dents from 7:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. All students are urged to use this space.Easter Trip To Nassau
Is Now Being Planned
Through Dean of Women

Dean King recently announced that several students have requested that another trip to Nassau be planned. In response, a trip has been scheduled for the Easter holidays. The sailing date for the Easter vacation trip will be Monday, April 15, from Miami and return Friday, April 19. The trip will include four nights' lodging, 11 meals, and transportation from Miami to Nassau. The special price for this trip will be $54.00.

Students may board ship at 2:00 p.m. Monday; ship sails at 4:30 p.m.

While on the boat the Bahama Star Lounge will be open until 2 p.m. with floor shows and dancing. The Calypso Pub has dancing until 3 a.m.

While in Nassau, students will be on their own. They may rent bikes, cars, go swimming, and go out on night club tours.

Men and women students, faculty and staff members, and others outside the school may go if the student who invites them will vouch for their conduct.

The last trip was taken during the semester break and featured only three nights lodging on the ship. All who went thoroughly enjoyed it.

Dean King, Dean of Women, will chaperone the trip.

Students may sign up for the trip in Dean King's office no later than March 18.

The trip is arranged by the Bower Travel Service of Tampa.

Opening Announced For New Student Center

by Richard Perrier

From all appearances Tampa University's student center is well on its much anticipated way to becoming a functional part of the University plant. The original opening date of March 2 however, has been changed to April 22, when at least the cafeteria facilities will be open.

The contract which was originally signed called for the commencement of construction on Sept. 28, to be completed within 160 days, thus the previously announced opening date of March 28. Upon preparation of the building site the contractor ran into sub-surface obstructions in the form of the old Plant hotel swimming pool, thus a request was justifiably made for the extension of the deadline by 21 days, and it was granted. Once these initial obstacles were overcome, then construction went smoothly until the advent of abnormal weather conditions from Dec. 12 through Dec. 16, at which time work was suspended, because regulations required that cement could not be poured at 30 degrees or below. This delay unfortunately led to a request of the HHFA for another extension of the contract deadline by four days. Since the last request however, work has progressed rapidly without delay and it is now hoped that, barring any further, unforeseen impediments construction will be able to climax by the end of April.

Over the spring vacation all cafeteria equipment will be moved from Howell Hall and the main building into its originally designated place in the student center, by Cafeteria Food Service Equipment Company of Tampa. Therefore we can look forward to having our first meal served at breakfast on April 22.

Guy Lombardo
Here April 1

The Guy Lombardo Orchestra will give a benefit performance as the initial effort of the University of Tampa Foundation on April 1 at the Falk Theater. Attendance will be by invitation.

The Foundation is seen as another of the "groups whose coordinated efforts, by proper planning, will be of great assistance in the continued development and progress of the University of Tampa," according to Carl Brorcin, chairman of the Board of Trustees for UT.

The Foundation was established March 1, according to Robert F. Ensslin, Jr., President of the Foundation, and Dr. Stephen Speronis, Vice President of Development.

The concert will be the first in a series proposed for members aimed at enlarging the endowment fund and reaching toward the other major points in the Foundation's purposes.

Hal Holbrook To Appear
In 'Mark Twain Tonight'

Monday, March 25, at 8:15 p.m. in the Falk Theatre, the Theatre Artist Series of the University of Tampa will present Hal Holbrook in his Broadway production of "Mark Twain Tonight." Mr. Holbrook re-creates the great American author, Mark Twain, in a typical lecture so vividly, that critics throughout the country praise his performance.

'I Am A Camera,' Players
Second Production of Year

The University of Tampa players presented John van Druten's comedy about Berlin in the 1930's, "I Am A Camera" Friday and Saturday, March 8-9, in the Falk Memorial Theater.

The Player's second production of the season was directed by Joseph Young, chairman of the drama department and director of the Falk Theater. The cast was headed by James Woodall, a young professional actor from New York who will be remembered for his portrayal as Hamlet in the University of South Florida's production last year. Besides his present role as Christopher he has had roles on stage with the Barter Theater of Virginia, Actor's Workshop Theater, Hollywood; Try-Out Theater, New York and the Tampa Repertory Theater. He has also directed two plays and has made dramatic appearances on local radio and television stations.

Zan Funkhouser of Tampa, a freshman at the University of Tampa, played the feminine lead as Sally. The other actors and actresses were: Diana Odeeb, as Frau Schneider; Jerry Martin as Fritz; and Jerry Swofford as Clive. Guest artists were Mrs. Judy Bowen of Tampa as Natalia, and Mrs. Marcelle Alexander, of the University's staff as Sally's mother, Mrs. Courtney.

