

Something New Has Been Added

Working as an official Policewoman on the University of Tampa campus, Bernadette D. Paich, who arrived from Dade City on the 25th of September, finds her duties a comfortable challenge.

Finding the campus as a rather quiet area, Ms. Paich's activities include two different shifts in which the 7 AM-3 PM day-shift controls any traffic situation, while the evening-shift operates between 3 PM-11 PM locking and securing campus buildings. The midnight shift from 11 PM-7 AM also entails securing buildings and assisting the students in any possible way.

Mr. Chandler, who is director of the Security building, announces definite improvements being made, such as many more qualified policemen, modern facilities which provide direct communication with the Tampa police, and new radio equipment.

One aspect that Ms. D. Paich feels should be clarified is that none of the so-called Security Guards are Security Guards who keep vigil over buildings, but are all official policemen who protect the students and the University.

Having been exposed to a Police Department for a year and an Investigation Secretary for the State Attorney, Bernadette feels familiar and pleased with her new position. Ms. Paich pursues no specific future goals, for her contentment lies in her present job as Policewoman at the University of Tampa.

UT's Fourth Annual Parents' Weekend

Tampa U's fourth annual Parents Weekend will begin October 19, enabling students to spend time and participate in a number of activities with their parents.

At 9:30 p.m. Thursday, a special parents charter flight from New York will arrive in Tampa.

On Friday, activities such as campus tours, consultations with professors and deans, and an optional Busch Gardens tour are scheduled for the students and their parents. There will also be a Parents Luncheon with President B. D. Owens that day.

To begin Saturday's activities, a Parents Board of Directors Meeting for parents only is planned. For the remainder of the day students and parents will be able to enjoy more campus tours, a 1972 Spartan Football highlight film and a fabulous Parents Brunch. That evening, parents and students will be able to cheer for the Spartans at the University of Tampa vs. Drake University game.

In conclusion, there will be an open house for parents and students at Barritt House with President and Mrs. B. D. Owens.

UT Receives $250,000

The University of Tampa has been awarded a $250,000 challenge gift from the Charles A. Dana Foundation.

Founded in 1950 in Connecticut by Charles A. Dana, philanthropist attorney and business executive, the Greenwich, Connecticut-based foundation has supported the cause of higher education for more than two decades.

The grant lends considerable prestige to the University of Tampa for it is only one of three institutions to receive a Dana faculty-support gift this year.

The grant permits the University to establish and support a Dana Supported Professorship Program. This means the University can add four full professorships to the University faculty.

Although continuing to operate in the black and the recipient of foundation and community support, the University has never before received a gift of this magnitude from an education foundation of the Dana reputation.

Terms of the gift call for the University to raise a matching $250,000 in the next three years. University of Tampa President B. D. Owens expressed confidence the University would be able to meet that commitment.

The four Dana Professors will be subsidized with money generated from the overall half-million dollar Dana fund.

According to President Owens, the Dana Professors will receive an amount in excess of the base salary now paid full professors at the University.

Dr. Owens said the University will receive the $250,000 before the end of the year. A special selections committee will be established under the chairmanship of Dr. Herman Saatkamp to make recommendations for appointment of the first Dana Professors beginning with the 1973 fall semester.

The Charles A. Dana professorships were established six years ago with grants to nine colleges and universities. Professors appointed under the program must be teaching rather than administrative. In all, 21 are included in the Supported Professorship Program.

Deadline Set For Financial Aid

The Financial Aid department has set its deadline for all student aid applications. November 1st is the date which the last applications will be accepted. Mr. Paul Sawyer, the department head, said "All types of applications concerning scholarships, grants, loans and work must be received by this date."

This year a new application form will be used. The old form will no longer be accepted in the department. All students interested in financial assistance must obtain these new forms.

Mr. Sawyer and his assistants are available for any information needed concerning the department from 8-12 a.m. and from 1-4 p.m. five days a week. The department is still recovering from the over flow of registration week and hopes to be on their regular schedule very shortly.

You can find the office of Financial Aid located on the second floor of Plant Hall just above the Ballroom.

To The Responsible Students Of UT

I guess the student body can't handle a little freedom! Maybe Dr. Mendelsohn was right. All we know how to do with a free day is go to the beach.

I'm not an SGA officer or a UT administrator. I'm a student just like you.

Sadly, the UT Inauguration ceremonies and reception were like banquets without the honored guests. A large majority of students disregarded the invitations.

File 13 should have been a most honored guest instead.

