

POLITICAL UNION TO STRESS LOCAL, STATE POLITICS

In today's vastly changing world, it is difficult and imperative to keep informed of local, national, and international politics. As witnessed in the last presidential election, a large general interest was recognized in politics by the influence of television debates, interviews, and press conferences. With the fate of the world resting in the hands of a few, what better way can a student keep himself informed of the present situation than through a student organization especially designed for that purpose.

The Political Union of the University of Tampa plans to promote programs that appeal to the general interest, with topics stressing local and state politics. Also, whenever possible, national political figures will be obtained.

According to the faculty advisor, Dr. Alan P. Stuckey, a foundation was set up by Chief Justice Vanderbilt of New Jersey, to give college students a down-to-earth approach to politics. Today, there exist branches in 48 states that are affiliated with a national clearing house.

The newly elected president, Walter Sadlowski, plans a program for the next meeting of a local figure speaking on local politics. Sadlowski is concerned with obtaining a large turnout and en-

Frank Glazer, world renowned concert pianist, will perform on February 28 in the Municipal Auditorium.

Tampa University To Present Frank Glazer

The University of Tampa will present Frank Glazer, world renowned concert pianist, in the Municipal Auditorium on February 28 at 11 o'clock a.m. and 8:30 p.m. Mr. Glazer's first performance will be for a student convocation. Admission to the evening performance is by complimentary ticket only, which can be obtained by writing to the president of the University.

Glazer, a native Wisconsinite comparatively young, has toured Europe, Canada, and Alaska, as well as playing the concert circuit in the United States.

He has a long hair 15 minute music show on WTNJ-TV in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, which has the highest ratings of all other shows in the similar time slots.

Mr. Glazer credits his wife, the former Ruth Gault, a concert singer, for bringing the idea of a TV show into fruition. Both were in Milwaukee in July of 1955 where she laid the groundwork for the show with WTNJ and a sponsor, which has been with the show since its inception.

He has appeared on NBC and CBS TV and commutes by plane to New York, where he performs in both Carnegie Hall and Town Hall.

His performances in Europe were given outstanding reviews; to name a few — From Holland, "Personality of uncommon allure"; Italy, "Vigor and expressive clarity are felicitously balanced in the pianist Frank Glazer"; Ireland, "Big playing was highly impressive and poetic"; Greece, "The American pianist is complete master of his keyboard."

Once again a reminder that admission to the 8:30 performance is by complimentary tickets only, and they may be obtained by writing the president's office of the University of Tampa.

larging membership so that eventually state and national leaders may be obtained. The next meeting, with an appealing program, is planned for March 2, at 12:30 in the Dome Theatre. Everyone is welcome and your membership and support is urgently solicited.

Kartman Forms String Ensemble

The newly formed string ensemble will devote rehearsal and performance to Baroque music by such masters as Bach, Handel and Corelli.

Initiated by Myron Kartman, concert master of Tampa Philharmonic Symphony and music lecturer at Tampa University, the group appeals especially to those people who have studied music in the past but, dropped it because of lack of time or for lack of a suitable organization. The first meeting will be held regularly each Wednesday from 4 to 6 P.M. in the bandroom at Tampa University.

The organization is open to anyone who, has had some training, can read music, and has an amateur status.

Religious Emphasis Week Is Observed By Tampa University

by Norma Blancato
Minaret News Editor

"What My Religion Means to Me", is the theme being observed this week at the University of Tampa in conjunction with Religious Emphasis Week.

"Religious Emphasis Week" is observed annually at the University in keeping with the national plan to stress Religion in Life on the college campus.

"Find the Strength for Your Life," is the slogan for the week and its purpose is to stimulate religious living and lift up moral values on campus.

Numerous activities for the two-day observances have been scheduled by the joint student, faculty and community planning committee.

This year the committee has worked out a schedule whereby every student will have the opportunity to attend at least one program. They have worked together extensively in their planning in order to have programs which will be of interest and help to students of all faiths.

Members of the Faculty Committee on Religion are, Dr. Willis J. Dunn, Registrar, professor of Sociology and Methodist minister; Dr. Robert J. Dew, professor of Chemistry; Rabbi David L. Zielonka, professor of Religion, and advisor to the Jewish Student Union; and Dr. Pat Hardeman, professor of Philosophy and Unitarian minister.

