JONI JAMES IS STAR ATTRACTION AT TU'S TWENTY-SIXTH HOMECOMING

"America's most loved singer", Joni James, will be the featured star of the University of Tampa Homecoming Dance this year. The Showmen of Colonial Inn fame will provide the background music for the vocalist. This group has appeared with Joni James in the past. The dance will be held at Fort Homer Hesterly from 11:00 p.m. till 3:00 a.m. on Saturday, November 5. Tickets are presently on sale for $2.50.

The background story of this star who will appear at the Tampa Homecoming is entertaining in itself.

Although Joni is such a success, her story is far from the Cinderella type of thing. The remarkable thing about her career is that she didn't start as a singer. Joni, whose family was far from well-to-do, worked long and hard as a dancer. She studied to be a ballet dancer and displayed a great deal of talent. However, fate stepped in, and due to a long illness, she had to stop dancing. Desolate, because of her unfulfilled love for dancing, she put a nightclub act together in which she danced a little and supplemented it with a few vocal numbers.

DEAR INTERESTED FAN:

A serious illness has afflicted one of the allies of the mighty Spartan team. This disease, while not yet considered fatal, has weakened this arm of the University of Tampa considerably. Recovery is being prayed and watched for by members of the family. All hope this illness will not prove contagious and therefore deadly to all other affiliated groups. The DISEASE has been diagnosed by experts as LACK OF COOPERATION AND MEMBERSHIP. The afflicted one is the University of Tampa MARCHING BAND.

Complications may arise. The band will be unable to participate fully or, perhaps, at all in halftime show during football games. School spirit which arises and swells in conjunction with victorious and encouraging musical strands during games may dwindle.

Cause and effects of illness are indistinguishable. Lack of band membership may be attributed to lack of school spirit. On the other hand, school spirit relies on the band to a very large extent.

The cure has been discovered. However, those who possess it apparently are unaware of the crisis. It is hoped that those who are capable and deserving of the honor of becoming band members will rally round and hasten the cure. Tampa University and its Spartans deserve a band with both quality and quantity.

DIAGNOSIS — KNOWN!

CURE — APPARENT!

Team Needs A Band; Band Needs Members

Let's face it, band music and football go together. The "Mighty Mites" of Tampa U. went all out, along with the rest of the folks in the stands, at least some of the others in the stands, to break that tie with Furman. We all know that bandmen are the biggest hams in the business, and they like nothing better than getting out on the field during half-time and making up for the sitting around on their cases during the first half. Remember the Furman show?

But what's this? The Tampa U. band sat by in the stands and watched? The biggest show-offs in the South, and they didn't try to best the "Hurricanes" musically. Pri-thee why?

There's no reason to blame the conductor, for Prof. Wiley is the best in our book . . . look at the fantabulous record the band struck up last year, when Prof. Wiley took over the helm. Last year the band reached an all-time high musically and grew to over fifty members . . . a fine showing for the first year in Tampa for Prof. Wiley.

Maybe the scholarships aren't there to enable the students to participate in music. I guess musicians have gotten used to being underpaid, but they do have to eat. Unlike many students who can work in the afternoons and evenings, musicians, especially bandmen, have to be provided for in some manner, since their rehearsal time is in direct conflict with job time.

Some, miraculously I might add, do work and play in the band, but others, for example a fine trombonist here at the University, who is in school now, but unable to be in the band this semester, because he wasn't provided for adequately.

This of course, only cites one of many examples of similar situations. Evidently the band is pretty important, what with the support it has received in the past from Tampans, such as the effort this past summer to send the band along with the football team, to show its stuff at the Alabama game, and in that the administration had promised a "potful of players" for next fall, but let's admit the facts, the band needs help now, both from the administration and the student body.

So we have about 40 members this year . . . not even a large enough gang to spell out the good old "T.U." on the football field no matter how solid or full of spirit the band sounds musically. The band is tops in every way . . . except in numbers. Why is the band smaller than last year? Well, even bandmen graduate some day, and a certain number have to drop out each year for reasons assorted, including the above mentioned financial problem. The usual way of filling chairs is to get the Freshmen to step in when others have to step off the carousel, but this year's crop seems very reluctant to do so.

So we come to a crucial question: "Why not join the band?" If you've had band experience, you know the satisfaction that comes with working with a solid band organization. Prof. Wiley is tops to work with, to say nothing of the present bandmen. Well, why say more . . . you've heard the group perform, and you know that the band needs you, to coin a phrase.

Contact any member of the band for information, or catch Prof. Wiley in his office, Room 404, or bring your "Axe" to the next rehearsal. The band meets MWF in the GCR building.

SPARTAN 11 DESERVES ROOT'N TOOT'N BAND

To the Editor of the Minaret:

Congratulations to your wonderful Spartan team! After seeing them in action Saturday night at the Furman game, I am sure we will all be proud of them in every game this season.

I would also like to make some comments on your fine University band. Your band at the Furman Game played wonderful music but much more suited for a concert at the Municipal Auditorium or Plant Park. A "football" band is supposed to create a feeling of excitement and enthusiasm for both players and spectators and last but not least play music suitable for a football game.

From the comments of many fans seated close to me and in my own opinion your band fell flat at the Furman Game.

Let us hope that by the time you have another home game your band will be real rousing root'n toot'n, rock'em sock'em football band. Your fine team deserves this.

Sincerely yours,

A loyal fan

REPRINT FROM THE TIMES

Tampa University Flourishes In The Face of Critical Times

The enrollment at the University of Tampa this week has erased any lingering doubts that the downtown college would suffer because of the opening of the new University of South Florida in the Temple Terrace vicinity.

Current estimates place the 1960 enrollment at Tampa U. around 1,900, well over the 1959 total. Students come from many states and foreign countries, in addition to those who originate within the local area.

We do not hesitate to predict that the University of Tampa will continue its growth regardless of the appeal of USF or Florida Presbyterian in Pinellas County. Simple statistics demonstrate that Florida will need all the college classrooms it can muster in the immediate future. High schools are turning out more and more seniors who plan to continue their studies—and more students are realizing that they must have at least a measure of college training if they expect to compete on a favorable basis in the business and professional world.

This is the era of the specialist. The successful person of today must possess a talent or knowledge which has commercial value in modern society. The high school graduate is better off than the student who drops out without acquiring a degree, but the student who has college training is even better off. And the more pronounced the specialty, the more valuable is the individual who possesses it.

The University of Tampa has shown a steady rate of growth, improving both in its physical plant and faculty. It is a source of pride to Tampans and enhances the downtown area. Its development should also be a source of pride to its students and graduates.

There is little danger that it will die on the vine because of competition from other schools. Rather, we expect to see it grow and prosper—serving the state and the community for many generations to come.

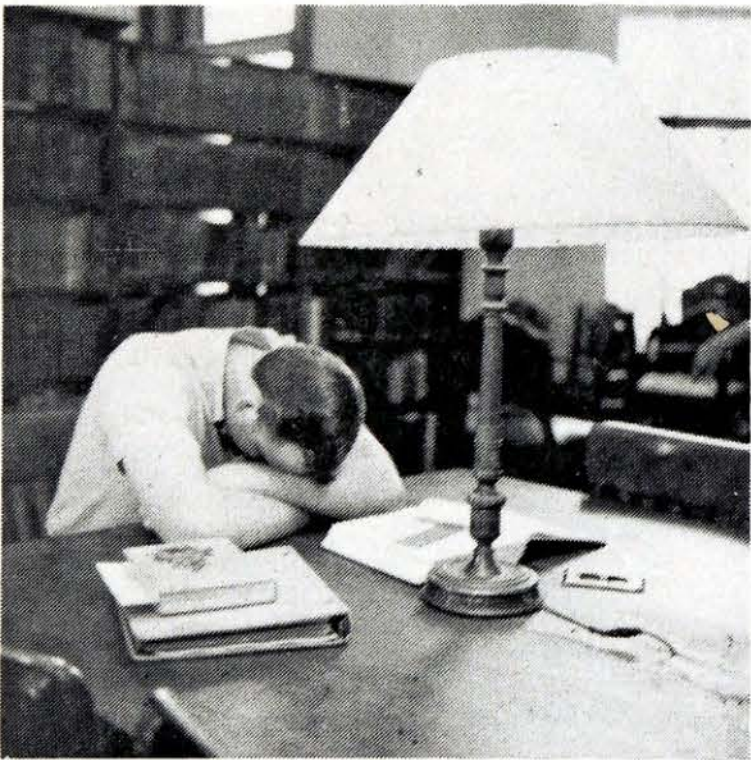

THIS IS LIFE AT TAMPA U.

Esmeralda reigns on high, as students dance around and pay homage.

