

MINARET WINS AWARDS

U. of Tampa's Minaret won awards in two divisions of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association contest. The F.I.P.A. sponsored contest was held for the first time this year.

An editorial written by Jean Morris, concerning the lack of education courses offered at convenient times for working students, won second place in the best editorials division.

Sid Schuster's shot of "Two Dutchmen Talking" was awarded third prize in the best pictures category. Quoting the judge, Pat Murphy, Miami Herald Staff Photographer, "While other contest pictures may have had more action, this photo's candidates is a compelling feature. The shot conveys the story—a foreign student and the welcome fellow Dutchman..."

All colleges and universities within the state were eligible to submit three entries in each of the five categories: news, editorials, features, pictures, and sports. Various journalists on the staffs of the Miami News and the Miami Herald choose the three best selections in each division.

University of Miami, which won a total of 7 honors out of a possible 15, holds first position in four categories: news, editorials, pictures, and features. The best sports story was entered by Florida Southern. Rollins College received four awards.

Announcement of award winners was made by John Garcia, F.I.P.A. delegate from the University of Miami, at the F.I.P.A.-F.E.S.G.A. banquet, celebrated on Friday night, May 2, at the Hillsboro Hotel.

Jean Morris, as president of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association, will automatically become chairman of the F.I.P.A. contest for the coming year. Delegates at the recent F.I.P.A. convention decided to add two groupings for judging in the future contest: page one make-up and general excellence of the paper.

Dr. Robles Will Attend Conference

Dr. Louise Robles, Assistant Professor of Elementary Education, has been selected as a consultant for the Child Development Institute Summer Conferences at Florida State University, Tallahassee. Dr. Robles will participate on June 18-20 in the program, Mental Health and the Gifted Child.

PHI SOCIETY ANNOUNCES NEW MEMBERS

New Phi Society members were announced at the last student assembly, May 6, by Dr. Guy G. Becknell, faculty advisor. Carole Bauer, Robert Hudson, and Mrs. Elliot Rudwick, the former Dorothy Kiger, are the three who were awarded.

Phi Society is an honorary fraternity whose purpose is to reward excellence in scholarship in the freshman year. The minimum requirement for eligibility to Phi is that the student should attain the Dean's list for both semesters of the freshman year, and complete at least six hours of college mathematics during the freshman and sophomore years.

A chapter of Phi Society was established at the University of Tampa in 1940. The total number of students elected to the fraternity is 80; 41 girls and 39 boys.

Phi Beta Kappa Society, of Colgate University, Hamilton, New York, created Phi Society as an honorary fraternity devoted solely to rewarding high scholarship in the freshman year.

PSYCHOLOGY PROFESSOR TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Dr. William Glenn, professor of psychology, will be a consultant at the National Conference of Crime and Delinquency, to be held in Palm Beach, May 18 to 21.

Tampa U. has been asked to suggest candidates for state parole officers. Examinations for these positions were held May 9, but inquiries concerning openings may still be made.

Dr. Glenn says that the Psychological Guiding Service is advancing with the help of experienced teachers for remedial and tutoring work.

Psychology professors, C. J. Ho, William Glenn, M. D. Doran, and James D. Pietrangeli attended the Florida Psychology Association convention, May 8, 9, and 10. Both Dr. Glenn and Dr. Pietrangeli were official hosts, serving as chairmen of meetings at which professional papers were presented. A number of University students attended these sessions.

TAMPA U. RECEIVES AID TO EDUCATION GRANT

JUNIOR YEAR IN SPAIN

New York University and the University of Madrid have collaborated in organizing a "Junior Year in Spain" which offers American students the opportunity to study Hispanic civilization at its source. Aware of the bewildering effect of European educational systems and practices upon many American students, we have prepared a Program which will be taught by professors in the University of Madrid, but administered according to established American procedures and on the basis of the American credit system.