John Mitchell heads the student planning committee which is composed of the Student Senate and members of the various student religious organizations on campus.

Assisting John in the planning have been the following committee chairmen: Joe Glisson, Program; Norma Blancato, Luncheon; Marie Goding, Publicity; Bill Backler, Literature; and Wayne Wilson, Music.

In an effort to draw the community and students together in a closer relationship, community churches were invited to send representatives to work with the faculty and students in their planning. Those persons making up this section of the committee were, Rev. W. P. Weeks, Minister of Education at the First Christian Church; Rev. Dick England, Minister of Education at the Hyde Park Methodist Church; Mr. Ed Lily, Baptist Student Worker for this area; Miss Pat Williamson, Director of Religious Education at the First Presbyterian Church; Mrs. D. G. Sandbury, also representing the First Presbyterian Church; and Mrs. R. O. McDonald, Secretary of Student Work for the Tampa Heights Methodist Church.

Three guest speakers, a rabbi, minister, and priest have been chosen by the planning committee and will either lead or take some active part in all phases of the scheduled events for the week.

Noted men in their fields, these speakers will be the Rev. Father Nicholas Harbatis, Rev. Earl Hartman, and Dr. Benno M. Wallach.

Father Harbatis is a graduate of Holy Cross Greek Orthodox Seminary, in Brookline, Mass., and Wayne State University in Detroit, Michigan. He received training in psychology, education, and religion.

He served four years in Detroit as a priest in St. Nicholas Church prior to coming to Tampa. At present he is the priest at St. Johns Greek Orthodox Church.

Rev. Hartman received his education at Taylor University, Temple School of Theology and Asbury Theological Seminary.

For five years, Rev. Hartman served as a missionary on the western frontier of Brazil, Xambre.

He returned to the states last May and at present resides in Tampa and serves as pastor at the Davis Islands Community Church.

What Happened to the Grades?

We take time out to congratulate those students who have finally received their fall semester grades. May we ask how this near impossible task was accomplished so that those who are still in the "twilight zone" regarding their academic efforts may continue the pursuit with more insight. It is almost incredible to believe that many students who are duly registered at the University of Tampa have yet to receive their grades.

Formerly, grades were mailed out, occasionally a bit late, but, at least, the student was guaranteed the arrival of this most important report. This time, however, almost two weeks after the commencement of spring session, students were instructed to pick up their grades from their advisors. Hoorah for those who obtained their grades immediately! However, some less fortunate people found it necessary to make continuous trips to advisors before receiving their grades, and others still are wearing out shoe leather in the attempt.

Some advisors are most difficult to find. Don't misunderstand us, please, for we are not dealing here with advisors and their whereabouts. But some students are often placed in a situation where class hours conflict with the advisor's office hours. Other advisors direct the student to the registrar's office with the explanation that they have not received any grades at all. Hopeful that he will finally come to the end of his journey, the student continues to the office of the registrar where he is instructed to return to his advisor as he MUST have the grades. In an effort not to make a pest of himself, the student disgustedly submits to waiting another day or two before trying again, hoping that success will finally come.

And to be it if any grades were recorded in error! At this late date, corrections are impossible and thus, students must submit to the curriculum committee if they wish to have any change in grades considered. Adding or dropping a course due to the findings of grade results at this time becomes another frantic chore.

May we suggest that the concerned officials plan ahead accordingly so that students, advisors, and personnel of the registrar's office may be spared from wear and tear next semester.

A Game of Hide - And - Seek

The Florida State Fair came to Tampa again and sharing the spotlight in one of the exhibition buildings was the University of Tampa. The university booth was attractively constructed, the literature, most informative. Lovely slides depicting life at Tampa U. were on hand. Every aspect was carefully planned and all instructions were carried out in full detail. Representatives of the University met specific time schedules. Yet it's a shame that all this effort was initiated in vain. Why? Simply because the booth was situated in an almost secluded spot. Tucked away neatly in the extreme end of the Electrical Building, the booth was visited by students who made it a point to search for it and by spectators who probably took a wrong turn and lost themselves in the immense edifice.

We hope that an all-out effort will be made next year for a more promising location so that all may view and learn of the functions and goals of our fine university.

