SPARTANS BEGIN SPRING PRACTICE

30 Players Turn Out for Football Practice

Working with a squad of thirty players, Coach Joe Justice began the Spartan's annual spring football practice last Tuesday at Phillips field. Equipment was issued at the beginning of the two hour session and new plays centering around the single and double wing formations were stressed.

Due to the heavy toll of men taken by graduation and the armed services, there is a lack of material for the center and fullback spots. Prospective juniors who played outstanding ball last year and will form the hub of next season's eleven are: Paul Straub, Tex Weiner, Junior Thornton, Willard Knight, Jules Fantel, Bill Lassan and Bob Hatch.

Five new freshmen have been added to the Spartan roster: Jim McFee and Gilbert Maney of Asheville, N. C.; David Perlman, a transfer from Stetson; George Moore from Chicago; and Clarke McCullough, a transfer from South Georgia Teachers.

Members of last year's freshman team who will probably play varsity ball are: Paul Morano, Tom Lakus, Mush Noble, Aubrey Fuller, Jack Layfield and Val Dziewguc.

Practice will continue for at least another month, with Coach Justice perfecting the timing in single and double wing formations. He will also drill the squad on the fundamentals of blocking and tackling.

Here is the complete Spartan roster: John Clements, Grady Davis, Val Dziewguc, Jules Fantel, Aubrey Fuller, Emmett Gentry, Bob Hatch, Harry Hill, Arnold Holmes, Ray Jones, Tom Lakus, Jack Layfield, Gilbert Maney, Joe Mills.

Masquers To Give One-Act Plays for MacDill Soldiers

If you should see someone wandering around the halls mumbling to himself and acting as if they were in a daze don't become alarmed, for the dramatic club is again putting on a play. This time they are entering a relatively new field, that of one act plays. At the present time two are being worked up to enlarge the repertoire of the club. "They Are None of Them Perfect" was presented on the radio Saturday February fourteenth and is now having action added for the finished product. The cast includes Judith Benson as Amanda; Beth Hotchkiss, Ellen Mooney, Dot Hill, Elsie Gill, Miriam Quarles and Collins Whitehead. This is really an odd play for at last it shows the men what their "better-halves" talk about at a hen party.

Not being satisfied with one play, "New School for Wives" is also being directed by Mrs. Connally. Elsie Gill has the part of "Ellen," a school girl who can't find herself (show me one who can). Collins Whitehead is her worried father and Beth Hotchkiss, her scatterbrained mother. Dot Hill, Judith Benson and June Hunt are Ellen's friends from an exclusive school who have all "found themselves" and are now definite types. Miriam Quarles is the maid and John Randen adds romantic interests. The properties for both plays will be managed by Sooky Jackson and Beth Hotchkiss.

The club has been invited to present these plays in a full evening's performance at MacDill field on March third.

TAU OMEGAS INITIATE 14 NEW MEMBERS

Impressive Ceremony Held in James Stuart Room

The Tau Omega fraternity held its informal initiation Feb. 14 and its formal initiation the following afternoon in the James Stuart room of the university. The impressive ceremony was highlighted by the decorations which were in charge of Dean Harry Dobson, honorary Tau Omega member.

The officers of the fraternity, James Whithead, president; Warren Watson, vice-president; Robert Wilson, recording secretary; Charles Slocum, corresponding secretary; Walter Shiver, treasurer; Henry Vest, parliamentarian, officiated at the ceremony.

Members attending were Rex Goode, Clarence Lovejoy, Mervin Beattie, Carl Lauther, Glenn McRae, William Hayes, Gene Zielinski, R. B. Fordyce, Fred White, Frank Zalmana and Ben Hatcher.

Those initiated were Walter Brown, John Bittman, Ray Miller, Ed Miller, Don Storius, John Corbin, Robert Price, Frank Montgomery, Calvin Peyrot, Edwin Baronowski, Robert Zalmana, Arthur Trubiana, Harry Hill and Dante Bernandina.