The "Junior Year in Spain" at the University of Madrid is an intercollegiate foreign study program directly sponsored by the Washington Square College of Arts and Science of New York University. The Program meets the standards and requirements of equivalent work at New York University and is jointly supervised in Madrid by an Academic Director of the Program, appointed by the University of Madrid, and a Resident Professor and Counselor, appointed by New York University. Classes, limited exclusively to students registered in the Program, are held at the University of Madrid in the building of the Facultad de Filosofia y Letras on the campus of the Ciudad Universitaria, and are conducted by well known Spanish university professors, each of them an authority in his own field.

The Program is available to students who have completed their sophomore year in good standing in a recognized American college; who can provide evidence of good moral character and good health; and who can obtain the recommendation of the chairman of their major department in their home college. Students beyond junior year status may be admitted if their course of study is approved by the college from which they expect to receive their degree.

The "Junior Year in Spain" is designed especially for students majoring or minoring in Spanish, and particularly for those who are planning careers in the fields of teaching, diplomatic service, or international relations. In addition, majors in other fields, especially art, history, and music, who have adequate preparation in Spanish, may also be accepted.

Application for admission to the Program should be made on official blanks provided by the University of Madrid for this purpose. These may be obtained from the Administrative Director of the Program in New York: Dr. J. Richard Toven, Foreign Student Center, 15 Washington Mews, New York University, New York 3, New York.

MINARET EDITOR ELECTED TO STATE OFFICE

Jean Morris, editor of the Minaret, was elected president of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association, at the F.I.P.A.-F.I.S.G.A. Spring convention, held in Tampa, May 2, 3, and 4. Jean will serve in the head office during the next school year.

John Garcia, of the University of Miami, is the new vice-president of the organization, and Sandra Poynter, delegate from Jacksonville University, is the secretary.

Tampa U. is represented by a newly elected officer of the Florida Intercollegiate Government Association, June Snow, secretary-treasurer. She has also been serving in the office of secretary of the University's student senate.

Len Wood, delegate from Rollins College, was chosen president of F.I.S.G.A.; George Lowery, Pensacola Junior College, vice-president; and Fred Williams, Palm Beach Junior College, parliamentarian.

The joint F.I.P.A.-F.I.S.G.A. Fall convention will be held at Bethune-Cookman College in Daytona Beach.

$1000 CHECK PRESENTED TO DEAN RHODES

In a ceremony at the University Wednesday, May 14, Mr. Earl W. Mallick, of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Division of the United States Steel Corporation, presented Dr. M. C. Rhodes, Acting President and Dean of Administration of the University of Tampa, with a check for $1000 as an unrestricted grant. On April 16 of last year the first grant by the United States Steel Corporation was presented to the University of Tampa.

When the original gift was announced, Mr. Roger M. Blough, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States Steel Foundation said, "The action of the Trustees represents an effort by this Foundation to extend aid in some form to almost every voluntarily-supported institution of higher learning which has clearly demonstrated both its desire and ability to help itself through the crisis presently facing higher education."

"It is the hope of the Trustees," Mr. Blough continued, "that their course of action will encourage others—according to their interests and abilities—to increase substantially the present level and scope of assistance to higher education. Adequate means must be found for meeting the needs of institutions, if both quality and quantity educational goals are to be balanced with the requirements of a rapidly expanding nation."

Dean Rhodes, in accepting the gift stated, "The University appreciates the spirit which motivated the Foundation in making the donation and joins with the trustees in the hope that the Foundation's course of action will encourage others... to increase substantially the present level and scope of assistance to higher education." As the great philanthropist George Peabody once said, "Education is a debt due from present to future generations."

"That this is being recognized and accepted more and more by industry is evidenced by gifts like that of U. S. Steel Foundation."

The United States Steel Foundation is aiding more than 700 institutions in various ways by unrestricted aid to education grants.

EDITORIAL

Student elections are about to take place on our campus, and I wonder how many students at the University of Tampa have actually given serious thought to the importance of these elections. Just how important are they? Why should we bother to vote? Why have student officers? The administration runs the school anyway . . . These are just a few of the questions that have been asked when the student body was asked to vote.

Taking first things first, student elections are important because this is one time that each student in this university has a say so about just who is to serve on the student senate. Any student who meets the qualifications can run for an office, and many times those students who are not well known before a campaign begins will win because of a well planned campaign program. You do not have to be a member of any organization other than the student body to be elected to an office, and each candidate is allowed the same number of signs displayed before the election.