Bulletin Boards: A Vital Source of Information

Are you a bulletin board reader? Do you like to poke through the maze on some of them? A study of the University's bulletin boards can be educational, humorous, and informative. As a starter let's take the bulletin board by the elevator on the first floor. From this we find that: a representative will be here from Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. on January 10; For sale, 1955 Plymouth — fully equipped — usually parked; For sale, three books — like new — never been used; A registered white toy poodle can be seen after 5 P.M.; A portable typewriter for $30; The Navy recruiter will be here in plenty of time before graduation; and Roseanne Cinchett's phone number is WE 4-8916 if you can sell her a book on the "appreciation of music."

Further down the hall the Dean of Men's bulletin board advertises for students interested in nursing. Another brochure proclaims, "You can make more this summer the Stanley Way." If you need a job, there is someone who needs men from 6:30 to 9:30, or on a notice dated 2-6-61, you can distribute handbills — but you must apply today. And lastly, Miss Bennett has a long list of men she would like to see.

De Novo "Campaigning" For Student Material

DE NOVO, the literary magazine of the University of Tampa, is embarking on an active "campaign" to attract material from student authors, poets, artists, essayists, playwrights, etc., to fill the covers of the Spring, 1961, issue.

Written material of every variety is being sought as is a cover design and several sketch drawings to accompany the various stories. A 2,500 word limit has been set, but any material exceeding that limit could be presented to Dr. Baker of the English department, or to R. Neil Reynolds, editor of the magazine, for consideration. Final deadline for accepting material is March 31.

Articles lending themselves to illustration should be submitted as early as possible so that art work may be completed in time to meet the March 31 deadline.

If you have material for DeNovo contact any one of the following: Dr. Howard G. Baker, faculty advisor; R. Neil Reynolds, editor; Jack Gerber, asst. editor.

From the Dean of Women's bulletin board, we find that, Camp Somerset and Camp Winding Creek offer positions to those who excel in archery, canoeing, golfing, sailing, tennis and tripping. Also someone urgently needs a ride from Clearwater and almost any one will do typing. And at long last in memory of Amelia Earhart, there are now scholarship grants available to women for graduate study in aeronautical engineering.

The bulletin boards of History, Language, Education, Speech, Drama and Music are well stocked with helpful information concerning careers and opportunities available in their respective fields. If the student is considering graduate work, these boards contain brochures of universities offering advanced study.

In the area of the library on the second floor there are many bulletin boards but due to a large housecleaning project there is nothing on them. All that is noticed out of the ordinary is a sign stating, "Biology," with an arrow pointing towards the ladies' rest room. In a stairways on a good sized board rests a lonely piece of paper tacked to the middle. At closer inspection it reads: "Anatomy — something everyone has, but looks better on girls."

Faculty Interview

DR. JESSE LYNN KEENE

When Dr. Keene dismisses class at Tampa U., the students have something to remember. His methods of teaching Political Science and American History are not commonplace.

Dr. Keene was born in Hillsdale, Tennessee. He has had a fascinating career beginning with his college work at Vanderbilt University right up to his present position at the University. He received his B.A. degree from Vanderbilt University with majors in Economics and Political Science. From there he continued work at Peabody College where he received his masters degree. His majors were Physical Education and History. Having majored in History and American Government, Dr. Keene then earned his doctorate at the University of Florida in 1955.

It might easily be said that this was only the beginning of Dr. Keene's diversified career. He went on to teach and coach at Huntsville High in Alabama for seven years and at Giffin High in Georgia for two years before coming to Tampa University in 1936.

Dr. Keene, a very brilliant and understanding man, has received many academic awards. Included are the Peabody College and University of Florida Fellowship awards, and the Eloy Afaro, Phi Delta Kappa, and the Phi Alpha Theta awards.

Dr. Keene has also made contributions in the field of history in the form of various publications.

He has written a book called, "Gavino Gutierrez and His Contributions to Tampa". Sometime this month his second book will be available to the public entitled "Sectionalism in the Peace Convention of 1861".

Although a busy man, he still finds time for outside, as well as inside, activities. Dr. Keene belongs to the American Political Science Association, American Academic Political Science Association, Florida Historical Association, Southern Historical Association, and Delta Tau Delta. At Tampa University he is the faculty advisor of Alpha Phi Omega as well as the Westminster Club. In the community he participates in Boy Scout activities.