It was said that the students were excluded from the preparations of the festivities. A student committee was formed this past summer. The word about the inauguration was spread at the beginning of the fall semester. If you were interested, you could have become involved. Besides you were invited to enjoy the results of the work of many committees. The work was done for you.

What has the administration done for you? This institution attempted to focus national attention on its campus and students, so that the University of Tampa wouldn't just be "another school in the south." Northerners couldn't confuse UT with the University of Miami.

With the help of the administration, we've been given more student representation on the trustees' committees, dorm visitation, a no-dress code, and even a day off for the festivities.

All the administrators asked for was your presence for two hours. We couldn't even thank them for the day off by showing up for those couple of hours.

You want to be heard, but you refuse to hear. Communications cannot be open unless there is cooperation. The majority of students ignored the exhausted pleas to attend this special event for the University's good.

I dislike speeches and ceremonies as much as the next person. However the Inauguration speakers spoke of the many attributes of President B. D. Owens. The one general attribute of Dr. Owens was that he cares.

Did we?

The beach was still there Saturday, wasn't it? The Inauguration of B. D. Owens was only a moment.

Sincerely,
Ann Dolly Semonco

From 17 Out Of 2,000 To 57 Out Of 2,000

The University of Tampa is in deep trouble. Its students just don't care about anything.

Break it down Jack.

All right I will.

Students have been complaining all year. From registration to fees, from parking to University spending, "Bitch, Bitch, Bitch."

So the SGA, that's your student government association, thought they would help the unmercifully exploited student by finding out exactly what was griping him and then go out and make any needed changes.

They did so by sending out questionnaires to all students, via each respective student's mailbox. Their first attempt was concerned with registration.

"Ahh!" the student government thought, "now the students will be able to let us know what really bummed them out about registration, and after they answer the questionnaires, we will have evidence and backing so that we can clean up the whole mess."

The response was phenomenal, out of 2000 sent questionnaires only 17 were returned, not bad at all, especially since at least 1000 students kept complaining about registration for weeks.

Then the SGA asked the student to make his opinion known again. This time the "Help Line" was the subject. As you all remember, the Help Line was introduced by Jim Lucas, who spent much of his own time researching and pricing such a program.

It was to be a service that would counsel UT students about such problems as birth control, OD's, that means drug overdoses and even suicide prevention.

A noble cause. Again the SGA sent out questionnaires, out of 2000 sent, 57 were returned. At least that is 40 better than their first try.

Members of the SGA risked their personal reputations and pleaded with the administration to reverse their decision and make OCTOBER SIX, Inauguration Day, a student holiday, with the understanding that the students would attend the Inauguration of Dr. Owens.

Some students had the courtesy of going away for the weekend, going to the beach, or just sleeping late. . . . I mean like you never get enough sleep.

Is that all the students of the University of Tampa want, to take advantage of their fellow students, teachers administration and campus?

Get back in your bags. The SGA has been working their larger ends off to make the University a better place for you—the progressive college student of the '70's.

What makes it so hard for you to cooperate, to work together to better your campus life?

It's not too late to get it together. To act like those college students you see in the movies . . . ready to fight for progress and ideals, even at the cost of one or two hours of free time.

The semester is still young. . . . Get it on!

Help Line Needs Help

The SGA met Wednesday, October 4 in a rather informal session. Last week's Inauguration symposium's use of the University Union made formal organization impossible.

According to questionnaire response, 57 returns out of 2000, it seems at the present time the students do not want a "Help Line."

Said proposal sponsor Jim Lucas, "With this (student reaction) in mind, I'm not convinced the students want this service."

The University has developed a health committee, Health Task Force, under supervision of Dr. Charles West, Vice President for Student Affairs. Jim Lucas reported that complaints or suggestions to the "Task Force should be in writing, stating: 1—what the problem is? 2—a brief discussion of the problem. 3—the student's recommendation.

Jack Spirtos asked that the student government consider sponsoring a special night featuring Dr. Owens answering questions posed by the students.

The idea came from a conference with Dr. Ward, Butch Heiles, and Spirtos, concerning the October 6, Inauguration Day, student holiday. Dr. Owens has been asking for such an opportunity to listen to campus opinion.

Controversy arose from the floor concerning the dress code and "tank tops." A Dress Code Committee has been set up to examine the alleged problem.

The March of Dimes Carnival has been moved back to October 29, since only four organizations have responded at this time. The postponement is in the hope that the other campus organizations will join in the project.

