University Opens Counseling Center

The University has established a new counseling center for students, to be directed by Mrs. Geraldine B. York, instructor in psychology at the University.

Purpose of the new facility, to be known as the University of Tampa Counseling Center, is to provide counseling for students who need assistance in making educational and vocational choices and in dealing with personal problems allied to college success. The service is free of charge to all full and part-time students of the University of Tampa.

To aid students in making adequate choices of college majors and fields of occupation, and to assist them in the solution of personal problems, Mrs. York will conduct personal interviews with students, gather biographical information, and administer various tests to aid in determining abilities and aptitudes. These tests will cover such things as vocational interests, personality, reading skills and study habits.

Mrs. York

The center will not include academic advisement concerning such things as what courses a student is to take toward his degree. These matters are handled through the University's regular academic advisement program.

Mrs. York emphasized that decisions will not be made for students. Rather, students will be aided in making their own decisions. All information from a student will be held in strict confidence.

A special file of occupational information has been started in the Counseling Center Office and will include the best available information on occupational trends, opportunities, remuneration, working conditions and training requirements for as many occupations as possible, Mrs. York said.

Any student may arrange an interview with Mrs. York through the Counseling Center Office, Room 312 in the main building, or by calling extension 277. The initial interview may last as long as an hour. If tests are deemed advisable, they are planned to meet the specific requirements of each student.

Mrs. York, 30, holds a BA degree from Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, and an MA degree in psychology from the University of Mississippi, where she has studied for her doctorate degree. She has taught psychology and been a counselor at the University of Mississippi and at Central Missouri State College. She joined the University of Tampa faculty in September, 1962, and is a member of the Tampa Psychological Association.

The Four Freshmen

Miss Celeste Holm Will Appear With Theatre Artists Series

November 18 the "Theatre Artists Series" will present Miss Celeste Holm, and her co-star Wesley Addy in "With Love and Laughter." The program will be one of music, comedy and drama based upon the question: "Has the relationship between men and women changed?" Illustrations from Shakespeare to Rogers and Hammerstein will attempt to produce the answers.

Miss Holm is a veteran of Broadway's "Oklahoma," and films such as her Academy Award movie "Gentlemen's Agreement." She also appeared in "The King and I" on Broadway, and in collaboration with Frank Sinatra in "The Tender Trap" and "High Society."

Wesley Addy is a performer both in Shakespearean style (Leslie Howard's production of "Hamlet"), Broadway as well as off-Broadway ("A Month in the Country"), and movies: "What Ever Happened to Baby Jane" and "The Big Knife."

The performance time is 8:15 p.m., Monday, November 18, Falk Memorial Theatre. Student tickets are available at the box office free.

Loan Office To Open January

In the interest of greater efficiency and convenience to the applicant, beginning January 1964, our books will be open from January 1 to May 1 each year. During that period, applications for student loans will be considered for the scholastic year beginning the following September. During the month of May the committee will study each individual case and make its decisions and the applicants will be notified as promptly as possible thereafter.

Inquiries should be directed to Dr. Wean, Chairman of Student Aid Committee.

Placement Schedule

The following placement interviews will be held in the month of November, 1963.

Tuesday, November 19: United Church Board for World Ministries for students who are interested in overseas Mission program.

Wednesday, November 20: U. S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service. To fill positions of Internal Revenue Agent, Revenue Officer, Special Agent and Tax Technician.

Thursday, November 21: F. W. Woolworth and Company. Seniors. Retailing careers.

Four Freshmen To Appear At McKay

The Four Freshmen, winners of every major music poll during the past ten years and honored by Downbeat, Playboy and Billboard as the "Nation's Best Vocal Group," will appear at McKay Auditorium on November 22.

The Freshmen began as a singing quartet in Indianapolis and were discovered by Stan Kenton, who is in his own right a pioneer in the contemporary music field. Since then they have sold over two million albums, among which their version of "It's a Blue World" was an immediate success.

No longer considered merely a singing quartet, they could be called a very versatile musical-act. They not only sing, but play their own instruments and entertain a brand of humor which has become a trademark.

The Frosh have played every major campus in the U.S. as well as night clubs and jazzy festivals. Their versatility allows them to appeal to any audience.

Tickets may be purchased by T.U. students for 75c, all other students for $1.75 and non-students at $3.25 at McKay Auditorium.

Student Tutoring Program Begins

As soon as mid-semester grade are turned in, a student tutoring program will be initiated at the University of Tampa and local high schools.

Any students who wish to become tutors should contact Dean DeCarlo's office to apply for the program.

Tutors should have the following qualifications:

1. 'A' average in the course or courses they wish to tutor.
2. 'B' average in the field which they are tutoring.
3. Approval of their teachers.
4. Approval by the Deans.

All tutors will be paid according to their qualifications and the courses in which they are teaching. The program should prove rewarding financially and also experience-wise, and should be interesting; especially to students who hope to teach in the future.

All students who feel they are in need of tutors should contact the Dean of Men's office for a list of approved teachers.

Flu Shots Given

Mrs. Austin has announced that Dr. Linz will give the second flu injections November 19 from 12:30 until 2 p.m. in the Howell Hall infirmary.

Debbie Drake Here

Debbie Drake, nationally syndicated physical fitness instructor, will appear on campus Tuesday, November 19, to give helpful hints toward physical fitness. A brief demonstration and instruction period will be held in the International Room of the Student Center at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. All interested or uninterested students are urged to attend for the Pepsi-Cola sponsored instructor has more than one attribute.

Assumes Minaret Business Manager

Alex M. Kinnaird, a member of the Junior class, assumed the position of Business Manager of the Minaret this fall. Al is a member of the Theta Chi fraternity and Treasurer of Westminster Fellowship. In receiving this position, he has taken the responsibility of seeing that the Minaret secures advertising and balances the budget.