In 1932 he married Irma M. Wilson. Their only child, Martha, is married to Dr. Paul E. Slaton. Dr. and Mrs. Keene are the proud grandparents of Paul III, four years old, Susan two years old, and Jess Keene six weeks old.

Dr. Keene spent the summer contacting alumnae in the area of California. From there he traveled to Mexico, noting the culture of that area. Some of the Tampa University alumnae that Dr. Keene saw were Edward Kendrick, California; Angelo Cacciatore, San Francisco; Pauline Palmeri and Jack Palmeri; and Margaret Ritchcords Forrest, Lynwood, California.

Our hats off to a very wonderful and gifted man — Dr. Jesse Lynn Keene.

History

A Study of the Past

(Editor's Note: Each department at the University is being asked to comment on the importance of its subject in today's world. Today's article concerns history).

History is a study of the past. History is things that have happened, the compilation of the social, cultural, economic and political forces that have formed the present world.

By studying history the student gains a better understanding of himself and his world. He sees himself in relation to the world — a world which has been formed by all the events up to the present day. The individual is formed to a great extent by his environment and his environment is the result of the past.

A community of a certain type is determined by the history surrounding it. The capital of Florida was determined by two men on horseback. One left St. Augustine, the other Pensacola. They chose a particular clearing and that was the beginning of Tallahassee. Other communities have formed for protection, for trade or for a variety of reasons. Yet there are parallels behind each community. The realization of such parallels provide the individual with a wider scope of his world.

In gaining knowledge of the past the student sees past experience. He can learn from both the failures and successes. He can gain from this knowledge the ability to prevent future failure and profit from past successes.

The past has influenced the present and will influence the future. It is up to the individual to apply what has been gleaned from history. Knowledge and understanding of the past are the tools for the future.

FRATERNITIES

Pi Kappa Phi

The brothers of Pi Kappa Phi reassembled their swelled ranks after the semester break, looking forward to a very active spring semester.

The chapter's annual formal Rose Ball will share the spring-time social spotlight with the chapters unique annual Daughter's Day and the annual Moonlight Cruise.

As the basketball season nears a close, recognition is due players Don Boyt, Marian Clark, and Chuck Engelking, along with team manager Dick Plom. These Pi Kaps have done a great job representing their school on the hardwood floors this semester.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity has certainly been a working group of men the last couple weeks, as they have been doing everything from parking cars for the fair, to initiating pledges into the fraternity.

WORKING MEN—

With the beginning of the Florida State Fair, the Sig Eps could be found parking cars in the yard of the fraternity house. By working in shifts, the men were able to park cars from early morning to late in the evening. Much credit must go to Brother Bill Morris for his fine work and never-ending desire to work for his fraternity, as he gave many hours of his time to this project.

On Gasparilla Day the SPE's operated four stands on the parade route, selling cold drinks and hot-dogs, and found themselves sold out even before the parade had begun.

PLEDGES INITIATED

On Tuesday, February 14, the Sig Ep's took three pledges into the fraternity. They were Bill Davenport, Ade Stetler, and Bill Sargent. Much is expected from these three men, and all three will do much to better their fraternity.

Also during the week of the 6th the local Zeta Chapter was privileged to have as their guest, province director, Jim O'Dell.

Theta Chi

Brothers of Theta Chi closed a successful semester while bidding farewell to three graduating seniors. They were Charles George, Albert Gonzalez, and Danny Coton.

Theta Chi started off the spring semester with the initiation of the four fall pledges. The new active brothers are: Paul Apple, Vincent Mandese, Frank Mehok, and Bob Stookey. Initiation was held at Tony's Restaurant on Sunday, February 12, followed by the Theta Chi annual Initiation Banquet. Bob Stookey was chosen as outstanding pledge.

The brothers are looking forward to an outstanding semester. Plans are being made for Greek Week-end, rush, our annual Ring Dance, and Founders Day activities.

Theta Chi now holds third place in intramurals.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

As the Fall semester ended, the Gold Men of Tau Kappa Epsilon initiated and brought six men into their bond.

Chic Statler, field supervisor for Tau Kappa Epsilon, was welcomed to the Epsilon Beta realm during the interim between semester. The gentlemen of Epsilon Beta managed to provide for Frater Statler most of the finer things of life.

