Spartans Win Game—Rats Doff Caps

United Fund Appeal Made

by Ron Brickey

Edson E. Foster, executive director of the United Fund, has requested the assistance of the student body in attaining the goal of $965,000.

Mr. Foster says of the charity:

"Last year Tampa's United Fund helped over 260,000 men, women and children . . . in scouting, in marriage counseling, in visiting nurse services, and countless other ways. This year as the community grows and as more and more people move into our community, so grow the needs and services of the 33 agencies.

"Over 2500 volunteer men and women are giving tirelessly of their effort to make this campaign . . . one drive a year in stead of 33 . . . a terrific success. Tampa must have a success this year or your doorbell will ring 33 plus times for individual drives.

"Support your United Fund . . . it's the American way of taking care of a community's responsibility to its less fortunate people. Give, give generously to this once-a-year drive."

When asked "who operates the United Fund, Parke Wright, co-chairman of this year's drive, answered:

"Your fellow citizens operate the United Fund. There is a volunteer Executive Committee which handles the administrative details of your United Fund. The Budget-Admissions Committee carefully screens all agencies desiring participation and watches allocations during the year to the agencies. In addition, a 60 man and woman Board of Directors passes on all important matters of policies and operational procedure."

This of course answered my first question, but there was still some doubt in my mind about the United Fund. So I asked Mr. Foster who checks on the money to make sure it is spent properly.

"After the budgets are approved, monthly checks are issued to each agency in proportion to the amount it requested," he said. "An annual

WOW! LOOK AT THOSE LEGS — Dale Garland, one of some 200 Tampa U. freshmen who took part in the annual pajama parade before Tampa's opening football game last week shows off the latest in night wear, and a not-too-shapely pair of legs, to admiring classmates. audit is conducted by Certified Public Accountants, and the books of the United Fund are open to the public at any time."

With this the interview ended, and I left feeling sure the money that the citizens of Tampa contributed to the United Fund was going to a worthy cause.

Prominent among the 33 organizations supported by the United Fund are:

- American Red Cross
- U.S.O.
- YMCA
- YWCA
- Urban League
- Boy Scouts of America
- Salvation Army
- Girl Scouts of America
- Legal Aid Society

As you well know these are but a few of the organizations which work toward the betterment of the human race.

STUDENTS' COMMENT

WOULDN'T MIND TOURISTS COMING INTO LOBBY NOW

by Roseanne Cinchett

Hammers banging over heads, ladders at every turn and the smell of fresh paint in halls doesn't reduce the good impression that the redecorating program has made on upperclassmen.

Although freshmen have no basis for comparison, other students have made various comments.

Mary Frances Rhodes says: "Floors are the main improvement. The new tile makes the corridors look wider and brighter. I think the new ceiling in the lobby is a wonderful idea also, since it really keeps the noise down."

"The building looks a hundred per cent better and certainly more like a college," says Tex Endsley. "I wouldn't even mind tourists coming into the Lobby now," he says.

Diana Ray thinks the lighting in the Lobby is the big improvement. "The ceiling is a big step toward making the Lobby look much cleaner. All in all, everything that's being done is making Tampa U. a much happier place."

Larry Dupree says, "For the first time in my school life there is enough light to see the other end of the hall."

"The men's dorm has really been improved during the summer," says John McNamara.

Wayne Wilson comments: "I had seriously thought of transferring to another school, but with all these improvements, I'm glad I decided to stay on. I just wish we had more money to do even more."

Betty Mann adds, "For three years it was an awfully drab place, but now it's really starting to look like a school."

"It's a long-awaited and much-needed improvement," says Salvadore Jimenez. "I hope we can go on after this into an expansion program that will give Tampa U. its proper place in the community."

Frosh Fight Back — Sophs Surprised

by Diahn Hernandez
"A Rat"

Because the football team won over Western Carolina Saturday night the kindhearted sophomores generously decided that freshmen would not have to wear their caps the rest of the semester.

Watch it sophomores! Freshmen are on the warpath this year. Although we are newly arrived at the fountain of knowledge, we have pooled our resources.

We, the 1958 rats, were at our best when we marched in the pajama parade. Never before were such unique pajamas on display. Rats marched and cheered with delight for we knew the day of revenge was coming, when the tide would turn.

