Interns Leave For Teaching Practice

by DURENE GOSS
Minaret Staff Writer

Recently, the University of Tampa interns began their actual teaching experiences in schools of Hillsborough and Pinellas counties. This program is designed to give each intern the most "practicable training" possible.

The 127 interns spent the first five weeks of the program in Tampa U. classrooms, concentrating on possible problems, lesson plans, emergencies, and learning techniques.

Guest speakers Mr. Omar Mitchell, Principal of Twin Lakes School; Miss Ina Bradley, University of Tampa; and Mr. L. E. Swatts, General Superintendent of Hillsborough County Schools, addressed the interns during this period.

The next ten weeks will emphasize the familiarization of each student teacher with the true classroom. The interns are expected to gain more experience day by day, until they are able to fully assume the responsibilities of a teacher. The first week dealt with observation. While the directing teachers attended a meeting, the interns took charge for one afternoon. Several interns gained an extra advantage while some of the directing teachers attended the Florida Education Association's convention.

Following student teaching, the interns will return to the university for a two-week period that will allow them to evaluate, share, and summarize their experiences.

Betty Jo Stamper, a first grade intern at Stephen Foster Elementary School was left in charge while her directing teacher attended the FEA convention. Although she admitted an uneasy feeling at first, she commented "I feel very lucky to have been able to jump in from the beginning. It has been a very satisfying and rewarding time."

Sulphur Springs Jr. High intern, Yolanda Martino, exclaimed, "It is exciting." She also mentioned that she wouldn't know what to do if she had to begin her teaching career without having had the experience of the internship program. Asked about the continuous changing of classes, Miss Martino remarked, "It makes the day go faster for me."

NEW COURSE FILLS NEED

"Safety Management" is the first course offered in the new Institute of Safety of the General Studies Division of the University. The twelve-week course begins April 4 and ends June 20. Registration is open now.

The course is geared from foreman to the top supervisory level. In cooperation with the West Coast Chapter-American Society of Safety Engineers, the course will take in all facets of safety engineering in its relationship to industrial accident prevention.

Dr. William D. Glenn will act as advisor to the new Institute. A need for this type of education has developed with the industrial growth of the Tampa Bay Area.

The course will be instructed by a group of safety engineers. One three-hour class a week will meet on Tuesday nights from 6:30 until 9:30. Any one interested in the course may contact Dean Stephen L. Speronis, Evening Division office.

Eve Division Plans Dance

The first social event in the history of the Evening Division will be held April 14 at the NCO Club at MacDill Air Force Base. The semi-formal dinner-dance will begin at 7 o'clock.

Reservations may be placed through the Evening Division Office. While reservations must be made a week before the dance, the price of six dollars a couple may be paid at the door. The price includes dinner. Posters announcing the dance will have invitations attached.

The officers of the Evening Division are planning the dance, which the dance is open to the public.

T. U. Presents Concert

The University of Tampa Concert band, conducted by Hunter Wiley, will present its spring concert on Tuesday, March 28, at 8:15, in the Municipal Auditorium. Featured in this concert will be the outstanding tuba soloist, Harvey Phillips of New York, and the first performance of a new composition for band, "Adagio for Winds", by Professor Stephen Parks.

Mr. Phillips is regarded as the most versatile tuba soloists today and is known for his wide range of experience from circus bands to symphony. He joined Merle Evans' famous Ringling Brothers Circus Band at the age of 16 and toured with him for three years before settling in New York. Since that time he has been one of the tuba players for the New York City Ballet Orchestra, the New York City Opera Company, the Bell Telephone Symphony (NBC), Symphony of the Air, Band of America, the Goldman Band, the Original Sauter-Finnegan Band, and recording orchestras, bands, and dance bands. Next Fall he will join the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra.

One of his solo numbers will be a special arrangement of Younman's "Carioca", which he recorded on the Golden Crest Album "All Star Concert Band", which has received "rave" notices all over the country. Mr. Wiley conducted the band. Mr. Phillips gave the first New York performance of this solo with Mr. Wiley's professional band in 1955.

