UNIVERSITY OF TAMPA, TAMPA, FLORIDA

SEPTEMBER 21, 1973

Students Work With Faculty

With student involvement in administrative matters becoming a national collegiate trend, the University of Tampa administration and faculty have opened the door of total communication by allowing students to become part of the executive committees that control student life.

These committees seem to cover about every phase of this institution, as well as every aspect of a student's concerns from freshmen orientation to that true moment of accomplishment; graduation.

The committees of primary concern are the Academic Appeals Committee, Dr. Theodore Jennings, chairman; the Student Disciplinary Appeals Board, Dr. Marlon Ellison, chairman; the Student Aid Committee, Dr. James Dinsmore, chairman; the Admissions Committee, Professor Stephen Park, chairman; the 4-4-1 Planning Committee, Dr. David Ford, chairman; and the Graduate Council, Dr. Robert Henderson, chairman.

Many students on campus are in need of some kind of financial aid in order to begin or remain in this university. Tampa U. has set up a system which is involved with finding a way of distributing scholarships and loans in a equal procedure.

This committee, appointed by President B. D. Owens, has the final authority in dispersing these scholarship funds, which are provided by various sources such as the dog track races, the horse track races, and private donors. Recently guidelines have been set in which the students grade point average is considered, as well as their parent's financial position. With these two factors involved, a percentage of the request is allotted.

The order in which people are considered begin with the continuing students, then freshmen with high school scores of a 3.0 average or a 1000 SAT score.

This gives a fair chance to those who excelled in their grades and to those who retained information but obtained lower grades than a 3.0. The last considered are transfer students.

They are asked to wait a semester before applying for aid, giving them a chance to prove themselves. Lately scholarships have been given to those students who have excelled beyond a 3.3 average or those with 1200 on their SAT scores or above.

The Admissions Committee, a closely related committee is involved in setting guidelines for admission to the school. There is a standard procedure for doing this. If a student fits into the guidelines, they are accepted. If they do not they are reviewed again and are often reviewed finally by Dr. Owens.

The Graduate Council and the 4-4-1 Planning Committee are both concerned with additional change to the University. The Graduate Council has been developed because of responsibility to formulate and implement policies desirable as guidelines as the University of Tampa enters into graduate work.

It is to make the Masters Business Administration a top flight program, quality from the beginning and in tune with the needs of the clientele. After work is completed with the MBA, the next area of concern will be of the Elementary Education graduate work.

The 4-4-1 Planning Committee is involved with finding a way to place intercession after the spring term of each year. This really involves a lot of participation from the students and the faculty because it is their responsibility to find out which plan is the most advantageous.

The Academic Appeals Committee and the Student Disciplinary Appeals Board are both beneficial to the student in so much that they

Fellow Classmates:

I don't know how many of you might remember me, I don't know all of you unfortunately, but I will remember you and the school for the rest of my life. UT was great, I knew that from the start, but I never realized how great till after my accident. How you all pitched in to help me someone most of you didn't even know really, moved me. I haven't been motivated to write and express my feelings and thanks to all of you till now, mostly because I was too lazy.

All of you make Tampa the greatest school in the world, I hope you don't have to go through what I went through, to realize how great it really is. It always was, I just never really saw it till I looked back at it. Your professors are outstanding, the atmosphere is terrific, but your classmates are the best. I would love to come back down, but I'm afraid that I can't it would remind me too much of how it would have been and should have been for me. I will be continuing my education at a local school, My life's dream of being a pilot are vanished, I am aiming at a law degree. Although I will always consider Tampa as my Alma Mater, that's the way I would have wanted it.

Thank You.

Yours Truly

The Student Program Council (SPC), that outstanding organization that handles all entertainment on campus, invites you to attend its meetings every Thursday night at 9 p.m. in room 6 in the University Union.

SPACED OUT!

"Signs, signs, everywhere signs. Block'n up the scenery, breaking my mind."

"Charlie turn that damn radio off, we can't find a parking place as it is."

"Well gee whiz Frank, why you can park right across from the library. You know that. Why there's plenty of places to park."

