

HAIL ALMA MATER DEDICATED IN 1936

"Hail our glorious Alma Mater, Hail our Tampa U." As the last strains of the Alma Mater died away, thought turned back through the years to an October day in 1937 when Tampa U. received her Alma Mater.

At an assembly program on Oct. 27, 1937, August Ingley, bandmaster and composer here at the University from 1933 till 1938, presented the Alma Mater, which he had written, to the school.

Ceremonies of dedication and presentation at this assembly were conducted by Dr. E. B. Hinckley, professor of English and chairman of the Committee on Degrees and Ceremonies.

After a brief biography of Ingley, given by Dr. Hinckley, two dedications and presentations were made by Bandmaster Ingley. These dedications and presentations concerned two marches by Ingley.

The Band struck up "The University of Tampa President's March," which was played for Dr. John H. Serman, the President of the University. After the music died away, Mr. Ingley presented to Dr. Serman a photostatic copy of the original music to the "The University of Tampa President's March" and also the baton with which the piece was first conducted.

The second march played that day was "The University of Tampa Dean's March." Dean Morris S. Hale was given a copy of this March and was also presented with the baton with which August Ingley first conducted the piece.

The climax of the program came after Ingley directed the Band in the Alma Mater, the singing of which was aided by the Girls' Chorus. Ingley then made his dedication of the Alma Mater to the school.

Following this brief ceremony, a painting, "The Spirit of the Alma Mater," was presented by Lytton Ashmore, representative of the Student Body. The painting, done by Mr. Norman Borchardt, art instructor, featured as part of the scene the Alma Mater itself as it was originally written.

The program ended by the Band playing "Campus Song," which was written by Ingley.

Thus was the University of Tampa Alma Mater dedicated and presented to the school by August Ingley.

But who was this August Ingley? The story of August Ingley at the University of Tampa begins in 1933 when he came to the University as band director. It was during this period that Ingley, through his love for the school, wrote many songs for the University.

These songs include the Alma Mater, "The University of Tampa President's March," "The University of Tampa Dean's March," "The University of Tampa March," the "Campus Song," and the "Coach Song." Later, between October, 1937, and February, 1938, Ingley completed "The Spartans on Parade," another march for the school.

Prior to coming to the United States from Canada in 1925, Ingley

STADIUM DEBT CLEARED NOW

The mortgage on Phillips Field will be burned next Saturday night at halftime of the Livingstone State game. Dr. Elwood C. Nance, president of the University, told a student assembly that the indebtedness had been paid off.

The field has been operated since 1937 by the University of Tampa Athletic Association, a group composed of three bond-holders, three faculty members, three alumni and three members of the university's board of trustees.

The athletic association, headed by George B. Howell, president of the Marine Bank, built the present stadium at Phillips Field for an initial cost of $50,000 cash and approximately the same amount in contributions.

Under an agreement of trust with the university, the association operated the field as a non-profit group.

Ran Program

From 1937 to 1949, the association had the responsibility of not only handling the indebtedness of the stadium, but, as an outside group, also carried on the entire athletic program of the university.

Welcome Home Alumni! Homecoming Highlighted By Parade, Game and Dance

Highlighting not only this season's social events, but also the Homecoming Celebration, will be the Homecoming Dance. The dress will be optional, and Don Francisco's Orchestra will add to the gaiety when this annual affair is given in the Tampa Jai Alai Fronton, at 11 P. M. on November 20.

This year, the Intra Fraternity-Sorority Council is in charge of tickets and arrangements with George Grant as chairman. At 1.25 per person, tickets may be purchased in the lobby, and in the dormitory from fraternities and sororities.

Thursday evening, the curtain will direction of Mrs. B. F. Allen, go up at 8 P. M. on the first annual "Pink Ribbons" will star Barbara Allen, Diane Bidwell, Vincent Pet-ti, James Friedman, and Robert Parsons.

Alumni registration will be Friday, Nov. 19, in the school lobby. Miss Catherine Sible is in charge.

Another first is the Freshman Talent Show in the Band Shell at 3 P. M. on Friday. Also, the fraternities and sororities will present skits.

"Growing With Tampa," is the theme this year and will be the basis for many floats entered by fraternities and sororities in the parade which begins at 11 A. M.

Nash Higgings will be Master of Ceremonies when the Alumni hold their luncheon and business meet-

Tomorrow night in the Jungle Room (University Lobby), you can become acquainted with Dr. Delbour Livingston, famous explorer, who will relate to you, upon request, one of his zany safaris in the wilds of Africa. Yes, after the football game with Livingston State College, come to the "Jungle Hop" sponsored by Alpha Chi Omega sorority and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. Come along and enjoy the fun. 75c drag, 50c stag. See ya there! Music will be by Mansie Harris. Pictured (l. to r.) are Doris Cothorn, Eleanor Ebsary, and Joan Hickey.

PHILLIPS FIELD SEATING

by Robert W. Martoski

Due to the adverse comments, expressed by the student body on the arrangement of seating at football games, the Minaret has prompted an investigation.

Paul Straub, business manager of the Athletic Department, was asked if the University football team were a city football team or a school football team. His answer was that financially the University of Tampa football team is a city team. He further said, however, the team is spiritually the schools.

SEATING SET IN ADVANCE

Straub said that student seating, along with other seating arrangements, is decided many months before the first game. The Athletic Department draws up a plan for seating. The plan is passed to the Faculty Athletic Committee under the chairmanship of Professor Jesse L. Keene. Then the plan passes to the Administration of the University. The Board of Trustees then look over the plan and are allowed to propose changes.

FINANCIAL PROBLEM

It was pointed out by both Keene and Straub, that if the students were to get fifty yard line sections such situation could arise as "I" and "J" on the South side, it would pose a financial problem, and a crucial situation could arise within the Athletic Department.

Straub said that the Faculty Athletic Committee and the Athletic Department determine the seating arrangement. This was denied by Keene. He said the decisions were made by the University "Adminis-

DR. NANCE SAYS . . .

The Tampa Athletic Association, under the alert and industrious leadership of Mr. George Howell, University Trustee and president of the Marine Bank and Trust Company of Tampa, has offered several times to transfer the management of the stadium back to the University. Our Trustees have on each such occasion, requested Mr. Howell to continue his management until the bonded indebtedness on the stadium was completely liquidated.

The University has always been represented on Tampa Athletic Association; the deed to the stadium has always been in the name of the University, and financial

As We See It--

Welcome Home Alumnae

We welcome University of Tampa Alumnae back on our campus for the annual Homecoming festivities. We want to point out to you that the school is growing. Look at the building with its new paint. Look at the student body with its growing show of school spirit.

We welcome you and we need you. You know the needs of this school. Many of them were needs even before you attended classes here. You know that no University can run on the income from tuition and fees. We know that your support of the plans for new buildings and facilities will make them possible.

