Minarets Lighted

Tampa's downtown skyline took on added brilliance at 8 p.m. Thursday night with the official lighting by the Tampa Junior Chamber of Commerce of the two minarets flanking the main entrance to the University of Tampa facing Plant Park.

A distinctive area landmark since the building's inception as the old Tampa Bay Hotel in 1891, the University's minarets and the problems involved in lighting them have been under discussion by civic leaders for many years.

Six months ago, however, a special committee of the Jaycees chaired by Gene Wells tackled the twin problems of designing a lighting system and raising the necessary funds.

By dipping into the Jaycee treasury, sponsoring special projects and securing contributions, Wells' committee put the project over the top and actual work on the lighting began June 20. It was completed recently at a cost of approximately $4,000, and, Wells said, electrical contractor Ben Hagerman donated the major part of his services for the installation.

Thursday's night's lighting ceremony at the front entrance to the University featured brief talks by Les Hirsch, Jaycee president, and Dr. David M. Delo, University president. Dr. Delo and a Jaycee representative pulled the switch that illuminated the two minarets from floodlights both atop the building and from Plant Park. An automatic device will be installed which will turn on the lights at dark and off at midnight each night.

In commenting on the lighting project, Hirsch said, "We have long felt that, since the minarets of the University of Tampa have become almost synonymous with the city itself, they should be featured by night as well as by day. Now, with the opening of Interstate 4, they will have added significance as local landmarks."

The lighting ceremony coincided with the Florida observance of the American Landmarks Celebration, proclaimed by Governor Farris Bryant for June through December of this year. The national celebration, of which Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is national honorary chairman, is the United States' participation in

V. P. Watson Tells Of Plans For Homecoming

Homecoming Chairman George Watson announced this week that this Homecoming's Committees are already named and are off to a fast start. Homecoming will be on October 24 with this year's opponent Presbyterian College. It is anticipated that Homecoming will be the biggest and best that the University of Tampa has ever had. Actually there is no central theme but everything will be centered around the return of the alumni and homecoming game itself. Chairman Watson has broken the Committee down to six separate divisions with each headed by a separate Chairman who are as follows: Jueen Elections, Chairman Jack Doherty; Lawn Displays, Chairman Jeff Pearl; Dance Chairman, Bob D'Amico; Parade Chairman, Jerry McMurtrie; Public Relations, Dell Davis; Ticket Chairman, George Murphy.

All plans, rules regulations and calendar of events will be announced this coming week. There have been many changes and many new additions.

The Homecoming Committee announced that the Nationally known Headliners have been signed for the dance on Saturday night and the Town Criers of Georgia Tech have been signed for the Hoote-nanny on Friday night.

One hundred per cent cooperation of the entire student body is expected.

Martineau New Admissions Counselor

Joseph A. Martineau, a native Tampan, has been appointed as an admissions counselor at the University of Tampa effective immediately, Dr. David M. Delo, University president, has announced.

Martineau's appointment will bring to three the number of University admissions counselors who interview prospective students throughout a large section of the nation. He will cover the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas.

Col. Clifton To Assist Dr. Walker

Col. Ray W. Clifton, USAF (ret.) director of the University of Tampa's MacDill Air Force Base Division since May, 1963, has been appointed assistant to the vice president for academic affairs at the University, effective September 1, Dr. David M. Delo, University president, has announced.

Replacing Col. Clifton in the MacDill position is Lt. Col. James H. W. Treadwell, USA (ret.), who assumed his new duties August 1.

In moving to the main campus of the University, Col. Clifton will be assistant to Dr. Charles R. Walker, Jr., vice president for academic affairs. The position is a newly-created one in which Col. Clifton will aid Dr. Walker with various administrative and academic duties.

Col. Treadwell takes over suspension of the University's on-base college program at MacDill for military personnel, their dependents, and civilian workers. Average enrollment in an eight-week term numbers more than 500 persons.

Retired from the Air Force in 1960 after 31½ years of active duty, Col. Clifton had more than 12 years experience in the military educational field prior to coming to MacDill. He has held the position of instructor, educational administrator and organizer of an Air Force school. He served for four years as professor of air science and head of the department at the University.

