

Registration Changes Next Semester

The University of Tampa is making every effort to alleviate the add and drop line. The committee has had three conferences to try to develop new procedures.

Now, advanced pre-enrollment will be the students final choice, but the availability of the classes will be known to them when he turns in the enrollment slip. The slip will then be turned in to a Data Processing desk in the main lobby. On January 4 Seniors will be able to pick up their pre-enrollment forms and class schedules. Juniors will pick up theirs on January 5, Sophomores on the sixth and second semester, Freshmen on the seventh. The desk in the lobby will be open the day following the start of classes. Seniors can turn in their complete forms on the fifth, Juniors the sixth, Sophomores the fifth and Freshmen the seventh. Anyone missing their class day can come the following day, but will lose class preference.

Every effort to correct known errors will be made at the time of enrollment. In the past, errors couldn't be corrected at this time. No longer will anyone have to register for courses that they already know will have to be dropped.

A plan change on the part of the student will not be accepted as a valid reason for adding or dropping.

Pre-enrollment will be the final choice, thus a student has forfeited his right to change his schedule.

S.G.A. News

Who's Who applications were picked up by eligible Juniors and Seniors Wednesday, October 14 and were handed in the following Wednesday. The Monday after Homecoming a screening committee of students and the administration will review the applications.

Starting the Monday after Homecoming, reservations for those who wish to attend the Ole Miss. football game will be taken.

Willane Starling To Reign Over Homecoming

Willane Starling, sponsored by the Tau Epsilon Phi fraternity, has been elected Homecoming Queen for 1964.

Miss Starling is a senior and is majoring in Elementary Education. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega social sorority.

The queen's court includes Ada Addison, Lady in Waiting; Linda Casey, first maid; Penny Donaghue, second maid; Lorraine Morales, third maid.

Willane and her court will reign over the game Saturday and other festivities throughout the weekend.

Tampa Taken Task At S.U.S.G.A.

by Dave Scott

Representatives from the University of Tampa publications were recently at East Tennessee State University to attend the 5th annual Southern University's Student Government Association Publications Workshop. The workshop was held in the hills of Johnson City, Tenn.

The representative body (MINARET and MOROCCAN staffs), was in very high spirits, upon arrival. John Hines, President of our Student Government, was Chairman of S.U.S.G.A.; Bernie Alicki, Editor of the MOROCCAN, was on the yearbook panel, and Dr. Alvan McFayden, adviser to the MINARET, was on the panel covering the editorial page.

The first panel, "Role of the College Newspaper," was encouraging to the staffs. We were in a much better position in relation to other schools of the same size then we realized.

As the Editorial Policy of the Minaret was presented to the representatives, the guns started going off and cover was sought. The policies were torn apart during the entire panel discussion. Suggestions were made by schools who have faced similar problems and now have newspapers that everybody is proud of.

It was determined that the Editorial Page should be the heart of the newspaper. This is where the staff has a chance to express itself, but more important, the students now have a Letters-to-The-Editor section that has been added to the Minaret. This is for the students who want to express themselves.

The Minaret staff limped away from the workshop and took a very close look at the newspaper. The high gloss was gone and the weak points stuck out. Now we are going to try and straighten these weak points. But your help is again needed. The City Desk has been opened to cover news as it breaks around the University. Use the services and help make this a newspaper of which you can be proud.

The Minaret has the power to become one of the most powerful voices on campus. Along with Student Government, the Minaret can not work without student cooperation. With support from the student body more interesting editorials will appear.

The Minaret Editorial Policy has been changed to present the student with honest editorials. Support your newspaper and if you want to criticize anything do it with the printed word where the circulation is 100 times greater than word-of-mouth.

Let there be light. The newspaper will print the news and the facts. If the students accept them, a strong union will be established.

Tampa Community Theatre Presents 1st Production For '64

Final rehearsals for Tampa Community Theatre's first production of its 1964-65 season are moving toward completion as the cast polishes and the work crews prepare the technical aspects. "Take Her, She's Mine," will be presented at the Theatre on West Alva and North Hubert in Drew Park on October 21-24 at 8:30 p.m. Tickets will be on sale at the theatre box office and reservations may be made by calling the theatre.

Dr. Delo Welcomes Alumni

A Hearty Welcome is extended to all Alumni as you return to the campus for Homecoming in this 34th year of your Alma Mater.

If you have not been on the campus recently, please take the time to really see the changes which have been made. I hope particularly you will visit the following: the splendid new student center, opened in April, 1963, now an effective center for campus life. The Alumni Association pledged $15,000 toward construction of the dining room.