Phillips

Mr. Phillips is known also for his ensemble work, being the tubaist with the New York Brass Quintet, which has played concerts throughout the East and much of the Midwest. He has also recorded a number of solo albums.

Stephen Park, associate professor of the theory and composition at the University of Tampa, is well known throughout the Southeast, and his compositions for piano, voice, opera, and orchestra are being played increasingly throughout the country. Three times in recent years his piano pieces have made the "top ten" of new publications (1952, 1955, and 1959).

His two solo numbers for euphonium and band were given their first public performance on March 16 by Mr. Wiley with the Brandon High School Band. They were given a private performance by Mr. Wiley and Mr. Park in October 1960, in Miami before the Florida Composers League, of which Mr. Park is now president. The "Adagio for Winds" is his first concert band number and is dedicated to Mr. Wiley and the Tampa

Wiley

University Band.

The concert program will include "Outdoor Overture" by Aaron Copland, the dean of American Composers whose sixtieth birthday is being celebrated this winter season. Other numbers will be Henry Cowell's "Singing Band", Sanjuan's "Canto Yoruba", Ostransky's setting of the Portuguese folk song "Tonadilla", Coates' "London Suite", Williams' "Fanfare and Allegro", and the recently discovered "Moorside March" by Gustav Holst.

The featured concert number will be Eric Leidzen's band arrangement of Modest Moussorgsky's piano work, "Pictures at an Exhibition." Maurice Ravel is credited with having preserved the life of this work with his imaginative orchestral arrangement, which he did on commission from Koussevitsky and the Boston Symphony. The work is heard frequently today in the original piano version, in at least three orchestral arrangements, and is particularly effective in the band arrangement by Leidzen.

Mr. Phillips will also give a tuba clinic for music directors, teachers, and students in the Ballroom of the University of Tampa on Wed. at 4 p.m. There will be no charge for the concert or the clinic and the public is cordially invited to attend.

BLANCATO ELECTED STATE CLERK

Norma Blancato, University of Tampa sophomore, was elected State Clerk of the Synods of Florida, Westminster Fellowship, at the synods spring conference, held at Lake Placid, Florida, March 17-19.

Miss Blancato, who is presently serving as president of the University of Tampa's Westminster Fellowship, attended the conference with five other University of Tampa delegates. Lee Ann Betz, Joe Dervaes, John Harnett, Bonnie Rivers, and Jean Walker, Tampa University senior who ended her term as Synods of Florida vice-moderator.

Headquarters for the conference, which was attended by Westminster Fellowship delegates from the University of Florida, Florida State University, the University of Tampa, Stetson University, Florida Presbyterian College, and the University of Miami, was the Presbyterian Conference Center.

"The Challenge of Christianity to the Contemporary Campus" was the theme of the conference, and the guest speaker was the Reverend W. Jack Lewis, Executive Director of the Christian Faith and Life Community at the University of Texas.

Rev. Lewis, spoke on "Philosophy of the Challenge", "The Faith and Life Community as an Expression of the Challenge". Other activities of the conference were group discussions, committee meetings, and business meetings.

During free time, delegates took advantage of the recreational facilities at the Conference Center which included tennis, swimming, boating, shuffleboard, and table tennis.

On Sunday morning an installation and communion service was held. Other state officers installed with Miss Blancato were William Reynolds, moderator, University of Florida; Lucy Ann Griffin, vice-moderator, Florida State University; Jack Ketchum, treasurer, University of Miami; and the Reverend William Belk, advisor, Regional Director of Campus Christian Life for the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

EDITORIALS

The Minaret editorials represent strictly the views of student members of the staff. Columns in the newspaper represent only the opinions of their authors.

Concept of Greatness

The University's "Concept of Greatness" was seriously challenged last Tuesday by four talented, but misplaced accordionists.

With a graceless half-hour leap into the field of vaudeville, the University placed itself squarely in the middle of one of today's most publicized controversies: Ed Sullivan pays $10,000 for his performers; Paar pays $320; and the University of Tampa now provides a captive audience for free.