YOU, the students of this university are the only ones who can elect a candidate to an office! If there is a worthy person running for an office and you do not vote for him, you have fallen down on your responsibility as a student in a democratic society. And, you should not gripe because a person who is less worthy wins a coveted office. It is your duty to vote, to elect the students who will represent you in the student government.

We have student officers because we are members of a democratic society, and each of us through our class representatives has a chance to contribute to the student government. The members of the student senate handle many important affairs of our university. Homecoming, which is the biggest event of the year, is handled almost entirely by the student senate. The student senate sets up elections, restrictions, and handle many other student activities.

The administration works with the students, not against them! The members of the student senate and the administration work together as a unit in the interest of the entire student body, and for the advancement of the University of Tampa.

There are many more reasons why every student of the University should participate in the student elections, but I won't take the time to go into all of them now. So VOTE . . . elect the students who will best represent YOU in student senate.

THETA CHI ANSWERS EDITOR

In the April 4, 1948 issue of the Minaret, the editor, in her excellent editorial, spoke of the plight of our school newspaper. She said and we quote, "We have reached a crisis! Our staff has dropped off until it has reached a minimum low". She further cited that the Stetson Reporter, the oldest college newspaper in the state of Florida, suspended publication indefinitely because of a lack of student participation. Are we to let the MINARET follow the Stetson Reporter? We, of Theta Chi, wholeheartedly agree with the Editor's belief that the MINARET is important to everyone who is attending the University of Tampa. We do not feel that we can have true college spirit without our MINARET. The Brothers of Theta Chi propose to do their part in aiding and thereby hoping to assure the continuation of our school paper. We hope that the other organizations on campus will decide to do likewise. We would like to see the Editor's dream of having the MINARET become a stronger and more influential college newspaper come true.

Theta Chi has adopted as one of their objectives for the coming year, the development of a small research team to study the cultural implications of the University of Tampa, housed in its magnificent Moorish palace. Granted, our building needs refurbishing, nevertheless, IT IS STILL A PALACE. In this way, we hope to express some of the ideals embodied in the all-inspiring Theta Chi Creed, and to kindle among the student body a cultural awareness of our Alma Mater. We, of the Theta Chi Research Team, propose to run a new column in every issue beginning in September, entitled, "Know Your University." In this manner, we hope to make our contribution to the future existence of our MINARET.

Placement News

On Thursday, May 22nd, senior men will be given an opportunity to hear Mr. Jack Griffin, local businessman, discuss a career in professional selling with one of the largest concerns of its type in the world.

Mr. Griffin has said, "We are looking only for men who want unlimited income, professional prestige and high community standing, and are willing to work for these things."

Anyone interested in this career opportunity, or in hearing Mr. Griffin, should contact Dean Burnside in the Dean of Men's office immediately.

LETTERS TO THE STUDENT BODY

FELLOW CLASSMATES AND VOTERS:

You may think that this article is going to be a lot of baloney about what I promise to do if elected to the office of President of YOUR Soph Class.

Well, it is going to be quite the contrary. In this article I will tell you a few of the things that I will not do if elected to this office.

First of all, I will not loaf on the job.

Second, I will not let anything that is the least unfair to any of the student in the Soph Class be passed by the Senate.

Third, I will not fail to represent YOUR Soph Class each and every day of the coming term.

I must say that one thing that I will do, with many others, is to meet each and every one's problems individually and do my best to work things out in the best way possible.

If I am elected President of YOUR Soph Class I am sure that you will have made the correct choice.

Thank you,
Tommy Simmons.

Introducing myself — Lloyd Hines. Howdy! I'm asking you to look into the future by casting your vote for me which will make me Vice-President of the Sophomore class for 1958-59.

I pledge my support in the interest of the sophomores to the very best of my ability. Just for you to know me better here are a few facts. I am president of the pledge class of Tau Kappa Epsilon. I enjoy and appreciate all of the activities and privileges of Tampa University. My favorite sports are golf, soft ball and fishing, of which I have little time for. Photography is my main hobby. As the result of unfortunate freezes this past winter, I fell heir to clippers, shears, and various yard tools. All this pruning strengthened my muscles and made me realize more than ever the need for an education.