One of the sights that amazed us most was sophomore Ralph Alvarez, dressed as a Spartan on a chariot, who made some of the poor freshmen boys give him a ride a couple times around the football field at the Troy State game.

We assumed full stature as a group when we dampened the spirits of sophomores at Rat Court. Showers of laughter accompanied our victory.

We no longer have to carry life savers for the sophomores.

Ha, ha, hee, hee, we're still on top you see!

EDITORIALS

Hurrah For The Sophomores And Freshmen

School spirit is more in evidence than it has been in recent years.

Freshmen and sophomores are showing enthusiasm for their University. We hope that some of this feeling will be further manifested in the appearance of volunteers for the various voices of the University, such as, WTUN, Moroccan and Minaret.

Now is the time for first and second year students to join the radio staff, help with the yearbook and write for the school paper.

WTUN is planning to extend operating hours if and when more people come to the aid of the University network.

Although the Moroccan and Minaret staffs are larger than last year, help is still needed.

The better the Moroccan, WTUN and The Minaret are, the better will be the reputation of the University of Tampa.

Students Should Carry Pocket Knives

Letters to the editor must be signed, but the writer's name will be withheld, if requested.

It is unfortunate that a letter we received cannot be published. The writer complained of the lack of pencil sharpeners, a complaint that many students have been making.

The writer compared the cost of the extensive remodeling with relatively minor price of a few pencil sharpeners.

Probably somewhere in the building there are "missing" sharpeners that were taken down when the rooms were painted and haven't been put back yet.

Anyway, we need them.

NEW POLICY

by Ron Brickley

It will be the policy of this newspaper to dedicate the Homecoming Edition to a member of the faculty who has demonstrated leadership in the University and the city of Tampa.

There will be great speculation as to who will be the first faculty member to receive this award.

FIRST CARTOON

The first cartoon in an American newspaper appeared on May 9, 1754, in Benjamin Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette, published in Philadelphia. Intended to impress the colonists with the need of presenting a united front against the French, the cartoon depicted a snake cut into eight parts, the head representing New England, and the other seven parts New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

IN THE LAND OF DIXIE

by Jerry Wetherington

Living here in the South, we are subject to many comments from our friends from the frigid land to the north. While gathering material for this article, I heard comments from several persons who have chosen the South as a place to continue their studies. Needless to say, some of these comments were not good. Comments like "You people in the South are about twenty years behind time," and "The South is illiterate."

But one thing that everyone of these people agreed on was the fact that the South is a very friendly place. The friendly surroundings that they encountered here at the University of Tampa seemed to come as a surprise. Several of them commented that the most outstanding thing about the University to them was the friendly attitude of the students here.

So despite the many warped visions that seem to cloud the minds of our dear neighbors, they cannot deny that the South is a wonderful place to live. Everyone that I talked to agreed that the sunshine is wonderful. Everyone loves the beach. Orange juice is delicious and the girls are beautiful. Top this off with a hospitality that cannot be surpassed and you have a combination that is unbeatable.

A former Governor of Tennessee, Robert L. Taylor, once spoke the words that express the feeling in the heart of every Southerner:

"I love to live in the land of Dixie, under the soft Southern skies, where summer pours out her flood of sunshine and showers, and the generous earth smiles with plenty. I love to live on Southern soil, where the cottonfields wave their white banners of peace, and the wheat-fields wave back their banners of gold from the hills and valleys which were once drenched with the blood of heroes. I love to live where the mocking birds flutter and sing in the shadowy coves, and bright waters ripple in eternal melody, by the graves where our heroes are buried. I love to breathe the Southern air, that comes filtered through jungles of roses, whispering the story of Southern deeds of bravery. I love to drink from Southern babbling brooks, which once cooled the lips of Lee and Jackson and Forrest and Gordon, and the worn and weary columns of brave men, who wore the grey. I love to live among Southern men and women, where every heart is as warm as the Southern sunshine, and every home is a temple of love and liberty.

"I love to listen to the sweet old Southern melodies which touch the soul and melt the heart and awaken to life ten thousand precious memories of the happy long ago, when the old-time darkies used to laugh and sing, and when the old-time black "mammy" soothed the children to slumber with her lullabies. But, oh, the music that thrills me the most is the melody that died away on the lips of many a Confederate soldier as he sank into the sleep that knows no waking."