We, who are students, pledge to you our support when we will have graduated. We too, will help to make the University of Tampa the biggest little school in the state, yes, even in the whole South.

Welcome back!!!!!!

Senate-Synonymous With Hard Work

We have attended several Student Senate sessions during the past few weeks. We were amazed to learn how much they really do. They have the responsibility for many of the decisions concerning school activities such as Homecoming, which we all take for granted.

The Minaret is partially to blame for this lack of understanding of Senate activities. We will try to give a better picture of their work in the future.

We'd like to point out that the Senate meets every Monday at 12:30 p. m. in Dean King's office. The meetings are open to the student body. We'd like to suggest to the Senate that the door be left open to invite students to see for themselves what is going on, and perhaps on occasions when important policy issues are to be discussed, students might be especially urged to come and listen.

A note to the members of the Senate: We may criticize from time to time, but we know you are trying to do your best for the Alma Mater.

Public Relations-We Need Some

We humbly suggest that the University of Tampa could use a good amount of honest—unifying public relations. We know it can be gained through honest, capable, and efficient public relations personnel.

Public Relations begin at home. The "student public" is the most important group to any university. This is especially true of those schools which draw a large part of their student body from the local population.

It is important that all activities of the University be drawn together. We see too much, the evidence that the Athletic Dept., the Cafeteria, the Radio Station, drama activities, and many other school functions act as separate entities with no coordination at all. It should be the job of public relations to work with them, to help each of them improve their own status by working more closely with the others.

Public relations is defined as, "doing good, then getting credit for it." All too often the emphasis is put on getting a story in the newspaper rather than accomplishing a newsworthy task. If an organization has good public relations it won't need as much publicity because the word of mouth publicity of the people most intimately concerned will tell the story.

The tried and true rule—make a good record and then let it speak for itself—is good for any organization.

Fire and Heat

We often talk about the danger of fire in the University building and we complain about the lack of heat in the colder months. These two problems are in a large measure linked together and must be solved in the near future.

The problem of heat in the dormitories often leads to carelessness with fireplaces and electric heaters. The electric heaters overload the wiring and blow fuses.

People, not used to open fireplaces, are careless with the sparks and the size of the fires they build on cold nights. When fuses blow, dangerous methods of lighting are used, such as the burning of newspapers. Recently the building came close to catching on fire from such an incident.

This fire hazard is dangerous to the life and property of everyone living here. It is especially dangerous for those students who can't walk. Fire would blow fuses and kill the electrical circuits. Elevators would be put out of commission and people could be trapped in the building.

We think this problem demands the immediate attention of the administration. We believe a possible solution would be the installation of heavy duty electrical circuits in each corridor with outlets suitable for use with electric heaters in each room. This would take a load off the old wiring. It could eliminate the use of many fireplaces, which are potentially dangerous in this building. Installation and electricity could be paid for with a "use charge" figured to amortize the original cost over a period of time.

In the meantime, it is necessary that every person living and studying in this building be conscious of the fire hazards. Care to put cigarette butts in the sand boxes is important.

Fire is a powerful friend or deadly enemy. Use it right.

SPAR-SPAR IS REVEALED!

What is Spar-Spar? I'll tell you. It is a secret organization which is backed by the administration and faculty, the purpose of which is to further school spirit at all University functions and activities.

What are the qualifications of a member for Spar-Spar? Scholastic ability? Social affiliations? Religious preference? Popularity? No, none of these is required, but a tremendous amount of enthusiasm, school spirit, and willingness to give service to help our University grow, is required.

Who are the members of Spar-Spar? It is composed of eight members of the student body, two members from each of the four classes, who will remain completely anonymous until their senior year, when they will be revealed and recognized for their service to Spar-Spar and to the University.

How do the Spar-Spars work? The Spar-Spars obtain some help from the members of the student body, who occasionally assist in the making of signs and posters, decorating, and in the displaying of signs in places where Spar-Spar members might be recognized. No student is directly contacted by a Spar-Spar.

How can you help Spar-Spar in its operation? If you cooperate with the organization in helping with its many services you are showing your school spirit, and that is what Spar-Spar is trying to do. And if you have any ideas whatever that will help this young but growing organization, address them to Spar-Spar in care of the Dean of Women's office.

HORROR

As she sat in front of the mirror, she began thumbing through the latest fashion magazine. She had a big decision to make, but she couldn't make up her mind. She was too engrossed in the magazine to see a well-groomed, white-coated man coming up behind her. He looked narrowly at her, then slowly removed a sharp instrument and began edging closer. The object in his hand shone as the sunlight struck its sharp edges.

She looked up just as he brought his hand down on her head. She screamed, but it was too late.

Even though she had changed her mind, the barber had already started trimming her hair the way they had originally planned.

reports have been made to the Administration and Trustees. The management of the stadium has been transferred back to the University at the earliest possible date, greatly enlarged and improved, and its financial value tremendously increased. The University Trustees and Administration cannot express adequate thanks to Mr. Howell for the time and money he has invested in the stadium.

It should be stressed here that the future financial income from the stadium is uncertain. The local High Schools, from which the Tampa Athletic Association received a considerable income in rentals and which increased the value of concession rentals, now have their own stadiums. A new and much larger municipal stadium is in Mayor Hixon's plans for the future development of Tampa. The maintenance and custodial expenses of the stadium are considerable and will increase. New sources of income must be found if the stadium is to make a profit in the future.

FASHION FANCIES

Camille Cappolino

Look what's happened to suits! In 1902 there was the suit. It's design was unvarying—stern, masculine, unbecoming. You wore it to prove you were the equal of a man—and you looked it. That was over half a century ago. In 1954 there are suits—no longer a single costume, but a whole genre of clothes. Their designs are infinitely varied but uniformly versatile, feminine, flattering. You wear them to prove nothing more than that you love them. You wear them anywhere—in city, in suburb, or country; to town, to school, to parties.

The newest silhouette of the season—the universally becoming, very rectangular box jacket above a straight slender skirt. These suits are very becoming in wool tweed.

For shoes that share in the honors with suits, the smart co-ed will find high heeled pumps of ruby calf, a gray flannel shoe for that gray flannel suit, and for those very special occasions a high heeled pump of your choice color with black calf buttons insert on the toes.

Here are some tips on buying a suit:—

1. Don't buy one unless:
1. It is your size.
2. The shoulder padding is as you like it.
3. The weave is right.
4. It is your favorite color.

5. You have already lost those 10 pounds.
6. You know where you are going.
7. You want to look wonderful.
8. You know what it is made of.

Into the construction of the building we know as the University of Tampa went 452 carloads of bricks, 2949 barrels of cement, 2244 tons of steel, 69 1/2 tons of iron, 5050 feet of iron cornices, 689,500 feet of lumber, 242 kegs of nails, and many tons of other materials.

