PUBLICATIONS COMMITTEE BOASTS

NEW JOURNALISTIC ACQUISITIONS

The publications committee has been heavily reinforced. Due to a shortage of dirt three experts in this line have been proselyted. From now on a very exciting column, calculated to keep students and faculty on their toes is assured.

Nothing can elude the gimlet-eyes of these sleuths. Who are these dirt diggers? Why the school's most efficient dirt sweepers, Wofford Wait, "Pat" Stuckey, and "Buzzy" Sullivan.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE PLANS BRIDGE

PARTY FOR NEAR FUTURE

Owing to the success of the dance at Villa del Rio Saturday evening, at which over a hundred guests were present, the social committee is planning a bridge party.

This party will take place sometime within the next two weeks. To cover expenses a small fee will be charged for each table. The time and place will be announced later.

NEW CATALOGUE RELEASED TODAY

The new University of Tampa catalogue for 1933-34 will be released today.

Seventeen of the thirty-eight pages are devoted to a description of the courses offered. The list includes many of the fine arts, the sciences, the classics, economics, education, English, modern languages, government, history, mathematics, music and astronomy. There is also a list of the enrolled students for the years 1932-33.

The first edition of about 1000 copies will be mailed by request to prospective students.

WHAT! WHAT! WHAT! STUDENTS

NO LONGER RESPOND TO MONEY

APPEAL?

Isn't anyone interested in making $10? We thought the depression was still on, yet only three people have submitted suggestions for a school song. Mr. Gunther has turned in the music; Florence Lenfesty has submitted words; and Winston Fowler has suggested both words and music. Can it be that there are no other mercenary students in the University of Tampa?

The contest is still open to any enterprising person who cares to enter. Particulars may be obtained from the office.

INSTRUCTOR IMPEACHED

In a special session of Public Speaking 101, last night, impeachment proceedings against Instructor Arthur K. Hartzell, who was absent, were instituted by the assembled class. It was hinted that the action was the result of a previous plan, for no sooner was the meeting called to order by Chairman Allen, than the motion for impeachment was heard from the floor.

The motion threw the assembly into temporary uproar, which was finally quelled by the Chairman. The ensuing session was exceedingly stormy. Motions, nominations, votes and discussions flew hither and yon. At one period of the meeting, while operating under a "Suspension of Rules", the meeting threatened to break up. Order was restored, however, and the trial personnel was elected. Arthur Tyler will serve as Judge, Dominic Giunta and Billy Gillen as Prosecuting Attorneys, and Jack Fitzgerald, assisted by Wofford Wait, will serve as attorney for the defense. The grounds for the impeachment have not been made public.

COURSE COMMENT

Come on folks, let's get geographical with Mr. Webb. He tells us what we use, where it comes from, and how it comes from there.

However, a word of warning is necessary. It's a heavy course. Four texts, guaranteed to weigh three pounds each, will be used. Shh! there is one consolation--- all of these texts are free. You just write to the good old paternal government at Washington, and they send you all of them.

Another point: Take geography and see the world. The geography taking group makes seven trips to points of industrial interest; such as, cigar factories, cement plants and whatnot. Five of these trips are required.

Here's just one more caution. The class is unbalanced in the matter of ---; there are seven boys and one girl.

Editor's note: This article on Commercial and Industrial geography is the first of a series of similar articles on the courses offered at the University of Tampa.

THE HALL OF FAME

Introducing:

Marcia Bierman, comely and blond(in fact one of the few real blonds of which our University can boast) with a low, husky voice and a friendly disposition.

Marcia is treasurer of the Sophomore class and secretary of the student council. She is one of the few who made distinguished grades last semester.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bierman, 1315 South Howard Avenue.

Marcia intends to continue her education next year at Winthrop College, South Carolina. She is working for an A. B. degree, but refuses to disclose what profession she will follow.

The type of girl Marcia likes is illustrated by Dot Pou, her best "gal" friend. The boy friend is a toss-up between Johnny and George. How do we know it's a toss-up? Because Marcia describes her ideal boy friend as "Tall and blond, and short and dark."

Marcia is really an all-round girl. She played on the basketball team last year; she can tinkle the piano keys quite well; and she's very active in church work.

STUDENT OPINIONS

How many of you know that the University of Tampa has a sixty-five piece symphony orchestra? If you don't believe it, come to the Egypt Temple on North Boulevard some Sunday afternoon about three-thirty and listen. M. L. Price, director, has planned some concerts to be given both here and in nearby cities.

Herbert Sullivan.

Listen, you cheapskates of Tampa Junior College, how about coming out to see one of our basketball games soon? We don't care about school spirit. What we want is your money. As you know, all athletic events incur expenses. Heretofore all expenses have been defrayed to a great extent by the boys on the team. If you have twenty cents, be a sport and attend the game between Ringling and T. J. C. It will be a double-header and worth the money.

Jack Fitzgerald

Now we ask you. Why is it that some people persist in sticking around cars parked outside the school when younger students are at work on romantic details?

Woody Garcia

Even in the most out-of-the-way places you cannot escape him. He sticks his nose into everyone's private affairs. Nothing is ever secret any more. Come on, students, let's do something about that sneaking dirt-digger, Ikey the Ike.

Hafford Jones

EDITOR'S NOTE: Every week we will publish a column of student opinions. If you have a pet gripe, write it down and hand it to some member of the Bulletin staff.

LOST

Last Monday night, probably at "Jim's Place" an Analytic Geometry Book. Will the finder please return the book to Herbert Sullivan.

IKEY THE IKE

Just a passing thought: We wondered if Dean proposed to the "Mrs." in German.

The ambition of one Garcia lad is being fulfilled. Although they were not present as a couple at the dance, the team of Kickliter and Garcia seems to be clicking well.

Now we ask you one! -- Why should Haffie Jones dislike this column? A guilty conscience? Oh, me!

And 2nd assistant editor "Wingfoot" Stuckey finds that our office "boy" distracts his attention no end. As we go to press Pat gazes mooningly at her. And what's more, Helen says we can't put her name here because her mother reads these bulletins.

As yet it seems Jack Fitzgerald hasn't met Alice Dean.

It's a pity that Ted Auer doesn't come up to college so he and Midge could officially make a P.Y. couple.
