SPARTANS CLAIM STATE BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Win 6 to 3 Over Miami To Complete Schedule of
7 Wins, 2 Losses

By FRANK MANISCALCO

By virtue of their smashing 6-3 victory over Miami university, the Spartan baseball team laid claim to the state championship.

Tampa climaxed its impressive season under the leadership of Coach Miller Adams, with a hard-earned win over the Hurricanes.

Some effective pitching by Dave Patton, ace moundsman for Tampa, and timely hitting by Champ Williams, Albert Jimenez and John Comparato, spelled defeat for the visitors from the Magic City.

Game Is Delayed

Several interesting and, at times, wearisome moments delayed the game played with Miami. Disputed decisions and what-not dragged the game for over two hours, but all in all, it proved exciting to the fans.

There's no doubt that Coach Harding's boys were determined to upset the Tampans and thus caused them to question many of the umpires' close decisions. The Hurricanes returned home convinced that the Spartans were no pushovers.

Tampa now leads the circuit with five wins and two losses. Rollins holds a close second with five won and three lost. Although the Spartans occupy first place, it is not definite whether they will remain there, as Rollins, under the shrewd guidance of Coach McDowell, has scheduled several additional games with college opponents, which means that if they are victorious in all of them, Rollins will knock Tampa into second place. But there is always an "if" . . . if they can win all the games.

Leading Hitters.

Albert Jimenez and John Comparato, with a .385 batting average each, were the leading sluggers for the Spartans in the seven games played against college competition.

Trailing close behind with averages of .375, are Jimmy Whitney and Tony Kolka.

In a total of seven games played against Florida colleges, the Spartans obtained 39 runs on 70 hits, and have a team batting average of .294.

With three victories and one defeat, Patton led the hurling for Tampa. Simmons accounted for one lost and one won. Stu Humphreys, who is no longer in school, received credit for the other victory.

Batting Averages

Following is the official batting averages of the Spartans in the seven college games played against Rollins, Miami and Stetson:

Player	7	AB	H	R	Pct.
Jimenez	7	26	10	5	.385
Comparato	7	26	10	6	.385
Whitney	6	24	9	3	.375

STUDENTS GIVE DANCE IECITAL

Musical Selections Also Are Featured on Varied
Program

Music by the University of Tampa symphony orchestra and a dance recital by the school's creative dance group were featured in a program presented by university students last night at municipal auditorium.

Highlight of the musical selections was Grieg's "Concerto in A Minor," with Miss Helen Hunt as soloist, accompanied by the entire symphony. The skill of Miss Hunt's playing was silhouetted with clarity against the symphonic background.

The orchestra, under the direction of Lyman Wiltse, also was heard in the "Les Puritaines" overture by Bellini and the "Chorus of Barbarians" from "Prince Igor," by Borodin.

Most unusual of the dance number, which included folk tunes a tango and other Spanish dances as well as classical selections, was the four part "Enterpe and Terpsichore," score for which was written by Stephen Park, university professor.

Park accompanied at the piano while Ella Beth Laird, soloist, interpreted the "Melody;" Betty Berlin and Betty Hodgson, the "Dissonance;" Yolanda Finney, Dottie Leonard and Kitty Ann Sweat the "Rhythm;" Jackie Jameson, Olive Castro, Louise Griffin and Nouna Hitchcock the quartet of "Harmony."

Strauss' "Tale From the Vienna Woods" was danced by the ensemble as a climax for the program. Mary Collura accompanied Eileen Gutierrez in a "Spanish Dance" by Moreno, and Miss Ruth Moffatt, instructor in dancing and physical education, directed the entire dance recital.

Other numbers included Ketelby's "In a Persian Market," with Betty Berlin as soloist; "Flame Dance," Eduard German's, Betty Hodgson; Delibes' "Passepied," the ensemble; "Arkansas Traveler," a folk tune, with Betty Berlin, Walter Brown, Yolanda Finney, Willard Driskell, Dottie Leonard, Billy Handley, Kitty Ann Sweat and Tom Healey.

Chopin's "Polonaise," Betty Berlin, Ella Beth Laird, Betty Hodgson, Yolanda Finney and Kitty Ann Sweat; Gossec's "Gavotte," Dottie Leonard and Billy Handley; Cervantes' Cuban "Tango," Betty Berlin and Willard Driskell; Rimsky Korsakov's "Scherzade," Yolanda Finney; Gretry's "Tambourin," Dottie Leonard.

Phi Honor Society Inducts 15 Students of U. of Tampa

Fifteen charter members of Phi society, national scholastic honor society, sponsored by Phi Beta Kappa, were installed at the University of Tampa yesterday.