Now classmates, I want to assure you that it will be a pleasure to serve you. I shall appreciate your vote for Vice-President of the Sophomore class.

FELLOW STUDENTS:

By the time this well read medium reaches your hands, you will be aware of the fact that student elections are once again here.

For the past three years I have been serving you in the capacity of President of your class. It has indeed been a pleasure and an honor. Many of your requests have been voiced by me in the Student Senate and have been remedied, however there are still three major problems to be solved. They are as follows: 1. A more simplified and uniform registration. 2. Better student facilities, and last but not least, 3. Closer relationship between Student Body and Student Senate. No one knows better than I how these problems can be solved, because of my past experience. These goals can only be achieved through your full cooperation. Therefore, I am once again calling upon you for the tremendous support you have given me in the past and wish to remind you that I will not be a puppet to any person or organization, but a staunch representative of the entire Student Body . . .

Thank you once again for the privilege of representing you and I sincerely hope your confidence in me will continue when you go to the polls on Friday . . .

MISINTERPRETATION

Probably no other statement is more widely used to justify the surrender to conformity than the quotation: "When in Rome do as the Romans do." This version, however, misquotes the original, which was: "When I go to Rome, I do as Rome does!"

Stressing this slight vocal difference might seem to be splitting hairs, but the verb "go" implies visiting, so that one would not actually be "in" the group. The distinction is that the occasion does not present a relationship of continuity in which to bring about change.

If the verb "go" is retained, it will have a closer association in one's memory with the true facts. The statement came into existence when St. Monica and her son St. Augustine said to St. Ambrose: "At Rome they fast on Saturday, but not so at Milan; which practice ought to be observed?"

To which St. Ambrose replied: "When I am at Milan, I do as they do at Milan; but when I go to Rome, I do as Rome does!"

While St. Ambrose meant that one should conform to the manners and customs of those amongst whom one lives, he did not intend that such conformity be carried to the point of sacrificing principles, as is so often done today. His action dramatically upheld principle at the price of personal sacrifice.

The Saint had to choose between culture and the principle of fasting. For not to fast on the customary day at Rome

STUDENT SENATE

The meeting was called to order by the President, Howard Sinsley. Roll was called.

The candidates for elections met with the Student Senate members. Howard briefed the candidates on the rules, etc. for elections. Speeches for President and Vice-President of the Student Body will be given in the ballroom on Tuesday, May 13 at 11:30.

Two candidates turned three petitions in late. Discussion was held. Jim Gallagher moved that we extend the time limit for the two late candidates. Connie Collins seconded. Discussion followed. Motion defeated.

Howard Sinsley extended congratulations to all who participated in the Fisga-Fipa Convention.

Ray Porcaro moved that we allocate the necessary amount of money to send the crew a telegram while in Philadelphia. Fred Gonzalez seconded. Motion passed.

Joe Suco moved that elections for next spring be moved back so the new incoming President elect may attend the Fisga Convention. Ray Porcaro seconded. Motion passed.

Jim Gallagher moved that people interning in second semester may run for the office of Student Body President. Jan Pesola seconded. Discussion followed. The motion was withdrawn.

Jim Gallagher moved that the Constitution be changed so that a person interning during their second semester of their Senior year will be allowed to run for the office of Student Body President with the Vice-President taking over during eight weeks of interning and be subsidized for the allotted scholarship and he may not intern during his whole tenure of office. Jan Pesola seconded. Motion passed.

The President of the Political Union extended the union's aid in helping with the student elections. Fred Gonzalez moved that we accept the air of the Political Union during elections. Anna Lee Fatzinger seconded. Motion passed.

Connie Collins moved that any person missing three Senate meetings in a row without a legitimate excuse to be decided by the Senate be dropped from the Senate and an election be held immediately to fulfill the position and that it be announced in assembly so those interested in running for office may submit their petitions immediately. Jo Suco seconded. Motion passed.