850 New Students Accepted

Based upon presently accepted applicants, University of Tampa officials anticipate an enrollment increase of at least 100 additional full-time students for the 1964-65 academic year.

To date, indicates Registrar Dr. Willis J. Dunn, 852 new students have been accepted. Most of these are incoming freshmen, although a few are transfer students from other colleges or universities.

An additional 34 dormitory spaces have been provided for men students, and 235 women have already claimed every available space in Howell Hall, women's dormitory. A major problem at present is adequate off-campus living quarters to accommodate the overflow.

Another indicator of an imminent enrollment increase, says Dr. Dunn, is the fact that the University of Tampa this year is requiring a $125 non-refundable deposit upon acceptance, and more students have made their deposits to date than has been the case in any previous year.

The 852 new students who have been accepted are in addition to those who will be returning from last year's enrollment so that, basing anticipations for the fall on all of these factors, University officials predict a full-time enrollment of at least 1,400 students and an evening or part-time student body of approximately 700.

Enrollment has received a large boost, Dr. Dunn points out, from the summer Pre-College Workshop, pioneered in Central Florida by the University. A group of 110 students from this year's third annual workshop will enroll at the University of Tampa. This is an increase of more than 100 per cent over last year.

sity of Miami and was an Air Force ROTC area commander, having supervisory duties over ROTC units in 21 colleges in the nation, for an additional four years.

Col. Clifton was a command pilot in the Air Force with more than 9,000 flying hours to his credit and served in both the European and Far East areas. During his career he held several base commands. He is a graduate of six military schools, including the Academic Instructors School conducted by the Air Command and Staff College.

He holds the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration from the University of Miami and Master of Business Administration from Mississippi State University, Starkville.

Col. and Mrs. Clifton reside in Tampa. They have a son, Ray, who is a captain in the Air Force stationed at March AFB, California, and a daughter, Sandra, now living in Huntsville, Alabama.

Col. Treadwell comes to Tampa from Starkville, Miss., where he was reared. During the 1963-64 academic year he was an instructor in history at St. Joseph High School, Jackson, Miss.

The new MacDill director received a Bachelor of Science degree in general business from Mississippi State University in 1940. After retirement from 21 years of active duty with the Army in 1961, he earned his Master of Arts degree in history at that college.

Admissions; Registrar's Offices To Be Separated

Dr. David M. Delo, president of the University of Tampa, has announced that separate admissions and registrar's offices will be established at the University September 1.

Until the reorganization, Dr. Willis J. Dunn has served as both director of admissions and registrar. He will continue as registrar and, in addition, has been named director of counseling, having charge of all academic and general counseling of students. Dr. Dunn is an ordained Methodist minister and has a PhD degree from Michigan State University. He also continues as chairman of the college's Department of Sociology.

Heading the admissions office will be Eduard Van Gelder, associate director of admissions, who has been promoted to director of admissions, Dr. Delo announced. A graduate of the University of Tampa, Van Gelder has been associated with the admissions and registrar's office for the past four years. He received a Master of Arts degree from Columbia University this year.

Dr. Delo also announced the promotion of Robert Fernandez, office manager and director of data processing in the registrar's office, to assistant registrar.

The establishment of a separate admissions office has been necessitated by the University's transition from a commuting institution, drawing largely area students, to one resident in nature, attracting students from throughout the nation. In order to handle this increased out-of-state enrollment, the college has enlarged its field staff of admissions counselors, and it will be one of the duties of the director of admissions to supervise this staff.

Dr. Delo also announced that seven new faculty members have been appointed at the University effective September 1.

They are Dr. Hugh P. Fellows, professor of speech; Dr. Reintraut E. Jonsson, associate professor of modern languages; Dr. James K. Umholtz, associate professor of education; Dr. Marlon D. Tlison, assistant professor of Biology; Marvin J. Philips, assistant professor of drama and director of the Falk Memorial Theater; Paul A. Reichle, interim assistant professor of physics, and Miss Virginia Ann Garner, instructor in biology.