A weekly luncheon will be held by the fraternity every Friday and guests will be invited to attend.

The outstanding pledge will be announced next week.

Eugene Zielinski Appointed New Managing Editor

Eugene Zielinski, sophomore, was appointed new managing editor of the Minaret upon the resignation of Alice June Wright, Ann Simpson, editor, announced yesterday.

As a cub reporter, in his freshman year, Zielinski covered freshmen news and was best known for his column "We the Frosh." Last semester he was the Minaret typist, later to be appointed sports editor.

Minor in journalism, Gene, as he is known, is "another" Chicago lad coming to Tampa U. in the early part of 1941. Besides writing for the Minaret, he covers the university sports for the Tampa Tribune.

Robert Nelson was named new sports editor and Frank Teske and Bud Reinert assistant editors. Both Nelson and Teske have had previous newspaper experience in sports. Bud Reinert was the sports editor of a high school weekly before coming to the University of Tampa.

Kappa Kappa Psi Names Six Pledges

Alpha Sigma chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, announces the names of six band members who became pledges at a formal ceremony on Sunday, the 8th. The new pledges are Walter Shiver, St. Petersburg; Walter Brown, Bradenton; Richard Wozniak, Chicago; Hagen Carleton, Bartow; Jack Liebman, Tampa; Merriweather Williams, Washington, Ga.

Membership in the fraternity is based upon musical ability, service to the band, and leadership in campus activities. Formal initiation is to be held the first week of April.

Charles Slocum of Bradenton was elected treasurer of the chapter to fill the vacancy created by the withdrawal from school of Jacob Dunn, Savannah, Ga., senior.

BETA CHI'S HOLD PARTY

The Beta Chi fraternity held a stag party last Monday night in the fraternity rooms for members, pledges and rushees. Games were played during the evening and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Barnes Will Teach Secretarial Science Course

A petite blond, with a charming southern drawl and a ready smile answers the description of Mrs. Grace H. Barnes, new secretarial science instructor. Mrs. Barnes was born in Cedartown, Ga., and was graduated from Georgia State College for Women. She later studied at Columbia university where she received her master's degree.

Upon completion of her college work she did office work in Atlanta for two years, one of which she was a legal stenographer.

Before coming to the University of Tampa, Mrs. Barnes taught at Georgia Southwestern college at Americus and at Georgia State College for Women, her alma mater.

When asked what she liked to do Mrs. Barnes said:

"I like to teach more than anything I know of."

She also confessed that she is very fond of poetry, adding that a person in the business world "should not admit this." Bowling and football also rate highly in her favor.

Mrs. Barnes has visited Florida several times but never for long.

"I'm thrilled to death," she said.

S. K. N.'s Decorate Sponsor's Room

Rabbi Zielonka was most agreeably surprised one morning last week when he entered his office and found it completely renovated. Over the weekend, unknown to him, the S. K. N. fraternity painted and redecorated his office. Jack Williams, president of the fraternity (of which the Rabbi is a sponsor) said he hoped this would be the impetus encouraging occupants of other offices in the building to do the same. When asked about the color scheme, the Rabbi mumbled a few incoherent words which sounded something like, "I hope the second coat will be a little—er—eh—less bright. Regardless of the color scheme, we notice the Rabbi spends more time in his office than before. We believe that more students would feel inclined to talk with teachers if the surroundings were conducive to conversation.

Dr. E. E. Gill

Dr. E. E. Gill To Succeed Dr. Nies

Dr. E. E. Gill will succeed Dr. Nies as head of the chemistry department at the University.

Dr. Gill was instructor at Armour university in Chicago for 26 years, having secured his Ph. D. degree at John Hopkins university.

Dr. Gill had retired from active teaching to make his home in the South, but since the war broke out and he desired to contribute his share to community defense, he chose the University as the best outlet for his work.

The position as instructor in chemistry was left open when Dr. Nies was called in class 1-A to help in the government chemical research department at Northwestern university.