During the day . . . signs play an important part in the life of every student.

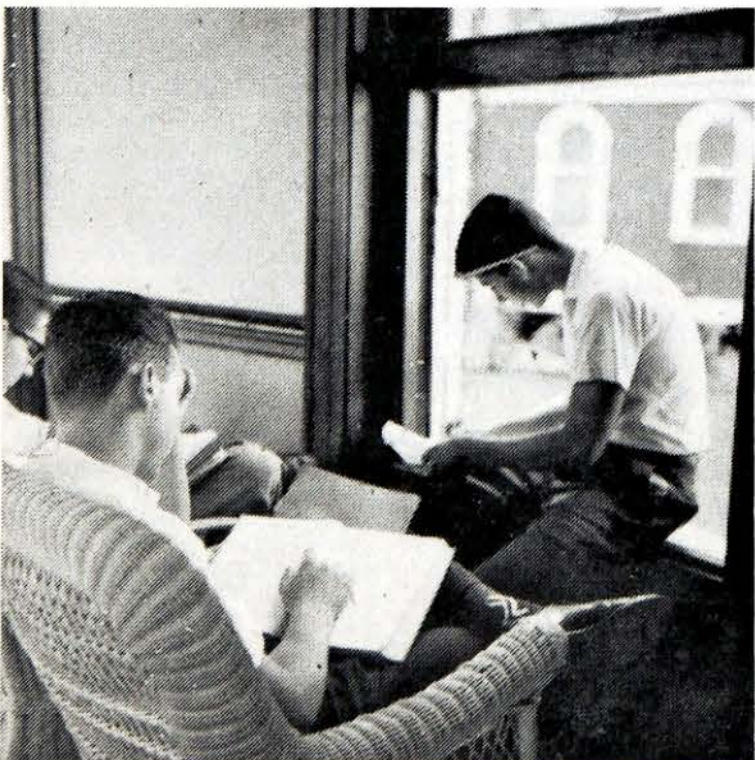

Deliberation is the father of invention.

He keeps insisting that it's the Kremlin.

Oh, what day this has been!

Ah! That air-conditioning is just like a breath of fresh air!

Nothing like a little gathering to get things organized.

Potpourri

"Retreat From Sublimity"

Calhoo! Calhoo! Welcome once again to the legions of confused thoughts and wandering words. We invite you to sit back, relapse with us, and forget the madness of the world about you. Throw your troubles to the laughing winds, confuse your organized thoughts and join us in our joyous babblings.

Potpourri spent a most enjoyable summer. Worked (very little) then hit the road by way of the proverbial thumb to sample the world outside. While lolling "neath the waving palms" of Daytona Beach, two most interesting bits from the vaporous philosophic past suddenly invaded our minds and shook the very roots of our shallow but precious reasoning power. Seems this grown-up Lolita type form came vibrating past our canned location and some one remarked, "Look at her, she's as brown as a berry." Now immediately we set gear to gear, trying to recall a berry that's brown. No luck. Think about it sometime. So we returned to our reading of our sand sprinkled edition of historical masterpieces and became enraptured with the profoundness of some eloquent bits of choice knowledge from some of our benevolent and blessed fore fathers. And we read "... all men are created equal ..." Now perhaps this is true, but since women were awarded suffrage some time back and given rights and privileges and all that jazz, we wholeheartedly advocate a revision of the above statement based on beachtime observations. Yes it's amazing what one can accomplish if he will just put himself to a little constructive thinking.

Potpourri is, as we have said oftentimes before, supposedly a readers column. We have, however, in our two years of insane mutterings received only one decent contribution which we printed last year sometime. Unless you send us some of your own stuff, we will be forced to start printing our own verses again. So regardless of ability, subject, dialect or tongue, we invite you to take pen in hand and trill forth in harmonious ditty your joys and woes as the case may be. We will consider anything printable: verses, essays, short stories, novels or just plain unadulterated nonsense. Address your tear-stained and perspiration-drenched works to "Literary Emancipators" in care of the Minaret. All serious contributions will be discriminately evaluated for publication in this column. Any Nobel Prize winners will be announced at a later date.

A moment's glance at the news on the world-wide scene. A woman has been successful thus far in the field of rockets. A pretty 29-year-old blonde pilot became the first woman to get by the astronauts test. Potpourri is wondering whether she can get by the astronauts ... This was probably the worst TV summer in history. Even the satellites were sending back re-runs.

The editor just turned the screw, so as a voice crying forth from the wilderness, we leave you this parting work for the day — Smile, and girls, don't forget those white gloves.

Remember when . . .

TAMPA U. LABS WERE IN KITCHEN, ALL PROFESSORS BOARDED UPSTAIRS

In 1929 Frederic H. Spaulding began to encourage the beginning of a university for Tampa. Two years later his efforts took form in Tampa Junior College. The first registration was held at Hillsborough High School, where classes were also held.

The original school colors were blue and gold. Since the two high schools of Tampa used the colors of red and black and gold and black, it was decided to use a combination of these colors, hence the red, gold and black of today. The Spartan name was chosen because the schools main rivals were to be the St. Petersburg Trojans.

The next two years were lean but encouraging. Students paid their tuition in cash, insurance policies, deeds on homes, or by notes. It took the combined efforts of the trustees, the administration, the faculty, and the student body to keep the new school going. Money was scarce, members of the faculty literally donated their time, the budget did not always balance.

Difficult Time in the Depression

There was nothing easy about starting a college during the depression, but there was a need for the college. At the end of two years the trustees decided that Tampa Junior College should become the University of Tampa. The decision was made in the middle of the school year, but Tampa University really came into being when the permanent site was chosen. There had been a debate between two sites, one on Davis Islands and the other the Tampa Bay Hotel. When the city offered to lease the hotel to the university for ten years at a dollar a year, the trustees decided that this was too good an offer to ignore.

Members of the faculty moved into the apartments of the building to help save rent. Boys of the student body worked with A. S. McCurdie to prepare the building for the students. The building had been a resort hotel built by H. B. Plant in 1891. It is a replica of a Moorish Castle. In many ways it was ideal for a college. The wide porches on the front and back of the building were perfect for students to gather on. Dormitories, classrooms, offices, and even the physical education department were all placed in one building.

Kitchen Used For Lab

The kitchens proved nearly ideal for the science laboratories. The ladies' parlor served as the library. It is now the ballroom. The physical education offices were located on the second floor north until the city gave TU some barracks that had belonged to the coast guard. The building was floated down the river on two barges and unloaded at Plant Park. The building still serves as the Athletic department.

The football team began with borrowed equipment. Team members practiced on the vacant athletic field at Hillsborough High School. They waded through sandspurs. Games were played against such teams as Miami, Rollins, St. Petersburg Junior College, and MacDill Field.

FEA members gather to plan about Homecoming float.

FEA Will Enter Float In Parade

Last Thursday night in the Tampa University Ballroom the first meeting of the F.E.A. for this year was held by the young student teacher group.

The newly elected president, Miss Pat Alvarez, presided over the meeting. The treasurer's report was given by Miss Mary Ann Diaz. She announced that permission had been granted to enter a float in the Homecoming Parade. Miss Sylvia Rivero was named chairman of the decorations committee with Miss Mary Ann Diaz as co-chairman. Work will begin on the float next week.

Other appointments were those of Elaine Marichal and Mary Ann Ferlita to the Hospitality Committee, Onie Roes to the Refreshment Committee, and Mrs. Nina Sinsley, Carmel Parino and Milton H. Smith to the Publicity Committee. Invocation was given by Marion Pederson.

Dr. Ralph E. Stout, the club sponsor, was the principal speaker for the evening. He gave a speech on Professionalism and what it means to aspiring teachers.

Some seventy-five people attended the gathering, among them Dr. James K. Umholtz and Professor James Chambers.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The first annual homecoming occurred on November 15, 1935. Many of the graduates were only a few months out of Tampa University. The parade was noisy and exciting. Horn-blowing cars and the music of two fine bands — Stetson and Tampa University — heralded the First Homecoming.

Tampa University was doing well when World War II began. Then, the faculty decreased. Student enrollment was almost as low as it had been during the beginning years of the school. With most of the men off fighting the war, TU became almost a girls' school. But, 1942-43 brought the Eighteenth College Training Detachment of the Army Air Corps. The dorms were turned over to these young men while the girls moved to an old home on Bayshore Drive.

With the end of the war things picked up at Tampa University. There were difficulties that prevented the college from taking full advantage of the GI students as did such Universities as Miami, Houston, and St. Louis. Still, the school began to grow. There were troubled times, but TU was growing and becoming a real part of the city of Tampa.