Under certain conditions — though at the moment none are apparent — this would not have been too great a sin. But, on that same platform was one of the most brilliant speakers yet presented by the University. Of course, this can only be surmised, for the bottom-weary, culture-soaked student body heard only ten minutes of Dr. Sanford's well prepared thesis. It's a shame that the good doctor didn't devote his abbreviated time to a discussion of the value system that would arrange such a program. We can only apologize to Dr. Sanford, and ask that someone apologize to the faculty and student body.

More important, will such a thing happen again? No doubt, the lengthy performance of the youngsters was not planned until they began to play. The real question, however is this, what should be the role of convocation? We would like to hear the viewpoint of both the administration and the student government.

Peace Corps Proposed

The State Department has been deluged with replies concerning the newly proposed Peace Corps. As far as can be seen, by the title alone a certain amount of glamour can be imagined. If all these replies are out of sheer interest and sincerity, then the Peace Corps will serve its purpose.

According to the President, "Life in the Peace Corps will not be easy. There will be no salary and allowance will be at a level sufficient to maintain health and meet basic needs. Men and women will be expected to work and live alongside the nationals of the country in which they are stationed, doing the same work, eating the same food, talking the same language." In some countries this will mean living a very primitive life.

Drew Pearson pointed out in a recent column, a Philadelphia business man, J. J. Shapp, president of Jerrold Electronics Corp. introduced the Peace Corps idea to the President during the campaign. Shapp, while visiting Moscow, observed the Soviet Union training its young people for work in underdeveloped countries. They were being trained in customs, foreign languages and economic problems of Asia, and Africa. Shapp further explained that the training period covered over three years and its members were all college graduates.

Sargent Shriver, head of the Peace Corps, emphasizes the accent will be on youth. It will be a Corps of skills and not thrills and young men may not consider themselves exempt from the draft by service in the Peace Corps.

As explained in an article in U. S. News and World Report, those who are chosen will be trained ed persons and specialists. Their work will consist of training and teaching peoples in underdeveloped countries, skills and practices, such as village development and school construction, with particular emphasis on malaria eradication, sanitation and agriculture. Members will be trained from six weeks to six months at the expense of the government.

Teachers in English, health and agriculture are most urgently needed. Expectations of being sent to Paris, London or Rome are nonexistent but such places as the underdeveloped areas of Latin America, Asia and Africa urgently need trained personnel.

The living isn't expected to be easy. Members will be sent to most horribly depressed areas on earth and be expected to live off the barrenness of the land as do the inhabitants.

To American youths, who have never tightened their belts during a depression or felt the major effects of a world war, this is a tremendous challenge. America can produce the proper trained personnel, but can she produce an individual with enough determination and stamina to hold up under these palid conditions? It is evident in army draftees who's stomach turn, at the slightest thought of getting their hands dirty. Can a country composed of T. V., beer, and hot dogs, match the Russian national character of determination, stamina and a stick-to-it-ness. If the "Ugly American," proved its point — and infuriated enough people, here is the change it cried for. An appeal to "Rally Round the Flag Boys."

CORRECTION

The Faculty Women's Club did not sponsor the University of Tampa fair booth. They were hired to man the booth. The booth was sponsored by the university.

According to Mr. James Bignell, head of the Industrial Arts Department, "This was their third year with the booth and their co-operation has always been of the very best."

"Pause For Power"

by Rev. Thomas S. Simmons

"Go to the ant . . . consider her ways"

Sometimes we need to consider the things of nature in order to realize by what a wonderful plan this world has been created.

One scripture tells us to consider the ways of the ant. I thought about this scripture, Proverbs 6:6, and then decided the best way to understand what it meant was to go where some ants were and observe them. As I watched, I considered a few of the attributes of those tiny creatures.

The first thing I noticed was how they all seemed to work toward one end. It seems as though they only wanted to raise more ants, and they all worked together to accomplish this purpose. If only we could catch a spark of this spirit. Sometimes it seems as if each one of us wants to accomplish our own purpose without any consideration of our fellowman. I don't mean that we should sacrifice our own individual growth and accomplishments to advance our neighbor, but I do believe we should try to help him.