Alex succeeds Norma Blancato, who graduated in June.

Social Calendar

November

- 15—Hollywood Hootenanny at the Falk Theater
- 16—Football game at Phillips Field with Wofford Col.
- 18—Theater Artist Series presents Miss Celeste Holm at the Falk Theater
- 19—Debbie Drake will meet with students and discuss ways to improve posture at the Student Center
- 22—Four Freshmen will be at the McKay Auditorium.
- 23—Exhibition of contemporary sculpture by Wallace Green at the LaMonte Gallery.

University Gets Travel Service

The University now has available a student travel service. Any student wishing to make reservations on any mode of transportation should go to the Cashier's window. He will be able to pick up his ticket a few days later and must pay cash or have his parents billed. The service is being run in conjunction with the travel department of the Marine Bank and Trust Co.

LAST CHANCE

DO NOT COMPLAIN if your picture is not in the 1964 MOROCCAN. Only 750 students have had their pictures taken. The last chance to have them taken will be on Monday, November 25, between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. Men wear coats and ties; women wear white blouses. Photographer is in Room 205.

Do Not Forget

Psychology Club Meets

Want a better grade in psychology? Come to the next meeting of the Psychology Club! We can't guarantee that you will get a better grade, but if you are interested in psychology, your time will be well spent.

Our next meeting will be at 4 p.m. on November 21, in the Kiwanis Room of the Student Center. Our guest speaker for this meeting will be Dr. Thomas A. Rich.

Dr. Rich received his PhD in Clinical Psychology at the University of Florida, and since then a Masters Degree in Public Health, specializing in Community Mental Health, at Harvard.

He is especially noted for his work as a Consultant and Director of Development at one of the nation's leading research and training centers for the mentally handicapped, The MacDonald Training Center. He is also associate professor at the University of South Florida.

We have asked Dr. Rich to speak on a topic of his choice at our next meeting, but I'm sure that he will answer any questions that are asked on either his research, or psychology in general.

All psychology majors and minors are expected to attend this meeting as our Club is very fortunate to have this opportunity to have such an outstanding psychologist as our guest.

Okay, Leary, you've made a point — Society is responsible for you . . . So let's say it's not you I'm flunking, let's say it's twentieth century man.

Traffic Violation Appeals

It has been brought to the attention of the Traffic-Appeals Committee that students who have received tickets have insisted upon pleading their cases to University personnel in Room 100.

University personnel in this office simply handle the administration of the tickets and the records pertaining thereto. They have no authority to cancel tickets or to hear cases, regardless of the circumstances.

University regulations published on page 120 of the Student Handbook state:

"Appeals may be made by students to the Traffic Appeals Committee after fines are paid, on forms available in the Business Office. Appeals must be submitted within five days. After consideration of the appeal and the ticketing officer's comments, the Committee will render a decision, which shall be final."

Appeal forms are also available in Room 100.

TRAFFIC APPEALS COMMITTEE

Students Organizations

The following organizations have failed to submit a Student Organization Data Report:

Student Congress, Phi Alpha Theta, Sigma Tau Delta, Association for Childhood Education, Letterman's Club, Alpha Psi Omega, Epsilon Pi Tau, Phi Delta Epsilon, Chemistry Society, Hellenic Youth Group, Jewish Student Union, Methodist Student Union, International Relations Club, IFSC, Health, Physical Ed. and Recreation Association, French Club, Spanish Club, Kappa Pi, Women's Resident Club, Baptist Student Union, Christian Science Youth Organization, Lutheran Student Association, Newman Club.

This is the third request for the report. The necessary forms have been sent to these organizations. In addition, it was announced that forms are available in the office of the Dean of Men.

The cooperation of these student organizations will be appreciated.

Delta Sig News

DELTASIG NEWS

Congratulations to brother Neil Rowsey, social chairman, for his work on the costume party put on last Saturday night. A great time was had by the brothers and their guests at the event which was also used as a Founder's Day celebration.

Brother Bob Warren is doing a fine job with his professional committee. His work on a project for Belcher Oil Company recently was outstanding.

Look out! Delta Sig pledges are going to be doing big things in the near future. You will know who they are by the briefcases with the Greek letters of Delta Sigma Pi on them.

FROM RIGHT FIELD

by Phil Gernhard

The Negro's battle for first class citizenship is on the verge of being destroyed and the Negro's cause being set back fifty years. Strangely enough, this is not the work of the anti-Negro white, but that of the so called political liberal, who is the major force in the Negro's drive for equal rights. How can this be? Isn't the Negro ready for equality? This is partially true, but the main reason is that the majority of the American public, North, South, East, West is not ready for the Negro to take his rightful place. Now I am not talking about the anti-Negro white, found supposedly in the South, but the average citizen who though he sympathizes with the Negro, is not ready to absorb the losses that occur when a Negro enters his neighborhood, or his place of business. This is a fact that the Liberal leadership of our country seems to ignore. Either that, or they are under the dangerous misconception that they can use law and force to change a man's way of thinking. Common sense tells us how non-logical this concept is. Education and understanding are the only effective weapons against prejudice. No force in the world can remove it.

The real danger to the Civil Rights cause comes from the fact, that no matter what is right or wrong, the Negro is in most situations, a financial loss to the white. A perfect example of this is in the field of housing. The Liberal leadership has, with good intentions, used Federal power to force the Negro into previously white neighborhoods. The resulting factor has been the immediate drop in property values of 40 to 50 per cent. Now this is a sad thing admittedly, but let's face the facts, this is the way things are, and this is the way they will stay until the majority of the American public changes their way of thinking. Who can

by Marion Rawls Gray

Mike Hansen squeezed his '62 compact into the only available niche. It wasn't big enough but with a little ingenuity and a lot of energy, he made it. "There," he exclaimed as he sighed and relaxed against the car seat. Through the tree tops he could see the university's familiar silver-domed minarets glistening in the sunlight. On the seat beside him lay a love letter, author unknown. He had received it three months ago and read it many times, but now he opened the envelope and read it again.