TU Accredited in 1951

December 6, 1951 will be remembered by many people. Dr. Nance and Dean Rhodes, in a formal announcement, told the student body that the University of Tampa was now accredited. A spontaneous parade circled Tampa. Jubilant students filled the halls. Classes were dismissed for the rest of that week. Tampa University had arrived.

And that is the story of the University of Tampa. For those who would like to know more details about the university there is a book in the library written by Drs. Covington and Laub entitled The Story of the University of Tampa.

NEIL REYNOLDS IS PRESIDENT OF SIGMA TAU DELTA FRAT

The first meeting of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English Fraternity was held Sunday, Oct. 2, in the Ballroom of the University of Tampa.

The next meeting of Sigma Tau Delta will be held on October 23.

TU CONVOCATION WAS TELEVISED

On Sept. 20, in the Municipal Auditorium, the opening Convocation for the University of Tampa was televised live over station WTVT.

The program began with a procession of the faculty members in their academic robes to the "Grand March" by Schmidt, played by the University Band under the direction of Mr. Hunter N. Wiley.

The invocation was given by Rabbi David L. Zielonka. After announcements by the Dean of Administration, Dr. M. C. Rhodes, Mr. Charles F. Blake, the Chairman of the Board of Trustees, greeted the faculty and student body.

Following a piano selection played by Miss Karen Cappell, Dr. Delo, President of the University, gave his address, "Courage or Catastrophe". The benediction was given by Dr. Willis J. Dunn.

Jury Finds Freshmen Guilty; Judge Sentences Rats In Trial

THE HONORABLE SANDRA RODRIGUEZ HEARS CASE OF UPPER-CLASSMEN VS. RATS.

Final Freshman initiation took place September 28, in the traditional Rat Court.

As custom has it, Rat Court is held by the Sophomore class officers. This year the judge was the honorable Sandy Rodriguez, Acting President of the Sophomore class. The prosecuting attorney was Josi Pendina. Yolanda Gonzalez, Nora Pallerio, Bob Gerald, all sophomore class members, and additional upperclassmen served on the jury.

The Rats lined up in the lobby, barefooted and on their hands and knees. They were frisked and then allowed to enter. A formal reception line swept them clean with brooms. The rats were tried and found guilty as charged on all counts.

Sentenced, blindfolded and taken to the tennis courts, they were decorated in a manner becoming such lowly and wretched creatures. Such things as molasses, live snails, spaghetti, garlic, flour, and lots of rain were used to make the Rats more acceptable to society. These Rats are now considered full fledged members of the University.

Dr. Harvey Maier

Faculty Interview

DR. MAIER JOINS UNIVERSITY FAMILY

Dr. Harvey Maier has joined the Tampa University faculty of the music department.

Dr. Maier, a native of Verona, North Dakota, is qualified for this position. He received his BA degree from State Teachers College in Valley City, North Dakota; his MA at the University of Washington in Seattle, Washington; and his Ed.D from Columbia University, New York, New York. He has been teaching for thirty years, enjoying each year because of his many rewarding experiences.

He is now living at 3611 Beicher Drive with his wife Lola Elizabeth, his son James who is attending the University of Tennessee, and Julie who is attending a local high school. His oldest son, Harvey, Junior, is in the Armed Forces.

Hurricane Donna

To the query "How do you like Tampa?" Dr. Maier replied "We came on August 29, and were thoroughly initiated by Hurricane Donna."

He feels that Tampa U is one of the busiest places he has seen, and he feels that TU has great future possibilities. He said of the students, "They are most friendly, courteous, and thoroughly enjoyable." He is, however, disappointed by number of students who went out for chorus. He is optimistic about future groups because he feels that when the members begin to talk about the fun they have in choir others will sign up quickly.

A Good Teacher

When asked about the future, Dr. Maier said, "We in the music department are striving to graduate a good teacher in music as well as a good musician."

Dr. Maier and his choir are holding an oratorical November 12 at eight o'clock with the community choirs. The public is invited to attend free of charge.

Judy Summerlin of Tampa was chosen secretary-treasurer. A graduate of Plant High she is president of the Florida Federation of Music Clubs and has played with the Tampa Philharmonic.

George Kay of Laurelton, New York was elected representative.

RELIGION TAKES THE FOREGROUND

SPIRITUAL VALUES

By Rev. Thomas S. Simmons

"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." Proverbs 22:6

So many times when young people leave home something amazing happens to them. They have a new found freedom. For the first time, in many cases, they are on their own. This is a very good transition in many cases—to a certain extent.

Whenever a young person comes to college he must face certain important problems and question, some of these may well be: "Shall I join a Greek organization," "Shall I drink, or smoke, or dance, or any one of many things that we may have been taught not to do," and "shall I consider my studies more important than other activities?" Although there are all these questions to be answered, I believe there is one question more important than all these others. It is, "What shall I do about the spiritual values I have developed in my life thus far?"

A person may answer this question in different ways, but most surely the desire to keep these values will be prevalent. Now the question arises, "How can I do this?" There are many answers, but the most prominent would be: Discover, or recover, your spiritual values, develop them further, and become a non-conformist with them. Now, I don't mean to become a knot on a log, but I do mean to hold true to your convictions.

As we continue down the avenue to study and success, I believe this to be one of the most important bits of advice, to offer a person. DISCOVER, OR RECOVER, YOUR SPIRITUAL VALUES, DEVELOP THEM FURTHER, AND BECOME A NON-CONFORMIST WITH THEM.

Student Organizations

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The BSU has started having its program for the year. Two weeks before school we had an "Off to College Rally" for all the Baptist Students in Tampa, St. Pete and Lakeland. There were about 35 or 40 students present.

This year the BSU meets twice a week. On Monday we meet at 12:00 noon and on Thursday at 11:00 A. M. Everyone in the school is welcome and all Baptist Students are members. Our meeting room is above the library. See you there?

METHODIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

This year the Methodist Student Movement is going to function if the Methodist Students will attend. Rev. Fern Wolfe announced that the tentative meeting date will be Thursday from 11:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. If you are interested, please come to the meetings. If another meeting time would be better, please contact Rev. Wolfe. See you there?

WESTMINSTER SOCIETY

Norma Blancato, president, has requested that all of the 170 students, registered as Presbyterian, attend the meetings. This year the meetings will be bi-monthly. On the first Wednesday they will meet at 12:00 noon, and on the third Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. Blue Print For The Future Is '60 Homecoming Theme

"A Blueprint for the Future" has been officially announced as the 1960 Homecoming theme by the Student Senate.

Featured in the Homecoming parade, November 5, 1960 will be the various floats created by the fraternities, sororities, and independent organizations on campus. It has been emphasized that all floats pertain to the Homecoming theme and that no professional help be used in any manner. Another point stressed by the Student Senate is that no adornments previously used on other floats (i.e. Gasparilla Parade floats) be used on Homecoming Parade floats. Trophies will be awarded in the various categories.

Skits should also be in accordance with the Homecoming theme. They must be original and not based on material used in previous years. The skits will be presented by Greek and other organizations on October 31, 1960 in the Municipal Auditorium. Three impartial judges will be present to rate each skit accordingly. The winning skit will be awarded a trophy.

Also revolving around the Homecoming theme will be the campus lawn displays surrounding the university. Expected to add much to the Homecoming spirit and the university's appearance, the displays will be arranged by the various campus organizations. Again, originality is stressed by the judges who will award a trophy to the organization with the best lawn display.

Presentations of the different awards will take place on the evening of the 1960 Homecoming Dance, Saturday, November 6.

Additional information regarding Homecoming will be announced presently.

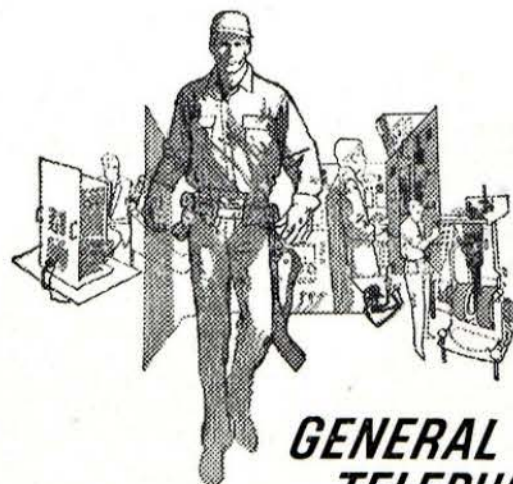

Clearing the hurdles with research

At Gen Tel, we've made a running start toward solving many of tomorrow's communications problems.

For instance, scientists at General Telephone & Electronics Laboratories are working in the uncharted area of the spectrum where radio waves take on the characteristics of light. They have already developed an experimental ultramicrowave system that may one day make possible the transmission of two million messages on a single radio beam in free space.

