

WELCOME PARENTS

Red carpet planning is in progress at the University of Tampa, as faculty and staff members prepare to welcome visitors for the Fifth Annual Parents Weekend, Oct. 26-28.

Ed Snee, Director of Development for Annual Giving and Director of Alumni Relations, said he expects more than 350 parents on the Spartan campus for a weekend of classroom visitation, consultations, socials and most important, reunions with sons and daughters.

Highlights of the gathering include a film and discussion, "Psychological Adjustments to College," an optional tour of Busch Gardens, Parents Association meeting and the football game between the University of Tampa and Northern Michigan University.

Special social activities are planned, also, beginning with the President's Luncheon, Friday, Oct. 26, 12 noon, Fletcher Lounge; a brunch Saturday, Oct. 27, 10:30-12 noon, University Union, and a coffee Sunday, Oct. 28, 11 a.m., Barritt House, with UT President and Mrs. B. D. Owens as host and hostess.

For the convenience and comfort of the visitors, special buses will transport parents to and from the football game Saturday night and a chartered flight from Kennedy International Airport will bring parents to the Sunshine State from New Jersey, New York and New England areas.

Transportation will also be provided for parents attending the Sunday coffee at the Barritt House.

Assisting with registration Friday, 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., and campus tours, students will join UT's faculty and staff in trying to make the weekend a memorable one for the parents.

Among students assisting with hospitalities will be: Becky Goldsten, Debbie Totin, Debbie Zepht, Sherrie Fritz, Susan Anfanger, Pam Ellis, Rod Piatt, Candy Moore, Jim Ferguson, Wyck Furcron, Denise Latizia, Lisa Amlong, Tom Leffler, and Debbie Dobbins.

Professor Garten Lends A Helping Hand

Professor Melvin Garten, Assistant to the Dean of Faculties, feels it necessary to dedicate a great deal of his time and effort to the purpose of looking at students individually. Whether it is in regard to social or academic problems, job opportunities or overseas study programs, he wants to help them find answers for themselves. This is possible at Tampa U., a small college, where a student is not merely a number.

Professor Garten said, "As assistant to the Dean of Faculties, I am allowed to communicate with the student and help him with the problems appropriate to my level in terms of curriculum, courses, personal difficulties, etc. In that respect, I could give more constructive advice; perhaps, than the student's immediate advisor could give."

Dr. Michael J. Mendelsohn's office, Vice-president of Academic Affairs, is always open, though it is sometimes difficult to see him due to his busy schedule. Professor Garten stresses, however, that either he or Dr. Mendelsohn will always try to be available for consultation with students.

He emphasizes that he is here to help the student adjust to the University, as well as to the Tampa area itself. The student must see

In an effort to make the University of Tampa's student government more efficient, the Student Government Association has implemented a Revenue Sharing Board to direct the appropriation of funds to campus organizations.

The specific purposes of the board are to review the organizations requests for funds and recommend to the SGA what action should be taken.

Each organization applying for funds must submit a written proposal showing: their budget for past and present year, the reason the money is needed, reasons where he fits in, thus eliminating any kind of numbers game. By working for the good of the student, he is also working for the good of the University.

Another opportunity, with which students should be aware of, is that Professor Garten is a focal point for overseas study programs available during intersession. With such programs, the student travels to a country while studying it. Grades are based on projects for the course.

As a history professor, he plans overseas study programs during intersession. For instance, last January students spent 21 days studying in Israel and Greece. This coming January, thirteen students will be studying in Holland, Denmark and Finland for one week and in Russia for two weeks.

Already, plans have been made for the summer of 1975. For a period of three weeks, why they should receive the money, how they have tried to raise the money, how the university, primarily the students, will benefit from the money received. Applicants must have ACTIVE representatives in the House of Representatives. Each organization must bring their proposal before the board within fifty days, excluding holidays. Provisions for emergencies will be reviewed by the board.

Money will be allocated in the following forms: loans, grants, and scholarships.

The Revenue Board is run by elected members from the House of Representatives, but forms a separate entity from the House and Senate. Members of this years board include: Chico Caprio—Chairman, Karl Funds, Marc Kelman, Steve Kidd, Don Marinelli, Rod Piatt and Grita Vail—secretary. Mr. Mike Bouchard serves as faculty advisor.

