History of Tampa University To Be Released

After over three years of the combined efforts of the late Dr. Laub and Dr. J. Covington, The History of the University, the book we have all been waiting for, will be offered for sale.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, Dr. Laub's being their former advisor, will assist in the selling of the book at both the President's Reception and between half-time of the Homecoming Football Game.

Four hundred and fifty issues are bound, and the rest of the eight hundred issues which are not bound, will be offered for five dollars. Students can also secure them through the promotion office.

The book contains 150 pages, which includes illustrations, names of students who have graduated, names of professors and many other interesting and fascinating facts.

TAMPA UNIVERSITY CELEBRATES 25th ANNIVERSARY

Twenty-Five Years and We're Bigger and Better Than Anyone Had Dreamed

In 1931 when few people could afford them, someone had an idea. It was doomed not to fail, as were most at that time, but to brilliant success, and in the twenty-five years since that germ of brilliance has grown into something far bigger than any save those who originated it ever dreamed.

Yes twenty-five years have passed and so too have passed many trials for our beloved University of Tampa. Many are the problems which have been met, and many are the changes that have been made, to build this school from a humble past with 60 students, to an imposing present with over 1100.

Now it's time for Homecoming and these 1100 will be on hand to praise and cheer, but let us not forget the heritage that is ours, nor the traditions which have passed on to us.

In 1935 Tampa U. had a total of 400 students, but their lack of numbers was made up in enthusiasm, and because they were so consecrated in their efforts to put our school on the map, Mayor Chancy, of Tampa, took a deep interest. On November 13, 1935, he declared a holiday in Tampa commemorating the celebration of the first Homecoming of the University. This was the University's first step from infancy into the veteran ranks and as the parade passed on that festive occasion one can imagine the feeling of pride those students must have had.

In 1936 another great intellectual tradition was founded when John Schaub, Jr., candidate for junior class president jumped off the Lafayette St. bridge into the river in an attempt to get votes, although for some reason this has not been followed up as it might have been.

In 1939 a record enrollment of 490 turned up, and got quite a surprise when they tried to raze the goal posts after a 20-0 win over South Georgia Teachers. The goal posts were nine inch pipes imbedded in concrete.

In 1939 the Quarterback

Club pledged $10,000.00 to finance football at the University and a new president, James E. Mooney was appointed.

In 1941 came war time with new classes in engineering and national defense, and Jack Alexander, quarterback of Duke's fine team joined the coaching staff.

1942 came and the dedication of the Rawlings Room.

And so it has been. Each year brings to us something new to enrich the fabulous story of Tampa U. There is no supply of paper great enough, nor words suitable for such a supply to tell the true story of our school, but one has but to look about him to see it written everywhere.

The radio station, the new class rooms, the new instructors, cafeteria, and the snack bar all have stories of their own.

So from humble beginnings come great things and though the seed has sprouted, who may say how tall the tree will grow, or how far its shadow may be cast.

Reporter's Receive Answers About Minaret Columns

Micki & Mary

It seems as though the gossip columns received several blasts in the last edition of the paper. This made us very curious to know what many of the students really think. "What is Your Opinion of the Gossip Columns in the Minaret?"

Lois Church, Soph.: I don't think they deserve the harsh criticism they've been getting.

Keith Hall, Jr.: I think they are sort of childish — but they mean well.

Jerry Davis, Sr.: 90 per cent of the students enjoy reading them as they are just as curious about all the insipid gossip around here as the rest of us. The other 10 per cent don't even bother to read the Minaret anyway.

Doris Cothorn, Sr.: Just how many students do you think would read the paper at all without such well written columns?

Bill Hovance, Sr.: The campus life is pretty dead around here. Why not spread the dirt

Letters From Colonel Spartan of the University

WELCOME ALUMNI

We of the Minaret wish to welcome you the University of Tampa Alumni. Another year has rolled around, the 25th since the beginning of our University.

Since you were here this time last year many improvements and additions have been made. Some of these betterments are the 2,650 new books acquired by the library; the new studio "B" with a complete new radio console for the radio station; a new Short-wave Amateur (ham) broadcasting and receiving station under Professor G. L. Roberts, Jr.; the seven new classrooms and ten new offices on the third floor; the most recently installed 126 new heaters and most noticeably the well on the second floor is no more, the space being used for three additional classrooms.

Yes the University of Tampa is expanding, not only physically but in enrollment also as can be seen by these figures:

Total enrollment in 1935.....	692
Total enrollment in 1945.....	877
Total enrollment in 1955.....	1578

Again we welcome you and wish you a most successful Homecoming.

The Razor's Edge

Just How Bad A Shape Is The World In?

In a recent independent survey, to discover why the world is in such a sad shape, in general, and why the same applies to college students in particular, I ran across an interesting fact.

It seems that everyone knows why and they know what to do about it, but no two have the same reason and no one is willing to do anything about the reason they do have. The whole place is crawling with Rasputin-like philosophers (me included) who have come up with the idea that people aren't really people at all, but merely cheap imitations of people who lived here at one time or another, or perhaps that the people were only cheap imitations of the people who aren't really people at all. Anyway, things are not just as they were meant to be and the question is, what to do about it all.