This play was the Critic's Circle Award winning play adapted from "The Berlin Stories" by Christopher Isherwood.

The author has placed a character named Mr. Isherwood on the title, attracted to Sally, yet distasteful who acts as the narrator

Composer's League Set
March 16-17 At F.S.U.

By Judy Summerlin

Florida State University will be the setting for the 19th Annual Florida State Composer's League Convention. This will be held March 16-17 in Tallahassee. The University of Tampa will be well represented there as two active students in the music department have entered the Student Composition Competition. Mrs. Louise Friar is submitting a woodwind ensemble, and Fred Musgrave, a bass ensemble Saturday, March 17. These compositions will be performed and judged in competition with others.

Friday afternoon, March 16, Prof. Stephen Park will serve as a panelist in a discussion with Roger Sessions. That evening the Florida State University band will perform Mr. Park's "Prelude-choral and Coda." Prof. Park is Composer-in-Residence at the University of Tampa, is currently Executive Secretary of the Florida State Composer's League, and is three times past president.

New Addition To University
Charles LaMonte Art Gallery

By Dennis Schill

A new and pleasant addition to the artistic culture of the city of Tampa is the newly built Charles La Monte Art Gallery directed under the authority of the University of Tampa.

The new gallery is located adjacent to the Falk Theater on Lafayette Street opposite the University. Designed by Mark Hampton, it is of a pleasantly simple design; spacious, with good lighting facilities, and affords an unobstructed view of the different works on hand.

At the present time, the gallery is presenting a one-man show of abstracts and representative works by Harrison W. Covington, one of a series of shows that will represent the works of ingenious artists of the Tampa area and Florida, and of other domestic and foreign personalities. Also in the presumed future of the gallery, related to its affiliation to the University of Tampa, will be a show of works done by students of the art department of the University.

It may be assumed that because of its affiliation with the many artists and teachers of the Tampa Bay area the gallery will present works of the best quality available and will be truly representative of the artistic abilities of Tampa, Florida, and the nation.

The La Monte Art Gallery adds still another cultural faculty to the city of Tampa and to the advancing and diversifying expansion program initiated by the University in the past few years to bring the city and the University up to the cultural plane to which it should belong.

Football, Yes or No?

The University of Tampa being a private school has a very big problem, money. We are all aware of this problem and have heard many suggestions for helping solve it. One such suggestion has been considered, and is again being considered by the Board of Directors. This is the idea of dropping football at T.U. We personally feel this would produce a negative rather than positive effect. Many students go to schools they first hear about through athletics. Would you want to attend a school that did not have an athletic program? Here are the results of a poll taken among the student body —

88% NO

12% YES

Football plays an important part in our social life at Tampa U. Without it we of course have no games to go to. We would lose a large part of our student body, the ones that play on the team. We would have no homecoming, and many other events that are built around football. What are your opinions? I'm sure the school would be interested in them. Write them out and turn them in to the Minaret office. Also next week there will be a jar in the lobby for you to vote if you want football to remain at T.U. You vote by putting a nickle in the jar. Each nickle counts as one vote. The money will go to the athletic department. Remember, if the students do not support football, it cannot survive!

Q. WHAT EFFECT DO YOU THINK DROPPING FOOTBALL WILL HAVE ON T.U.?

JOHN KERN — Football is an important aspect of school spirit.

GENE YMIOZEK — Football is an important part in building up school morale.

ZAN FUNKHOUSER — Even though I don't know much about football, I love to go to the games. I feel that it boosts the spirit of the students.

ARTHUR BARENT — There's actually no school spirit now, but I think that if it's threatened to drop football, maybe spirit would rise and football would definitely stay and be supported.

JOHN REINHOLD — The school spirit is evident mostly in the football games. If football were dropped, I believe it would cause a lag in school spirit and a drop in the morale of the student body. Football is the most popular sport here at the University of Tampa.

DEAN DRAPIN — Athletics is an important binding force of school activities. Football promotes spirit and helps unite the student body. Football should not be dropped.

School Spirit Deplorable

Do TU students show school spirit? From observing the basketball season (and the football season) the answer is no. The average home crowd was a very poor number. Also, although the TU cheerleaders are on the court and field going through their stunts, there is little response from the audience. Possibly I have been spoiled by the high schools in this area.

Other schools have pep songs which all the student body knows. TU has one, but no one sings it. The band does play a peppy rhythm as the team comes running on the field or when we make a touchdown. If this is our school fight song, why don't the students learn the words and sing it? (It might be a good idea to organize a small pep band, 8-10 pieces, to play at basketball games. Everyone knows Notre Dame's and Wisconsin's school song, but where is TU's?)