On February 4, a well attended party was held in Chic's honor. The highlight of the gala affair was the exhibition of Frater Louis Mixon's vocal talent.

Several University of Tampa Tokes will attend a leadership conference at the University of Florida, February 18 - 19.

Hats off to Frater Ron Messersmith, the newly elected Hegemon (pledge trainer) of the Epsilon Beta Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Montoya Bringing An Evening of Flamenco Music

Local aficionados of the Flamenco guitar have a rare treat in store for themselves on March 10, Friday, at 8:30, when Carlos Montoya will give a recital at Tampa Municipal Auditorium.

Montoya, as his followers know, is himself, a "gypsy on all four sides", as the Spanish say. This directly affects his music, for to play Flamenco with true feeling and fervor, it is almost essential that one have some gypsy in his blood.

A guitarist from the age of eight, at which time his mother gave him his first instruction in playing the instrument, Montoya rapidly emerged as one of the foremost virtuoso of that instrument in the world. His ability attracted the attention of the leading Flamenco singers and dancers of his native Spain, all of whom soon demanded that "the incredible Montoya" be their accompanist.

In 1945 he decided to take an unheard step — appearing as a solo artist in a full evening's program of Flamenco music, something that had never been done, simply because it was thought that a Flamenco guitarist could not sustain himself for an entire evening without the help of singers or dancers. His first concert was like everyone he has since given — a huge success. His tours of the United States and throughout the world can only be described as triumphant. Indeed, his first appearance in New York, at Town Hall, was so completely sold out that extra seats had to be installed on the stage to accommodate the overflow crowd, a seating arrangement that has become traditional at all of Montoya's invariably SRO concerts in New York and throughout the world.

Earl Spicer Sings Ballads at Tampa U.

"The troubadour is a poet and an aristocrat. The Ballad singer, a peasant and of the proletariat," said Earl Spicer, famous ballad and folk song artist, during his concert in the ballroom of the University. Mr. Spicer pointed out that a ballad singer tells in narrative form stories of the common people and the way they work, love and play. As most students of English Literature and English History know, the term "Merric England" is derived from its rich folklore. England, since Elizabeth, has been singing its way through the centuries and it is in this tradition that Mr. Spicer draws his material.

The audience was amused with songs depicting wandering wives, sailors, fishermen and of course, young love. Mr. Spicer also pointed out that a ballad is a story told and sung by a narrator and a folk song has the singer take the part of the character of the song. As an example of a folk song, he portrayed a shy young man afraid of women.

Mr. Spicer first collected these songs as a hobby while studying in England and he began to perform them for different symphonies and oratorical societies. In this country he performed on radio with Donald Voorhees and the orchestra. A number of professors at New York University suggested that he take up ballad singing as a career and since that time he has given over 1300 performances at 463 colleges and universities.

Tampa University students join ballad singer Earl Spicer in a medley of Old-English folk tunes.

SORORITIES

Zeta Tau Alpha

Sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha returned to Tampa University after semester break, anxiously looking forward to many spring activities.

Mary Esther Valido travelled to New Orleans with her parents to attend the Mardi Gras. She was overwhelmed by the excitement and gaiety of the celebration.

Zetas shared much excitement and fun participating in Gasparilla activities and attending the Florida State Fair. Judee Buckley and Roseanne Cinchett rode on the University of Tampa float as majorette. Pat Fussell and head dancerette, Yolanda Gonzalez marched with the Spartan band.

Yolanda, who is our fall pledge, received Zeta congratulations recently for being selected as Editor-In-Chief of the Minaret. Good going, pledge!

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi would like to welcome each of you back from semester break. We hope you all enjoyed the Gasparilla festivities and the fair. The Alpha Chis were full of enthusiasm as we participated in the Gasparilla celebration. Donna and Diane Beniger, Sue Phillips, and Judi Dearing were on floats, and Carole McSwain, Carol Martin, and Pam Seifert marched with the band. The rest of us parked cars and sold refreshments. We had loads of laughs and made a little money besides.

We have four girls interning this semester. They are Sue Phillips, Ann Burton, Linda Spencer, and Madeline Parsley.

During the past year wedding bells rang for Dana Bass, Barbara Maddox, Sharon Hoopingarner, Patsy Hammer, and Emily Knecht. Judy Wainwright is now engaged, and Judy Yavornik, Sue Foster, Sue Phillips, Josie (Sis) Ferlita, and Judi Dearing are pinned.