Dear Mike,

I know you will be surprised to hear from me. To get to the point quickly, I want to say that I am the culprit who has had your class ring for twenty-five years. I feel I really should return it and put an end to this guessing game that has spanned years of war and peace, bachelorhood and parenthood, and professionally from mediocrity to success as a consultant chemist. You see, I have kept up with you.

Since the Alumni is planning such unique activities this year, I am arranging to go and wanted to write to make sure you would be there, too.

I'll meet you on Friday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. — in room 240. Remember 240? Oh, the fun we had there!

In all honesty I must add that not only have I cherished your ring all these years, but I have loved you too. I shall anxiously await our meeting.

All my love,

Mike had not known what to do with a letter like this. You can't just walk up to your wife and say, "Hey, Julie. Look what I got in the mail today." Course, he knew Julie would understand . . . or would she? Anyhow, he hadn't taken a chance on her not understanding. Right now he thought that might have been a mistake. But he was here, and he might as well go through with it, he reasoned.

For a mile in all directions from the Tampa University campus the spirit of hilarity reigned. As Mike walked along the brick street under the giant oaks and tall palms, he toyed with the idea of removing the plaid wool coat. It was uncomfortably warm but the thought was quickly forgotten amid the sparkling atmosphere. He was surprised to find himself responding to it. He quickened his steps, then slowed again to study the homecoming displays on the lawns. He smiled remembering the clandestine manner in which the plans for displays were conjured up in his day. He easily envisioned the feverish midnight toil that had transformed the rolls of chicken wire, foil, Kleenex, papier-maché or any other pliable product into victory slogans. He was working his way slowly through the crowds toward the west piazza when, from nowhere, a perfumed Aphrodite wrapped her long arms about his neck and pulled his head down to meet her lips in a Herculean manner not matching the smell of perfume.

"Mike! You ole so-in-so."

Mike blinked, drew back and began to free himself from this muscular bundle of enthusiasm. He grasped her arms and stood back at length while he looked appreciatively from the top of her unnatural blonde hair to the toe of her neat black shoes.

"Vivian Tyler. I'm glad to see you. To be honest," he shyly added, "you've overwhelmed me as usual."

"Vivian Tyler Lambert, thank you. I bet you thought I'd never find a man."

"You know better than that. I might have wondered," he ducked his head as if he were embarrassed by what he was going to say, "I might have wondered where you would find a man with enough energy to keep up with you, but I knew you'd hook somebody."

"Mike. That's not fair." She chuckled him under his well tanned chin with unusual gentleness. "You know you could have tamed me without half trying."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In regards to the article published in the last MINARET, "Packed With Dead Fish," I am in full agreement with this article. It seems to be a regular tradition at the University of Tampa to have the poorest spirit (except in a bottle), that can be conceivable, at any school activity.

For the next hootenanny, I think we should improve this situation. In order to get the maximum amount of spirit that is possible, from our student body, I suggest that we provide a casual atmosphere. This atmosphere should include the wearing of Bermuda shorts and sweatshirts. Also I feel that we should remove the refined atmosphere of sitting on chairs.

With this casual atmosphere provided — no chairs or tables, and a casual dress permitted by the deans, I think these hootenannies and the true hootenanny spirit will be exhibited instead of the usual refined or uninterested mood.

In addition, I think the attendance would be greater if the hootenanny was advertised more on WTUN.

Sincerely,
Charles B. Sherrill

Greek Of The Week Features Kitty Lyon

Another hat in the ring for best all round Greek at Tampa U. It belongs to Kitty Lyon, lovely president of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. Kittie (her real name), has not only served her Zeta sisters in her years here, but the school as well. In her freshman year, she was secretary-treasurer of her class and a member of the student congress. Last year, she was social chairman of Howell Hall, and presently she belongs to the Physical Education Majors club and Panhellenic.

Kittie was born in Anniston, Alabama, but she calls Sarasota her home now. In 1961, she was a debutante and performed as an aerialist. Her active background, which includes swimming and ballet dancing, helped her to become Tampa's very first Golden Girl, her fondest memory.

A physical education major, Kittie plans to teach secondary school after graduation. She is a little ahead of the game, and plans to graduate in three years.

Our admiration and best wishes go out to Kittie Lyon, a truly representative Greek of the Week!

Pi Kapps Speak

With the half-way mark of the semester behind us and the Thanksgiving vacation drawing rapidly upon us, the Brothers of Pi Kappa Phi are determined to make the most of the remaining weeks of the semester. As we look back at the weeks preceding, the Roman Toga Party stands out as the best party. The novelty of the evening was Brother Brutus Munz' unusually large canteen and the precious liquid contained by its seams.

Our social chairman Brother Rich Nicolosi has four parties slated to take us up to the Christmas vacation. Among these are the Beatnik, Russian Workman, and the Forgive and Forget Party in Honor of Benedict Arnold.

Brothers Mike Zidek and Jim Motsett have been utilizing the weight room conscientiously these past weeks. Brother Motsett is tuning up to defend his wrestling crown in the Fly-weight division in intramurals. But — what is your excuse Brother Zidek? Is Norfolk, Virginia beckoning?