COUNCIL TO HANDLE DANCE

It was announced by Interfraternity & Sorority Council President Charles Archibald that the Council will handle ticket sales for the Homecoming Dance to be held at the Jai Alai Fronton on November 20 following the football game. Each sorority and fraternity have been issued tickets for the dance by Homecoming Dance Chairman George Grant and are now available for sale. The sororities and fraternities are the only organizations with tickets for the annual event.

The president also announced that the Interfraternity & Sorority Council group will aid the University of Tampa Basketball Team by selling season tickets for the Basketball season. Season tickets may be procured by contacting any sorority or fraternity member of the University of Tampa.

All sororities and fraternities have made plans to enter floats in the Homecoming Parade to be held on Saturday morning, November 20.

Zeta Tau Alpha

The Zeta Tau Alpha's are busy as bees working nights to put their float together for the Homecoming Parade on November 20. Not only that, but they are also rehearsing their skit to be given on Friday, November 19 at the Freshman Talent Show.

Jackie Fitzgibbons is one of the five finalists in the Homecoming Queen Court of 1954 whom the Zeta's are mighty proud.

Alpha Chi Omega

The Alpha Chi Omega's have come up with something new this year, by giving their annual script dance with a fraternity, the Tau Kappa Epsilon. It's the "Jungle Hop" tomorrow night in the lobby of the University.

Work on the Alpha Chi's float has been started and they have high hopes of entering a winning float in the Homecoming Parade. Sally Wolfe and Eleanor Ebsary are in charge of float decorations.

The annual Thanksgiving Scholarship Banquet will be given the week of Thanksgiving when the member having the highest scholastic average for the school year will be awarded the scholarship bracelet, held by Eleanor Ebsary the past year.

Open house in the sorority room will be held Thursday afternoon, November 18, for Alpha Chi Omega and their friends, from 1 to 2 P. M.

Two members of Alpha Chi Omega have been named to the Homecoming Queen Court, Sally Wolfe, and Jerry Davis. Congratulations!

Sigma Sigma Sigma

The Tri Sigma's have completed their plans for Homecoming which includes open house held after the Homecoming Parade on Saturday afternoon, November 20, in the sorority room; float plans; and a skit for the Freshman Talent Show.

The attractive ribbon corsages in our school colors which you see everyone wearing lately were made and sold by the Sigma Sigma Sigma girls who are trying to raise the money for their annual Christmas Party for the children of Bay-side School. These corsages will be sold at each football game and at Homecoming. Let's all help in this worthy cause by buying one of these corsages.

FRATERNITY NEWS

By Charles Nundy

The hectic bustle of activity around the campus can mean only one thing, Homecoming. All the frats are busy working on their floats and making plans for the various socials that will take place.

TKE

Teke/c fraternity has plans for a member pledge breakfast, to be held at the Stable Room of the Thomas Jefferson Hotel. A breakfast for member pledges and alumni of SPE SPE will be held Nov. 21.

SPE

Pledges repeated the frat oath at a formal meeting held last week in the chapter room. Officers for the pledg class are E. Cunningham, president; Marvin Scott, vice-president, and Mickey Payne, treasurer; Dick Cole is pledge capt. and Bill Sams and Al Howell are pledge lieuts.

Tau Kappa Epsilon has joined forces with AXO sorority and will sponsor a script dance tomorrow night after the Livingstone game. The theme will be "The Jungle Room" and the lobby will be decorated in keeping with this. Mansie Harris and his "Jungle Jive" very appropriately named will provide the music.

Teke pledges have been working on colored pom-poms which will be distributed to the students free of charge at the football games. The pledges are led this year by F. W. Coutcher, president; Joe Fernandez, vice-president; Joe Cutro, secretary; Celestino Fernandez treasurer, and Jesse Diez, parliamentarian. Bob Eustace is pledge trainer.

RND

Pledges elected Wilfred Thomas president; Cesar Bode, vice-president; Epifanio Maniscalco, secretary, and Lioner Polo treasurer. Philip Leto will serve as pledge captain.

George Grant and Joe Howlett are the co-captains of the pledge class this fall. B. J. Brown is president, Dave Janasik, vice-president. Secretary position is held by Bill Mosher. James Harper is treasurer and Manuel Linares is parliamentarian.

TO

Pledges elected Jackie Skipper their president, Tommy King, vice-president; Bob Sadlak, treasurer, and George Card chaplain. Tom Sais is pledge captain.

PHILISOPHY

By Jerry Waitos

Once again I sit grinning before my typewriter. Back in my mispent youth, two years ago to be precise, I wrote a column in the Plant High School newspaper as a few students now here at Tampa U. may recall. or the sake of my grades I used an assumed name, which at some point in writing this column I may once again decide to use.

Since school starts with registration, I shall also begin with this subject. I was at school on the prescribed day at 7:00 A.M. so as to be the first one in line, and I was not. Shortly after 8:00 A.M. I ran over to my advisor for his signature on my program. He looked at me critically for a moment and then suggested that I major in health. At 9:00 A.M. having gotten all the classes I didn't want I galloped over to the registrar to have her approve my program. She didn't. I had to have the dean's signature to take eighteen hours. My registration completed I walked out of Tampa U. that night, took a bus to where my car was parked and drove back home.

There are times when I think that no matter what I write about a particular subject I will be doing an injustice to the potential it presents. Therefore I will make no comment on the "freshies" until I have given them further thought.

They used to always tell us in journalism class that people like to see their names in print; so in order to make the readers happy, put the names of all the friends you have in your articles. You won't find any names in my column. Not that I don't have any friends you understand, but both of them have asked me not to reveal their names.

The other day I came out of school, and walked over to my car parked in the shade of the Plymouth Oak just a few feet from the doors of Tampa U. I got inside, peered through my windshield and found myself reading a tag hooked unto my wiper blade stating that I was parked in a naughty place. Was I ever ashamed of myself. Nevertheless, I decided then and there that I would not pay the dollar fine.

The desk sergeant sneered at me when I handed him my dollar, actually sneered. Then he said, "I guess we'll straighten you out yet." All I did was park where I said "Absolutely and Positively No Parking—For Tourist Club Members Only." and he's telling me that the police are going to straighten me out. I felt like the villain in "drag-net" as I shuffled out of the Police Dept. doorway. The desk sergeant continued polishing his badge. What I want to know is, where do you join the Tourist Club!

I don't usually like to comment on the weather since nobody usually does anything about it, but it was so hot this summer I understand three lifeguards melted on St. Petersburg Beach while on duty. If I'd seen it with my own eyes I wouldn't have believed it because I'm very nearsighted.

In closing, since I am never without a philosophy, I want you to remember that it never gets so bad that it couldn't be worse, though this column very nearly disproves that statement.

TANS played Miami, winning 3, losing 4 and playing to 2 ties.