The beautifully panelled classrooms on the newly renovated second floor of the Main Building. All of these rooms are gifts from individuals and organizations interested in the University, and others are planned.

The beautiful Dome Room (formerly Dome Theatre) renovated this past summer through the cooperation of the Chiselers.

These are only a few of the physical changes which have occurred. More fundamental is the change in student body, now 1,456, and their origins in 38 states and 10 foreign countries. In addition, a definite improvement in educational facilities and the quality of many aspects of the academic program has been accomplished.

Last June we completed the transition from being primarily a local, commuting institution to our present status. This occurred because the opening of the University of South Florida made continuation of our former status impossible. This year we begin a rigorous self-study calculated to enhance the quality of every aspect of student and academic life.

All of us — and there are many — who have worked tirelessly to make this transformation a reality, hope that each of you will be pleased with the progress made so far. We still have a long way to go. We hope you will help us to achieve such objectives as construction of a new library (now on the drawing boards), a science building, more adequate facilities for intra-mural and varsity sports, and better salaries for an increasingly effective faculty.

By all means, visit the new Alumni Office on the third floor of the Main Building and meet Kenneth Hance who joined us as Director of Alumni Relations on September 1. He will be your specific link with the University, and is formulating plans for a vigorous and dynamic program.

We are happy to have you back on the campus. Come often.

Cordially yours,
David M. Delo
President

WELCOME TOWN CRIERS

The Town Criers of Georgia Tech will perform tonight in Falk Theatre at 800 p.m. The announcement of the Homecoming Queen and Court will also take place.

Dear Editor:

Yours truly,
NON-THINKER

Minaret Maid of The Week "Elena"

Among our many transfers to T.U. this year was one, lovely Elena Maria Plasencia. Elena, a sophomore, transferred from Kansas City.

Editorial . . .

Dear Students:

The column above this letter signifies your letters of complaint, suggestion, and praise. Are you that satisfied with the University in every respect that you have nothing to say? This is rather hard to believe. Or, are you afraid of what may happen to you for opening your mouth?

A student, upon entering the third grade, is able to express himself orally and verbally. If an eight year old child can do this in a matter of three years of schooling, just think what you, as a college student can do. The third grade student has neither the vocabulary nor the many developed modes of self-expression that a college student possesses. However, that child is expressing himself. You, the "college" students are not. How can the University of Tampa advance without knowing in which direction the students would prefer to advance? How can you call this your school, when you are not expressing what you want?

The MINARET is second in power only to Student Congress. Through the campus paper you can let Student Congress, the administration and the faculty know what you want.

Our Letter-to-the-Editor policy in brief is: 1) the letter must be in good grammatical form; 2) your name will be withheld upon request; 3) the facts must be as valid as possible, and 4) the Editorial Staff will not change the content of the letter.

This is your freedom, responsibility and obligation as a college student and an American citizen.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

"I'm Climbing the Wall"

Dear Editor:

In response to, "Why doesn't the Alumni of the University of Tampa give sufficient funds or contributions?" I say this: Don't make it so hard to graduate from this institution by telling a graduating senior he forgot to take a course, when this sort of error should have been spotted by the Administration long ago. Why don't the advisers (with the exception of the Business and Economics Department who are really on their toes), take a little more time out and let the student know exactly what he is to take and at what time? In my opinion, this would rule out closing classes to SENIORS!

The Administration receives more money when they take students in on probation so they must stay an extra semester. I'm not trying to downgrade our Alma Mater — I've been here four years and I love it!

When you see a northern university student graduate, you see honor and glory. Ask the typical

T.U. senior about graduation and he'll say, "I'm climbing the wall!"

Where are the Alumni contributions? Spent with the rest of their income.

Respectfully yours,
Robert Padernacht

Mr. Padernacht, might we suggest that you read the article at the top of page one of this issue.

Yours truly,
The Editor

What! No Parade?

Dear Editor:

This is the year that the University of Tampa was to rebuild. Everything seemed to be going along fine until now. The cooperation with the administration and the alumni has been terrific. The new students seemed to stay with our team even with defeat. This week the most important activity on campus is coming up — Homecoming, so what happens? The Greeks who have been stressing closer relationship with each other and the student body fell through. It seems that the Greeks just don't care about the school at all. The only thing they seem to care about is rush parties and fixing up houses just so they can be better than the other Greeks. Yes, Homecoming will be here before you know it and there will be no parade.