The loud cheering is limited to when there is a close game or possibly when the opposition is a good team. Is this good school spirit?

Obviously, we are at a disadvantage being a half resident and half commuting school. Possibly, with more ideas such as developing a card section and more enthusiasm toward singing our school songs, TU can promote more school spirit and therefore more enthusiasm and victories from the Spartan athletic teams.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

In our last issue, March 1, the Minaret began a new column entitled "Letters To The Editor." It is our intention to provide the students with a medium of sounding off on particular matters and events. Student opinions should be a very important ingredient in a college or university. There is much value to be placed upon their feelings. It is our hope that the students of the University of Tampa will take advantage of this column and express their thoughts. While we feel that these thoughts are important we hope that those who write us will remember that a certain amount of tact is required in discussing controversial issues. The Minaret will not accept any letter for publication that openly attacks an issue in such a way as to be slanderous or malicious. All letters must be signed by the author and the writer may request that his name be withheld. The letters become the property of the Minaret and the writer's name will be known only to the editor. We are looking for good student interest and support of this column.

Dear Editor:

Some professors have complained about noise in the hallways during classes. Some professors dismissing early or moving their classes seem to create a problem, especially for classrooms still in session and in the midst of lectures or other studious work.

Courtesy in the hallway should require silence, or a minimum of noise during class sessions.

Students and professors in the hallways during classes should be aware of the quiet they would appreciate during their classes, and reciprocate.

Parking Courtesy Requested

Parking on campus is a familiar problem, one of how to fit many cars into a small area. However, there are also adjacent problems created.

Students parking on campus have been parking in undesignated places, often blocking off exit routes for other cars. In addition, some parking has been done with little care: parked cars have been dented or scratched.

Parking only in designated spaces, and parking safely, will aid in solving this particular problem. Recently several cars parked outside of the confines of the yellow markings in the student parking lot blocked off and decreased the size of three good parking spaces. The cars were parked at an awry angle, or completely without regard to the guide lines. As a result, three parking places were unusable.

Crowded and sloppy parking leads inevitably to minor accidents: an attempt to pull out of a tight parking space may mean a scrape with another car. Though the damage is minor, it is damage. Some method of notifying the owner of their scraped car should be employed. A slip of paper with the appropriate information slipped under the windshield would be both courteous and correct. The ideal situation, however, is to avoid scrapes altogether.

Some scrapes occur without the knowledge of any party, and such things are to be expected. However, an attempt to park within legal boundaries and with proper spacing will go far to reduce the likelihood of scrapes and dents.

The final solution will be, of course, adequate campus parking facilities.

Honesty . . . The Best Policy?

Honesty is a virtue. There is a rather elderly axiom which we are sure most of us would agree with wholeheartedly. This being test time we have an opportunity to see just how virtuous we actually are.

Cribbing on examinations is as old as schooling itself. It seems to be one of those universal evils which everyone knows about, but no one does anything about. No one does anything about it because there is really not much which can be done to alleviate the problem. I know of two occasions where the teacher and a dean were told of wandering eyes, and it was apparently taken with a grain of salt. What student would have high enough personal standards to stand up during an examination and announce that cheating was going on? So the responsibility for maintaining a form of academic ethics rests with the individual student.

Regardless of the cautionness of any one student, it is inconceivable that a grade obtained by cheating could have nearly the meaning of one obtained through diligent preparation and conscientious effort. Also remember, an answer borrowed from a classmate might not be nearly as accurate as an honest guess of your own.

From The Dean of Men

University Regulations contained in the Student Handbook are quoted below for the information of all students.

"To meet extreme emergency requirements or unusual situations, certain funds are available for student loans. These circumstances must be verified in advance at the initiative of the student, and at his own expense. Applications are made to the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women and loans must be recommended by the appropriate Dean. Approval of the Accountant is necessary before the loan is granted. Interest will be charged on loans. (See page 96 for policy on 'Financial Responsibility'.)"

"All students are expected to budget their funds intelligently and to plan for emergencies so that it will not be necessary to borrow from fellow students. Students should contact their parents, guardian, or other close relatives, well in advance of depleting their reserves."

Examples of extreme emergency requirements or unusual situations are indicated below:

A. Death in family. Student needs immediate assistance in returning home.

B. Funds to foreign students have been delayed due to international situation or other grave situations.

Funds for student emergency loans are extremely limited. Students should not apply for such loans except in circumstances similar to those mentioned above.