Brothers Tom Brice and Dick Obermann have returned to the Beta Lambda Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi at the University of Tampa from the Alpha Epsilon Chapter at the University of Florida and they are now working conscientiously with us. Glad to have you back brothers.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Tri-Sigma Boasts Leaders

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

As the holiday season is rapidly drawing closer the Sigma Seven are working hard in academic and social endeavors. Sister Lee Ann Betz, our 1964 Moroccan editor, is busily setting up plans for the best annual Tampa U. will ever see. Sister Marian Parks is also giving her all as Sister Lee Ann's right hand man. Sister Lynn Thomas, vice president of the Baptist Student Union, is contributing her dramatic talents to the University of Tampa Players. Not only devoting much time and energy to Sigma functions, but also to spiritual callings are Miss Lee Ann Betz as moderator of Westminster Fellowship; and Sister Marian Parks as president of the Newman Club. One among our number has been appointed dormitory counselor of the third floor. Sister Linda Klien serves in a double capacity as treasurer of the dorm.

In keeping with the Greek traditions of parties and fun we have officially signed up with the Tampa 400 Bowling League. One last beach party of the year is planned for November 22. Br-r-r!!! Let's hope for a Floridian Indian summer. We also have a Christmas party on schedule. Speaking of Christmas, start saving your pennies for the Tri Sigma annual Man of the Year contest. The proceeds of which go into the fund for Polio stricken children at the Chapel Hill Memorial Hospital.

THE RING . . .

"I'm kidding. How in the world have you been? Is this Lambert fellow here?"

"One — fine. Two — yes, and I just have to run now. I'll see you real soon, though . . . And Mike, I love your hair. That touch of grey makes you look . . . oh, just great."

(Vivian Tyler. . . er Lambert . . . So that's who wrote the letter . . . Remembering all these years the dutch uncle lecture I gave her the night she was stranded at the beach — Teasing — always teasing — she really got what she deserved . . . Left stranded just long enough to scare her . . . after that she always called me uncle . . . used to say if it wasn't against the law to marry an uncle she'd set her cap for me — she was only kidding — she must have been — I never encouraged her).

Mike watched Vivian as she made her way through the gay crowd, her red wool dress flashing here and there. She greeted everybody. She was still a provocative woman, he thought. He followed at a distance. When she was lost in the throng, he crossed the porch and went into the lobby. The ornate old room was now a red, black and gold arena of joviality. An unmistakable rear end loomed before him.

"Hank, old man." A huge figure swung around. "Mikel! Buddy!" Hank Lake's long arms enclosed his old friend and Mike's six-foot well-proportioned physique seemed dwarfed. "Sue. Look who I found. Sue! Where the devil is she? So darn mysterious today. Down with women anyway. Isn't that right old buddy? Where's Julie?"

"Home. Of all the bum deals, two of the kids got sick. I tried to assure her any ole baby sitter could watch them as well, but she wouldn't hear of it. One of the youngsters has the mumps and the other the measles. Leave it to the Hansens to do things up right."

BOOM!

Today, foregoing levity, let us turn our keen young minds to the principal problem facing American colleges today: the population explosion. Only last week four people exploded in Cleveland, Ohio—one of them while carrying a plate of soup. In case you're thinking such a thing couldn't happen anywhere but in Cleveland, let me tell you about two other cases last week—a 45-year-old man in Provo, Utah, and a 19-year-old girl in Northfield, Minnesota. And, in addition, there was a near miss in High Point, North Carolina—an eight-year-old boy who was saved only by the quick thinking of his cat, Fred, who pushed the phone off the hook with his muzzle and dialed the department of weights and measures. (It would, perhaps, have been more logical for Fred to dial the fire department, but one can hardly expect a cat to summon a fire engine which is followed by a Dalmatian, can one?)

But I digress. The population explosion, I say, is upon us. It is, of course, cause for concern but not for alarm, because I feel sure that science will ultimately find an answer. After all, has not science in recent years brought us such marvels as the maser, the bevatron, and the Marlboro filter? Oh, what a saga of science was the discovery of the Marlboro filter! Oh, what a heart-rending epic of trial and error, of dedication and perseverance! And, in the end, what a triumph it was when the Marlboro research team, after years of testing and discarding one filter material after another—iron, nickel, tin, antimony, obsidian, poundcake—finally emerged, tired but happy, from their laboratory, carrying in their hands the perfect filter cigarette! Indeed, what rejoicing there still is whenever we light up a Marlboro which comes to us in soft pack and Flip-Top Box in all fifty states and Cleveland!

Yes, science will ultimately solve the problems arising from the population explosion, but meanwhile America's colleges are in dire straits. Where can we find classrooms and teachers for today's gigantic influx of students?

Well sir, some say the solution is to adopt the trimester system. This system, already in use at many colleges, eliminates summer vacations, has three semesters per annum instead of two, and compresses a four-year-course into three years.

This is, of course, good, but is it good enough? Even under the trimester system the student has occasional days off. Moreover, his nights are utterly wasted in sleeping. Is this the kind of all-out attack that is indicated?

I say no. I say desperate situations call for desperate remedies. I say that partial measures will not solve this crisis. I say we must do no less than go to school every single day of the year. But that is not all. I say we must go to school 24 hours of every day!

The benefits of such a program are, as you can see, obvious. First of all, the classroom shortage will disappear because all the dormitories can be converted into classrooms. Second, the teacher shortage will disappear because all the night watchmen can be put to work teaching solid state physics and Restoration drama. And finally, overcrowding will disappear because everybody will quit school.

Any further questions?

© 1963 Max Shulman

Yes, one further question: the makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, would like to know whether you have tried a Marlboro lately. It's the filter cigarette with a man's world of flavor. Settle back and enjoy one soon.

Sig Eps Claim Good Rush Party

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

Congratulations to the Social Committee who again did another excellent job by planning a successful rush party in which both Rushes and Brothers had a fine time. We also had the pleasure of having four Brothers join us at the party known as the Headliners, whom are currently playing another successful engagement at the Congress Inn in Tampa. We all wish them continued success on their way to the top.