Oh NO, NOT ANY MORE! That's staff parking now.

Well let's just drive around and find a place to park.

Why bother Chuck, I'm all ready late for class.

Watch out for those chains, Frank!

CRASH. . . . MANGLE. . . . THUD

What a bummer, my front end is crushed. Who put this (mumble, mumble) chain right across the road here in front of the library. I get here five minutes early, plenty of time to park and get to class, and now they put up barricades; it's a damn obstacle course that's what it is.

Frank don't get upset, soon all the parking lots will be gone and even the professors will have to park out in the boonies to get close to campus. Why they're going to make this a pedestrian campus. Why, it'll be full of trees and walk-ways and maybe even a swimming pool.

A SWIMMING POOL! FAR OUT! You mean I won't have to go out all the way to the projects to use the swimming pool. Wouldn't it be great if they built a high dive on the tenth floor of Delo Hall, then you could legally try and kill yourself after you get your grades. Wow that'll be great.

Aw shucks Frank, why it'll be really neat after they finish remodeling the campus, you're just too lazy to walk that extra three miles to get to class.

Listen Frank, maybe the SGA can do something about the parking problem.

The SGA, Charlie, I just ruined my front end, I shot my last cut in physics and you're telling me the SGA can do something about this mess, this is no time for levity.

Darn Frank, don't you have any faith in the system?

My poor front end, you know Charlie, if we had a drama department this would really make a great skit.

The Minaret and many of its constituents believe that the remodeling and beautification of the campus is a grand and noble project, but the student body, as well as the rest of the gang, shouldn't have to develop varicose veins walking to and fro the campus.

Perhaps a monorail system from adjacent parking lots to Plant Hall might be a practical solution, or perhaps, chartered zeppelins to float the student body into class, whatever the solution happens to be, it had better be found soon.

The Minaret hopes the Student Government Association will attack this problem in conjunction with the administration and help remedy this increasing problem.

Beauty is a wonderful institution, practicality is bliss.

BOYCOTT GALLO WINES

NON UNION LETTUCE & GRAPES CREATIVE NON-VIOLENCE

Statement by CESAR CHAVEZ

Many people feel that an organization that uses non-violent methods to reach its objectives must continue winning victories one after another in order to remain non-violent. If that be the case, then a lot of efforts have been miserable failures. There is a great deal more involved than victories. My experience has been that the poor know violence more intimately than most people because it has been a part of their lives, whether the violence of the gun or the violence of want and need.

I don't subscribe to the belief that non-violence is cowardice, as some militant groups are saying. In some instances non-violence requires more militancy than violence. Non-violence forces you to abandon the short-cut in trying to make a change in the social order. Violence, the short-cut, is the trap people fall into when they begin to feel that it is the only way to attain their goal. When these people turn to violence, it is a very savage kind.

When people are involved in something constructive, trying to bring about change, they tend to be less violent than those who are not engaged in rebuilding or in anything creative. Non-violence forces one to be creative; it forces any leader to go to the people and get them involved so that they can come forth with new ideas. I think that once people understand the strength of non-violence, the force it generates, the love it creates, the response that it brings from the total community—they will not be willing to abandon it easily.

First Woman ROTC

Taking advantage of a ruling issued by the Department of the Army, Washington, D.C., and the "women welcome" attitude prevalent in the military science department at the University of Tampa, five females have joined the formerly all-male ROTC ranks on the Spartan campus.

Recruited as the first official woman cadet is Micki Baken, an 18-year-old honor graduate of Montgomery Blair High School, Silver Springs, Md. The daughter of Mrs. Margaret Baken of Silver Springs, Md., plans to major in sociology.

Cadet Sharon Brash hails from Baltimore, Md., and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour J. Brash. The 18-year-old recruit is seeking a major in the field of liberal arts.

Coming to the Spartan campus from Washington, D.C., Nikkia Miller will pursue a major in sociology. She is 19 years old and the daughter of Mrs. Valgene Miller.

Melbourne, Fla., is the home of Beautymae Baker, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Baker. An 18-year-old graduate of Melbourne High School, Beautymae has chosen the field of sociology as a major.