All campus organizations are urged to apply if in need of aid.

NEW APPROACH TO COUNSELING

Peer counseling is being tried this year at the University of Tampa for the first time.

The peer counseling staff consists of three students: Ed Garrison, Ed Liptak and Sue Gillespie, all of whom are senior psychology majors with good scholastic backgrounds, and interested in helping people.

The three counselors, guided by Dr. Chet Arnold, have been training since the beginning of school by studying selected readings in counseling and playing tapes of interviews. Only after this intensive study program, combined with their broad background in psychology, are they ready to counsel their fellow students.

They are located in room Sc. 200 to help avoid future problems students may be confronted with, or to solve any that they may have now.

MINARET WELCOMES PARENTS

The Minaret welcomes all parents who are spending the weekend here at Tampa U. with their sons and daughters.

There are many interesting and beneficial activities planned for you. During your visit you may confer with professors, see the dorms and our campus museum.

In the past five years, Parents Weekend has provided an opportunity for parents to become better acquainted with their son's or daughter's alma-mater.

It is hoped that by way of the planned activities, parents will see what a concerned and devoted faculty and student body feels towards their university. This combined interest makes it possible for our University to progress and improve.

While you are visiting with your University of Tampa student, please take the time to get to know the campus and community as well.

PEACE STUDIES AND ACTIVISM

What's the outlook for peace studies and anti-war activism on college and university campuses, now that American involvement has ended and an uneasy peace reigns in Southeast Asia?

Their need would continue to appear urgent for years to come, though the Class of '77 will be the first group of 18-year olds entering college for almost two generations without a shooting war going on.

Assuming that this year's crop of freshman was born mainly in 1955, its members have spent their entire lives in an active war environment.

Some disturbing insights into their and successive college classes' social attitudes and influences may be glimpsed in a recently published study on children's attitudes about war ("Children and War," Teachers College Press) by Howard Tolley, Jr., assistant professor of political science at Wilberforce University.

Analysis of his statistical findings indicates a marked ambivalence in children's attitude to war, a scepticism about government and the President, and greater influence in their opinion-forming by parental beliefs than by the educational system, churches, media and other forces for ethical and social responsibility.

Dr. Tolley says that childhood socialization influences later adult political beliefs. He also cites research studies with high school students which revealed little difference in attitude between freshman and seniors.

By the 1980's, the generation of school children whom Dr. Tolley studies will have grown up and assumed the responsibilities of adult citizenship. It can be inferred from his sampled group that a large part of the college and university population of this decade requires a sustained peace education to crystallize their social awareness against war.

The sample group comprised 2,677 children in grades three to eight in New York, New Jersey and Maryland, whom Dr. Tolley interviewed early in 1971. At the time, Vietnam was still an abrasive public issue. These children had lived their entire lives in a war environment. They were the first generation to have observed televised combat. And they had been exposed to the anti-war movement in the schools during the 1960s.

Acceptance of the inevitability of war by these children, though almost all thought it bad, may hold a grim portent for the future unless the colleges and universities can develop peace studies to shape their attitudes more successfully than their childhood influences.

Some 54 percent of the children agreed that "war is sometimes necessary." Most of the children said that war is justified, if it defends our country's freedom. A third of the children interviewed believed that war is good, if it results in the defeat of communism.

An implied warning on the cynicism toward war among the youth of 1971 was voiced by Dr. Tolley. "If the radical movement of the 1960s derived in part from the disappointed expectation of idealistic youth," he said, "the more critical children of 1971 should face no such disillusionment in the decade ahead. Rather than manifest righteous indignation at departures from the democratic creed, more cynical youth might simply accept the system with resignation.

Some of Tolley's other thought-provoking findings are:

Media coverage has improved children's factual knowledge of Vietnam, but parents and teachers are a greater influence on their opinion.

Status: the greatest opposition to war was found among high-income white children, and among black children. Among the blacks, opposition was stronger somewhat for those in the high-income group. Suburban and rural children showed appreciably more patriotic loyalty, and favored winning in Vietnam.

Age: older children were better informed about war (and Vietnam), and tended more toward acceptance of its inevitability.