Ray Porcaro moved that we allocate the necessary money for the marquee to be constructed on a suitable spot and that it will be ready when school reconvenes in Sept. Jo Suco seconded. Motion passed.

Jan moved that we extend voting time from 1:00 to 2:00 and the entire voting time will would lead the Romans to believe that he was opposed to this practice of penance. Better to fast on two days (Milan apparently held to Friday) and thus strengthen principle, than find excuses to depart from them.

Any time one finds himself in a group where conformity is destroying what he believes in, he should resist. Circumstances and his own good judgment will dictate whether to make an immediate open stand, or whether to influence gradual change on the basis of continuity. But he must have the courage to speak his convictions if he is "in" the group and wishes to preserve his identity. His contribution must be presented, however, in justifiable conformity to those manners which guarantee courtesy and basic consideration of others.

It's more than just himself that is at stake. Freedom of speech can be preserved only by using it. And if our democracy does disintegrate as Rome did, it will be due, in no small part, to the fact that Uncle Sam developed rigor mortis while still breathing.

Good Human Relations Week

by Joe Schreiber

The other day I greeted a friend with, "How are you today?"

"Better than I was yesterday," was his prompt reply. Then, as I was about to ask what was wrong yesterday, he added—as if in afterthought—"And there wasn't anything wrong with me yesterday."

Now if one has been very ill and is presently on the mend, it might be easy to say, "I am better than I was yesterday." Or, if one has had a day when the sun was hidden, and troubles accumulated until there seemed to be no end, and the whole world seemed to be in reverse, then suddenly the sun broke through and the troubles drifted away—then it might be easy to say, "Things are better today than they were yesterday."

But what about the days when nothing can go right for going wrong? What about the days when you get so far behind you think you are ahead? What about the days when all the ills of the world seem to gang up on you?

Then it is that life can hold no terror for the man who can remain cheerful and say—"Things are better today than they were yesterday—and there was nothing much wrong with yesterday!"

Ivan R. Miller, Governor
Div. 10, DCCI (Illinois)

DID YOU KNOW?

While being a "bell ringer" is a complimentary expression, other designations formed with the word "bell" are quite the opposite. The use of the former phrase to indicate commendation stems from the fact that before cups were presented to the winner of horse races and other sporting events, a little gold or silver bell used to be given for the prize.

The term "bell mare" is derived from mule herders' and pack-animal drivers' practice of tying a bell onto the lead mare. As such, it is used contemptuously for the leader of a (human) herd.

"Bellwether of the flock," a term often used in political circles, is a jocular and deprecatory phrase applied to the leader of a party. The allusion, of course, is to the fether (ram) or sheep which leads the flock with a bell fastened to its neck.

The members of the faculty here at Tampa U. have degrees from 82 different colleges and universities, several of which are in foreign countries.

GRANT'S DISLIKE FOR UNIFORMS REASONABLE

By Jimmy Gallagher

U. S. Grant's well-known dislike for military uniform grew out of two incidents that occurred in the summer of 1943, when, just after his graduation from West Point, the future general and president went back home to Ohio for a short vacation. Grant wrote in his Memoirs:

"Having made alternate choice of two different arms of service with different uniforms, I could not get a uniform suit until notified of my assignment. I left my measurement with a tailor, with directions not to make the uniform until I notified him whether it was to be for infantry or dragons. Notice did not reach me for several weeks, and then it took at least a week to get the letter of instructions to the tailor and two more to make the clothes and have them sent to me. This was a time of great suspense. I was impatient to get on my uniform and see how it looked, and probably wanted my old school-mates, particularly the girls, to see me in it.

"The conceit was knocked out of me by two little circumstances that happened soon after the arrival of the clothes, which gave me a distaste for military uniform that I never recovered from. Soon after the arrival of the suit I donned it, and put off for Cincinnati on horseback. While I was riding along a street of that city, imagining that every one was looking at me, with a feeling akin to mine when I first saw General Scott, a little urchin, bareheaded, barefooted, with dirty and ragged pants held up by a single gallow— that's what suspenders were called then—and a shirt that had not seen a wash-tub for weeks, turned to me and cried: "Soldier! will you work? No, sir-ee, I'll sell my shirt first!"