Ed Baranowski Named Freshman Vice-President

On Wednesday, the 18th, elections were held to fill offices left vacant in the freshman and junior classes.

Glenn McRae was elected vice president and Jane Hughey, secretary-treasurer of the junior class. Both were unopposed.

Edwin Baranowski is the new vice president of the freshman class.

THE UNIVERSITY TO INAUGURATE A FLORIDA HALL OF FAME

The State of Florida has had a unique position in the history of the making of America. We should, therefore, recognize the forces of leadership which have helped to make Florida a progressive and leading State in the United States.

We know and revere many leaders who have helped influence in the development of Florida. Men and women, who during their lives, were not conscious of the fame which would be accorded them because they were simple, sincere and unselfish people. But the fame of these people should have a fitting tribute as a fine example of the creative genius which has stood back of the building of our great State, and therefore, as President of the University of Tampa, I have set aside the rotunda or colonnade in the hall of the University for the purpose of honoring great Floridians who by wealth of thought or by deed have served mankind through their contributions in the field of art, education, religion, philanthropy, literature, science, industry, law, medicine, military, music, engineering and government. In doing this we are cognizant of the desires of the leaders of our State and its citizens to perpetuate a fitting tribute to Florida's great men and women.

Florida's Hall of Fame is appropriately located because the University of Tampa's building is an historic building unique in America and represents an era of Florida's pioneering which is also unique.

Florida's Hall of Fame for great Floridians will have a Board of Governors which will supervise the rules of election of candidates presented by citizenry of Florida who will be placed in the enviable Hall of Fame. The Board of Governors will be composed of the Governor of the State of Florida, Ex-officio, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the University of Tampa, the Presidents of several colleges in Florida, and representative citizens in the field of education, religion, philanthropy, science, engineering, military, law, business, music, art and such other groups as come within the scope of such a project.

The tablets, busts and paintings depicting individuals selected are to be contributed by interested individuals upon invitation of the Board of Governors.

This is a worthy project and one which will bring to the University of Tampa and to Tampa a deserved recognition.

Those immortals of our State who will be placed in the Hall of Fame will stand as a guiding light.

I have been asked by individuals what names may be logically selected to represent the first in the election to Florida's Hall of Fame. These selections will be entirely in the hands of the Board of Governors, but it might be presumed that such a person as Captain Colin Kelly would no doubt find a special place among the early groups to be selected as he is deserving of this highest honor.

PRES. J. E. MOONEY.

WAR TIME—LOST TIME

We set our clocks up one hour on that memorable Sunday night and lost it. We haven't as yet made that hour up; in fact, to be honest with ourselves we will never make it up till after the war. We haven't yet grasped the meaning of all this. We have more or less become hardend to the fact, but not hardened enough yet to get to our eight thirties on time every morning. This need not worry us too much for our professors will surely bear with us. If you will think back, they have been sleepy, droopy and late too.

Remember, we used to eat breakfast after the sun had risen and dinner about sundown. But this one hour change has turned the tables on us. Now we eat our breakfast in the black of night and our dinner in full daylight. For those who used to depend on the sunrise instead of an alarm clock to get up every morning there is a very fine solution. If it is darker outside when you wake up than when you want to bed you may know that it is time to rise and try to shine.

Let's not worry about this lost hour too much because we will get it back in full six months after the war is over, but the question is what will we do with it after the war is over? We'll worry about that when the time comes.

Aid To The Uninjured

WHAT WITH THE ROWING SEASON AND BASKETBALL, ALL THESE GALS TAKING FIRST AID OUGHTA BE COMING IN HANDY

This Week In Defense

In this our greatest defense effort, we Americans should realize for what we are fighting. Our defense efforts must be backed by an understanding and an appreciation of those principles of freedom which are threatened today as they never have been before.

