Hollingsworth To Edit MINARET For 1963-64

The publication committee of the University of Tampa has announced the appointment of Byron Hollingsworth to the position of Editor-in-Chief of the Minaret, for the academic year of 1963-1964.

Byron Hollingsworth

Hollingsworth assumes his new position after having served as Managing Editor for a semester and Associate Editor for one semester. While Associate Editor, he assumed a great portion of the responsibility of publishing the MINARET for this semester, due to the fact that the outgoing editor, Allan Windt, was interning. His previous journalism experience includes work as a writer and Editor of the BLUE STOCKING, a campus newspaper for Presbyterian College.

While at Presbyterian College he was a member of Sigma Nu social fraternity, the Student Congress Association Cabinet and active in the Scabbard and Blade. Since his transfer to the University of Tampa he has worked with the Westminster Fellowship, and recently was elected to the presidency of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Hollingsworth, of Tampa, he will be graduated in June of 1964 at which time he will enter the teaching profession.

Among his plans for the immediate future include marriage to the present Business Manager of the Minaret, Miss Norma Blanca of Tampa.

In comment to his recent appointment Mr. Hollingsworth said, "Great strides have been made this past year in improving our paper. Students are slowly beginning to see the real value of our paper and are taking an interest in it. There is still too much apathy on the part of students in voicing their opinions through our 'Letters to the Editor' column. Students have not realized the value of this column yet."

"Next year we are planning to enlarge our staff and our facilities. Many students have expressed a desire to work for the Minaret."

"Student coverage and news of interest will be a major goal of the paper. Also, as Editor, I propose to create an Editorial staff which will express current feelings of both the students and the administration on important topics."

"When you stop to consider the importance of your paper, you realize that a college without a paper is a student body without a voice. 'The truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth' will be the guiding thought of each staff member."

The present managing editor, Richard Perrier, will assume the position of associate editor of the Minaret for the coming year, succeeding Byron Hollingsworth.

Among the other positions which he has held are, political columnist, asst. news editor of the Minaret. Perrier has also had experience as a writer for the Pi Kappa Phi magazine, the Lance.

A resident of Weymouth, Massachusetts, he attended Curry College for a year, where he was active in the history and current events club as well as co-chairman of the student Democratic club. Since transferring to the University of Tampa he has engaged himself in a series of campus activities. At present he is a member of Pi Kappa Phi social fraternity, president of the Massachusetts Club of which he was co-founder, and is presently serving on the Student Congress Executive Committee for Homecoming. Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity recently elected him to its executive council in the capacity of treasurer.

Dick Perrier

A sophomore, Perrier is a sociology major, political science, American history minor. Upon being graduated he plans to return to Massachusetts, to attend graduate school for either journalism or law.

Regarding her plans to establish a quality publication she said, "With an eager and conscientious staff we should be able to build a strong first floor on our solid foundation."

EDITORIALS

A Tribute

It will soon be all over except for the cheering. The staff of the MINARET would like to publicly thank our retiring Editor and Business Manager for the work they have done while at the University of Tampa.

Allan Windt, retiring Editor, has been the principal person responsible for the much needed improvement in the student - administration communication media — The MINARET. With devotion and dedication, Allan has served his school and its newspaper well. He has some compensation in the honor and respect accorded him by his staff and fellow students.

Allan Windt

Norma Blancato

Working closely with Allan was his business manager, Norma Blancato. She, too, has become a credit to this institution. Through her relentless and untiring efforts, the MINARET has managed to operate in the black this year. This is worthy of much recognition when you stop to consider our budget, our costs, and the work involved. Norma and Allan have set a high standard of journalism for the future staffs to follow.

The members of this paper convey their good wishes and the best of opportunities to two fine and hard working individuals.

THE STAFF

Who Has the Key?

There is a door somewhere in the new student center which is constantly locked. There have been several inquiries as to why this door remains locked. It is well located and could handle much traffic if it were put in use. But, as it is now, students must walk out into the lobby and then into the bookstore to purchase their materials. Surely this door was not a mistake on the part of the architect. We urge everyone to put all things aside and help us find the lost key.

Dr. David M. Delo

President's Message

My hearty congratulations go to each of you as you are about to receive your degrees. You have reached not only a significant point in your life, but also the beginning of a new period of accomplishment in the future life you have planned. May you soon achieve all the other objectives you envisage.

Many of you have reached this goal by overcoming great difficulties. You have been earning a living at the same time as you worked toward a degree. Great credit should also go to your wives and/or husbands for their encouragement, support and patience. To those of you whose parents underwrote your college career, I extend congratulations for having such parents. I hope you appreciate their help, support and loving care.

All progress is based on dreams, plus action. Goddard dreamed of a trans-continental rocket; Henry Ford of an automobile within the reach of all; Edison of low-cost efficient light; Pasteur of a disease-free world. All left their mark because they dreamed with a purpose.

During the four years you have attended the University, many people have been dreaming with a purpose. The additional buildings, improved curriculum, enlarged cultural activities and many other desirable changes which have become realities while you were students here, are the result.

But this is only the beginning. Other dreams are being translated into plans for a library and a science building, better recreational facilities, and an enriched academic program.

You, the Class of 1963, have left an indelible impression on the University just as it has left its impression on each of you. True, your beautiful Room of the Republics, now under construction, will be a useful and tangible reminder — but your cooperation, increased standards, and willingness to work toward University improvement have helped to give increased momentum to its forward movement.

This interest and assistance will still be needed after you graduate. I hope the University will have an important place in your future, just as in your past. Those of us who remain here will watch for your successes with anticipation and pride. We will continue to dream and to work toward our goal of a truly great institution, and expect that you will dream and work with us, so that we can offer more to those who follow you here.

The best of good fortune to each of you.

Cordially,

Dr. David M. Delo
President

From the Vice-Presidents

Dr. Speronis

Now that the academic year is coming to a close, I thought it would be most appropriate for me to thank the student body for the wonderful assistance in our Student Center fund drive. The increase in morale is so significant that it has already made a difference in the over-all aspect of university life.

Also, the Senior Class room, which is entitled "The Room of the Republics," is a most significant addition to our Western Civilization Corridor project. This living memorial not only typifies the increasing support of the student body, but it hammers home a basic truth in any university's growth; to wit, the university is only as strong as its student body and alumni want it to be.

Those of you who are graduating this year, I know, will remember your alma mater. The stronger the University of Tampa becomes, the more valuable is your degree.

Please remember that the Development office is always open to you. Stephen L. Speronis

Dean Walker

"Commencement" holds for you both a beginning and an end. It is both "hail" and "farewell." Since we usually equate greetings with happy feelings and partings with sad ones, I know that I share with you both of these emotions.