Elections Are Coming

Elections are coming. As head of the election committee I'd like to inform all possible candidates for Student Congress elections to begin preparing their campaign slates as early as possible. Petitions for Student Congress offices may be obtained from the Dean of Men's office beginning this Monday, March 11, and they must be filled out and handed back into the Student Congress office no later than March 15 with a $1.00 entry fee. Campaign speeches are scheduled for March 19 and all the important election dates are April 4 and 5. Nationalized voting machines will be utilized. Please contact Harry Trout or myself for further information. Let's have some keen competition for Student Congress offices. If you are a qualified Shophomore, Junior or Senior and feel that you have something to give or add to our growing University, now is the time to put your right foot forward.

MARKING ON THE CURVE—AND WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT

Twonkey Crimscoff was a professor. Choate Sigafos was a sophomore. Twonkey Crimscoff was keen, cold, brilliant. Choate Sigafos was loose, vague, adenoidal. Twonkey Crimscoff believed in diligence, discipline, and marking on the curve. Choate Sigafos believed in elves, Julie London, and thirteen hours of sleep each night.

Yet there came a time when Twonkey Crimscoff—mentor, sage, and savant—was thoroughly outthought, outfoxed, outmaneuvered, outplayed, and outwitted by Choate Sigafos, sophomore.

It happened one day when Choate was at the library studying for one of Mr. Crimscoff's exams in sociology. Mr. Crimscoff's exams were murder—plain, flat murder. They consisted of one hundred questions, each question having four possible answers—A, B, C, and D. You had to check the correct answer, but the trouble was that the four choices were so subtly shaded, so intricately worded, that students more clever by far than Choate Sigafos were often set to gibbering.

So on this day Choate sat in the library poring over his sociology text, his tiny brow furrowed with concentration, while all around him sat the other members of the sociology class, every one studying like crazy, every one scared and pasty. Choate looked sadly at their stricken faces. "What a waste!" he thought. "All this youth, this verve, this bounce, chained to dusty books in a dusty library! We should be out singing and dancing and cutting didoes on the greensward! Instead we are here."

Then, suddenly, an absolute gasser of an idea hit Choate. "Listen!" he shouted to his classmates. "Tomorrow when we take the exam, let's all—every one of us—check Choice 'A' on every question—every one of them."

"Huh?" said his classmates.

"Oh, I know that Choice 'A' can't be the right answer to every question," said Choate. "But what's the difference? Mr. Crimscoff marks on the curve. If we all check the same answers, then we all get the same score, and everybody in the class gets a 'C'."

"Hmm," said his classmates.

"So why should we knock ourselves out studying?" said Choate. "Let's get out of here and have a ball!"

So they all ran out and lit Marlboro Cigarettes and had a ball, as indeed, you will too when you light a Marlboro, for if there ever was a cigarette to lift the spirit and gladden the heart, to dispel the shades of night, to knot up the ravelled sleeve of care, to put spring in your gait and roses in your cheeks, it is filtered Marlboros—firm and pure and fragrant and filled with rich, natural, golden tobacco. And, what's more, this darlin' smoke comes in soft packs that are actually soft and flip-top boxes that actually flip.

Well sir, the next morning the whole class did what Choate said, and, sure enough, they all got 'C's, and they picked Choate up and carried him on their shoulders and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and plied him with sweetmeats and Marlboros and girls and put on buttons which said "I DOTE ON CHOATE."

But they were celebrating too soon. Because the next time shrewd old Mr. Crimscoff gave them a test, he did not give them one hundred multiple choice questions. He only gave them one question—to wit: write a 30,000 word essay on "Crime Does Not Pay."

"You and your ideas," they said to Choate and tore off his epaulets and broke his sword and drummed him out of the school. Today, a broken man, he earns a living as a camshaft in Toledo.

Congratulations to Brother Richard Nicolosi and Marion Hockbein who have recently become pinned!

Since Coach Shary has taken over the intramural basketball team the last two games have been victories. Brother Chlebecki and Pledge Hare seem to be the two biggest guns with Morizzo and Gorman as the set-up men. Keep up the good work, Brother Shary.

Social Chairman Brother Jere Munz has announced that the western party will take place on March 16 at a very exclusive barn on Route 60.

This month will find us very busy with "Daughters Day," and Pi Kapps Rose Ball which will be held on the 29th, 30th, and 31st of March. Plans have just been completed for the formal dance which will be held at the Tampa Yacht and Country Club with the Untouchables on the 29th, the 30th calls for a cruise leaving from St. Pete around 12:00 and returning to port around 10:00 Saturday nite. The 31st will be the grand finale with a big beach and picnic party out at Brother Owens lake cotatge. Good times I'm sure will be had by all Brothers, Pledges, alumni, and their dates.