Brinkley's Audience

The wizard of the news world appeared at Curtis Hixon Auditorium October 2, 1972. Too bad a lot more UT students weren't there.

Of about 2,000 people attending, older persons, representing the public, constituted the impressive majority. These interested people created a responsive, respectful, and attentive crowd. UT attendance was not up to par which unfortunately proves the apathetic extent of the student body.

What does it take to get students involved in their own university? If the renowned David Brinkley couldn't excite this campus, I really am sad to wonder what or who can. . .

Delta Phi Epsilon

The Sisters of D-Phi-E. have swung into action for the semester. So far we have had a lollipop sale, a car wash, and a donut sale—all of which have been successful.

Since time flew so quickly at the Ice Water Tea, we decided to hold a Root Beer Float Party on Thursday, September 14th. The following Tuesday after our meeting, we held a Hoagie Sandwich Party.

The Deepfers were honored to have Arlene Gellis, an alum from Sigma Chapter at Ohio State, with us for a week.

We are also proud to announce our new pledge class: Jackie Albea, Pam Ellis, Deborah Pierce, and Ursula Uszanski. Congratulations, girls!

There will be a car wash this weekend.

Epsilon Pi Tau Honor Fraternity

Recently E.P.T. held its annual Fall Business Meeting. At that time we elected officers for the 1972-73 school year. We would like to congratulate our new officers for this year. They are: Jacki Albea, President; John Danker, Vice Pres. Sec.; John Pietrucha, Treasurer.

We're busy making plans for this year and so far it looks like we're going to have another really great year.

John Danker

Tau Epsilon Phi

TEP has wound up the intramural football season with a respectable record of 2-2-1. Fine playing ability was displayed by all team members throughout all the games. In individual sports, Vito Barbieri and Bob Ford are determined to win the pool championship for TEP and have rolled over all their opponents so far.

The brothers and their dates had another fabulous party last weekend before and after the Louisville game. As usual, a good time was had by everybody, with transportation provided to and from the game by the "TEP Bus."

We're all looking forward to another yachting party in the very near future. We have access to a 45-foot fiberglass yacht

CAREER IN BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

We have several career opportunities in the Mgt. trng. programs of both Nat'l & local Corps. A degree is a plus, military should be out of the way. If you have a desire to start your business career on a positive note see Mr. Wilson of our firm.

FRANK LEONARD PERSONNEL

and have had an enormous amount of fun in the past cruising around the Tampa Bay and seeing the sights.

TEP is planning a major facelift of the house—tearing down the condemned garage to provide more parking space, and painting the house. Generally, it looks like a very productive semester for the brothers over at 203 Verne.

Pi Kappa Phi

Last week the Pi Kappa chalked up their most important football victory of the year over Pen & Sword, 20-0. Again it was Puckett to Sabellico on three occasions for 3 TD's. Crazy Joe Mega and Tom Rockelman, both played well. With a forfeit over the Band, the Pi Kappa now have an unblemished record of 5 wins against 0 defeats. Although TKE did score a 2 point safety in the opening game, the Pi Kappa defense is yet to be scored upon.

Last Saturday night, the Pi Kapp's partied with "Hillbilly" on the theme. Other activities heading the Pi Kapp social calendar included a visit from the Penn Central Railroad with Tommy Keegan at the helm and Steve "Doc" Kidd at the caboose. Assistant conductor was Bill Pawloski.

The brotherhood would like to wish Barbara Korzon and Linda Ciangio a very Happy Birthday. The Pi Kappa Phi Daughters for the upcoming year are: Cathy Callahan, Linda Ciangio, Kathy Colleary, Gail Cortellyou, Lisa Havenflug, Barbara Karcon, Pam Mason, Lee Brooks, Carol Robinson, Joanne Stygles, Debbie Zepht. Our Rosebuds are Lynn Carr, and Janet Scalio, thanks girls.

Theta Chi

The brotherhood of Theta Chi would like to bestow its best wishes and hopes of a wonderful future to Don Amato who announced his engagement last week.

The fraternity also enjoyed itself last weekend with a wild splash party at the Barcelona Apartments. Although no one was drowned some people were missing by the end of the party probably due to an exciting game of Whales Tails.

We are now looking forward to an exciting and most promising volleyball season with some of the teams returning stars: Pat Boyle, Bob Prostovich and others who haven't signed their contracts yet.

There is quite a bit of concern since Duffy is holding out for more money, but we are assured of a quick settlement.