"I'm glad I am in Dixie."

THERE ARE SOME THINGS YOU HARDLY EVER SEE

A football player, who is all brains and no brawn.

A receipt from the University marked "overpaid."

A girl who is unconscious of her appearance.

The snack bar when it's empty.

A juke box without rock and roll.

An upperclassman on time for class.

A ball point pen that works.

Dr. Speronis without his smile, and some professors with one.

A good cup of coffee from the Spartan Room.

A place to park without a sign that says "No Parking" or a meter.

A group of University students without a gripe.

A full stadium at a football game.

A freshman with a "rat cap."

A writer for The Minaret that knows when to stop.

PROFESSOR COMBINES STUDY WITH TRAVEL

by Dr. James W. Covington

During the summer over 200,000 Americans visited Europe, and the majority of them enjoyed their stay there.

My father-in-law, my wife, my three-year-old daughter and myself were fortunate enough to visit Europe this past summer with other Americans and we had a fine time.

We left the United States on the liner Santa Maria, which departed from Port Everglades and stopped at Canary Islands, Madeira, Vigo, Spain, and Lisbon. There was a group of high school students from Coral Gables aboard the ship and they enjoyed the excellent food, dances, movies and services provided by the Portuguese vessel.

Before proceeding to Madrid, we stopped at Lisbon for 10 days and did some sight-seeing in this beautiful capital. We flew to Madrid on June 30 where I enrolled at the University of Madrid for a course in Spanish. My family remained in Madrid for two weeks and then visited relatives in Asturias.

The Spaniards were very friendly to Americans and I enjoyed my stay in Madrid. I found it hard to adjust to olive oil and 10 o'clock evening meals. My Spanish improved and I held my own on trips to Oviedo, Gijon, Vigo, Seville and Tetuanin, Africa.

One interesting experience took place when I visited the father of one student in my night school class. The father was not there but I was warmly greeted by the rest of the family and offered the regional Asturian drink of raw sidra. The drink incidentally is poured into a glass from the height of several feet.

Our travel plans included boarding the America at Southampton in England and en route to England from Spain we stopped at the World's Fair in Brussels. It was interesting and hard on the feet. Russia did beat us on the exhibits.

While waiting for the boat in England, I went to the Public Record Office in London and enjoyed 10 days' research there on Florida history. Enough material was found there for two more books.

My daughter enjoyed herself there by running over the Thames Bridge, singing "London Bridge is falling down."

The trip to Europe was nice, costly and educational, and it taught me a greater appreciation of the United States.

It has helped to make me a better teacher, for now I can explain more fully the problems of ocean travel for the early explorers. I understand better now the virtues and faults of the Spanish and English peoples and how these characteristics helped or hindered them in the New World.

My daughter certainly enjoyed the trip and now she speaks Spanish with a Castilian accent, rolling her "rr" in a beautiful way.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

As a senior about to leave these hallowed halls of learning, I would like to commend the freshman class on their excellent response and their enthusiasm at the first football game of the current season. It is certainly gratifying to hear someone supporting our fine Spartan team and our cheerleaders. We, as upperclassmen can view this enthusiasm and feel ashamed for sitting back and letting the freshmen show all of those present just who is supporting our University. Wayne Wilson, sophomore president, should also be congratulated for his part in the half time activities and antics of the freshmen. The idea of the Spartan warrior and the chariot was a splendid one. Hats off to the instigator of this one.

Thank you for taking time to read my views on the situation, and I have only one final question — Where Can I Park?

A Senior.

EDITOR APPOINTS MOROCCAN STAFF

Last week Pauline Tourles, editor in chief of the Moroccan met with students in an effort to form her staff. Those named and their positions are:

Business Manager — Ronnie Brickley
Co-Business Mgr. — Jim Scaglione
Literary Editor — Lesta Simmons
Organizations — Katherine Labruzzo, Marie Danese
Art — Al Harwood
Sports — Hamp McFarland, Weyman Hutchins
Fraternity — Wayne Wilson, Maryann Federico
Photography — Valorie Kraebs, Sonja Slagley
Typists — Grace Lucido, Theresa Peters
Layouts — Bernie McGovern
Homecoming — Wayne Wilson, Andrew Mirabole

In her first meeting Pauline told her newly-formed staff "There will be no publicity hounds allowed on the staff." When asked what she meant by publicity hounds, she said, "In the past the students have gotten on the staff just to see their name in print. As of now this will cease, and anyone not performing their job will be dropped from the staff."