I would like to take this opportunity and congratulate Brother Green upon his marriage to Miss Kittie Thompson March 9. Gene has been managing the kitchen here at the house and has done a very fine job, sometimes doing the actual cooking.

In conclusion may I send my best wishes to Coach Stalnaker and the fellows on the crew team especially John Veit, Bob Munz, Lou Morizzo, Bill Devitt, Skip D'Arcy, Dan Carroll, Phil Powers, and Jere Munz.

THETA CHI

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate our new pledges: James Calcutt, Frank Galambos, James Galmiin, William Krantz, Pete Law, Thomas McMurtrie, Jerome Quinn and Garland Webb. These days the pledges are hard at work on the newly acquired Theta Chi house at 804 Grand Central.

Last Friday the Theta Chi Fraternity hosted a roaring jubilant crowd at their annual Scholarship dance at the Letter Carriers Hall. From this mass of frolicing, fun-loving humanity came a multitude of requests that we are extremely sorry to have to turn down. No, we can not have another one this week due to social schedule conflicts. Sorry!

Word has reached us from the office of brother Rich Franke, high in the thirteenth minaret, that the social affair of the year, the zenith of social excellence is rapidly approaching. I speak, of course, of the annual Theta Chi Ring Dance to be held at the International Inn March 22, superbly organized by brothers Rich Franke and Alex Kennaird. At this affair the new officers will be announced and the crowning of the Theta Chi Dream Girl and her court, an event that takes precedence over a pilgrimage to Mecca. All Greeks are invited — don't miss this opportunity to enrich your social life.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Congratulations to all the new pledges. Our ten pledges are the following girls: Sue Black, Nassau; Marsha Bryant, North Apolo, Penna.; Mary Jane Day, Washington, D.C.; Lorraine Guida, Tampa; Beth Johnson, Nassau; Marie Kladis, Tampa; Glenna Osborne, Tampa; Wendy Selechtes, Long Island, N.Y.; Judy Spencer, Culpepper, Va.; and Angie Troutman, Long Island, N.Y.

Zeta Tau Alpha was very proud of the large turn out for Greek Weekend and their pledges who came dressed in ZTA sweatshirts and sailor pledge hats for the event. Speaking of pledges, we have received some good reports from Kittie Lyon, our excellent pledge trainer who tells us that they are all doing quite well in basic training. It has been rumored that Miss Lyon really knows how to crack the whip. The pledge officers are as follows: Sue Black, President; Judy Spencer, Vice President; Maria Kladis, Secretary; Jane Day, Treasurer; and Glenna Osborne, Historian.

The Big Sisters gave a banquet for their Little Sister March the sixth at Bern's Steak House.

All the Zetas on campus are making plans and getting very excited as Zeta Tau Alpha's State Day approaches which will be held this year at Gainesville, March 29.

On March 3 Sally Giroir and Evelyn Raible gave a bridal shower in honor of Kitty Thompson who is to become the bride of Gene Green, March 9.

Last but far, far from being least, it looks as if our little Queen has done it again. We would like to congratulate Cookie Mendez on becoming Latin Fiesta Queen. Zeta is so very proud of you Cookie, as we feel sure the rest of the University of Tampa is also.

TAU EPSILON PHI

We take pride to announce that Professor Tardy has assumed the position as our new Chapter Adviser. Within the eternal bounds of TEP Brotherhood, he should emerge favorable strides in our behalf under his effective guidance and zeal. This we are confident of!

We are proud of our first pledge class . . . we sincerely look forward to seeing all 11 men brothers of Tau Epsilon Phi in the near future. We owe much thanks to Brothers Weinberg, Kalsmith and Kimmel for their effective rushing program!

Kathleen McMurtrey, unmarried at twenty-four years of age, gave birth to an illegitimate daughter. The following day she gave a signed document to a Children's Aid Society, releasing her parental right of the custody of the child to them, and consenting to their placing the child for adoption, which they did. A year later, Kathleen and the father of the illegitimate child attempted to regain custody of their daughter on the grounds that the adoption statute which required only the consent of the mother of an illegitimate child, and not that of the father, is unconstitutional because "it authorizes a private individual (mother) to deprive another individual (father) of his natural, statutory, and constitutional rights without a hearing of any kind." Upon denials of their contention, appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of Utah.

THE COURT HELD: Petition for custody of the child denied. The rights of a father to his illegitimate child, if any, do not come within the protection of the due process clause and various other provisions of the State and Federal Constitutions. The claim of the parents was based upon the theory of a chattel ownership of the child, but no such right is capable of legal recognition. The supposed father of an illegitimate child occupies no recognized paternal status under the ancient English law or under our contemporary statutes. The law does not recognize him at all, except that it will make him pay for the child's maintenance if it can find out who he is. The only father it recognizes as having any rights is the father of a legitimate child. Thomas vs. Children's Aid Society of Ogden 12, Utah 2d 235, 364 P. 2d 1029 (Sept. 7, 1961).