As a major communications company with world-wide connections, General Telephone is helping to advance the science of total communications around the globe.

Our stepped-up research in the basic sciences is but one example of the way General Telephone & Electronics combines the talents of many people and the facilities of many companies to meet the future communications needs not only of America, but the whole world.

PI KAPPA PHI

Griffin Is Archon

Pi Kappa Phi has twenty-five active brothers returning this semester. A new member is Chris Fagot.

Brother Ralph Griffin is serving as Archon for the fraternity. This summer he attended the Pi Kappa Phi National Convention held at Louisville, Kentucky.

Also in Pi Kap headlines this semester would be the fact that they hold a top position in intramurals. Rated high among the brothers who participated this far, would be Ross Jett who has demonstrated outstanding ability in the field of fencing. Ross, along with Dick Plum and Chris Jordan have also posed quite a threat for the opposition in the Horseshoe Tournament.

A dance was held by Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity on October 8. Music was furnished by the Rockers.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Judy Dearing

Girls Sport Active Pins

With initiation a memory in the past, and Homecoming a dream of the future, the initiates already have begun working for Alpha Chi. The nine new additions are Dana Bass, Diane Beniger, Donna Beniger, Ann Burton, Judy Dearing, Josie (Sis) Ferlita, Carole Martin, Linda Pisani and Ginger Sutton.

Each issue the sorority hopes to introduce one of these girls to you, so that you might get to know her better. This week Judy Dearing will be featured.

Judy is a native of Huntington, West Virginia. All three years of high school she was a member of Student Council and was also voted "Student of the Month" in her junior year. This is her second year at Tampa U. where she is majoring in Psychology and minoring in English. She is also a member of the Moroccan staff. Judy hopes to go into social work when she graduates.

Two Alpha Chis have been chosen to run for Homecoming Queen this year — Judy Yavornik is being sponsored by the Tekes, and Sue Foster is being sponsored by Alpha Chi.

THETA CHI

Boys See Miss America Contest

Theta Chi brothers, Andrew Mirabole, Louis Giunta, Ralph Lazara, and Rene Carrerra recently completed three days of fun and study at Atlantic City, where the 104th Anniversary Convention of Theta Chi Fraternity was held. They attended a school of fraternity practices, which is to instruct brothers to better leadership and to interest undergraduates in fraternity principles. Part of the convention included reserved seat tickets to the Miss America Pageant. The hotel in which they stayed, roomed four of the contestants.

The year started out with Theta Chi's holding the first script dance.

In the field of sports, the Theta Chi's chalked up a winner against the Pi Kappa Phi's: a twelve to nothing win.

Theta Chi Fraternity is sponsoring Yvonne Bretz of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority for Homecoming Queen candidate.

DELTA ZETA

Prexy Visits Movieland

During this fall semester you will see many smiling D.Z.s on campus. They would like you to meet some of their most active sisters. Vivacious "little mite" Gail Davis is head cheerleader. Seen at the games with Gail are the D.Z. dancettes Teresa Papia, Diana Barbary, and Marie Boykin. They have two able representatives to the Student Congress. They are Marie Goding, senior class and Josie Pendino, sophomore class. Last but not least are their newest sorority officers: 2nd vice-president, Diana Barbary; corresponding secretary, Beverly Ardisana; historian, Sharon Weaver; activities chairman, Mary Ann Fox; standards chairman, Teresa Papia; scholarship chairman, Sharon Weaver; parliamentarian, Cianne Periran and intramurals chairman, Beverly Ardisana.

Dr. Ralph E. Stout is the new Delta Zeta scholarship advisor.

During the summer, Iris Williams, college chapter administrator, and Yoli Martino, president of Delta Zeta, attended the 26th National Delta Zeta Convention in California. After days of food, talk, celebrities (which included William Hopper, better known as Paul Drake of the Perry Mason Show) awards, nominations, study courses, and interest groups, D.Z.s returned to Tampa, tired but bubbling over with new ideas and inspirations. The convention was said to be the biggest ever.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

"Pop" Comes Back To T.U.

The Epsilon Beta Chapter of Tau Kappa Epsilon placed the welcome mat out this year as Professor Harold E. "Pop" Carmony returned for his sixth year as chapter advisor. Last year his work with the fraternity was briefly interrupted by illness, during which time Professor Michael Doran served as advisor.

Miss Judy Yavornik, President of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority, has been selected as the Tekes candidate for homecoming queen this year. The fraternity is now drawing up plans for the campaign.

The Tekes will hold their script dance October 22, after the Mc Neese game. The public is invited. An excellent band has been selected for the evening.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Frat. Active in Football

Opening of the fall semester finds fraternity president, John Mitchell, holding the reins as president of the student body. Aside from his presidential duties John is one of the top-ranking members of the football team. With John on the football team are: brothers: Dave Davenport, Toby Holbrook, Bob Banks, John Hanna, Ronnie Perez, David Mitchell, Nelson Guggino, Hollis Curling, and pledges: Dick Tully, Charlie Bailey and Bill Yeagle.

Those fraternity members not on the football team started the season with their initial cocktail party before the Furman game. The party was also attended by alumni who returned to start the season off right.

On Sunday of the same weekend formal initiation was held. Joe De Lauri, Hollis Curling, Ronnie Perez and Dave Mitchell were initiated.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity is sponsoring Sylvia Fernandez of Sigma Sigma Sorority as candidate for Homecoming Queen.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Have Highest Scholastic Average

Zetas are finding October to be their "busy" month with Homecoming and the Zeta Spook Stomp almost at hand. The main project now is Homecoming and Zetas are busily drawing floats, practicing skits, and searching for brilliant ideas for lawn displays.

Zeta Tau Alpha is campaigning for all three of the girls who have been chosen by school organizations to run for Homecoming Queen. Vilma Tamargo is sponsored by the Lettermen's Club, Roseanne Ginchett by Pi Kappa Phi, and Yvonne Bretz by Theta Chi.

Studios Zetas have been rewarded with the announcement that Zeta Tau Alpha has the highest sorority average on campus for the year!

Mary Ester Valido has been chosen Associate Editor of the Moroccan and is now working alongside Andrew Mirabole, Editor, to produce a bigger and better annual in 1961.

October 15th is Founders' Day for the Zetas, and actives and members are planning to attend a luncheon to be held at the Tropics Restaurant in honor of the occasion.

Sigma Sigma Sigma

Mirabole Is Named Editor In Chief

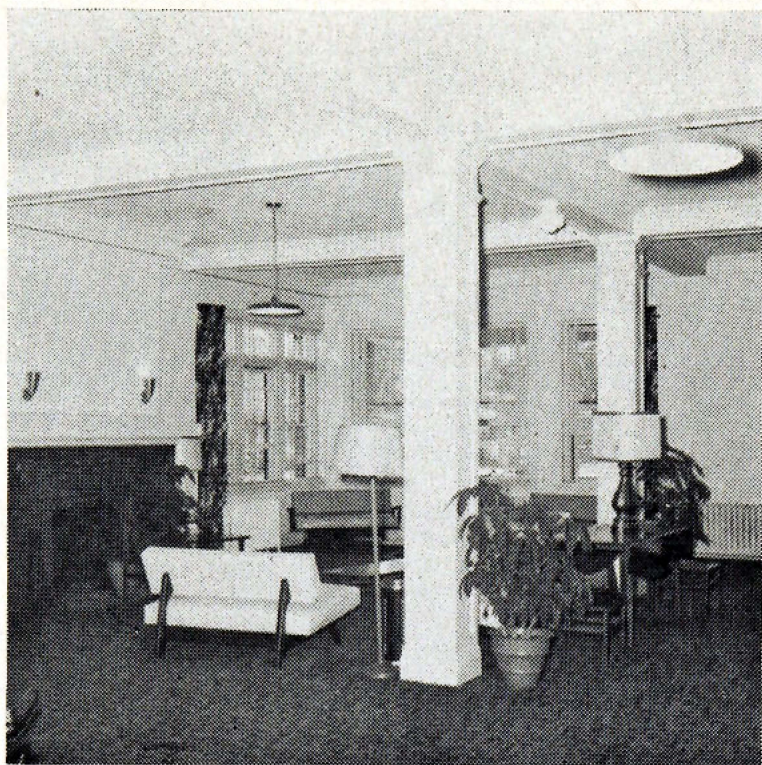

Heading the new staff which will produce a "better than ever" Moroccan annual this year is Andrew Mirabole, the newly appointed editor. Working along with him are Mary Ester Valido, Assistant Editor, and Walter Sadolowski, Business Manager. Andrew and Walter were chosen by the Publications Committee.

The new crew has been hard at work since the beginning of the semester. Class pictures were taken during registration week in a tremendous effort to have all students photographed.