Dr. Sherman, in his last assembly address of the year, urged the students to "go out to live dangerous lives, thinking not only of knowing, but also of using what you have learned here." He urged that the students exercise freedom and a liberty to speak their thoughts.

Ben Filipski received the university's intramural athletic trophy for the Beta Chi fraternity, of which he is president, as campus leader for three years, 1937, '38 and '39. This year's winner will be announced upon completion of the season program.

SHERMAN SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

Warns Students Disintegration of Democracy Will Come From Within

Speaking on the "Fruits of Democracy," President Sherman addressed the weekly student assembly last Tuesday for the last time.

Dr. Sherman pointed out women's suffrage, freedom of speech, worship, thought and conscience and the right to have a voice in government as fruits of democracy worth striving to retain.

The speaker emphasized the need for a spirit of tolerance in democracy.

"Live for the lives of others and the souls of others," he told the students. "Democracy is easy to die for but difficult to live. To live democracy, we must live tolerance!"

Dr. Sherman warned the students that the disintegration of democracy would come from within, rather than from foreign agents. Commenting upon the activities of foreign agents here, he said "the Dies Committee deals with such nightmares."

AUF WIEDERSEHN

Well, you fellas and you gals—we're just about to come to the end of a glorious year together. Many of us will be back for another year or more, while others of us will go out into the world to commence a new life. In a couple of weeks we will spread out to all parts of the country—north, south, east and west. And we will carry with us the name of our illustrious school.

Honestly—won't we have lots of swell things to look back on and remember? Oh, sure—there have been some unpleasant times, too, but they just naturally slip into oblivion when we reminisce through our college days. We'll look back and wish we could relive all the swell times we've had here together.

We'll remember our freshman days—rat caps, crazy costumes, and those awful upper-classmen—our sophomore times, when we began to feel important, a part of the school; our junior year, with that anxiety of becoming a dignified and respected senior; and finally, that last year when we are ready to become men and women of the world, wonder what it's all about, and really wish we could be starting all over again.

We'll hear in our minds the inspiring Alma Mater and Campus Song; we'll see the band marching down the field between halves of an exciting game. We'll remember staying up all night with a pot of string black coffee before final exams, and we'll feel again the exhilarated spirit near a holiday or a vacation. The thoughts of pleasant gatherings and conversations around the fireplaces in the lobby during those chilly days will be cherished recollections.

Old copies of the Minaret will bring back more reminiscences—of dances, parties, invitations, assemblies, petty romances, sports, and just loads of other things. The names and faces of our old school chums will hold bright and shining places in our memories. And surely we won't forget all our profs and lectures—bonjour, monsieur, comment allez vous? Henry VIII, 2x plus 3y plus z minus lmnop, buenos noches, H₂SO₄, and all the others.

After we've looked back through the chapters of our college days with glee, with sorrow that we cannot relive them, with pleasure and all other sorts of emotions, we'll stop and think—think what it has meant to us. Then we'll appreciate it, and thank God for it—for the opportunity to receive a higher education, to make so many wonderful friends, to have been able to have so many grand experiences and times. It will mean the world to us, and we will pray that in this changing, terrible, war torn world, none of us or our friends will ever have to participate in such affairs as many countries are now bloodily engaged in.

And now, to those of you who are graduating, leaving us for a bigger and better life—congratulations and sincerest wishes for good luck and prosperity—from the entire school. And those of you—well, we still have some more wonderful years together ahead of us, don't we?

But to all of you—grads and under—don't let's say "good-bye." That's too final a word. There is an old German expression which better expresses it, meaning "till we meet again." Let's use it—Auf Wiedersehn!

WHY CUT NOW?

Are you taking your cuts now?

There's just one week left before exams. Are you taking advantage of all your cuts now?

Are you like the boy who took all his cuts because his Dad told him to take everything that was coming to him to college?