From 1938 to 1942, the SPARTANS played Florida, dropping all 5 games.

TAMPA BAY HOTEL WHY?

"Only God knows why Plant built a hotel here, but thank God he did," said an American cavalry general of the Spanish-American War. He was speaking of what you now know as the University of Tampa building and of the dynamic personality, Henry B. Plant, who built it.

GERMAN GUEST ENTERTAINED

The Director of Education of Cologne, Germany, visited the University of Tampa during his tour of the United States Educational Institutions. He is Professor Johannes Giesberts and he graduated from the Universities of Munster, Grenoble, Bonn and Cologne.

He will return to Germany after he completes his tour about the end of November.

He is President of the "Free-Educationists" teachers who are political refugees from Russian Zone, and also a member of staff of Junior Red Cross, Rhineland.

After being arrested by Russian Secret Police 23 times and being accused of spying for the West, he finally decided due to the increasing frequency of arrests and accusations, to escape to the West.

He did this reluctantly, as the clergy of all denominations desired him to continue the supervision of education.

Presently he is Superintendent of the schools in Cologne with 75,000 pupils.

Professor Giesberts is a participant in the Foreign Leader Program of the International Exchange Service of the Department of State. During his stay in Tampa, he was entertained by Dr. E. C. Nance, President of the University of Tampa and given conducted tours about the University and the city. He was interviewed by the radio department, station WTUN, of the University of Tampa and a tape recording was made of the interview for general use on radio programs. Professor Giesberts expressed great delight with Florida sunshine and the local beaches and was particularly impressed with the blue water.

LOPEZ HONORED

Tampa's own Al Lopez, famed manager of the Cleveland Indians, was presented the University of Tampa Achievement Medal by Dr. Ellwood C. Nance at a special banquet held at the Spanish Park last Monday. Lopez is the first sports figure to be presented this award.

Others who have been honored are Shirley Temple, celebrated movie actress, Clyde Reed, head of biology department of the University of Tampa, Frances P. Whitehair, former Secretary of Navy and George Truman Hunter, graduate of the University of Tampa and now world famous for his research work in nuclear physics.

According to the late Dr. C. H. Laub, who wrote a history of the University, Henry B. Plant of Connecticut settled in Georgia in 1854. Soon afterward he organized the Southern Express Corporation. During the depression of 1873-79, Mr. Plant began to buy bankrupt railroads in the southeastern part of the United States. He brought Savannah, Jacksonville and Tampa into continuous communication, and by 1884 Tampa had regular train service with Jacksonville, thus being linked with the rest of the country.

Tampa at that time was a community of 700 in a "sea of sand" with "wooden derelict buildings." Mr. Plant's most colorful venture was to build the Tampa Bay Hotel, home of our University.

The cornerstone was laid in 1888 and the formal opening was in February, 1891. This was a great event for Tampa. Elaborate festivities including a grand reception and a ball marked the opening.

The first season was a big success. When a naval squadron came to Tampa, Mr. and Mrs. Plant entertained Admiral Walker with appropriate ceremony. Four years later Mrs. U. S. Grant was an honored guest. Another cause for elaborate celebration was the opening of the Lafayette Street Bridge.

Gay and fashionable tourists thronged this ornate and gorgeously furnished hotel, though some of Mr. Plant's critics described it as a bizarre affair, covered with gingerbread decoration. Railroad and steamship connections and a good hotel helped Tampa to grow from 700 people to 10,000 in five years.

At the beginning of the Spanish-American War, Tampa had the best port (owned by Mr. Plant's company) for operations in Cuba. Soldiers of the regular army began to pour into Tampa by the thousands. During the war the Tampa Bay Hotel was likened to a Brussels hotel just before the battle of Waterloo. Famous newspaper correspondents including such great names as Richard Harding Davis, Frederic Remington and Stephen Bonsal stayed here. Theodore Roosevelt had his camp one mile from the Tampa Bay Hotel. Mrs. Roosevelt stayed here when she visited him. Porches and corridors were filled with officers of the Army and Navy.

The City of Tampa bought the hotel in 1905 and operated it for a number of years. Later the hotel closed, and in 1933 the building was reopened as the newly organized University of Tampa.

ALMA MATER

had been director of the Toronto, Canada, Hippodrome. He had also been concertmaster for Enrico Miro of Montreal, Canada. Before coming to the University in 1933 he was musical supervisor of the Universal Picture Corporation.

From 1935 to 1938, Ingley had his own studio, composed of 15 teachers, called "Ingley's Studio." Ingley also spent a large part of his time traveling over the United States recruiting band members for the University Band.

But Ingley's work here at the University was cut short, for Death struck in 1938.

One Wednesday, early in February, 1938, Ingley, being early for the usual band rehearsal, decided to climb up the stairway in one of the minarets to watch the daredevils at the Fairgrounds race track. He was accompanied by his friend Leland Hackney.

After climbing six flights of stairs, Ingley became tired and stopped to rest. He told Hackney to go on ahead, saying he would be up there shortly. Hackney went on and waited, but Ingley never reached the top of that last flight of stairs. Hackney went back down the narrow steps to where he had left Ingley. There he found Ingley gasping from a heart attack. Before Hackney could summon help August Ingley was dead.

An editorial in the Feb. 11, 1938, issue of the Minaret perhaps best expresses the sentiment of all who knew August Ingley and of all who love and appreciated his Alma Mater:

"His absence will be a tremendous loss to hundreds of good friends that he left in many parts of the United States and Canada. But he and his music will live forever in the hearts of his bandmen and the students of Tampa U., and the singing of his glorious 'Alma Mater' will forever be a great tribute to one of the best friends we have ever known."

DEBT CLEARED

After the university took over the operation of its athletic program, the association was able to retire most of the indebtedness in a short time and the last bonds were retired on Nov. 1.

Since the original stands were built in 1938, five additions have been made to the stadium, increasing the seating capacity from 8500 to around 15,000 or about 40 per cent.

The stadium and grounds have an estimated value of between $350,000 and half million dollars, which will become a valuable asset to the university.

Appropriate ceremonies will be held during homecoming next week to celebrate the gift of the stadium from the association to the university, and the mortgage burned.

DR. NANCE NAMED

Dr. Ellwood C. Nance, president of the University of Tampa, has been named one of four members of a committee which will plan and preside over a section of the Washington Conference on World Affairs to be held in April of next year.

It is expected that the conference program will include addresses by United States congressmen and several foreign ambassadors and ministers.

tration" and the Board of Trustees. Keene said the students don't have a chance of getting better seats until the "Administration" and the Board of Trustees decide to give it to them.

Both Keene and Straub agreed that they would like to see better seats for the student body. "But," said Straub, "it is a matter of money. We need to sell those season tickets on the fifty yard line to put football across."