Mr. William L. Shiver, author of "Berlin Diary" has brought out this point very adequately in the following statements:

Perhaps you know America best when you've been away for awhile, as I have been. Perhaps you can see it clearer that way—its grandeur, its hope, its promise. Here at home, I fear, we Americans, busy with the many details of our daily lives, have taken too many important and beautiful things in life for granted. Do we really appreciate our priceless freedom?

To the average American family, the exercise of freedom is as natural as breathing free air. But across the Atlantic in Europe, from which our forefathers came, freedom is no longer natural. It is not even possible. Darkness has descended over that great continent. Men, women and children—130 million of them—live in chains, Nazi chains. Books are burned, newspapers suppressed, radio stations wrecked, parliaments wiped out and men are hustled to the prisons or the gallows because they dare to speak out as decent, free human beings.

The man Hitler, of course, is primarily responsible. But the once comparatively free peoples of Europe and their leaders cannot escape entire blame. They did not understand, among other things, that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." They took their freedom for granted. When it was threatened, they were asleep. When they awoke, it was too late. The Nazi boot had already trampled them down. I saw that Nazi boot stamping out the life of one country after another. For me, as for all Americans, I know that death is better.

But we have a better choice than death or slavery. We can remain free. There's a price to be paid, to be sure. But it isn't much of a price. And for what you get, and hold, it's cheap. The price we will have to pay is—belief in our freedoms, and when they are threatened, as they are now,—vigilance, sacrifice, and a united, determined will to defend them.

S. T. P.'s Hold Last Rushing Party

The Sigma Theta Phi sorority held their last rushing party of the new term Saturday night with a George Washington party at the home of Miss Elva Parodie.

Games carrying out the theme of the party were played and prizes were awarded. Favors were presented to each guest.

Refreshments, cherry tarts and ice cream, were served later in the evening. The Misses Muriel Cook and Shirley Abell headed the entertainment committee.

LIBRARY NOTICE

For the present, until complete file of regular students is available, ALL STUDENTS, both old and new, are requested to bring to the library their receipts from the business office, showing payment of fees, so that names may be included in library file of those entitled to full library privileges. It is necessary to show this receipt to circulation desk attendant only once, the first time the student wishes to check out library material.

Students taking less than full course are entitled to REFERENCE USE ONLY of the library; library fee may be paid in the business office, if such students desire full library privileges.

Glimpses of Fashion

Since the sun has decided to warm things up around Tampa U. the gals are now able to cast off coats and really show off clothes they have been saving up, all these past cold, brisk days. Because of the "to-be" teachers around here there is quite a bit of new fashions around the lobby other than sweaters and saddles. Elva Porodie looked the part of the modern school-marm the other day wearing a navy silk pleated skirt with a luscious color of red velvet jerken and a white long sleeved blouse. Maybe, she really was just trying to make a good impression on the kids. She's to teach. The lucky gals of this group are the phys. ed majors who can wear socks and look like the kids themselves, and unless one knows them you can't tell the difference. Betty Savu can be seen strolling over to Wilson any afternoon looking very much the part with a whistle hung around her neck. I think she uses the sand to keep her saddles lookin' strictly "Jean College." But enough for the practice teachers (or they'll get the bighead if too much is said.)

But skirts and sweaters are still the thing around the lobby. They are old stand-bys that will be in style until the end of time. But if you will not most every day one particular color is dominant. For instance Nouna really strutted around in her red skirt while Ellen wore a red sweater. Seems like the co-eds have a code so they can all have the same color dominating, or it's by coincidence. Look around sometime and you'll see what I mean.

It also won't be long now before the sweaters and other woollens will be packed in moth balls and gingham and calicoes will take over. (Tsk, tsk, no more sweater girls.)

Because this column is not limited to only girls, I want to say how perfectly adorable two of our tough football players—Kaufman and Straub, look on Saturdays in their little aprons. If you want to see for yourself go down to the super market, they can't be missed.