Dedication of Self

Another thing I noticed was how tirelessly those ants worked. They seemed to go forever without resting. Again I thought how wonderful it would be if only we could work as they do for what we believe. Today we are surrounded by "isms" that want to control not only the nation and government but also the people. The only thing we can do to combat this is to use their own tactic-dedication. We must dedicate ourselves to freedom if we are to keep it. We must dedicate ourselves to the advancement of our own faith if we are to continue to live by it.

Faithfulness was another attribute that I observed while on my field trip into the outdoors God gave us. As I watched the ants I noticed how they were willing to give their lives for the life of the colony and the Queen Ant. I watched as they built their home and noticed how much work each ant did. If only we could become more faithful to our cause. If only we could develop such a spirit of faith in what we believe that we would give of our very lives for it. If we have this faith then we will be able to build more, and as the Master watches us build maybe He will say, "See how much work each of them does."

God Offers Lessons

There are many lessons to be learned from what God has placed on this earth, if only we will observe them and take to heart the lesson obtained.

All these attributes that I mentioned of the ants can be within us if only we will strive to develop them in our lives. The way to develop them is to let God place them there. The way to let them grow is through Bible study and prayer. God offers us the way to obtain these attributes. He said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life . . ." (John 14:6 KJV). What we need is to dedicate ourselves to God and His way.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR—

Prejudice

As in most campuses throughout the country, some of the fraternities and sororities at the University of Tampa exercise religious and ethnic qualifications for membership. In permitting this, the administration does nothing to promote the university's objectives or to further its growth. Prejudice and a "belief in the value of an individual" have precious little in common.

Were it simply an issue of freedom of association, none could complain. But as recognized social units of the University, fraternities and sororities have a moral obligation to the principles of the institution, and a social obligation to the entire student body. Those groups which discriminate against large segments of the student body act contrary to both obligations.

What we have here is the assumption that Christian and Jew, Anglo-Saxon and Latin are not socially compatible. "Objectionable traits" of particular individuals are assigned to the entire group, and all are lumped together as undesirable. To say nothing of the tie which this gives to the American principles of judging each individual on his own merits, such generalizations are a glaring insult to the mentality that would engage in them.

This same logic applies to the so-called Jewish or Latin fraternity or sorority. To organize such groups would only compound the felony. Yet, many see them as the only practical solution. "If we let one or two into our group, we'll soon be overrun." This need not be the case. Members of a minority are always more sensitive than others to the so-called objectionable traits of their group. If a small part of that energy now devoted to justifying exclusion were devoted to promoting ideals of individual growth, there would be little need for clannishness. Only when minorities are denied their rights are they overzealous in asserting them.

Certain fraternities and sororities have national by-laws prohibiting Jewish membership. Still, the local groups must be held responsible for continuing such discrimination, and the administration for condoning it. There is small merit to arguments that membership restrictions are based on the rituals and alleged religious purposes of the particular group. Greek letter societies have never been exceptionally noted for piety, nor do any of Christ's teachings favor discrimination.

What, then, is to be done? We would hope that those of the local groups concerned would take the initiative and voluntarily remove their restrictions. If this fails, it must be the duty of the administration to provide the moral and organizational leadership for changing the present unhappy situation.

Convocation

One might hear a great deal of conjecture upon why "Maverick" had a larger audience on television that did "Omnibus." Whatever the reason this same thing occurred during the last convocation, when the accorians nosed out a truly learned psychologist's comments upon mental health in the United States. Could this take place in our university, dedicated to "Quality Education?" One would say no, impossible! One would be quite wrong. It did take place.

CAMPUS DORMS NAMED

Recently, the University's board of trustees named the two campus dorms after men who contributed their time and efforts to the University of Tampa, Kenneth I. McKay and David E. Smiley.

The new men's dormitory is now officially the Kenneth McKay Hall. Mr. McKay's activities in civic and educational programs in this area led to his position as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the University of Tampa from 1940 to 1945. There is also a scholarship to his memory which is awarded on the basis of scholarship and need of the student enrolled at the university.

David Smiley Hall, the women's dorm, honors David E. Smiley who followed Mr. McKay as a chairman until his death in 1960. The board under Mr. Smiley began and completed the two buildings.