POSSIBLE SOLUTION

Dr. M. C. Rhodes, Dean of Administration, said the Student Senate should study all sides of the issue, if they want to get better seats for the student body. He said some of the problems to be discussed would be; "How much money is to be lost by giving the best seats to the students? Would the students fill those sections if they had them? Would the lost revenue be made up by selling season tickets for other sections?"

He said that after all sides had been discussed by the Senate, the issue should be presented to, and discussed by the student body in an assembly. He said then the student's answer could be brought to the Trustees and other authority for action.

ing in the Hillsborough Hotel at 12:30 on Saturday.

Kick-off time is set for 8 P. M., when the Mighty Spartans will battle Appalachian College at Philipps Field.

Festivities will be climaxed by the Homecoming Dance at 11 P. M. Unlike Cinderella, our Queen will appear at midnight to be crowned by the reigning sovereign, Queen Vilma of the House of Fernandez.

Friday night, President E. C. Nance will hold his Reception for students and alumni in the Ballroom, from 8 until 10 P. M. At 9:30, the 1954 Homecoming Queen and her court will be presented.

The scene will move to the Cuban Club Patio, at 10:30, where Don Francisco's Orchestra will furnish music for the Greek Letter Organizations Dance. Dress for the occasion is optional.

On Nov. 20, the Dome Theatre will open the days schedule with a children's party of refreshments and entertainment.

ALUMNI PRESIDENT

The new president of the University of Tampa Alumni Association to be chosen Homecoming week-end will be the 17th person to be elected to that office.

The former presidents:

Miller K. Adams, 1935-37; Bob Morales, 1937-38; John Hall (term served by Vice-President Bill Aailar), 1938-39; Hampton Dunn, 1939-40; Al Yorkunas, 1940-52; Bill Moody, 1942-43; Bill Hippenmeyer, 1943-44; Crockett Farnell, 1944-46; Clyde Bergwin, 1946-47; Albert Moshell, 1947-48; John Cox, 1948-49; Clair Pittman, 1949-50; Rudy Rodriguez, 1950-51; Fred Rogers, 1951-52; Wallace Pepper, 1952-53; Dr. Paul J. McCloskey, 1953-54 (term served in part by Virginia Morris Overstreet).

A Wish

Miss Daphne Meyers, the new physical education professor at the University says that she has always wanted to come to Florida and not only that, she wanted to teach in a coeducational, private university with an enrollment of about 1000. Has she been disappointed? No, as a matter of fact she is very happy here, and believes that our University is going somewhere and that someday it will be an outstanding university not only because of its location but because of the great potential present.

Hailing from Louisville, Kentucky, Miss Meyers received her B. A. degree from Heidelberg College, in Tiffin, Ohio and her M. A. degree from Bowling Green State University in Bowling Green, Ohio. She was a student instructor in physical education at both institutions.

Besides her interest in physical education, she has studied voice, speech, and drama and has sung professionally.

CIVIL SERVICE ANNOUNCES

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced the annual examination for Junior Management Assistant for filling positions in various Federal agencies in Washington, D. C., and throughout the country.

These positions, which pay entrance salaries of $3,410 and $4,205 a year offer excellent opportunity for advancement. The JMA examination is designed to bring into the Federal service outstanding young men and women for training and development into future Federal executives and the requirements to be met are extremely high.

To qualify for the positions, applicants must pass written tests and must have appropriate education or experience. Students who expect to complete their courses by June 30, 1955, may apply. Those who meet the requirements of education or experience and who pass the written test will be given an oral interview to determine whether or not they possess the personal characteristics necessary for job success. The age limit, waived for persons entitled to veteran preference, is 35 years.

Washington office not later than Applications for this examination must be filed with the Commission's Nov. 30, 1954. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the school placement office or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

REHABILITATION

"College students should look to the fields of rehabilitation for job possibilities" according to Miss Mary E. Switzer, director of the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, O.V.R. (a section of the Department of Health Education, and Welfare, is concerned with preparing severely disabled people for employment.

"The Republican Congress has completely changed the laws concerning the rehabilitation programs," according to E. B. Whitten, executive secretary of the National Rehabilitation Association. "It is a revolution. We have been needing it for a long time."

The new law provides for the construction of rehabilitation hospitals as well as greater aid to the state programs. Only 620 occupational therapists are being trained each year to fill a need for 1500. There are fewer than 3,000 practicing occupational therapists in the nation today. The first trainees under the program are now receiving advanced professional training at the New York University—Bellevue Medical Center in New York City.

In addition to occupational therapists, there is a need for psychological counselors, physical therapists, and teachers. Social workers are used to help people with handicaps to adjust to normal society. The psychologists are used in job counseling as well as clinical psychology.

Nearly a million dollars has been appropriated by the last Congress for teaching grants and traineeships in the field of vocational rehabilitation. Five hundred thousand dollars will be used for teaching grants and another four hundred thousand dollars will provide scholarship aid to people who want to enter the rehabilitation field.

MARINES ACCEPTING OFFICER CANDIDATES

The Marine Corps Officer Procurement Officer has announced that applications are now being accepted from students who desire to earn a commission in the Marine Corps while completing college.

Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors, pursuing a course of study other than pre-medical pre-dental, theology, pharmacy or music, are being selected for the PLATOON LEADERS CLASS. All training is conducted during two six week summer classes. Candidates receive $149.05, as pay, for the first class and $183.45 for the second class. Uniforms, food and travel allowances are also furnished. Members of the PLATOON LEADERS CLASS are deferred from induction. Commissions are tendered upon graduation from college.

Seniors and graduates may apply for the OFFICER CANDIDATE COURSE. Commissions are tendered to candidates who successfully complete a ten-week training class after graduation from college. Mid-term graduates are now being enrolled for the 13th OCC which convenes in March 1955. Candidates eligible for the 13th class must be graduated by 15 Feb.

Training for both programs is conducted at the Marine Corps Schools (Quantico, Virginia). Successful candidates are appointed to commissioned rank in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve and must agree to serve on active duty for three years.

Officers commissioned through either program are initially assigned to the Officer Basic School, also at Quantico, for five additional months of instruction. Many officers then receive specialist training in various fields including aviation, artillery, tracked vehicles, supply, engineering and others.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR

Five osteopathic college scholarships of $1,000 each will be awarded by the Auxiliary to the American Osteopathic Association for the entering classes in the Fall of 1955, it has been announced.

Osteopathic scholarship applicants for the entering classes of 1955 must have an acceptance or a tentative acceptance from any one of the six approved colleges, all of which require a minimum of three years of pre-professional work.

The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of financial need, good scholarship, strong motivation toward the osteopathic school of medicine and outstanding personality traits.

In information about the osteopathic colleges, scholarships and application forms will be sent upon request by the Scholarship Chairman, Auxiliary to the American Osteopathic Association, 212 E. Ohio St., Chicago 11, Ill.

FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE IN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 11, 1954—The National Academy of Sciences—National Research Council has announced the inauguration of a new program of National Research Council-National Bureau of Standards Postdoctoral Research Associateships in chemistry, mathematics and physics for the academic year 1955-1956. These research associateships have been designed to provide young investigators of unusual ability and promise an opportunity for basic research in the following fields: pure and applied mathematics, applied mathematical statistics, numerical analysis, experimental thermodynamics and calorimetry, statistical mechanics, molecular structure and spectroscopy, low temperature physics, solid state physics, theoretical and nuclear physics, radiological physics, analytical chemistry, inorganic chemistry and physical chemistry.

These fellowships are open only to citizens of the United States. Applicants must produce evidence of training in one of the foregoing fields equivalent to that represented by the Ph.D. or Sc.D. degree and must have demonstrated superior ability for creative research.

TESTS

The National Teacher Examinations, prepared and administered annually by the Educational Testing Service, will be given at the University of Tampa and approximately two hundred other testing centers throughout the United States, on Saturday, February 12, 1955.

At the one-day testing session a candidate may take the Common Examinations, which include tests in Professional Information, General Culture, English Expression, and Non-verbal Reasoning; and one or two of nine Optional Examinations designed to demonstrate mastery of subject matter to be taught. The college which a candidate is attending, or the school system in which he is seeking employment, will advise him whether he should take the National Teacher Examinations and which of the Optional Examinations to select.

Application forms and a Bulletin of Information describing registration procedure and containing sample test questions may be obtained from the office of Dean M. C. Rhodes, after November 15.

Nance Gets Post

New York, Nov. 10 — Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, today announced appointment of Dr. Ellwood C. Nance, president of the University of Tampa, as Florida state chairman for the 1955 March of Dimes next January.

Dr. Nance will lead and coordinate the fund raising activities of the 67 volunteer county campaign organizations conducting the March of Dimes in Florida, January 3-31. He succeeds the late Dean Walter J. Matherly of the University of Florida, who headed the 1954 March of Dimes in which Floridians contributed $1,072,148.54—or about 39 cents per capita—to the fight against polio.

"Dr. Nance will give the crusade against this crippling disease a tremendous lift," Mr. O'Connor said in announcing the appointment. "We need the kind of vigor and resourcefulness he can give to this struggle if we are to bring a quick end to the polio prevention program."

"It should be emphasized that although miraculous strides have been made in the search for a polio vaccine, the final answer is not yet in and, meanwhile, there are thousands of persons who need our assistance. Dr. Nance deserves, and I am sure he will receive, the utmost support that citizens of Florida can give him."

DETECTIVE STORY

A Review

by Bernard E. Shufelt

The Tampa Little Theatre opened its current season with Detective Story, written by Sidney Kingsley. The curtain raised November 2nd in the Little Theatre in Drew Park.

The play was entertaining. Some of the acting was of a superior professional quality. A few actors showed their lack of experience, but they too, did a good job.

Jack Gonzales, one of three University of Tampa students appearing in the play, did an outstanding job. It appeared that he almost lived the part of the burglar which he portrayed. It was very realistically done.

William Hughes played the part of an embezzling veteran with a good war record. His employer wasn't sure whether to prosecute or not. It was "the principle of the thing." He was rescued by the kid sister of his former fiancée who was in love with him.

William Viera, Jr. appeared briefly in the part listed in the program as Crum-Bum. He wasn't on stage long enough to evaluate but we hope to see him in later productions.

Emily Moody portraying a shop-lifter and Ed Wisner as Detective Brody showed a great understanding of the actor's role. They both used facial expression to show emotion in a realistic fashion.

The cast of thirty-four players is to be complimented on its fine job.

Season tickets are still available for six dollars or single tickets may be purchased for two dollars each. We recommend Tampa's only live theatre to anyone interested in good entertainment.

RADIO NEWS

Prof. Franklin A. Moody, head of the speech department of the University, was named to the Radio-TV Committee of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization while he was attending the National Association of Educational Broadcasters convention in New York last week.

Prof. Franklin A. Moody, head of the speech department and director of radio station WTUN, and three members of the WTUN staff—Bryan Webb, station manager; Jack Carew, program chairman; and Joe Higdon, chief announcer—were in New York last week attending the 30th annual convention of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters. This is the first time that University of Tampa students have attended a convention of the association.

Highlights of the program were a reception given by the Secretary-General of the United Nations, a joint luncheon with the Radio and Television Executive Society, and a brief session on the world situation by the chief of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations.

The Radio department has acquired a new piece of equipment that may be used for making recordings and may also be used as a public address system.

Anyone desiring to make a recording may do so by seeing any member of the WTUN staff. There will be a small fee to cover material used in making the recording and all money received from this project will go toward the purchase of additional equipment for WTUN.

PHILHARMONIC

By Martha Thrailkill

The Tampa Philharmonic Symphony conducted by Lyman Wiltse opened the season's concert series Nov. 3 with Barbara Gibson, soprano, as guest soloist. Both the symphony and Miss Gibson gave the audience an evening of delightful musical entertainment.

The reading of Dvorak's familiar "New World" Symphony was particularly well done. For listeners who might have wondered why the scherzo movement was omitted, it was because of program timing.

Miss Gibson did her best work in the Mozart Motet, "Exultate Jubilate" demonstrating her beautiful vocal control. Her encores, "oul Farfalleta" and a cute thing called "Grandma Grunts," really won her audience, however. Everyone had fun listening to a serious young concert singer whistling and giving out with something that resembled a hillbilly tune.

Clayton Lindsey, flutest in the Philharmonic, beautifully accompanied the singer in the flute obligato passages of the "Mad Scene" from Lucia di Lammermoor and the Proch "Variations."

HOT-FOOT
AND SO WE GOT
THE TURKEY TROT

The circus has come a long way since Phineas T. Barnum and his dancing turkeys. It is rumored that Barnum was unintentionally responsible for bringing the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Animals into existence.

Before the SPAC was organized, there was a lesser enterprise called the Band of Mercy, devoted to the same objective. The tale goes that a perceptive Band of Mercy agent had turkeys of his own, and after seeing Barnum's bird ballet, tried to coax his own dumb charges into doing a dance, but without result.

The agent revisited Mr. Barnum's circus and this time took a very close look at the Barnum glassed-in cage. He noticed that on the floor was a sort of metal gridiron. Going to the rear and peering under the cage, he saw rows of gas jets dimly aflame. The turkeys danced because they had no choice.

Queens

Nineteen hundred fifty-four will mark the seventh annual choosing of Tampa U.'s Homecoming Queen.