DANCE SAVINGS TO RED CROSS
COLUMBIA, Mo.—(U.P.)—Through hiring a less expensive orchestra and effecting other economies, sororities at Stephens college here saved $1000 from their big dance of the year and donated the lump sum to the American Red Cross war relief campaign.

STATIC

Now that all the informal initiations are over, maybe some of our boys will go back to their old way of living, since they aren't afraid of anything the members will be able to do to them. In fact, they shouldn't be afraid of anything anymore if they lived through initiation.

Calvin Peyrot probably had lots of crooners worried after the way he rendered, "Show Me the Way to Go Home," for over an hour while he was seated in the top of a pine tree. And Nesworthy needn't worry about the crew. The boys said Trubiano rowed steadily for an hour and 45 minutes—but he never got any further than the stump he was seated on.

The S. K. N.'s couldn't let the Dekes get ahead of them with this zombie idea, so they concocted some T. V. Kickapoo Joy Juice of limburger, castor oil, saurkraut juice and kerosene. Charlie Heinmiller went patriotic in a big way with red, white and blue bows on his girdle.

It may not be spring yet but cupid seems to be doing O. K. around here. There's Steve Solak and Vivian Van Wormer, who seem to like to look at each other. And the reason for Butch Wilson's frequent trips to Bradenton is a member of the fairer sex. Her name is Jessie. But the prize goes to Bob Doherty, who daily receives a 14-page letter from his girl friend back home.

Some of our favorite coeds are going army in a big way. There's Olga, who seems to have the situation well in hand in regards to her staff sergeant. And one of our better-known staff members is going steady with an officer—except for the dances at school. Does that mean the rest of us won't ever get a chance to meet him? And we've been hearing rumors that Bettie Berlin is planning to take the final step about the last of March—a military ceremony, of course.

Bill Read seems to be losing out to the army. At least two of his old girl friends have picked Uncle Sammy's boys as their O. A. A.'s. Frances Stifford has said "I do" to Jack Lunden, a member of the air corps, and Ella Beth Laird has promised to do likewise to a member of the same outfit.

Now that the fair is over, the population of the lobby will probably show a decided increase. Not that the students spent all their leisure time there, but several students took an active part in the fair. Ann Simpson took up watch at The Tribune booth; Jack Williams and Norman Light played in the band and the grandstand was practically littered with Tampa U. "ushers."

Miriam Davis is doing O. K. for herself. Her boy friend from Chicago is coming to see her and he's going to room with her T. U. boy friend, David White, while he's here.

For girls who prefer boys in uniform, our football boys can keep up with the soldiers. At least they say they wear uniforms every day now. And one of the senior footballers, Ray Fordyce, was chosen Junior Rotarian this year.

T. U. BASKETBALL TEAM HITS BACK AT SOUTHERN

Cagers Win 38-18 in Second Encounter

Smarting under a 53-38 defeat in a previous game with Southern, the Tampa U. cagers won a smashing 38-18 revenge in the second encounter Saturday, Feb. 14.

The inaccurate shooting and bad passing that showed up in the first game was not in evidence Saturday and the Spartans performed like veterans, breaking through the Southern defense in the second half to score 20 points and put the game on ice. The Mocs were allowed only three baskets and one free throw in the second half.

Willard Knight and Larry Robles played outstanding ball, each taking high score honors with 12 points. This was Robles' first college game and he gave a sparkling account of himself.

Young and Pierce, Southern forwards who gave Tampa so much trouble in the first clash, were rendered impotent by the tight Spartan defense.

T. O.'s Entertain With Smoker

The Tau Omega fraternity held a smoker as its first rushing party of the year Feb. 11, at the home of Ben Hatcher, Sunset Drive. Diversified entertainment was provided and sandwiches, cakes and punch were served.

A beach party was held for rushees and their dates Feb. 21. Guests participated in group singing and later enjoyed a picnic supper.

The outstanding event of the Tau Omega social calendar will be its annual Ring dance to be held March 13 at the Hillsboro roof garden with Manuel Sanchez' orchestra providing the music.