Business manager Ronnie Brickley reported that he has met with opposition from business firms due to the "previous record of the University of Tampa." When asked to explain, he said, "In the past years the University has been slow in getting out their annuals. The business firms in Tampa do not want to put their money into something that is not reliable."

However the staff of the Moroccan all joined in to say that the annual will be out on time this year, and it will be the best annual ever published.

MOROCCAN STAFF MEMBERS — Sonja Slagley, Marie Danese, Pauline Tourles, editor-in-chief and Ronnie Brickley, business manager, are already working on the Moroccan.

Dean of Women's Office Will Maintain Calendar

President Delo has asked that the Dean of Women's office maintain a Master Calendar of all events of interest to University of Tampa faculty, staff, and student body. On this calendar, we will attempt to include events taking place in the Tampa Bay area (such as the Philharmonic program, Latin Fiesta, Little Theatre, etc.), as well as all social and academic events at the University, so that we may all plan our own programs of activities more effectively.

We urge all faculty members, organization presidents, program committee chairmen, and others, to clear promptly with Dean King's office whenever a departmental function, student function, or any event of interest is planned, in order to avoid conflicts.

Social activities of students will, of course, be cleared with the Dean of Men's office as or homemakers, among others. It also enables a person to take part in community projects which are vital to every man, woman and child.

Students desiring to concentrate on home economics or to become certified home economists may do so by carrying an education major.

well as with the Dean of Women's office, as has been done in the past.

We plan to issue each week, on Friday, a mimeographed calendar of events scheduled for the following week. If you wish an event announced in this weekly calendar, kindly have the information in the Dean of Women's office by the Monday morning of the week preceding your event — earlier, if possible.

If the social event or the meeting which you wish to schedule is to be held in the Rawlings Room, the Dome Theatre, the Ballroom, or any other part of the University building, or in the Municipal Auditorium, be sure to check with Dean Rhodes regarding the availability of the desired space, and make your reservation with him.

Exchange Column

by Howard Kichler

The freshmen have had no right for their constant complaints and bickering during the first week of school known as "Rat Week". Our freshmen have received no better, but at the same time they have not received any worse treatment than freshmen attending such schools as University of Connecticut, and Marietta College in Ohio. Both of these schools approve of such antics as wearing the traditional beanie and name card, and providing upperclassmen with gum, matches and cigarettes. Our freshmen were fortunate they were not subjected to the new fad now hitting throughout America — the "Hula-Hoop," nor did they collect wood for bonfires as the fledglings in other schools have done. These freshmen were also required to have an annual parade through the downtown section wearing pajamas, and carrying towels, while the girls followed carrying bars of soap and large stuffed animals.

I feel that our freshmen have gotten off lightly. Perhaps with the passing of their first year they will think of better methods of dealing with the incoming freshmen who will enter these hallowed halls in September, 1959. One last thing our frosh had in common with every entering frosh throughout the country was the "Reign of Confusion" — the filling out of cards and the constant standing in lines getting one card signed, then another, as well as trying to work out their schedules without an afternoon or evening class.

That's what we want—for a job that offers no limit on earnings and the opportunity to be in business for yourself.

A few minutes with the head of our campus unit will tell you a lot that you may not have realized about the life insurance business. And if you're interested in actual sales training, you can get started now—while you're still at college!

TAMPA ROUTS TROY STATE

by Vic Pezzulla

Before 6000 fans at Phillips Field, the University of Tampa Spartans outplayed the Troy State Red Wave.

Most responsible for this victory were Billy Nuzneff, Fred Cason and Charlie McCullers. Nuzneff, a senior, was a magician in the backfield. He looked especially adept in running option plays around the Troy ends.

Fred Cason literally ran over the Red Wave, gaining 85 yards in 11 carries.