"The other circumstance occurred at home. Opposite our house in Bethel stood the old stage tavern where "man and beast" found accommodation. The stable-man was rather dissipated, but possessed of some humor. On my return I found him parading the streets, and attending in the stable, barefooted, but in a pair of sky-blue nankeen pantaloons—...ust the color of my uniform trouser—with a strip of white cotton sheeting sewed down the outside seams in imitation of mine. The joke was a huge one in the mind of many people, and was much enjoyed by them; but I did not appreciate it so highly."

This is from the second chapter of "Personal Memoirs of U.S. Grant, 2 vols., pub. 1885, 1886.

In 1943, after graduation from West Point, he went to Ohio, his native state, (born April 27, 1822, at oPint Pleasant, Ohio), to spend his vacation. The incidents related occurred at that time.

Girls

by
GERRY SHUMAN

Girls are very strange creatures. They are as unpredictable as the weather, but to be near an attractive girl is always pleasant. Girls become the mothers and grandmothers of our posterity. They are found in almost every occupational field. At times they're as gentle and harmless as lambs, but when their fur has been hubbed the wrong way the lambs suddenly disappear. It is useless to attempt to describe girls. They are a like as peas in a pot, but as different as cats and dogs.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity wishes to extend its sincere thanks to Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority for a wonderful job of house-cleaning.

The Zetas with their pledges visited the Sig Ep House May the 5th, and after they were through, the house really sparkled. After the work was finished our house-mother Mrs. Oppenheimer, served lunch for every one.

Other activities of the Sig Eps included a Picnic and Beer Party held at Lowry Park, sponsored by the Alumni in honor of the pledges.

The Sigma Phi Spsilon fraternity has held its elections and the new officers are:

President, Frank Fuchek; Vice-President, Dan Prill; Secretary, Girt Wossner; Comptroller, ePte Wossner; Historian, Thomas Enos.

The Sigma Phi Epsilon Alumni gave a picnic for the active chapter last Sunday. During the course of the afternoon a soft ball game was played between the actives and the alumni. The actives won the game 9 to 5 through the brilliant pitching of Dan Prill and the thundering bat of Frank Fuchek.

The Sig Eps are maging big plans for their annual Sweetheart Ball to be held May 24.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Sue Phillips was announced as carnation pledge and Patsy Hanshaw as carnation active for the month, at Alpha Omega's carnation breakfast, Saturday, May 3.

Alpha Chi Omega Lead Out Dance will be May 16 at Tampa Yacht and Country Club from 9:00 - 1:00. Outstanding pledge, Girl of the Golden Lyre and Alpha Chi Sweetheart will be announced at the dance.

Alpha Chi actives and pledges are having an outdoor barbecue party for their alumnae May 21 at the home of Sue Phillips.

May 25 Alpha Chi's will have informal initiation for their pledges.

The Air Force pilot or navigator is a man of many talents. He is, first of all, a master of the air—and no finer exists. In addition, he has a firm background in engineering, electronics, astro-navigation and allied fields. Then, too, he must show outstanding qualities of initiative, leadership and self-reliance. He is, in short, a man eminently prepared for an important career in the new Age of Space.

In this issue we will honor one of the finest catchers in the state of Florida. Jim hails from Leesburg, Florida, and attended Leesburg High School for four years. He set a fantastic record there by being awarded 14 letters. He lettered 4 years in football, 4 years in Baseball and 3 years in basketball and track. He received many honors such as being elected to the all-conference team for two years and All Mid-State for 1 year.

Jim must be known by the whole Student Body as he is always seen behind the counter of our illustrious snack bar. He works there everyday during the lunch hour. So come in and say hello to Jim, he will enjoy it.

Jim is a physical education major and plans someday to be a coach. He is in his senior year and has made a fine reputation as a student and an athlete. We will hate to see Jim go.

He was All-State catcher last year and batted a sizzling .350 average. Jim is seeing Miss Shirley Budd of eZta Tau Alpha sorority and make a real nice couple together.