I sincerely believe that you are an extremely fortunate graduating class. You have been vital and contributing members of a team responsible for dynamic growth. You may depart physically, but you will leave much and you will take much. In a very real sense, you will remain with us. You will be the living proof of our worth. It lies with you to prove the validity of our motto, Esse Quam Videri. This responsibility is both pleasant and somber. Smiles and tears are both appropriate, and I share them with you.

Charles Walker, Jr.
Vice President for Academic Affairs

Mr. Sliz

Dear Members of the Graduating Class:

As you depart the University and go your separate ways, permit me to take this opportunity to express to each and every one of you my appreciation, and that of the members of my staff, for the courtesies extended to us by the class and its officers.

I especially wish to commend you for pioneering the senior class gift, which will assist the University in the years to come to maintain the financial stability and academic plant so necessary to our growth. We expect to grow in size and stature and hope that as you return to the campus in years to come that you will feel proud of your Alma Mater and its achievements.

We of the Business Office extend to each and every one of you our best wishes for a happy and successful future.

From The Deans

You who are being graduated this June 1963 from the University of Tampa are very fortunate, very privileged, in that the progress your University has made during your four years as undergraduates,

Each of us wish to extend to you our best wishes for a bright and abundant future. While we share your joy in attaining this intermediate goal, we also regret the loss of your presence at the University of Tampa. Although you have been our students, we, in a special sense have been yours. Your insights, progress of which your Student Center is the most recent and wonderful example, is far and away the greatest of any four years in our school's history. In the outside world, these have been years of imminent crisis, years of world-altering changes in all directions, even out into space. You who are being graduated this June are undoubtedly well aware that this is the sort of world you will live in: a world in which nothing is certain but change; a world where the potentialities of great good, and also of great evil, have never been so vast. But where you are so very fortunate is that in looking back on your years at the University of Tampa, you will be looking back upon years of steady, purposeful growth and progress towards certain high and estimable aims. You KNOW, now, what undeviating, inspired, yet practical idealism can do for a school. You know it is not easy; but you know it can be done; and you know, too, that you have had your part in the doing.

What I would like you to remember, and think about, and keep with you always, is this: What faith and courage and unrelenting hard work, disciplined and inspired toward a high goal, can do for a school, these same qualities can accomplish for an individual: for criticisms and suggestions have assisted us in further defining our own tasks so that we may better assist those who follow you.

Michael A. DeCarlo

YOU. It is through devoted and inspired individuals, having the qualities of leadership, that the incredible changes and improvements at your University have come about. It is through these same high qualities of mind and of spirit that you can direct your own lives toward magnificent achievement. It may never be easy, or simple in an increasingly complex world; but it can be done.

My hopes and my prayers for a finer, happier, more abundant life here in our beloved America and in the entire close-knit world, go with you young people who will do so much towards the making of the kind of future we all most earnestly desire.

The best of everything to all of you, always, all ways.

Meyerson Speaks To Graduates

It is with great pleasure that I extend my congratulations to this senior class of 1963. You have seen the beginning of a great transition program here at Tampa University.

You as students have not sat back and watched, but have played an active part in this transition. You have seen the addition of many new facilities, but most of all, you can be proud of what you have left behind at Tampa University, your Senior Class gift. You as seniors have initiated something that will continue for many years to come.

As you leave and go into the business world or higher education you carry the name and traditions of Tampa University, so continue to work for it.

So with my congratulations, also go the good wishes of the Administration, students and the faculty. Good Luck!!

The first meeting of GAMMA DELTA IOTA on March 14, 1963, gave promises of a great future for the independents. The organization elected officers and appointed various committees. There was an unanimous vote to make Robert "Maynard" Padernacht the President of the organization, who is conferring with Dean DeCarlo on the matter. We will also honor our fairy godmother, junior and senior prince charming.

We are indeed happy to announce that our treasurer, Sister Brenda Baggett, is formally engaged to our prince charming and 1962 Man of the Year, Mr. George Nousiainen, 1962-63 president of the senior class and a TKE brother.

Beta Sigma Chapter has elected new officers: Marion "Parky" Parks, president; Carol Czarnecki, treasurer; Lee Ann Betz, secretary.

Sigmas have always showed initiative in service and religious work throughout their ten years on this campus. The sisters are very proud that Lee Ann has accepted the privileged position of president of the Westminster Fellowship, a wonderful organization.

The sisters have enjoyed working hard during the past month in order to finance the best Cinderella Ball to be given. We participated in several bake sales, cake 'n' crab sales at school, doughnut sales, and the inevitable car washes. But we managed to sprinkle our work-a-day projects with sun 'n' fun at Sister Jeanette's beach house at Clearwater Beach. Listed among our social projects were Mother's Day Tea and our Senior Send-On, given to the graduating seniors by our always active alumnae club. The party was given May 30 at Lake Carroll.

The sisters feel that they had made a great contribution in upholding the academic ideals of the University by winning for the second consecutive year the Highest Sorority Academic Award at the Honor Convocation. At this time, president Marion Parks presented the Sigma Sigma Sigma Pledge Scholarship Trophy to a Delta Zeta pledge. And we are indeed proud of sister Jeanette deGuzman, who was awarded the Alumni Association's Outstanding Female Senior Plaque for service and scholarship for four years at the University.

At this convocation, Sister Jeanette presented the oil painting drawn for the Moroccan cover, and the dedication which was given to Dr. Charles R. Walker, Jr.

Once again Sister Jeanette was named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges; and both Sisters Jeanette and Cookie were elected most intellectual and best looking senior notables, respectively.

It is our pleasure to announce that Sister Lee Ann has been appointed editor-in-chief of the 1964 Moroccan, succeeding Sister Jeanette deGuzman.

The junior members and pledges of Beta Sigma regret to see their senior sisters graduate. We wish them health and happiness in their new responsibilities, and we welcome them to return to their sorority next year, when it will be even greater and more successful in the coming months.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

On Wednesday, May 8, 1963, the Sig-Eps set a precedent in intramurals. They won a softball game! Up until then, the fraternity had been suffering a streak of bad luck in the softball circuit. It was this slump that caused Coach Kalman to change the line-up to include the world famous Sig-Ep All-Stars of 1962. Some of the stars on the big nine that day were Willy Mays DeCelle and, of course, Pete "Babe" Marinari in the big clean-up spot. Unfortunately our coach, Bob Kalman was sidelined the entire game due to a little difficulty in catching the ball. The All-Stars came from behind to defeat McKay Hall 9-8.

The Sig-Eps made a good showing in the recent swimming meet held at Davis Island. Many of our brothers won the various events in which they entered to give us an overall first in the meet. New records were made by Pete Marinari and John Maham for taking the most time in finishing the events in which they entered.