Charlie McCullers played the role of a speedy and elusive scatback. He carried the ball twice for 22 yards from quarterback Billy Turner. Turner also stood out brilliantly, throwing for two 40's and running for another.

The victory was shaded slightly when one of the squad runners, Billy Smith, suffered a broken leg.

While head coach Marcelino Huerta had much praise for Nuzneff, Cason, McCullers and Turner, line coach Sam Bailey was pleased with the fine work of tackles Dick Walters and Jerry Lawson.

In the first period, Cason, a 258-pound fullback from Plant City, smashed his way for 44 yards in six carries.

Nuzneff, meanwhile, was running beautifully, going for 33 yards in four carries including a sparkling 36-yard junket. Nuzneff then plunged over from the one-yard line for the score, climaxing the 80-yard drive. Cason kicked the extra point.

Troy then threatened temporarily, moving to the Tampa 36.

Tampa moved to the Troy 19 and was stopped after a completed 40-yard pass from Turner to McCullers was called back because of an off-side penalty. Troy punted, and Nuzneff scooted 15 yards to the Red Wave 25. Rick Rados ran to the 21. Cason bulled his way to the five, where Nuzneff ran around the end for the score.

Cason booted the extra point, making the score 14-0.

Troy then was stopped on the six-inch line after a 52-yard advance. The third touchdown of the first half was set up when the alert Jerry Lawson pounced on a fumble on the Troy State 40.

Turner chucked two aeriels to McCullers, one for 24 yards and one for 20. McCullers' kick for a score was wide, making the count 20-0 at half time.

At the start of the second half, Troy kicked off to Tampa. Tosses from Nuzneff to Capt. Ken Belliveau for 8 yards and to halfback Paul Davis for 11 yards plus two 9-yard runs by Nuzneff and a 16-yard smash by Cason, who went over from the one, were the main factors in the march. Cason successfully kicked the extra point, making the score 27-0.

The fifth Tampa TD was scored when McCullers recovered a fumble on the Troy State 40. He carried the ball on the next play to the 36.

Halfback Buddy Williams then went to the 28, and two plays later to the 18. McCullers scampered the remaining 18 on possibly the most beautiful run of the evening. Running hard, Charlie bounced off at least four would-be tacklers and crashed into the end zone.

McCullers' try for point was unsuccessful, and the score read 33-0. The final score was set up when Tampa's Jim Mitchell recovered a fumble on the Troy 45.

33-yard pass play to the 12, and from there Turner executed a run around the left side behind nice blocking for the tally. Turner tried the kick but it was blocked, making the score 39-0.

The only score for State came when Art Pinson, a fullback, plunged over from the one-yard line. The conversion attempt was blocked. The final score read Tampa 39, Troy State 6.

INTRAMURALS

"Rag" football season is here again. The opening games will be on Oct. 9 at Phillips Field at 11:30. On this, the opening day, the Majors Club will meet the Independent team, and the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity will take on the Theta Chi fraternity.

Before I start making my pre-season run-down on this year's teams, I feel it will be of interest to list last year's results in "Rag" football, and also last year's complete overall final standings.

Final Standings, 1957-58

Place	Team	Master Points
1st	Pi Kappa Phi	505
2nd	P.E. Majors	426
3rd	Independents	382
4th	Theta Chi	362
5th	Sigma Phi Epsilon	352
6th	Tau Kappa Epsilon	255
7th	Baptist S. U.	114

Final "Rag" Football Standings, 1957-58

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Majors	5	0	1
Pi Kappa Phi	3	1	1
Theta Chi	2	3	0
Independents	2	3	0
Sigma Phi E.	1	3	1
Tau Kappa E.	1	4	0

1957 All-Star Team

Player	Team
Sciotti, Mike, captain	Majors
Sabella, Larry	Theta Chi
Girgis, Fred	Majors
Hayman, Gerald	Majors
Gonzalez, Fred	Theta Chi
Miller, J. C.	Sigma Phi E.
Powers, Bud	Pi Kappa Phi
Curry, Bob	Pi Kappa Phi