"The Doctor In Spite Of Himself"

The plans for the year start with a Spanish goodies Bake Sale on the West Veranda on October 17th, followed by a trip to Sarasota to see and appreciate the old Spanish Art masters at the Ringling Art Museum on October 28th.

A second Spanish Bake Sale will be held on November 14th.

Field trips to the Spanish Little Theatre productions in Ybor City are also planned plus meetings with guest speakers.

The usual good year of learning, fun and greater appreciation of Hispanic culture is expected.

Delta Sigma Pi

Brothers Wesley Green, Mike Pender, Chuck Osterman, Jerry Worthington with pledges George Sweat and Bob Dooley assisted in doing a remarkable job at Voting Registration. By this outstanding performance they were able to register a large number of students, congratulations on work well done.

The best way to get exercise and to help prevent pollution is to ride a bicycle.

The best way to get a Raleigh Gazelle 8, deluxe 10 speed bicycle is to enter our bicycle raffle. This beautiful sleek racing bicycle is being displayed at the check cashing booth in the University Union.

If the not so young at heart is the grand winner he or she has the option of getting a three speed.

Cardinals Beat Error Prone Spartans: Record: 3 Wins - 2 Losses

What's the dirtiest word of the day in head coach Earle Bruce's office? TURNOVERS. The Spartans fumbled their way to their second straight defeat Saturday night at Tampa Stadium, handing the Louisville Cardinals a 17-14 victory, the Cardinals' third this season without a loss.

The Spartans did a lot of things right. Our defense bottled up little Howard Stevens, the 5-foot-5 Louisville running back, and contributed interceptions that led to all of Tampa's points. Bob Bissell intercepted a John Madeya pass near midfield to set up Tampa's only touchdown drive in the first quarter and Eddie Caldwell grabbed another Madeya pass returning it 32 yards for a third-quarter TD. Caldwell had another interception earlier and Tampa recovered a Madeya fumble.

Compared to Tampa, though, the Cardinals were pikers in the turnover department. Morris LaGrand, who later scored the Spartans' other touchdown, fumbled the opening kickoff and Louisville recovered on the Spartan 22. Less than a minute into the game Stevens scored the first points Tampa had given up at home with a 6 yard run.

Four other fumbles and an interception, all but one fumble coming in the fourth quarter with Tampa trying to get close enough for at least a field goal, followed. Two of the fumbles were by sophomore quarterback Freddie Solomon, who alternated with senior Buddy Carter.

Carter directed the Spartans' only touchdown drive, but Solomon was brought in when it became obvious Tampa's passing game wasn't going to work. Running behind two inexperienced tackles, Tampa's runners could only net 43 yards for the night, but its most glaring mistake gave Louisville its second touchdown and the game its most exciting play.

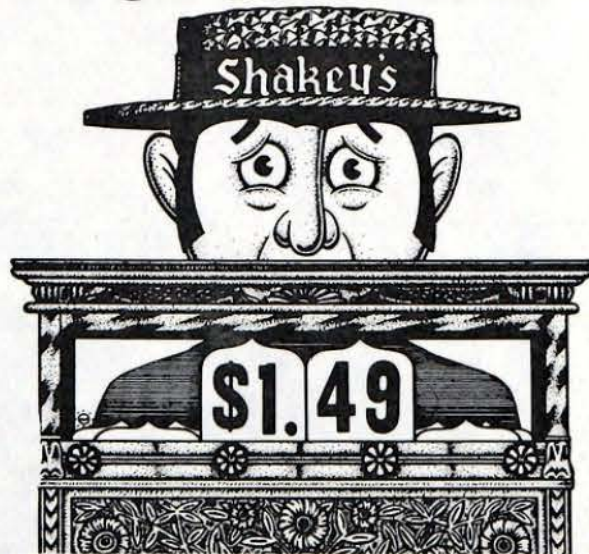

Stevens, who was held to 43 yards in 31 carries, far below his 5.7 yard-per-carry average, caught a Carter punt at his own 11 and raced 89 yards for a touchdown to break a 7-7 tie in the first quarter. The offense is charged with the responsibility of covering punts.

"I can't believe it," Spartan head Coach Earle Bruce said. "I can't believe our offense let our defense down like that." He slapped his hand against the locker room wall, overcome by the frustration.

"There's only one way to carry the ball in big time football and that's like this," he said, tucking an imaginary ball under his arm. "Five fumbles. . . I just can't believe it. The defense played a helluva game, a great game. Aw, what can you say. Their passing didn't hurt us a bit. The only thing that hurt us was us, our offense."