Congratulations are in order to Brother Tex Jones who recently became engaged to Joyce Wainwright.

Pi Delta Epsilon

Fourteen new members were recently initiated into Pi Delta Epsilon National Honorary Journalism Fraternity at the home of Dr. Locke. Those initiated were: Dick Davison, Jeanette deGuzman, Tony Ganong, Ron Hawes, Byron Hollingsworth, John Murray, Rita Owen, Leigh Mutter, Richard Perrier, Bob Shory, Judy Summerlin, Al Waters, and Sandy Weingarten. Also initiated was Col. Frank Hutchins, faculty advisor.

Following the initiation, a formal business meeting was held. Tony Ganong was commended for his efforts in the publishing of the "En Avant" and awarded the Pi Delta Epsilon National Award of Recognition. New officers were also elected. They are: Byron Hollingsworth, President; Tony Ganong, Vice-president; Rita Owen, Secretary; Dick Perrier, Treasurer; Al Waters, Historian.

Membership in Pi Delta Epsilon is open to those members of WTUN, the MINARET, and the MOROCCAN who, in the opinion of the fraternity, have done outstanding work within their organization!

On The Circle

By Dick Davison

Individual religious groups were asked to submit their activities of the past year so that we may have a round-up of the events of the year here for all to see just what does go on in these groups. I can only present the information that was turned in to me.

BAPTIST UNION

Baptist students at the University of Tampa numbered slightly more than two hundred during the present school year. Approximately 65 per cent of these students have been active in either the local Baptist churches or the Baptist Student Union or both. The B.S.U. meets two times per week (Mondays and Thursdays at 11:00) with sandwiches and drink following each meeting. Attendance during the first semester averaged 17, and due to changes in schedules, internships, etc., the second semester average is 7-8.

Programs during the year include sound movies, filmstrips, tape recordings, group discussions, testimonies, and devotional messages by ministers and laymen.

Social activities during the year have been highlighted by a moonlight cruise with box supper, a steak supper at the home of Pierre Kennedy, and a Progressive supper.

This year we were represented at the Fall Baptist Student Convention held in the First Baptist Church of Cocoa, Florida.

Several American students and eight International Students represented Tampa University at the International Student Retreat sponsored by the State Baptist Student Union during the Thanksgiving holidays.

Ray Marcos was selected to serve as a Student Summer Missionary in Honduras during the coming summer.

Bill Anderson served on the State B.S.U. Missions Committee. He and Ray Marcos attended meetings of this committee in Gainesville and Deland.

Robert Ownbey represented the University of Tampa at the Ninth Annual Student Missions Conference on the campus of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary. Nine of the ten Floridians attending this conference were from the Tampa Bay Area.

The Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church of Tampa honored the International students, members of the B.S.U. and faculty members at a luncheon held in the Ball Room.

Plans for the fall include a social at the opening of school, a fall retreat, plus varied programs on Tuesdays at 11:00 and Thursdays at 12:00 noon.

The following are the newly elected officers for the year 1963-64 and they cordially invite students and faculty to attend the meetings.

CANTERBURY CLUB

The Canterbury Organization of the University of Tampa is the religious group for the Episcopal students.

This school year we have been sponsored by St. Andrew's Episcopal Church in down-town Tampa. The rector is the Rev. Fred Dickman. The Rev. Charles Cauldwell is Rev. Dickman's assistant and the Chaplain for Canterbury. Our program this year has been tied into St. Andrew's youth program, with the idea of forming a group that centers around the life of the Parish Church. Plans are being made to further the development of Canterbury through St. Andrew's. This is being done in such a way that the incoming Episcopalians for the new Fall semester of 1963 will know that St. Andrew's will be the center for the Canterbury Organization here at the University of Tampa.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Christian Science Organization at the university has been very active this year holding weekly meetings, at which time experiences and demonstrations of God's love were revealed. The organization met every Thursday at one o'clock, in room 8, on the circle.

JEWISH STUDENT UNION

The Jewish Student Union sponsored a Bagel and Lox Brunch May 26, in Howell Hall. We would like to thank all students who attended our dance at the Jewish Community Center on May 4. We hope to be very active in school activities for the coming year and wish that all Jewish students would become active in our club. Howard Yegidis has been president this year.

LUTHERAN GROUP

Emma Weiman, president of the Lutheran Student Organization has met with her group twice monthly on Thursdays. Wishes are for a larger and very active group next year.

METHODIST STUDENT GROUP

The Methodist Student Movement has elected new officers for the year 1963-64. They are:

Jim Aldendorf, president; Jim Abruzzino, 1st vice president; Wilanne Starling, 2nd vice president; and Judy Summerlin, secretary-treasurer.

The college group along with the older Methodist Youth Fellowship group plan to go to the Bahama Islands on June 10 for a missionary project. Rev. Med Stanley of the Hyde Park Methodist Church is in charge of the trip. About 40 will be going. The largest percentage of this group will be going to Andros Island to work on repairing the churches and also hold Bible services in these churches. Six members of this group will go to Inagua Island. They will fly to Nassau from West Palm Beach and return to Tampa in two weeks. The students raised the money by having car washes, talent nights, and suppers.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club recently was given a "Day of Reflection" at Jesuit High School by Father Larion Eliot, the president of Jesuit. Instructions began at 10 a.m. and the day ended at 2 p.m. after Mass.

We also have had a basketball game and party with St. Petersburg Junior College with St. Pete's Newman Club as host. Last semester we hosted St. Pete at MacFarland Park for a game of softball.

In order for us to get acquainted, at the beginning of last semester the Catholic Women's Club, through Mrs. Gibbons and Mrs. Arduengo, gave us a dinner and swimming party at the Gibbons' home.

This semester food-wise Mrs. Arduengo and Mrs. Guido gave us a spaghetti dinner at the Arduengo home. On May 4, also, there was a pizza party at Mary Jo Arduengo's home.

After all we are a religious club, so during Lent we said the Rosary at every meeting. Also on the religious side, on the first or second Sunday of each month, we meet as a group for a designated Mass at a designated church and receive Holy Communion as a body. After Mass we pile into cars and head for the Pancake House on Dale Mabry for breakfast.

WESTMINSTER FELLOWSHIP

Newly elected officers who will serve the Westminster Fellowship at the University of Tampa are Lee Ann Betz, Moderator; Richard Stanford and Byron Hollingsworth, Vice-moderators; Jane Staples, Stated Clerk; and Al Kinnaird, Treasurer.

Lee Ann, a rising senior from Tyngsboro, Massachusetts, has been active in different areas of university life. She has served as Associate Editor of the Moroccan, secretary of Panhellenic and an active member of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority.

The other new officers have participated in many organizations, including the MINARET, Pi Delta Epsilon Honorary Journalism Fraternity, Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority, Theta Chi and Sigma Nu Fraternity.