Eileen Schumeyer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schumeyer of Westwood, N.J., is a graduate of Westwood High School. She is 19 years old and plans to major in history.

Although weapon training and weapon firing is optional for women, the five new feminine recruits seem to be game for the range classes.

The new cadets may also consider attending a summer ROTC camp at Ft. Bragg, N.C., where accelerated credits may be earned by their participation in a strenuous six-week basic training course.

Enthusiastic about the program, Col. Walter M. Turner, professor of military science at UT and head of the ROTC department, feels the program will benefit the girls and the nation.

"The Army is looking for talent," Col. Turner pointed out, "so why not woman power as well as man power?" If a woman has the educational background and the intelligence, why shouldn't she have equal opportunity?"

As freshmen, the feminine recruits will be under no obligation to continue the ROTC program if they choose another course of study.

However, if they decide in favor of a military career, the cadets could be considered for full scholarships which include tuition, school supply expenses and $100 monthly subsistence.

Hemlines are indeed in the headlines this fall on the Spartan campus as UT welcomes women into the ROTC ranks.

G.I. Bill training is still available for some veterans who were discharged from military service as much as 12 years ago, but not for long.

Attention Vets

The Veterans Administration today pointed out that Post-Korean veterans — those who were discharged between January 31, 1955, and June 1, 1966 — have two more years to take flight training, farm or on-the-job training under the G.I. Bill. But their eligibility for other types of schools and colleges expires May 31, 1974.

In spite of the array of dates, the formula for computing an individual's eligibility is fairly simple, Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson pointed out. The law gives each veteran eight years to use his G.I. Bill eligibility, and for most, this means until eight years after discharge. But the Post-Korean group had no G.I. Bill eligibility until June 1, 1966, when the current G.I. Bill became effective. Thus, they have until eight years after the date of the law. The following year (1967), other forms of training were added to the G.I. Bill, so the eight years of eligibility for these benefits starts from the date of the amendment — August 31, 1967.

Post-Korean veterans have been slower in taking advantage of their G.I. education benefits — a 34 percent rate compared to 42 percent for veterans discharged after enactment of the current G.I. Bill.

The 34 percent rate is considered reasonably good, because as Administrator Johnson pointed out, "Some of these veterans had been out of service for as long as 11 years before the current G.I. Bill gave them entitlement. By that time, many had found other means of financing their education, or found it impossible to take advantage of the G.I. Bill because of family or other responsibilities."

Age and education level also played roles in preventing many Post-Korean veterans from returning to classrooms. Average age for the Post-Korean group is six years older than Vietnam Era veterans and only two of three had finished high school before entering service, compared to four out of five for Vietnam Era veterans.

UNIVERSITY OF TAMPA ENROLLMENT - 2300

A late surge in registration at the University of Tampa has put fall enrollment over the 2300 mark, and elated comptroller Max Disbennett said, "We'll make our projected enrollment 100 per cent."

Figures through Monday, Sept. 10, showed total enrollment of 2369, with 1789 full-time students and another 330 part-timers. Included are 250 from the MacDill Center. The figures include 55 in the new master of business administration program and the same number in the New Horizons Program.

"We still expect to add a few more before the drop-add processing is completed," Disbennett said.

UT President B. D. Owens said: "I'm quite satisfied with the enrollment. We're about 40 students ahead of the total projected."

"With college enrollments dropping throughout the country, particularly in the small private universities, we feel our enrollment is a vote of confidence in the University of Tampa's effort to further its role as a Landmark of Learning," Owens reported.

STATE BLUEGRASS CONTEST ANNOUNCED

Florida is finally going to get its own state champion bluegrass musicians contest beginning October 26 in Trenton, Fla.

The best fiddler, banjo, guitar and mandolin players will be selected along with the champion bluegrass and old-time bands. Prize money for the competitors has been set at $2,000.

"We expect it will take three days to hear all the bands and choose the champions," according to the championships promoter, H. L. Fagan of Gainesville. The champions will be named on Sunday, October 28.