Conclusions: There's no formula for creating a peace orientation in the coming-into adulthood generation of the 1980s.

It would appear that our colleges and universities have their work cut out in fostering a higher order of political and social orientation against war in their educational scheme, if we are to make any progress to a world at peace in the future.

RALPH ROSENBLATT: AN ACTIVE STUDENT

Photos by W. D. Burdick

Ralph Rosenblatt, vice-president of the Student Program Council, may be little in size, but in the two years he has been at Tampa University, many big accomplishments may be accredited to his name. He has helped develop a successful photography club, Student Program Council, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Student Government Association.

During Ralph's Freshman year, he established the photography club. He had previous experience in New York, his home state, working for various private schools as a photographer.

Since he's been at Tampa U., Ralph has continued his interest in many ways, not only with the photography club, but also as a photographer for the Minaret. About a year ago, he was shooting some pictures one evening around the Boulevard Bridge and spotted a fire that he photographed. The next day, he dropped the roll off at the Tampa Tribune, which printed the picture. Ralph had his name on the front page of the Metro Section.

There have been photography showings at Tampa U., with many of the photographs submitted by students of the University. This is a valuable addition to the Art activities on campus.

Ralph has been in S.P.C. for two years. His position has advanced from chairman of films, to treasurer, and this year to vice president.

Last year he worked with the Publications Committee helping to select the editors of the Minaret and Moroccan.

For two years, he worked with S.G.A., in which he had two chairmanships; one as Health Commissioner, and the other as co-chairman for the Visitation Committee. This was the committee which worked to obtain the visitation hours we now enjoy.

Another of Ralph's activities includes membership in the National Undergraduate Journalism Fraternity, Pi Delta Epsilon.

His interests lies partially in English, which is one of his majors, and partially in sociology. While working this summer with Mr. Irv Edelson, UT Director of Public Information, Ralph won two scholarships. Public Relations is a career Ralph wishes to continue after graduation. He is hoping that majoring in English and Sociology will enhance his future goal.

This year, Ralph, as Homecoming Chairman, is working to make the event a success. The theme is "carnival week," which will center around a real-carnival to be held on Nov. 16 from 12 noon until 5 p.m.

On occasional Sunday nights, he is the assistant producer-director of the radio shows, Campus and Personal Point of View on WDAE AM-FM. The show features student discussions and professional counseling for people who need help with personal problems.

Ralph has many exciting events planned for next semester. For example, a boat trip has been planned which will include a dance with free beer.

There will be Movie Night Specials consisting of an evening of three or four movies done by the same movie star. Clint Eastwood, Cary Grant and Raquel Welch evenings have already been planned. The regular movie series will be shown on Sunday's in Falk Theatre again. Woodstock, Mash, Patton, Strawdogs, and Play Misty For Me, are a few of the films to be shown.

There will be a five-day stop smoking course next semester.

A "wine taste" will be held next semester in the Rathskellar. Popular wine companies are going to contribute.

The Lawn Bowling Association of St. Petersburg is planning to demonstrate the game of bowling green outside of the post office. As Ralph commented, "considering the amount of administrators that have come from Bowling Green University, this would be an appropriate sport . . . we would like to find some new activities for students," said Ralph.

at the cost of $1000, students will be given the opportunity to study at the University of Nirobe, Africa.

Both Dr. Mendelsohn and Dr. Decker, coordinator of history classes, are enthusiastic about the expansion from routine intercession courses. They feel that these overseas courses are really unique in that the student can only take them during intercession.

Professor Garten does not want to sell these programs, but those students who are interested in overseas study-programs are urged to see him for information. He is in a position to show the student exactly what is available and how much it will cost.

In the future, if any student feels a need for guidance in any area and wants reliable advise from a concerned individual, go see Professor Garten. His office hours are from 1:00-5:00 p.m. every week-day in room 214 in Plant Hall. He will be delighted to see you.

FIRE STOPPED BY ALERT OFFICER

A fire, that struck the University Union cafeteria Sunday night, October 21, which could have been a major catastrophe, remained a minor incident due to the alertness of the security force and the staff of the Union.