Throughout the year, the group held programs which tied in their academic studies with their spiritual growth. We tried to tie in our school thoughts with our church-social thoughts. We discussed mutual problems and held discussions on present-day controversial subjects. Our programs have consisted of panels, formal and informal discussion and speeches from prominent clergymen and laymen.

Under the able leadership of four outstanding officers we have seen one of our best years.

Our 1962-1963 officers were David Voyer, President; Lee Ann Betz, Vice-President; Lynette Horton, Secretary; and Byron Hollingsworth, Treasurer.

During Orientation Week, a spaghetti supper was held honoring new Presbyterian Freshman.

The meetings were held every Thursday at 11 a.m. with lunch being prepared by women of local Presbyterian churches, and on Sunday evenings at the Hyde Park Presbyterian Church.

During the weekend of March 8-9, eight members of Westminster Fellowship attended the annual Westminster Fellowship State Conference at Lake Placid, Florida. Those attending were: Dave Voyer, Lee Ann Betz, Byron Hollingsworth, Norma Blancato, Clare Saft, Debbie Carter, Jim Sloan and Bert Ware. Theme of the conference was Biblical Theology and Contemporary Thought. The Conference speaker was Dr. Ashby Johnson of Florida Presbyterian College. Norma Blancato, a graduating Senior, was chairman of the conference, and completed her term of office as state president. At the conference, Byron Hollingsworth was elected new State Treasurer. In this capacity, he represented the University of Tampa Westminster Fellowship at the State Council meeting in Orlando, Florida the weekend of May 5-6.

All in all we feel that we have had an outstanding year, we're proud of our members who are not only active in their religious organization, but also most of the social fraternities and sororities, all the school publications, the Religious council, Inter-fraternity-sorority council named to WHO'S WHO and holding many major offices in all of these.

We are looking forward to a great 1963-1964 school year.

Esquire's CLUB & CAMPUS FASHIONS

Summertime... and the dressing is easy. Young men's wardrobes for Summer are relaxed, simple and easy to maintain. Looking beyond that last week of finals, let's take a look at the long hot Summer ahead. If you plan to spend your days on a cool, breezy beach, and your evenings with a cool, breezy blonde, you'd better size up your beach and formal wear for Summer.

THE TANKS ARE COMING

Two approaches highlight the swimwear news this Summer, and the first signals the growing popularity of Tank Shorts. These very briefly cut swim shorts were developed for competition and speed swimming, and are catching on across the board. They're usually seen in knitted nylon or other polyester fabrics, in solid colors of dark blue or black. But their big popularity with young men is best shown in the adaptation of some university colors to the field. They're short, sleek, and styled for high-speed action in the water.

SHORT SWIM SHORTS

...are also seen in the more conventional models. Most knitted swim shorts are briefer than usual, thanks to the Tank Short influence, and will be seen in stripes, plaids and multiform patterns. Small side vents are standard, and many are reversible, showing plaid on one side, black on the other. The roomier, easier-fitting Boxer Shorts will be seen in India Madras, soft plaids and multicolor effects.

SHORT SHRIFT IN SHIRTS

— Waistlength knitted Beach Shirts that you can't sit on answer the question of what to wear when you come out of the surf. Big stripes, both horizontal and vertical, are the big pattern ideas, predominantly seen in red and white and blue and white with red accents. You can choose from three widely popular models: waistlength knitted button-fronts with rolled, turn-down collars; zip-front knits with high, West-Point collars; and crew-neck pullovers in absorbent sweatshirt materials.

BIG BELL BOTTOMS

— Beach slacks go bell-bottomed in a big way this year. They're close-fitting at the hip line, but flare out to big proportions around the ankles. Practically all are in white. Duck (Basket weave cotton) is the traditional material, with some polyesters and blends gaining rapid acceptance. In Walk Shorts, the swing is to seersucker, combining the free-swinging feel of new walk-short lengths with the lightweight comfort of classic Summer seersucker.

THE STRAW HAT CIRCUIT

...features a big play for Beach Hats and lightweight Summer Straws this year, in every color, style and shape. Take a look at the wide range of new soft straws and bright new raffia beach hats. There are even some ultra-soft, ultra-light seersucker hats. And for beach footwear, this Summer's pacesetters are cloth top Espadrilles with either rope or rubber soles. Of course sneakers, either white or in colors, remain a Summertime leisurewear favorite.

THAT BREEZY BLONDE

...will expect you to look your formal best while you're putting on the big Summertime rush. Wash-and-wear fabrics will allow you to wear your white formal jacket right through a busy Summer weekend. In more informal evening wear, the sportswear influence shows up strongly. You'll spot India madras plaid jackets with shawl collars of the same material, and with collars of black satin facing. In addition, look for dark tone batiks with matching lapel facings on shawl collars.

DRESS RIGHT, DRESS

...is a simple command to follow in Summer formalwear. A soft fold collar shirt of lightweight Dacron and cotton, with pleated front, goes with your formal jacket. The black satin cummerbund with matching bow tie is, of course, always correct, but the definitely more informal patterned cummerbund and tie is acceptable with a white jacket only. Black dress trousers, preferably in a lightweight mohair and worsted blend, are the only correct trousers for formal dress. Complete the picture with black ribbed socks and black patent leather slip-ons.

Okay, you're ready to head for that beach and that blonde! I'll see you again in the Fall.

Book Review

Mystery Saturated With Mountain Dew

By RITA OWEN

The Case of the Constant Suicides — John Dickson Carr.

A short review is enough to list the overwhelming merits of this reprint. Mr. Carr's "Case of the Constant Suicides" is a "serious" murder mystery — or suicide mystery — or mystery-comedy — or romance, or anything else you wish to make it.

Its central characters are two cousins — one English and one Canadian, of the same family, who get nicely compromised in a perfectly innocent way in a compartment on a train while the top reporter for a scandal magazine is trying to sleep in the next compartment. It is sufficient to say that both cousins are hot-blooded Scottish Campbells as well as scholars, and that their "outrageous controversy" is an historical discussion of the life and low-life of Charles II.

Then of course there are Angus Campbell, and Colin Campbell, the patriarchs of the clan, and Aunt Elspat whose sense of propriety is so overwhelming that it is hard to imagine that she herself is rather good at impropriety.

Add to the above characters one legend of clan murder, two "suicides," one attempted murder, a box that should contain an animal but doesn't, several bitterly hysterical historical disagreements, and various and sundry compromising situations, and you have a good story.

But Mr. Carr goes two steps further. He adds first of all his brilliant, but sometimes unscrupulous detective, Dr. Gideon Fell, who pulls one of his more illegal tricks in the suicide cases.