The Beta Omicron pledges from Florida Southern College in Lakeland made their annual road trip to our campus during February. The pledges were required to get certain items from our chapter before returning to their campus, and needless to say, the items were not just handed to them for the asking.

This week we would like you to meet Miss LINDA PISANI. Linda graduated from Miami Senior High School where she was a member of the Modern Masters of America, Student Council, Civinettes, F.N.A., homeroom president and health representative.

Since Linda has been at T.U. she has been on the Minaret staff, and has been active in Alpha Chi as historian of her pledge class, and Rush and Scholarship Chairman. Her interests are swimming and bowling.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Tri-Sigma was honored by the presence of their Regional Collegiate Director, Mrs. Melissa Potter at Panhellenic Workshop, January 26. While she was here, she was able to attend the wedding of our sister Josie Alvarez to Tony Shostak.

The girls are now planning for spring rush and the upcoming rush parties.

We are happy that our sisters Josie Alvarez Shostak, Sylvia Fernandez, Sylvia Rivero, Mary Jo Paniello, Olga Zayas, and Gloria Rodriguez are finally interning. Of course, this means that we will soon be losing them but, we wish them success in their future careers.

Cupid did a fine job on Valentine's Day, as Marian Hammond was pinned to Bill Sargent.

Delta Zeta

Miss Jeanne Ennis, International Speed Queen, was guest of honor at an informal party held in the home of Yoli Martino, president of Delta Zeta. Jeanne, a Delta Zeta from Central Missouri State College, is visiting Tampa as a special guest of the Florida State Fair. After pizza with all the trimmings, Jeanne was presented a special cake with "welcome" inscribed on top. Jeanne said she enjoyed her stay in Florida. She especially enjoyed skiing with the Ski-Bees at Rocky Point Beach. Many saw Jeanne as she rode behind Governor Faris Bryant in the Gasparilla Parade.

Delta Zeta's are sorry to announce that their fall pledge, Sandy Rima, will not go active this spring due to her recent engagement and coming marriage. We wish her the best and shall miss having her as a sister.

Delta Zeta's interning this semester are: Grace Costa, Marie Goding, Neddie Gonzalez, Yoli Martino, Diana Greco, Rose Marie Lazzara, Toni Messina, Dianne Pereira, and Betty Jo Stamper. All of the girls have been placed in Hillsborough County schools.

Delta Beta chapter has received special recognition from national headquarters for the best sorority float during Homecoming.

T. U. Exhibit At Florida State Fair

The University of Tampa was represented at the annual Florida State Fair, here in Tampa, as members of the faculty met and spoke to spectators at the University exhibit. The exhibit was sponsored by the Faculty Women's Club.

Featured at the booth was an automatic slide projector which depicted life at the University of Tampa by means of color slides. A tape recorder with narration described the individual slides, covering data on the historical University background.

A 17-minute film was shown every two hours. The film, sent by the Founders of Financial Aid to Education, emphasized the great amount of monies spent by the American public on alcohol, entertainment, cigarettes, etc. in contrast to the small amount spent on education. The cartoon animated film also showed the comparison between the salaries of the average working man, the professional man, and the university professor.

Three Tampa University students are credited for manning the projectors. They are Joe Pullara, Steve Weber, and Robert Shornstein.

Literature, post cards, and book-marks bearing information on the University were handed out to the public.

F. E. A.

The weekend of Feb. 17, was busy for F.E.A. members. The paint brushes were really busy and the appearance of the room really shows much improvement. At a later date, an open house with refreshments will be scheduled.

From March 16 to 18 the FEA convention will be held in Jacksonville, Florida at the Seminole Hotel. Any students who are interested in attending the convention please contact Pat Alvarez, FEA president, or any of the FEA officers for immediate reservations.

PARKING PROBLEM EASED BY SPARTANS ON DUTY

You have probably noticed the husky young men on duty at the student parking lot. If you tried to park without a sticker, you probably wished they weren't there. These men keep out all cars that do not have a T.U. sticker.

Due to the Florida State Fair, many tourists have come flocking into Tampa. Since the University is adjacent to the fairgrounds, they often park in our lots. This presents a most difficult problem.