There were only two entries for floats in the parade. Zeta Tau Alpha, and Alpha Chi Omega. Other Greeks said that they were already building their floats but how true can this be? Why should one organization back out if another one does? Does this mean that we are back to the Brother and Sister relationships that once prevailed on this campus?

Yes, the Greeks want to stress closer relations with each other, but this has brought them too close. It is too late now even to try to patch up homecoming. A surprise is in store for the Alumni. These people who have done so much for this school will really be let down. The Greeks can be proud of themselves.

The parade which really means so much is now cancelled. Will this be the trend for years to come? We will just have to wait and see.

Where Did The Parade Go?

SPORTS BILLBOARD

by Mike Moore

Last Saturday night at Lafayette, Louisiana, the SPARTANS ran into a fired up Southwest Louisiana team and suffered their fifth loss of the season 37-6. This was the homecoming game for the Bulldogs and some 10,000 people were on hand to cheer them on. Everyone at the game agreed the SPARTANS were the bigger, better team, but not on this particular night. Head Coach Sam Bailey and his staff were handicapped by the phones from the pressbox to the field failing to work. Statistic wise the game was close and the SPARTANS actually had an edge over the winning Bulldogs. The SPARTANS picked up 20 first downs to Southwest's 18. In total offense the Spartans outgained them 342 to 331. In passing yardage the SPARTAN quarterbacks picked up 196 yards and Tampa's fine pass defense held Southwest to 65 yards through the air. One of Tampa's tosses gave them their only touchdown of the night. It came in the final quarter when Ed Nizwantowski hit Howard Langdon in the end zone for a 15 yard TD toss. This was the end result of a 76 yard drive engineered by Nizwantowski with the help of some fine running by Bill McManigal. Bill carried four times in the series and gained 49 yards.

The Bulldogs used a fine running game to take a quick lead on Tampa and lead 30-0 at halftime. Some questionable calls against the SPARTANS accounted for 129 penalties against Tampa. This game had a number of odd happenings that possibly helped contribute to the SPARTANS loss, but the big thing that seemed to be lacking was the desire and hustle the team had against VPI and Memphis. It would be foolish to say the players didn't want to win, but at times it was hard to convince yourself that all of the boys were interested in the game.

We have a good football team as has been said many times this season, but if the team wants to see something besides grey paint in Phillips Field at the last two home games, they better come through with 110 % when they play Presbyterian. The Blue Hose have been winning some games this year and last Saturday they suffered a good thrashing at the hands of Furman and you can be sure they will be ready for the SPARTANS and they will want this win bad. The game shapes up in just about that fashion, it will go to the team that wants to win the most and goes out on the field to prove it. Let's hope our team has the determination and desire to come away a winner at the 1964 Homecoming game.

"It's An Interesting Life," Say T.U.'s Men In The Field

by Alyce Spohn

"It's an interesting life, although living out of a suitcase has its difficulties," says Director of Admissions Eduard Van Gelder about Tampa U's field representatives.

TU's three men in the field, E. Miller, J. Reynolds, and J. Martineau, will cover 386 high schools and 18 states during the next three months.

These men will talk with guidance counselors and principals to arrange conferences with the students. It is in this manner the majority of high school students become acquainted with T.U.

The purpose of the field work is to draw the better class of students and to attract attention toward the University of Tampa's program.

Work in guidance and/or admissions are the qualifications necessary for the field representatives.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"AS A FRESHMAN, ALICE, YOU'VE PROBABLY NOTICED THERE'S AN ADJUSTMENT TO BE MADE FROM HIGH SCHOOL TO COLLEGE."

Spartan Marching Band To Perform During Homecoming

The spotlights will again be centered on the University of Tampa marching band, who will provide pre-game and half-time entertainment at the October 24 Homecoming football game.

Recently, the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association invited Dr. Stevens to meet with them and discuss the progress of the music department. Dr. Stevens was complimented on the band's performance at the last football game. The committee is extremely interested in our marching band and mentioned the possibility of new uniforms.

The band is still small and members are needed. There are many music scholarships available to those wishing to enter this field.

The dance band will be appearing in the near future.

Dr. Hugh Fellows Heads Telephone Speech Workshop

General Telephone Company of Tampa has announced that Dr. Hugh Fellows, professor of speech at the University of Tampa, will head a workshop program in public speaking for the speaker's bureau of the company.

Dr. Fellows was a former coordinator of speech in the Division of Education at New York University and head of the speech unit at the Commerce Center of City College, New York.