And lastly he adds a prime catalyst for the situation of scandal-monger, mormantically un-involved fighting scholarly cousins, Aunt Elspat, and patriarchs: an extremely potent, and easily consumed Highland "dew" which can bring about sword fights, bagpipe contests, buckshot live game hunts with magazine writers as targets, and ghosts with only half a face.

The Case of the Constant Suicides is deliciously hysterical, as well as primed with mystery, suspense and romance.

Chad Mitchell Trio Triumphs with An Evening of Humor and Satire

By Rita E. Owen

At 7:35, Saturday night, May 11, the curtain went up at the Falk Theatre and the Chad Mitchell Trio began a stupendous evening of folk and topical-political songs which succeeded in breaking up the audience several times and which drew long well-deserved applause after every song.

The Chad Mitchell Trio, consisting of Chad Mitchell (The short blond one, girls), Joe Frazier, and Mike Koblug, performed, assisted by their most excellent orchestra including Jake Ander, steel string and nylon string guitar; and Paul Prestopino, third guitar, banjo, and mandolin. Between instrumentalists and the fast-rising trio, the evening went off without a hitch, for the inebrated hecklers to the left side of the stage do not even deserve the distinction of being called a "hitch."

Program material vacillated between traditional folk-music and the much more unconventional topical and political songs which were the main hit of the evening. The West German version of "The Twelve Days of Christmas" broke up the house, but could not even come close to the Collegiate nemesis of a student of "Old Miss." Then of course there was the "John Birch Society" song which exposed Communist activities and satirized the activities of the controversial group, as well as taking a well-timed kick at the inebrated hecklers — a stab which unfortunately did not penetrate the clouded minds of those at whom it was aimed.

The Trio is indeed one of the finest of the vocal groups singing today. They have the unusual ability to blend their voices and their actions into the portrayal of their songs.

A little human interest happened backstage during intermission. Harry Trout Jr., who lives in McKay Hall, and comes from Lebanon, Pennsylvania, came back to see Joe Frazier, whom he went to school with. The reunion was brief due to the shortness of the intermission, but it was renewed again after the performance, to the mutual agreement of both parties.

Traditional folk-music was mixed in with the satires and the audience listened in absolute quiet to "Alberta Let Your Hair Hang Down," "No Cane on the Brazos,"

Make Applications Now For Summer School

Persons wishing to attend the 1963 summer session at the University of Tampa should make application as soon as possible. Dr. Willis J. Dunn, director of admissions and registrar, has announced.

As soon as applications are received and prospective students are accepted for admission to the summer session, they may pre-register for their courses, insuring their choice of classes, Dr. Dunn said.

Summer session classes will begin on Monday, June 17, and the session will end on August 8. Registration for current students will be held on Thursday, June 13, and for new and returning students on Friday June 14. Late registration will take place from 4 to 8 p.m. on June 17.

These registration dates apply to both day and evening division students. Classes meet Monday through Thursday in the summer.

"The Greenland Fishery," and a South American number which the Trio picked up on its tour there.

One other high, or low spot as far as character goes, point was the Ballad of Alice with its sequel and epilogue. The less said the better about Alice and the more about the performance, the better.

Applause brought the Trio back for encores, several of them, and the evening ended on the quiet vein with the thought-evoking "Last Night I Had the Strangest Dream."

The night was a complete success and without doubt the students would be more than happy to have the Chad Mitchell Trio back again.

Indeed, they would be more than happy.

A Day With Dean King

By Rita E. Owen

Born on June 15, in Tuscola, Illinois, Lucille Johnson came of pioneering stock. Her grandparents on her mother's side, the Barnetts, had settled Douglas County, while her father's people had settled Danville in Edgar County.

Her family was small, her father having only one living brother, her mother having two sisters and a brother. Dean King herself has two brothers, C. M. Johnson, who is Superintendent of Schools in Canfield, Ohio; and Colonel R. J. Johnson, Chief of Staff in the U.S. Marines, El Toro, California. Her one sister is married to a Senior Executive of Detroit-Edison.

Education

Dean King was educated at Defiance College where she took her A.B. Here she met Karl F. King, a star-football player "and quite the popular man on campus," who was to become her husband in 1929, in Decatur, Illinois. His parents and grandparents had all settled and lived in Defiance, and they were one of the old families there. Mr. King has one living sister who lives in Tampa, Mrs. Olen Slough, who teaches at Manhattan Elementary School.

Dean King took her Master's in Guidance and Counseling at the University of Michigan after obtaining her position here at the University of Tampa.

Her father died in 1921, and in 1928, her mother remarried, to Mr. Alex "Dad" Van Praag. Dean King says that one of the finest things her mother ever did was "to marry Dad Van Praag."

Taught History

In the occupation field, Dean King taught History and English in Maumee, Ohio, and was the head of the History Department at the high school there until her marriage. She has also coached plays, been referee at basketball games, and taught Physical Education in college to earn tuition.

After her marriage she and Mr. King moved to Bryan, Ohio, where Mrs. King became prominent in church and local affairs and was Woman of the Year in Bryan.

When asked about current affairs or future events on campus, Dean King said that the important thing at this time is to get the Student Center started off correctly. The University is striving to improve and increase the intellectual and social levels on campus.

Several of its aims include trying to create in the hearts and minds of young people the good sense of values. "Without it we fail ourselves, our friends and society." The University also strives to create the best in living conditions on campus. Specifically Dean King wants to bring more young women onto campus, and expects the female enrollment to be 500 by three years from now. Her requirements for young women for the University are: talent, creativity, brains, good sense of moral values, and the desire to succeed.

Guidance

In the Guidance area, Dean King states that the University needs more trained counselors, actual graduated trained counselors. The University will have them. A guidance Center is to be established next year.

Other campus activities in which Dean King is involved are: a panel of foreign students which she takes around to lecture in the general West Coast area; working for better relationship between sororities and fraternities on campus, and helping them to become more effective in their services; and the Student Congress which has grown immensely in the past 11 years and which now has members sitting in on many important bodies such as the Discipline Committee. As for the current parking "problem," Dean King herself timed the walk from the fairgrounds along with Ernie Stout, and timed it to three minutes from there to her office. With this space available, there is not a parking problem.

Her Office

Dean King's pride and joy is her office. She considers it the nicest in the University, due to the help of the University which provided carpeting and keeps it in repair. The two chandeliers were bought by her husband and fresh flowers are brought in every day.

The atmosphere is one of relaxation, charm and beauty. The furniture is from the old Hotel, and is part of that era. Two conversation pieces are the Limoges pen set on her desk and the picture of her mother when she taught school in 1899 in a small county school in Illinois.

Crinoline Girls

The four pictures behind Dean King's desk are the Crinoline Girls. Dean King says: "To me they represent my young women."