Now such a serious question

Letters to Colonel Spartan must bear writer's signed name and address. The Minaret reserves all rights to shorten letters.

requires equally serious study, and in order to find an answer, deep concentration is necessarily a prerequisite.

First of all it was only right to determine what people really are if they're not people, by that I mean humans, of course, and the answer is really very clear once you apply yourself to it. People can't really be people because people is plural and plurality is against the law, therefore, people must be individuals (still not saying they're human). Ants are individuals too, and since people resemble ants more than anything human, the answer is, of course, that people must be insects. If you're doubtful about this, just look around you and open your eyes.

See the aimlessly scampering ants dashing back and forth, always going somewhere and never quite getting there, or remember, ladies, that spider who took you out Saturday night, or look at the roach scamper from one corner to another. Look again and you'll see some idiotic butterfly flitting stupidly about, or a mosquito putting the bite on some poor sole.

Now then you see what a problem I had deciding how to make things right, but finally I got it all straightened out. The problem is one whose answer must be found today, and used tomorrow, and since things are so unsure, why plan that far ahead. Just find one of those idiotic butterflies, men, and live today to the hilt.

"A Blemish on the Student Body"

Hello Mr. and Mrs. Tampa U and all the bums and tourists occupying space in the lobby — many things have come to our attention this past week, but before we share them with you, we would like to apologize for the article concerning Sylvia Garcia and Joe Onderko — we meant no harm and hope that the rest of the student body are as pleased as we to hear that the marriage will take place November 19th. We wish you both happiness and success.

We have just received word that there was a slight commotion in the Women's Dormitory this past week — and because of Miss Hanley's absence — seems the new rules were; lights out at 3:00 A.M., warning at 1:00 A.M., television all night long, and short sheeting of the visiting Dorm Mothers. Also, most of the girls who usually sign out for the weekend stayed in! — seems like this would have been a good time for the now prevalent rumor, fact or fiction?

Pantie Raid — we were also informed of a Tampa U. girl wandering around Plant Park at 3:00 A.M. Saturday morning — what or who could she have been seeking? We would like to commend Diane Bidwell, Felicia Dolgin, Vince Petti who will participate in the play "Picnic." The play was excellent and done very well — we would highly recommend all of you to follow this group closely and give them all the support possible as it is a marvelous organization that will be a great success.

Seems like Bill Dawson has been selected to join Uncle Sam's uniformed family. He leaves the 22nd of this month; we won't be surprised if Jane Ann also packs her bags!

What are the girls going to do when the Dixie tournament is on? This year, with Bill gone, the trend will have to be, signs on the backs saying: I'm eligible!!!! We're going to miss you Bill!

Purple Passion is also in season — one driving on the Causeway last week would have seen quite a sight — the tub was even borrowed from the Women's Dorm — Cooperation, that's what we need!

It looks like the parking problem is really bad, the students are now parking on the tennis court — what we don't understand is how the wood got into some of the cars? The homey atmosphere has now returned to the University — with card playing and the fires in the lobby one's thoughts go back to last year. Keep the Home fires burning gang, remember Homecoming!!!

One of the student coaches understands how all the bottles got into his car; he opened it Saturday morning and found enough to start his own bottling factory — one last thought to ponder about; let's all strive for a closer student-faculty relationship.

An OPEN LETTER

Naturally the objection raised against me by the alumni of the Tau Omega fraternity has been a cause of grief to me. Be it remembered that I was invited in the authorized way to become a member of the fraternity.

However, it was certainly not in my mind when accepting that I would be the occasion of the disruption and disharmony that has arisen. Explicitly, I did not know who constituted the Alumni Association, and consequently did not suspect that there might be members to whom my society would be objectionable.

Rather than cause discontent between the active and the alumni branches, or to wish even remotely to bring disruption on the fraternity or above all on my Alma Mater, I hereby formally drop my pledge as a prospective member of the Tau Omega Fraternity and beg that it be quietly accepted.

I wish to thank with fervent sentiments of gratitude the members of the fraternity who on such short acquaintance proved themselves so sacrificially loyal. I deem it an unprecedented honor in my life that they wanted me as an associate. I shall always do all I can to aid the fraternity, and its members individually.

I thank Mr. O'Hare the advisor, Dean Burnside, and especially Dean Rhodes for their kindness and eminently fair treatment of me.

Finally, even in the midst of the grief this has caused me, I can understand to an extent the motives which have activated those who have so vigorously opposed me.

UNIVERSITY'S NEW AIRCRAFT TECHNICAL SCHOOL IS OFFICIALLY ESTABLISHED

The new Aircraft Technical School in San Julian, Cuba, for the establishment of which the University of Tampa was recently granted a $300,000 three-year contract by the U.S. Government under the Point IV Program, was officially dedicated the weekend of October 20-22. About 3000 were present at the ceremonies.

Attending the dedication by special invitation of the Cuban Government were Dr. Ellwood C. Nance, President of the University of Tampa, and Mrs. Nance; Mrs. Karl F. King, Dean of Women of the University, and Mr. King; Mr. Boyd B. Burnside, Dean of Men; and Mrs. Johnnie Pate, Assistant Treasurer of the University.