These guards are on duty from 7 A.M. to 8 P.M. Monday thru Friday. They will continue to be on duty until Friday night, February 17. Dean Setear took charge in getting help. Actually, he realized the need for them years ago and decided action had to be taken to prevent too much confusion this year.

We must not forget to mention "Sarge" who has done a fine job in the past and is continuing to do so now. "Sarge" (Mr. Selen Prince) is working in conjunction with these guards, who are Tampa University students, John Heim, Gary Kessler, Jim Neve and Greg Esposito. Many thanks and appreciation are to be extended to these guards who are indeed contributing to the welfare of the Spartans.

Tampa U. Float In Gasparilla Parade

One of the many beautiful highlights of the Gasparilla Parade was the very impressive float of the University of Tampa. The float was designed by Dr. Baird and Prof. Testasecca of the University of Tampa Art Dept. The theme of the float was "A Symbol of Quality in Higher Education". The girls on the float wore black leotards and tights with hats representing various parts and sections of the world respectively.

The girls riding the float and the areas they represented were: Roseanne Cinchett, City of Tampa; Judee Buckley, Eastern, U.S.; Sue Phillips, South; Judy Dearing, Europe; Gail Davis, North; Carrie Hernandez, Latin America; Sylvia Fernandez, Canada; and Elaine Marichal, Western U.S.

Pat Sanders Is New Queen

Pat Sanders was selected as "Miss Gordon Keller" of 1961 on February 17.

The presentation was made at a dance sponsored by the "Otomys" staff of the Gordon Keller School of Nursing in the University of Tampa lobby.

Candidates were selected by the Faculty of Gordon Keller on the basis of: grades, ward work, classroom participation, extracurricular activities, appearance, and personality.

Runner-ups Ruth Ann Harvey and Judy Sadey were selected from the senior class. Junior Dona Council and Freshman Pat Rutan were chosen as attendants.

F. T. ROGERS, BUSINESS CLUB GUEST SPEAKER

Fred T. Rogers, of the Montenegro Accounting Firm was the guest speaker of the Business Club at one of their meetings which was held toward the latter part of the previous semester.

This was the Business Club's second professional meeting and was held in conjunction with Dr. Apple's and Dr. Weisman's accounting classes.

Mr. Rogers' speech highlighted the preparation needed for entry into the field of public accounting, the services of a C.P.A., and the outlook for the future. He also discussed the organizational structure of the Montenegro firm.

Mr. Rogers is honored with being the first University of Tampa graduate to pass the C.P.A. examination.

The Club has scheduled other distinguished individuals in various fields of business and industry to speak to the members in the near future.

Tampa U Defeats Jacksonville 101-81

The University of Tampa Spartans along with junior center Don Boyt and freshman George Shary, staged a razzle-dazzle performance that had the local Tampa fans applauding constantly as they defeated the Jacksonville University five 101 to 81. The game was played Thursday night, February 16.

Boyt has best night

Boyt, a big six-foot eight product had his best night of the season as he bombarded the baskets for a big 33 points. Along with the 33 points, Boyt also hauled in 29 rebounds, 19 of which came defensively in the opening half. These 29 were as many as the entire Jacksonville squad obtained all night. Tampa totaled 61 rebounds.

Upon winning this game, the Spartans moved into second place in the Florida Inter-Collegiate Conference and had high hopes of getting to the top.

Shary leads floor play

Five-foot-ten George Shary held the biggest hand in the floor play and was helped by Spartans Marlin Clark, Harvey Mallis, John Pellegrino, and Chuck Engelking. Shary took second place honors behind Boyt with 21 points.

From the beginning the Spartans used a tiresome "run and shoot" technique. They would get the ball, run, and shoot. Once in a while the Spartans would err, but the fast game was too much for Jacksonville, and it proved successful.

High scorer for Jacksonville was Kirkland with 21 points.

Spartans Fight But Lose to Hurricanes

A red-hot rally by the University of Tampa Spartans just wasn't enough to push across a win, but it certainly had the Hurricanes of Miami holding onto the ropes when the final whistle blew last Saturday night. The Hurricanes came out on top in the game by the score 108-99.

Shary high-point man—

A packed-sellout crowd again saw freshman George Shary lead the Spartans in points with 29. The little forward again displayed his smooth-working style as he hit from the outside for nine field goals. Shary held a perfect average at the free throw line as he swished 11 of 11 free throws.