Congratulations also go out to our undefeated football team whom under the skillful eye of Coach Hollis 'Fats' Curling have won first place in the fraternity league by defeating T.K.E. 20-13 and Theta Chi 36-0. Named as Outstanding Lineman of the Week was a dark-horse, Brother John "Boatyard" Hines who was so surprised to find he had made an interception on one play that it was not till Moe Sturken gave him a push that he decided to run the other way. Named as Outstanding Back was another dark-horse, Brother Dick "Night-Train" Archy Messinger who was all over the field.

Our thanks go to Brother Don Koechlein, President of the Inter-Fraternity Council for a fine job of successfully carrying out a new system of Open Rush.

Elected to new officers were: Brother Jacques Verron, Secretary; Brother Gary Cagiano, Recorder. Elected as representatives to I.F.S.C. were Brothers Gary Cagiano and Bob Ferris.

We welcome our new pledges who are:

Anthony Asplin, Lancaster, Pa.; Daniel Cogan, King of Prussia, Pa.; Steve Craven, Tampa, Fla.; Bob D'Amico, New York City, N. Y.; Leo Gagliardi, Hartford, Conn.; Edward Hasson, Ardmore, Pa.; John Kieffer, Hershey, Pa.; Mike Lavin, St. Albans, Long Island, N.Y.; Tom Marks, Rye, N. Y.; Tom Minichiello, W. ## Entertainment Clip Board

The 20th Century and Fun-Lan Drive-In Theatres are presenting two excellent motion pictures this week. Thursday thru Saturday — Nov. 14, 15, 16 — is the year's outstanding comedy "THE THRILL OF IT ALL" in color, starring Doris Day and James Garner. The co-feature is "No Man Is An Island." Sunday thru Tuesday — Nov. 17, 18, 19 — is "THE CARE-TAKERS" starring Robert Stack as a young doctor with advanced ideas on the treatment of borderline mental cases.

BOOK REVIEW

I Owe Russia $1200

I OWE RUSSIA $1200

by Bob Hope

Let's clear up one thing first. Mr. Hope does not owe Russia $1200. He left his writers as security.

Which explains the book.

If you fall asleep in class, this book is ideal for keeping awake. Unfortunately, if you happen to be reading it behind the screen of a philosophy dissertation, your prof is going to wonder what is so hysterical about Nicomedean Ethics.

The book is guaranteed to get your mind off exams.

I Owe Russia $1200 explains for all posterity why Khrushchev ever thought of going to Disneyland. Hope suggested it.

The reading is enjoyable: One extended play Hope monologue after another about everything from London fog: (I saw a light in the distance. Slowly it became clearer and clearer and finally I could make it out. It was the end of my cigarette.); to the Cold War, where it was really cold: (Thule, Greenland: 36 below zero, so "When I walked into Gen. O'Donnell's quarters, the first thing I noticed was the tail of a reindeer sticking out of the wall over the fireplace. I said 'How come you didn't mount the antlers?' He said, 'Don't be silly, it's not mounted, that's a live one trying to get warm!')").

Try to imagine a scene before an audience of GI's being performed on the stage: Ginger Rogers was supposed to crack a break-away bottle over Hope's head in a Klondike Lil skit. The break-away bottle didn't break. It froze.

Then there were the contract complications with Fernandel.

And trying to get visas to Russia. Hope applied. "The first week the Consulate heard nothing. The second week they couldn't promise anything definite, but things were very encouraging. The third week we were back to the first week. The fourth week the man we had been talking to disappeared and we were informed he had never been there at all."

To find out what happened you will have to read the book.

There are a few old jokes thrown in just to keep you from dying of a split side, but in general this book club masterpiece is different, hysterical, sharply biting in places, and extremely funny.

One recommendation: have your room temperature at 90 and lots of hot drinks near. Just reading out that ice can give you the shivers.

Alpha Chi Omega At Congress Inn

Our annual scholarship banquet was held November 5, at the Congress Inn. Awards went to Judy Orlovic who won the award for the newly initiated active with the highest scholastic average, Peggy Ferugia the most improved scholastic average, and Judy Summerlin, the Nash Higgins Scholarship Award for the highest scholastic average in the sorority. We all had a wonderful evening and were so happy Dean and Mrs. DeCarlo and Mrs. Delo could attend. Congratulations to our sisters.

Our sisters, both pledges and actives are representing us well on campus. We are proud of our pledges who have become officers in the Association of Childhood Education: Liz Redzig, chosen president and Hilda Riefkohl, secretary. Sister Yvette Forman was chosen secretary of the Psychology Club and sister Betsy Madzula secretary of the Physical Education Majors club.

Congratulations to Tony Sayre on becoming the newly elected secretary treasurer of the Junior Class.

We send the best of luck to our newly formed bowling league. They are Tony Sayre, Judy Summerlin, Alice Carter, Peggy Ferugia, Cathy Battaglia, Yvette Forman and Lindy Kurre.

We were proud that the Minaret staff chose Pam Seifert Minaret Sweetheart.

University Wrestling Team ranks high in the state.

Theta Chi Takes Group Of Neophytes

THETA CHI

The brotherhood of Theta Chi would like to take this opportunity to formally announce its fall pledge class. Our neophytes are a group of handsome, dashing young fellow well known around the campus. They are Bob Evans of Scarsdale N.Y.; Dick Faunce of Ardmore, Pa., N. J.; Ron Mackinson of Boonton N. J.; Peter Peck of Princeton N. J. and Bob Mintz.

Our very competent house manager Dave Zeidenberg continues to make life miserable for the brothers as he wields his authority freely in a successful push to get the house in tip top shape. Dave's work details on Saturdays morning are becoming habitual.

For all of those interested Brother Jerry "Kenneth" McMurtrie will be taking group tours "through the mine" next week.