The group from the University of Tampa were met at the airport in Havana by representatives of the Cuban Government and of the American Embassy, and they were entertained during their stay in a manner in keeping with the lavish traditions of Latin-American hospitality.

At the formal dedication of the school on Friday in San Julian, the opening speech was made by Dr. A. Fernandez-Conchoso, Cuban Minister of Education, who stressed the idea that the ICA under the Point IV Program has offered the Republic of Cuba, if they cooperate with the sound objectives of the program, the development of underdeveloped areas. This development, said Dr. Conchoso, will be of industrial and economic value to other countries less developed than Cuba, as it expands from the nucleus of San Julian, "so that it can become the bulwark to defend the triumph of the United Nations, the center of democracy in Hispanic-America and a bridge which will more completely unite the Americas."

Following Dr. Conchoso, Mr. John W. Johnston, Director of the US Operations Missions to Cuba (Point IV Program), delivered an eloquent address outlining historical factors leading up to the Program, beginning with Bolivar's first conference between the Americas in 1826. Mr. Johnston defined the essence of the program as "the desire of cooperating countries to carry out certain objectives which will facilitate the development of natural and human resources in Cuba," and stated, "The program is based on the principle . . . that the economic and technical progress of any nations, and has as its object that all nations endeavor to work jointly in a practical interchange of knowledge and ideas and understanding . . . so as to contribute to mutual peace and prosperity."

The President of Cuba, Sr. Fulgencia Baptista, made the closing speech at the dedication emphasizing the thought that the establishment of the San Julian Technical Aircraft School constitutes a contributing factor against unemployment. "Whenever we create a new industry, exploit natural riches, or create a new center of work," said President Baptista, "we will be . . . relieving unemployment . . . besides . . . serving the development of commerce and industry in our country."

Saturday night Dr. and Mrs. Conchoso entertained the University of Tampa visitors and others at a festive dinner at the Havana Country Club. President Nance gave the concluding toast, in which he said in part: "I have been active in PanAmerican Activities between Cuba and the United States for many years. In the past, our relations have consisted mainly in good fellowship, exchanging visits of delegations and making speeches on subjects of common interest. But now, at long last, we are doing something specific. Our joint efforts in establishing this Technical Aircraft School are more significant than hundreds of speeches."

Starting early in 1955, President Nance put many weeks and months of work and planning, with the ICA representatives in Washington and with the Cuban Government, into securing this contract for the University of Tampa — the first liberal arts college, he points out, to have been given a technical contract of this na-

STATE INDUSTRIAL ARTS MEETING TO BE HELD HERE

The Florida Industrial Arts Planning and Leadership Conference for Education Administrators and Industrial Arts Instructors will be held at the University of Tampa on November 25-26, 1955. The Conference is being sponsored by the Florida Industrial Arts Association and the General Extension Division of Florida.

This conference will be a particularly memorable occasion marked by the presence of the Honorable Thomas D. Bailey, Superintendent of Public Instruction, who will deliver the principal address and the presentation of Dr. Edwin L. Kurth, State Department of Education Consultant for Industrial Arts.

The American teaching staff for the San Julian School, numbering five instructors, all of whom were secured by Dr. Nance for the project, left in September to assume their duties in Cuba. They and their

JOURNALISM ENTRIES MUST BE IN BY DECEMBER

Joyce Newell, president of the University's journalism fraternity Pi Delta Epsilon, has announced that all entries of the fraternity's contest must be deposited in the special box placed next to the main bulletin board by December 16.

The English Department, under Dr. Howard D. Baker, is working co-ordinately with the fraternity, and members of the department will act as judges for the contest.

This conference initiates a new era in Industrial Arts growth and activities. All teachers interested in Industrial Arts and not members of the F.I.A.A. are cordially invited to attend this conference.

families will live on the post. The University of Tampa has a short-wave hookup with the school in Cuba, so they may keep constantly in touch at all times.

STORY CLUES

The day after school closed, Mrs. Helmer and her two young sons drove out into the country to the small, somewhat old fashioned house where they spent their summers. Mr. Helmer was to join them at the weekend. Meanwhile he was busy with his thriving dry goods store. The couple had talked over probable needs and plans, and Mrs. Helmer had promised that as soon as she had done some unpacking and seen what shape the house was in, she would write her husband what to bring—both things from the store and things from home. Both of them were do-it-yourself fans and always enjoyed working on their little but well-equipped house and its pretty garden. Mrs. Helmer had a busy day, and that evening sat at the desk near the picture window to write. She could find only one sheet of writing paper, so that, for the promised list, she was forced to use a scrap of wrapping paper. By the time Mr. Helmer received it, the ink had spread and blurred, and many of the letters were hard to read. However, he was able to fill in the words and to know what was needed. Can you, too, supply the missing letters and read the list?

For solution, see
paragraph below.

EVERY ONE OF THE PEOPLE in the Droodle above (titled: Lucky smokers playing poker) has a good deal. Because they all smoke Luckies, they all enjoy better taste. Luckies taste better, first of all, because Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then that tobacco is toasted to taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So light up a Lucky yourself. You'll rate it aces high for smoking enjoyment.