Boyt leads rebounding—

Leading in the rebounding division was tall six-foot-eight, Don Boyt with 10. Other outstanding players for the Spartans included big Chuck Engelking with 16 points, Harvey Mallis with 14, and John Pellegrino with 13.

The Spartans again played a run-shoot game which proved very successful with Jacksonville. Head Coach Bob Lavoy of the Spartans had this to say about the run-shoot style of play. "I decided to go ahead and play run-shoot after the way the boys did against Jacksonville. The idea was to run and shoot thinking maybe we could accomplish it. As it was, we almost did."

The Tampa five trailed by 11 points, 32-21, in the opening half, but rallied to tie the score 43-43 with three minutes left. The second half went the same way, Tampa trailing and then rallying.

BOYT, ENGELKING ARE NEW BASKETBALL TEAM CO-CAPTS.

The Co-captains for the University of Tampa Spartans for the 1960-61 season are Don Boyt and Chuck Engelking. Both of these fine Spartan cagers certainly deserve this honor and they have been doing a fine job for the team this season.

DON BOYT—

Don Boyt comes to the University of Tampa from Thomaston, Georgia. Don stands a tall six-foot-eight, and plays in the center position. Don, who is a returning letterman from last year's squad, returned this season with a fine 11.4 game average. Boyt has developed a good jump shot and also a successful hook shot. He is an excellent rebounder and is very adept at tip ins. Last year Don averaged 9.0 in rebounding per game.

CHUCK ENGELKING—

Big Chuck Engelking stands six-foot-four and comes to Tampa from Lake Worth, Florida. Chuck who is a junior returned this year to the squad after having a very good season last year with a 14.1 point average per game. Chuck took high scorer with this average. Engelking has a fine jump shot from far out and is considered by Coach Lavoy as being the hardest driver on the squad. Chuck plays in the forward position.

SIG EPS, P.E. MAJORS SHARE FIRST PLACE IN INTRAMURALS

Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and the Physical Education Majors Club are competing for the first place slot in the over-all scoring column of the University of Tampa Intramural Department.

With just three points separating the two organizations at the close of the Bait-Casting competition, we find the P. E. Majors Club narrowing out the Sig Eps by 3 points with a total of 178 and 175 points respectively.

The second place slot is occupied by Theta Chi fraternity with 126 points and third place is taken by the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity with 124. Just 2 points separate the second and third place teams.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity holds down fourth place with a total of 95 points, they are followed by the Men's Dorm Association with 93 points.

As a whole, the running is very close for the first place slot as is easily seen, and it is expected that the competition will continue to be as such right down to the wire at the close of the year. There are still many sports to be participated in and the outcome of these will only be known at the end of the school year. No one seems to be willing to make any predictions as to their outcome.

RELIGIONS ...

Dr. Wallach is rabbi at the Temple Sinai in Miami. He is a graduate of Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati.

Activities for the week got underway yesterday at 7:30 when a Breakfast was held in the University Cafeteria for the Faculty Committee and the guest speakers.

From 8:00 to 12:00, meetings were held in some of the morning a professor, addressed the class on either a chosen subject or the theme. Each meeting had open discussion.

At twelve noon a student panel and luncheon was held in the Ballroom. Questions from the students panelists, Daniel Ramm, Bill Sargent, Norma Blancato, John Wright, and Carolyn Chunn, representing the Jewish, Seventh Day Adventists, Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist faiths and denominations respectively, were directed to the speakers. Open discussion was also conducted.

Immediately following the forum a luncheon was prepared by the women of the local Tampa churches.

Open discussion and buzz sessions were scheduled for the evening from 7:30 to 9:30. Sororities, fraternities, residence halls, and other campus groups have been given the opportunity to request speakers from the various faiths to address their groups on any desired subject.

Completing the events for "Religious Emphasis Week" will be an all-student required convocation in the Municipal Auditorium today at 11:00. The three guest representatives of the various faiths will also participate in the program.

Throughout this period, literature will be on display in the Rawling Room for all those interested.

It is the desire of the planning committee that through this special observance and emphasis of Religion in Life, students might be helped in their problem of believing.

Mrs. Crawford stressed the hope that "perhaps after these activities, there will be a closer fellowship among resident and city students and the community churches."