JOINS TAMPA U. FACULTY—Miss Iva Eileen Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Brown, 3807 Barcelona ave., has joined the staff of the University of Tampa as an instructor in fashion drawing in the art department. Miss Brown attended the Traphagin School of Fashion at New York.

By ART SPOLTORE

Football practice started last Monday. The squad members seem to like their new coach and his ideas, especially the one where there are no calisthenics. The fellows go through their plays with high speed all the time, which is a good sign. They are working for our new coach and it all points to a successful season next fall. Coach Justice seems to know his stuff. He gave the fellows nine plays in one day from the double wing and the following day the same plays from the single wing, working both to the right and left. It took some fellows all year to learn several plays last year.

After a boy gets through classes, maybe 13 or 18 hours a week, then comes studying for the certain classes, and intramurals mixed in, and on top of all this, two hours of strenuous football practice, where would a football player get time to work five or 10 hours a week for his meals, which are still being given by the "Spartan Club?"

The B. X.'s have taken a commanding lead in the intramural basketball campaign, due, of course, to some stellar work from "Hank" Straner, "Stooge" Anderson, and "Not Hickey" Thornton. These immortals are ably supported by Paul Rippa, "Dixie" Howell, "Haircut" Blumle and several others. The real Beta Chi team makes up the varsity.

The crew has been coming along in fine style. They look "terrific" coming down the Hillsborough river. They should be ready to give the teams on their schedule a run for their money.

Familiar faces missing from the football practice are Bob Bowen, Bill

Brennan, Bill Clevenger, Tex Weiner and the 11 seniors. The younger players all miss these seasoned heads to help them over the rough spots.

The basketball team really played a bang-up game over at Southern last week. The addition of Robler, who kept Captain Young of Southern bawled up, and the point getting of Knight seemed to be the deciding factors. Knight, after an early season back injury, has finally rounded into shape and should be hard to stop by the remaining teams on the schedule.

Carl Scott, a first cousin of Tony Zale, the fellow who gave Billy Conn such a terrific battle the other night, is a pretty fair fighter himself. Scott went to the quarter-finals of the recent Chicago Golden Gloves tournament. Fighting two fights in one night was the cause of Scott's defeat. He fights in the welterweight class.

T. U. Rowing Team To Compete at Rollins

The University of Tampa crew will open its season against the Asheville Preps, of Asheville, N. C., on Saturday, March 21, at Rollins college.

The following men have secured positions on the team; Jules Fantel, number seven; Dixie Howell, number six; Junior Thornton, number five; William Pullen, number four; Harold Williamson, number three; Victor Hatch, number two; Don Lopez and Victor Schell, bow; Arthur Trubiano, coxswain, and Frank Montgomery, manager. The coach is James Nesworthy.

All remaining meets will be held at Rollins college, and the Spartans will compete with Washington and Lee college, Lexington, Va., on March 28; American International college Springfield, Mass., on April 4; Marietta college, Marietta, Ohio, on April 11, and Rollins college, Winter Park, on April 18.

Several of the meets are interesting because of underlying facts. Coach Nesworthy coached the crew of the American International college before coming to the University of Tampa, therefore, they will try their hardest to beat his crew.

The Marietta college crew was runner-up for the national championship last year and will prove to be a very worthy opponent.

T. U.'s Just Tops With Musicians

Did you know that Mr. Wiltse, our very competent conductor and head of our music school, spent many years of study under the finest teachers in the U. S.?

Did you know that Mr. Wiltse is not only a very capable director but also has a remarkable baritone voice, and plays several string instruments, including piano, most proficiently?

Did you know that Dean Dobson, professor of fine arts and music history, not content with mere academic study, has devoted the greater part of his years to extensive travel, study and the collection of materials? As a consequence, he gives some of the most inspirational lectures to be found in any college, anywhere.