Board of Trustees Members Laud Dr. Nance For A Job Well Done

by J. W. DuPree and Morris E. White Members of the Board of Trustees

It has been said that a prophet is not without honor save in his own country. There has been a prophet, who has not only prophesied many things which were to come about but has helped to accomplish many things for the good of his country, his state and the city in which he lives.

He is a fine person and his name is Ellwood C. Nance. In 1934, when Ellwood C. Nance, A.B., Th.B., M.A., D.S.Litt., was Minister at the First Christian Church in Tampa, Florida and was thirty-five years old, he began his life's work, of teaching and building character. He gave all of himself to the work he was doing as Pastor of that church and through his efforts one of the largest churches in Tampa, Florida was built and survives.

Ten years ago, he was asked to become President of the University of Tampa. He accepted this post and since that time, he has given everything he had of himself to building the University of Tampa.

We, as two members of the Board of Trustees of the University of Tampa, are happy to set out in this statement of ours what we know about Ellwood C. Nance.

The most recent honor to come to Dr. Nance is the receiving of an Honorary Doctor of Laws Degree from Hartwick College.

The Citation as presented by Dr. James Whitehead, Executive Director of the Empire State Foundation for Independent Liberal Arts Colleges was as follows:

President Ritchie:

"From his medaled service in World War I, through seventeen years as a Christian Minister, as a Dean of Religion, later an Army Chaplain in World War II, to his present post as President of the University of Tampa, Dr. Ellwood Nance's life has been dedicated to God and service to mankind.

"Knowing that freedom exists for one only when it exists for all, his endeavors for achieving a true democracy are expressed in his constant work with and for minority groups. Recognizing, too, that this freedom must be guarded and protected, he serves many military and veterans' organizations for the adequate preparedness of our nation in maintaining peace. His service is not bound by our shores; his work for international goodwill shows the wide scope of his humanitarian interests.

"Knowing that the strength of our nation is dependent upon its health and welfare, his untiring efforts on behalf of those causes which seek the cures of the dread diseases, and his activities on behalf of those who are handicapped, have been recognized by citations, degrees and medals. More than three hundred students have been helped through college by Dr. Nance's lecture tours.

"Knowing that the progress of our nation is dependent upon the education of our youth, his vigilant efforts to protect and strengthen its educational institutions never wane.

"Hartwick College has recognized his full and distinguished record of service. His deeply humanitarian acts have touched thousands; but more important, Hartwick recognizes our candidate's tremendous contribution to private liberal arts education and his steadfast devotion and labors for its expansion, preservation and support.

"His service-filled life typifies the man nurtured in the ideals of our Judeo-Christian teachings and expressed in our democratic traditions."

President Ritchie, it is my privilege and pleasure to present to you as a candidate for the Honorary Degree, Doctor of Laws, Dr. Ellwood C. Nance, President of the University of Tampa.

This degree is honor enough in itself, but it comes really as a symbol in recognition of distinguished service to the common good which Dr. Nance has given throughout his life. It comes as a tribute to a man who is well known to us and about whom we would like to recall for all of us some of his record.

Dr. Ellwood C. Nance was born in Ashland, Kentucky. He received a diploma in General Arts and Bible Studies from the Kentucky Christian College in 1924, and some years later an honorary doctor's degree from this college for "leadership in religion and scholarship in Sacred Literature." Dr. Nance's A.B. and M.A. degrees are from the Cincinnati Seminary, 1926 and 1935, respectively.

His education was later extended by Summer Schools and Seminars at the College of the Bible at Lexington, Kentucky; Garrett Biblical Institute and Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois; University of Washington, Seattle, Washington; and at Princeton and Harvard Universities.

Between his public school training and the beginning of his higher education, Dr. Nance enlisted in the army at the outbreak of World War I at the age of 16, and with the historic Third Division participated in six engagements on the Western Front. At the conclusion of his military service he entered upon training for the Christian Ministry. He held pastorates over a period of seventeen years in Fostoria and Cincinnati, Ohio; Tampa, Florida; and Seattle, Washington.

Dr. Nance left regular church work in 1939 to enter the field of higher education, becoming a Dean and Professor at Rollins College.

In 1942 Dr. Nance enlisted as an Army Chaplain and after a brief tour of duty as Regimental Chaplain of the 84th Division Artillery the War Department appointed him to the Army Chaplain School Faculty at Harvard University where he helped train Chaplains to serve our Armed Forces in World War II.

We naturally would expect a man of Dr. Nance's background and interests to be identified with many worthy organizations. He is a member of, or holds offices in, twelve semi-military, veterans and civil defense organization, and thirty or more, educational, civic, cultural, religious, academic and fraternal organizations.

President Nance has published four books, the best known of which is "Faith of Our Fighters," a book about faith of men and women under fire in World War II. Daniel Poling called this book "the outstanding spiritual biography of World War II." A part of this book was dramatized twice over the NBC network during World War II.

If we stopped here I think most of us would recognize a full and distinguished record of service, but President Nance's greatest contribution to education has been in his own hometown and state of Florida.