Now to my pre-season predictions as to this year's outcome. By taking into consideration experience, size, depth and speed and not considering pre-season boasts, I have to pick the Independents and the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity as the two best teams this year. The Majors Club and the Theta Chi fraternity, however, can't be counted out of the running. The Sigma Phi Epsilon and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternities are this year's mystery teams. Either one may come up with a strong unit. The Pi Kaps will have the largest team they have had in four years. They will be led by coach Fred Girgis, who will be assisted by such stalwarts as Mike Sciotti, Jerry Ganey, Angel Arenas, Dave Camper and Bob Stevens. The Independents will have a relatively new team, but are already boasting a victory over the Theta Chi's in a practice game. They are being led by Chris Jordan and Pupello and have a squad of around 16 players. The Majors club, being led by Wally Brown, were planning

Spartans Defeat Catamounts 19-12

by Mel Baumel

Before 5000 fans the Spartans, led by Fred (Moose) Cason, defeated the Western Carolina Catamounts from Cullowhee, N. C., 19-12 at Phillips Field.

This was the Spartans second win of the season with eight more games to go. Cason was used mainly on offense and was unstoppable as he ripped the Catamount's line for yardage. Cason carried the ball 16 times for a net yardage of 92 yards, making a 5.8 average.

Jay Gould intercepted a Western Carolina aerial on the Tampa 30 to make the victory inevitable. Billy Turner (the Auburndale Flash) recovered a Carolina fumble deep in Spartan territory to avert a bid for a Carolina score.

The Catamounts won the toss and elected to receive. They marched to their own 34 when expert play by Ken Bellevue recovered a fumble and the Spartans led by Nuznoff advanced 34 yards for a tally. Cason booted the extra point and the Spartans led 7-0.

In the opening minutes of the second quarter Tampa was forced to punt. Billy Turner got off a poor bot that traveled only 17 yards. The Catamounts too kover on the Tampa 49 and on three quick plays made the score 7-6. Cooper, the Catamount quarterback, attempted to try the two pointer but failed when his pass went astray. In the closing minutes of the half the Spartans on their own 24 proceeded 76 yards to leave the field with a 13-6 lead. Cason and Charlie McCullers were instrumental in this drive for a TD. Nuznoff's attempted pass for the two pointed failed and at the end of the first half the Spartans led 13-6.

At the beginning of the second half the Catamounts had the ball on their own 42 and marched 58 yards to make the score 13-12. Nuznoff intercepted ap ass in the end zone that could have put the Catamounts ahead. Then Dave Davenport from West Palm Beach intercepted a pass and ran the ball back five yards to the Catamounts 38. On the very next play Nuznoff connected to Davenport for a 22 yard pass play, to the opponent's 12. Cason sped around right end for an ell yard gallop and crashed over from the one for the final yard and score. The Catamounts held the big moose when he tried to crash the line for a two pointer, and the score was 19-12 as the gun sounded ending the ball game.

Spartan Cagers Begin Practice

by Mel Baumel

The University of Tampa Spartan basketball team began practice Oct. 1 at the Phillips Field Gymnasium. Head coach Bob Lavoy introduced himself to the team and gave them a background of his basketball career as a player and coach. The team was 20 strong at the practice session.

Five players returned from last year's squad. They are John McNamara, Bob Swigert, George Sullivan, Fred Guziel, and Billy Turner. The new boys are John Wintermeier from Larga, John Heim from New Jersey, Gary Dalton from Plant, Marlin Clark from Tampa, and Lamont Craft from Georgia.

The season will get under way for the Spartans when they play Dec. 1 in the Citrus Tournament at Lakeland.

Coach Lavoy went over his offensive pattern in his first meeting with the boys. This year the Spartans will possess that much-needed height they lacked last year which will make them a threat in the Florida Intercollegiate Basketball Conference.

on having a practice this week, so I have little idea of what kind of team they will have, but they are always tough. The Theta Chi's are being led by Larry Sabella, Joe Andrews, and Spiro Moutsatsios. They will have their usual rough and ready team. The Tekes will have many players from last year's team back with them again this year, including their quarterback Bill McLean, but they have lost Buddy Banks, so we'll just have to wait and see what kind of team they will field in their first game. The Sig Eps will have Paul Joyce, Frank Schabert and Pete Wosner back, but have lost J. C. Miller and Bill Randall. They will be coached by Frank Fuchek and Larry Nagy, who are ineligible because they lettered in football here a few years back. Well, good luck, everybody, and let's all try to make this the best intramural season we've ever had.

