Dr Distler . . .

"This is the first campus I have been on where I did not feel like giving some of the students a clean up job"

Dr. Theodore Distler, a past president of the Association of American Colleges, praised the appearance of University of Tampa students during his visit to the campus Oct. 25-28 as a consultant to the Commission on Program Revision.

Speaking at a faculty meeting on Oct. 28, Dr. Distler commented that the appearance of the students was a delight to him and that "this is the first campus I have been on where I did not feel like giving some of the students a clean-up job." Dr. Distler is a noted educational consultant.

This was Dr. Distler's third visit to the University and this time, he said, he was leaving with the firm conviction that "you are going places." His first visit in 1958 was on the occasion of President Delo's inauguration as president, and the second in 1962, when he served as a consultant. His impressions of the campus have improved with each visit, he declared.

Dr. Distler's closing remark was "I think you are on your way and you have the possibility of being a great institution."

1965 Homecoming Proves Successful To All Concerned

There was certainly not a lack of festivities and entertainment this year for Homecoming enthusiasts. The Street Dance, which took place on Thursday night, 6 - 9 p.m., featured "The Elderado's" and the "Velvets." They began swingin' on the East side of the Main Building. Friday night a pep rally was scheduled for 7 p.m. on the Student Center Lawn. Entertainment was furnished by Jimmy Roma, nationally known trumpet player. Following the rally, the Homecoming Queen and her court were announced at 8:45 p.m. at the University's

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Gastronomical Horrors . . .

Napoleon Bonaparte once said that an army travels on its stomach; it might be assumed that this famous axiom, with a little emphasis in certain areas, might be applied to the modern college student too. When the brand new Freshman arrives at Tampa U, still comfortably stuffed with the feather-light cakes and savory sauces of his mother's cooking, he finds that his stomach due for a rude let down.

After a full morning of classes, where he is only slightly bothered by the ominous rumbling of his classmates' internal workings, The student trudges to the cafeteria for his noon-day meal. Upon confronting the two main choices for the main course, which seem to bubble in greasy noxiousness, the student has been heard to say, "Please m'am, what's all this?" The robot behind the glass reels off "This is adulterated horsemeat-loaf, this here's spaghetti made over from Sunday's hotcakes, these are bullet beans, and this is boiled elephant ears. Hurry up, yer holding up the line!" For dinner, the lukewarm peas or corn looking suspiciously predigested, are shoved aside . . . With evening class, we leave Morrison's cafeteria counting profits and planning new gastronomical horrors for the morrow.

Point clear?

New Associated Women Students Organization Has Its Constitution Officially Recognized

On October 21, 1965 Dean DeCarlo, chairman of the committee for Student Organization and social life, advised the working committees of the Associated Women Students that its constitution has been approved and is now recognized as an official organization on campus.

The purpose of this organization is to provide an effective means of self-government among its women students; to provide opportunities for social and intellectual development and foster spirit of unity among its members and within the entire college community.

Officers for the coming year are: Sue Black, president; Cindy Dayton, secretary treasurer, Judy Spencer, Standards; Patti Rimm, scholarship; Marcia Chalfin; student counselling; Jill Katcher, publicity, and Merry Barr, publication. The group is formulating committees to help carry out the tentative plans for the initial year.

The first activity sponsored by AWS will be the annual open house held by girl resident students, shortly after the Thanksgiving recess. Next on the agenda is the Christmas party which, it is hoped will be held in the ballroom so that all the girls will be brought close together. The group is also looking into community Christmas projects that may be feasible.

Next semester AWS is planning to hold a Valentine Dance for the entire student body. The main event of the year is the "All Women's Day" to be held during the spring. This will honor all co-eds on campus. A special luncheon will be held and awards will be made to outstanding women on campus.

AWS will be what the students make it. Any students who are interested in helping are asked to see committee chairmen in the areas in which they are interested.

Delo Forensic Society Sends Debate Team To Emory

The University of Tampa sent a debate team to the Emory University to debate in Atlanta Nov. 4-6. Dr. Hugh Fellows, debate coach and professor of speech at the University of Tampa, announced.

Sponsored by the University's Delo Forensic Society, the team consisted of Don Stephens, Glenna Osborne, Gerald Tarvares and Ronald Eckstein. Stephens, president of the Society, was on the team that debated Harvard last year.