CREW WINS STATE TITLE

By ALAN HARWOOD

The well trained and smooth stroking Spartan Crew closed their regular season in their new racing shells leading Jacksonville Univ., and Rollins College over the pre-race favorite Fla. Southern College to claim the annual Florida State Rowing Regatta Championship trophy.

Tampa, which had a record of four wins and six losses during the regular season, pulled the one mile and 5/16 Hillsborough River course in seven minutes 16.2 seconds. It was the first appearance for the Spartans in their sleek german built shells.

The lead changed hands three times during the start with Tampa finally edging the other crews by half a boat length as they settled down to the body of the race. After rowing at a scorching 43 strokes to the minute during the start, the husky Spartans dropped the stroke to 35 and gradually stretched out its lead. With a mile to go, the green clad Jacksonville Dolphins upped their stroke to challenge the Spartans. The husky Spartans rowing at their steady powerful race stroke shook off the Dolphins who dropped back three quarters of a boat length with a half mile left in the race.

Rollins, rowing at a low 32 in third place, upped their stroke next to put in a bid to catch the Spartans but they did not have the power to overtake second place Jacksonville.

Going into the last quarter mile the Spartan stroke, Frank Schabert, raised the beat in the Tampa shell to 36 as the other boats went into early sprints. The gold shirted Univ. of Tampa Spartans held off their sprint and finished at a 36 to win the coveted championship trophy.

PLACE THIRD IN DAD VAIL REGATTA

By VIC PEZZULLA

University of Tampa's Varsity and J.V. crews placed third in the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The race was held on the Schuylkill River in Philadelphia. The winner of the varsity race was LaSalle College with Fordham University a close second. Other schools competing in the event were American International College, Amherst College, Brown University, Clark University, Drexel Institute of Technology, Florida Southern College, George Washington University, Jacksonville University, Marietta College, Purdue University, St. John's University, Rollins College and Wayne State University.

In the morning heats, Tampa swept to an easy victory over Rollins, Wayne State, Marietta, and St. John's to qualify for the afternoon finals. Also qualifying for the finals were Purdue, Rollins, Jacksonville, LaSalle, and Fordham.

The start of the afternoon race was delayed because of high winds and very rough water on the Schuylkill. When the race was finally started, Tampa jumped out to an early lead which they held until the three quarter mile mark on the mile and five sixteenth course. Then as the shells entered into the turn in the course the Tampa boat seemed to lose much ground. Breaking out of the dog leg LaSalle and Fordham moved their shells out in front of the gold clad Spartans.

From the turn to the sprint it was Fordham, LaSalle and Tampa in that order. A tremendous sprint by LaSalle caught and edged over the finish line ahead of the Fordham crew.

A valiant effort by the powerful Tampa crew to regain its lost ground placed them third, a boat length behind LaSalle. Tampa stroked a 34 through the body of the race and raised the count to 39 in the sprint. LaSalle was clocked at 6:52.2, Fordham at 6:52.6, and Tampa at 7:00.2. The Dad Vail Trophy was given to LaSalle for the third straight year.

In J.V. competition, the Tampa crew placed third behind Purdue University and LaSalle. The race was run in extremely rough water and a strong head wind.

The start of the race was greatly disputed by the Tampa oarsmen and also many of the other crews. A drifting start was used instead of the usual standing start. Purdue, LaSalle and Amherst were allowed to drift much farther ahead of the other three crews. When the faint command row was heard by the unsettled Tampa crew they were already at a two boat disadvantage. To further complicate matters, Tampa coxswain, Larry Arnold, reported to the official starter that there was a large log in the path of the shell. We were told to steer around it. Purdue maintained its lead they received at the start and never was challenged through the race. Tampa and LaSalle battled for second place. LaSalle edged out in front of light Tampa crew which was very hampered by the weather. La-Salle finished a boat length behind Purdue with Tampa a quarter of a length behind LaSalle. Purdue was timed at 7:18.4, LaSalle at 7:27.6 and Tampa at 7:29.7. The Jewett Cup was awarded to Purdue after the race.