Dean King is here in Tampa to stay, and she is a valuable and beloved asset to the University of Tampa. Her service to the University and the Student Body is unquestionable, and her personality is one of charm and warmth.

President Delo Has Wide, Interesting Background

David M. Delo was born in Mt. Morris, Illinois, in 1905. His father was a Lutheran minister, the late Reverend Frank S. Delo.

Dr. Delo completed his undergraduate work at Miami (Ohio) University in 1926. He was elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa there. Dr. Delo took his master of arts degree from the University of Kansas in 1928, and received the doctor of philosophy degree in 1935 while studying at Harvard University under an Austin Fellowship.

His teaching career began, in college, as an instructor at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri, 1929. He moved to Northwestern University the next year, serving in the same capacity. In 1934 he became Chairman of the Department of Geology at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wisconsin.

In 1937 he became chairman of the Department of Geology and Geography at Knox College in Galesburg, Illinois, where he remained until 1946.

Between 1939 and 1943 Dr. Delo was also a certified instructor in the civilian pilot training program. On leave of absence from Knox between 1944 and 1946, he served as a technical aide in the Office of Scientific Research and Development, in Washington, D.C. He was awarded the Certificate of Merit by the Department of the Army in 1946 for his work in that office.

As Chief of the Scientific Manpower Branch in the General Staff's Research and Development Division, Department of the Army, 1946-49, Dr. Delo instituted the first formal reserve program for scientists and engineers. The program was successful enough that it was soon extended to cover other branches of the Armed Forces.

In 1951, he was a special consultant to the Research and Development Command of the U.S. Air Force. Once again his work was concerned with the efficient utilization of scientific manpower.

From 1952 until his assuming office at the University of Tampa in 1958, Dr. Delo was president of Wagner College, New York. Prior to this he had been executive director of the American Geological Institute and executive secretary of the Division of Geology and Geography of the National Research Council in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Delo has received numerous awards and has been engaged in many laudable activities.

In 1954 he received the Erasmus Haworth Distinguished Alumni Award from the University of Kansas Department of Geology. He received honorary degrees of doctor of science in 1954 (Hartwick College) and doctor of laws in 1956 (Miami, Ohio University). He is a fellow of the Geological Society of America and member of Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Xi.

He is a member of the advisory boards, including: the Tampa Philharmonic Association; Boys Club of Tampa; Florida West Coast Educational Television; Germ Free Life Institute; Florida Council for Retarded Children; Pan American Commission; Hillsborough County and National Health Organizations; Citizens Safety Council; Committee of 100 of the Tampa Chamber of Commerce; State Chamber of Commerce Education Committee; and the Board of Governors, Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the Tampa Yacht Club, University Club, and Kiwanis.

Dr. Delo was recently elected to membership in the Cosmos Club, in Washington, D.C.

Dr. and Mrs. Delo (the former Elsie M. Crooker) have three children — Diana, a graduate of Barnard College, married, and living in Illinois; David, graduate of Antioch College, currently at the Army Language School in Monterey, California; and Virginia.

There are many plans and concepts of future University Development, according to Dr. Delo. Admissions and enrollment will be expanded — and admission standards will rise also. The Board of Trustees has approved in principle expansion of the student body to no less than 2,000. This will give greater flexibility to the program and yet "allow us to carry on in better fashion . . . but still retain the desired personal relationships among the students and between students, faculty and staff."

Guidance counseling is to be improved, and plans are being worked on to allow for the opening of a University Counseling Center in September, 1963. Testing programs will also be improved.

Curriculum will be consolidated in the future, eliminating unnecessary courses and concentrating on important, fundamental education which will give a sound background for either those desiring to enter graduate school or professional work; and post-college professional education. Aimed towards this end, efforts have been made and will continue to be made to increase faculty salaries.

The Library budget was increased this year, for new books, by 55 per cent and a survey was made in order to determine what books are no longer usable or desirable.

Five special rooms have been completed on the second floor of the Main Building. Construction is underway on the special room given by the graduating class of 1963, and additional rooms are to be financed by various interested groups.

A study of the feasibility of air-conditioning the entire center portion of the Main Building is underway.

Several new buildings are under consideration. A new Library is presently in the planning stage, and it is expected that the capacity and design will be completed by

Spartan Nine Boasts 13 Wins, 9 Loss Record

Perhaps the University of Tampa's baseball season is most aptly described by saying that it was a luckless winning one.

With the possibility of a make-up game against Rollins appearing quite improbable, Tampa finished with 13 victories in 22 games, 14 of which were decided by one or two runs.

But Coach Sam Bailey needs two crying towels every time he looks back over the scorebook. For the most part, the Spartans' campaign was a comedy of unusual circumstances, mostly unfavorable.

In retrospect:

... Tampa committed only one error and managed to lead Manatee Junior College 3-2 into the bottom of the ninth in which they made three straight miscues and lost the game.

... Against Miami the Spartans were leading 3-2 in the eighth when a Hurricane got a triple. Tampa got two men out before the fellow scored on an error to tie the game.

Then in the ninth another Miami tripled. Tampa promptly got two men out before allowing the winning run to score on a wild pitch.

... In another game against the Hurricanes, Miami was held to five hits heading into the final inning. Then three in a row, two walks and a balk settled it.

... In an extra-inning game against Florida Southern, Billy Howell raced home with what appeared to be the winning run in the 10th. The Spartans began rejoicing when the Mocs' catcher came over and tagged Howell. The umpire said he didn't touch the plate and Southern won in 13, 4-2.

... Next "good" one was Rollins. Tampa led 6-2 going into the bottom of the final inning when the Tars loaded the bases. Bailey called in his top reliever and the first man he faced hit what appeared to be a high fly to left. An extremely strong wind blew it over the fence and Rollins went on to win 7-6.

... The next game against Rollins went two extra innings before the Tars won the tight pitching duel ... on a wild pitch.

There were two real bright spots named Dave Villari and Jim Mabry. Villari, a right-hander, posted a 2.16 earned run average although his record was only 1-3 and Mabry became the second player to ever hit .400 or better for Bailey.

The Spartan freshman swatted .402. The first was Stan Salonsky, who hit .411 in 1960.

Ron Perez Named TU Outstanding Athlete

By George Kolg
Tribune Sports Writer
(Reprinted from Tribune-Times)

Ron Perez received recognition as the University of Tampa's outstanding athlete for 1962-63 at the annual spring sports dinner held in the new student union building last Wednesday night.

The award, a new one sponsored by the university alumni association which also promotes the dinner, was bestowed upon Perez for his achievements as a Spartan football and baseball player.

Ron lettered four years for the Tampa football team and three in baseball. Last year he is believed to have led the nation's small colleges in pass interceptions with eight from his safety position.