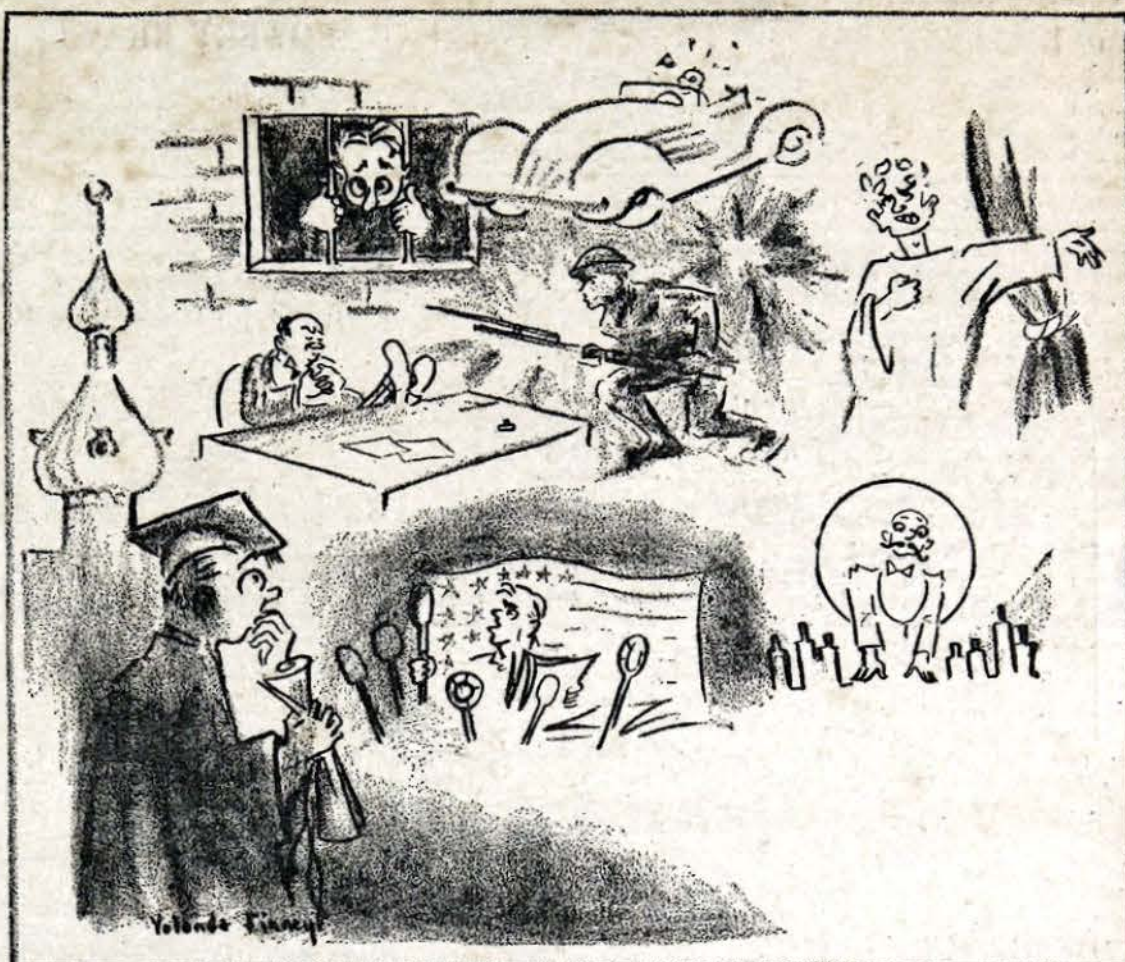

Suppose you happen to cut the class in which your Prof. gives you hints about the questions on the finals!

Suppose you miss the review in that history you're barely passing!

Suppose, after taking all your cuts, you should come down with the measles the week of exams!

Say, maybe it would be just as well not to miss those last few classes.

Rich Man, Poor Man . . .

Thank You, Staff; We Came Close to Goal of 'Weekly'

This is the last issue of the Minaret this term.

The faculty adviser takes this opportunity to express appreciation to those faithful staff members who have given it their support throughout the year, and extends an invitation for their cooperation next year.

There have been difficulties in trying to issue a weekly paper, for the first time, as in previous years The Minaret was issued bi-weekly. But we came very close to putting it across—so close that we believe we can do it next year.

The advertising department has provided more paid space for each weekly issue than previously was provided for the bi-weekly issues. The big national Chesterfield contract has contributed much to making the weekly issue possible.

For the cooperation of those who have "stood by their guns" here is a big, hearty "Thank You," and we hope to put the weekly across for every issue next year.

We have a good start. Present indications are that the advertising department will leave us with an adequate surplus on which to start.

—THE FACULTY ADVISER.

To the Seniors

Here's to your voyage on an unknown sea,

A trip that long and happy may be,
 Here's to the breakers wide and tall
 Here's to your victory of them all!

Here's to life's sunshine so bright,
 Here's to its shadows, sable as night,
 Here's to the rose you may pluck,
 Here's to its thorn, that's more than luck!

When the dark days and blue days overtake,
 Grin, grit your teeth and a new start make,
 Thank God for the talents you possess,
 Out of the tangle you can bring success.