Art Students Enter State - Wide Exhibit

Four University of Tampa students are represented in the statewide undergraduate art exhibition being held March 3-25 at the University of South Florida's Library art gallery.

They are Mrs. Anne Echelman, John Murray, John Witt and Joseph Guiterrez, each of whom had a painting selected to be hung in the invitational show. The exhibition contains paintings by students representing all the colleges in Florida, and a cash award will be made for the best painting.

STUDENT CENTER . . .

Interior decorator Paul T. Ward will be responsible for the furnishings and decorations of the entire first floor, which will include the main cafeteria, two private faculty and administrative dining rooms, a private dining and reception room for the university president, a book store and a student lounge. At the present time negotiations are under way to award the contract for the furnishings and decoration of the second floor, containing a large meeting room, a game room and fine spacious meeting rooms. The only point of contention, at this stage of development lies in the decision as to who should be entitled to the use of these meeting rooms; rather they should be shared by student organizations and the faculty or just by the student groups, and if so, which groups should get the privileges?

DELTA SIG NEWS

Two recent events highlighted the kickoff of the second semester for Delta Sigma Pi. The first of these was held this past Friday in the Ballroom of the University. At nine and ten o'clock in the morning talks were given by Mr. Charles Cowl, Legislative Representative of the United Steel Workers of America. Mr. Cowl briefly presented labor's viewpoint on management, then allowed students to question him on the subject. Entire business classes, along with interested business majors, attended the event sponsored by the professional fraternity.

The second of the events was the fraternity's first rush party this past Saturday night. It was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall and the brothers and a number of prospective pledges had a fine time. Some of these students will be pledged to the fraternity tomorrow.

Esquire's CLUB & CAMPUS FASHIONS

Often I think the single most important item of clothing to a young man on campus is his raincoat. College men have taken the raincoat out of the strictly foul-weather category and turned it into an all-weather fashion. Today's young man uses his versatile raincoat as an all-around, all-purpose coat. If you're in the market for a new raincoat this Spring, you've got a lot to choose from.

THE LONG AND THE SHORT OF IT . . . is all one-sided this season. The word for this year's raincoat lengths is brevity—they measure knee length at their longest, several inches shorter in the newest models. At the shoulders, most are raglan styled (the sleeve extends to the neckline and has a slanting seamline from the underarm to the neck in front and back). Set-in sleeves are also on the scene, and fly-front button closures are the rule. Most Spring raincoats are fitted with high bal collars (military high-riser style) and have slash pockets. In some areas of the country, notably the East and West coasts, the continental influence is showing in raincoats with all-around or half belts.

BLACK AND WHITE CONTRAST—Most rainwear this Spring will be seen either in very dark or very light shades. Black, dark olive and dark blue are the colors on the nether end of the rainwear spectrum, with light natural shades, off-white, and pale-olive providing the bright spots. A dressy jet-black is a smart bet if you've got a few formal occasions coming up. But patterns are on the move in popularity, particularly in muted plaids and checks. They're soft, subdued patterns in contrast with the stark dark and light solids. In contrast, linings are brassy and bold. Colorful stripes are the keynote in the lightweight self-liner raincoats, and big bright plaid is the idea in heavier, zip-in linings for Winter-wear raincoats.

THE RAIN IN SPAIN . . . or anyplace else, for that matter, soaks through just about everything except the fabrics you'll find in the newest rainwear. They're predominantly polyester and cotton blends, all cotton poplin and cotton twill, polyesters and wool combinations, and all-wool gabardines. The important thing to you is that enormous strides have been made in water repellency and stain resistance, making the solid light colors practical and popular.

FADED BLUE DENIM . . . is the big color in rain jackets this Spring. Ideally casual for campus wear, they're zippered up against the weather, with plenty of room at the waist and oversized deep slash pockets in which to bury your hands. Generally they're plain-bottomed, but some have a parka-type drawstring below the waist. Linings run from light cotton blends and laminated plaids bonded to the inside of the shell to deep fleece and quilts for extra warmth.

THE HOBO HAT . . . which we introduced in this column a few months ago, has made its mark in rainwear this Spring. A simple cone of processed cotton, it reverses to a felt-like material for fair-weather wear. It can be turned, pulled, yanked and folded into any shape that suits you. When you change your mind, change your hat, with a few twists of the wrist.