Fagan points out that interest is growing rapidly in country and bluegrass music, as well as finding a place people can take their families and camp for a weekend.

"There's a lot of outstanding country and bluegrass musicians in the State of Florida," Fagan said. "It's about time they got the recognition they deserve."

Master of ceremonies for the event is the director of the Union Grove Old Time Fiddler's Convention, Pierce Van Hoy. His convention is held each Easter in the North Carolina foothills.

In addition to the competition, Fagan says the "Worlds Champion Bluegrass Band" and the "Worlds Champion Old Time Band" will be featured Friday, Saturday and Sunday as special performers not in competition.

The championships will be held on an 80-acre farm 23 miles west of Gainesville near State Road 26. Band competition will be in a 150-foot circus tent so the show can go on rain or shine.

Musicians interested in entering the competition should contact H. L. Fagan, Box 15, Gainesville, Fla.

are available for a student to question what may have been some harsh treatment or an unfair grade. Of course if a student can not find any satisfaction from this, Dr. Owens is their last resort.

Dave Jackson, a member of the Special Events Committee, with cooperation from the Student Program Council, is going to put forth a joint effort in trying to plan some events that everyone will enjoy.

As can be seen, students, faculty, and administrators, have an important role in these committees, and these committees have an important role in our lives at this University. As John Walsh, Student Government Association President, said it to be a "... family type atmosphere" because it has an equal involvement and necessity to everyone at Tampa U.

UNDER THE COVER AND BETWEEN THE SHEETS

Well, way back in March there was supposed to be an album released entitled, The Majic Is Here To Stay by George Harrison. After months of indecisions on art work and release dates, the majic was gone. Now everyone has to make a living, so the album was released with a very appropriate title, Living In The Material World. The album is useless.

But then there is Bob Dylan's Sound Track From Pat Garritt and Billy The Kid, a fine album. This was a test record to see if he would be accepted today as an artist, and not a protestor and reformer. He has succeeded in creating a musicy superior album without his complicated lyrics. Dylan is now asking for the same contract that Sly Stone received; one-million dollars per-album. Without a doubt he will get it too, if not from Columbia (his old company that he is no longer obligated to since his contract ran out over a year ago) then somebody else like Warner Bros.

Goat's Head Soup by the Rolling Stones should be out this week. Hopefully it will be a little less produced and without the low points that Exile On Main Street had. Still to be released is Ringo Starr's.

Pi Kappa Phi always welcomes the new freshman; feel free to stop by the house anytime.

At our first meeting last Tuesday elections were held, the new officers are: Butch Macri Archon, Bruce Losee, treasurer; Steve Kidd, secretary; Kevin Duffy, pledge warden; Mike Di Piazza, historian; Doug Smith, chaplain; Les Russo, asst. treasurer; Tony Zahar, house manager; Rudy Toth, social chairman; Tommy Keegan, homecoming chairman; and Nick Costanza for intramurals.

Homecoming is stirring up already and the brothers are very honored to have as their candidate for "Homecoming Queen", Debbie Zepth.

Congratulations to Tony Zahar and Dan Zryzwicky our new brothers.

Intramurals have started and the Pi Kapps are in their strong. We hope to repeat our last year's championship season in football. It would be great to see the large crowds as last year rooting us on along with our Daughters and Rosebuds.

Our open house party last Friday night proved to be a "good time." Others will be held throughout the semester.