A superb and complete annual is promised the student body and the entire Moroccan staff welcomes any comments or criticisms that will help it attain its goal.

Lobby of "Lykes Hall" has been completely re-decorated.

LYKES $200,000 PURITAN HOTEL IS TIMELY GIFT TO TAMPA UNIVERSITY

The contribution of the Puritan Hotel by Lykes Brothers created new space for male students. Needless to say the university could not have received this $200,000 gift at a more important time.

All of the rooms and halls have been covered with tile flooring. New lavatories and faucets were installed along with hot water pipes. The interior has been completely painted and the walls have been reinforced with steel.

The lobby and social hall have been furnished with modern furniture. The social hall is the former dining hall. The house mother's apartment has been renovated.

Many of the electrical fixtures were replaced and much of the wiring was restored.

There is still much work to be done, but the Puritan has acquired a new face and atmosphere.

DANCERETTE DESCRIBES SCHEDULE

"Mighty Marching Spartans" Work Constantly to Improve Their Shows

by Yolanda Martinez

Shouts and cries of all ranges can be heard as you stand at attention. You say to yourself, "I'm not nervous. I'm fine." But your knees quiver all the same. You wait . . . Suddenly, the sound of a whistle pierces the air, the drums roll, and you are off in quick, snappy cadence as the Spartan Marching Band crosses the field.

When the half-time show is over, it seems almost incredible that so many hours of practice and preparation come to an end in such a short performance. But, they do. And every band member from instrumentalist to dancerette has accepted this responsibility: to practice and perform. With the Saturday night show over each one looks forward to Monday to start practice for the next show.

What does practice involve? Plenty! With only a week to prepare before showtime, the band spends hours upon hours in pursuit of perfection.

Constant rehearsals keep all band members busy. Whether held in the band room or on the football field, practice hours are long and tedious. But, the spirit is contagious and every member of the band is ready to help another with serious advice or a joke.

Together the band members work to produce a good show for Tampa University.

Hard work doesn't end with the football season either. The Spartan Band begins to prepare for parades. Again, the trumpets blow as many sidewalk audiences applaud the passing Spartans.

Existing hand in hand with the strenuous work is the unity of spirit and informal congeniality of the band members. Be it directions, criticism, signals or what have you, every individual is ready to help the next one with a smile.

The work may be strenuous but if the crowds are enthusiastic, if student spirit is aroused and hearts cry out "Our Tampa U!" the Mighty Marching Spartans have not worked in vain.

JONI JAMES STARS . . .

She traveled the midwest and gained much experience; soon people began responding to the supplementary part of the act and before long most of it consisted of singing. However, her skyrocket rise started when she was heard doing a T.V. commercial by composer-arranger Lew Douglas.

Lew Douglas recommended her to MGM executives for a recording session. Her first record "Why Don't You Believe Me?" was a smash hit, to the amazement of Miss James.

Soon the remarkable singer had three records on the Top Ten and within six months received four Gold Records. This is a first in the music industry which has never been matched.

It is estimated that Joni has sold over 40 million records and is considered the top recording artist at MGM.

The "Golden Girl" has also acquired one Gold LP and a Platinum LP and yet she'll tell you that she has never been formally educated in music. She attributes her success to her "love of music."

Besides her many appearances on T.V. on such shows as the Ed Sullivan Show, the Perry Como Show, and the Milton Berle Show, Joni has made many appearances all over the country. She has also toured England, the continent and many countries around the world, which included the Far East. These tours were very successful as were her T.V. appearances.

She has made numerous appearances before U. S. servicemen all over the world and has often been voted the favorite singer of men in uniform.

Miss James is married to Tony Aquaviva, who is also the arranger-conductor of her many personal appearances. It is difficult to pick only one particular instance where Joni James excelled. One example of the widespread popularity is her reception at Carnegie Hall where there is standing room only for her performance.

To the many fans who buy Joni's records she is more than a singer. She is a real person whose emotional depths project real and lasting comfort.

The Dreambeat

I don't care what the polls say, it's too late to run Huntley-Brinkley.

By Bernie McGovern

We were over at my place watching the "memorable" and "historical" television debate between Kennedy and Nixon when it became apparent that neither one of them knew more about the domestic and foreign issues than did Sander Van Oer and his cohorts.

So why doesn't someone nominate Van Oer even if it's only the National County Rights Party that does it? A kind of footnote to those who have never heard of the National County Rights Party should be inserted here to explain that it is virtually nonexistent beyond the confines of my living room. Party members, as a note of courtesy, should be referred to by the prefix "Fanatic."

Any one who is wide-eyed and innocent has noticed that America's news reporters and analysts have a much firmer grip on the issues than any of the avowed candidates. But once again it comes down to the age old battle between liberals and conservatives over which of these men to run for the presidency.

The liberals think the finest choice would be Walter Lippman who is particularly liked by, not only liberals, but administrators because of his famed stand on white gloves downtown. Can you imagine a dream ticket of Walter Lippman and Howard K. Smith? My God!! But even better than that would be Walter Lippman and Edward R. Murrow. I mean is it all fair to overlook Edward R. Murrow? Yes, but that's only going from bad to worse. How about a ticket of Edward R. Murrow and Eric Severeid. Both are experienced and Severeid has been dying to get out on Coney Island in his shirt sleeves because everyone has seen him on television. Actually, to clear up the record, which is kind of silly during a campaign, no one has ever really seen Severeid but we've all heard him at one time or another. He won honorable mention as the voice of Dogey Daddy.

But with Murrow and Severeid running what would we do with Lippman? We could make him ambassador to France, De Gaulle would like that, or better yet, we could make him Secretary of State and then everyone would have a chance at him. As for Howard K. Smith, well, he's young yet and can afford to wait another few years.

On the conservative side there's Huntley and Brinkley. Of course, we'd still have to find someone to run for the vice-presidency because Huntley-Brinkley is really only one guy with a good makeup artist. Besides, the nation could really use a comedian in the White House, someone who could go to the Congo and yuk it up.

We really don't know who's going to win the power struggle within the National County Rights Party, the liberals or the conservatives, or even if the nation is ready for a third party made up of experts. While the two major parties battle for power, ours can discuss the issues.

"Goodnight, Dave; Goodnight, Ghet; Goodnight Walt; Goodnight Wayne; Goodnight World.

Fraternity Welcomes New Band Members

Kappa Kappa Psi, honorary band fraternity, sincerely welcomes new members of the band to the University of Tampa. They're sure that students will enjoy their stay here and have an interesting as well as an adventurous year. Big plans are in preparation for the coming year. The band plans to attend as many football games as possible, will present several concerts throughout the year, and will join in many other activities on campus as well as off campus.

Professor Hunter N. Wiley says that despite the size of the band this year, it has good sound, strength, and flexibility. Senior members of the band stand firmly behind these convictions of Professor Wiley, and are striving for the utmost in musical excellence.

As the new school year opened with ceremonies and processions in the Municipal Auditorium on Tuesday, September 20, likewise the band began its year by playing for the occasion. This first appearance of the university band in the beginning days of our school's Thirtieth Anniversary shows that the band is ever active in school affairs. The band helped "kick-off" the football season by playing for the first pep-rally on Friday, September 23, and attending the game the following day. On the civic side of things, the band participated in a parade on Monday, October 3, initiating the 1960 United Fund Drive.

Once again Kappa Kappa Psi extends the hand of friendship to all new members of the band.

★ WOMEN IN THE NEWS ★

Skirts are shorter! Co-eds on campus are following the trend faithfully.

Youthfulness Is the Byword In Newest Fashion Trends

by Dro Tyler

As the Paris designers reveal their newest designs for feminine fashion, bits of fashion news slip out.

Skirts are short! Plum is the newest color. The bare looks are covering up. Big sweaters and puffy hair do create the demure look. Youthfulness is the byword. With these clues from Paris a college girl can strike out for high fashion.

It is exciting to watch the newest fashions as they are displayed. It is fun to go shopping and try the newest styles. But, each girl should remember that she is an individual. She should experiment with the new fashions, try them on, see how they look on her, then she can choose what is best for her.

Wardrobe Depends on Budget

If a girl's budget allows, she is free to purchase some of the more extreme styles. Fashions do change rapidly, and the wisest girl finds styles that look best on her and follows those trends. The most vivid example is the sack dress. Nearly every girl has one new outdated sack of some variation hanging in her closet. The smarter girls have converted these dresses into housecoats, pj's, or even sports clothes.

Hemlines Are Higher

Hemlines are another cause for confusion. Not many people look good with their knees exposed. It only requires a few minutes for several girls to get together pins and a hem marker to decide just exactly what length looks best for each girl. Full skirts should be a little shorter than sheath skirts. The proper length flatters a girl by giving her more grace, by showing off her legs to best advantage, and by producing an overall neat appearance.