Thank God for a mind clean and new!
 Thank God for an ambition to do and do!
 Thank God for a will to work and win!
 Thank God for life again and again!

If good wishes were words, this would be long.
 My hopes are that things may never go wrong!
 And if they do, Classmates, be of good cheer,
 There's new opportunity always waiting near.
 F. E. H.

"God-Speed" To The Seniors

This issue of the Minaret bears our "God-speed" to the Graduates. Graduation is a solemn occasion for the members of the graduating class. Most of you have long worked and waited and hoped for this event. It marks a milestone on life's highway. You look back on work accomplished in years that are now gone forever, and you look forward to labor in the years that stretch out before you.

The diploma that you receive acknowledges a certain achievement, no matter how scant it may be, along intellectual lines. That is the backward look you have. But the very word "Commencement" means your thoughts ought to be on things to come and each should take a long forward look.

For many it has been a hard and costly struggle to have reached the place of graduation. The labor has taken its toll of brain and heart and tapped all the resources of courage and stamina. You face an uncertain world with its darkling future and the prospect of an even greater struggle to come. This picture of life is a challenge.

When one graduates from college, he is supposed to have garnered a good education, a fund of knowledge that will help him find and maintain his place in the common wealth. But education alone is not enough. It has been well said that to educate a man in mind but not in morals is to educate a menace to society. If a man would face the tasks of life adequately the first and greatest imperative is a sound faith in a Higher Power.

To be eligible for a scholastic diploma is good. To be able to face and to conquer the darkling world one must be eligible for a spiritual diploma as well.

The Spice Of Life

What with school almost over, the dirt doesn't seem to be flying so much. Could it be that people are studying for a change or just trying to leave fond remembrances?

Those three Skin romances blossomed in full when their fair ones sponsored their annual flower dance and we do mean the gardenia ball... What active D. K. is looking for apartments? You tell us, we're still trying to find out...

Mr. Dobson has been doing an efficient job of helping Earl Caton to run the bookstore during Henry Vest's absence. Henry injured his foot Monday night and is unable to walk.

What's that redhead got that the girls seem to like so well? He hasn't asked a gal for a date in just ages and ages but he always seems to be with one... Watch out, gals, he'll get conceited, Oh, did I say "get." (By the way you know T. Healey.)

Kitty Ann's seeing Ray now and then; we wonder if it's all over???? What's Jewel got that gets that woman-hater C. Brorein... LuLu's still on deck despite Gainesville...

Things are still running smoothly for "Cutie Pie" Dick and Bob T... By the way, have you met little "Mex's" hubby? He's a blonde.

Where did our golden voiced tenor (A. B.) get the name "Cutie Pie"?... DeLoach switches from Swedes to Pins, or has she?? We wonder if Tony and Nita ever go to classes? The closest we've come to seeing them separated was one going up the stairs and the other at the bottom, just looking... Louise Griffin is taking last cuts in classes to go to the show with you know who...

The feud rages on between Hance and Driscoll over that chubby baby... B. Berlin had the tall dark one the other night...

"Penny" Harrison seems to have decided that if a redhead won't co-operate, a blonde might!... but will he? He's invited M. C. to Bowery Brawl.

One B. X. asked two S. T. P.'s for bids to their progressive supper. When one girl invited him, he told her that he already had a date that night... Who's the sucker now?

Was Deacon responsible for that beautiful wrist corsage Mary Collura was wearing Saturday night?

Mrs. R. P. Connally Entertains D. K.'s At Buffet Supper

SPARTAN SPOTLIGHT

By BEN FILIPSKI

This is our farewell appearance so we'll try to make it a "grand exit."

Looking back over the sports we find that the football team fared not so well—but with experience, new grit, and determination we hope to see a better ball club and one with more wins this fall. Howard Beynon, as an ex-green fullback should prove more than a player this fall, remember him in the Florida game? Johnny Kaufman and "Dixie" Howell are boys of pure intestinal fortitude and we can expect more than their share; from Reed, Buchan, Mills, Fordyce and Anderson we can expect the usual performance plus the finesse that comes from experience. Go to it all of you—we are for you and are pulling all the way for a great season. As for the "five lonely old men," the seniors, let's have them do their own reminiscing, four years ahead seems a long way off but to them it seems as if it were yesterday. As one of them I can say we've enjoyed it and wouldn't trade the experience with the coaches and fellow players for anything in this world.

Basketball was brought back to light and with another soph outfit G. K. Strauss had his struggle. Again we hope that collegiate experience will prove to make them real contenders in the state races. The frosh with Wolfe, Albers and Raines should make the team all the more formidable.