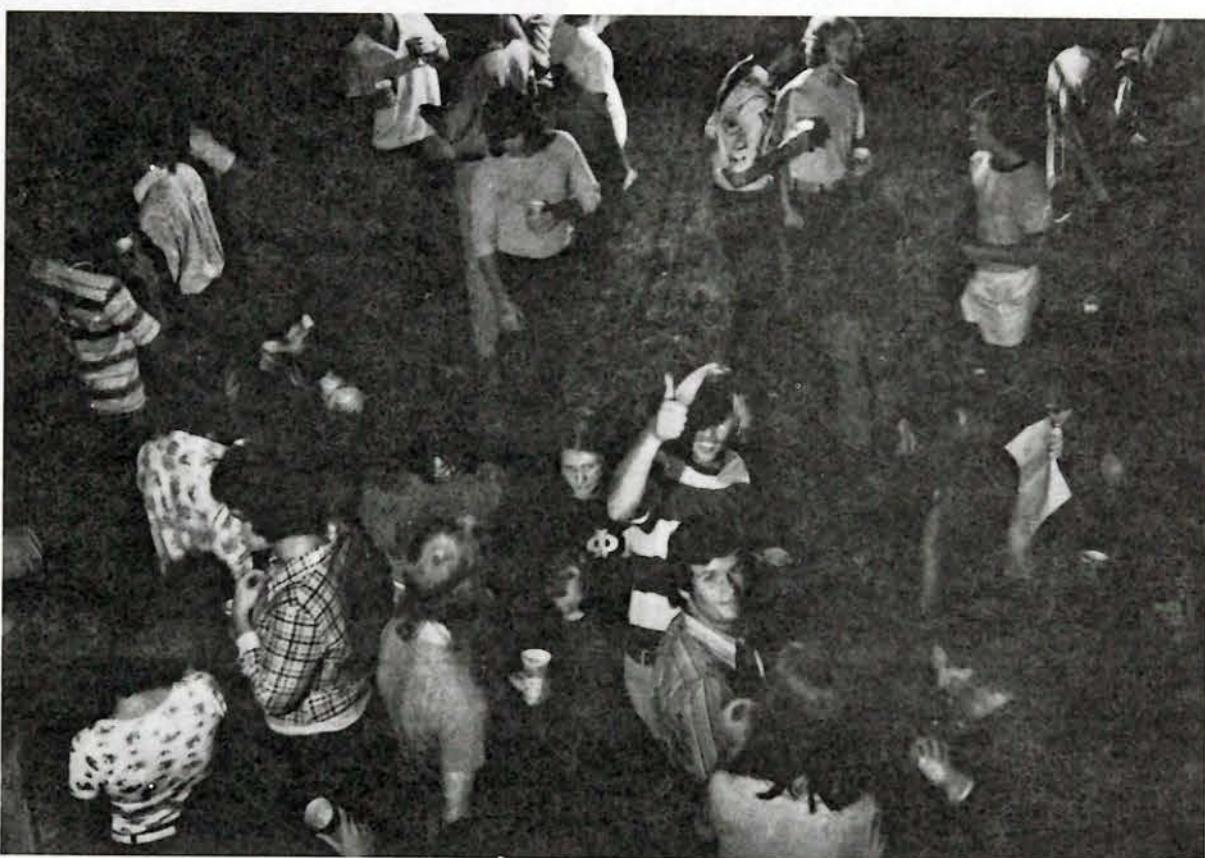

Congratulations to brother John Walsh in gaining the job as President of S.G.A. M.D.P.

Behind the leadership of newly elected president Bob Moss, AEPi has flourished at the University for the first time in three years.

On the sports scene; the "Apes," it would appear, have drawn a tough schedule. But, with the strong coaching of Don and Munchie and an equally strong desire by the rest, for victory, the AEPi football team should surprise a lot of people this season.

The feeling among the brotherhood is that an undefeated slate is in our grasp, that is if we can stay straight long enough.

Those new faces did the job, and did it well. The University of Toledo found early that they were no match for the young and fairly untried Spartans here Saturday night.

Tampa amassed an overpowering 468 yards in total offense in their 35-25 rout over Toledo. And left little doubt in anyone's mind that the '73 Spartans are ready and very able.

The action started early with Tampa taking the opening kick-off on their own 13 and put together a touchdown drive that paid off with 11:35 left in the first quarter. The key runs coming from fullback Ken Moorehead and quarterback Fred Solomon.

That's the way it began and continued throughout the first half. At half time it was Tampa out in front 29-3, in a game that seemed a runaway.

During the first half Solomon scored three touchdowns and a two point conversion run which set a new Tampa Stadium scoring record. He scored on runs of 17, 63, and 10 yards. Then passed to wide receiver Bob Stringer for 34 yards and another touchdown. Overall Fred carried the ball 10 times for 112 yards and completed 6 of 11 passes for another 84 yards.