Frances Saxon ruled over a "Good Will Through Sports" theme in 1948. Mrs. Ken Foster (the former Jodie Heinsen) held the scepter during the 1949 ceremonies. The year 1950 brought a "Helen of Troy" theme with Her Majesty Gloria Gonzales Polo. Ann Roberts was Homecoming Queen in 1951. Mrs. Joseph D'ambrosia (Liz Schwartz) in 1952 and Vilma Fernandez in 1953, when the Homecoming Theme was "Learning Under the Sun Is Fun."

Town Meeting
Of the Air

Dr. Elwood C. Nance, president of the University, and Bernard E. Shufelt, Minaret editor, were introduced among the honored guests, when America's Town Meeting of the Air was broadcast from Tampa last week. Dr. J. Ryon Beiser served as an assistant moderator.

The broadcast originated from the Jai Alai Fronton, and was broadcast over the ABC network. The broadcast was brought to Tampa by the Optimist Council, composed of the greater Tampa Optimist Clubs. The occasion was the kickoff of the Centennial Year for the city of Tampa, which will be celebrated in 1955.

FIRE FOUND IN SCHOOL CHIMNEY

Last Friday startled students saw firemen dashing around the University building. The fire was in the apartment occupied by Mrs. Elyse Sheppard, director of the Men's Dormitory. It had broken out suddenly from a baseboard.

According to R. R. Whitis, building superintendent, the fire originated from the fireplace in President Nance's office. It was carried upstairs through a faulty flue, to the fourth floor. He said that many of the flues in the building run at an angle rather than straight up and down.

Whitis said the building had been inspected by the Fire Marshall two years ago. He said at that time some flues were found faulty and fireplaces were sealed off.

He said an adequate number of fire extinguishers were placed in strategic locations around the building, in places determined by the Fire Marshall.

The 1954 edition of the SPARTAN gridders are a great team!! Everyone who saw the game last Friday night against a strong East Carolina Pirate team are agreed upon this. Minahan, Leathers, Herndon and Spack were clicking in the backfield with Waytovich, Lovely, Colvard and our two centers, Greene and Onderko showing the way in the line.

With a 5 wins, 1 loss record (4 game winning streak), going into the Livingston game tomorrow night, our SPARTANS will be out to make it 5 in a row. In the 3 games played thus far against Livingston, dating back to 1950, Tampa has never lost to the Staters. Scores: 1950 (41 to 39); 1951 (28 to 13); 1952 (27 to 12). Twelve backs and seven linemen have figured in the SPARTAN scoring thus far this year with Don Herndon leading the point-getters with 6 touchdowns... total team point average 36.8 for and 14 against.

BOWL BID FOR SPARTANS

The University of Tampa SPARTANS will participate in the Cigar Bowl game to be played on December 17 at Phillips Field. This will be the second time the Tampa team has played in the Bowl game, both times being coached by Marcelino Huerta & company. Potentate Oscar Weeks of the Egypt Temple, which puts on the game annually for Shrine hospitals for crippled children, announced the selection of the SPARTANS after a meeting with University of Tampa officials.

Meeting with Shrine officials were Dr. E. C. Nance, President of the University of Tampa; Marcelino Huerta, Head Coach and Athletic Director, and Jesse Keene, Chairman of the University's Faculty Athletic Committee.

Opponent for the game has not been announced by selection committee as there are numerous schools under consideration.

Two years ago, our SPARTANS dropped Lenior Rhyne 21 to 12 in one of the finest games played in the Cigar Bowl. Coach Huerta feels that the selection of Tampa for the Cigar Bowl will inspire the team to go all out in the remaining games with Livingston, Appalachian and Florida State.

This game is widely known among small colleges of the country and merits nationwide publicity so the SPARTANS will receive the national recognition they certainly

Go Spartans

By Tony Saladino

Tomorrow night at Phillips Field, the University of Tampa "Spartans" will be seeking their fifth consecutive win of the season as they battle Livingston State Teachers of Alabama, who bowed 40-0 to Delta State last week.

By virtue of last week's 27-14 victory over East Carolina, the "Spartans" extended their string of home wins to four games and are boasting an enviable 5-1 season record.

"Bullet" Bill Minahan grabbed top honors in the November 5th game as he hurled the pigskin for two TD's and personally carried the ball over once to lead the Tampans to victory. In addition to these feats, Minahan, faked with fine form and was a thorn in East Carolina's offensive attack.

Minahan's first TD toss came early in the game as he spotted Don Herndon, speedy Wauchula Freshman back on the sidelines. Herndon, leading "Spartan" scorer, grabbed the aerial, and sprinted a couple of would-be tacklers and crossed the goal for the initial score in the game.

Tampa's ensuing score also came on a Minihan pass. This time his target was end Joe Knight, who was waiting anxiously in the end zone.

The game East Carolina "Pirates" threw a scare into Tampa's coaching staff and players as they nodded the count at 14 all early in the fourth quarter.

It took strategic clutch play by Minahan, aided by the brilliant clutch running of Al Leathers, Tom Spack, and Bob Gambrell, to clinch the victory for Coach Marcelino Huerta and his capable staff. This quartet started a sustained drive and ended with Minihan, scoring from the one.

For insurance, Gambrell, another freshman back from Wauchula, intercepted a Pirate pass in the flats in the waning moments of the game and returned it 20 yards for the final score.

Up front, guard Nick Waytovich displayed a usual stellar performance along with tackle Reggie Colvard and guard Henry Garcia.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

The RND's (unbeaten, untied) took on the SPE's on Thursday, October 28 and set the Sig Ep team back by a 13 to 7 score. The game was a hard-fought battle with the SPE's leading at halftime, 7 to 0. The scoring came on a 53 yard pass play from Reina to Howell for the TD, with Reina carrying the pigskin over on an off-tackle play for the point-after. The Rho Nu's came roaring back in the 2nd half scoring on a run by Urso, a pass from Lobato to Leto for the 2nd TD, and a good point-after attempt from Lobato to Bode. (pass) Outstanding players: Lobato (RND) back; Menendez (RND) line; Reina (SPE) back, Hutchison (SPE).

In the 2nd game, ACE CLUB eked out a 7 to 6 win over the SKN's on Ashburn's run for a TD and Shawver's plunge over for the important point-after. Hines tossed a long pass to Bosworth for the SKN score.

Outstanding players: Ashburn (AC), Bello (AC), Hines (SKN), Philon (SKN).

As we go to press, the two unbeaten teams, RND's and the ACE CLUB, are pitted against one another in what should be the deciding game of the Tag Football season for the champion. The other game finds the TOs taking on the TKEs to see who will stay out of the cellar. Both teams have failed to garner a win.

At the end of the season an ALL-STAR team will be picked by the managers of the teams.

BEHIND THE SPORTS DESK

By HANK DISTEFANO

A pat on the back to the inter-fraternity and sorority council for their recent action on giving the University of Tampa "Spartans" basketball team a helping hand this year by offering to sell season tickets for the team. The council voted that each fraternity and sorority would try to sell at least ten season tickets each. The athletic department wishes to compliment this council in their interest in athletics in the University. This help and interest will not only benefit the gate receipts but will also be an inspiration to the members of the basketball team. It will also show the boys that we are behind them all the way.