Officer Josey on his nightly round smelled smoke and determined that it was coming from the kitchen. With the aid of Sgt. Luke, Officer Chapman, Mike Bonds and Ralph Rosenblatt, both students, they entered the kitchen through the dining room and with the use of fire-extinguishers controlled the flames blazing from the burning console, until the fire department arrived five minutes later.

The firemen then proceeded to contain the blaze and made sure the fire was completely extinguished by taking the unit apart with axes. With liquid chemicals they doused the unit for ten minutes to insure that the fire would not reignite.

Cause of the fire is not known, but possible explanations have been a malfunctioning of a new thermostat that was installed the Thursday prior to the fire by maintenance, the unit being left on mistakenly, or the igniting of the wooden frame due to a build up of heat.

The clean-up task was expedited by the fire department, who disposed of a majority of the powdered chemicals. A custodial crew was called in and the kitchen was made ready for Monday morning breakfast. All food spoiled by smoke was thrown out.

This living-and-learning experience is designed for college students, graduates and other adults who want to become part of another culture, while acquiring a second language.

An initial three weeks language course, followed by a family stay, will give the student opportunity to practice the language on a daily basis and to share in the life of the community. For the major part of the year he is separated from his fellow American students, living and studying among Scandinavians at a "People's College" (residential school for continuing adult education) or some other specialized institution.

An increasing number of American colleges and universities are giving full or partial credit for the Seminar year.

The fee, covering tuition, room, board, one-way group transportation from New York and all course-connected travels in Scandinavia is $3,000. A limited number of scholarship loans are available.

PI KAPPA PHI UMOC AWARDS

There will be an open house cocktail party Friday night, Oct. 26, at the Pi Kapp house. The Antics and Oldies of Super-Lu entertained everyone at the last beer party. Everyone is invited to have a good time once again.

The Pi Kapp intramural football team finished third place in the playoffs. In the near future we look forward to competition in volleyball, billiards, and paddle ball.

The awards ceremony for the first annual U.M.O.C. Contest was held at Happy Jack's Supper Club. The first place trophy went to Richard "The Hawk" Brooks. Congratulations go out to the runners up: Kevin Duffy, Jeff Molofski, Bob Moss and Jim Dunster.

Don Ioli, a member of this semester's pledge list, was not mentioned in last week's article.

ZETA BETA TAU

The past week was an active one for the ZBT house. The winner of our raffle, a $50 gift certificate to Wolf Brothers, was Cheri Bomgardner. Congratulations to Cheri.

Larry Litman is a new pledge. We are glad to have Larry associated with us. All of our pledges have made valuable contributions to our growing fraternity.

During the weekend, we had a Toga party and a car wash. Looking at the success of the car wash, the Toga party may have provided the needed inspiration.

Finally, we would like to recognize the good job our president, Arthur Pfeffer, has done leading our relatively young fraternity. With the heavy work involved in starting and maintaining a fraternity, the necessary organization and cooperation has been provided. And thank you father Leo for sharing with us some ideas on community living.

That is all for now. Keep smiling everyone.

SPARTANS SLIP BY SALUKIS

TAMPA - 25 S.I.U. - 23

Photos by W. D. Burdick

It was a nervous head coach Dennis Fryzel, who saw his Spartans edge Southern Illinois 25-23 on Saturday night.

The game was the Spartan's first away from their home turf.

The Salukis, who were 18 point underdogs, fought back in the closing minutes of the game, from a 22-3 deficit, to go ahead by one point late in the fourth quarter. At that point it looked as if SIU might hand Tampa its second loss of the season.

It was Kinney Jordan who gave Tampa the winning margin with his 25 yard field goal with 4:51 remaining in the game. It was his third of the evening.

Coach Fryzel said this of his soccer-style booter, "I just can't say enough about that young man. He came in under pressure and showed what he was made of."

The other Tampa scores came from the running of Tailback Alan Pittman who ran for two touchdowns of two yards each.

Defensive Tackle Ervin Smith added two more points in the Spartan column, when he smothered the SIU Quarterback in his own end zone. Pittman, the Spartans leading ground gainer, carried the ball 12 times for 132 yards, while Fullback Ken Moorehead contributed 107 yards on 18 carries.

Quarterback Fred Solomon, having his best game in the passing department, completed 10 of 17 for 146 yards. In the rushing department, he gained 87 yards on 17 carries.