A pat on the back to Brother Andy DeMeyer on his fine performance in the horseshoe intramurals. "Salty Paul" Schetti, our intramural director is planning his team roster for the upcoming volleyball season.

We are proud to announce the engagement of Brother Ted Tharney to the lovely Miss Madelaine Baumann of Milltown, N. J.

The hearts of Theta Chi swell with pride as we see the work of Brother Eddie Meyerson, Student Body President. A man justifying the faith put in him by the student body.

From The ZTA's

Zeta Tau Alpha would like to welcome our newest sister, Licia Rodriguez of Tampa, Florida, who was initiated on November 7.

We are very proud to announce our new pledges: Bonnie Gross, Dallas, Pennsylvania; Faye Adams, Tampa, Florida; Elaine Higginbotham, St. Petersburg; Linda Strickland, Ruskin, Florida; Marsha Wolfe, Tampa, Florida and Judy Bonitz, Cape Coral, Florida.

The plans for our Thanksgiving party for our actives and pledges at Jane Staples' house are still going strong; however the alumnae tea has been postponed because of mid-term examinations.

The Zetas would like to remind everyone of the Zeta Script Dance which will take place after the Wolford game on November 16 from 10:30 to 1:00. The music will be supplied by the "Loveliars" and the donation is only $1 per person. What's more, the Zetas have a treat for all the students at T.U. If you buy your ticket before the night of the dance you will be eligible for a special drawing. The lucky holder will receive a free home cooked dinner at Cookie Mendez' house. You enjoy a dance with a great band and have a chance to win a delicious home cooked meal with Cookie. You can buy your tickets now from any Zeta.

Phi Club Organizes

The Phi Club is a relatively new organization on campus as it was organized this fall. At present the membership totals eight. The members are: Lis Calandrino, Helene Rippling, Marilyn Bronstein, Rhona Waxenberg, Marcia Chafin, Beth Cooper, Sharon Weinstein, and Ronnie Lieberman. The faculty advisor for the club is Miss Ruth Bragg and the alumni advisor is Mrs. David Shier. The Phi Club hopes shortly to affiliate with Alpha Epsilon Phi.

Even though the Club is new on campus it has taken part in many of the school activities: The Fashion Show, Inter-Fraternity-Sorority Council, Panhellenic and intramurals. The Phi Club has also sponsored a make-up demonstration which was very successful.

The Phi Club hopes to make successful its endeavors. The members are all working hard and they hope for more interest in their organization of the University of Tampa campus.

Women, Men See Intramural Action

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

by Coach Smith

The women's program in intramurals started with something new this year: coed-volleyball. The response has been excellent and the boys are having as much fun as we hoped they would. Of course we have a few restrictions on the boys in that there are only three boys allowed on a team, no two boys may hit the ball in a row, and they cannot reach over the net on a spike. In spite of the restrictions the boys have done very well in helping the girls' teams. Some of the teams still in the winner's brackets are the Gustos and the Independents. The Alpha Chis have already been eliminated but the Z.T.A.s and the Newmanites are still in the running along with a very good Phi club team. The games are held at 4 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesdays so come on out and see some real good volleyball.

At the same time as our volleyball, table tennis is well under way over in the Student Center under the direction of Mr. Lovely. There are singles, doubles and mixed doubles so we have the coed idea in our individual sports as well as team activities.

Our next intramural sport will be basketball which will be under way before Christmas holidays. This sport will be for girls only but the teams may have a boy coach. The rules will be D.G.W.S. rules in case you boys want to get your teams started early.

Our spring sport will again bring a coed activity in that we will present coed softball to the students. This sport is loads of fun by itself but the coed teams really make it the best. Again we will restrict the boys only four to a team, they must bat opposite from normal batting and two boys cannot play in adjoining positions on the field nor bat in this order. This doesn't make things too difficult but it does even the game up a bit. So join us in our fun. We're looking for an even bigger crowd in softball.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

by Coach Butler

A strong Independent team defeated Main Building by a score of 47 to 0 in displaying a tremendous offensive scoring punch. This strong Independent team wound up the season by edging Smiley A 6 to 0 to gain a berth in the playoffs for the school championship.

The Sig Eps fraternity team edged out the TKEs by a score of 21 to 13. The TKE's made a major effort in the last minutes of the game to make this an interesting game from the spectator's point of view. The Sig Eps finished the season in fine fashion with a record of 4 and 0.

The Intramural Horseshoe pitching contest is rapidly nearing a close with a pitch-off between De-

Meyer of Theta Chi and Neilson of TKE for top honors.

Upcoming events feature a Bait-casting tournament on Tuesday, November 19, at 4:00 o'clock. Participants are urged to sign up now as the time is drawing near. Spectators are invited to witness this display of skill on the backcourts beside the Tourist Center parking lot.

The sport of volleyball is tentatively scheduled to begin on November 26. Anyone interested in forming a team to enter this competition please contact the intramural office at Room 246A.

Handball will be the next individual sport and it will begin on November 25 and all organizations are urged to have their participants sign the participation sheet posted on the Intramural Bulletin Board.

There will be a most important meeting of the Intramural Representatives at 4:00 o'clock in Room 246 on Thursday, November 21. All organizations must be represented to participate in Intramurals.

Judy Alvarez Downed By Darlene Hard In Dixie Tournament Here

by John Harnett

When one watches a tennis match between two top stars, one wonders how long does it take for a star to develop. There is the serve to develop before one can really take this sport seriously. Then one has to develop the coordination and physical strength to be able to play a five game set without wilting in a 95 degree heat. The hours of practice are long and hard even after one has become a star. When you start on the big tour of tennis, that includes such tournaments as Wimbledon, France Championships, United States Championship, and the Australian Championships, the odds of making it big are still long enough to make a person without the stamina quit in a short time.