Solomon however was not the only Spartan standout. He was only one of three Spartans who rushed for over 100 yards. Fullback Ken Moorehead and tailback Alan Pittman had matching yardage performances. Moorehead carried 18 times for 130 yards. His longest run, a 32 yard scamper, set up Tampa's first touchdown. Pittman carried 20 times, also for 130 yards. His longest, an 18 yarder, coming late in the first quarter.

Offensively, any good running back will tell you that he is only as good as the blocking in front of him, and that's exactly what the Spartan offensive line delivered Saturday. Outstanding performances were turned in by the entire offensive line made up by tackles Darryl Carlton and Lonnie Tingle, guards Steve Brockman and Darlee Nelson, center Terry Woodfork and tight end Vin Hoover.

The only scoring action in the third quarter came from Toledo on an 80 yard, 19 play scoring drive which was climaxed by a pass from quarterback Gene Swick to flanker Randy Whatley. The third quarter ended Tampa 29 - Toledo 9.

Early in the fourth quarter Toledo again had pushed deep into Spartan territory and was knocking on the door again when defensive back Frank Small made a touchdown saving interception on the 2 yard line and scampered to the Tampa 35 before being brought down.

The interception and run back set up the Spartans final scoring drive of the evening, capped by a 3 yard run by Pittman up the middle.

With 9:32 left in the game Tampa lead 35-9.

Toledo managed two more scores in the final minutes of the fourth quarter. The first coming as an 80 yard scoring drive and the

Spartan Matmen Ready

The Spartan wrestlers began their weight training and conditioning drills in early September in preparation for the annual Manatee Open Wrestling Tournament that was held September 8th at Manatee High School in Bradenton.

The competition for the most part was young, but very tough. It gave head coach Joe Wiendl a glimpse of what he would have for the coming season.

The outcome was pleasing not only to the wrestlers who participated, but I am sure to Coach Wiendl as well.

Each of the ten wrestlers who made the trip South placed winners in their individual weight classes. The Spartans crowned 5 champions, 1 second place winner, 3 third place winners and 2 place fourth.

Individual winners were: 1st Place—Dave Costable at 129 pounds, a freshman from Harrisburg Pennsylvania; Bob Leist at 158 pounds, a Junior College transfer from Haddenfield, New Jersey; Dave Hauser at 170 pounds, a sophomore and returning letterman and 3rd place winner for the Spartans in the Florida Collegiate Championships last year; Jack Rawley at 188 pounds, a graduate of Broward Junior College and two time Florida Collegiate Champion.

2nd Place—Our only second place win came from Milt Byrd in the unlimited weight class. Milt who was out all of last season because of a neck injury is back and looks ready to go.

3rd Place—Danny Bush at 129 pounds, a second by capitalizing on a Spartan fumble on our own 27 yard line. But the Spartan lead was too much for the Rockets to overcome.

Defensively, to the surprise of many, Tampa was as tough as ever. Yielding only 96 total yards in the first half and only 38 yards rushing in the second half. Outstanding individual performances were turned in by left tackle Ervin Smith, right tackle Walt Blackwell, linebackers Tim Witmer and Greg Pittman, rover Larry Hunter and right corner back Buddy Rayburn.

To head coach Dennis Fryzel and his entire staff "Congratulations on the first of many in this new Spartan season."

Terry Freeman

freshman from Jacksonville, Florida; Ed Welch at 141 pounds, a sophomore from Haddenfield, New Jersey; Luther Clemons at 170 pounds, a returning starter and the 4th place winner in the Florida Collegiate Championships last year.

4th Place—George Mecca at 158 pounds, a freshman from Farmers Branch, Texas.

With the aid of these new faces and talents, it looks as if the University of Tampa will have some big surprises in store for their opponents this season.

Although the loss of Tampa standout Fletcher Carr last season will hurt the Spartans, the overall team picture looks much stronger than that of last year. And stronger it will have to be with the schedule that Coach Wiendl has lined out for the Spartans this season. It looks like this.