This race ended the season for the Spartan crews. The Tampa Crew waded through a heavy schedule this year and was a much improved crew at the season's end. The State Championship was copied by both Varsity and Jayvee crews. They were by far the South's best representation in the Dad Vail Regatta.

This was the last race for Captain Dale Nabros and stroke Frank Schabert who will be graduated in June. Their loss will be greatly felt next year.

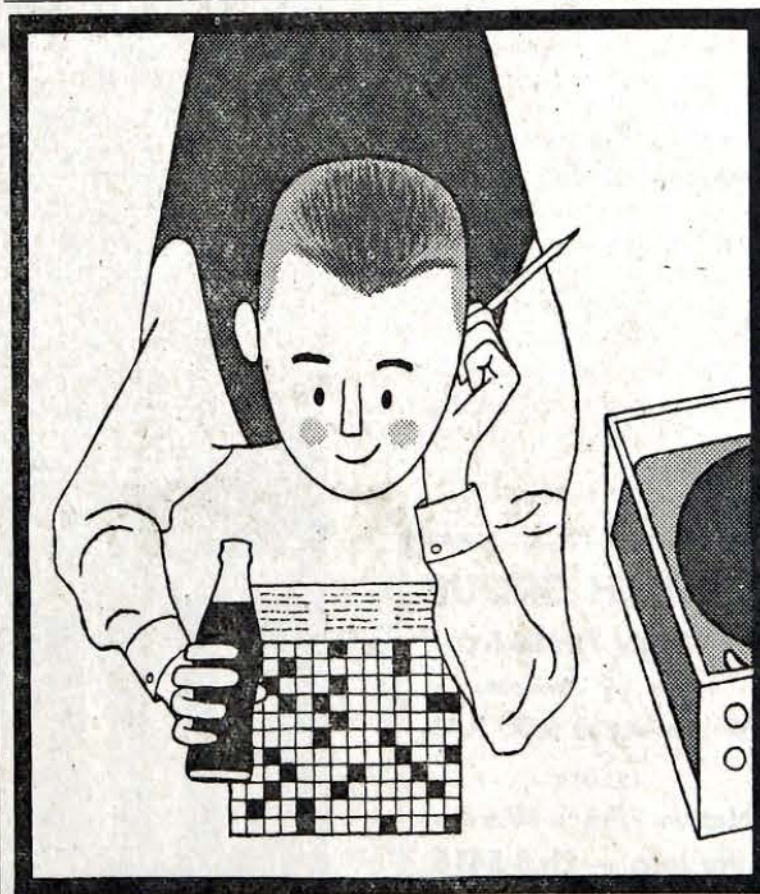

Next year however there will be 16 returning oarsmen. Coach Bill Stalnaker is expecting the usual contingent of freshmen to bolster both crews. Stalnaker hopes and urges all men who have inclination to row to come out next year. This year's J.V. boat was a tribute to Stalnaker's ability to instruct and mould a young and powerful crew.

Jayvee Crew Wins State Title

Following the example set by the varsity boat, the Univ. of Tampa Junior Varsity eight made it a perfect day for the Spartans by taking the measure of Jacksonville and Fla. Southern College in their race. The J.V.s, chanted on by coxswain Larry Arnold and stroked by Bob Currie, trailed Jacksonville in second place for a mile and with a little over a quarter of a mile left to go put on the power to lead the Junior Dolphins into the sprint by a quarter of a boat with Fla. Southern in last place by a length and a quarter. During the sprint the Tampa J.V.s gradually moved out to finish a length in front. J.U. and Fla. Southern finished next in that order.

Stalnaker Swims

After chucking varsity coxswain Al Harwood and J.V. coxy Larry Arnold into the murky waters of the Hillsborough, the happy Spartan oarsmen turned their attention to coach Bill Stalnaker and immediately launched him into the water as well in post race ceremonies at the boat-house.

Know the answer?

What's an eight-letter word which reminds you of good taste, sparkle, lift? The answer's easy—Coca-Cola of course. No puzzle about why it's so popular . . . no other sparkling drink gives you so much good taste, so much satisfaction. Yes, when you're looking for refreshment, the answer's always Coke!