Plans are now being developed to add wings to both buildings to meet the increased enrollment of out-of-state students. The additions will more than double the capacity of both halls at the cost of $520,000.

The Sig Ep's are also happy to announce their Sigma Phi Epsilon Sweetheart for the month of March.

She is Miss Mimi Quick. Mimi is pinned to Brother John Hanna.

The fraternity has been quite busy in remodeling the house, and the pledges have been doing a fine job helping the Brothers with this project.

Phi Alpha Theta

Dr. Keene, who has spent a great deal of time and effort in starting a chapter of Phi Alpha Theta at Tampa University, is happy to announce that the new chapter will be installed on Friday, April 14. The purpose of this fraternity is to encourage interest in the field of history. All students majoring or minoring in history will be invited to attend lectures given by visiting dignitaries.

Dr. Worcester, national president of Phi Alpha Theta, will officially install the Tampa University chapter. The temporary advisor will be Dr. Keene.

The fraternity is open to all students who have a B average in history with a minimum of 12 hours. They must also have a B average in two-thirds of their remaining courses.

The Pi Kaps also honored Alpha Chis by selecting three as Pi Kap daughters. They are Donna Beniger, Diane Beniger, and our social affiliate, Janice Hornaday.

At our Carnation Breakfast this month, Emily Palmer was chosen "Outstanding Active of the Month" and Pam Seifert received the "Outstanding Pledge" award.

under an arch, place a ring on his date's finger, and kiss her. The Theta Chi Dream Girl and her court will be announced at the dance. The pledges and new fraternity officers will also be presented.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

The Teke's rush party, held at the American Legion Hall on Bayshore Boulevard, was highlighted by the appearance of Fraters Ed Vangelder of the University of Tampa, and Bill Skowron of the American League champions, New York Yankees.

The humor and comedy of Ed was well received. Frater Skowron, who played football at Purdue University before signing with the Yankees, spoke about the fraternity and was the center of attention of many rushees. As a result of spring rush, fifteen men pledged Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Fraters Bob Jones and Bill Innman put up quite a struggle as they were tossed into the cool, clean water of the Hillsborough River. The reason: Bob recently became engaged, and Bill, pinned. Perhaps next time they will think before doing anything rash.

Miss Judy Yavornik was chosen Teke Sweetheart at their annual "Red Carnation Ball" held at the Hillsboro Hotel on March 17. Members of the court are: Mary Ann Diaz, Bonnie Durst, Diana Greco, and Evelyn Dresbach.

Newman Club

Thursday, March 23, marked the beginning of an innovation in the Newman Club. In order to promote the religious activity of its members, the club formed religious discussion groups.

The first topic discussed by these groups was "Palestine in the Time of Christ." The groups will discuss a different topic each week.

All Catholics, who are interested in a stimulating experience, are cordially invited to attend these discussion groups. The groups will meet in the Newman Club room.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

After the excitement and fun of rush, the Sigmas will now settle down to the honest-to-goodness business of training their pledges to be future sorority members. The new pledges are Brenda Baggett, Julie Cannella, Cynthia Kladis and Carmel Parrino. They will be under the able leadership of Barbara Pitisci, vice president elect of Beta Sigma chapter.

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of articles in which we hope to familiarize the student body with the outstanding athletes and coaches at Tampa University.

CHRIS JORDAN

Chris Jordan holds a vital position in the success of this year's varsity crew. He is the number 7 man, or the second man facing the coxswain, in the varsity shell. In this position he will set the stroke for the starboard side. With the endurance and skill he exhibited last year, he will be able to captain his section of the crew to certain victory. Last year, although only a freshman, he participated in every varsity event and won his letter and jacket.

This young man's vitality can be traced through his high school and army career. He was very active in his secondary schools sport activities, participating in football, basketball, track, and baseball. Chris earned letters in each field.

His love for sports followed him into his army career, where he was placed in the special services branch, playing basketball and baseball. To add to all this, he was a Physical Training instructor in his spare time.

Here at Tampa his activities include serving as warden and pledge trainer for Pi Kappa Phi, dorm director of the fourth floor of the main building, and participation in various intramural sport programs. Last year, in intramural basketball, Chris made the all-star basketball team.