I know that the athletic department is really proud of the organization, and hopes that the interest which the students have shown this year will continue to show in the coming years.

If you happen to see a tall, slim, (not too handsome) fellow walking around the lobby, as if he was in a daze, do not worry, for he is only our own beloved coach, Sam Bailey.

Coach Bailey is now not only pulling his hair out with the linemen on the football team, but he is also worrying about his basketball team. The "Spartan" basketball team is now in its second week of practice and are doing as well as can be expected for the short time they have been together.

There will be a few new faces this year on the basketball team and they are, Joe Cardinale, Eddie Raddice, Wailey Cairns, and John Herrick.

Joe Cardinale was a standout on the Jefferson High School team while Raddice played with the "Terriers" from Hillsborough, and John Herrick played his prep basketball at Jesuit High School in the '52 and '53 seasons. Wailey Cairns played his prep basketball in Niagara Falls, N. Y.

It seems as though Coach Sam Bailey has a fine crop of prospects for the coming season.

Tomorrow night, the University of Tampa "Spartans" entertain the Livingston State Teachers from Alabama. The game was originally scheduled for Friday night but has been switched to Saturday night, for reasons beyond our control.

The "Spartans" will be after their fifth straight home game. Let's all go out TOMORROW NIGHT and continue to support the "Spartans" as we have supported them this year. Don't forget the game tomorrow night.

Football Seen To Be Hampering Universities

Robert M. Hutchins, under whose presidency the University of Chicago abandoned football in 1939, has written an article protesting that we Americans are the only people in human history who ever got sport mixed up with higher education.

Hutchins is now president of the Fund for the Republic, but in the face of a recent move to try to reinstate football at Chicago, he states his violent aversion to the distractions and immorality of the sport on the collegiate level.

ENROLLMENT STATISTICS

According to the office of Dean of Administration, M. C. Rhodes, 1134 students are enrolled in the University this semester. Of this number 500 are freshmen, 235 sophomores, 173 juniors, 128 seniors, 88 graduates, and 10 auditors.

There are students from 24 states and Cuba, the Canal Zone, South America, South Africa, Germany, and Scotland.

Sixty-seven per cent of the students are men. In the freshman class there are 346 men and 154 women.

There are 967 full-time students and 167 part time students. It is estimated that approximately 500 students are employed part time by Tampa business houses. Twenty-four students have work scholarships in the various departments of the University. Eleven of these are presidential scholarships.

Persons who go to college and never learn enough to get out are called "faculty."

SENIORS INTERNE

Ten University of Tampa seniors preparing for secondary school teaching are interning this semester in the schools of Hillsborough and Pinellas counties.

The eight weeks' internship period, which began Nov. 1, will end Jan. 7, and will be followed by two weeks of seminar discussions summarizing and synthesizing the work of the semester.

The internees and their assignments are:

Nick Castellano, Franklin Junior High, core program; Joseph Cooper, Sligh Avenue Junior High, physical education; Margaret Cuscaden, Plant High, biology; Louis Dich-tas, Memorial Junior High, social studies; Josephine Fernandez, Memorial Junior High, physical education.

Zygmunt Jasinski, Wilson Junior High, social studies; Betty Krohn, Roosevelt, Gorrie, Franklin, music; Robert Philon, Wilson Junior High, physical education; Stanley Terry, Boca Ciega Senior High (St. Petersburg), English and social studies.

Function of the University

According to Hutchins, Chicago dropped football because the game hampered the university's efforts to become the kind of institution it aspired to be, one devoted to education, research, and scholarship. "Intercollegiate football," he says, "has little to do with any of these things and an institution that is to do well in them will have to concentrate upon them and rid itself of irrelevancies, no matter how attractive or profitable."

Accepting sport in its proper place as attractive and valuable, he adds, "No other country looks to its universities as a prime source of athletic entertainment... and anybody who has watched, as I have, 12 university presidents spend half a day solemnly discussing the Rose Bowl agreement, or anybody who has read—as who has not?—portentous discussions of the "decline" of Harvard, Yale, Stanford, or Chicago because of the recurring defeats of its football team must realize that we in America are in a different world."

He doubts that it is a better world, saying, "I believe that one of the reasons why we attach such importance to the results of football games is that we have no clear idea of what a college or university is. We can't understand these institutions, even if we have graduated from one; but we can grasp the figures on the scoreboard."

Acceptance of Corruption

Decrying the fact that football has become a symbol of college life, even the spiritual core of the modern campus, Hutchins quotes the late Jeff Cravath: "Nearly all colleges still playing big-time schedules have been forced into the open market to obtain their raw material. They must bid for the best players—and make concessions to keep them. The fact that the system reduces the boys to perjurers, scalpers and football gigolos is ignored."

He points out that a college president must know the corrupt practices that are being used to build his football squad, but if he tries to stop them he runs afoul of prominent alumni on the board of trustees or board of regents, or alumni with endowment-available money. The president needs that money to keep his school going.

Hope In Professional Football

Hutchins' hope for a solution to the university's dilemma lies in the slow but steady progress of professional football in the time when people will not pay to see collegiate ball.

"When professional football," he says, "has reached this point, we shall be able to disentangle sport and higher education. Students can play (or not play) as they wish; their friends may attend and applaud if they like. It will be clear that his is relaxation from higher education, not the main purpose of it. Students will come to college to study. Alumni will believe that this is something a normal, red-blooded, young American can properly do. Donors will understand that they are asked to support the institution, not because it has succeeded in attracting a few boys who are huskier and faster than those representing another college, but because when they give it, their money will be well spent in improving education and advancing knowledge. The colleges and universities will be set free to be as good as they know how to be.

"This," he concludes, "happened at Chicago."

Dr. Linus Pauling, awarded the Doctor of Humanities Degree by the University of Tampa in 1949, was presented the Noble Prize of 1954 for his fine work in the field of Chemistry.

Between 1884, when Tampa was linked by railroad to Jacksonville and so to other cities, and 1889, the population of Tampa grew from 700 to 10,000.

Mrs. U. S. Grant, wife of the 18th president of the United States, celebrated her birthday at a reception given in her honor while she was a guest at the Tampa Bay Hotel, now the University of Tampa, in 1895.

What cigarette do college students go for? According to the latest, biggest coast-to-coast survey, students prefer Luckies to all other brands. And once again, the No. 1 reason is better taste. Of course Luckies taste better. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Try a pack. Maybe you'll be as fortunate as the student in the Droodle to the right, titled: Lucky smoker... faulty cigarette vending machine. Even if you're not, you'll enjoy the better-tasting cigarette... Lucky Strike.