SUITS FOR SPRING . . . is next month's feature, with a look at the newest in colors, cuts and fabrics for Spring and Summer of '63. See you then.

Grapplers Go To Final Meet With 4-0 Record

Tampa University's own wrestling team is about to wrap up its first season this Saturday. The group of fine athletes which compose the team are sporting an undefeated 4-0 record going into the final meet of its first year as an organized unit. The opponents are the Seminoles of Florida State University.

The latest of conquests under the Spartan helmet is a 22-3 victory over the Jacksonville YMCA on February 23. The matmen continued showing their superior form by taking nearly every match in the meet as they have been doing all season. This latest battle was nearly a whitewash, except for a lone pin in favor of the rivals. Pete Meoli suffered this defeat in the unlimited class against an Olympic and Middle Atlantic champion.

Win-wise, the Spartans were given two matches via forfeit, these coming in the 137 and 191 pound classes. Ralph Brauch earned a 4-0 decision over his 123 pound opponent. Frank Sallo also won his match in the 147 pound class by 4-0. Fred Conte beat his 157 pound rival 7-3 and Steve Glietzman won a 4-2 match in the 162 pound class.

We really have a team to be proud of, but can they be proud of us? Their morale is greatly boosted by our attendance at the meets. Past attendance was satisfactory, but a better one would really pep up the spirit to the top. Get out and see this fine team in action in their final meet. It is this Saturday in the Howell gym.

Lykes Hall Leading In Intramural Basketball

by Steve Lefkowitz

After four games Lykes Hall remains in first place by a narrow margin. McKay Hall and Theta Chi are tied for second.

With three more games to go anything can still happen; and we imagine that the basketball race will be nip and tuck right down to the wire.

The only team with four games to play is Smiley Hall.

	W	L	Pct	Pts	AG
1. Lykes Hall	4	0	1000	131	82
2. McKay Hall	3	1	750	150	119

4. Sig Phi Ep.	2	2	500	108	120

TU Crew Ready For '63 Season

Although the beginning of the crew season is 10 days away, Coach Bill Stalnaker is really giving the Hillsboro River a workout with his 1963 crew team. The rowers will be out to improve on last year's 4-4 record as they take on Jacksonville and Florida Southern at Lakeland on the 23rd of this month.

At the present Coach Stalnaker is relying on a No. 1 boat composed of his eight top men. In the bow will be John Markhorst; the second seat will be occupied by Bob Mahar; Ken Storz will be in the third seat; Dennis Schill in the fourth; John Viet in the fifth; Pete Peck in the sixth; George Watson in the seventh; and Bob Cheret in the eighth.

Spartans End '63 Season With 80-58 Loss To FSU

The Spartan hardwood five wrapped up its 1962-63 campaign on Monday, February 25, in Howell Gymnasium against Florida State's Seminoles.

The finale was a disappointing loss of 80-58 to the Tallahassee visitors, but it left fingers pointed to next year. Why? Because only two starters were lost. Don Boyd and John Pellegrino, both standouts for at least the past two seasons, put the finishing touches on careers that saw them tally 1,193 and 1,324 points respectively.

Final statistics showed that four of the Spartans hit for a double figure average during the term. George Shary, with one year left, led the quintet with an impressive 24.2 average. John Pellegrino was next in line with 15.4. Following him was Chuck Andrews with 14.7 (he'll be here next year) and Don Boyd with 10.6. Jim Stephenson, who is one of the most underrated players on the squad, only came out with a 5.6 average, but minus one Stephenson the other four Spartans would have seen their averages much slimmer. He will be around next year to set up even more shots for the big guns but, being a fine shot himself, it is not likely that he won't be battling with them for point honors.

In the rebound department, Don Boyd, all 6-8 of him, led the team with 12.3 per game followed by Andrews with 10.9.

Nationally Known Musician Appointed To Music Faculty

It has been announced by Dr. David Delo that Jan Williams, nationally famous clarinetist and teacher has been appointed to the instrumental faculty at Tampa U.

Williams played under such conductors as Damrosch, Bodansky, Herz, and Toscanini, as clarinetist with the Metropolitan Opera Symphony Orchestra, and was instructor at the Juilliard School of Music for more than 20 years.

Many of his former pupils are among the top-ranked clarinetists playing today. Among them are Jimmy Abato, Sidney Keil of the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra, and Paul Lavalle. A number of his students are clarinet teachers in American universities.

With his brother, the famous cornetist Ernest Williams, he established the Ernest Williams School of Music at Saugerties and Brooklyn, N. Y., the latter school being affiliated with New York University. The School trained many of the outstanding instrumentalists and soloists who are performing today.