Mark Wakefield and Vin Hoover were the leading receivers. Wakefield pulled down 3 receptions for 75 yards. His longest a 55 yarder which set up Tampa's second and final touchdown of the evening. Hoover grabbing 4 for 45 yards.

The Spartans seemed to be in complete control of the contest, with a 22-3 commanding lead. There was little doubt in anyone's mind that the Spartans were on their way to their fifth victory.

However, the Salukis had a different opinion of the games final outcome. A fake kick, a perfectly executed onside kick, a 35 yard pass play and chancy fourth down plays put the Salukis right back into the ball game.

Three touchdowns, a field goal, and two extra points put SIU one point ahead of the heavily favored Spartans with 9:19 remaining in the game.

Down by one and under pressure the persistent Spartan offense marched from their own 26

UT SKIERS PLACE THIRD

Winter Park was the site of the 1973 Rollins Invitational Ski Tournament in which Spartan skiers accumulated enough points to take a very respectable third place in overall competition.

The tournament was divided into two days. On Saturday the events were the Men's Slalom, Women's Tricks, and Men's Tricks, while Sunday saw competition in Women's Jumping, Men's Jumping, and Men's Slalom.

Rusty Carter led the Spartan skiers by placing second in a field of 42 in the Men's Slalom competition. Pepsi Koch, although not a place winner himself, accumulated valuable tournament points for the Spartans.

The Women's Tricks event followed the Slalom competition. Shelly Eichner, R. D. Dominguez and Linda Luizza competed, but were unable to take any top honors. However, enough points were accumulated to take fourth place in the event.

In the Men's Tricks event, Robbie Kempton, Rusty Carter, Kim Contos, and Pepsi Koch were on hand to give the Spartans third place. Robbie Kempton took the top honors, which is not uncommon for the Tampa skier.

The Spartans best showing in overall tournament competition came in the Men's Jumping event. Individual Spartan competitors were Robbie Kempton, Rusty Carter, Pepsi Koch, Kim Contos, and Kevin Binau. Robbie again took the top honors with a jump of 122 feet, and Rusty placed third with his 114 foot jump. Overall, the Spartans took an impressive second placed in the event.

When the final results were tabulated, it was Rollins out in front, USF second, and Tampa a very close third.

The team is currently practicing for the Florida Southern Invitational Tournament to be held in Lakeland on November 27 and 28. Spectators are welcome. Events begin at 9 a.m. and usually end at 4 in the afternoon.

Linda Luizza

to the Salukis 15. There, a stiffened SIU defense forced the Spartans to attempt what would be the game winning field goal.

After the field goal, the Salukis did make a final attempt to reach pay dirt, but time and an awakened Tampa defense proved too much for them to overcome.

It was a hard fought victory; one that the Spartans will not soon forget.

The final score: Tampa 25 and Southern Illinois 23.

Terry Freeman

Athlete Of The Week

KICKING SPECIALIST

Kinney Jordan

Kinney, a hometown product and graduate of Plant High, has been selected this week for his outstanding performance in the 25-23 victory over a tough Southern Illinois team.

Kinney took over the kicking responsibilities after Tampa's 17-0 loss to Kansas State. Since that time, he has done an outstanding job for the Spartans in the kicking department. His overall record thus far this season is a perfect 7 for 7 point after touchdown record, and has made 4 out of 6 in the field goal department. Scoring a total of 19 points.

Although it is impossible to say that Kinney was responsible for the Spartan victory over SIU, he was indeed responsible for 11 of the Spartans 25 points. His final field goal, the deciding score of the game, was not his longest, but certainly his most important.

If Coach Fryzel was looking for a kicker, he has certainly found him in Freshman Kinney Jordan, whose Spartan career has just begun.

Congratulations Kinney on being chosen this week's "Athlete of the Week."

NORTHERN MICHIGAN NEXT...

After a hard-fought victory over Southern Illinois, Tampa will return to their home turf this week and face an always tough Northern Michigan University.

In their five game series that begin in 1961, Tampa now stands 5 wins and 0 losses.

However, in the last four outings, Tampa has found the going tough against this Michigan team.

Although the Spartans will probably be heavily favored, last week's game proved that the underdog still has to be reckoned with.