Fifty-five colleges participated in the Emory Debates, the largest tournament in the South. Other colleges included the University of Alabama, Auburn University, Georgetown University, the University of Florida, Tulane University and U. S. Naval Academy, University of others.

Gerald Tarvares, Glenna Osborne, Don Stephens and Ronald Eckstein recently debated at Emory.

S.U.S.G.A. To Sponsor Spirit and Sportsmanship Workshop

Hattiesburg, Miss. (November 8, 1965) — The Southern Universities Student Government Association, in keeping with its purpose of being a link of communication between the colleges and universities in the Southeast, and providing an exchange of ideas among student leaders, takes another giant step.

This step is in the form of organizing a workshop for cheerleaders of its member schools. This will be known as the SUSGA SPIRIT AND SPORTSMANSHIP WORKSHOP, and will be held on the campus of the University of Southern Mississippi, August 7, through 12, 1966.

Delegates will check into the workshop on Sunday, August 7 and remain through the closing banquet on Thursday, August 11.

The workshop is for all cheerleaders, persons working with school spirit and advisors of spirit committee and cheerleaders.

On hand in the instruction area of the workshop will be a well trained staff from the National Cheerleader Association. This staff will be trained by the National Cheerleader Association under the direction of Mr. Lawrence R. Herkimer, "Mr. Cheerleader", Executive Secretary.

Folk Theater. The evening was climaxed by Skit Night at which student organizations presented their annual skit competition.

Following a full schedule of activities centered around the Homecoming Game there was the Student-Alumni dance at 9 p.m. at Fort Homer Hesterly Armory, with music by the "Judge and Jury" featuring the "Shirelles" of New York City. There should be no complaints this year for a lack of entertainment for the schedule was a full one.

With this one exception, GT&E provides total communications

Small boys have an edge on us when it comes to communicating with non-humans. General Telephone & Electronics makes this concession to outside experts.

In all other areas of communication we have an edge. Telephoning, teleprinting, telemetering, telewriting and data transmission. And, of course, radio, TV, stereo and military electronics.

Our 30 Telephone Operating Companies serve areas in 33 states. Most of the equipment and components are manufactured by Automatic Electric, Lenkurt Electric and Sylvania, all members of GT&E's family of companies.

With so much revolving around

GT&E, it is small wonder that we have become one of America's foremost corporations.

We're interested in having you know still more about our activities in total communications. So we've prepared a booklet on GT&E that you can obtain from your Placement Director, or by writing General Telephone & Electronics, 730 Third Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.

2-0 Upset Over The University Of Maine Highlights Spartan Football Season

November the thirteenth has an unlucky ring to it, and no doubt will remain long in the memories of Maine's mighty Black Bears. Down to Tampa they came, clad in blue and white, to extend their unbeaten record. All of a sudden, the weather changed. Snow stopped and sunshine took its place. Day turned to night and for the first time in its long history, Maine played a football game under the lights. Coach Hal Westerman felt if bright spot Dick DeVarney could click, the Spartans would be nipped in the bud. DeVarney had the fortune of getting rid of the ball fast enough (when he wasn't blitzed), but his defenders found themselves covered with red-shirted rebels.

Val Johnson, threw two smooth sailing howitzers, both intended for John Perry, that fell incomplete. Both times spelled trouble for the Bears. November thirteenth was double jeopardy for the big boys from the Pine State. John Perry, the Miami Mauler, leaped, charged, smashed, and slid his way down the field with the ease of a Tom Jones' "pussy-cat". Westerman admitted, after the game, that he had never seen the likes of Perry — and hopes he never has to again.

Tampa probably played its best and most exciting game to date. The defense deserves the majority of the credit, although everyone pitched in to secure a T. U. victory.

The game was an exciting one, which heard the rumblings of "We're Number One" and "Bring On Michigan State". Michigan State?

Independents Win At Volleyball

On Wednesday, Nov. 10, the Independent Volleyball team proved its ability by defeating the co-ed Zeta team. The champion had to win two out of three games played. Since the Zeta's began the final play-off with one loss, they would have had to defeat the Independents in four out of six games, where as the independents had only to win two out of three games. The first game was 11-4 Independents, and the second was 8-13 Zeta's. In the third thrilling game, the score was tied past the halftime. With three minutes to go the Independents pulled in front to a 10-7 score.