The General Commission on Army and Navy Chaplains has cited him "For Meritorious Service to God and Country in World War II." The State of Florida was honored when he was selected as Florida's Civilian Aide to the Secretary of the Army; and was appointed as a member of the Third Army's Advisory Committee.

Also, he has been reappointed National Chaplain of the Military Order of the Purple Heart. The Jewish War Veterans of the United States of America awarded him a certificate of merit "In recognition of outstanding and meritorious service." The University of Florida has honored him "for Outstanding Leadership and Distinguished Service to the People of Florida." The Civitan Club of his beloved Tampa has bestowed on him the Outstanding Citizen Award for "Excellence in Citizenship and Unselfish Devotion to the City and Community."

His Faculty and staff, at the beginning of his tenth year as President, honored him with a scroll of appreciation because

"The University has been enriched by his liberal ideals, broad humanity, support of academic freedom, personal and energetic interest in the welfare of faculty and staff, and because his many abilities and far-reaching ideals have graced the name of the University of Tampa in the hearts of thousands.

His constructive work in human relations and in international goodwill, particularly in Pan Americanism, are indicated by medals from the Cuban Government and the Alfaro Society of Latin America, and by the fact that the American Government, with the approval of the Cuban Government has awarded the University of Tampa a three-year educational contract to assist the Cuban Ministry of Education in expanding Cuba's vocational and technical educational services to its young men and women.

The many of us who know Dr. Nance have seen the proof of his love for his fellowmen in his many humanitarian activities on behalf of those who are handicapped by blindness, cerebral palsy, or by polio. They have watched him lead the Florida March of Dimes Campaign in 1955 to raise over a million dollars, the largest amount ever raised in an annual campaign in Florida.

Welcome Home Spartans!

Many of Tampa U's former athletic stars will gather on the campus this weekend to help celebrate the University's 24th homecoming, to renew friendship, to relive their great moments and to compare the present setup with the "good old days."

We welcome these guys (and gals) who each in his own way, have contributed so much to raising the standards of the University as far as sports is concerned.

Homecoming festivities will come to a climax Saturday night when the Spartans take on the Appalachian State Mountaineers for the third straight time at homecoming.

Coach Huerta regards the Mountaineers as one of the Spartans' toughest opponents of the year. "They are the best coached football team we have faced, year in and year out, since I have been here," the head mentor said.

"They have a big line and good speed." The line is anchored by Fred Lippard, 6-5, 245-pound tackle, and there is plenty of speed in the backfield among Aubrey Elam, Jim Ollis, Jim Kiser and Joe Garwood.

Coaches Scout Opponents . . .

The coaches scouted Appalachian against East Carolina and Western Carolina. The Mountaineers lost both games, but even in doing so, looked good. Six fumbles proved to be costly against East Carolina while the West Carolina game was close all the way. The East Carolina score against Appalachian was, 13-0, and West Carolina won, 7-6.

Tampa, however, is a one to two touchdown favorite over West Carolina. "We hope we can make it a pleasant finale for the alumni at the football game," Coach Huerta said.

Tampa will need a victory this year against Appalachian to even the series. Of seven games played, the Hillbillies have won four. With the exception of two years, the scores have been close.

In 1940, The Mountaineers opened the relations with a 13-6 triumph. In 1941, Tampa won 10-6. The next game, played in 1950 was a 36-19 win for Appalachian and the Mountaineers followed through with a 14-13 victory in 1951. Tampa won in '52 by a 19-0 score. In '53, it was Appalachian again, 35-12, with Tampa winning last year, 25-20.

Reserves Will See Action . . .

If this game goes like the others, the Tampa reserves, as usual, will have the opportunity to gain a lot more experience. Despite the aid this will be to the youngsters, it is playing havoc with the varsity's averages.

Tom Spack, for instance, was the leading ground gainer for the Spartans last season with nearly eight yards per try. This year, sitting on the bench, his average has dropped considerably. It takes a player much longer to reach peak performance when he doesn't play too much.

Appalachian is one of the sure opponents for the Spartans next season. The Mountaineers have been scheduled among four others, holdovers on a two-year contract, with Morris Harvey, Troy, Southeastern Louisiana and Western Carolina.

The schedule will furnish at least one consolation—it will give the Spartans a chance to get revenge for this year's 13-7 defeat by Southeastern Louisiana.

Ten Spartan Football Players To Appear in Last Homecoming Game

by Bill Kirby

Minaret Sports Editor

Ten Veteran Spartan grid-ders, most of whom have seen full-time action since their first year with the squad, will play in their last collegiate Homecoming game at Phillips Field Saturday night against the Appalachian State Mountaineers.

The Mountaineers will not be entirely strangers to the players who could probably call some of the Hillbillies by their first name—if they were on speaking terms. The Spartans have played Appalachian three straight years in Homecoming.

Tri-captains Ted Greene, Tom Mahin and Bob Lovely, head the list that includes Bill Minahan, Tom Spack, Bill Hovance, Ken Nuznoff, Ed Duray, Mario Maffeo and Henry Garcia, making up as fine a crop of athletes as any who have

Tampa U. Cage Team Shaping Up, Coach Biittner Says

The University of Tampa basketball team is shaping up and with a little luck, is expected to field a much improved team over that of last year which won only two games out of 20.