Chris Jordan's abilities for stamina, strength, and coordination not only make him an outstanding oarsman, but also an outstanding student leader here at the University of Tampa.

SPRING PRACTICE MOVES AHEAD

The University of Tampa Spartans have been hard at work in the past weeks as they have been going through their grueling spring practice of this year. But the hard work seems to be paying off its dividends, as described in the words of Head Coach Marcelino Huerta. "We are extremely satisfied with the way practice has been going, and if everything continues as it has been, we could have one of the best spring practices in five years."

The outstanding point in the Spartan scrimmage was the fine performance of the fullbacks. The transfer Earnest Stout and Bob Moore to the fullback slot proved very successful.

One of the best looking backs has been Brandon High School prospect, Bill Caldwell. Charlie Lyle and Dick O'Brien at the right and left halfback posts respectively have been turning in creditable performances.

Don Scott, the big transfer tackle, has been doing a fine job, as are Mark Beaubien, Max Davis and Richard Austin. Bob Banks, one of the pre-spring hopefuls, is still nursing a knee operation.

At the guard posts, Hollis Curling and Bill Croft, both suffering somewhat off season last year, have been the stalwarts of the Spartan line thus far. They are ably reinforced by Nelson Guggino, Blain Turner, Joe Arasin, and Gene Ro-

FROM THE TOP OF MY HEAD

Who is the certain boy who drives a certain blue convertible that has a certain WHITE under garment draped casually over the rearview mirror? We all wonder . . . and what about the group of SORORITY SISTERS sitting in Ayres shooting the breeze about all of the boys they dated and why they won't anymore. If you all are curious, ask James Farmer what he's going to do with his first fifty cent piece, what little cutie attended a Sorority party in black leotards wearing a Merry Widow on the outside? And why? Did anyone see George N. thrown into the river at noon Tuesday? All of the Theta Chis listen to this one . . . A student put a bottle of Scotch in his pocket. On his way across the street, he was knocked down by an automobile. Picking himself up, he started to walk away when he felt something warm trickle down his leg. "Heavens", he thought, "I hope that's blood."

All of the staff wonders when we will have a mass Exodus from the Black Hole of Calcutta (the newspaper room just past the water fountain on the second floor) to a room with honest to goodness sunlight.

I leave you with this question for the day . . . what is this I hear about the little honey in the girls' dorm on the third floor who hasn't been able to get much sleep lately because her room is almost directly over the radio room, and as you all know, this has been under twenty-four hour a day repair, so she pounds back at them with her high heel shoes? Some people don't have anything better to do.

well. All but Rowell, are returning lettermen.

In the quarterback slot we find Vaden Bessent of Jacksonville and Ronnie Perez of Tampa. Perez was touted as the starting quarterback next season, and Bessent was figured to be on reserve status. But lately Bessent has been showing his colors, as his passing has improved, and he is still one of the quickest backs on the team, although not the fastest. Perez' passing, has improved.

The end position was weakened considerably by the injury of Charlie Bailey, a two-year letter winner. But Jim Gelman and Charlie Rose have been doing outstanding jobs according to Huerta. Gelman is one of the most talented receivers on the team, and Rose, a capable pass catcher.

Coach Huerta said about the up-coming year: "Barring injuries and academic problems, we ought be overall a better team than last year."

TAMPA NINE SHAPE UP

For the past month the University of Tampa baseball team has been working hard and rounding themselves into playing shape for the up-coming 1961 season. The Spartans will be taking on a stiff schedule as they will be meeting teams such as Yale, Wake Forest, Miami, Florida State, Stetson and others.

The Spartan nine has two lettermen coming back for action. They are shortstop Stan Salonsky, and center fielder, Joe Ciccarello. Salonsky made all state F.I.C. last year. Coach Bailey says he has never seen a better pair of hands on a college shortstop. Joe Ciccarello will be holding down the centerfield position and is expected to be one of the leading hitters this year as he was the only .300 hitter on the team last year.

Coach Bailey believes that potentially the Spartans have a good all around ball club and believes that this year's Spartan team has better over all speed and hitting ability than last year. Coach Bailey is looking for good hitters for his lineup and says a boy will play if he can hit the ball.