For Judy Alvarez, the above paragraph shows that it has taken considerable time to make it big, and yet there is the rumor that when the next list for ranking United States women players comes out, that Judy will have obtained the number five ranking. This has been a year of glory for Miss Alvarez who started out the year by losing a close match here in the Dixie Tournament to the top ranking woman player of the U.S., Darlene Hard. A few weeks later in Miami, Judy provided her biggest upset to date by whipping Darlene by a convincing score of 10-8, 6-1.

From there nothing could stop Judy from having her biggest year to date. She captured her first big tournament by winning the Irish tournament, and in a tournament at Chicago, she pulled another big upset by beating Maria Bueno.

All of this was a big thrill for Judy, now on scholarship here at the University of Tampa. To Judy, her biggest thrill was playing before ten thousand at Wimbledon this past year which was her first time on the big tour. Just recently, she was put on the YMCA tennis team which was the first time a woman has been chosen for this honor.

Editor's Note: This has been the first of a three part series about the University of Tampa's outstanding woman athlete. Look for part two in the December 6 issue.

The Waterspout

by Al Waters, Minaret Sports Editor

Intercollegiate athletics are here for women students. Yes, Tampa University is in head to head competition in the Central Florida Intercollegiate League. Actually, this is not earth-shaking news as the league was established in 1962 and we have been competing since its introduction to the Florida Sports scene.

Basketball and volleyball are but two of the three sports offered. The softball season is currently passing the midway point. In the near future, other sports will be added.

At the present, the league consists of four teams: Florida Presbyterian College, Manatee Junior College, St. Petersburg Junior College, and the University of Tampa. Already, the University of South Florida and Florida Southern College have shown interest in becoming part of this growing idea.

On the night of November 7 it was my pleasure to witness a game with Florida Presbyterian College. I arrived in the latter half of the game and quickly learned that the Spartans were behind about three runs. All of a sudden — Boom — a two run triple by the team's clean-up hitter, and we were back in the game. This exemplifies the fine play that is found in the C.F.I.L.

Excluding last night's game, the T.U. nine are now standing at one win and two losses, and with a couple of games left in the season, are still in the running. The first place team, Manatee J.C., stands at 2-1. The Spartan victory was a 8-5 decision over St. Pete J.C. while the losses were both against a tough Florida Presbyterian team.

The squad is composed of Marilyn Bressler, pitcher; Jackie Beltram and Hilda Riefkohl, catchers; Judy Alvarez, first base; Marilyn Bronstein, second base; Rosalie Coniglio, third base; Sherry Wallis, shortstop; and Mary Ann Pellegrino, Marilyn Young, Hope Harbison, Leslie Burkhardt, and Florence Barber, outfielders.

The team's big gun is Judy Alvarez who hit the forementioned triple. Later in the same game Judy added a home run. The team's lead-off and most dependable hitter is Marilyn Bressler, who has come through in the clutch many a time. The team is coached by Miss Bragg and Miss Smith of the Physical Education Department.

There are two remaining games on the schedule, both to be held in St. Petersburg. The first will be next Thursday against league-leading Manatee J.C. The final game of the season will be against St. Pete J.C. on December 5.

January will usher in a C.F.I.L. basketball season and it is hoped by the coaches that scores of interested girls will turn out for the team. With the possibility of a six team league it looks like an interesting season.

The WATERSPOUT would like to urge student backing of women's athletics. The program is relatively new and needs our support. Look what happened to wrestling at T.U. It is now on a par with the "major" sports here.

The Minaret, in its quest for a more complete sports coverage, will continuously keep you up to date with women's varsity and intramural activities in a drive to give them added significance on campus. Ultimately, it is hoped that through student interest and participation women's athletics can achieve the same heights as the men's.

Al Lopez Speaks Here

Although King football is still very much in the news, last Thursday evening the Student Union discussion group presented a program concerning the insides of major league baseball with Al Lopez as guest speaker. Mr. Lopez, a native Tampan, is the current manager of the Chicago White Sox. The "Senor" also holds the distinction of being the only manager to break the New York Yankees domination of the American League pennant in the last thirteen years, turning the trick with Cleveland in 1954 and with Chicago in 1959.

Tampa Opens Against Miami

by Dave Scott

The University of Tampa Cagers open their season in Miami against the always powerful University of Miami. This game is what the boys are working for," stated Coach Lavoy. "The complete offense is working hard and I am very well pleased with what has happened, however, there is still room for improvement."

In their first inter-squad game the score was 103-67. The giants will fast break as often as they can and if not, they will play a control-type offense and with the objective of controlling the boards.

Chuck Andrews, 6'5" senior, was the outstanding player in the game with 33 points and excellent rebounding and defensive play.

New freshman players who are a pleasant surprise to the team this year are: Owen Anders (6'6") and Pete McKinnon (6'2"). They were a little shaky at first, but now they are working towards starting berths.

John Pooley, Jr. 6'4", who will become eligible to play the second half of the season, would give us a "shot in the arm." He compiled two years of college then entered the Armed Service. Therefore, he must complete 24 hours of college work before he is eligible to play.

In Miami, Tampa will have to stop Richard Barey and John Daupier, who should lead the Hurricane offensive punch. Coach Lavoy hopes to have a few new surprises for Miami, who has defeated Tampa the last three times by a total of 14 points.

The entire student body is looking forward to revenge and we are sure we will get it on December 3.

Al Lopez . . .

Lopez turned the program into a question and answer period among the fifty plus in attendance. Questions ranged from Casey Stengel and his New York Mets to the scouting and signing of a major league prospect. When asked about the 1964 Chicago White Sox's chances, Lopez replied that he would be willing to make trades that would give his club more right handed batting power, and barring injuries, his club would give the Yankees a battle for the coveted pennant.