Our baseball team under Miller Adams has done itself proud and we're proud of them. At present they stand on top of the State league.

In track we are moving smoothly and very nicely, considering our limitations. Deacon Raines proved to be tops in the hurdles when he broke the State A. A. U. second, then in a dual meet with St. Petersburg Jr. College he amassed the total of 24½ points by taking the 100-yard dash, 220-yard low hurdles, second place in the high jump and was on the winning medley relay team. There are other possible developments in Beynon with the javelin and discus, Wolfe in the shot and Patton in the high jump and broad jump.

To watch for the "will to run" one should watch Johnny Kaufman in the most grueling of all track events—the 440-yard. It's a killer, and it takes all you have and more to run it. Hats off to Johnny for his desire to win and in a race that's taking everything.

Here are a few firsts concerning the University:

Last spring when we played Stetson in baseball, it was the first intercollegiate baseball game in Tampa and the Spartans blanked them.

Also last spring was the first time state colleges competed in track while two weeks ago was the first dual track meet between two state colleges.

Tampa U. was the first college to play all other state colleges in Florida and it was the first college in the state to play host to the state university.

Tampa Spartans' baseball team was the first team in five years to shut out the Rollins' Tars.

I guess that's about all for me, as Tennyson said: "The old order passeth giving way unto new."

May the memories be pleasant and loads of luck to the new sports staff.

EIGHT STUDENTS COMPLETE CAA

Celeste Dervaes Proves Girls Are as Good Pilots As Boys

Dr. Bode announced yesterday that eight students have completed the CAA flying course, and that the other 12 are expected to complete it before June 3.

He reported that during the past year the insurance companies have rated this training course 1100 percent safer than ordinary flight instruction. There has not been a single motor failure all year.

Applications for Next Year

Applications are now being accepted from all students who want to take the course next year. They will be accepted through the first day of registration next fall, but the priority will be given to upper-classmen.

The course will start with 50 percent more students than the quota will allow. At the end of one month, an examination will be given and the quota selected from those attending the ground school.

Those then selected will be allowed to start flight training and the others will be kept as alternates in case any of the others drop out.

Those who take the ground school and are not selected for flight training will be given priority in the following year if their grades are sufficient to warrant it.

Insurance for Course

The cost for the course is $40, and a student is covered with $3000 accident insurance, $500 hospitalization insurance and $50,000 liability insurance.

About 15 applications already have been received and any students who are considering applying are asked to do so by the end of this term, as Dr. Bode is attempting to have the quota raised from 20 to 30. Ten percent of the quota may be girls. The success of Celeste Dervaes this year shows that girls make equally as good pilots as boys.

Dr. Bode reports that next year's flying course will start with all new equipment.

The Social Spotlight

Since this is the last spotlight this semester, we'll turn it on full force on all graduating seniors. Congratulations and best of luck to ya!

We can't spotlight each of you individually, but we believe that Robert Kasriel, student body president, Fred Manucy, senior class president, Bernice Horne, Moroccan editor, Beth Hornsby, Minaret editor, Ben Filipski, Pan-Hellenic president, Bond Giles, Moroccan business manager, Mickey O'Berry, senior class secretary and Peggy Meef, listed in the Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities certainly deserve recognition.

Bouquets to the Junior class for the magnificent banquet and dance . . . and congrats to their majesties, "Mickey" and "Moosy." The colonial bouquets given to the queen and her court were the original idea of Florence Flanders, the gal on whose shoulders rested the responsibility of running things. You did a grand job, Florence!

The T. O.'s and Alpha Gams elected officers last week, wisely choosing

Mark Ball and Odessa Dietrich as prexies . . . and the Beta Chi's selected Paul Myers . . . We're anxiously waiting the Deke dance, when their new officers will be introduced.

Bob Thomas started something new when he introduced the Alpha Gam officers at the spring dance. In order to attract the people's attention, he merely said, "Come here, I have something cute to show you," and everyone went . . . The S. T. P. progressive supper was even more successful this year than last, judging from the opinion of all who attended.

The Skin sponsors for the gardenia dance looked very lovely—in case you didn't know, they were Belle Myers, Dottie Leonard and Priscilla Hunt . . . The Beta Chi Bowery Brawl couldn't have gone off better . . . the invitations alone were enough to frighten the timid, but a great drawing card for the bold. Mr. Dobson and Dr. Laub again stole the show together with Mickey O'Berry, Mildred Allison and Libby Bardin.

It's time to turn off the spotlight now, so until next semester good-bye and good luck!