In a similar capacity, the University of Tampa professor has been a consultant for Western Electric, General Foods and Johns Manville Corp.

Organization News

Theta Chi

With fall rush coming to an end and homecoming just around the corner, the Brothers of Theta Chi are full of spirit and anticipation.

Brother Gary Webb, homecoming chairman, has planned what is hoped to be a winning lawn display on the subject of "Beat Presbyterian." Also, the Theta Chis again plan to have their annual get together with their alumni, a party always enjoyed by both student and graduated brothers.

Brother Sachetti, our rush chairman, has assured the chapter that this fall's rush party will be one long remembered, and with the chapter's known flair for parties there is no other way it could turn out.

To brothers Jim Galmin, John Perry, Mike Buss, and Bill McManigal the chapter wishes to express its best wishes for the homecoming game and congratulate them on a season well played.

Delta Sigma Pi

Delta Sigma Pi started the year off with a formal rush party October 1 at the Student Center and a casual rush party at Ralston Beach Friday night. Thanks go to Phil Davis and Lee Perdigon for making this a fine success.

We plan a fine year ahead with local speakers on campus and tours to various firms in the Tampa area.

Our officers this year are Robert Warren, president; Phil Davis, vice president; Carl Forsberg, senior vice president; Larry Pinco, chancellor; Harvey Hiller, Secretary; and Robert Miloshevsky, Historian.

Pre Law Club

The discussion of activities and the introduction of officers was the agenda on the first meeting of the Pre Law Club.

Officers are Lawrence Lespest, president; Bill Pierce and Ken Rosner, vice presidents; Ira Gillman, secretary; Bob Cleret, treasurer; Bob Padernacht, master of arms.

Members of the Pre Law Club were guests of the Young Democrats of Clearwater at the Candlelight Inn October 15.

The organization plans a library of notices from various law schools and attendance at the seminars for pre law students throughout the state.

Anyone interested in the American legal and political system is invited to join this club. Just leave your name with the Dean of Men's office.

Delta Sorority

We of Delta Sorority proudly announce our new pledge class. They are as follows: Patty Collins of Tampa; Diane Harber of Madison, Wisconsin; Joann Russo of Woodbury, Long Island, New York; Sandy Seed of Tampa; Dianne Yengling of Miami, Florida; and Lydia Yglesias of Tampa. Nancy Berenguer is to be their pledge trainer.

We are looking forward to a busy semester starting with our lawn display.

TEP

It is the decision of the Editorial Board of the Minaret that TEP in its last article made abusive accusations and thus misused the space privilege allotted to the organization. We are thus withdrawing this privilege from TEP for the next four issues.

Alpha Chi Omega

Five new pledge sisters have been added to the membership of Alpha Chi Omega. They are Adrienne Menendez, Karlene Reed, Marcia Reynolds, Carolyn Showers and Leslie Smith.

Linda Casey, Cheri Ellis, Jane French, Louise Gonzales, Suzanne Monaco, and Jane Stokes, Spring pledges, were elevated to full sisterhood at the initiation ceremony October 4.

Our annual Founder's Day Banquet was held at the home of Diane and Donna Benniger. The active sisters performed for the alumnae in a founding skit.

Sisters Linda Casey, Second Maid, and Jane Humphreys, Third Maid, were selected as members of the Moroccan Queen's Court.

Pi Kappa Phi

Pi Kappa Phi is on the go again and last week it showed it by winning the intramural fencing title. Credit for this is given to our own Zorro, Ron Gagnon. Football is now in progress and all our hopes lie with our Chinese bandits led by Dennis Faust. After losing a close battle last year, Pi Kapp is back in full strength to capture the intramural crown as we have done in many previous years.

Pi Kapp is again putting up a large lawn display in hopes of retaining last year's honor of having the best fraternity lawn display.

We have a new house mother, Mrs. Irene Dozier, and our old cook, Gussy, is back, so you can see our house is back to normal and all things point to a bigger and better year for the Pi Kapps with all brothers very active.

Zeta Tau Alpha

Our sincere thanks go to all students who patronized our script dance October 10, and helped to make it a success.

It is with great pleasure that we announce our acquisition of six lovely fall pledges. They are Hope Harbison, Phyllis Koda, Joyce Pettillo, Haren Porter, Carol Spooner, and Constance Tokarski. Welcome pledges to Zeta Tau Alpha from all sisters.