Make-up Is Of Primary Importance

Makeup is often cause for concern. The girl whose nose ends up shining before the middle of the morning can take hints from this tip. Apply powder by blotting it on with a puff of cotton. Wait a few minutes, then brush the powder off with downward strokes. This gives a finished look to the make-up. The powder clings better because the make-up base had a chance to absorb the powder. The downward strokes create a smoother finish.

Subtlety Is The Call of the Day

Eye make-up is doubly important with the fashion focus upon it. Subtlety is the byword here. The eyebrow pencil should blend with the natural coloring. Very few people are able to wear black eyebrow because it gives too harsh an air to the face. Eyeshadow should be just the shadow of a color; hint not a slash. Mascara is a problem. It sticks in gobs, it runs, it does everything wrong. First mascara must match the eyebrow pencil (Boys notice this!). Two light applications are better than one. Apply the mascara once, powder, let dry, and apply a second coat. Don't forget to apply make-up and powder to the eyelids, too.

Lipstick comes in many shades. The choice of color should be made according to the color of the costume. If the natural line of the lip is unsatisfactory, then experiment and alter it. Remember though, that a lipstick brush is an absolute must for this. If your lipstick comes off quickly, try the same thing that is used for mascara. Apply the lipstick, powder, apply a second coat, and then blot.

Overall appearance is most important. Clean, well pressed clothes are absolutes. Colors should be well planned. Neatness is hackneyed, but it is the only word.

It all takes time and practice. It takes mistakes, too, but is worth the effort when compliments start flowing.

Dean King Spends Week in Montreal

Our Dean of Women, Mrs. Karl F. King, spent the last week of September in Montreal, Canada, attending the fall board meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which met jointly with the Canadian Council of Women's Clubs for the first time in the history of these groups. The theme of the meeting was Community Affairs, Education, and Peace.

Mrs. King, who is chairman of the Division of Scholarships in General Federation's Department of Education, spoke at the Wednesday meeting on the subject of scholarships, placing emphasis on the appalling number of high school graduates of high scholastic attainment who are unable to attend college because of the lack of funds. She spoke again on Friday, before the two groups; this time her subject was The Gifted Child.

"One of the interesting things about Montreal," commented Dean King to this reporter, "is that it's the second largest French-speaking city in the world. All of the business in the City Hall is transacted in French.

"His Worship the Mayor," she continued, "entertained all the women at a tea. At every tea, luncheon and dinner, toasts were given to Her Majesty, the Queen, and to the President of the United States."

Another interesting little highlight of her visit to Montreal, Dean King said, was her meeting a little old lady at the breakfast Saturday and learning that she was a personal friend of the late Emily Post. "This little lady," Dean King said, "told me that Emily Post always had her table set formally for four people for dinner, even if she knew well she would sit down alone to eat. Emily Post said it gave her a sense of festivity and of hospitality to do this. The little old lady also told me," continued Dean King, "that Emily Post said she would never think of stepping out of the house without her hat and gloves." Dean King's rejoinder to this was, "Yes—I myself hate to step out of my house without looking my best, because you never can tell what interesting persons you might meet."

Azaleas Given to University Are a "Gift of a Lifetime"

If you are an observing person, you will note that something new has been added to the exterior of our historic Tampa Bay Building. Hundreds of large luxurious azaleas which promise bursting blossoms, have turned a sandy cinderly waste into a collar of "mountain greenery," almost overnight.

I watched one of the landscapers as he firmly and fatherly tucked in a proud beauty with a carefully weighed and homogenized blanket of peat, earth and redwood shavings. His movements were rhythmic and as the strokes of an anvil. He looked up at me and said, "Mrs. Delo, this is a gift of a lifetime." "Never have I seen such perfect specimens. Never have I known such generosity."

As I mulled over this astute appraisal, I wished to share it. I wished to give everyone an opportunity to say a quiet thank you too, to the "lady" who prefers to remain anonymous, to the lady who gave much of her lifetime to raise and nurture these beauties from sticks. They have been her children. One does not easily give children away.

If it were not for the cars we might set out some signs all over the campus saying "Watch this space". But do so anyway, for other oases will spring up. The Florida Nurserymen and Growers Association of the Tampa Bay Area have voted to continue the landscaping of our entire campus, making it their year's civic project. We are fortunate, for these are master minds, 100 of them, and they have BIG plans! They are furnishing shrubs, sod, ground cover and palms and other plant material, soil, transportation, and labor to create for us and for Tampa in the heart of Tampa one of the most beautiful campuses in the South.

Kelly Neuman our University gardener does not complain, though his work has increased three fold. He seems proud to be part of the growth of our University too.

"CHISELERS" DEDICATE THEMSELVES TO MAKING TU CULTURAL CENTER

The unusual name "The Chiselers" comes from their initial project—to chisel the old mortar from imported antique tile salvaged from original fireplaces in the old Tampa Bay Hotel. The positive meaning of "to chisel" is to mold or carve.

Wishing to preserve, beautify and restore the artistic building which now houses the University of Tampa the Chiselers dedicated themselves to working toward making this the cultural center for our community and the pride of Tampa.

The present project of the Chiselers is the purchasing and installation of appropriate draperies for the ballroom. These will serve to decorate the room and soften and improve its acoustics.

This organization is responsible for the retiling of the ballroom fireplaces.

The Chiselers gala dinner held recently at the Imperial House is a highlight of the Social Season.

When speaking of social activity and culture at the University of Tampa one cannot help but speak of the Chiselers, an organization whose primary aim is to preserve Tampa's traditions and to help expand Tampa's cultural and educational horizon.

SPARTANS LOSE; McCULLERS STARS

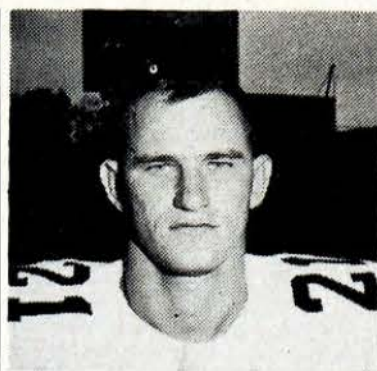

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

The University of Tampa Spartans suffered a tremendous blow last Saturday afternoon when the University of Tennessee Vols defeated them by the score 62-7. But for 15 minutes the Spartan eleven enjoyed a feat unmatched by any of Tennessee's two previous opponents this year. The Spartans were the first team to cross the goal line of the tough Southeastern Conference Volunteers.

Charlie McCullers, senior halfback from Plant City, Florida, raced from his own one-yard line after fumbling a fourth down snap from center to score Tampa's only touchdown and to give the Spartans a brief quarter lead.

McCullers was credited with an 88 yard run from against Tennessee. On this play a key block was thrown by guard Max Davis on the Tennessee 35 yard line.

The Spartans never threatened after the first quarter touchdown. Leading 20-7 at the end of the first half, the Vols scored every time they gained possession of the ball in the third quarter.

SPARTANS BOW TO W. CAROLINA

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

The University of Tampa Spartans were a disappointed bunch of boys following their defeat to underdog Western Carolina College by a score of 28-8, on Oct. 1st.

The Spartans, who certainly didn't look like the same team that tied Furman the week before 7-7 in their opener, fought back from a first quarter 7-0 score to take an 8-7 halftime advantage. Tampa's defensive backfield unit, led by Charlie Lyle, halfback from Mulberry, Florida, drove 77 yards with Lyle running the last 15 for Tampa's only touchdown. Ronnie Perez then added two points after touchdown on a fake kick.

From here on out though, the Tampa eleven just didn't have the steam they needed, as the Western Carolina team found what they needed, and went on to win the game.

A bad snap from center forced Tampa punter Jay Gould to run the ball on a punt situation, and he was caught back on his own 37 yard line. This set up WCC's first period touchdown. In the third quarter, a punt by Gould was blocked by Western Carolina, who then drove on to score their second

Intramural Sports Provide Good Opportunity For All To Participate

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

Probably one of the most important and enjoyable athletic programs in a University is its Intramural Sports program. The University of Tampa has an extensive sports program in this field, for both men and women and is open to all students who wish to participate. The aim of intramural sports at the University is to provide its students the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of recreational activities which include all the major sports in addition to many others.

The Intramural Department at the University comes under the Physical Education department which is headed by Mr. Miller K. Adams. The director of intramurals this year is Bob Lovely, newly appointed Physical Education instructor. This is Mr. Lovely's first year at this post. Acting as Lovely's assistant and student director is Stan Salonsky. Director of the Women's Division is Alice Rodriguez.