Perez was also honored as the season's best all around baseball player. He batted .313 as a center-fielder and drove in 21 runs for the Spartans in 22 games in addition to being a team leader in several other categories.

Also receiving one of the evening's top awards was Turkey Creek's Jim Mabry, who was voted by coaches as the outstanding freshman athlete.

Mabry started one game for the Spartans at end and played considerably before injuring a kidney that sidelined him a great deal of the season. He also became the second batter since athletic director Sam Bailey has been at the university to hit .400 or better.

The first baseman-pitcher wound up at .402.

The Spartans' 5-10 guard George Shary, who led the Florida Intercollegiate Conference scoring parade with a 26.6 game average and appears destined to become the first Tampa player to ever score 2,000 points in his college career, received the most valuable basketball player award.

Shary averaged 24.2 points in all games, was on the first All-FIC and All-State college teams, and was given honorable mention Little All-America as a junior this past season.

He also received an award for tying with teammate John Pellegrino, a guard, for being the most popular player in addition to awards for making the All-FIC team and for being selected the most valuable player in the FIC.

Other awards were presented to Steve Gleitzman, who was honored as the most outstanding member of the university's undefeated wrestling team, and Bob Maher, tabbed best all around member of the Spartan crew. Maher could row any position in the Tampa shell.

Shary Named Cager Captain

George Shary, the 5-10 basketball sparkplug and leading FIC scorer this past season with a 26.6 average, was named to captain the Tampa U basketball squad next season. The announcement was made by coach Bob Lavoy at the annual spring sports banquet last Wednesday.

The selection of Shary was made by his teammates, no co-captain was named.

A product of the Trenton, N.J. hardwoods, Shary was all FIC and all-state college first team. He was named the loop's most valuable player and received honorable mention in the Little All-America poll.

This past season he established a single season scoring record of 582 points and his circuit total of 266 points was the third highest ever tallied. He is expected to enter the 2,000 point circle next season. His overall scoring average was 24.2.

Student Center Dedicated

The University of Tampa formally dedicated its new $600,000 Student Center on the Hillsborough River in open house ceremonies at the Center Sunday afternoon, May 19.

Participating in the ceremonies were officials of the university, its alumni association and the community. Ceremonies were opened at 3:30 p.m. with music by the university's Symphonic Band and serving of refreshments.

Completed only recently, the modern, air-conditioned building will form a strong center of campus life, providing more adequate dining and recreational facilities for students. The Student Center became a necessity as the university has attracted an increasingly large number of students from out-of-state.

Completion of the Center is the first major step in a 10-year development plan of construction and beautification on the riverfront campus, designed to complement the city of Tampa's urban renewal program on the opposite side of the Hillsborough River. In the future plans are new science and library buildings.

The red brick building, of split-level construction, houses a large cafeteria and snack bar, modern kitchen, book store, and attractive student lounge on the first floor, and a game room and meeting rooms on the second floor.

The contractor was Jones-Mahoney of Tampa, and the architects, Fletcher, Robbins and Valenti of Tampa.

Construction was financed largely through a federal college housing loan of $356,000 from the Community Facilities Administration. Most of the additional $250,000 necessary to build and furnish the Center was obtained through an intensive fund-raising campaign conducted by the university last year in the community.

Biology Department Awarded $1,670 Grant By Science Foundation

The University of Tampa's Department of Biology has been awarded a $1,670 grant from the National Science Foundation to purchase instructional scientific equipment for the department, university officials have announced.

The grant will go toward equipment to be used in adding a course in physiology to the curriculum of the department next fall, Dr. Robert E. Wean, department chairman through whose efforts the grant was obtained, announced.

"This addition and improvement in course offerings by the Department of Biology will be a significant contribution not only to biology majors but also to the overall university plan for graduating students with a broad background of academic training," Dr. Wean said.

Under the terms of the grant from the National Science Foundation, matching funds of $1,670 will be furnished by the university for the purchase of equipment, total cost of which will be approximately $3,340.

A large number of graduates with degrees in biology from the university have entered post-graduate studies in biology, medicine, dentistry, and other scientific fields.

1963 Homecoming Plans Announced by John Hines

Homecoming Chairman John Hines announced this week that his Homecoming Committees are already named and are off to a fast start. Homecoming will be on October 19 with this year's opponent Presbyterian College. It is anticipated that Homecoming will be the biggest and best that the University of Tampa has ever had. Actually there is no central theme but everything will be centered around the alumni and "Let's Keep Football." Chairman Hines has broken the Committee down to six separate divisions with each headed by a separate Chairman who are as follows: Queen Elections, Chairman Jack Doherty; Skits (Spartan Splash), Chairman Richard Perrier; Lawn Displays, Chairman Tony Yelovich; Parade, Chairman, Edward Theobald; Dance Chairman, I.F.S.C. President Joseph Martineau; Public Relations, Chairman Suzanne Black.

All plans, rules, regulations and calendar of events will be announced this coming week. There have been many changes and many new additions.

The Homecoming Committee is proud to announce that the "Headliners" who are opening next week at the Tropicana in Las Vegas in "Vaughn Monroe featuring the Headliners," have been signed for our Homecoming Dance through the Mutual Entertainment Agency of Chicago.

We hope that all students will give their full support and backing to make this year's Homecoming "the Best Ever."

STUDENT ART EXHIBIT

Students of the University of Tampa's art department are displaying their works in the annual student art exhibition which opened Sunday, May 26 and will continue through June 7 at the university's LaMonte Gallery.

In connection with the opening, a reception was held to which the public was invited. Hosts were members of Kappa Pi, honorary fine arts fraternity at the university, which is sponsoring the show for the first time this year. John M. Murray of Tampa is president.

Judge for the competitive exhibition, which is composed largely of paintings and drawings, was Robert Hodgell, chairman of the art department at Florida Presbyterian College, St. Petersburg.

TILL WE MEET AGAIN

With today's installment I complete my ninth year of writing columns in your college newspaper for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes. In view of the occasion, I hope I may be forgiven if I get a little misty.

These nine years have passed like nine minutes. In fact, I would not believe that so much time has gone by except that I have my wife nearby as a handy reference. When I started columning for Marlboro, she was a slip of a girl—supple as a reed and fair as the sunrise. Today she is gnarled, lumpy, and given to biting the postman. Still, I count myself lucky. Most of my friends who were married at the same time have wives who chase cars all day. I myself have never had this trouble and I attribute my good fortune to the fact that I have never struck my wife with my hand. I have always used a folded newspaper—even throughout the prolonged newspaper strike in New York. During this period I had the airmail edition of the Manchester Guardian flown in daily from England. I must confess, however, that it was not entirely satisfactory. The airmail edition of the Guardian is printed on paper so light and flimsy that it makes little or no impression when one slaps one's wife. Mine, in fact, thought it was some kind of game, and tore several pairs of my trousers.