Spartans Ranked Ninth

Tampa's Spartans, pleased with their ninth-place ranking in this week's poll of the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, concentrated on sharpening their timing and offensive and defensive blocking.

The Spartans gained ninth place in the nationwide NAIA poll on the strength of their 39-6 drubbing of Troy State last week. Coach Marcelino Huerta said today he is "very pleased and honored" with the ranking.

Huerta said Wayne Story, first-string center, injured his leg in practice and may miss Saturday night's game here with Western Carolina. Story was an offensive standout against Troy State.

WESTERN CAROLINA BACK STOPPED BY SPARTAN DEFENDER

Tampa and Western Carolina have met on the gridiron only twice before. In 1955, Tampa won 48-0, and in 1956 the Spartans were on top 47-9.

Intramural Spotlight . . . Footballer Doing Fine After Game Injury

by Mel Baumel

Billy Smith, sophomore half-back from Fort Meade, is doing fine in the Davis Island Hospital after breaking his leg in the first quarter of the Troy State game. He caught a pass from Billy Turner and was tackled viciously by two Troy defenders. Billy is a physical education major and hopes some day to coach. Though he will probably be out this season, he'll come back strong next year. Billy is a good competitor with a great desire to play football, whom we would like to wish a very speedy recovery and lots of luck for the rest of the year.

At dinner one day, Bishop relates, she asked, "Mr. President, are you interested in Icelandic literature?" He gave a quick smile and said, "Am I not?", and then went on to tell her all about her "one lonely Icelandic." And that was not all. He told her of dozens of other books on the subject that she had not heard of.

RIDER PAUL REVERE HAD OTHER TALENTS

Paul Revere was not only handy with a horse, but handy with a pen. He wrote, after many years of research and literary endeavor, the definitive history and bibliography of our early American newspapers.

Besides founding a company whose pots and pans still help the homemaker, and besides making copper boilers for Robert Fulton's experiments with steam, Revere was a talented engraver. Among his works, we are told by Clarence S. Brigham in "Paul Revere's Engravings," were portraits, political cartoons (anti-British), book illustrations, engraved music, and advertisements. Of all the Revere scenes, the most popular is "The Bloody Massacre perpetrated in King Street Boston."

STRICTLY FEMININE

with your hostess Jean Morris is heard every Tuesday and Thursday evening at 7:45 over WTUN, 88.9 mc. FM., the University broadcasting station.

Strictly Feminine

by Jean Morris

The world of fashion, as everyone knows, is an ever changing thing. We no sooner get used to one style of apparel than . . . BOOM! . . . it's out of style. This has been especially true of the chemise. The word "chemise" is strictly passe in the fashion world. There are, of course, variations of the chemise, but no longer are fashion-wise women trying to attain the "sack look." The majority of chemises have been belted or slimmed down to a semi-sheath. The ever popular slim sheath that is fitted from top to hem is still fashionable, and the sheath with the empire waist is gaining in popularity with the leading designers. Skirt lengths are shorter this year than they have been for the past several years. There is no shortage of material! In my humble opinion, the designers just needed something else to change. Most of us will wear a skirt length that is becoming to our own figure regardless of whether or not Dior says 16 inches or 20 inches from the floor. Skirt lengths vary from just above the middle of the knee to two inches below the knee. I suggest that on this matter you decide for yourself before a full-length mirror!

Soon it will be that wonderful time of year when we can take our wool and orlon skirts and sweaters out of storage. There are very few changes to this popular outfit, thank goodness! If you will look at the latest fashion magazines, however, you will find that the double sweater is very popular with college co-eds throughout the country. The double sweater simply means wearing one sweater over the top of another. The most talked about combination is the sleeveless sweater worn over a long sleeve pull-over in a contrasting color. If it sounds bulky . . . well, it's supposed to! Bulky knits dominate the fashion parade for this winter from Maine to California. This is not only true with sweaters, but with knit dresses and coats as well. If you are already a little bulky without the addition of double sweaters, I would suggest that you stick to the old practice of wearing them one at a time. Colors are beautiful, varying from the very darkest shades to the most delicate hues. Take your pick and you will be fashion-wise.