At the present there are eight organizations which compete against each other for honors in the Intramural Program. They consist of four social organizations and four other organizations. The four social fraternities competing are Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Chi, Pi Kappa Phi, and Tau Kappa Epsilon. Making up the other four organizations are the Newman Club, a Catholic organization, the Majors Club, which includes all Physical Education Majors and Minors in the University, the Men's Dormitory Association and the Independents.

FELICIONE COPS FENCING TITLE

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

John Felicione is still champion fencer of the University of Tampa. John has once again won the Intramurals Championship in Fencing.

Felicone defeated runner-up Ross Jett of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity by the score of 5-4. Both fencers displayed outstanding skills.

TD. WCC's third and fourth touchdowns came after two pass interceptions were made inside Tampa territory in the last quarter of the game.

Injuries hurt the Spartans at the time of this game as Buddy Williams, Bob Banks, and Earl Bramlett had to miss the game.

This first victory by John who was representing the Physical Education Majors Club, once again puts the P. E. Majors on the road to victory for another year. Last year the Majors overwhelmed all other organizations in the Intramurals Department, and with this first victory, show that the same outcome might be on hand for this year.

Other fencers and organizations represented in the tournament were Bernie McGovern of Tau Kappa Epsilon and Jack Larkin of Sigma Phi Epsilon who tied for third place. A three-way tie resulted for fourth place honors between Ken Boyd of the Men's Dormitory Association, John Lebman of the Newman Club and Joe Obusek of Theta Chi fraternity.

Soccer Game Saturday May Be American First

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

What could turn out to be an American first, may take place right here on the Tampa gridiron before the Elon College game tomorrow night. This will be a soccer game played between the St. Petersburg Soccer Club and the Sarasota Club.

The people behind this sports double-header hope that through this game some interest will be aroused in the Tampa area and that the sport of soccer will find some life among sports enthusiasts. Club soccer games are usually played against crews of freighters in port here but a Florida soccer league is in the planing form at this time. Either a league will be formed or a playing arrangement with teams in the Florida Inter-Collegiate Soccer Conference which is composed of Florida Southern College, Rollins College, Stetson University, and Jacksonville University.

The game should begin approximately 6:45, and it is hoped that many students will come early to witness this exciting game, before the Elon, Tampa football contest.

T.U. Battles To 7-7 Tie With Furman

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

The University of Tampa Spartans opened their 1960 football season Sept. 24, by battling to a 7-7 tie with Furman University.

The game was high-lighted in the first quarter by a 71-yard run by Tampa fullback Tony Booth, who went all the way to pay-dirt for the Spartans. The extra point kick after touchdown by Ronnie Perez proved to be a very important point for the Tampa eleven.

The Tampa score came in the first quarter with Furman tying up the score in the second on a 74 yard march with fullback Tom Campbell going over for the score after punching out most of the Hurricanes yardage. The extra point for Furman was good, which tied the game, and thus ending the score despite several threats by each team.

Booth's long run came on the first play from scrimmage after Furman was forced to punt from their own 20 yard line to Tampa's 29. Booth then took a handoff from quarterback Perez and raced around his right end, picking up an important key block by halfback Charlie McCullers at Furman's 45, and from then on was never in danger.

The Tampa Spartan head coach, Marcelino Huerta said after the game, "We're a little disappointed. We thought we should have won, but little mistakes hurt us. We're very proud of the boys. I thought Furman should be favored, but we thought we could beat them. We never have any doubt that we can win—we were just scared of the mistakes which we made."

Tampa's ground game which totaled 209 yards was paced by Booth with 89 yards rushing and Buddy Williams with 51.

Top defensive players included center Tony Yelovich, a freshman who made 14 tackles, Charlie Bailey, an end with 6, Dick Walter, a tackle who made 5, Joe Arasim, guard, with 6, Hollis Curling, guard, with 6, and back Joe Glisson made 8.

The game which was seen by some 5,500 fans was drenched with rain just before the end of the first half, and left the field in a slippery condition.

MCCULLERS, GLISSON NAMED CO-CAPTAINS FOR '60 SEASON

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

It has always been understood that it takes three ingredients to make up a leader of an athletic squad. These three ingredients are: Leadership Ability, Athletic Ability, and Scholarship Excellence. This year the two boys of the Spartan eleven that fill these requirements the best are Joe Glisson and Charlie McCullers. These two fine Spartan players are the co-captains for the 1960 football season.

Joe Glisson a native of Claxton, Georgia, who stands an even 6 feet, and weighs 170 pounds, is playing his third season with the Tampa Spartans. Joe, a transfer student from Middle Georgia Junior College, began winning honors early in his college career. He was selected as the outstanding player in the annual All-America Junior College contest which was played in California. Glisson was a sophomore at the time. Joe has many times been thought of as the backbone of the Spartans, as he is a standout on both the offense and defense. Despite his size, Joe is a hard tackler, and possesses excellent football knowledge, and with a player of such great leadership, Joe will certainly be a great asset to the Spartans this year as they face one of the toughest schedules ever.

Charlie McCullers, a native Floridian, from Plant City, Florida, has been a starting halfback for the past two seasons. Charlie, who was once termed as "the spirit of Tampa University's football squad", possesses outstanding ability to play in either the right or left halfback position, block on defense and offense excellently, handle the line-backer post, punt, and pass. McCullers stands 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 175 pounds. Charlie, who had a fine 34.8 yard punting average last season is majoring in Physical Education at the University. McCullers who is now entering his senior year at Tampa has shown an untiring devotion to football and his school. This could certainly be his finest year, which could place him among the best backs that have passed through the University of Tampa.

THESE ARE THE SPARTANS

The Starting Eleven

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

Each year before the regular football season and before each game, the coaches of any team must get together to decide upon who they will pick as their starting team of eleven. This of course, is a tremendous job for the coaching staff, especially when more than one player is fighting it out with others to remain number one in his respective position. But some way or another, the coaches always seem to pick the boys who in their knowledge will do the best job for the team as a whole, and who will play the hardest and best against any opponent.

This year this was certainly a big job for Coach Huerta and his staff, but as they always do, the coaching staff of the University of Tampa Spartans did come up with a starting team of eleven and they believe this team will do the best job when the going gets tough.

Of course this does not mean that many of the other members of the football squad will not get to play, as the majority of them will, but again, all coaches must announce the starting eleven players, and they have room for only eleven boys, which of course makes it impossible to place every boy on the starting team.

Standing behind each one of these starting eleven Spartans, are many other boys who in time of substitution or injury can take over the job of his fellow team mate and do it well. This is one of the necessities to make up an effective football team — those boys who can go in on the spur of the moment and do their job, and do it to the utmost of their ability.

Of course throughout the course of the season, the starting eleven team will probably change due to injuries and other circumstances, but the following list of Spartans make up this year's starting eleven team.

Ends: CHARLIE BAILEY comes from Poca, West Virginia and is in other, the coaches always seem his junior year here at the University. Charlie stands 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 195. Charlie, who is noted for his defensive play, is a two year letterman, as he played as a freshman and sophomore. Last year Bailey was the second leading receiver on the team with seven catches for a total of 139 yards. Charlie's major at Tampa U is Physical Education.

EARL BRAMLETT comes from Rockmont, Georgia, and is a transfer student from the University of Georgia. Earl, a sophomore, stands an even 6 feet, and weighs 195. Bramlett excels in both offense and defense and he is expected to be one of the top defensive players for Tampa this year. Earl's major is Physical Education.

Tackles: DICK WALTER a sophomore from Catlesburgh, Kentucky stands 6 feet 2 inches and weighs 230 pounds. As a freshman, Walter was the Spartans' top tackle in '57, but had to miss last year's season. Dick's major course is Physical Education.

BOB BANKS comes from Jacksonville, Florida and is a sophomore at Tampa U. Bob weighs 225 pounds, and stands at 6 feet 1 inch. Bob who lettered in his freshman year was deemed an outstanding tackle by the Spartan coaching staff, and should develop into one of the Spartan's best tackles. Banks' major is Physical Education.

Guards: MAX DAVIS comes from Catersville, Georgia and is a sophomore at the University. Max who stands 6 feet 1 inch and weighs an even 200 pounds, drew high praise from the coaching staff after a fine spring practice. Max is a good blocker, he is aggressive, and is a good defensive lineman. Davis is an ex-amateur boxer and his major is Business Administration.

BILL CROFT a sophomore from Webster, Florida stands 5 feet 9 inches and weighs 215 pounds. Croft, who showed a good freshman year often found himself in the opponents' backfields, and is a good downfield blocker. Bill has good speed for his size and has good play diagnosis. Croft's major is Physical Education.