But I digress. I was saying what a pleasure it has been to write this column for the last nine years for the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes—a fine group of men, as anyone who has sampled their wares would suspect. They are as mellow as the aged tobaccos they blend. They are as pure as the white cellulose filter they have devised. They are loyal, true, companionable, and constant, and I have never for an instant wavered in my belief that some day they will pay me for these last nine years.

But working for the makers of Marlboro has not been the greatest of my pleasures over the last nine years. The chief satisfaction has been writing for you—the college population of America. It is a rare and lucky columnist who can find an audience so full of intelligence and verve. I would like very much to show my appreciation by asking you all over to my house for tea and oatmeal cookies, but there is no telling how many of you my wife would bite.

For many of you this is the last year of college. This is especially true for seniors. To those I extend my heartfelt wishes that you will find the world outside a happy valley. To juniors I extend my heartfelt wishes that you will become seniors. To sophomores I extend my heartfelt wishes that you will become juniors. To freshmen I extend my heartfelt wishes that you will become sophomores. To those of you going on into graduate school I extend my heartfelt wishes that you will marry money.

To all of you let me say one thing: during the year I have been frivolous and funny during the past year—possibly less often than I have imagined—but the time has now come for some serious talk. Whatever your status, whatever your plans, I hope that success will attend your ventures.

Stay happy. Stay loose.

© 1963 Max Shulman

We, the makers of Marlboro Cigarettes, confess to more than a few nervous moments during the nine years we have sponsored this uninhibited and uncensored column. But in the main, we have had fun and so, we hope, have you. Let us add our good wishes to Old Max's: stay happy; stay loose.

Dr. Walker Honored In Dedication of Moroccan

Outstanding students and a popular administrative staff member of the University of Tampa were lauded at the college's annual honors convocation this morning in the Falk Memorial Theater.

As a highlight of the event, the staff of the "Moroccan," university yearbook, dedicated its 1963 edition to Dr. Charles R. Walker, Jr., vice president for academic affairs. Announcement of the dedication was made by Jeannette deGuzman, editor of the yearbook. Dr. Walker, who formerly served as dean of administration at the university and prior to that time as chairman of the biology department, was cited as a "College teacher devoted to the search for truth..."

Prior to the dedication, a number of annual student award presentations were made. The University of Tampa Alumni Association Awards which go to the outstanding male and female graduating seniors were presented to Miss deGuzman of Tampa and to Ernest Stout of Johnson City, Tenn., outgoing president of the student body. Both have been prominent in campus activities. Presenting the engraved plaques to the two honorees was Perry O. Keene, Jr., chairman of the Alumni Association's awards committee.

Other student award winners were Robert A. Munz, Tampa senior, who received the Wall Street Journal Achievement Award for outstanding scholastic and professional achievement as a business administration student; Carolyn Jane Adams, senior from Tampa, the history achievement medal from the John Donaldson, Jr. Chapter of the Daughters of American Colonists, as the history major who achieved the highest four-year average in this field of study; Judy Lee Orovic, freshman of Tampa and Spartanburg, Pa., the Mathematics Achievement Award for having the highest average in freshman mathematics courses; Martin Berg, senior from Eastchester, N.Y., the Psychology Achievement Award for attaining the highest average in that field while a student at the university.

Patricia Alchediak, senior from Tampa, the Rabbi David L. Zielonka Award presented to the student who has demonstrated a high standard of scholarship and interest in the field of religion and human relations; and Nancy Berenguer, sophomore of Coral Gables, the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority trophy which goes to the sorority pledge at the university achieving the highest average during the preceding fall semester. Miss Berenguer is a member of Delta Zeta sorority at the university.

A sorority and fraternity at the university were cited for scholastic achievement during the spring, 1962, and fall, 1963, semesters. Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity received the award for having the highest over-all average of members during that period. Art Costantini is president. Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, of which Marian Parks is president, received the award for the same achievement among the sororities on campus.

Others cited on the program were the 58 students who made the Dean's List at the university during the preceding fall semester; students who were named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" this year; and officers and members of the 1962-63 Student Congress, who were presented service keys by outgoing Student Congress president Ernest Stout.

Stout was presented an engraved plaque for his service as president by new Student Congress president, Edward Meyerson.

Second Intern Banquet Held

The second annual teacher-intern banquet was held in the Student Center dining room Thursday evening, May 25. Dr. Aleyne C. Haines, professor of Education at the University of Florida, was the featured speaker at this affair sponsored by the University of Tampa.

Dr. Haines addressed an estimated 150 guests on the subject, "Working Together in Teaching Education." A native of Tampa, she has contributed widely to the literature on teacher education. She is the author of the book, "The Student Teaching Process in the Elementary School," which is currently used in one of the University of Tampa's education courses. Dr. Haines recently served as an educational consultant in Puerto Rico.

fall, 1963. A new Science building is also being discussed. It would house Biology, Chemistry, Physics and Geography. These buildings are expected to be constructed by 1970.

Land space is necessary for successful expansion of the University both in buildings, and for adequate athletic programs. "We also hope to build in the next two years a large swimming pool for campus use, intramurals, physical education and varsity swimming competition," says Dr. Delo.

Dr. Delo summed up the plans and hopes for the University of Tampa in the following statements:

"I envisage within five years a college with high academic standards, a well-rounded and comprehensive athletic program, both intramural and varsity; greatly expanded academics, dormitory and athletic facilities; an expanded fine arts program in drama, music and art; and a student body which can participate widely and to a considerable degree independently in all of these activities.

"I feel that great strides have been made this year toward this desirable objective in the increased cooperation of students and student organizations, in every facet of our University life, the opening of the Student Center; the re-vitalized dramatic program and the strengthening of the faculty and increase in faculty salaries. The cooperation of the parents' organizations and increased cooperation of the Alumni Association have also been encouraging."

Dr. Delo, with wide experience in personnel, and the ability of people to work, has now turned his attention to the University of Tampa, and with the cooperation of students, faculty, and organizations the University will be expanded and improved both in appearance, character, and environmental effect of all persons who come here — to teach or to learn.

Art Show...

Cash prizes, donated by various individuals and groups, were presented the student winners by Dr. David M. Delo, university president, during the reception. The awards are a $100 first prize donated by Colony Shops; the $50 Kappa Pi second prize; and three third prizes of $25 each, the Samuel Sugarman Award, the Murray Lebowitz Award, and the Kappa Phi Award.

Faculty members of the university's art department juried the show, selecting the student works to be shown in the exhibition.

The gallery hours will be from 2 until 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays. Admission is free of charge.