Congratulations are in order to Robert Lovely, Director of the Student Union for presenting an enjoyable evening with Al Lopez.

As is usual with new stores opening there will be a drawing for prizes. You register at the shop and after a certain period the drawing will be made and either cash or merchandise will be awarded. The hours it will be open are in the advertisement this page.

New System Listed In Reading For Learning

By Joseph P. Cangemi
Instructor, Onondaga Community College

Whether you are in high school, starting college, or just finishing, getting the most out of a book is very important. It requires a system. An idea learned is easily forgotten if use of it is not made soon after acquiring it. On the other hand, a forgotten concept can be regained provided it was learned appropriately in the beginning. Reading and learning must be done in an organized, systematic manner if we are to understand and remember.

Books are written for the purpose of having readers learn from them. In order to acquire the information a book contains, an effective method must be developed with this end in view. Once the maximum in learning has been secured the knowledge becomes a part of our library and serves as a handy, convenient reference to be looked at whenever necessary. A book can be a quick refresher for future courses in the same subject area. It can also provide effective information for term papers and theses, or aid us in recovering previously learned material.

The following are some of the steps to be remembered in getting the most out of a book:

1. The act of reading a book in itself is the least important part in getting the most out of it.
2. Keep your mind on the subject at hand. Eliminate distractions; seek an environment that permits concentration and stimulation. Be sure the lighting is good.
3. Skim through the book first, especially the assigned reading sections so that you will have some idea of the material you intend to study and can develop a deeper understanding of it.
4. Read carefully the material that has been assigned. Pay close attention to maps, diagrams, charts and graphs. A good deal of information is in these drawings. Watch for key words and phrases. Discriminate between fact and opinion.

5. Mark key passages for future references. Place important ideas in the margin in pencil or pen so that you can capture the central idea of an important paragraph by re-reading the marginal notes.

Stop now and then as you read. Ask yourself, "What is the author trying to say in this paragraph?" "What are the most important ideas I have gained from what I just read?"

7. Try to assemble the ideas from paragraphs and chapters in a logical, sequential form. Relate them to personal and social situations so that concrete forms of abstract thinking can take place. Apply everything you learn early and frequently.

8. Review the book and its important parts several times before your exams. Never plan to read the material once and then study it again the night before exams. Cramming never pays off. Three or four readings of the material should have taken place prior to the final test. When reviewing, pay close attention to the marginal notes that were made while studying the text.

9. Keep in mind that what is stressed in class represents the high points of the particular subject being studied.

10. Try to correlate your lecture notes with what you have read or are reading. Both your reading and classroom notes will serve as excellent learning partners.

11. Keep your class notes well organized, especially those relating to the books or book you are reading. Make outline notes of books. Both the well-organized notebook and the corresponding textbook notes will prove to be valuable research tools in the future.

PROM WEEKEND

Aside from the prospective visit from the all-powerful alumni, there is nothing that creates more furor on campus than the activity before a prom weekend . . . to say nothing of the chaos that reigns when that weekend is on another campus. Speaking from my own somewhat limited experience, it is easier to stand one's own ground on someone else's, if you have take along the proper clothes.

A good sports jacket is a good mainstay for any weekend trip. It is appropriate for most campus sightseeing and casual evenings . . . and comfortable for travel. This fall's sports jackets give a man a chance to show his natural love of color without being boorish about it. A good shetland or tweed in a moderate plaid or the new camel hair variety make excellent choices.

Since every co-ed expects to show-off her campus, I would take along one pair of comfortable walking shoes, as well as blacks for formal wear. Very big this season are authentic Norwegian-type mocs . . . and the slip-on cut takes them out of the Paul Bunyan (Bunion?) category of footwear. In fact, slip-on styling looks good in dress shoes, too.

You'll arrive on campus less mussed-looking in a button-down shirt that has a small, neat print or woven stripe or pattern. Both tend to camouflage wrinkles, and the Van Heusen "417 Collection" of dress and sport shirts fairly abound with a wide selection of good looking patterns. They're made the way a college man likes his shirts — complete with the softly rolled collar, back collar button, box pleat and hanger loop. What's most important of all, these shirts have a really lean tapered or "V-Taper" cut to clean-up a bunchy, baggy waistline that has been a bane to anyone with delusions of a trim figure.

For casual daytime activities, take along a sweater or two or three — depending on their popularity rating in your area. A lamb's wool V-neck pullover is a good selection. Some of the trend items of college men around the country include camel hair or camel-tone pullovers in the Midwest, a classic white tennis model with red and blue trim in the South, ski-types and argyles in the Southeast, wide stripe multicolor cardigans in the Southwest, and horizontal stripes in the Northeast . . . broadening, I'm told!

Those who are in need of a tux should buy or rent a black, natural shoulder model in the classic shawl or semi-peak lapel styles only. Blues and burgundies in the continental cut of previous seasons are way off-beat this year. Check into lightweight silk and wool fabrics. These may be a little too cool going to and from a fall or winter dance, but they'll be comfortable on the dance floor. You'll look as unruffled when the band plays "Good Night, Sweetheart" as you did during dinner.

Be sure to bring along a couple of the best looking ties that you own. This is a sure way of making points with a coed. Great big statistics prove that the first thing a woman notices about a man is his "style zone" which translated means his collar and tie. Regimental stripes in bright colors will make big news. If you have a ruddy complexion, avoid red and burgundy tones and instead choose cool blues, greens or brown shades.

The only sad thing about a college weekend is that sooner or later you have to pack that duffle bag and go back to the books and grind. One consolation is that "Once the leaves begin to fall . . . can Thanksgiving recess be far behind?"

Have any questions about dress? Write to me care of your newspaper.