The mainstay of the Spartan pitching staff is composed of 4 promising Freshmen. They are Andy Kurezwski, Nick Melchione, Bill Hawthorn and John Thompson. All four have shown promise in practice and Coach Bailey believes as the season progresses they will gain experience so that all four will be fine pitchers of the coming season.

The Spartan nine has three capable catchers, Gene Rowell, Blaine Turner, and Bill Guadalis. Besides being good receivers all three men can hit the ball well.

Gene Rowell has shown great improvement in his throwing, and

THE CREW . . . "EN MASSE"

Blaine Turner besides catching will be using his speed in the outfield. Bill Guadalis will also be playing at first base besides catching. Bill Osler is another fine first baseball who has shown promise for the future even though he has been plagued by a leg injury.

Dean Burroughs, Ray Goetz and Ed Macon are the other outfielders. Burroughs is a returning letterman from the '59 squad. Dean is a good line drive hitter and will be seeing a lot of action this year.

Joe Canova and Garry Overstreet are playing at second base. Joe Canova has impressed Coach Bailey with his quick hands and speed and Coach Bailey believes he has the potential to be a great second baseman.

At third base, Jim Gatto and Garry Overstreet are having a hot battle to see who will be the probable starter. Both are excellent fielders and the one with the biggest bat will probably be starting off.

P. E. INSTRUCTORS AT CONVENTION

Miss Edgy and Miss Rodriguez of our Women's Physical Education Department attended the 29th Annual Convention of The American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation which was held in Atlanta, Georgia during the week of February 27th.

The purpose of the convention was to bring together persons in the fields of health, physical education and recreation in the Southern District who are interested and actively working to raise the physical standards of our country.

Besides attending the general sessions which featured such noted speakers as Dr. Noah Langdale Jr., president of the Georgia State College and Dr. Minnie Lynn, president of the AAHPER, Miss Edgy and Miss Rodriguez attended section meetings of Dance, Tennis, Camping and Outdoor Education, Aquatic, Golf and many other activities.

During Miss Edgy's stay in Atlanta, she had the privilege of being a dinner guest at the charming home of Governor Vandiver of Georgia.

Miss Edgy and Miss Rodriguez expressed that the convention was very informative and very beneficial. Upon their return trip, both were eager to share with their Physical Education majors the latest techniques and skills that were presented during the week long conference.

CREW'S TIME IS AT HAND

The sweep swingers (oarsmen) have been diligently practicing on the scenic Hillsborough River for approximately a two month period. Coach Stalnaker appears to be very confident in his crew and earnestly approves of the larger number of interested students that have come out for this major sport.

Tomorrow afternoon Tampa's crew will meet Marietta College, from Marietta, Ohio in our first shirt race. A shirt race, for some of puzzled readers, is a race between the different crews of various colleges. The winner of the event receives the shirt or shirts (depending on the number of crews participating) from the opposing members.

The J.V. shells (boats) go on the water at 4:00 P.M., the varsity battles at 4:30 P.M. The race course begins at Peter O'Knight Airport and ends at Majorie Park near Tampa General Hospital.

We would like to encourage all those interested in a sport that achieves harmony of bodies and provides not only excitement but beauty and perfection to go over Channel Drive on Davis Island and view this spectacle tomorrow afternoon.

Women's Intramurals

The Women's Independents team chalked up their second Intramural victory for the year by capturing the basketball title for the season. The girls also won the volleyball championship early this year. Members of the team are: Jane Adams, Joyce Mays, Elaine Fryc, Norma Blancato, and Jean Ramaglia.

At present the girls are participating in tennis.

Next on the agenda is bowling, which will begin Tuesday, March 28 at 11:00 A.M. Sororities may enter two teams, and any students who are interested, but are not sorority members, may sign up for placement on a team. For further information contact Miss Rodriguez in the Women's P. E. office, or Rose Swain.

The tournament will be held at the Coliseum Bowling Alley located on Davis Islands. The girls will bowl "scratch." The winning team will be determined by the total number of pins rolled by the members. There will be an individual award for high game.