Center: DICK TULLY stands 6 feet 1 inch, weighs 210 pounds, and comes from Charleston, South Carolina. Tully, a converted tackle, is a fine competitor, is ambitious, and thrives on cracking the opponent ball carrier. Dick, who is a sophomore is majoring in Business Administration.

PAUL GORE, a Haines City, Florida boy, is a sophomore at the University. Weighing an even 200 pounds, Paul stands 6 feet 1 inch.

As a freshman last year, Paul lettered and was termed as an outstanding frosh prospect by his coaching staff. Gore, is a good defensive linebacker. He is majoring in Industrial Arts at T.U.

Quarterback: JOE GLISSON comes from Claxton, Georgia and is one of the few seniors on the Spartan team. Joe stands an even 6 feet and weighs 170 pounds. Joe, who lettered in 1959, is a former all-American junior college quarterback, captain of the 1960 squad, and is a standout on both offense and defense. Despite his size, Glisson is a hard tackler, and possesses excellent football knowledge. Joe's major is Physical Education.

Halfbacks: CHARLIE McCULLERS comes from Plant City, Florida, is a senior, stands 5 foot 10 inches, and weighs 175 pounds. Charlie who has been a starter for the past two seasons plays either right or left halfback. He is an excellent blocker, and a good defensive linebacker. McCullers' major is Physical Education.

BUDDY WILLIAMS a Wauchula, Florida boy, stands 6 feet 1 inch, weighs 180 pounds, and is a senior. Sometimes called the "Wauchula Flash" for his ability to run the hundred in 10 seconds flat, he excels in long breakaway runs, and possesses good pass catching ability. Williams has been the leading scorer on the team for the past two seasons and should be the outstanding back in '60 again. Buddy's major is Physical Education.

Fullback: TONY BOOTH comes from West Palm Beach, Florida, is a junior, weighs 200 pounds, and stands 6 feet 2 inches. Booth is a good blocker, and has better than average running ability. Tony is one of the best defensive backs on the squad, and has played more minutes at fullback than any other back.

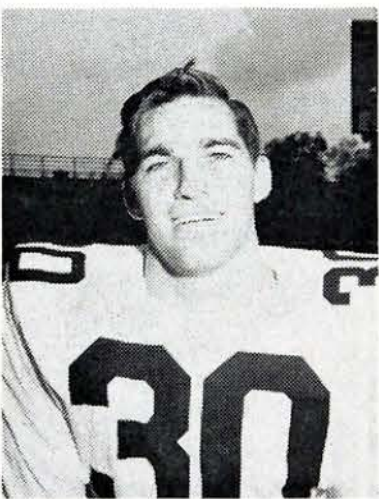

Booth, a good "faker", can get that extra yard for you when you need it the most, and is a good hard charging line buster. Tony's major is Physical Education.

Tony Yelovich

Yelovich, Booth Are Named Best Of Furman Game

Tony Yelovich, University of Tampa Spartan freshman center, and Tony Booth, junior fullback, were named the outstanding lineman and back of the week, respectively, for their fine play in the Furman-Tampa game which took place Sept. 24.

Tony Booth

After being nominated by the Tampa coaching staff, Yelovich and Booth were elected for their part in the 7-7 tie which took place on the Spartans home ground, Phillips Field.

Yelovich, from Berwin, Pa., a husky 210 pound center, led both teams in unassisted tackles with 14. At the same time he played aggressive offensive ball.

Booth received the award for his 71 yard touchdown run in the first period, and for his fine work on defense.

SPARTANS FACE ELON SATURDAY

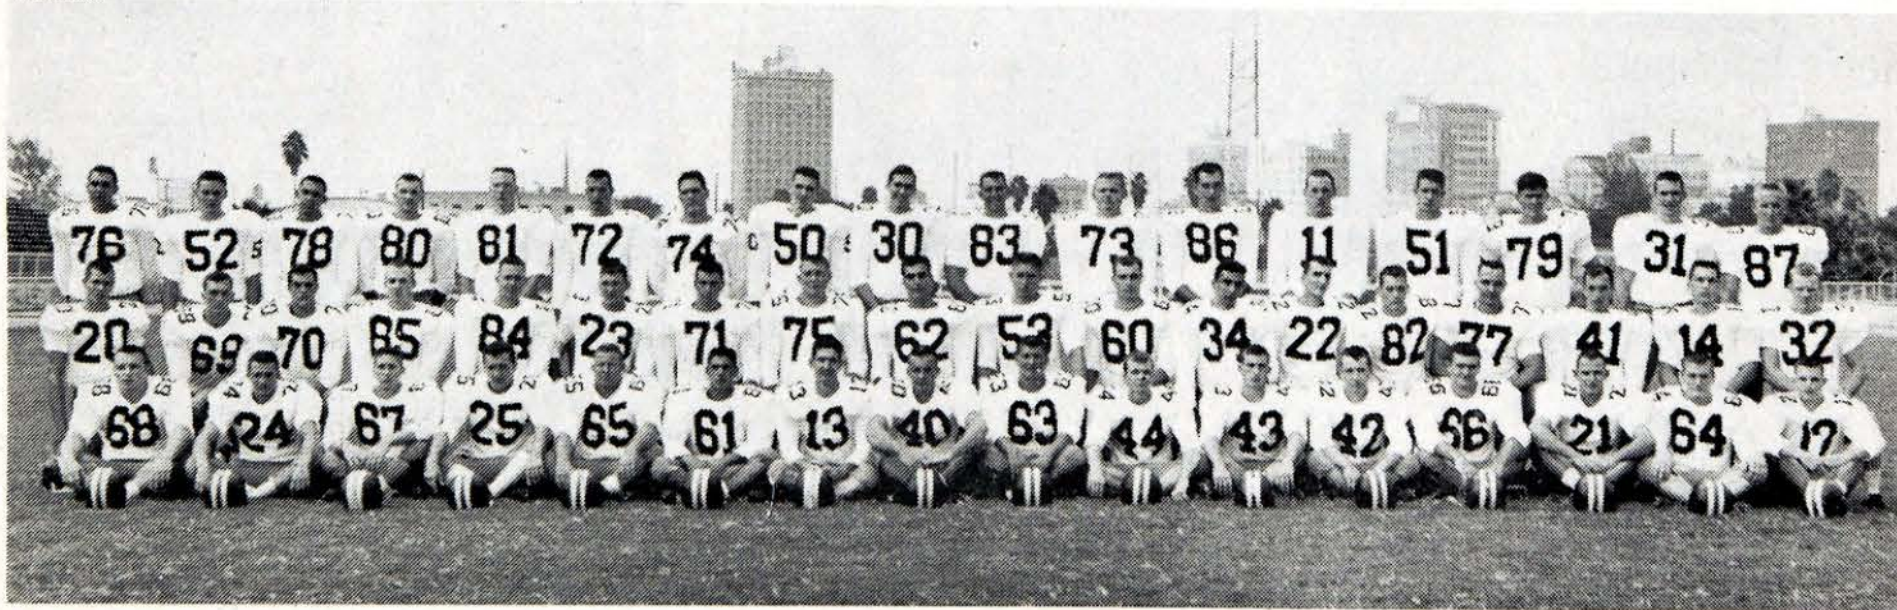

By Bill Sargent,
Sports Editor

Tomorrow night at 8:15 on the Tampa gridiron the University of Tampa Spartans will meet the Elon College Christians in a contest that should prove most interesting. Elon College is in the North State Conference which takes in the Carolinas.

Shackled with inexperience and injuries last season, Elon College mustered only an unimpressive 1-9 record. Coach Sid Varney's charges were forced to rely heavily upon his sophomores and juniors, having only eight lettermen. Over 30 of the "regulars" were freshmen. But much experience has been gained by meeting such small college powers as Presbyterian and Lenoir Rhyne may prove beneficial and could spell difficulty for Tampa's youthful Spartans. All conference candidate Dickie Smith will be at the helm for the Christians, moving the Split-T formations.

Injury Keeps Neve Out For Season

Jim Neve, a fine guard for the University of Tampa Spartans, will be out for the entire 1960 season due to a brain concussion suffered during spring practice. Jim comes from Conshohocken, Pa. and is a sophomore. Neve showed great promise as a frosh and he was expected to see much action this year, but due to this injury he will be unable to play this season. Jim, who was in the hospital 19 days, when asked how he felt about not being able to play any more this season said, "I was certainly looking forward to this season, mostly to the Furman game as the fullback for Furman was from my home town, and I would have enjoyed playing against this boy." When asked what he thought about the Tampa squad this year and their chances of having a good season, Jim had this to say. "I think Tampa's ball club is one of the better that have been here in years, but they just have to iron out the few mistakes they are making, but I think Tampa will have a good year, and I only wish I could be there to help them make it a good year and enjoy playing in the victories we will have."