Coach Gene Biittner says the Spartan cagers are coming along fine. He is especially pleased with the work of Howie Bernstein, one of the state's leading scorers last year, and veterans Bobby Bryan, Wiley Carnes and Bill Bosworth.

The Spartans are in their fifth week of practice.

BROUGHT TO EARTH — Troy State's McGraw meets the strong Spartan defense and is pulled down by Dickie Harte (54) and Larry Voetberg (57) on the Tampa 30-yard line in the opening quarter of the Phillips Field game as the locals opened another successful grid season. State's Quarterback Madison (12) is in background. Tampa won, 38-0.

Spartans Meet Mountaineers At Homecoming Saturday

The University of Tampa Spartans go against the Appalachian State Mountaineers here Saturday night as a climax to the 24th Homecoming.

The Spartans have romped over six opponents this season and have suffered only one setback, that at the hands of Southeastern Louisiana, 13-7.

What Coach Huerta terms as his best team since "I have been coaching here," will be favored over the Mountaineers, but Huerta expects one of the toughest contests of the year.

The Spartans won their last two games by routs, whipping East Carolina, 33-14, and Western Carolina, 48-0. They hold other victories over Troy State, Morris Harvey, Stetson, and Livingston.

Final Homecoming Game

Ten Spartans will be playing the final homecoming game of their collegiate careers Saturday night. They are Bill Minahan, one of the South's top passers, Tri-Captains Tom Mahin, Bob Lovely and Ted Greene, Mario Maffeo, Tom Spack, Ken Nuznoff, Bill Hovance, Henry Garcia and Ed Duray.

Garcia still has a year of eligibility left, but plans to go to summer school to finish up this year. However, he will be welcomed back "with open arms"

Coach Huerta said if he changes his plans and comes back next fall.

This will be the third straight time that the Spartans have met Appalachian in homecoming.

Has 223 Points

Tampa has scored 223 points to its opponents 54 in the seven games. In the rushing department, Tampa has piled up 2660 yards to its opponents' 1538. The edge in first downs is 95 to 54.

Don Herndon, halfback, is the squad's leading individual ground gainer. He has made 446 yards in 41 attempts. Second high man is Jack Mackie, fullback, who has made 263 yards on 43 tries.

Bullet Bill has completed 31 of 64 passes for 497 yards.

These three backfielders along with Tom Spack, last year's leading ground gainer, will be in the starting lineup.

ever been seen in action for Tampa.

Most of the boys expect to coach after graduation.

Greene, Tampa's rock-hard center and extra point kicker, is an Endicott, N. Y., product. He also specializes in backing up the line. He is 23 years old, stands 6-1, and weighs 215 pounds.

Mahin, ends his career this season after returning from the Army. He hails from Youngstown, Ohio, weighs 255, a proportionate figure for his 6-7 frame. He has excelled at his tackle post, equally as well on offense as defense. He is 24.

Lovely, from Haverhill, Mass., is (or was) an honor society student. The 26-year-old, 6-4, 225-pound tackle ends a brilliant career. Coach Huerta rates him as Little All-America material. "We have to take him out of the game to keep the opposing team from looking so bad," Huerta has been quoted as saying.

A quarterback who has proven one of the greatest at Tampa, is Minahan, 23-year-old, 5-10, 170-pound signal caller from Johnstown, Pa. He has directed Tampa's Split-T attack for four straight years and rates tops as a passer.

Spack is a block-bustin' half-back who played at fullback for two years. The short (5-8), 200-pounder comes from Johnstown, Pa., and is among the Spartans leading ground gainers. Last year his average was close to eight yards per carry. He is 24 years old.

Then there is Hovance, 6-2, 185-pound end from Warren, Ohio, who returned to the team this season after serving a hitch in the Army. The 23-year-old flanker is a top man on defense and catches a stray pass occasionally.

Nuznoff, 20-year-old, has "come of age" in the past couple of Spartan games at half-back. He has a lot of speed for a 6-0, 170-pounder. He is from Detroit, Mich.

Duray, from Cleveland, Ohio, has been a boon in the line for the Spartans at his guard post. He weighs 215 pounds, is 6-1, and is plenty fast for such a big boy. He is 22.

Maffeo, 25-year-old tackle, has done a fine job at tackle spelling Lovely and Mahin. He is 5-9 and weighs 240 pounds. He hails from New York State, but is a confirmed Tampan now.

Garcia, who still has a year of eligibility left, plans to go to summer school to finish up. He can take the football, but not the studying. He is from Tampa's Jefferson High School. He is 22, weighs 220, stands 6-0.

"We hate to lose them a heck of a lot. You don't find such a crop of players like that every day," Coach Huerta commented.

Nuznoff scored his touchdown in the second quarter of the game with Livingston State Teachers College from the three yard line. Mackie made his against Troy State on a short plunge. Both backs have proven outstanding players for the Spartans this season. This type of rough and tough play has prevailed throughout the season as the Spartans have racked up six victories against a single defeat. They hold wins over Morris Harvey, 12-7; Troy State, 28-0; Stetson, 40-13; Livingston State, 51-7; Eastern Carolina, 33-14; and Western Carolina, 48-0. Their single loss was a surprising 13-7 defeat at the hands of Southeastern Louisiana. After Appalachian, the Spartans will face FSU and then will probably defend their Cigar Bowl title later on.