A Founder's Day program and dinner was given on October 15, for all sisters and new pledges. The event sponsored by Zeta Alumnae took place at the Bayshore Garden Club.

Our felicitations go to sisters Ada Addison chosen first maid and Sue Black, fourth maid in the Moroccan Queen contest.

Zetas are hard at work planning for the Homecoming Lawn Display and participation in intramural sports.

T. U. Disciplinary Committee Reports . . .

Recently a returning freshman brought his car to the University with full knowledge that vehicles were not permitted. In addition, he became involved in igniting firecrackers in the dormitory area.

In lieu of a hearing before the University Disciplinary Committee for these expulsion offenses, he withdrew. His records will bear the following notation: "Student withdrew in the face of a pending disciplinary hearing for two offenses carrying expulsion penalties. He is ineligible for readmission to this University without a disciplinary hearing." This student had a previous record of disciplinary probation.

Tampa Tries To Run Blue Hose

The Spartans will play host to the Presbyterian College Blue Hose Saturday in their 1964 Homecoming game. The Spartans have won 6 and lost 2 in their series with Presbyterian. The Blue Hose are expected to run from a split-T formation which had given them victories in three of their first four games as of this writing. This is the best team Presbyterian has had in six years and the Spartans are sure to have a rougher time with this homecoming game than they did last year when they were victors over the Blue Hose 26-0. There are 17 lettermen on the PC roster and nine of them are backs. The all-junior letterman backfield is led by 200 pound quarterback Leighton Grantham who likes to throw the ball. Grantham has passed for over 1,000 yards in his first two years as the Blue Hose pilot. Halfbacks Wade Stewart and Don McNeill are both very good runners and also favorite targets of Grantham's passes.

The Blue Hose line is one of the lightest the Spartans face all year, only averaging about 195 pounds per man, but they are fast and quick and don't make many mistakes. Head Coach, "Cally" Gault had a problem early in the year finding men to fill the tackle spots but some of the younger players have come on fast and the Blue Hose are two-deep in the line. The Spartans will probably be faced with a passing attack from the Blue Hose. They will sometimes send out a flanker in their versatile offense but they will probably have to go to the ground early in the game due to the Spartans tough pass defense which is ranked as one of the top in the country for small colleges. The Spartans will again use their best offensive punch, the pass, but this could be the game that the Spartan running game reaches the peak it was expected to in pre-season workouts. Head Coach Sam Bailey and his staff have formed two units, one offense and the other defense, that will enable the players to get more rest during the game. "This is a fine idea, but with the substitution rules they have it is hard to get the players in and out of the game when you want to," said Bailey.

Line Coach Frank D'Agostino said, "Their line may be smaller than ours, but that doesn't mean a thing. Their boys are tough and we are going to have to give it all we have if we want to move the ball."

A crowd of 8 or 9 thousand is expected to watch the Spartans and Blue Hose battle at Phillips Field.