A resident of Saugerties before coming to Tampa, Williams' first professional tour of Europe was with the John Phillip Sousa band, which he joined at the age of 16. Following this tour came engagements with nationally recognized orchestras and a career of teaching which has made his name synonymous with the clarinet.

Spring Training Underway For 1963 TU Football Team

by Al Waters

The new look in Spring Training 1963 is that the whole thing is being conducted under the lights. Yes, 19 returning lettermen and 26 other eager gridders are getting some light on the subject from a bulb. The reason? Conflicting schedules, outside jobs, and spring sports.

The team has lost 18 lettermen to a cap and gown but those remaining are the "cream of the crop" plus many fine sophomores, which will be the nucleus of the 1963 pigskin edition.

A new basic formation is now being introduced to the squad. It is a wide-slot, pro-set offense that will rely on smooth working backs and a strong line.

The footballers took time out from their practice early in training just long enough to elect Quarterback, Most Outstanding Back Vaden Bessent and Linebacker-Center, Most Valuable Player Tony Yelovich as their captains.

Training will go on until April 10 when the team will go up against alumni in an annual game.

From the charity stripe Boyt hit for 78 percent, but Shary hit for 79 percent, giving him the honors. The talented guard also topped the cagers from the floor, hitting at a 45 percent clip.

Nationally, it was Shary again in the spotlight. His average per game put him in the top 25 in the nation in N.A.I.A. statistics. The team as a whole was fifteenth from the free-throw line with 72.8 percent.

What to look for next year? An improvement over the 10-14 record chalked up this year. The trio of Shary, Andrews, and Stephenson will share the spotlight. As an indication, these three averaged 46 points per game for the last three games. This year's bench should have produced a few surprises and they may be counted on in 63-64. All in all, we'll just have to wait and see. By the way — don't be too surprised if Shary tops 2,000 points.

Book Review:

"Catch A Falling Spy"

by Rita Owen

Just released by McGraw-Hill Publishers is Catch A Falling Spy by Nathaniel Benchley. The author, a gifted novelist, playwright, short story writer, and essayist, has written for such national magazines as "The New Yorker" and "Life." He is the popular biographer of his father, Robert Benchley.

Catch A Falling Spy is the ideal book for the present era: it is the manual to beat all manuals for a would-be Sunday spy. Problems no one else has ever thought of are created by Mr. Benchley in a hilarious and hysterical atmosphere are things which just couldn't happen. At least not if the world is to remain in existence.

The story opens in Albania with two spies contemplating the demise of an American colleague. This seems quite interesting until you read farther and discover that unless you have missed something pretty important, those two spies haven't helped clarify anything one bit.

Another problem for the reader is: "Who is the spy?" Whether Mr. Benchley intended it in such a way or not, he has cleverly cloaked his spy and several other fascinating figures in blatant obscurity: which is to say, everyone in the book seems to be a spy.

The Quill and Brush, a club for "exclusive" writers and other creative artists, proves a backdrop for much of the story, for it is within its confines that the characters conglomerate to further confuse — and amuse — the reader. It is really very surprising when a bomb is thrown through the window of The Quill and Brush. That is not "ethical."

Some other situations to be encountered include: diagrams of top-secret weapons on napkins, secret documents hidden in the guest bathroom when a guest suddenly arrives; how to behave when you have the wife (of someone else) in the house when her husband arrives; and how to obtain Christmas bonuses if you are the secret employee of the Red Chinese government.

Catch A Falling Spy is both funny, and intriguing. One recommendation sincerely made is that once you sit down to read it, don't put the book down. If you do, when you come back to it, you'll be so confused in trying to remember what is happening and who is who that you'll be forced to start at the beginning again.

No guarantee is made that if you read Catch A Falling Spy in one sitting you will understand it anyway. McGraw-Hill, March, $4.95. New release.

Hope Rises For Formation Of Tampa University Tennis Team

The formation of T.U.'s first tennis team is gradually passing the blue print stage and will be seen on campus next year... we hope!

As the saying goes... "If at first you don't succeed..." and this is what Bruce Kimmel is attempting once again. During the past three weeks he has been campaigning for men who are interested in becoming members of T.U.'s future tennis team. Thus far he has obtained the names of eight net men. They are: Kenton Pielot, George Shary, Maury Schafer, Fouad Nassim, Gordon Taylor, Bob Nye, Phillip Powers, and Joseph Tamarino.

Workouts are expected to get under way sometime in early April. It is expected that next year that

T.U. will be engaged in inter-collegiate tennis... All this will become a reality if YOU, the student give this proposition your support! You can do this by soliciting to the dean your approval and interest in some way.
