the lady painters have not shown the proper repentance and severe disciplinary action is being planned to discourage a future attempt.

The Sig Eps are anxiously waiting for the arrival of the LITTLE BROWN JUG in order that the annual series between this Fraternity and the Pi Kappas might be continued. Also acceptable will be any old footballs that the latter may care to offer in return for the one which was borrowed from us during this last year's skits. Active members returning this semester from leave of absence are: Mike Geary, Bob (Bugsy) Vickers, Tom Polous, Brian Downey, Ron Sikora, and Harry Verderci who had business commitments in Shelby, Montana. Harry is now planning his campaign for Student Body President.

Gasparilla time kept the cash registers ringing at 108 Crescent Place, although fair weather, a gay holiday spirit on the part of the crowds, and honest, hard work certainly share the credit. Operating two parking lots and numerous concession stands, the Sig Eps were able to beg, borrow, and induce sufficient funds to guarantee an active semester.

RESOUNDING RESPONSE TO PROFESSORS CONTEST

Students of 120 colleges and universities welcome the chance to sound off about their professors.

The entry blanks for Abelard-Schuman's $500 prize essay contest on behalf of SOME OF MY BEST FRIENDS ARE PROFESSORS by George Williams are pouring in — nearly 1,000 students from 35 states have entered. Many more applicants are expected before the February 1st deadline.

Among the contestants — who are, incidentally, 75% male — we note — A fraternity man from Colby College who assures us he is "fully active in the campus underworld" (we assured him that this does not disqualify him) . . . three students to whom that $500 would mean no more waiting on tables . . . a co-ed who reports great controversy about the book at sorority bull sessions . . . an English major who found the book "a great intellectual desert" and wrote a five page single-spaced letter explaining why he wouldn't join the contest . . . and professors seem to like the idea: one University of Arizona' prof plans to use the essay contest as a term writing project. By and large, many, many letters from students tell us that indeed, some of their best friends are professors. We hope they will remain so and we also hope that SOME OF MY BEST FRIENDS ARE PROFESSORS continues to stimulate and provoke both students and professors with its lively critique of higher education today.

More
taste to it

Don't settle for one without the other!

"L&M is kindest to your taste because L&M combines the two essentials of modern smoking," says TV's Jack Lescoulie.
LOW TAR: L&M's patented filtering process adds extra filter fibers electrostatically, crosswise to the stream of smoke . . . makes L&M truly low in tar.

MORE TASTE: L&M's rich mixture of slow-burning tobaccos brings you more exciting flavor than any other cigarette.

SPARTANS LOSE TO LOYOLA, 99-77

Before 750 fans who turned out to see Tampa play Loyola and the preliminary game between Jesuit and Fort Myers were treated to a very enjoyable evening of Basketball. Loyola University led by senior guard Bob McLaughlin and Bob Balch beat the Spartans 99-72. The Wolfpack from New Orleans shot an amazing shooting percentage through the night. In the first half the Spartans shot a 28% while the men from Loyola shot close to a 50%. The score at halftime was Loyola 48 and the Spartans 26. Billy Turner was high for Tampa with 1* points while McLaughlin hit for 30, 23 coming in the first half.

This Saturday night the Spartans will entertain Morehead State. This will be the last appearance for the Spartan Basketball team this season. I believe it will be very appropriate if most all of us attend the game and show our appreciation to the Spartan Cagers for the many enjoyable and exciting evenings that they have given us at the Field House. So until our next issue so long and see you Saturday night at the George B. Howell Gym when the Spartans meet Morehead.

SPARTANS DEFEAT INDIANS 78-60

The University of Tampa "Spartans" defeated the Arkansas State "Indians" 78-60 before 205 fans at the George B. Howell Gym. The Spartans played a fast break type of offense to run the Indians off the floor. The same Arkansas State team defeated the Spartans a week before by 2 points at Jonesboro. Fred Guzielek, sure set shot artist from Amsterdam, New York could not be stopped as he put set shot after set shot through the hoop from all positions on the court. Bill Turner with his jump shots and Gary Dalton with his phenomenal drive-ins accounted for many more Spartan points. Rebounding which is a very important phase for basketball was capably handled by John Heim, Bob Swigert and Lamont Spider) Craft.