REVIEWING TAMPA U'S GRID HISTORY FROM '33 TO '54

Homecoming week, always a gala occasion, will bring together many of the "old grads" who made sports history at the University of Tampa during their varied careers.

Members of the football teams of yesteryear, the basketball, the crew, the baseball teams, will gather here this weekend to relive the "good ole days," to renew old acquaintances and marvel at the many improved changes undergone here. (Although they would swear nothing could compare with the "old days").

This is Tampa's 24th Homecoming and since it centers around football each year, here a few of the highlights of Tampa's football history.

The Spartans opened their first official season in 1933, two years after the University was founded. They posted a 6-2-2 record in their initial season.

The first recognized Homecoming game was played in 1934 against Miami. Tampa won that one, 7-6, and went on to an 8-4 record for the season.

In '35, the Spartans lost to Stetson, 9-6, at Homecoming and ended the season with five wins and five losses. They lost Homecoming to Rollins, 7-0, in '36 but wrangled out a 5-3-2 season's mark.

Although winning only four games and losing five in '37, the Spartans dumped Miami, 12-0, at Homecoming. In '38, Florida's Gators blanked the Spartans, 33-0, at Homecoming. The Spartans finished with a 3-7 mark that year.

At Homecoming in '39, Miami beat Tampa, 32-0. This year saw the Spartans end up with a 2-7-1 record. In '40, Tampa had a 3-6 mark and one of the wins was over Oglethorpe, 53-0, at Homecoming.

TU lost Homecoming games in '41 and '42 to Rollins, 13-6 and 48-0, respectively. The Spartans had a 3-6 record in '41 and 5-4 in '42, they skipped football during World War II, resuming in 1946 when they played an informal schedule and won two of six games, including a Homecoming victory over South Georgia, 13-2.

Tampa didn't play in '47 but started up again for good in '48. That year it had a 2-6 mark and one of the two wins was a 77-0 rout in a Homecoming contest with Mexico's Military College.

At Homecoming in '49, Tampa lost to Florida State, 34-7; in '50 the Spartans tripped Delta State 34-7; Beat Livingston 28-13 in '51; blanked Appalachian 19-0 in '52; lost to the Mountaineers 35-12 in '53; then whipped the Hillbillies 25-20 last season.

Tampa didn't win a game in 1949, ending up with a 0-8 record. The Spartans posted a 5-4 mark in '50, a 7-3-1 record in '51, an 8-3-1 mark in '52, a 6-6 record '53 and an 8-2 mark last year.

In 17 Homecoming games, Tampa has won nine.

FAMED TAMPA SPORTS FIGURES

Babe Stages Great Comeback; Wait 'Til Next Year, Says Al

This may not have been a banner year for Al Lopez, manager of the Cleveland Indians, but for Mrs. Mildred "Babe" Zaharias, it could well be.

Tampa's two best-known sports figures, who last year received University of Tampa achievement medal citations for their service in the field of sports, are each convalescing, so to speak.

Lopez, from the defeat in the American League pennant race by the New York Yankees, and The Babe from cancer.

This year marks the second time that the Babe has recovered from cancer and has returned to the game that has made her world famous—golf.

Mrs. Zaharias, who participated in the olympics during her younger days, has won every women's golf title worth playing for, and five times has been named athlete of the year.

Her latest endeavor, a noble one, is the organization of a fund to battle the dreaded cancer. Her determination, her willingness to fight no matter what the odds, has been a great inspiration to the people of the world.

Lopez, a native Tampan who attended prep schools here, has been at the helm of the Cleveland Indians for five years. He has piloted the Indians to one American League pennant, but last year when his team was favored to win, the Yanks unleashed a devastating attack to finish first in the stretch.

But, says Al, wait 'til next year.

We salute these two sports greats who have brought fame to Tampa.

BIITTNER

A special tribute is paid to our Spartan coaches, Marcelino Huerta, athletic director and head football coach; Angus Williams, backfield coach; Sam Bailey, line coach and baseball coach; and Gene Biittner, basketball mentor. Also to Fred Pancoat and Al Leathers, student assistants. Huerta an All - Southern player during his prep days was a standout guard for the University of Florida in his college career.

Since taking over as head coach, his football team hasn't had a losing season... a mighty fine record for a mighty guy. A guy that keeps our big fine guy.

Spartan line on the ball is Bailey. Sam, a University of Georgia product, has coached here for five years. He also played and coached pro ball.

Gus, a Tampa boy who prepped at Hillsborough, handles the backfield to near perfection. He is also a Florida graduate and coached for a while at Plant High.

Gene comes to us this year after coaching at OLP and Plant High. Right now, he is in the midst of whipping his cage team into shape. He also serves as a football scout.

Fred and Al, both of whom have done much to bettering the team's athletic standing on the field in their playing days, are doing a top-rate job assisting the coaches.