Bowling Leagues To Be Formed

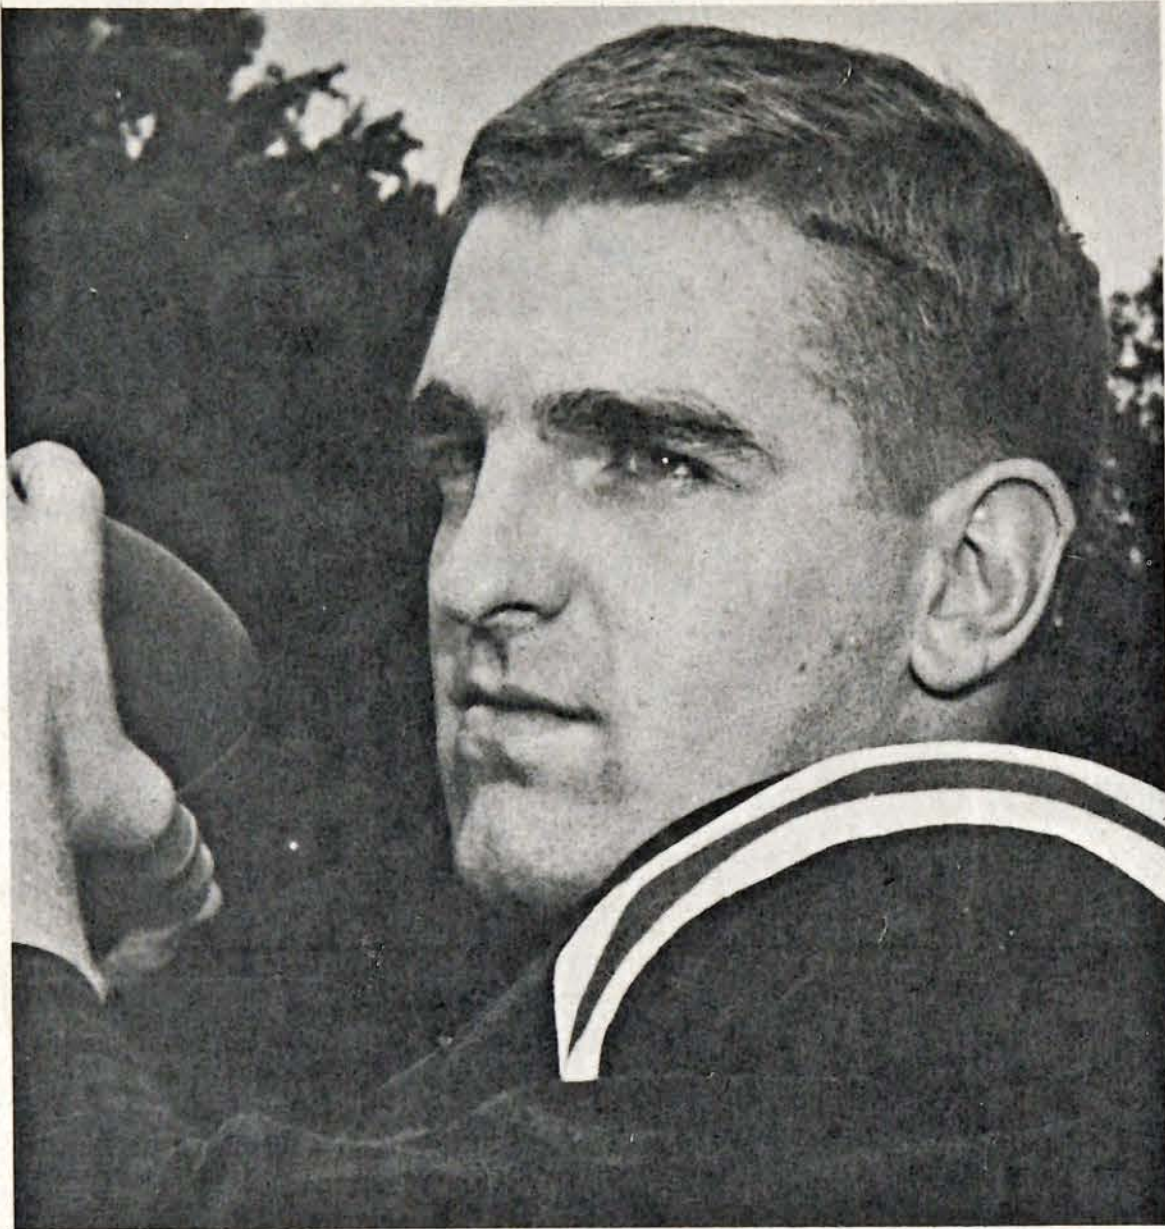

The University of Tampa bowling leagues will once again be formed at Coliseum Lanes. The leagues will be formed any afternoon the student body requests. Last year was the inaugural one for these leagues and the turnout was only fair. This year hopes are high that much more interest will be shown by university students.

Fraternities were represented last year only by TEP and PI KAPS. This year the hope is to form a closed Greek league to stimulate competition in a field where size and numbers are not the most important. Dorms are also invited to field teams.

Special leagues will be formed for those who want to learn how to bowl. Instruction will be by a certified staff thus mastering the basic steps will come fast. The novice will never be embarrassed again by not knowing how to bowl.

Trophies will be presented to all members of winning teams and individuals will be presented trophies for high achievement.

There will be a meeting next week to form leagues. The time and place will be announced at a later date. Anybody already having formed a team should reserve a spot in the league with Dave Scott in the Minaret office.

Spartanettes Open Season With Victory

The Tampa Spartanettes opened the 1964-65 Womens' College League on October 15 with a resounding 27-10 victory over Manatee Junior College in Bradenton. The Spartanettes, with all regulars back from last season and the addition of several new freshmen, opened the season with no difficulty in beating the comparatively new Manatee team.

Marilyn Bressler and Donna Phillips shared pitching honors for the Tampa girls with Nancy McCandlish and Jackie Beltram handling the catching chores.

The Spartanettes appeared strong at the plate with a home run by Marilyn Bronstein and doubles by