Are you aware that Mrs. Givens (the former Miss Mary Haverstick) is a graduate of the finest music conservatory in this country. She was graduated with high honors from the great Juillard school of music, and is recognized by all musicians who know, as an exceptionally brilliant pianist.

Did you know that Mr. Parks, professor of music harmony and theory, received his master's degree in music from the very fine University of Michigan music school? In addition to being an excellent pianist, he is a remarkable composer. His originality in composition is rapidly giving him recognition among the better contemporary writers of music.

Your reporter believes that we have in this school a music college that not only parallels many of the finer schools but, through its competence, betters many of those whose age and publicity have made them more popular.

Rev. H. A. Waller To Teach Bible Course

The Rev. H. A. Waller, the pastor of Hyde Park Methodist church, is now teaching an interesting course in the history of the New Testament every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 10:30.

He has a degree as Doctor of Divinity and was the pastor of a Methodist church in Coral Gables for five years. Before this he was in charge of an orphanage at Benson Springs and is still a trustee.

DROOLISM

With a big new crowd of freshmen coming in at mid-term, new opportunities for rushing have turned up. The sororities and fraternities have been quick to take advantage of the situation and lots of parties have been planned before rushing closes Saturday.

The S. K. N.'s gave one of their traditional spaghetti suppers which go over so big with the newcomers; the T. O.'s splurged on a beach party; and the Beta Chi's entertained at an informal get-together.

Showing the influence of the war and George Washington's birthday, all three sororities chose a patriotic theme for their parties. The invitations were clever; tiny hatchets were used by the Alpha Gamma's and the S. T. P.'s and the Delta Kappa's gave out miniature American flags.

Via the grapevine method and gossip around the lobby, we hear that the Varsity Show which is coming up soon will turn out to be one of the major events of the year.

If some of the profs did not show up for their classes last Saturday, don't think they were cutting,—they were doing their patriotic duty by helping in the registration of the selective service, and deserve a vote of thanks for their work.

We have so many congratulations to extend this week, that we created a special department for that purpose. Congrats to:

The new faculty: Dr. E. E. Gill, who will fill the position left vacant by Dr. Nies; Miller Adams, new director of athletics; Frank McWilliams, taking Chip Bergwin's place.

Jimmy Whitehead, who succeeds Jake Dunn as prexy of the Tau Omegas.

Miller Adams

Adams Appointed T. U. Physical Ed. Director

Upon the recommendation of Joseph Noel, state health director, Miller Adams has been appointed physical education director at Tampa U.

Adams, popular baseball and basketball coach, has been active in university athletics ever since the school was a junior college. His first job was as student director of athletics in 1932. Since then he has participated in the handling of both university and city recreation department sports. He graduated from Tampa U. in 1935 with a B. S. degree in education.

He has helped officials of the recreation department in the running of A. A. U. track events, junior baseball, and general playground sports.

Last September he was appointed coordinator of Tampa U.'s civilian pilot training program—a job much to his liking because of his strong interest in aviation.

Sanford Receives Appointment as War Supervisor

Dean Daniel S. Sanford has been appointed supervisor of the university's war emergency activities. A program is under way at present to meet individual needs and interests and has enlisted cooperation of students, faculty, and administration.

Dean Sanford's article, "The University of Tampa on a War Basis," is published in the February issue of the Florida Education Association journal.

The program which the university has developed has received recognition by the Florida Education department and the United States office of education.

All war emergency activities are organized through a central office and include groups such as those for women students.

The purpose of marriage is to produce more Christians.

These classroom boners were found among many papers handed in at the last freshmen history examinations.

Charlemagne's only fault was his fondness for the opposite sex.

The students were much the same as they are now. The professors were shocked at their smoking, drinking and cussing.

A common way of escaping a sinful past was by marriage. Your sins were supposed to be overlooked after your marriage.

Extreme unction: Anointing the five "sentences."

Penance: Wash away the gift of sin.

Baptism: You were baptized after you were born by a priest.