John Hall, new business manager, is also doing a fine job.

Congratulations to the Athletic Dept.!

Hatter Students Favor Tampa U. Stetson Game

A recent poll of 21 Hatter students by "The Stetson Reporter," the Deland school's newspaper, showed that the students involved favored continued relations with Tampa University in football.

Asked the question, "Do you think Stetson should continue to play Tampa in football?", 13 of the students answered yes while the remaining eight said no.

Opinions ranged all the way from "Yes, because if we ever beat them, it would be a great moral victory for the squad" to "no, they are out of our league."

Buz Reynolds, a business major from Miami, came up with one of the better "yes" answers.

"In the past Stetson has beaten Tampa and has always been willing to play until the situation is reversed with Stetson deciding to quit the series because of two years of sound thumping. The players want to play them again as well as the student body. So why not continue the series since this is the only one we have left in Florida."

On the other hand, here is some pretty good logic from the lips of Sue Forsberg of Rockford, Ill.: "No, because they are a larger league and I don't think we're quite up to them, to be frank about it."

And pretty good logic, No?

Soccer Makes 1955 Debut At University; Teams Battle To 2-2 Tie

by GEORGE DILL
Intramurals Editor

The newly formed Soccer Club battled to a 2-2 tie with a team made up of members of the men's physical education classes in the sport's debut at the University of Tampa last week.

A good field of boys have shown interest in the sport and it is hoped to work out a heavier schedule in the future so that it can be played on a relatively large scale in comparison with other intramural sports.

"A schedule has not been set up yet and no inter-collegiate activity is planned," Ben Scherer, physical education teacher, said. "The club is informal and open to all men," he added.

Any team wishing to play the club or anyone wishing to join the team should contact Scherer or a member.

Jaycees To Sponsor Bowl; Shrine Gives Up

Tampa's Cigar Bowl Champion Spartans have been invited to defend their title at Phillips Field in December against an unnamed team, but the game will not be under the sponsorship of the Egypt Temple Shrine for the first time since 1947.

The Shrine voted to hold a dance this year because profits, it said, were not great enough for the work involved. The Tampa Jaycees stepped in and moved to have the game, as a boon to the cigar industry here.

The game, under the sponsorship of the Shrine, had been played annually since 1947 to raise money for the Shrine's crippled children's hospital fund.

G. Dewey Goff, potentate of Egypt Temple, said "Our Temple and Shrine officers felt that we could raise as much with the dance as we could with the football game which has been a lot of work with small profits."

Goff said the game had never drawn the attendance they had hoped for and it was getting difficult to get teams to play in the contest. While the game drew receipts of between $20,000 to $25,000, expenses cut the profit to just a few thousand dollars.

Previous Bowl Game Results:

- 1947—Delaware 21, Rollins 7.
- 1948—Missouri Valley 27, West Chester 7.
- 1949—Missouri Valley 13, St. Thomas (Minn.) 13.
- 1950—FSU 19, Wofford 6.
- 1951—LaCrosse (Wis.) 47, Valparaiso 14.
- 1952—Brooke Medical Center 20, Camp LeJune 0.
- 1953—Tampa 21, Lenoir Rhyne 12.
- 1954—Missouri Valley 12, LaCrosse 12.
- 1955—Tampa 21, Morris Harvey O.

Pi Kapp's Pledges Elect Officers

The Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity is happy to announce that its pledge class has elected their officers: Austin Curry, President; Dickie Harte, Vice-President; Burton Shoeph, Secretary and Larry Voltberg, treasurer.

The Alumni Chapter of Pi Kappa Phi will have a breakfast for the Alumni and actives that wish to attend. It will be held at the Tampa Terrace Hotel. They will also have an open house at the hotel for all actives and alumni, whether they be Pi Kappa Phi or Sigma Kappa Nu members.

Gossip Columns

to get some excitement from the Deadheads?

Marilyn Sollish, Jr.: I've heard several people say that they were strictly high school, but then according to some people it seems everything around here is.

Mary Passetti, Jr.: They're great!! I really enjoy reading them.

Ann Aulick, Sr.: Strictly hot-rod kids!! (I would say juvenile but can't spell it.) Not a true virtue.

Selma Izzeddin, Sr.: I think they are very interesting. Everyone loves gossip whether they will admit it or not.

Tony Agliano, Sr.: What gossip columns? I've never seen any. I never read them anyway.

Lonnie Turner, Jr.: Pretty cute, as long as they don't hurt anyone! A sure way to get your name in the paper—just "goof!"

Freddie "The Fish" Girgis, Frosh: Uh!-Uh!-Uh!-Uh!- They're great!

Tom Mahin, Frosh: I don't read it. The Minaret, that is.

Fall Semester Brings New Faces and New Ideas

CHA, CHA, CHA — These five pretty University lasses are costumed and ready for any and all occasions where they might be asked to perform during the year at the University. The dancettes, as they are officially known, include Jerry Davis, Peggy Guyer, Barbara Ann Harding, Nora Midulla, and Salley Lou Correll.

WELCOME
TO
1955

FRESHMAN RAT COURT — Freshman on Franklin Street selling toilet paper to wipe out Communism.
